75 years ago, 1917

Miss Lillian Hyde, domestic science teacher at the Woodland High School, expects to be able to return to her classes within a few days. She has been bedfast with a severe cold at her home at Palo Alto for some time.

County Librarian, Miss Eleanor Hitt, is compiling a scrapbook made of newspaper clippings relative to Yolo County's part in the war. This scrapbook is to be kept on file in the library, and when the war is over, it will be a complete history of everything this county did during the war as to men, relief organizations, Red Cross work, in fact, all items appertaining in any way to war service.

It pays to lock your cars here! Ralph Parker of Fourth street, issued the preceding personal warning to Woodland residents today to always lock their automobiles when they park them up town or in residential districts. Parker forgot to use his lock and key Saturday night on Elm street, between Oak and Cross streets, and as a result he is minus two pairs of pants, two tan shirts, a box of groceries and a box of toys. City police were notified.

Charles William Shepard of Davis was among the enlistees who volunteered for service in the U.S. Army prior to Dec. 5, the deadline for enlisting.

A Ford pickup, owned by James Harry, Sacramento city councilman, was found last night in front of the Boy Scout cabin at Knights Landing. The vehicle had been stolen from Sacramento.

The Local Agency Formation Commission of Yolo County gave its approval Tuesday to the proposed establishment of a community service district in Knights Landing and the proposed addition to the city of Woodland of the 1.01 acre Rose annexation, located on California Street in southeast Woodland.

The annual farm safety workshop, sponsored by the Sacramento Safety Council, is currently being prepared for the 1968 presentation, according to James T. Sopwith, council vice president for farm safety and program chairman.

Dennis Banks, elected 10 days ago as a delegate to the state Democratic convention, admits he is not a Yolo County registered Democrat but doesn't see why this should be a problem in his taking a seat at the convention next month. Contacted at his home in Dixon this morning, Banks said his not being registered with the Democratic Party was an "oversight" and that he can't understand why "status quo Democrats are worried about that."

On nearly all of the days over the past four years when Woodland suffered high ozone levels, the air pollution was not mainly a local product, but an import, blown in on a spiraling "wind-eddy," possibly from Sacramento. That was the theory Yolo-Solano Air Pollution Control Officer James Koslow asserted at a meeting of the Air Pollution District last week.

Recruiting Campaign Begun By Company F

A whirlwind recruiting campaign is being conducted by the officers of Company F, Second California infantry. A tour of the county is being made and recruits—or those who believe they might be able to do their share in case of war—are being interviewed. Fourteen new men were secured yesterday. The officers believe that by the end of the week the company will be greatly strengthened.

Lieutenant Rodney J. Hill and Lieutenant Grant Bruton will go out in automobiles during today in an effort not only to enlist recruits, but to make a canvass of the resources of the county. Captain Caldwell will remain in Woodland and will be in touch with the company headquarters, at Armory hall, where any information regarding the needs of the organization will be given.

Several automobiles are needed by the company for use during the week. Owners of cars who can spare their machines for only two or more hours at a time are requested to communicate with Captain Caldwell, any of the officers, or the men. Several machines for use in the recruiting work will be needed during the week and any public spirited citizen who will give the use of his car will greatly aid the local preparedness cause.

The officers of the company, who will gladly answer any questions regarding the work at their residences, at Armory hall, or at their various places of business, are: Captain, L. J. Caldwell; first lieutenant, Rodney J. Hill, and second lieutenant, Grant Bruton.

Two buglers are one of the first needs of the company, Captain Caldwell said last night. A place also can probably be found for men of different professions and trades, in

CALL IS ISSUED BY CAPTAIN OF COMPANY F

To the young men of Yolo county: Company F is in need of men. A campaign for enlistment is being conducted by the officers. A grave crisis, which now gives every evidence of ultimately demanding the mobilization of the entire country's resources, confronts us.

The recruiting office, at Armory hall, will be kept open. The results of the European war have shown that men of every calling have their place in a modern army. The skilled mechanic is just as essential as the man on the firing line.

A place will be found for you in Company F. Talk it over with one of the officers.

CAPT. L. J. CALDWELL,
Commanding Company F

Company F, or others between the ages of 18 and 45 years.

The immediate goal of the company is to recruit to the strength of fifty-six men. This may be realized by the end of two weeks, Captain Caldwell intimated last night. A strength of 150 men—its war footing—is the ultimate object of the officers.

Captain Caldwell received the following orders from Adjutant General Borree yesterday:

"Commanding Officers, Company F, Second California National Guard: 'You and your men are ordered into service of the United States. All report at company rendezvous and begin recruiting period. General orders No. 9, this office, date March 17, will be complied with. Acknowledge receipt by wire of this telegram.'"

Company F Filling Ranks; Total of Fifty Is Reached

With every effort being made by officers and men of Company F to secure new members and generally round into service condition, the reports made last night by Captain L. J. Caldwell were most optimistic. During yesterday eleven men were enlisted, which, with the fourteen secured Monday, brought the total strength of the organization up to three officers and forty-seven men. This number is expected to be augmented considerably during today.

Three men from Eureka would join during the day, Captain Caldwell said, and the county campaign being conducted by Lieutenant Rodney Hill and Lieutenant Grant Bruton is bound to bring results. Of the eleven taking the oath yesterday, two were former members of the company.

The mess was started last night and will be continued. Real work of drills and other routine will be begun today. The cooks will be "broken in" and the men become accustomed to the regular routine.

Captain Caldwell will remain at the office on the second floor of Armory hall and will receive all prospective recruits.

JOINS OVER TELEPHONE.

One of the needs of the company just at present is the use of automobiles during the day. Though the request had been made through the press, but one machine was tendered yesterday. That was the car of Ira Farnham, which was put to good use. The company is grateful for Mr. Farnham's courtesy and would greatly appreciate any other offer.

One of the many interesting events that are happening at Armory hall was probably unique in the history of the guard in this state. This was the swearing in of a member by long distance telephone. The man had been at the border with the company, but had left this vicinity in his work. He renewed his allegiance from a neighboring town by telephone.

LEAVES WORK TO JOIN.

An incident in the enlistment of Frank Mallo of Winters is another interesting little story. Lieutenant Hill went to the Winters section to see what the prospects were for a few recruits. As his auto, flying a flag from each of the four corners, was being driven by a field, a man at a plow hailed him and asked him to drive up to the house. Hill complied with the request, and the plowman, who was Mallo, came up and said to Ralph Sparks, for whom he is working:

"I'm going to enlist—what'll I do with the team?"

"Leave it where it is," said Sparks. "I'll look out for it. How much money have you got?"

"Not a bean," said Mallo.

"Here's six dollars—all I have on me," said Sparks. "Take it, and when you come back, you may consider this ranch your home."

And so Mallo got into the car and came back to the Armory, where he signed the articles of war and is now a full-fledged member of F company.

Another recruit signed in Winters yesterday is Chris Hegelen, who is a native of Berlin, Germany, and who now attests his love for the Stars and Stripes by enlisting for a war which will be against his native land. He has had former service in the United States regular army.

LOCAL PEOPLE ORGANIZE TO GIVE WAR SUPPLIES

Association of Men and Women
Plans to Furnish Two Naval

SUBSCRIPTION STARTED

Finance Committee, Banks and Newspapers Are Named to Receive Funds

The men and women of Woodland formed a patriotic co-partnership yesterday afternoon which prescribes the regulation that the men are to furnish all the money and the women to do all the work. That sounds as though the men were "putting one over" on the women, but the ladies had their choice of the agreement and chose the work for two reasons—first, because they were used to it, and, second, because they knew the men could not meet the requirements. Together, hand in hand, as it were, they will be successful in the work undertaken. All of which leads to the work itself.

As has already been stated in The Mail, the women of Woodland and vicinity have interested themselves, with Mrs. C. W. Bush as leader, in providing a share of the equipment for the two naval base hospitals located at San Francisco. The women have formed themselves into four working groups and each group will meet one day each week to make certain things for hospital use.

MEETING IS CALLED.

To provide the raw material the women called on the men and the initiative has already been taken. A meeting hurriedly called yesterday afternoon at the directors' meeting of the Bank of Yolo was quite well responded to. The plans of the women were outlined and the proposition made that the men finance the purchase of supplies. It was estimated that it would take a thousand dollars to purchase a sufficient quantity of materials and the task will be undertaken at once.

From those present at the meeting $275 was immediately subscribed.

A finance committee of three was appointed, consisting of C. W. Bush, P. T. Laugenour and C. S. Evans, and they will see as many of the men of the Fourth supervisory district as possible and at as early a date as may be. Knowing that they will not be able to see all who feel a patriotic duty in giving something for the worthy cause, they will also leave subscription blanks at each of the three banks and also at the offices of the three newspapers in Woodland.

The committee will not go outside of the fourth supervisory district as it is the hope of those in charge of the work that each of the five districts of the county will wish to take up the work locally and have a part in the work of preparing for eventualities if war should actually come. Any one in these districts interested in the matter can get full particulars by calling on Mrs. Bush or by phoning to her.

It is the wish of those who have inaugurated the work here to make it a popular matter of subscription. Large amounts, of course, will be thankfully received, but it is more desired that there may be a multitude of smaller subscriptions, which will attest of a widespread spirit of patriotism. Every one will be on an exact footing so far as donations go; the full list of subscribers will be published in The Mail, but no amount, except the total, will be given.

City Employes In Militia To Retain Jobs

MAYOR WILCOXON AND FRED SHAFFER URGE DISPLAY
OF U. S. FLAGS.

All city employes who leave their positions to serve in the guard will find their positions open to them when they return, Mayor Wilcoxon stated yesterday. The same offer was made when the men were called out to go to the Mexican border, and Mayor Wilcoxon, speaking for the city officials, repeated it yesterday morning.

Both he and Fred Shaffer, secretary of the Yolo county board of trade, urged that business houses and residences display the United States flag.

"I should think that every business house should display the flag," the mayor stated. "We should encourage Company F in its recruiting as much as possible."

"There is an inspiration carried by the flag of our country," said Secretary Shaffer, "and I hope the people of Woodland and of the county keep in tune with all our neighbors and see to it that homes, automobiles and places of business display this symbol of our freedom."

"I am advised that all commercial organizations and civic bodies in the state are asking that the colors be displayed, so that we may be reminded that the course of a nation is not always one of peace and prosperity, but that we must be prepared against assault from without and the only means of guaranteeing such defense is patriotism within."

Chavez, fighting a boxer who had nothing but club fights before, patiently stalked Jakubowski for a few rounds before finally starting to land some strong right hands.

After battering Jakubowski through the fifth round, Chavez opened the sixth with two right hands that prompted referee Carlos Padilla to stop the fight at 18 seconds of the round.

Russian athletes caught with steroids

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Four top Russian athletes were ordered to return to Moscow after Swedish customs officials found steroids in the team coach's luggage, a track and field organizer said today.

The athletes were identified as women's 100-meter hurdles world champion Ludmila Naroshilenko, women's 400-meter hurdles world champion Margarita Ponomaryeva, pole jumper Rodion Gataullin and sprinter Tachana Reshnetikova.

"Customs officials found anabolic steroids and syringes in a suitcase belonging to the coach, Lydia Fedotova," MAI club chairman Bengt Bendeus said.

He said the MAI board decided to terminate the athletes' contracts after the team coach was caught Friday in Malmo. As a result, the club also cancelled an international indoor track and field meet scheduled for February.

First game for women pro hockey player

ATLANTA — Manon Rheame became the first woman to play in a regular-season professional game when she appeared in the Atlanta Knights' 4-1 loss to Salt Lake City in the International Hockey League.

The top American was Megan Gerety of Anchorage, Alaska. She came from the 57th start position to finish ninth in 1:23.24.

Edith Thys of Tahoe City, Calif., placed 22nd in 1:23.98 — 1.37 seconds off the pace — and Diann Roffe-Steinrotter of Potsdam, N.Y., was 23rd in 1:24.01.

MEETING FOR COMPANY F RECRUITS FRIDAY

Efforts to Secure Men Also Is Object of Gathering at Winters on Saturday

DANCE ALSO PROJECTED

An Office on Main Street to Stimulate Enlistments Is to Be Opened Soon

Two mass meetings this week, probably a dance next week and unremitting individual effort are among the recruiting plans announced yesterday by the officers in an endeavor to get Company F up to war footing. Six men were secured yesterday, and Captain Caldwell and Lieutenants Hill and Bruton stated last night that the outlook is optimistic.

A recruiting office, in addition to the headquarters office at Armory hall, to be located in the heart of the business district, will be opened, probably today. The office will be gayly decorated with flags and bunting and a representative of the company will be placed in charge.

An office at Winters will be opened very soon, probably today or tomorrow, according to the plans of Captain Caldwell. A mass meeting will be held at Winters at 8 o'clock Saturday night and one at Woodland Friday night. The local meeting will be at Armory hall at 8 p. m.

ARE PLANNING DETAILS.

The officers were too busy yesterday with the immediate details of recruiting to have done more than decide on the bare outlines for the two meetings, but during today efforts will be made to enlist the services of local speakers and steps taken to arrange for band music.

The dance, the date and other details to be decided during this week, will have the purpose of not only calling attention to the company's efforts to secure recruits, but also to provide for a company fund. Captain Caldwell stated yesterday that he considered it best not to receive money by subscriptions for the company, but to provide a nestegg by some such means as a dance. The first step toward arranging for the dance is to have the music donated and unless this is done the project may fall through.

AUTO FUND SECURED.

Another need of the company—that of automobiles—was put on the way to solution yesterday by C. W. Thomas, former adjutant general, and Judge H. M. Ball, who interested themselves in a subscription fund. A sum approximating $40 was secured, to be used only for automobiles.

The county campaign will be continued as the first of this week, representatives of the company touring different parts of the county each day. This is one of the main reasons for the requests for automobiles that have been made.

The armory presented a busy scene yesterday and this will be augmented today. All members of the company have been ordered by Captain Caldwell to report at 8:30 o'clock this morning for drill and instruction. With the men secured yesterday the entire roster of the company has reached fifty-six.

"The outlook is good and the recruiting at first is as fast as I expected," one of the officers said. "I hope that it will keep up at the same rate as during the first of this week."

Fifty-Six Company F Men Settle Into Daily Routine

With fifty-six members ready for the mobilization call at any moment and several pledged to go into the ranks in the next few days, to say nothing of the fruits of the recruiting campaign in Woodland and the county at large, the prospects of Company F last night were bright. Camp schedule was ordered yesterday at the armory and every day the company has before a call to report comes will add to its numbers and efficiency.

The officers were very busy yesterday, but at spare moments are mapping out plans to aid in the campaign for recruits. One of the most important developments in this line yesterday was the opening of a recruiting office in the postoffice and the announcement that the mass meeting for Woodland would be postponed from tonight until Monday night.

There are several reasons, Captain Caldwell said last night, why Monday will be a better day for the mass meeting than tonight. Among these is the fact that there are several strong counter attractions here and at Sacramento which probably would reduce the crowd, and the preparations, such as the securing of speakers, music, etc., would have to be put through too hurriedly. As it is an excellent program, including not only Woodland and Sacramento speakers, but music and probably other features, can be arranged.

The dance date has not been determined definitely, but this announcement will be given out soon.

A mass meeting will be held at Winters Saturday night.

Captain Caldwell will send out men today with a request that they be allowed to place decorative designs, intended to stimulate recruiting, in the windows of the Woodland business houses. There are two decorators in the company and where permission is given these guardsmen will confer with the proprietor and letter a neat, decorative design appealing for young men to enlist in Company F.

Much is expected in the way of education and advertising work tomorrow, when the circus crowds are in Woodland. The fact that the company has been called out will be widely disseminated throughout all parts of the county, as there are places now it is not known, the men say, and this is expected to act as a stimulant to enlistments. A request was made yesterday by the adjutant general's office that the local officers do all in their power to speed up the enlistments.

The following camp schedule was announced by Captain Caldwell: First call, 6 a. m.; reveille, 6:30; mess, 7:00; drill call, 8:00; recall, 11:30; mess, 12:00 noon; drill call, 1:30 p. m.; sick call, 2:00; recall 4:30; mess, 5:30; tattoo, 9:00; quarters, 10:00; taps, 11:30.

Members of the company last night asked that their thanks be expressed to those who have shown them courtesies. Among them are W. S. Webster, manager of the Strand theater, who will pass in all members of the company who are in uniform; Dubois Brothers for an automobile; August Silberstein and Jim Feeney, who donated cakes and a barrel of ice cream for the mess, and those who have given to the automobile fund.

Patriotic Women of Woodland Organizing In Four Groups

The four groups of women who will make supplies for the naval base hospitals have now been formed and group A will meet at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the grammar school auditorium. This group will be supervised by Mrs. Charles Q. Nelson and Mrs. W. F. Nixon, and the particular articles to be made will be surgical dressings. In this group of workers are enrolled Mrs. Florence Stephens, Mrs. Roma Nelson, Mrs. Norma Stephens, Hester Cobb, Hazel Cobb, Mildred Saunders, Gladys Tharp, Irene Griggs, Ruth McGriff, Elizabeth Wooster, Percie Hurst, Ella McBroom, Janet Ross and Dorothy Ross.

Group B, of which Mrs. P. T. Laugenour is the supervisor, will be composed of several sections of the Harmony circles.

Group C, of which Mrs. Fred R. Fairchild is the supervisor, is composed of Mrs. W. P. Boyce, Mrs. P. N. Ashley, Mrs. C. R. Wilcoxon, Miss Geneva Brassfield, Miss Anne Martin, Mrs. J. Reith, Mrs. Will Stephens and Mrs. Fred Meier.

Group D, of which Mrs. William Hyman is the supervisor, is composed of Miss Myrtle Gable, Mrs. J. D. Harling, Mrs. W. H. Gregory, Miss Leona Brown, Mrs. Mollie Lambert, Mrs. E. E. Leake, Mrs. I. N. De Myer, Mrs. A. G. Bailey and Mrs. Fred Lawhead.

In addition to these, who are to give one day each week to the work there are a large number of the loyal women of the community who will assist from time to time, possibly giving their time as fully as any of those named. The idea is to make the response purely voluntary and every one will be welcomed to the service.

The finance committee appointed by the men at the meeting on Tuesday to secure funds, was out early Wednesday morning and now has approximately $500 on hand. Those who care to give toward the fund will find subscription blanks at the bank and the newspaper offices.

Sixty-Five Men by Tonight Is Objective of Company F

With the enlistment of several men yesterday every indication seemed to point to the expectation of sixty-five men in company F by the time the three recruiting offices close tonight. Today will see a large crowd in Woodland attracted by the circus and it will be surprising to men and officers if this number is not reached.

A recruiting office was opened at Winters yesterday and a mass meeting for new men will be held there tonight. Though considerable recruiting work has been done over the county, it will be systematized and carried out more distinctively during next week. The mass meeting at the Armory Monday night also is expected to help in securing men from Woodland and the immediate vicinity.

A number of speakers will go from Woodland to Winters for tonight's meeting. A band has been secured and there will be music by a male quartet also. Details of the Woodland meetings are occupying the attention of Captain Caldwell.

The men in the company have been gathered from a wide range of territory. A volunteer reported from Fresno yesterday, one joined from Sutter county and three have come in from Eureka. Orders to move may be sent out at any time, but they are not generally expected for several days. The adjutant general's office at Sacramento is speeding up the recruiting as much as possible all over the state.

Company F Now Nearer Its Goal

Officers Believe Sixty-five Recruits
Will Be Enrolled Very Soon.

Though recruiting for Company F has fallen off in results during the last two days, much is expected from the "missionary" work done at Winters last night and concrete results are believed assured from the mass meeting to be held at the Woodland armory tomorrow night. Captain Caldwell and Lieutenants Hill and Bruton feel confident that the present goal of the company, sixty-five men, will have been reached the early part of this week.

One of the chief difficulties is the fact that no orders of definite nature have been received by the local officers. There are many young men would overwhelm the officers with efforts at enlistment should there be "a chance of a scrap." It seems assured, however, that the command to move on to the rendezvous "somewhere in California," will be received soon.

The application of two patriotic girls who are ready to serve as Red Cross nurses, was received yesterday by Lieutenant Bruton. They were Miss Rose Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Smith, and Miss Velma Clover, daughter of Constable and Mrs. Isaac Clover.

Company F Enlistments Are Fast Climbing Toward Goal

With sixty men and three officers members of Company F last night, every indication pointed to the intimation that the goal of sixty-five names on the roster would be passed when orders come for the organization to go to the mobilization camp.

When six men enlist at Winters, as the result of the mass meeting at that place Saturday night, Captain Caldwell and the other officers are sanguine that at least the five needed recruits will join following the meeting at Woodland. Though momentarily expecting orders, it is sure that if the officers have a few more days before leaving they will pass their goal.

Then, too, the expected declaration of war with the meeting of the special session of congress is expected to exercise quite a stimulating effect on recruiting. Many young men have expressed their willingness to enlist if war is declared, though until there is something definite in view they dislike to leave their positions for an uncertain period, the officers declare.

Captain Caldwell is still at work on the details of the mass meeting to be held at the Armory. This will be some time this week, but on account of the date not having been definitely decided the speakers cannot be announced nor other details given out. A rousing meeting, probably with representatives of the adjutant general's office at Sacramento present and taking part, is being planned.

The officers are much encouraged with the result and spirit evinced at the Winters meeting. The auditorium was packed with a representative audience and the Winters band furnished music. The speakers were M. O. Wyatt, Captain Caldwell, Lieutenant Hill and Sergeant John Langenour.

SEVENTY MEN TO ENTRAIN; RECEPTION PLANNED

Orders Received During Night
Direct Departure at 9:30

RECRUITING CLOSES
WHEN TRAIN GOES

Officers and Men Work Until After Midnight Preparing

Dance Next Week.

Company F will leave Woodland for the mobilization camp at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Orders to this effect were received shortly before 9 o'clock last night by Captain L. J. Caldwell, and before midnight every one of the seventy men had been notified, the company equipment overhauled and the innumerable tasks incident to a hurried departure performed. Captain Caldwell stated that the entire membership of the company would be ready to leave.

Orders for departure have been expected during the last several days, but when the recruiting campaign yesterday resulted in securing more than the minimum of sixty-five men, the officers believed that it was but a question of hours before the call would be received. The company, of sixty-seven men and three officers, will leave on a special train over the Northern Electric railroad this morning.

COMMITTEE AT WORK.

A committee appointed last night at a meeting of the fire department for the purpose of arranging a dance for the company. The dance will be given next week, but last night, on learning that the men had been called out the members of the committee immediately decided to bend their energies toward assembling as large a crowd as possible at the Northern Electric depot this morning to bid the men farewell. Composing this committee are J. A. Murray, Le Pierce and Frank Dietz.

In a statement given out last night Mr. Murray, chairman, asked that every person in Woodland and vicinity who could possibly do so, be at the station this morning when the train leaves. The Woodland band, which was to have furnished the music for the dance tonight, will be present, and though no formal program could be arranged on account of the lack of time last night, each individual is requested to be present and aid in showing the members of the company that the community is sorry to see them leave and hopes for their speedy return.

The company has refused to allow subscriptions for a company fund to be circulated and the firemen had arranged for a benefit dance to be given at the Armory tonight. The orders to leave nullified these plans, but the dance will be given next week.

COMPANY IS BUSY.

The Armory presented a busy scene last night. Captain Caldwell and the other officers worked until after midnight and even then there are many details which will not be completed until just before the train leaves this morning. The recruiting has not stopped, Captain Caldwell stated, but new members will be received until the wheels of the car bearing the boys away begin to turn.

Excellent work in securing recruits has been done by the officers in little more than one week. When the present crisis took on its threatening aspect recently there were but twenty-five members in the company. With the three commissioned officers there are now seventy men on the roster.

The men, through Captain Caldwell, last night expressed their thanks to the people of Woodland and the county for the aid given and the courtesies shown. While glad for a chance at action the men regret the necessity of leaving. All were ready last night and it is probable that several names will be added to the rolls early this morning.

ROSTER OF COMPANY.

The roster of Company F follows:

The company's baggage was hurriedly summoned. Equipment and paraphernalia were packed.

DANCE PLANS CHANGED.

While members of the company were literally putting on their war paint, members of the fire department were equally busy preparing for a dance and entertainment for the benefit of the company. The dance will be given next week and the proceeds forwarded to the company for their benefit. Then the committee busied themselves in arranging the farewell which took place this morning.

GIVEN FINE SEND-OFF.

The band was summoned and they arranged to give the boys a send-off with music this morning. The troop members have asked that no subscription list be circulated for their benefit. Should a dance or entertainment, whereby those going will receive full value for their admission, result in a profit, they will accept the proceeds.

The officers, in their farewell this morning, asked the press of the county to thank the citizens for the many courtesies extended them by the people of this county.

GOAL REACHED BY COMPANY F TODAY

Captain Caldwell Expects to Receive Departure Orders
Very Soon

Company F reached their goal today. The muster roll of the company is at the present time 65 men and three officers. Not satisfied with bringing up the enlistment to the minimum as required by the government, the recruiting officers are endeavoring to go still further and get more men.

There is an air of expectancy at the armory. Orders to leave are expected momentarily. Officers and men are eagerly looking forward to them. In the vernacular of the street, the boys are "Raaring to Go."

Company F has had quite a distinction in its recruiting. The men came from all directions. Two were from Eureka, one from Los Angeles, one from San Jose, several came in from Sutter county and Marysville. The recruiting officers invaded the territory of other companies and got recruits. One former member of the company was at Los Angeles. He dug up money enough to pay his fare to Woodland and reported for duty.

Captain Caldwell announced this morning that he, his officers and members of the company were opposed to any subscription list for funds for the benefit of the company. If the citizens of Woodland would like to give a dance, a show or a benefit and turn the proceeds over to the company that would be acceptable, especially where those who purchased tickets would receive full value. Company F members, said Caldwell, are opposed to any measure of donation.

Indications today are that the company will receive orders to depart. Caldwell has everything in readiness for a quick departure. The end of this week may witness the leaving of the local company.

"DEMOCRAT" SCORED A COMPLETE BEAT
WITH WAR EXTRA

Giving the people of Woodland the first synopsis of the history-making address delivered before congress last night, the "Democrat" scored the biggest news "beat" of many years. The "Democrat" extra, a real honest-to-goodness legitimate special, was out on the streets at 7:15 o'clock, announcing in detail President Wilson's course toward the German Imperial government. The papers were snapped up like ye ancient pancakes. Every newsboy on the circuit sold out in jig time, and it became necessary for the "Democrat" management to actually buy back one paper for its files.

Compliments and congratulations reached this office from all sides, giving the managerial staff reason to believe that the "Democrat" was paid in full for its enterprise.

This paper never lets up in its efforts to serve this field with the news first, but it will not issue extras unless the class of tidings merits it. Consequently, when you hear the newsboys crying "Democrat extras" you may know that the news is something of genuine significance.

Here Is a Way to Cheer the Boys on Firing Line

YOU CAN HELP THE COMPANY F BOYS WHO LEFT THIS MORNING, CLAIMING THE CHEERS AND TEARS OF A GRATEFUL PEOPLE. THE "DEMOCRAT" IS GOING TO ASSIST SECRETARY SHAFFER OF THE YOLO COUNTY BOARD OF TRADE IN RAISING THE FUNDS REQUIRED FOR A REGIMENTAL STORE, OR CANTEEN. Rev. Jacob D. Allen, of Chico, the famous "Fighting Parson," and Lieutenant of the company, recently sent out from that point, has written a letter to Captain Caldwell of the local company and this letter was turned over to Secretary Shaffer. It follows:

Headquarters
SECOND INFANTRY, N. G. C.
Chico, California.

1. The commanding officer of the Second California Infantry has designated me to formulate plans for and take charge of the regimental exchange in case of regimental mobilization.

2. There is now at hand ten dollars with which to start operations.

3. All commanders and men who served during the Mexican border duty recall the splendid dividends which were distributed among the various organizations after the exchange was well established. The monthly dividend to each organization had grown to between seventy-five and one hundred dollars before the end of the service.

4. I beg to submit that if each community which sends out one or more units of the National Guard would raise say approximately one hundred dollars per each local unit for a general regimental fund, and especially for the establishment of a canteen immediately upon mobilization, such a fund would be productive of a greater benefit than the same amount of money distributed among the various organizations where it would bring no revenue and where when it was once expended it would be gone.

5. Such a fund would in a very short time grow to proportions which would declare splendid monthly dividends and which might in many ways contribute to the welfare of the men of the regiment.

6. In view of the above the commanding officer joins my urgent plea that this request be introduced to your local Board of Trade or similar organizations and that you further the consummation of the plan in every way consistent with organization conditions.

7. Any funds so assembled should be remitted to the commanding officer of the regiment, together with a note committing them to the regimental fund. Any such remittances will be credited and accounted for to the several organizations represented.

Approved: W. H. WHITE,
Lieut. Col. Commanding Second
Inf., N. G. C.

Subscriptions to a fund of this character, to be invested as suggested in the letter, will be received by the "Democrat." A complete list of those who have subscribed will be published daily until $100 has been received. The amount will then be forwarded at once as directed.

"It is the way to make the boys think of home and feel that their efforts are appreciated," said Secretary Shaffer this morning. "The amounts need not be large—let us all be represented in this. The tribute of the little boy or girl is a tribute to the patriotism of the young men who left us this morning."

Tears and cheers intermingled this morning when Company F left Woodland under sealed orders. Sixty-eight men and three officers, all dear to hearts in Yolo county, departed on a special train on the Northern Electric for the state mobilization camp and to an unknown future.

A large crowd was at the train to bid them goodbye. The band played, flags waved. There were a few brief and tearful farewells; a few hearty handshakes and a "God Bless You" for all.

ALL FELT SERIOUS.

Emotions were conflicting. While there was an assumed air of gaiety, there was in the hearts of most all a far more serious feeling. Most all realized that the departure this time was a more serious one than that of several months ago when the local defenders of the flag responded to a call of the president and left for border patrol duty. Many were of the opinion today that the destination would eventually be the same as it was nine months ago, but the conditions today are also far different.

STEPPING INTO CRISIS.

The nation is today on the verge of stepping into a war, the like of which is unparalleled in history. Military strategists advance the opinion that actual conflict will come from the south. Meantime students feel certain that war will be waged with Mexico, backed by Germany and possibly a foe of the orient.

ORDER CAME SUDDENLY.

Today's parting once again brought the serious phase that some of the flower of the nation, our young men, may never return. What was nine months ago four months of duty, today appears to be the sta-

YOLO COUNTY HEEDING CRY CULTIVATE TO THE LIMIT

Commissioner Gould Is Getting Figures Showing Substantial Increases For Products

Back Yard Cultivation Does Not Mar Increase in Planting of Commercial Truck

Rice, Grain, Prunes, Figs and Other Growths Showing Big Increase In Acreage

Yolo county is to heed the cry being sent broadcast of cultivate to the limit. County Horticultural Commissioner W. Gould is busily engaged in preparing his report for State Commissioner Hecke, and he says that brief surveys of the county show that very little land in this county will not be cultivated. Nearly all departments of horticulture, agriculture and viticulture are to show a big increase for the year 1917. This may also be said as to cattle and stock. A trip around the county convinces one that Providence is smiling benignly on Yolo, and it also gives one an assurance that this county, this year, is not to be one of need even should all nations be at war.

From brief surveys Commissioner Gould says that the prune crop will show an increase of 100 per cent. Seedless raisins go into the increased planting column for a 50 per cent gain. Yolo county almonds show no decrease and but a slight increase. This crop will probably again lead the state and Yolo county will furnish almost one third of the almonds in the state this year.

Another of the Yolo county outputs which is to jump to the front is the Black Mission fig. The increase this year will be about 25 per cent. Much of the hilly land in the western part of the county is admirably adapted to this variety of fig. The commercial value of this fig is about six cents a pound and it does not take more than a million of the variety of the figs grown in Yolo to make a pound, so the quotation, "Don't give a fig," is hardly apropos here.

Olives will be about the same with no change in planting and a slight increase.

Wheat jumps up 10 per cent, despite the fact that Yolo is a big wheat producing section. Its companion, barley, also shows a gain. In the northern part of the county barley is being planted at the present time.

Another of the big increases is rice. Accurate figures cannot be obtained at the present time, but the outlook is that this staple will advance in production in the neighborhood of 30 per cent.

Vegetables for the commercial market show an increased planting in the neighborhood of 25 per cent. This is exclusive of the back yard gardens.

No figures are available on beans and potatoes, but they, too, will be raised on additional acreages.

Woodland and Yolo county made their first contribution toward the protection of the American nation in this time of trouble yesterday morning in the persons of seventy-one stout-hearted, eager and red-blooded youths, when Company F, N. G. C., left at 9:30 for the mobilization camp at Sacramento, whence they will proceed wherever orders direct. It was in a spirit of pride, patriotism and misgivings that the soldiers left at the call of their country, to respond to a duty which will carry them no one knows where.

Gathered about the Northern Electric depot to witness the departure of the boys were many of their relatives, friends and admirers and it may be said that the mothers, fathers, wives and sweethearts of the members of the company were the proudest of that patriotic throng. The national colors floated amid the strains of patriotic strains from the Woodland band which had gathered to do their share of bidding farewell and Godspeed to the troops.

Company F takes with it on its mission of uncertainty the prayers of a prosperous community that every man will again be greeted by cheers and tears—upon their return from service.

Soon Will Be Full

Eighteen business and professional men yesterday signed applications for enlistment and will form the nucleus of the Woodland Home Guard. The roster was not opened until 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the eighteen signatures were given voluntarily before the business day had ended.

J. A. Murray and Major W. H. Curson, formerly commanding company F, National Guard of California, notified the adjutant general's office at Sacramento of the local demand for the company and doubtless will receive his advice and other information regarding the exact status of such an organization during today. Headquarters were established at the Woodland Hardware store and those who wish to enlist will find the roster there.

RESTRICTIONS FEW.

There will be no effort made to secure recruits and those Woodland residents who wish to place themselves at the disposal of a patriotic organization which might be used for protection against any danger or disorder that might occur here in the future, can enroll by calling at the store. There were no restrictions as to age or occupation drawn yesterday, the sole consideration being that the members must be actuated by patriotic motives and must be "able bodied."

Until a reply from the adjutant general is received few details can be given out. The reply will be made public immediately. The general idea of the proponents of the company, however, is that it is to be recruited to a strength of fifty or sixty men, who for various reasons cannot enlist for active service. It is believed that, if the expressions of yesterday are to be believed, this number will be reached in the very near future.

The proceeds of the affair are to go to the company as a gift from the city and county.

High School's Best Athletes Heed Call And Join the Navy

Heeding Uncle Sam's call for volunteers, some of the best athletes ever developed at the Woodland high school today decided to enlist in the navy. A number are undecided, but will probably add their names to the roster before the week is ended.

This afternoon's train carried to the navy yard at Vallejo Frank Hollingsworth and Bob Browning, all-around stars on the athletic field. C. P. Summers, son of the late Judge Summers of Yolo, John Elder who has been substituting as county jailer for Lieutenant Rodney Hill, and Avon Whitehead, a craftsman, also left on the same train. A big crowd of relatives and friends assembled at the train to bid the boys farewell.

Osmond Wraith and Mederith Gregory, generally conceded to be two of the best footballers ever turned out at the local school, departed in Phil Smith's automobile. Smith is also to become a sailor. Kennedy Robert Stewart, a star rugger this season, is slated to leave for the same destination. Darrel Blevins, also prominent in high school circles, is likewise to depart for the good ship Huntington tomorrow.

Leslie Smith, a recent Woodland high school graduate, will go to Vallejo to investigate conditions with a view of enlisting. Fay Robbins and Donald Milligan, local boys employed at the Globe Rice Mills here, will join the Huntington tars on April 12.

Howard Lawson, high school lad who left Friday to board the Oregon, had his first drill practice the following day. Maxwell Pew of this city, who is with the Sacramento Machine Gun Company, had his first bit of training at the San Francisco presidio today.

Dick Shroeder, ex-Sacramento high school football star, who is employed here at W. S. Crane's automobile supply house, sent his navy papers to Sacramento today to obtain his mother's signature. He expects to leave for Vallejo before the week is over.

Wraith, Hollingsworth, Browning and Lawson gave up chances of graduating from school this June to serve their country.

The navy spirit has hit so hard here that classes at high school today were well near an impossibility.

RECRUITING FOR NAVY IS COMMENCED IN WOODLAND

Want a Crew For the Cruiser Huntington Now Stationed at Mare Island Navy Yard

This Vessel and North Carolina Are Equipped As An Aviating Floating Fortress

In Service All Recruits Get a Thorough Education as a Training School is Aboard

Cockswain B. L. Marshall of the U. S. S. Huntington arrived in Woodland Sunday by auto and established a recruiting station at the postoffice. The Huntington is an armed cruiser and is anchored at Vallejo. The Huntington and the North Carolina are the only two cruisers in the navy that are equipped with the latest devices as an aviation ship. The Huntington is a fourteen thousand ton vessel, speedy and powerful.

Six hundred recruits were wanted for this ship. Fifteen were obtained in Vallejo and Cockswain Marshall hopes to obtain at least that many in Woodland and vicinity. He will remain in Woodland until this evening. Postmaster Leake is authorized to examine applicants.

Uncle Sam is anxious to lend a helping hand to the young men of this country and to give them a boost toward better things in his service and towards a higher place in civil life. With this end in view the navy department maintains schools in more than a dozen trades which are open to men who enlist on warships. The schools not only serve as a medium for a sailor to advance himself in the navy, but equip him to earn a good wage when he returns to civil life.

The course in flying is eighteen months long and is divided into two classes, mechanics and flying. Upon completion of the course the men are transferred to general service, which entitles them to an additional pay of 50 per cent, while detailed to duty involving actual flying. In the event of death from wounds or disease, the result of an aviation accident while engaged in actual flying or the act of handling aircraft, a gratuity is paid amounting to one year's pay. The pensions allowed by law are doubled.

Plans Grow For Company F Dance

Firemen's Committee Stresses Fact That Ball Is County Affair.

Plans being made for the benefit dance for Company F are being matured rapidly and the committee of firemen in charge probably will be ready to announce details during today. J. A. Murray, chairman of the committee appointed at Tuesday's meeting of the department, stated last night that Friday, April 20, has been selected as the tentative date, but this may be changed if it is learned that any other entertainment or meetings are in conflict.

Members of the committee, Mr. Murray, Le Pierce and Frank Dietz, wish to secure, as large an attendance as possible and are proceeding very cautiously in selecting the date on account of some conflicting affair. There will be an excellent entertainment and the committee is making it not a city occasion, but one for the entire county, for all parts of the county are represented in the company. The proceeds will be in the nature of a gift from city and county to the boys at the mobilization camp. Their somewhat unexpected departure prevented giving the dance while they were here.

GUARD OIL TANKS MAY BE DUTY OF CO. F

Throughout army circles in San Francisco today it was reported that Company F, Woodland, would be dispatched this week to Richmond, near San Francisco, to guard the Standard Oil Company's holdings.

An effort was made to verify the rumor, but to no avail. At the war department it was stated that no definite news could be authorized as to the possible dispatching of any of the state troops. The report about Company F was neither affirmed nor denied.

The Standard Oil Company is expected to take a potent part in the defensive tactics on this coast, in view of the gigantic ships and immense manufacturing equipment owned by that concern. It was only Monday that the report became current, although unauthorized, that a Standard Oil tanker had actually come in conflict with a German submarine and had sunk the latter vessel after a desperate exchange of shots.

The Richmond state guardsmen were recently detailed southward under Captain Ernest Griffin, formerly of Woodland, leaving the Standard Oil property in Richmond unprotected.

Sixteen Woodland Youths Leave To Enlist in Uncle Sam's Navy

The war spirit invaded Woodland yesterday in the form of a recruiting party from the U. S. S. Huntington, now at Mare Island, and as a result sixteen of this city's most prominent young men are either at Vallejo to enlist or are to leave today. The recruits were drawn from every walk of life, from school student to the farmer and workman. The success of the two officers was largely due to the activities of Philip Smith, who has been devoting his time to this branch of the service for the past few days.

Three of the boys who left yesterday for service on the sea—Osmond Wraith, Robert Browning and Frank Hollingsworth—gave up the opportunity of graduation from the Woodland high school within six months to serve their country in time of need. Others who will leave high school to join are Darrel and Burnell Blevins, Irwin Hunt and Kennedy Stewart. Classes at the school yesterday were badly disrupted when the intentions of the boys became known, and it is likely that more of the students will follow.

The Huntington, on which the local men will enlist, is an aviation ship, according to the recruiting officers, and is an armoured cruiser. Six hundred recruits are being sought for service aboard her.

Local Boys Who Chose the Navy

Following is the list of sixteen Woodland boys who will enlist in the navy. The first eight left yesterday, the others to follow today:

Meredith Gregory	Avon Whitehead
Philip Smith	Robert Browning
Robert Browning	John Elder
Osmond Wraith	C. P. Summers
Frank Hollingsworth
Leslie Smith	Dick Schroeder
Darrel Blevins	Kennedy Stewart
Burnell Blevins	Fay Robbins
Irwin Hunt	Donald Milligan

With the departure of these boys yesterday Woodland got its first glimpse of what war may mean to a nation and the cold truth was brought much nearer home than it has been at any time since the declaration against Germany last week. The duties of citizenship are exacting and the country must prepare itself to perform them.

Howard Lawson, a member of the senior class, left last week to enlist in the navy. After he receives military training he will be placed on the battleship Oregon.

Several other high school students enlisted in the navy yesterday, among them being Frank Hollingsworth, Robert Browning, Osmond Wraith, Darrel Blevins, Kennedy Stewart, Ellard Younger. These boys will receive training at Mare Island and will later be placed on the Huntington.

The students of the high school assembled Monday morning after a week's vacation. Mr. Hyman announced that if the students were willing they would assemble at five minutes to nine every Monday morning to salute the flag and sing the national songs. The students were desirous of doing this, so hereafter there will be an assembly in front of the high school for this purpose.

Much Pleased With Outlook In the Navy

Seven of the ten Woodland youths who left Monday to board the U. S. S. Huntington at Vallejo returned home by automobile Tuesday evening, to make final preparations for officially enlisting on next Monday. At least six of the seven who are home today will officially enlist next Monday. They are Phil. Smith, Adin Whitehead, C. P. Summers, Meredith Gregory, Robert Browning and Frank Hollingsworth. Franklyn Davis Jr., who also returned last night, has not definitely decided as to his future plans.

Osmond Wraith and Leslie Smith may be home late today, their plans being unsettled when the other boys left them yesterday. Young Wraith is almost sure to enlist definitely. Smith is yet undecided.

John Elder, another Woodland lad who left here Tuesday for the Huntington, had made all arrangements before leaving for remaining on the ship, but motored here this afternoon attired in a sailor suit and accompanied by Huntington recruiting officers.

It is likely that a number of new recruits will depart for Vallejo Monday, as the local boys express much satisfaction over the outlook and are encouraging their friends to enlist. Ben Thompson added his name to the roster last night and is getting ready to leave Monday. Fay Robbins and Donald Milligan, whose names were signed up the fore part of the week, are expected to report on the Huntington Thursday.

Auxiliary Company of Young Women Formed to Aid Woodland Soldiers

Woodland Auxiliary Company of Young Women may now be counted as a part of the defenses of this country. At a meeting at the residence of Mrs. Harry K. Brown last night a military organization as above described was organized.

One of the chief purposes of the company is to aid Company F and other Woodland young men who have joined or may join either the army or the navy.

One of the first duties is the making of a flag for Company F. A similar flag may be made for the armory.

Officers were elected as follows: Captain, Mrs. Harry K. Brown; first lieutenant, Miss Adelaide Stevens; second lieutenant, Miss Lorraine West; sergeant, Miss Gladys Merritt; corporals, Miss Isabella Wood, Miss Helen Cobb, Miss Gladys Tharp, Miss Gene Davis; privates, Misses Rowena Browning, Tillane Malpied, Jane Hunt, Roma Tharp, Florence Murray, Lila Duncan, Gladys Murray, Abbie Howard, Hazel Scott, Wilda Duncan, Mildred Crum, Naomi Blodgett, Florence Armstrong and Vena Howard.

Suggestions which may prove an aid were made by Dr. Frances Louise Newton, who told of how the flag was made for the fire department. It is hoped to have the initial detail of the company, that of making the flag, completed within a week. Recruiting is still in progress and volunteers to Woodland's rather unique company are welcome.

COMPANY F IS SENT TO RICHMOND DOING GUARD

For Guard Duty Near Large Standard Oil Tanks

First Rumor of Border Duty Proves Incorrect and News
In "Democrat" Is Confirmed

Boys Are All Reported Fit as

They Are Feeling All O. K.

Substantiating the forecast given exclusively in the "Democrat" Tuesday, the soldier boys of Company F, Woodland, embarked this afternoon from their barracks at the San Francisco Presidio for Richmond. They will tent tonight in the vicinity of the Standard Oil Company's property, which they have been detailed to guard until further orders.

Charles Hoppin of Woodland is Regimental Adjutant at the Presidio. He is in complete charge of the transporting of troops and will remain in that capacity until all companies have been assigned to duty. Hoppin presented Captain Leslie Caldwell with transportation to Richmond this morning, giving the Woodland boys their first official intimation of what their detail would be.

It had been rumored in San Francisco and in Woodland that Company F would be sent down to the Mexican border again. The "Democrat's" tip, however, that the assignment would be to Richmond was fully verified today.

Captain Caldwell and his men are in fine spirits, after their stay at West Cantonment barracks, at the Presidio. Their quarters were in the famous "Tennessee Hollow."

Eldred Holt, who came over to Woodland from Sacramento to enlist with Company F, has been assigned to the local troop's medical staff.

Company F had a visitors' day today. Among the Woodlandites out to greet the home soldier boys were General C. W. Thomas, Editor Ed E. Leake, L. V. Nardini and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston and daughter, Mrs. Raymond Butzbach.

Company G of Sacramento accompanied Company F to Richmond today, but their headquarters are indefinite. Company E of Sacramento was detailed to Pinole, to guard the powder and munition works at that place.

May Organize Economy League Urging Prudence During Crisis Economical Campaign Is the Plan

According to present plans Woodland is to have the first economy league to be organized in the country.

Fred Shaffer, secretary of the Yolo County Board of Trade, stated this morning that he intends to ask the officials of the various women's clubs, the Farm and Town Club, Chamber of Commerce, representatives of the press and of the pulpits, as well as the business men to meet within a day or two for the purpose of organizing to give publicity to matters involving the economical use of our resources.

"Such a league would serve to mold public opinion on the question of prudence during the present crisis," said Shaffer this morning, "and we Americans need education along the lines suggested. Economy League Idea Meets Approval Many Cities and Towns Adopting Plan Will Perfect An Organization Monday

Woodland's idea of an "Economy League" has today attracted the attention of the entire country, as it was carried as an important news item by the Associated Press. It is proposed to call a preliminary meeting on Monday evening to discuss matters in connection with the organization. Secretary Shaffer states that the idea appealed to many whom he met in Sacramento today, engaged in the work of promoting a greater production and the conservation of this product. "It will find its most enthusiastic followers and friends among the women," he said today, "there are so many angles to domestic science and the art of saving. The men will get the idea, however, as it will represent a contagion. We must bear in mind that the saving of a few dollars per capita in a country where the population is over 100,000,000 means a good deal as a sum total in the course of a year. Here in Yolo county we might hardly notice the small amount as a result of prudence and retrenchment, but if the plan is popularized it will mean millions to the country."

DEFENSE COUNCIL STARTS FOOD SURVEY TO DETERMINE COUNTY'S FOOD PROSPECT TELL CITIZENS OF THE PRESENT OUTLOOK

Federal and State Experts Hear of Labor, Crop and Food Outlook and Prospects in this Locality

Members of the Department of Agriculture of the University of California, working in co-operation with the California State Council Defense today began a food survey of Yolo county for food preparedness.

ALSO MASS MEETING.

This afternoon a mass meeting of citizens heard what experts had to say about the critical food situation. Visitors and participants in this morning's food survey meeting included: Dean H. E. Van Norman, Dr. Charles B. Lippman, Professor G. W. Hendry, J. Stevens, C. Q. Nelson, W. Gould, Joe Harlan, Fred Shaffer and N. P. Searles.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

The meeting this afternoon was a sort of educational campaign to advise the layman of the situation as it now is. In getting the food surveys of this and the other counties of the state the plan of action is briefly as follows:

EXPERTS OPERATING.

Eight groups of experts from the various agencies mentioned are to operate over the state. Conferences are to be held in the various county seats. In the forenoons comparatively small groups of leading farmers and other citizens will be called together for intimate discussion, while in the afternoons large mass meetings will be held. The morning meetings are entirely for the purpose of gathering information. The afternoon meetings will take the form of an open discussion of the best action in the community on the general basis of the facts as they may have developed as a result of the morning session.

STOCK SUPPLY LOW.

The national supply of live stock is exceedingly low and the meat and protein consumption of the American family is the largest single item of food expense. Therefore every effort should be made to increase the supply of meat and protein foods by one or all of several measures that are still possible. Steers should be marketed as early as possible in order to make room for female breeding stock on the range. The general practice of holding steers to three or four years is not to be recommended. The use of pure bred sires of the meat breeds should be increased so far as possible. Small flocks of sheep should be maintained on farms all over California. Breeders should increase the number of sows to the extreme number for the feed available.

DRY FARMING.

The practices of dry farming should be improved. These practices are early and deep plowing, thorough maintenance of a mulch by tillage and the complete destruction of weeds in the spring on the fallow ground.

ALLIES' SHORTAGE.

The nation and her allies are faced by a food shortage which will grow more acute as the war continues. The present high prices are due to the actual lowering of production throughout the entire world. Grain crops throughout America will be short in the coming season since the winter wheat in the middle west is apparently far below normal. If America is to win the war it must be done through the maintenance of a large food supply for the allied nations whose ability to produce crops has been greatly lowered during the past few years.

Yolo County Is First in the State With Others to Follow in Quick Succession

It is evident that it is still possible to increase the agricultural production of California for the present season by certain general measures which of course must be locally interpreted and applied.

DOUBLE CROPPING.

It is possible to greatly increase the amount of food produced by the double cropping of large areas of land. Many sections which at present produce only one crop a year can produce two through the long seasons which are prevalent in California.

SUMMERFALLOWING.

There is also much land that is not only used as pasture and which has never been plowed which by summer-fallowing this year could in 1918 produce a profitable crop of grain. The interplanting of young orchards with beans, potatoes, sorghums or other crops is recommended in this crisis. While the intercropping of non-bearing orchards is sometimes detrimental to the growth of the trees yet farmers are warranted in this present time of high prices and food shortage planting all available ground to crop.

GOVERNOR MAY VISIT WHEN YOLO ORGANIZES

County Defense Council Is Suggestion to Aid the Work of the State

GOV. STEPHENS INTERESTED

County Organization Is to Replace Suggested League of Strict Economy

Governor William D. Stephens will be asked to be present when a Yolo county mass meeting of citizens is called for the purpose of organizing a county defense council.

The idea of a county defense council emanates from yesterday's meeting of the agricultural section committee to get a food survey of Yolo county. Dean Van Norman of the Davis Farm and Fred Shaffer of the board of trade discussed the matter, and it was thought advisable to substitute the county defense council in place of the Economy League, as suggested by Shaffer. Both Shaffer and Van Norman agreed that the formation of a county defense council would tend more to hold persistent interest in the work outlined by the state defense council.

Governor Stephens, who is taking an active interest in the defense council, will be asked to be at the meeting. Stephens has already expressed a desire to meet the people of Yolo county and it is thought quite likely that he will attend that meeting.

The county defense council will have as members representatives of all of the county organizations and the county farm adviser, county horticulturists and secretary of the board of trade as ex-officio members.

The idea of the mass meeting, with Governor Stephens as the guest of honor, is to get the residents together so that the greater number will have the need of conservation brought home to them more clearly.

"Dean Van Norman realizes the importance of persistent effort in keeping these matters before the people," said Shaffer today, "and he states that as soon as our organization is formed we should report the matter to the state defense council," continued Shaffer.

"By co-operation with the work being done by the state council and by a perfected county organization, Yolo county will be accomplishing much and will be in a position to render much assistance when it is required."

Citizens Urged to Cultivate to the Very Limit

Citizens of Yolo county at the meeting in Odd Fellows hall yesterday afternoon were told of how short was the world's food supplies, of how great would be the food demand and of the highly important needs of cultivation of every available acre of ground to meet the condition which faces the nation.

The meeting in Odd Fellows hall followed an all-morning session at which a food survey of Yolo county was taken by the department of agriculture branch of the state council of defense. Eight committees similar to the one in Yolo county yesterday are speeding the campaign of cultivation over the state, and at the same time conducting food surveys so that the state council of defense will have an accurate idea of the situation with which they must cope.

All County Urged To Attend Dance

Company F Benefit Will Be Held at Armory Tonight.

All is in readiness for Company F benefit dance, to be given at the Armory tonight. The committee from the fire department, which has the entertainment in charge, J. A. Murray, chairman, announced last night that preparation for the pleasure of varied tastes had been made and especial provision has been made for those who do not dance.

Inasmuch as Company F is composed of men from all parts of the county, the dance is in the nature of a county event and by no means is it an exclusively Woodland entertainment. The tickets are but 50 cents, and the suggestion is made that those who cannot attend secure a ticket and help swell the company fund. Many of the necessary expenses have been covered by donations and the receipts will go practically in gross form to the company.

Among the features of the night will be a flag drill by a class of girls under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Kiper. The Woodland troop of Boy Scouts will give a drill under the direction of the scout master, the Rev. P. G. Snow.

The dance is of a character that should find a ready and patriotic response and the occasion should see a great throng gather to show the appreciation of city and county for Company F.

Meeting to Be Called For County Council of Defense

Following the meeting at the court room yesterday afternoon, Dean Van Norman, of the university farm, and Fred Shaffer, of the Yolo county board of trade, held a conference for the purpose of arriving at some plan to hold persistent interest in the work outlined by the state defense council. At the suggestion of Dean Van Norman, the idea of the Economy league organization was abandoned and in its stead Mr. Shaffer will call a meeting in a few days of representatives of every organization in the county, to organize a county defense council.

This meeting will select a committee of one or two from each supervisorial district in the county. The county farm adviser, county horticultural commissioner and secretary of the board of trade will be ex-officio members of the council.

"Dean Van Norman realizes the importance of persistent effort in keeping these matters before the people," said Mr. Shaffer last night, "and states that as soon as our organization is formed we should report the matter to the state defense council. By this means we can keep in constant touch with every situation in reference to farm or food conditions and be in a position to render assistance where it is required."

THREE HUNDRED FARMERS OF YOLO COUNTY ARE URGED TO TILL EVERY FOOT OF LAND

Enthusiastic Mass Meeting in Woodland Hears Plans for Intensive Production Of Food for War Times--Starvation Not Possible But Shortage Is Threatening

"This is not a time for hysteria, but for serious reflection. There is no danger of any one starving in this country, but there is a real shortage of food products which calls for the united efforts of the farmers to meet a demand which will surely be made upon the country to feed not only our people, but the nations now allied with us in the war."

That is what Dean H. E. Van Norman of the University Farm at Davis said in opening the first war meeting held in this city, and, in fact, in this district, as the meeting yesterday was the first of like meetings which will be held in twelve centers of population in this valley.

Briefly outlined, these meetings, which will be held all over California, are at the behest of the State Council of Defense, through its food supply committee, and from the conferences will be compiled recommendations to the farmers of the state as to the best way they can show their patriotism and at the same time raise those crops which will be remunerative to them.

THREE HUNDRED ATTEND.

In point of attendance the meeting was most satisfactory, there being not less than three hundred present, coming from every part of the county. The interest was keen and from the responsive attitude of the farmers present, it seems that Yolo county will not lag in supplying her quota of food to feed the world, no more than will she shirk her complement of men to actually bear arms.

The real questions for us to determine is, what crops can we raise that will produce the most food for both human and animal consumption; what can the town dwellers do to assist in conserving the food products; how can we eliminate the waste which in America is said to be the greatest in the world; what second crops can be best raised and what would be the best intercropping material; shall we save every female calf, pig and sheep to provide for an increase in animal production?

These were a few of the questions which were asked and answered by the dean in his very interesting talk.

COMMITTEE SUGGESTED.

He suggested the formation of a committee representing the various civic bodies which should take up the work of co-ordination of the conservation work so that no work would be at cross-purposes. He suggested an increased water supply for irrigation for second cropping by promoting an agreement with those holding interests around Clear Lake, which would permit the use of the waters of the lake to a lower point than is at present permitted, the same to be based solely upon the emergency now facing the nation.

In suggesting what individuals could do to assist, he suggested that the table waste could feed a few more hens, a pig or two and even the lowly belgian hare came in for a good word in conserving the meat products of the country.

DEAN VAN NORMAN, of State Farm, Who Was Principal Speaker at Mass Meeting Here.

Professor Lipman of the University of California gave detailed information along the lines already generally stated. He advised the intercropping in young orchards of Egyptian corn, milo maize, black-eye beans and other crops which mature quickly and can be successfully grown after the barley crop is harvested.

Professor Hendry, also of the University of California, gave specific instruction for the culture of bean crops, which, he said, would mature in from ninety to one hundred days and produce an average of 900 pounds to the acre. At the present time black-eyed beans are selling at 8 cents a pound, and the price is likely to go no lower, at least for a year.

Local speakers were Supervisor Scott, H. B. Sharp, A. W. Morris, Sam Montgomery, Mrs. T. R. Lowe, Mrs. Fred Meier and others. The meeting was accounted a good one and the visitors were well pleased with the interest manifested.

CROP CONDITIONS REVIEWED.

A morning conference was held at the board of trade rooms, at which a review of the crop conditions this year with last year were the subject under consideration. Those present were Dean Van Norman, Professor Lipman, Professor Hendry, Farm Adviser Searles, Fred Shaffer, William Gould, A. C. Huston, J. L. Stephens, C. Q. Nelson and the editor of The Mail. Taking product by product in the county, a survey was made of present conditions, based upon information of those present, which in a general way indicates a greater yield as a whole than last year. The bean acreage will be several times more than last year, as the Holland company below Clarksburg and the Conoway tracts will be seeded for the first time. Other increased acreages were also reported.

Armory Is Crowded at Dance With Friends of Company F

The invitation extended to the public of Yolo county to attend a benefit dance given for Company F, now doing duty for Uncle Sam, was so liberally responded to that Armory hall was really overcrowded with dancers and the galleries were filled with spectators. As a result there will be a nice little purse to send to the boys to be used for those sort of things which are not furnished by the government.

Preliminary to the dance was the flag drill and the drill by the Boy Scouts. The flag drill was participated in by twenty-four young girls of high school age, under the excellent management of Mrs. A. H. Kiper. It was spectacular, patriotic and delightful and won hearty applause from all present.

The Boy Scouts, proud little fellows with soldierly bearing, went through their drills very perfectly under the direction of Scout Master, Phillip G. Snow. Mr. Snow has devoted much of his time to work with the boys and they have responded as only good little soldiers would. They also were heartily applauded.

Then came the dance to music furnished by the Woodland band, free of charge, by the way, so the soldiers in camp might have the greatest sum possible. Until midnight it was a merry whirl of two-step, one step and other popular dances.

During the evening August Silberstein, chief of the fire department, sponsors for the dance, took occasion to thank those present and the general public for the generous response to the cause.

Harold S. Voodry of Arbuckle, a member of Company F at the time it left here, was at the dance. He was not passed by the medical examiner on account of his eye sight, but he says he will try again. He says the boys are at Richmond on guard duty and are comfortably housed and well cared for.

Benefit Dance A Great Success

Citizens of Yolo county responded nobly to the call of the committee in charge of the dance for the benefit of Company F, and as a result armory hall was crowded last night.

As a result a goodly sum was realized. This was made especially so as the Woodland band members donated their services, as did many others in furnishing the actual necessities for the dance.

Additional features to the dance were a flag drill by twenty-four young girls of high school age, under the management of Mrs. A. H. Kiper. It was a very spectacular drill and one which had a tendency to arouse patriotic instincts.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster Phillip G. Snow, the Boy Scouts went through their drills in a very soldierly fashion.

The dance then followed and the throng enjoyed this pastime until midnight. There was but one interruption, and that a brief and one apropos, when Fire Chief August Silberstein in a few words thanked the citizens for their generous support of a good cause.

Planning Formation of Red Cross Unit To Get Funds by Giving Big Concert Many Interested Join Other Units

First steps towards the formation of a Woodland Red Cross unit will be taken one week from tomorrow afternoon, when the Shubert Club of Sacramento gives a concert in the Christian church.

There are a number of women of this city and contiguous territory who are interested in Red Cross work, so much so that they have identified themselves with units in San Francisco and Sacramento. A number of women locally plan the formation of a Woodland unit, there being none in this county at the present time. The proceeds from the concert to be given will be the financial nucleus for an organization of this character.

The Shubert Club of Sacramento is an organization of 65 mixed voices. They have their own orchestra and are credited with being one of the best musical bodies in northern California. They are donating their services to Red Cross work, as all proceeds are to be used along these lines of endeavor.

Tickets will be sold for the concert and from what is made over and above actual expenses, the Red Cross unit will be organized and will commence work.

Woodland Citizens Donate To A Very Noble Charity Cause

Mayor Wilcoxon Asked To Appoint Committee To Assist

Horrifying Stories Of Suffering Come From War Districts

Of all the horrifying stories of suffering born of the European war, none is quite as appalling as that of the Armenians and Servians. The one bright thread in the somber weave is the help given by other peoples. We are thankful to say that Woodland hearkened to the cry, and $25 had been contributed by noble-hearted citizens of this community, up to March of 1917.

But what has come from all sources is pitifully inadequate. Another appeal has been made by the national committee to the people of this city for more contributions. There is scarcely one reader of the "Democrat" but feels that he or she should give something of his personal funds towards a cause that has sprung from war conditions. No charity is more deserving or can alleviate more acute distress than that applied to Armenian-Syrian relief.

Mayor Wilcoxon has been asked to appoint a committee to supervise the work of collecting.

CLEAN PLATE CLUBS URGED BY SHAFFER FOR ECONOMY

Local Secretary Makes Good Suggestion at Meeting In Chico Today

GOT HIS IDEA FROM BELGIUM

Gives Figures Whereby Much Could be Saved in All American Homes

"Clean Plate Clubs," organized for the purpose of impressing the people with the necessity for domestic economy may be organized over the country as a result of a suggestion by Fred Shaffer, secretary of the Yolo County Board of Trade, who arrived at Chico this morning to attend the meeting of the Commercial Executives of Northern California, according to advice by telephone today. Shaffer was prompted to suggest the idea by the statement of Herbert C. Hoover, in charge of the American Belgian Relief Commission and recently appointed to head President Wilson's American Food Board. Hoover said: "More than seventy per cent of American homes are places of thrift, economy and clean plates. In the remaining thirty per cent no one can deny that there is profligate extravagance and waste."

ECONOMY A BUSINESS BUILDER.

"I expect to call the attention of the secretaries to the matter of food conservation as well as increased production," said Shaffer. "We must strive for the maximum of production and the minimum of waste. Our activity, along progressive lines in business building should be more pronounced than ever before. President Wilson, in his published appeal to the American people says: 'Let me suggest also that every one who creates or cultivates a garden helps and helps greatly to solve the problem of feeding the nations; and that every housewife who practices economy puts herself in the ranks of those who serve the nation. This is the time for America to correct her unpardonable fault of wastefulness and extravagance. Let every man and every woman assume the duty of careful, provident use and expenditure as a public duty, as a dictate of patriotism which no one can now expect ever to be excused or forgiven for ignoring.'

SHOULD PRACTICE SELF-DENIAL.

"As the language of our president suggests the American people characteristically seek the line of least resistance in matters involving economy or self-denial. They are willing to concede that the production should be increased but reluctantly reach the more difficult problem of efficiency and waste. In emergencies, however, we must meet conditions with hard-headed action and not with sugar-coated hopes and theories.

SHOULD AVOID ALL WASTE.

"We can add at least twenty-five per cent to our food production by increased planting. We can conserve another twenty-five per cent by avoiding waste and extravagance. Thus we gain, in the last analysis, as large a per cent by conservation as we do by planting, yet we hear little of the question of conservation. I am firm in the conviction that our state university will be willing to add to the rational elements of defense by making a vigorous campaign to teach the people how and where to save; teaching domestic science to the providers of the state and the good women who make provision for our existence and lending every effort in the direction of a greater efficiency and conservation in field, farm and garden.

CAN ACCOMPLISH BIG SAVING.

"If the city of Chico, has a population of 15,000 people, it is safe to esti-

Sergeant Laugenour states that Captain Caldwell has received no advice as to the probable length of time that the local soldiers will be at Richmond. "Orders from up-high may come at any time to change our location, and yet we may remain at Richmond until after the war is over; our future assignment is positively unknown to us," stated Laugenour.

Members of Company F have had no complaint to find thus far with their treatment at the hands of the state military department. "The business affairs of the company seem to be running along as smoothly as though we had been organized for a decade instead of a month," said Laugenour. "In spirit the boys are happy and contented, unafraid of whatever future developments may bring."

MRS. PEASE
Accompanist

A SIDE from its intrinsic merit—and the Schubert club of Sacramento is known as an exceptionally fine organization of musicians throughout the Pacific coast musical circles—the patriotic motive of the Woodland Red Cross benefit concert, to be given at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the high school auditorium, should alone attract a record attendance. The Sacramento musicians will accept only their expenses and all other receipts will aid in organizing a local Red Cross unit. Three soloists of note will aid the program of the Schubert club, composed of sixty-five voices, Mrs. Clyde Brand, contralto; Mrs. Luther E. Beaman, soprano, and Albert Barber, tenor. The work of Edward Pease, director, and Mrs. Zue Geery Pease, pianist, is of exceptional quality. The program follows: "Serenade" (Franz Schubert), "Advice to Singers" (H. J. Stewart), "In Pine Woods" (Berger)—Schubert club.

"Sing to Me, Sing" (Sidney Homer), "Sylvia" (Oley Speaks)—Mrs. Clyde Brand, contralto. "A Spirit Flower" (Campbell Tipton), "Fairly Pipers" (Brewer), "Day Is Gone" (Lang)—Mrs. Luther E. Beaman, soprano.

"Thou Art So Like a Flower" (Chadwick), "My Pretty Marquis" (West)—Mr. Albert Barber, tenor.

"O That We Two Were Maying" (Nevin)—Mrs. Beaman, Mrs. Brand, "The Nightingale" (Tschalkovsky), "Spinning Top" (Korsakoff), "The Lost Chord" (Sullivan)—Schubert club.

Officers Reserve Corps Requirements Are Very Severe

Local Man Presents Excellent Credentials But To No Avail

Twelve Applicants Out of One Hundred Are Accepted

Some idea of the strict requirements exacted of successful applicants for enlistment in the Officers' Reserve Corps is gleaned in the case of Frank W. Stephens, assistant cashier of the Bank of Woodland National Association. Stephens' petition was rejected Saturday by Captain Hannigan, who ruled that two years of military training at St. Matthews' academy and a high school and grammar school education were not sufficient to fit Stephens for the position.

Stephens has had far superior business and practical education than the average proficient university graduate, and has letters galore of recommendations from men prominent in the educational and business communities of Yolo county.

Dickson Stephens, a cousin of Frank, and Russell J. Lowe, prosperous young rancher, will apply to Captain Hannigan this evening for enrollment on the Officers' staff. Stephens will be armed with a St. Mary's college diploma, high and grammar school certificates, a score of commendatory letters from distinguished residents in this community. Lowe will present college degrees from the state university, Columbia College and other institutions of learning. He will also show a flock of letters of recommendation.

So exacting are the requirements of the U. S. War Department that but twelve out of several hundred applicants have been accepted by Captain Hannigan.

SIMPSON APPOINTED TO DUTY IN FRANCE

On Eve of His Departure for London is Dispatched for Duty in Paris

TO BE IN COMPLETE CHARGE

Simpson Writes Telling of His Impression of the Capital of France

Almost on the eve of his departure for London, John L. Simpson of Woodland received a cablegram from Herbert C. Hoover advising him to remain in Paris to take complete charge of the bureau for investigating food conditions throughout France. Two members of the American Commission for Relief in Belgium, of which Simpson was a part, were instructed to work under the direction of the Woodland man.

Mrs. Gertrude Simpson of this city has just received word of her son's new appointment. It had been expected that young Simpson would return to the United States in May, but on account of the danger attached to an oceanic voyage these days the Simpsons more than welcomed the news of the appointment in France.

After being advised to leave Belgium Simpson and the other members of the Hoover party went to Switzerland. They spent several days at Berne, and then left for Paris.

Simpson writes that he is much enamored with "the city of cities" and his new work. Investigating food conditions in France requires a thorough study of new economic problems. Simpson's early tutoring in the local high school and in the state university in the French language department has served him well, as he is now able to converse fluently with the gesticular Frenchmen.

Simpson advises that Hoover is on his way from England on an American steamer, and will arrive in New York within a few days. After conferring with members of the commission here, Hoover will be prepared to go to Washington to assume his new position, that of chairman of the American Food Board. So far as is known by the men who have been associated with him in the relief work, Hoover has no intention of abandoning the chairmanship of the Belgian commission, although it is expected that the executive work will be carried on by other members.

Frank Elston Back To Get Musicians For Battleship Huntington

Musicians on board that ship had evidently heard that Yolo county was particularly fortunate in having more than the usual coterie of harmony dispensers, for Frank Elston, a Woodland boy, was detailed back home to enlist prospects for the Huntington band.

Elston reported excellent progress today. Eight musicians from Winters band and five from the Davis organization have signed up to take the physical tests required to board the U. S. vessel, due to Elston's recruiting activities. The Winters and Davis musicians will report at Vallejo before Monday.

Excellent Showing Made by Guards at Drill Last Night

Woodland's company of Home Guards were put through some stiff drilling at armory hall last night, but all stood up well and the company made a good showing. There were over 50 present and the drill masters appointed by Captain W. H. Curson set them a merry pace. The "rookies" made good progress and the outlook for a good company is excellent.

Drills are to be held every Monday night. The drill masters ask that the attendance be as regular as possible, for all the good done can be undone by several times absent from drill.

The Home Guard company received an invitation from Madison to attend in a body the rice carnival there. The matter of acceptance will be discussed at the next regular meeting.

Two From Woodland Are Recommended as Reserve Army Officers

Dickson Stephens and Russell J. Lowe, both of Woodland, passed the examination at Sacramento Monday evening and were recommended by Captain H. A. Hannigan for commissions in the officers' reserve corps of the U. S. Army. Stephens and Lowe were two of the forty-five successful applicants, out of a total of four hundred would-be army officers. The recommendations of Hannigan will be finally acted upon at a date in the near future, there already being two thousand too many candidates for officers' commissions.

Stephens and Lowe were submitted to a two hours' physical test last night and both emerged with good reports. Captain Hannigan stated that all candidates who are given commissions upon the completion of their instructions and service in the training camp will be required to take the regular army oath as administered to army officers.

This oath will require five years' service. In war time the officers will be in active service. In times of peace they will be required to devote only fifteen days in each year of the remaining years of their enlistment to military instruction and drill. Officers also will have the same privilege of resigning as govern regular army officers.

Red Cross Unit Charter On Way

Yolo County Society Expecting Supplies Very Soon.

The many people of Yolo county who have become interested in the organization of a Red Cross chapter in this county will be glad to know that John L. Clymer, director of the Pacific division of the Red Cross, has notified the local enthusiasts that the charter and supplies will soon be here.

The letter written by Mr. Clymer was directed to Mrs. Fred Meier, who is in attendance at the annual session of the Women's Federated clubs in Pasadena, and it was turned over to Mrs. Lawhead. It reads as follows:

"May 3, 1917.
"Mrs. Fred Meier, Woodland, Cal.
"Dear Madam: Your letter of April 28 at hand. Your supplies will be forwarded just as quickly as we can get them in hand. There is an awful delay in all sorts of supplies and it is almost impossible to get anything by freight from the east. Some of the pamphlets we are having printed locally, and when they are received from the printers we will take care of you immediately. Yours truly, John L. Clymer."

It is the intention of the county folks here to form one chapter for the county, with working branches in Woodland, Winters, Davis, and all other centers. Much more can be accomplished in this way than where there are several chapters in small counties and at a much more economical manner.

Just as soon as the supplies arrive, it is presumed there will be a called meeting to which representatives from every section of the county will be invited. In the meantime Mrs. Meier will have returned home from the south.

STUDENTS AT HIGH HEAR TALKS ON NEEDS OF TODAY

Are Urged to Help This Nation
By Doing Their Bit With Tools for Gardening

MADDOX MAKES AN APPEAL

Says Merchants Should Furnish the Seed and the City All the Water

Woodland high school's student body has given a better idea of the needs of the times, especially along the lines of cultivation, this morning, when H. S. Maddox, assistant to the State Horticultural Commissioner, and Mr. Hagan, assistant state leader of the agricultural clubs, addressed the students. Hagan is sent out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Maddox, the first speaker, made a stirring appeal to the members of the high school agricultural clubs and to the boys. He pointed out that war conditions had created a dearth in labor and had in addition created a condition that cultivation to the utmost was a vital necessity.

"Much of the lighter farm labor will have to be done by you high school boys," said Maddox, "and right here let me impress it on you that we are facing serious times," he continued. "You by going into the field and doing your bit are being just as patriotic as the one who shoulders a gun and marches off to war."

"One of the biggest factors in this war is to be the American farmer, and another big factor is to be the American boy farmer."

"This may sound exaggerated, but unless something is done and done in a hurry, a lot of you boys may see sights like the ones that followed the San Francisco fire. I refer to a bread line. The government may take charge of every bit of food and apportion it out."

"Every back yard, every vacant lot in this city should be planted right now. Potatoes, onions and products of that kind should be grown right at home. It would be well to put potatoes where some of the lawns now are."

"The merchants of Woodland could well afford to supply the seeds and the city of Woodland the water. Every foot of spare land should be producing something."

"Europe, and in fact the greater part of the world is behind in production. They look to the United States to feed them. You boys and high school students can do a big patriotic thing by getting busy with a hoe and a shovel."

Hagan's talk was equally as convincing and he, too, made a stirring appeal to the boys to cultivate and to cultivate to the limit.

DEFENSE COUNCIL TO CONSIDER SEVERAL IMPORTANT MATTERS

The Future Activities of This County to Be Discussed
This Afternoon

NEED OF LABOR IS PROBLEM

Irrigation and Cultivation Are Among Things for Various Recommendations

Matters of much importance to Yolo county in the next twenty-four months will be taken up this afternoon at an executive meeting of the Yolo county council of defense. The meeting will be held in the office of Superior Judge W. A. Anderson. At this afternoon's meeting action will be taken on the many pertinent suggestions made Saturday afternoon on the all-absorbing question of increased soil production.

Poignant labor needs is one of the problems confronting Yolo county. At Saturday's meeting, Fred Shaffer, secretary of the board of trade, suggested that the board of trade, through its secretary, be made a sort of employment bureau, where farmers may register their wants so far as help is concerned and where men and women seeking work may be put in immediate touch with the job that is looking for them.

Another matter of importance for consideration this afternoon is the utilizing of the group of wells at the St. Louis place, near Yolo. It is conservatively estimated that these wells will furnish water capable of irrigating several thousand acres of land and that they will amply provide for the second cropping of the big barley areas in that district.

Still another matter for consideration is the cultivation of several hundred acres of blank land to sorghum grains. This was the suggestion of Farm Adviser Niles P. Searls.

Valuable suggestions were made Saturday by Dean Van Norman of the University Farm at Davis. His thoughts and ideas were added to by State Horticultural Commissioner G. H. Hecke, H. S. Maddox, J. T. Cooper, William Gould, Frank Edson, G. W. Pierce, W. O. Russell, C. Q. Nelson, Kirk Swingle, M. O. Wyatt, Ed Clover, J. L. Harlan, Frank Bullard, M. H. Stitt and Harold Van Tassel.

From the combined suggestions, and with the county survey of William Gould as a working basis, the council will formulate a plan of action deemed best for this locality. It will be forwarded to the state defense council for its endorsement.

Hears From Her Brother Who Is Press Correspondent On European Firing Lines

For the first time since last February, Mrs. John S. Craig received word Sunday from her brother, Ben Allen, Associated Press correspondent, who has been in Europe since the outbreak of the war. Allen wired from Washington, D. C., that he was a member of Herbert C. Hoover's party that has just arrived at the nation's capital. The message further stated that Mrs. Allen and the children remained in London, fearing to attempt an ocean voyage at this critical period.

Allen stated in yesterday's telegram that the length of his stay in the United States is indefinite. The Woodland man has been engaged with the American Commission for Relief in Belgium, and has also been writing for the Associated Press. Presumably he will remain with the Hoover party during Hoover's investigation of American food conditions.

Many Would Be Officers Will Find That They Are Not to Be Ones Chosen

Jack Stephens left for Berkeley this morning, hoping to be ordered to report to the Presidio for training in the Officers' Reserve Corps. Stephens, who will be a senior in the state university next semester, applied for a commission several weeks ago. He passed the physical examinations almost perfectly, but has received no further instructions.

It is likely that neither Dickson Stephens nor Russell J. Lowe will be called into the officers' reserve training camp at the Presidio, because of their having farming interests in this county. Although both passed the examinations at Sacramento several days ago and were recommended by Captain Hanigan, neither has received orders to report to headquarters.

A fly got into the ointment of the candidates for the reserve officers' training camp yesterday. Unless the War Department changes its mind, 100 to 400 of those who have been notified that they were accepted are going to be notified to stay at home.

There will be no room for them. The space in the camp that they would have occupied has been filled with national guardsmen.

Local Boys Run Away To Join Nation's Navy

Beverly Capp and Roy Hennigan are cousins and they give strong evidence that patriotism runs on a high level in their family.

They wanted to be sailors in the United States navy, so the seventeen-year-old lads ran away from their Woodland homes to Vallejo and gave their ages as 19.

Beverly is the son of Berry Capps and Roy is Mrs. George Hennigan's boy. The parents' patriotism is not so picturesque as that of their offspring, and they sent Probation Officer Powers after the runaways.

Powers made explanations to the captain of the Huntington, who readily agreed that the youths should return. He gave them a good talking to first, though. He strongly commended patriotism, but he told his young hearers that they could work off any excess on a ranch; that it took four farmer boys to keep one sailor.

The boys have returned. Capps passed the examinations, but had not been sworn in. Hennigan failed in tests because of bad teeth.

But Two From Yolo For Reserve Corps

But two of the many Yolo county applicants for commissions on the U. Hyatt of Davis were advised of their acceptance. There will be 2500 at the camp, representing the pick of the material of nine states. The names were chosen from a pile of applications numerous enough to fill three such camps. They were selected strictly on their merits, as far as the papers showed, by officers to whom all were personal strangers. Nelson Hackett of Oakland, nephew of Mrs. C. W. Bush of Woodland, is on the list of the chosen.

To those who were rejected a balm was offered yesterday in a telegram from the war department to hold their papers for future consideration in making up the lists of probable subsequent camps. Rejection in many cases, it was explained, was due to lack of teaching facilities and not to dearth of merit on the part of applicants.

Yolo Red Cross Is Organized; Mass Meeting Tomorrow Night

The Yolo county chapter of the American Red Cross was formally organized yesterday afternoon at a meeting called by Mrs. Fred Meier, who has been corresponding with the authorities in San Francisco and to whom the charter came yesterday.

Those who signed the application for a charter, and are, therefore, charter members of the organization are: Fred R. Fairchild, H. J. Bush, Mrs. Fred Meier, Mrs. Ernest Norton, Mrs. Lydia D. Under the rules laid down by the Red Cross heads it was necessary for fifteen others at least to join with the original petitioners in selecting a committee to in turn name an executive committee of twenty-five, who in turn will be confirmed at a mass meeting called for the purpose, and if so confirmed, select the officers of the chapter.

Those who joined in the meeting for that purpose were: Mrs. J. Reith, Jr., Dr. W. E. Bates of Davis, Roy Cole, R. B. Cranston, J. W. Crank, A. G. Bailey, D. A. Johnston, Fred Shaffer, Hampton Roberts, I. E. Brink, R. W. Harrison, Ernest Norton, E. H. Archer, W. A. Anderson, C. C. McDonald, W. F. Mixon, William Dykes and Mrs. C. W. Bush.

This committee selected as the executive committee Dr. W. E. Bates and Mrs. Albert Ross of Davis, E. H. Archer of Madison, Mrs. B. F. Davisson of Guinda, M. O. Wyatt and Mrs. T. A. Sparks of Winters, Mrs. Charles Hoppin of Yolo, Mrs. T. H. Dixon of Knights Landing, Mrs. S. W. Barker of Dunnigan, Miss Helen Schliemann of Blacks, C. Q. Nelson, Mrs. Fred Meier, Mrs. T. R. Lowe, W. A. Anderson, Mrs. C. W. Bush, Mrs. John Reith, Jr., Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Mrs. W. F. Mixon, Mrs. Ernest Norton, J. S. Scott, Mrs. Edward Bullard and I. E. Brink of Woodland.

This committee will make its report to a mass meeting to be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the superior court room. All interested in Red Cross work are cordially invited to attend this initial public meeting. It is to be remembered that this is a county-wide organization and necessarily so, as the Red Cross heads do not take kindly to the issuance of charters for more than one chapter in the smaller counties. There no doubt will be working sections in every town in the county, but all will be allied in the main central organization. Each part of the county will have its share of work to do, but all will be coordinated through the officers of the county chapter.

RED CROSS DESIROUS OF LARGE MEMBERSHIP

Mass Meeting of Citizens
Tonight Called for This Purpose

ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT

Executive Committee Hopes to Have Membership of 5000 in Yolo County

In hopes of getting a membership of not less than 5000, a campaign will be started for the Yolo Red Cross unit, at a meeting tonight, for all of the citizens of Yolo county. The meeting will be held in the superior court rooms. An urgent invitation to every resident of the county is extended. Superior Judge W. A. Anderson will be the presiding officer.

At tonight's meeting sanction and endorsement of the actions of the executive committee of twenty-five must be made. As stated in issues of this paper, formal organization of the chapter and the appointment of the executive committee were made at a meeting Monday. Charter provisions are that actions of the preliminary executive committee must be endorsed, at a public meeting.

For this purpose and to stimulate interest and quick action, tonight's meeting has been called. The committee from the council of defense on Red Cross and Red Cross committees from the various clubs and organizations interested have signified their intention of being present tonight.

Permanent organization, the selection of a president, a vice-president, secretary and treasurer are among the business transactions scheduled.

Committees to attend the membership and publicity are to be appointed. Numerous invitations by telephone and letter have been sent out to all parts of the county. The responses make it appear that there will be a good attendance tonight.

From tonight's meeting it is hoped to spread Red Cross work to a point that the Yolo Chapter reaches a membership in excess of 5000.

"We are very much in need of more recruits and anything you might do to encourage more men to enlist for Company F will be greatly appreciated by us.

Red Cross of Yolo County Organizes and Selects Home

The executive committee of twenty-five, selected to recommend officers of the Yolo County Red Cross chapter, met in the superior court room last night, and in addition there were present a considerable number of others interested in the work. Judge Anderson was chosen chairman and Lawrence Stephens was selected as secretary of the meeting.

Judge Anderson stated the object of the meeting and the requirements of the authorities in Red Cross work and called for nominations for chairman of the chapter. J. I. McConnell was placed in nomination, which was duly seconded. No other nominations being made the secretary cast the unanimous ballot of the committee for Mr. McConnell. Mrs. Fred Meier was also unanimously elected as vice chairman and Lawrence Stephens was in like manner chosen secretary. On motion of Dr. Wyatt of Winters, the Bank of Woodland National association was selected as treasurer. In choosing the members of the board of managers, it was thought advisable to defer action and instruct the chairman and vice chairman to make recommendation at a future time, and in conformity with that idea, it was decided to meet at the court room on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of taking formal action on the recommendation of the two officers and confirmation thereof.

Charles Nelson, representing the owners of the old Bank of Woodland building, offered the banking rooms free of cost to the chapter as a headquarters and the offer was accepted. It is expected that these headquarters will be available at once and an effort will be made to open them this afternoon, and thereafter there will be some one in constant attendance to take signatures of those who wish to become members of the chapter.

Program For Memorial Day Is Rapidly Nearing Completion

A meeting of the defense council last night immediately after the adjournment of the Red Cross meeting resulted in the formal acceptance of some of the tentative plans already outlined.

John Reith, Jr., president of the Woodland school trustees, stated that all the Woodland schools, under the direction of their teachers, would participate in the parade of the day. It was stated that parents would be put to no extra expense in providing costumes or anything of that sort, but the children would be expected to march in their usual school attire.

It has been discovered that most of the country schools will have closed for vacation before decoration day and it was determined to send representatives to all these schools before that time and outline the plans of the day and try to get them to attend the memorial exercises and march in the parade. The county will be districted for that purpose.

It was announced that Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills college, will be the speaker at the memorial exercises at the city park. Mrs. Reinhardt is one of the leading women of the nation and has a national reputation as a public orator, a deep thinker and a notable educator. Her address will be on patriotism.

To provide for the comfort of the many who will come to the city on the day to assist in the patriotic services, the city trustees have announced that they will place many tanks of ice water at convenient places about the park and along Main street. The council of defense will, no doubt, provide sanitary drinking cups for the use of all who need them.

The music committee, under the direction of Mr. Fox, asks that it be announced that a monster practice meeting will be held at 8 o'clock on Saturday night at Community clubhouse. Every singer in the county is cordially invited to be present. What is wanted is a thousand-voice choir to sing the national anthem.

The council of defense has a commendable object in view in promoting these exercises on May 30. It is to strike into fervent life the spark of patriotism which seems almost submerged in many cases. The committee does not think for an instant it is not there, but at this time when the nation is at war, there should be more outward expression of our latent love of country.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP GROWING EACH DAY

Opening of Quarters in the Bank of Woodland Draws
New Members

EXPECT LARGE MEMBERSHIP

If You Have Not Yet Joined Drop Around and Do
Your Little Bit

Opening of quarters in the Bank of Woodland today resulted in 35 joining Yolo chapter of Red Cross and it further resulted in the going into the local Red Cross headquarters, Main and First streets, of a number of interested parties.

With the 25 charter members, and 98 who signed a petition signifying their intentions of joining, the outlook for the chapter is bright.

It is the hopes of those fostering the move that Yolo chapter will eventually have a membership of 3000. Do your bit and join.

If you have signed the petition and membership roll and have not paid your dues, please step around and pay what you owe. Signatures without cash avail nothing.

The Red Cross has been poetized and idealized, and a more fit subject for eloquence never has had existence, but it cannot live on worship. It must have money and service.

Don't be a laggard! Step up and pay up!

A band of devoted citizens are managing the affairs of the local Red Cross society. Their tasks are arduous. Surely the least any of us can do is to sign the membership roll and pay the fee.

The Red Cross blazoned on a white field is an emblem of mercy, and it may also well serve as a reminder of red wounds opened in patriotism's cause and left unattended because of stinginess or indifference on the part of stay-at-homes secure behind the bodies, living and dead, maimed and tortured, offered as a sacrifice to the Goddess of Liberty.

The Red Cross Society is conducted on strictly business lines. Money is handled by the society more economically than by any other charitable organization whose object is to provide care and comfort for the soldiers. Visitors are welcomed at the commodious and well-appointed quarters of the local society, and all questions relating to the work will receive respectful attention and be answered adequately.

There is an enormous demand for Red Cross supplies. To shudder at the cruelties of war and then refuse to do your part to mitigate the sufferings is one of the many bad forms of ugly unpatriotism.

Under the Red Cross banner, militarist and pacifist, friend and foe meet. All are welcomed there who will aid in rendering succor to the wounded who have bled or fallen on the battlefield.

You cannot pass by the Red Cross quarters without having your attention called to the establishment. Be sure you can walk past with your head up and a good conscience.

Home Guards Are Attracting Much Attention

Persistent and hard drilling under competent and capable instructors has resulted in the whipping into the nucleus of a good military organization, Woodland's company of Home Guards. The drill last night in armory hall was witnessed by a number of lady visitors and it was one of the best drills so far.

Orders sent out by Adjutant-General Borree, relative to the duties of Home Guard organizations, were read and commented upon. As far as is known, none of the members of the company will shirk the additional responsibility.

Guard drills are held every Monday and Thursday evenings. At the rate of progress being made, Woodland is to have a rattling good company at the expiration of a few weeks.

Some of them will probably be sewing on the new banner.

The girls will be glad to give any information which is in their power and to accept memberships to the Red Cross Society, which is being formed. The membership fee is one dollar and will admit the owner to the class in first aid.

Other girls of the auxiliary will be on duty for the same purposes on each afternoon of next week.

The girls of the auxiliary have just received fifteen dollars for the last amount of paper sold. This money added to a previous sum, amounts to over thirty dollars made in this manner.

RED CROSS CHAPTER GROWS DAILY

High School Girls Do Great Work In Signing Up
New Recruits

HEADQUARTERS ARE BUSY

Charter Members Optimistic Over The Outlook For
3000 Members

Wonderful progress was made today by the high school girls in their campaign for Red Cross membership. They adopted an aggressive system, with astonishing results.

Entrenched in headquarters in the Bank of Woodland building, they sent out scouts, and secret service spies disguised in the uniform of Red Cross nurses. Should a man pass, several secret service spies were on his trail. If he were able to show a passport and membership credentials, all well and good. If not it was not all well and good until he signed up and "pungled" up.

As the result of this aggressive campaign, more members were signed up to noon today than were signed all day yesterday. By the close of the day's recruiting Yolo chapter of Red Cross should have a list that is a good handicap towards the 3000 goal.

On the firing line today were: Isabella Woods, Virginia Hoppin, Helen Summers, Mildred Crum, Claire Lowe, Almuth Arens and Lorraine Foley.

For the next several days all will be bustle at the Red Cross headquarters. The charter members and executive committee are out after as many members as they can get. They feel that joining the Red Cross is one way of doing "one's bit" and every effort is to be made to see that everybody does "his bit."

One of the features yesterday was when the employees of The Vogue came over in a body, joined and paid up.

There is a need of volunteers for service at headquarters for either morning or afternoon work. Those who feel that they can spare the time are requested to make it known to Chairman of the Red Cross, J. I. McConnell or vice-chairman, Mrs. Fred Meier.

YOLO CHAPTER OF RED CROSS IS SLOWLY BUT SURELY CLIMBING; ANOTHER MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN PLAN

John Clymer to Be Speaker at Red Cross Exercises
Memorial Day

GOAL IS THREE THOUSAND

Board of Managers to Meet Tonight to Work Out
Details

Yolo Chapter of Red Cross membership is slowly and surely climbing. From 103 Saturday it went to better than 160 today. The charter members and the executives feel certain that the campaign to be launched this week will result in many names being added, and they feel certain that the goal of 3000 will be ultimately reached.

At an executive meeting yesterday afternoon a board of managers was appointed. This board of managers is composed of Judge W. A. Anderson, C. Q. Nelson, J. S. Scott, Mrs. C. W. Bush, Mrs. T. R. Lowe, Mrs. Edward Bullard and Dr. W. E. Bates of Davis.

The board of managers and the executive committees are to meet tonight to make a more nearly perfect organization. At tonight's meeting committees to attend to details military, membership, finance and publicity will be appointed and assigned to duty.

Tonight's meeting will result in the launching of a membership campaign that gives every indication of bringing about the desired result of 3000 members.

While excellent work is being done in Woodland by the committees at work in the headquarters at the Bank of Woodland and the field scouts, this is not the only accomplishment, as reports from Winters, Davis, Esparto, Madison, Guinda and other parts of the county are that many members are being secured there.

Great results are expected on Memorial Day. The afternoon part of the commemoration is under the auspices of the Red Cross. John L. Clymer, Pacific coast head of the Red Cross, with five states under his supervision, is to be the speaker at that time.

The effect of his presence, after the amount of publicity that is to be given, together with the patriotic appeal, will result in a big boost towards the 3000, think the charter members and board of managers.

At the afternoon exercises, a thorough explanation of the workings of the Red Cross is to be made.

High School Girls Secure 103 Members for Red Cross

With all the vim and energy of youth, and a spirit which recognizes no such thing as fail, the high school team of girls took charge of the Red Cross headquarters for the first Saturday yesterday morning. When time came to look up for the night they had issued 103 certificates of membership and a big round dollar was in their hands to account for each name of the increase.

There were seven of the lassies doing duty, captained by Almuth Arens. The others were Isabella Woods, Mildred Crum, Claire Lowe, Virginia Hoppin, Lorraine Foley and Helen Summers.

The total membership of the Woodland section now amounts to 263. There are the original seventeen who signed the application for a charter, ninety-one who signed at the time of the Sunday afternoon concert, twenty who joined the day the headquarters opened, thirty-two for the second day, and 103 of yesterday.

This number does not take into account those who have joined the sections already under way in Davis and Winters. The slogan is "three thousand members for Yolo county," and there will be no rest until that number have been obtained.

The meeting of the executive committee at the court room at 3 o'clock is for the purpose of selecting the seven members of the board of managers, it being understood that the chairman, J. I. McConnell, and the vice chairman, Mrs. Fred Meier, will have a list of recommendations.

Yolo Representatives Take Active Part At Farmers' War Congress

Farmers of California, in war conference at San Francisco, expressed themselves powerfully on two grave problems yesterday.

They denounced whisky as an insidious enemy to farm efficiency.

They commended the Six Companies' offer of large Chinese labor importations, under restrictions, for the period of the war.

Representatives from forty-nine of California's fifty-eight counties were present. J. L. Harlan and G. W. Pierce were there from Yolo county.

PIERCE QUOTES POEM.

"You have read the poem, 'The Man With the Hoe,'" said Pierce, in the course of his address. "Well, nowadays, the hoe is around looking for the man. I wish it would find a political patriot.

"Labor has begun to see," he went on, "that the exclusion of the Chinese was a great mistake. It is the high cost of living that has brought about this change of view. Labor sees now that it made too good a job of Asiatic exclusion.

SPLIT OVER CHINESE.

"You see in this morning's papers that the Chinese have offered to help us during the present emergency. I don't believe there is a sane man in California who would object to this.

"With two jobs for every man, these I. W. W. and other undependable 'workers' will stick at a job for a few days and then spend their money in booze. We should get together and organize the United Order of Producers. Then we should go to congress and demand the right to bring the necessary laborers from Asia or elsewhere."

Opinion was divided in this matter.

Liberty Bonds for Yolo County Portion $700,000

Liberty bonds to the amount of at least $700,000 are to be purchased by residents and banks of Yolo county.

This amount is Yolo's proportion of the allotment of liberty bonds assigned to the state of California, $92,000,000, by the national treasury department.

The clearing house representing the banks of Sacramento has already more than $1,000,000 for war securities.

In reality, the allotment of liberty bonds to each state is not an allotment, but simply an estimate of what each state ought to subscribe to. The bonds assigned to other western states are as follows:

Oregon, $10,000,000; Washington, $17,500,000; Nevada, $1,500,000; Arizona, $3,000,000; New Mexico, $2,500,000; Colorado, $14,000,000; Wyoming, $2,500,000; Montana, $9,500,000; Idaho, $4,000,000; Utah, $6,500,000. This allotment is based on the wealth of the states.

In addition to the state apportionment of liberty bonds, a second assignment of the bonds is made to the big cities. In this list, San Francisco is supposed to subscribe to from $140,000,000 to $175,000,000 worth of the bonds.

A movement to have each fraternal order of the city subscribe to the liberty bonds will likely be started.

Are Perfecting Plans for Landing Benefit

Plans for the social dance to be held at Knights Landing Saturday evening, May 26, are being perfected. A program will be given before the dance to consist of musical selections and impersonation readings by Mrs. Belle Rose Emslie, who is visiting in Knights Landing. Mrs. Emslie is an entertainer of rare merit and she has kindly volunteered her services for this occasion.

Al C. Murray of Woodland will talk to the people of the river town on the Red Cross and Council of Defense work as outlined for Yolo county. The ladies interested in the Red Cross work will serve ice-cream and real home-oven-made cakes, most toothsome and relishing. A small admission fee will be charged and dance ribbons will be furnished for fifty cents. The proceeds will be used to assist the band in musical and uniform matters, and also to be used in Red Cross work.

Red Cross Membership Goes Up Several Notches

The Red Cross membership took another upward jump today. Over 30 paid-up memberships were added to the list of Woodland members, which now is well over the 300 mark.

The board of managers is well satisfied with the progress being made and they are confident that this steady growth will ultimately result in the goal of 3000 set for Yolo county.

Another crew of young ladies were on recruiting duty at the headquarters in the Bank of Woodland today. But few escaped their eagle eyes.

The board of managers will call another executive meeting soon and Red Cross work will be taken up by fraternal organizations, clubs and other bodies, it is hoped.

Red Cross Membership Is Growing

Eight Nurses Joining In A Body

Work Is Placed On Exhibition

Yolo Chapter of Red Cross had another banner today. The membership at 1 o'clock for Woodland alone had reached 351 and the indications were still promising that it would increase.

One of the developments of the day was the receipt of a check from Madrona Camp, No. 186, Woodmen of the World, for ten dollars. The check was made payable to the Red Cross and is to be applied in Red Cross work.

Another feature of the day was when the nurses of the sanitarium joined in a body. Eight nurses who are perhaps more familiar with Red Cross work than anybody, all joined at one time.

Placed on exhibition in the local Red Cross headquarters in the Bank of Woodland building were samples of work done by members locally. In a wooden and glass case the sample of bandages, towels, bedroom slippers, bed-sox, convalescent gowns, shoulder wraps, and the number made of each are shown.

Liberty Bond Committee Meets

For the purpose of outlining a campaign for the sale of liberty bonds, the committee appointed for the sale of the bonds, met this afternoon in the Bank of Yolo office.

Liberty bonds to the amount of at least $700,000 are to be purchased in Yolo county if the apportionment assigned to California is complied with.

The committee on liberty bonds for Yolo county is composed of C. W. Bush, Bank of Yolo; J. L. Stephens, Bank of Woodland National Association; R. B. Cranston, F. W. Blanchard, E. E. Leake and W. F. Mixon.

Expect Large Crowd At Knights Landing Benefit Entertainment

Dance ribbons will cost just 50 cents each at the Knights Landing benefit dance at the river town tomorrow night. Ladies interested in Red Cross work are to serve ice-cream and cake, while another avenue of income will be a small admission fee.

Reports from Knights Landing today were that everybody in town was going, just as soon as the chores were done and they could get dressed up. Additional reports were that the committees in charge were all ready.

A brief program consisting of musical numbers, impersonations and readings will precede the dance. Mrs. Belle Rose Emsle, talented reader and impersonator, who is a visitor in Knights Landing at the present, will be one of the entertainers.

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER GOES OVER FOUR HUNDRED MARK

Two features stood out prominently in regard to Red Cross today. The chapter membership from the Woodland standpoint jumped up to the 400 mark and the new Red Cross pins arrived. They were sold almost as quickly as they were placed on exhibition. Sixty-six citizens are now wearing them.

The high school girls' committee were in charge of campaign headquarters in the Bank of Woodland building. The newly elected president of the Red Cross high school girls' branch, Miss Genevieve Edson, taking charge this afternoon. She had as assistants, Eloise Hare, Gladys Merritt, Margaret Harling, Leila Hecke and Zella Morris.

The board of managers of the Yolo County Chapter of Red Cross met at the directors' room of the Bank of Yolo last night. The board made appointment of the civilian relief committee as follows: Miss Rhoda Maxwell, Miss Ella Baker, Mrs. George Zimmerman, E. B. Hayward and J. A. Murray. On the military relief committee Mrs. C. W. Bush was appointed chairman, with the appointment of the other members deferred until a later date.

W. H. Scott of Davis and Fred C. Hemenway of Winters were added to the publicity committee, with the chairman, J. I. McConnell, and the vice chairman, Mrs. Fred Meier, as members ex-officio. Vice presidents for Clarksburg were appointed in the persons of Mrs. J. H. Cave and Walter Colby. Mrs. T. D. Cummins was appointed a vice president for Woodland precinct No. 6, vice Mrs. Frank Fitz, not a resident of the precinct, whose resignation for that cause was filed.

An application made by residents of Davis for an auxiliary charter was granted.

All Merchants Asked To Close Stores All Day On Memorial Day

At a special meeting of the city council, called by Mayor Wilcoxon for the purpose of acting on the request of the county council of defense, action will be taken on a resolution to the effect that all business houses in Woodland, with the exception of restaurants and ice-cream parlors, close all day Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 30.

The council of defense members are of the opinion that all the stores should close, thus giving a number of people the opportunity of marching in the parade. A number of merchants who have been spoken to are willing to close. The council members do not think that closing this day will reduce or handicap the business of the local merchants.

Home Guard Company Makes A Great Showing

Woodland's company of Home Guards made a fine showing at their regular Thursday night drill in armory hall. There were about 60 out and the way they went through the drills, one would get the impression that every one of them had seen at least ten years of active service.

Almost every member of the company has the "Sir, the Detail is Correct" down and II of the rest of the orders military.

SLOGAN--BUY LIBERTY BONDS SELLING CAMPAIGN PLANNED YOLO'S SHARE IS $700,000

Federal Representative Is Encouraged Over Outlook and Prospects Shown in this County

Liberty Bond Speakers Will Be at Every Meeting to Tell People to Aid
With Bond Buying

Initial steps toward actually getting Yolo county in line to subscribe for its share of the Liberty Bonds, $700,000, were taken today, when J. J. McLellan, special representative of the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco, made a bank-to-bank canvass to instruct the Yolo financial institutions as to their duty in this great undertaking. "Everywhere I met with great encouragement, which leads me to believe that Yolo's citizens will come to the front promptly and liberally for the government bonds," stated McLellan after his county-wide tour.

FEDERAL BANKER VISITS
YOLO'S MONEY CENTERS.

The federal representative spent the entire day conversing with bankers in Woodland, Winters, Davis, Knights Landing and Esparto. It will be up to the banks chiefly, according to McLellan, to awaken the people to their duty and to the nature of the investment. "When it is finally brought home to Yolo people that it is not only a matter of patriotism, but also of good sound business, to buy Liberty Bonds, then I anticipate a rush for bond applications and an early settlement of Yolo's debt to the government," McLellan said. McLellan will spend the next fifteen days in Glenn, Yolo and Colusa counties, in the interest of the Liberty Bonds.

C. W. BUSH CHOSEN

CHAIRMAN YOLO COMMITTEE.

McLellan met late Friday afternoon with the Yolo County Liberty Bond Committee at the Bank of Yolo. He advised the members to enlarge their committee, so as to include representatives of every bank in the county. This was done, after C. W. Bush had been chosen president and Paul R. Leake secretary of the committee. The personnel of Yolo's liberty bond committee now stands as follows: From Woodland—C. W. Bush, P. R. Leake, W. F. Blanchard, W. F. Mixon, J. L. Stephens and J. D. Harling; Winters—I. A. Morris and W. S. Baker; Davis—Fred Bonnetti and J. B. Anderson; Esparto—C. F. George; Knights Landing—W. H. Hopper and M. E. Clowe.

The entire committee will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the Bank of Yolo, to devise plans for an immediate canvass of the county for Liberty Bond subscribers and for promoting a campaign or enlightening the people. It is proposed to send Liberty Bond speakers to every public meeting. District Attorney C. C. McDonald has already been appointed to speak at Knights Landing this evening; A. G. Bailey, former district attorney, will address an audience at Esparto Sunday evening. Both McDonald and Bailey will discuss Liberty Bonds, Red Cross and Memorial Day topics.

EDITORS, MERCHANTS

TO PROMOTE CAUSE.

The co-operation of every newspaper in Yolo county will be solicited. It is the intention of the committee to ask every advertiser to run this line at the bottom or top of his individual advertisement: "Have You Bought Your Liberty Bonds?" Even the moving picture people of Yolo county will be advised to run a slide bearing the aforementioned slogan. The wrapper of every package sent out by Yolo retail stores will bear the same phrase, if the business men co-operate as they are expected to.

LOCAL BANKS OFFER

LIBERAL PROPORTION.

Banker C. W. Bush announced today that Yolo county banks will advance eighty per cent of the amount desired to be subscribed for, at the low interest rate of three and one-half per cent. "Yolo's $700,000 allotment will be fully subscribed for," predicted Bush today. "To be successful the Liberty Loans must be substantially oversubscribed. The best money source is the idle money now kept in safe deposit boxes or at home. At the same time, the person who has money in his safe deposit box can immeasurably better his position by buying these government bonds. He will receive at least three and one-half per cent on his money, which is not earning anything now for him and he will lose nothing in security."

AS EASY FOR POOR

AS FOR ROCKEFELLERS.

"Another great source is current savings. This applies to the rich and to the poor. It is just as necessary for the person with an income of $3000 a year to subscribe for a share of the Liberty Bonds as for John D. Rockefeller with a supposed income of thirty million dollars a year to take his proportion of the bonds out of his current savings."

BANK DEPOSITS

SURE TO INCREASE.

"When a person buys a Liberty Bond, he is saving a part of his income exactly as if he had deposited the money in a savings bank. He is helping his country, too. No bank will suffer if the depositor transfers at least a little of his savings account into Liberty Bonds. The bank's deposits cannot fail to grow as increased industrial activity results in greater savings of employees."

BUY YOUR LIBERTY

BONDS IMMEDIATELY.

"Subscribe for a Liberty Bond today from the money in your safe deposit box, from your current savings or from your savings account."

Grammar School Band Makes First Appearance In Memorial Day Parade

Woodland's grammar school band may not have any Sousas or Hertzes in its register, but it certainly includes an assembly of young patriots. The boys have had only a few rehearsals together and none of them have taken lessons long enough to play solo parts, but just the same they're going to blow and toot-er-up for further orders on Memorial Day. It will be their first public appearance. Watch for them and there's real Yankee blood coursing through their veins—every one of 'em.

Grand stand seats go with the admission tickets. In addition to that there are fifteen boxes which will be sold at one dollar each and these will be turned over to the fund.

Every indication is that a world's record for the half-mile will be hung up on the opening day of the new half-mile track. The track is in excellent shape and entered in the events tomorrow afternoon are some of the fastest harness horses to be found anywhere.

Additional competition has arisen in the 2:14 trot as "Vallejo King," owned by Ottenger, of San Francisco, is to try for the honors.

The free-for-all pace will see the record lowered for the half-mile, say horsemen and authorities. Entered in this event are Jim Logan, Bold Harry Aerolite, Teddy Bear and Vera Hal. The program for tomorrow starts at 2 o'clock.

A. W. Fox, in charge of the music for Memorial Day announces that there will be another chorus rehearsal at the Community Clubhouse this evening beginning at 7 o'clock. The rehearsal will be terminated in plenty of time for those who intend attending any church services or the Chautauqua or any other place.

He requests that all singers bring along their song books and lots of willingness. Fox stated that wonderful progress was being made by the chorus and that it was his opinion that the residents of Yolo county would be surprised at what singers who reside in Yolo can do.

Draft Registration Lists Are Fast Being Completed

The engagement of registrars who will do the work of registering all the males in Yolo county between 21 and 31 years old on June 5, with the designation of registration booths throughout the county, occupied the attention of H. R. Saunders, county clerk, yesterday. Mr. Saunders has been engaged in the work for the last several days and on account of the magnitude of the details of such a task it probably will require his every spare minute all this week.

The securing and the swearing of the registrars, the time required in talking to the citizens who are willing to volunteer for the work, the superintending of the designation of the great number of registration booths, the hundred other details and the attending to the inevitable change that must be made to the disarrangement of the original plans, requires much time and attention. Mr. Saunders was able to announce most of the registrars and designate practically all of the booths when his office closed last night, but the completed and verified list will not be ready until some time today.

Members of the county council of defense have requested all those who will act as registrars to assemble in the superior court room Memorial Day—next Wednesday—to receive their instructions. From every indication at present practically all the citizens of the entire county who are able will be in Woodland anyhow to attend the Memorial Day exercises.

Craig, his brother-in-law, who was with Allen at Washington, D. C., a few days ago. Allen has been granted a leave of absence from the Associated Press to carry out his new work. He succeeded Herbert Hoover as soon as the latter took charge of the government food commission business. Whether Allen's position will be made permanent has not yet become known.

To Joe Craig, son of City Trustee and Mrs. John S. Craig of Woodland, has come a most unique war souvenir. It is a fac-simile of the "Free Belgium," a newspaper published secretly in Belgium. German officers have been unable to trace the origin of the publication. It is edited by "someone somewhere in unoccupied Belgium." The copy of the famous paper was brought to this country in Ben S. Woodland's company of Home Guards is going to have a bugle, a regulation army bugle that can sound retreat, taps, tattoo, orderly or any other call. The sixty-odd members of the company present at last night's meeting each put enough in the hat for this purpose. The members of the company will in the near future have calls and orders by bugle.

Captain Curson stated today that the company is making an excellent showing and that Woodland's Guards will stand the test with any Home Guard company in the state.

FINE TRIBUTE PAID TO DEPARTED BY CITIZENS OF YOLO COUNTY

Eight Thousand Commemorate Day With Combined Pledge
For Patriotism

Cognizant of the sorrows of days gone by, and aware of the uncertainties of the future, at least 8000 Yolo county citizens Wednesday made the Memorial Day observation in Woodland more commemorative, solemn and impressive than ever before.

ENTIRE COUNTY

IS REPRESENTED.

It was the first time in the history of this county that citizens in every township really suspended their ordinary activities to spend a full day remembering the past and thinking of the future. The entire day was given over to sober reflection on the part played by our dead heroes and of the duty that now confronts us.

PARADE INSPIRES

FERVOR, LOYALTY.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock the parade began its march, led by Marshal of the Day J. W. Monroe. About 2000 persons marched, each carrying a flag. Military organizations, members of the Yolo Red Cross committees, workers for the success of the Liberty Bonds, fraternal organizations, teachers, school children, patriotic citizens and five brass bands formed the procession.

VETERANS, FRIENDS,

HONOR THEIR DEPARTED.

The line of march led through Main street to Municipal Park. At this juncture the military organizations and the Native Sons escorted the Grand Army veterans to the cemetery. Here the venerable warriors took charge of the exercises and paid tribute to the heroes of the past. The Native Sons, too, decorated the graves of departed members of Woodland Parlor. Scores of other citizens were also at the cemetery to do homage to their dead.

EXERCISES WITNESSED

BY GREAT CROWD.

Upon the return of the army veterans and their escorts to the park, Superior Judge Wm. A. Anderson rapped for order and the scheduled musical and literary program was carried through. Chorus singing by the school children and leading vocalists of the county interspersed the speech-making. Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt and Hon. John F. Neylan, the speakers, delivered stirring addresses, the text of which appears elsewhere in this edition.

During the morning exercises, the dedication of the Esparto high school's new flag, by Arthur Neilsen, and the dedication of the Betsy Ross flag for Company F, by Rev. W. E. Bobbitt, were interesting features of the exercises.

At noon many picnic lunches were spread under the beautiful park oaks. Free coffee, cream and sugar were supplied by the Yolo Defense Council, through the special committee in charge.

Dr. H. E. B. Speight's address to the Red Cross and musical numbers occupied the attention of the audience at the park during the afternoon. Speight's address is also published in other columns of this issue of the "Democrat."

AN OUTSTANDING

FEATURE OF THE DAY.

Noticable in yesterday's observation was the presence of so many German-born citizens, who are now "at home" in this country. Their participation in the events was inspiring and awakened the spirit of patriotism all the more in the breasts of native-born Americans.

ONE OF EVERY THREE IN YOLO COUNTY WILL BE CALLED TO COLORS

Approximate Estimates Are That Yolo's Portion to Be Drawn From 1000

Mr. Citizen of Yolo County between the ages of 21 and 31, your chances of military service under conscription are about one in three, or even better, if approximation figures based on estimates of much registration experience may be depended upon.

County officials who have had much experience in registration and who are familiar with the population of Yolo county, estimate that the approximate total registration June 5th, of all eligibles in the county, will not exceed 1750.

ELIGIBLE LIST ONE THOUSAND.

These same officials estimate that the eligible list, with orientals and aliens excluded, will sift down to 1200. From this list, they estimate that there will be approximately 200 exemptions in Yolo county.

The federal military figure under conscription set for Yolo county is 342, practically 28 a month, or one a day. If the approximation figures are dependable, and they are made from much experience, the selection is 342 from a list of 1000 eligibles, or one out of every three. Lessen the eligible list by deducting the number in Company F and those who have volunteered, make a quick mental survey of the number of married young men and those who have dependants and possible exemption excuses, and the single eligible man may make up his mind that his chances are as good as one in three.

DEMAND FOR MEN INCREASES.

This is more especially true as reports from all sources are that volunteer figures are below what military experts state are normal, and are far below what authorities say are necessary for army and navy uses.

Eliminate all features of sentiment, patriotism and personal reasons of whether you do, or do not seek to serve, your chances are at least one in three for service.

REGISTRATION HAS BEGUN.

County Clerk Saunders and his deputies have already begun the registration of eligibles who have their plans so arranged that they will not be in Woodland on June 5. As the head of the registration, Saunders states that any person subject to registration who knows that he will be out of the city that day, had better register now, as failure to register will subject that party to some very unpleasant situations.

Final instructions were given yesterday to all of the registration clerks at a meeting in the superior court rooms. Adjutant General Borren, County Clerk Saunders and C. H. Hildeson went over the things to be done item by item.

WILL USE REGULAR PRECINCT

For the city of Woodland, the customary precinct boundaries and polling places will be in order, and the same conditions will prevail in all parts of the county.

Precincts One, Two, Three, Four, Five and Six have Main street as the southern boundary and Beamer on the north. Their eastern and western divisions are East for One; Fourth for Two; Second for Three; College for Four, with Walnut street as the west boundary of Four, and Cemetery avenue for the west boundary of Five and Six.

REMEMBER YOUR PRECINCT.

Precincts Six, Seven, Eight, have Oak street for a southern boundary; Nine and Ten have Pendegast for a southern boundary and Precinct Eleven has Gibson street for a southern boundary. The north boundary of Six, Seven, Eight is Main street. Nine and Ten have Oak avenue, while the north boundary of Eleven is Pendegast street.

Cemetery avenue is the west boundary for Six; Elm street the west boundary for Seven; Second street the west boundary for Eight; First street the west boundary for Nine; Cemetery avenue the west boundary for Ten; as well as Eleven.

The eastern boundary for Eleven is East street; First street for Ten; City limit line for Eight and Seven; and Second street is the east boundary for Seven.

WE MUST BE READY TO SACRIFICE

Woodland Daily Democrat, May 31, 1917. Memorial Day Exercises
Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt Tells of Progress of Our Democracy

Outburst of Applause Greets Remarks of President of Mills College As She Declares Spirit of Our Forefathers Should Predominate Now

IN THE SAME SPIRIT THAT INSPIRED THE FATHERS OF OUR COUNTRY, WE, TOO, SHOULD GIVE OUR HEARTS AND HANDS FOR THE TRIUMPH AND PRESERVATION OF DEMOCRACY. Tersely stated, such was the text of the splendid address given by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt at the Memorial Day exercises in Woodland Wednesday.

REVIEWS PROGRESS OF DEMOCRACY.

The scholarly president of Mills College discussed in a masterly manner "The Progress of Democracy." She was listened to with great attention. The large concourse of patriotic citizens seeming to analyze every word of her most commendable address. Dr. Reinhardt said:

"The American people are a race whose founding was a great adventure and whose life has been a great toil. The first three centuries of its history are marked by the conquest of a continent; a progress more swift in its advance, more complete in its accomplishment than any people has as yet achieved. From external interests to the transforming of its political and social relations, the democracy has now turned.

WHAT MILESTONES MARK ADVANCE OF DEMOCRACY.

"But what, in these three centuries of history, are the milestones by which we mark the democratic advance? IS IT TRUE, AS SOME CYNICAL CITIZENS ASSERT, THAT THE DEMOCRACY OF THE 20TH CENTURY IS LESS COMPLETE THAN THE DEMOCRACY OF THE 18TH CENTURY? In 1776 were the makers of the Declaration of Independence, worthy men who fought the Revolution, or the men who fashioned the Constitution, clearer in their vision than the men in the 20th century, who stand for public right and justice in its various interpretations?

DEMOCRACY IMPROVES IN NATURAL ORDER.

"In the 19th century, an important scientific discovery was made; so important a discovery that it has revolutionized thinking in every department of life. Up to the age of Darwin, men thought of the world as a condition in which human beings lived; an imperfect condition shadowing forth the perfect days of Eden. Those who wrote history always emphasized the fact of 'the good old days.' The Greeks, in their poetry and song, sang always of the 'golden age' in pre-historic ages, and considered the age of the poets an age of iron or an age of brass. BUT DARWIN, THE ENGLISH SCIENTIST, SHOWED WITH PROOF UPON PROOF THAT THE KINGDOMS OF LIVING CREATURES IMPROVED FROM AGE TO AGE; THAT EVOLUTION FROM LOWER FORMS TO HIGHER FORMS, IS THE ORDER OF GOD'S CREATION, AND SO IT IS WITH AMERICAN DEMOCRACY.

SPIRIT OF FREEDOM PERVADES ENGLISH COLONISTS

"The animating spirit of those brave English folk who founded the early colonies in New England, was the belief in individual right to religious freedom. For a century and a half, with privation, with loneliness, with imperfect equipment, they strove to found towns and farms, safe from interference, where religious freedom was the recognized right.

REVOLUTION FOUGHT FOR INDEPENDENCE.

"In the years just preceding the Revolution, a second right grew clearer and clearer in the minds of the founders; the right to political, or shall we say, governmental independence.

This claim touched the mother country, so nearly depriving her of revenue, of authority, that the only possible ground on which the claim could be fought out, was the ground of war; and through the tragic, bloody years of the Revolution, with the idea of governmental independence prompting them, the only compensation offered for suffering and death, was the dawning ideal of democracy understood by these worlds. With the close of the Revolution, the second step in American democracy had been taken.

NATIONAL, STATE GOVERNMENTS FORMED.

"But a third and more difficult one was hesitatingly attempted in the years that lie between 1783 and 1789. Governmental independence had not analyzed the relation of the individual to the different types of government—the vided into two camps, to fight out on that never-to-be-forgotten field, the right of every race, disregarding color, to the privileges of democracy.

DEMOCRACY RESULT OF MANY SACRIFICES.

"We in California are fortunate that there still remain with us men whose unselfish effort and sacrifice, brought about the final triumph of true democracy. While they are living, none of us can forget the testing period of human right that marked the sixth decade of the 19th century. In Lincoln's unforgettable words: 'FOUR SCORE AND SEVEN YEARS AGO OUR FATHERS BROUGHT FORTH ON THIS CONTINENT A NEW NATION, CONCEIVED IN LIBERTY, AND DEDICATED TO THE PROPOSITION THAT ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL.'"

CONDITIONS INTOLERABLE IN EARLY DAYS.

"The men who fought in the '60s should have been proud to remember for how much greater a democracy they fought than the fathers in the days of the Revolution. For in that earlier day not only was slavery a matter of fact, but in such a state as Virginia twenty-seven crimes were punished by death; in other colonies in the Union, men were imprisoned for debt; in no colony was suffrage granted, except for white men who owned at least fifty acres of land; men who were laborers, or mechanics, or connected with other than agricultural and business pursuits, were not real citizens in the democ-

CITIZENS, REALIZING THE WORTH OF DEMOCRACY IN THE WORLD, ARE WILLING TO GIVE THEIR HEARTS AND THEIR HANDS TO THE WORK OF ITS PRESERVATION.

UPWARD, ONWARD WE MUST MOVE.

"Shall we—you and I—carry on government to that point which vision inspired the fathers of country? To us, with a truth more emphatic than ever before, in our nation's history, comes the challenge Lowell's words:

"New occasions teach new duties. Time shows ancient good uncouth. We must upward, still, and onward. If we keep abreast of Truth. Low! before us gleam our camps—fire! We, ourselves, must pilgrims be, Launch our 'Mayflowers' and steer boldly Through the desperate winter sea!"

PROGRESS AFTER CIVIL WAR.

In the fifteen years following the civil war—a period analogous to the period succeeding the Revolution—once more was necessary the readjustment which related the individual to his state, and to the nation; and following that has been the period in which, as Americans, we feel that the most unique successes of democracy have been achieved; the making of education free to all; the opening of all schools to women; the opening of all occupations and professions to women, and their political recognition in thirteen of the states; the growing recognition of the right of every citizen to health, and the effort of the government to insure such health to its citizens; the prison reform which recognizes the function of the prison as less a place of incarceration than a place where the criminal has a chance to become a normal human being; the recognition of the right of all people to leisure, proven by the eight hour law and the minimum wage.

IMMIGRANTS PRESENT DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

"Perhaps, the most difficult task is the amalgamation of the millions of immigrants, who have, since 1882, pushed in in unnumbered crowds, to the shores of a country which promises them life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

PRESENT GREATEST ERA IN HISTORY.

"A democracy is that order in the state which permits each individual to put forth his utmost effort; but LET US NOT FORGET THAT THE MANNA SENT TO THE ISRAELITES ON THEIR JOURNEY TO CAANAN MUST BE GATHERED DAILY, OR IT IS ROTTEN. We are living in the greatest period of American history in the most trying time of the republic's growth. Our battles have not all been fought by those who laid down their lives at Bunker Hill or Gettysburg. OUR DEMOCRACY WILL ENDURE JUST SO LONG AS ITS

the town meeting, the visible state and the work of WASHINGTON OF ADAMS, OF JEFFERSON, AND CALIFORNIA CAN NEVER SHOW GRATITUDE ENOUGH; FOR IT WAS FROM THE CLEAR THINKING OF THESE MEN, THEIR UNSELFISH ABANDON TO THE STUPENDOUS TASK, THAT THERE ISSUED THE THIRD FORWARD MOVEMENT IN AMERICAN DEMOCRACY, THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE NATIONAL AND STATE GOVERNMENTS.

PEOPLE FREED, BECAUSE ARTISTIC CREATORS.

"The fourth step would have been impossible without the other three. It is an assertion of mental independence by American citizens and leaders how a people set free from unfair trammels, allowed to express their individuality, may become creators in the realm of the arts. Irving, beholding the beauty of the Hudson and the Catskills, has put into unforgettable form, the beauties of the land he loved. Cooper, inspired by the unique characteristics of Indian civilization, and the contact of the white race with its red brother, became the first novelist of America and American conditions. Emerson, thundering forth his splendid orations on American Scholarship, was the first of that group of Cambridge men for whose beauty of life, clearness of thought, elevation of character, our country can never be sufficiently thankful. Edward Everett, president of Harvard, the first historians, Bancroft, Prescott and the rest, were all pioneers in the mental life and endeavor. Bryant we bow to, as the first American who thought in the measure of rhythm, of poetry,

SLAVERY MENACES VITALS OF NATION

"The fifth step in American democracy—was harder to achieve than any that had preceded it. It marked the testing of the constitution; a constitution which meaning sincerely to be democratic, was marked by the limitations of its age, and accepted as slaves one-sixth of its total population. THIS CANKER OF WRONG ATE AT THE VITALS OF THE NATION, AND THE DEMOCRACY MET ITS FIRST FAILURE IN ITS ABILITY TO COPE WITH ITS OWN SELF-CREATED CONDITIONS. In the halls of congress, in the state legislatures, in the pulpits, and on the bench, the battle of tongues was waged for decades between the citizens of the democracy divided

IT'S A CASE OF PRODUCTION OR DESTRUCTION.

Amidst the excitement of these days it will be well if we give attention to the voice of wisdom.

Patriotism is one of the greatest virtues. But patriotism is not always armed with a rifle, neither is its possessor always a target for a bullet. That this is peculiarly the case just at this time is brought forcibly to our minds when we begin to soberly study our condition.

When a state of war was declared by congress this country was already facing exorbitant food prices, and on top of that comes the discouraging prediction of a fifty million bushel shortage in the 1917 wheat crop. We are also threatened with a shortage in the potato crop, due to the almost prohibitive price of the seed.

Again, bear in mind that it is the purpose to lend every possible support to the allies, and if this policy is followed there will be very little falling off in exports.

President Wilson has said that he does not want to disturb the industries of the country where it can possibly be avoided. Nevertheless, enlistments are sure to disturb them to a considerable extent, especially the agricultural interests, from which field recruits are always largely drawn in warfare.

Hence the importance of the food problem looms even greater than that of fighting, and the man behind the gun.

Thousands of farmers in this country have for years followed a policy of limiting production. This has come about gradually and from various causes. The scarcity of help was one cause, but the greatest has been the low prices heretofore prevailing for farm products. The latter, however, is at an end, and the policy of curtailment should be abandoned. In fact, our plain duty now is to provide food for the nation, as this is the foundation of all preparedness. Men and guns are powerless without it.

Spring planting is just opening up over much of the country, and the truth should be forcibly driven home to every person who owns a portion of the soil that it is his bounden duty in this emergency to make that soil produce to the limit of its capacity. The Almighty has blessed us with a fair land and a wonderfully productive one. We are facing a struggle that may tax our resources and our strength to the utmost. We will be criminally negligent if we relax in the least our efforts in food production.

And this applies to others besides the farmer and the gardener. The bankers and merchants, business men of all lines, by standing shoulder to shoulder with the actual tillers of the soil, lending their help in whatever way it is needed, can advance the cause wonderfully. Many farmers, especially the smaller ones and the renters, will need assistance. This should be forthcoming—not primarily for the sake of the individual, but that he may be a unit in swelling our national production.

Let us all bear in mind that in the eventful year of 1917 PRODUCTION will be as truly patriotic as DESTRUCTION.

The man behind the plow will be as truly the savior of his country as the man behind the gun.

Our duty calls to us in clarion tones. Let us face it without an instant of hesitation.

Let EVERYBODY produce SOMETHING.

The Davis Bachelor Girls met last Saturday with Mrs. Gordon Anderson and did a handsome thing in voting $25 out of their treasury to the Red Cross work.

Much Credit Is Due Executives And Committee For Day's Success

H. J. Anderson

Much credit is due Judge W. A. Anderson, chairman of the Yolo county Council of Defense, and Sheriff J. W. Monroe, for the success of Wednesday's Memorial Day exercises.

As chairman of the Defense Council Anderson attended to the executive work of arranging a celebration of such magnitude as the one Wednesday, at which Yolo county paid a tribute to the flag, to the departed heroes and showed her feeling of patriotism and preparedness.

To Sheriff J. W. Monroe, who acted as marshal of the day, goes the credit of starting the parade practically on the dot, and having it go off without a hitch. Monroe also arranged many preliminary details.

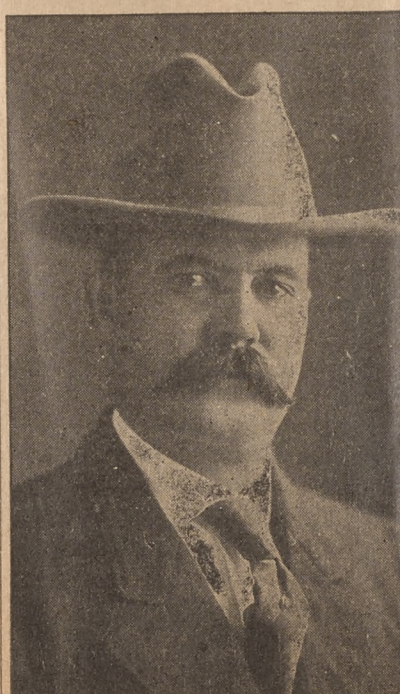

Automobiles were kept from Main street and the park, and there were no serious mishaps.

To Anderson and Monroe and all the committee members working under their direction, credit is due for the observation of the day in a manner like of which has not been equal in Yolo county in many years.

Every supervisor was on the job and at the service of the Defense Council night and day. The ladies of the Red Cross and the members of the various choral clubs about the county, too, deserve credit for invaluable assistance. The bands of the county responded nobly with their musical services.

All of the county and city officers were on the alert. Marshal Packer had the city's "forbidden streets" roped off early in the day and he and Constable Clover, together with the special deputies, played no favorites in enforcing the rules.

School teachers, trustees and patrons throughout the county conformed to the plans of the defense council, working tirelessly to make the students' division one of the big features of the pageant. The kidsters' chorus singing also showed the results of much training.

TROUBLE ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED.

it is Captain Lawson For Next Year's Team

Walter Lawson will captain the 1917-18 rugby team of the Woodland high school, his selection being made unanimously at the annual banquet of footballers held in the Christian church basement Tuesday evening. The school's best forward was nominated by Edmond Lowe. Nominations were closed, upon a motion of Leonard Wooster, after which it was "up" to "Wallie" to make a speech. He did so in much the same manner that he performs on the rugby field, with "punch" and "action." "Much obliged; I'm no speech-maker, but I'll do the best I can to lead a winning football team next season," he said, gasping for breath as he found his chair two-thousand leagues under or so and modestly ducked his head behind a post. Right now let it be understood that "Wallie" is "forward" only on a rugby gridiron.

All of this happened after this year's rugbys had dribbled—there was little "passing"—their way through a chicken dinner, finely prepared by Mesdames W. H. Gregory and W. E. Bobbitt and neatly served by Misses Clare Lowe, Isabelle Woods and Zella

My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretions were highly colored. I used about Doan's Kidney Pills and had three boxes. They cured me. The backache left and my kidneys became normal."

Work and Aims of Red Cross Are Set Out By Dr. Speight

"The imperative, the vital need of the Red Cross is funds for the purchase of supplies. At places on the European battlefields the lack of supplies is so pressing that it is necessary to use old newspapers for surgical dressings."

The foregoing statement was made during the address of Dr. H. E. B. Speight, speaker at the city park on the subject, "The American Red Cross," on the afternoon program.

"Sufficient supplies for the American troops have been accumulated for the first three months of the war," Dr. Speight stated. "When these supplies are exhausted, it is not possible to replace them in one week, two weeks or two months," he said, in making an appeal for universal membership in the organization.

VOLUNTEERS LATER.

"Red Cross nurses are graduate nurses and registered in their home states. Young women, no matter how fine of physique and how pretty, will not be called on as nurses because they are members.

Judge Anderson, in presenting Dr. Speight, and in a brief eulogy of the Red Cross society, stated briefly some of the purposes and aims of the organization which were not alluded upon by the speaker at the afternoon. Though having the custody and expenditure of vast sums of money not the lightest whisper of scandal has ever been aimed at those in charge, Judge Anderson said. All connected with the Red Cross are actuated solely by the highest and the most altruistic motives.

FOR ANY DISTRESS

Judge Anderson made it clear that any disaster, anywhere, great or small, where outside aid is needed, finds an immediate, intelligent and efficient response from the Red Cross. Its mighty energies to aid, to heal and to save are not confined to war alone. As an instance of this he cited the nation-numbing disaster so recently engraved indelibly on the minds of the people of California and the west—the San Francisco fire.

Much pleasure and the spirit of deeper significance were added to the afternoon's program by the singing of Miss Mable Philliber of Davis, and the patriotic and martial selections by the Winters band. In opening the afternoon's exercises, Miss Philliber, in her clear, sweet voice, sang "My Own United States" and the band rendered "The Star-Spangled Banner." Miss Philliber also led the assembly in the national anthem, "America."

GIVES RED CROSS HISTORY

Dr. Speight, a forceful, magnetic and sincere speaker, touched briefly upon the terrible conditions obtaining in warfare in primitive and ancient times, when the object was not only to defeat the enemy, but to annihilate him and his noncombattant woman and child. He traced the improvement for humanity which had its inception in the middle ages. But not until early in the last century was any adequate attempt made to alleviate the sufferings of the victims of war.

Science and humanity have gone hand in hand, Dr. Speight showed. In giving the history of the Red Cross the speaker outlined the circumstances of the message sent from the front in Crimea and given to the British nation by the London Times during the Russian and British struggle. He touched briefly on the start for the front of the first twenty-six Red Cross nurses, led by the immortal Florence Nightengale.

In 1863 the first conference, in which fourteen nations participated, was held in Switzerland and the next year the Red Cross treaty, providing for the immunity of its workers, was signed. America did not sign the agreement until 1881, when the association was formed in this country. The new organization soon was put to the test by the forest fires in Michigan and the devastating floods of the Mississippi valley.

During the Spanish-American war, Dr. Speight stated, the work was retarded and hindered by a regrettable overlapping of effort and poor co-ordination. In 1905 congress chartered the American National Red Cross. The Red Cross does relief work in the emergencies of peace and war. It not only goes out of its way to relieve, but to prevent suffering, instanced in its campaign of education in accident prevention among miners, lumbermen and railroad men.

ALL SHOULD JOIN.

"But what is the use of trained workers if the equipment necessary to their work is lacking for the need of funds?" Dr. Speight asked. "The Red Cross is seeking one hundred million dollars for the war relief fund. This may seem a huge sum but one country alone, its industries disorganized and many of its sources of revenue paralyzed by war, its people forced to spend vast sums in the conflict and in financing its allies—England—has raised two hundred million for relief in Belgium alone.

MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED; CROWDS GATHER TO TAKE PART IN RITES

Throngs from All Parts of County Aid Woodland Citizens in Honoring Dead And Displaying Patriotic Fervor in Present Crisis of the Nation

A DAY of patriotic fervor, visualized by a spectacular pageant was the result of the devoted energy of the county council of defense, assisted by other forces within the county when at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning Marshal James Monroe and his aides brought their divisions of marching humanity in formation and led the way toward the city cemetery, where the solemn rites of remembrance were to be performed according to the ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic.

It was a county wide assembly. Estimates vary, but it is surely within the proper limit to say that not less than twelve thousand people were gathered at the county seat to participate in the patriotic services outlined in the program.

Not less than three thousand were in the line of march, being, no doubt, the largest number ever in a parade in this county. The head of the column had arrived at the city park—the point where the school children were to fall out—before the last division on lower Main street had even begun the march.

Music Chairman Thanks Public

A. W. Fox Appreciates Work of the Bands in Memorial Day Success.

As an aftermath of the patriotic demonstration in this city yesterday W. Fox, who had charge of preparing for all the music, wishes to express his thanks to all those who aided in any way in making the music one of the features of the day.

This expression of thanks goes to the bands of Woodland, Winters, Davis and Knights Landing, all of them giving their services free of charge.

PARADE SETS RECORD

There would be little hope of doing justice to that parade if considered in detail as there was so much of it that it would be an impossible task. As a whole it may be said in the words of one of the council of defense, "We knew that Yolo county would respond in full numbers and in enthusiasm to our request, but we are overwhelmed at the actual result."

The schools of the county were represented by hundreds—many hundreds, of Young America. Naturally the larger part came from this city, the center of population, but it must not be forgotten that Esparto, Knights Landing, Winters, Davis, Madison and other school sections came in bodies. Special features were in evidence all along the line, from the high school youths and kindergarteners. The little boys "did their bit" like the little girls, and Mr. Snow reason to feel proud of the work he has so successfully accomplished with his boys. The Woodland Guard made its first public appearance, some seventy-five strong, and while some of them were foot wear at the end of the long march, they showed a sturdy willingness to go where duty might call at any time and under any circumstances.

FRATERNITIES RESPOND.

The fraternal orders also responded splendidly. Practically all the orders of the city were represented in line, not under the fraternal banners, but marching under the Stars and Stripes to martial music. The Herman Sons, a German-American organization, was one of the strongest numerically in the line of march. The Red Cross was also well represented, and the injunction to "Buy a Liberty Bond" was the only banner permitted in the parade, it being carried aloft by Banker C. Bysh, chairman of the county committee. Of citizens there seemed to be no end. The street was literally full of them as they lined up in marching order; but at that there were some who held a place at the line of march who would better taken a place shoulder to shoulder with the marchers, who were silently signifying their willingness to respond to any call made upon them in this time of war.

Dr. Reinhardt and Neyland Stir Their Great Audience

Following the usual memorial services at the cemetery the military section counter-marched to the city park, where the other divisions awaited their coming. Here were assembled several thousand people. Music by the bands of Woodland, Winters, Davis and Knights Landing, choruses by the school children and by the vast throng, created a scene that cannot be described but must be seen and participated in to be understood.

Judge Anderson presided. He first introduced Arthur Neilson, who made a speech dedicatory of a new flag for the Esparto school district, and entrusting it to the loving care of the students of that section of the county.

FLAG FOR COMPANY F

Rev. W. E. Bobbitt performed a like service for the flag recently made for Company F by the Betsy Ross club of this city. Two of the members of the company, now on duty "somewhere in California," were here specially to receive the emblem of liberty. Both dedication services were very prettily carried out.

Judge Anderson then introduced Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills college, as the principal speaker of the day. Dr. Reinhardt is classed as one of the leading educators of the country and made a powerful appeal to the audience to preserve the tenets of democracy, to do individual duty to the country in times of war and in times of peace, to remember the injunctions of the fathers of the country and not to falter in devotion to liberty, justice and right. The oration is one which will long be remembered by all who heard it.

SHOULD STAND BY FLAG.

John Francis Neylan, president of the state board of control, was the concluding speaker. He also made a splendid, patriotic address, couched in inspiring words. In earnest manner Mr. Neylan abjured his auditors to stand by the flag under all circumstances and not to permit the least blot to tarnish its fair fame through any lack of individual effort. His address, like that of his predecessor, was greatly enjoyed.

The great audience closed the morning services by joining in singing "America," and the thunderous tones could be heard all over the city.

THANKS TO WOMEN'S CLUBS

The meeting at the city park yesterday recalls a bit of past history. Those who have lived here for a number of years will remember the devoted work of the Woman's Improvement club of those years; how they worked, toiled and we think prayed for the funds to purchase the site and present it to the city. We remember how one obstacle after another was placed in their path, how they persevered in the face of every divergent force, and of how, finally, they crowned their efforts with success.

Among those who devoted months of their time to the task set for themselves were Mrs. T. S. Spaulding, Mrs. W. P. Craig, the Misses Annie and Carrie Blowers and others not recalled just at the moment.

In A. D. Porter these ladies had a strong backer, both financially and influentially. The wisdom of these women was demonstrated yesterday when the great throng sat and stood under the shade of the towering oaks in one of the prettiest little parks in the state.

DEFENSE COUNCIL TO DECIDE

staken Idea About Farmer
Being Exempt; Some May
Be and Some May Not

To determine just what claims of exemption are just; and to determine who is subject to exemption under conscription law is the task which confront members of the Yolo County Council of Defense, beginning Tuesday morning. This decision is made by nine men as follows: George W. A. Anderson of Woodland, General Archer of Madison, C. Q. Nelson, William Gould, J. W. Monroe, H. Saunders, C. C. McDonald, Niles and J. S. Scott of Woodland. "MARRIAGE DOESN'T EXEMPT." Careful perusal of exemption laws, which follow, will correct the ideas of what constitutes exemption from military service.

ALL FARMERS NOT EXEMPT.

There is an idea prevailing that all agriculturists are exempt. This is a mistaken idea. One engaged in agricultural pursuits may have things in his favor, but this alone will not exempt him. It will be up to the Defense Council to determine. As an illustration, a farmer's son who is engaged in raising alfalfa would stand a chance of being drafted than the farmer whose son was engaged in aiding to raise barley, wheat or a crop of a food nature.

CIVIL DISABILITY EXEMPTS.
The married man clause, the law may be drawn if the family has other source of support. Civil disability is another exemption clause.

The decision of the county council of defense is not final on exemption cases. This board acts upon the recommendations, and makes their recommendations to the State Council of Defense and then to the adjutant general and higher military tribunals. The appeal and highest tribunal of all is the president of the United States.

DETAILS BEING ARRANGED.

Washington, D. C., regulations to exemption under the selective law are being worked out by Provost Marshal General Crowder with a number of prominent lawyers. Although plans are not complete it is probable that the jury wheel system will be used in selecting those who are to go into the first army of 500,000 and the names have been drawn from the registration district has proportioned to it, exemptions be considered. As individual drawn reports, his exemption will be passed on if he is exempted another drawn to fill the vacancy. No Other County In Nation
Shows $50 Per Capita
At Present Time

Yolo county will have the honor of contributing a larger per capita proportion to the Liberty Bond issue than any other county in the United States with corresponding population. The proportion of each county is based upon a ten per cent estimate of the bank deposits.

YOLO'S WEALTH
OVER TWICE AVERAGE.

According to deductions made by Secretary Shaffer of the Yolo county Board of Trade today, Yolo county will be asked to purchase $700,000 worth of Liberty Bonds on a basis of 10 per cent of a seven million dollar bank deposit. Estimating the population of the county at 14,000 this would be at the rate of $50 per capita. Taking the total population of the United States to be 100,000,000 the average per capita to raise the $2,000,000,000 total would be $20 per capita. This means that the per capita wealth of Yolo county, as placed against the average in the United States is two and one-half times in excess of this average.

"Yolo county can congratulate herself upon her extra power to assist in the crisis," said Shaffer this morning, "and from present indications the banks and the people will rally loyally and raise the amount required in a very short period of time.

Work and Aims of Red Cross Are Set Out By Dr. Speight

"The imperative, the vital need of the Red Cross is funds for the purchase of supplies. At places on the European battlefields the lack of supplies is so pressing that it is necessary to use old newspapers for surgical dressings."

The foregoing statement was made during the address of Dr. H. E. B. Speight, speaker at the city park on the subject, "The American Red Cross," on the afternoon program.

"Sufficient supplies for the American troops have been accumulated for the first three months of the war," Dr. Speight stated. "When these supplies are exhausted, it is not possible to replace them in one week, two weeks or two months," he said, in making an appeal for universal membership in the organization.

VOLUNTEERS LATER.

"Red Cross nurses are graduate nurses and registered in their home states. Young women, no matter how fine of physique and how pretty, will not be called on as nurses because they are members."

Judge Anderson, in presenting Dr. Speight, and in a brief eulogy of the Red Cross society, stated briefly some of the purposes and aims of the organization which were not acted upon by the speaker at the afternoon. Though having the custody and expenditure of vast sums of money not the lightest whisper of scandal has ever been aimed at those in charge, Judge Anderson said. All connected with the Red Cross are actuated solely by the highest and the most altruistic motives.

FOR ANY DISTRESS

Judge Anderson made it clear that any disaster, anywhere, great or small, where outside aid is needed, finds an immediate, intelligent and efficient response from the Red Cross. Its mighty energies to aid, to heal and to save are not confined to war alone. As an instance of this he cited the nation-numbing disaster so recently engraved indelibly on the minds of the people of California and the west—the San Francisco fire.

Much pleasure and the spirit of deeper significance were added to the afternoon's program by the singing of Miss Mable Philliber of Davis, and the patriotic and martial selections by the Winters band. In opening the afternoon's exercises, Miss Philliber, in her clear, sweet voice, sang "My Own United States" and the band rendered "The Star-Spangled Banner." Miss Philliber also led the assembly in the national anthem, "America."

GIVES RED CROSS HISTORY

Dr. Speight, a forceful, magnetic and sincere speaker, touched briefly upon the terrible conditions obtaining in warfare in primitive and ancient times, when the object was not only to defeat the enemy, but to annihilate him and his noncombatant woman and child. He traced the improvement for humanity which had its inception in the middle ages. But not until early in the last century was any adequate attempt made to alleviate the sufferings of the victims of war.

Science and humanity have gone hand in hand, Dr. Speight showed. In giving the history of the Red Cross the speaker outlined the circumstances of the message sent from the front in Crimea and given to the British nation by the London Times during the Russian and British struggle. He touched briefly on the start for the front of the first twenty-six Red Cross nurses, led by the immortal Florence Nightingale.

In 1863 the first conference, in which fourteen nations participated, was held in Switzerland and the next year the Red Cross treaty, providing for the immunity of its workers, was signed. America did not sign the agreement until 1881, when the association was formed in this country. The new organization soon was put to the test by the forest fires in Michigan and the devastating floods of the Mississippi valley.

During the Spanish-American war, Dr. Speight stated, the work was retarded and hindered by a regrettable overlapping of effort and poor co-ordination. In 1905 congress chartered the American National Red Cross. The Red Cross does relief work in the emergencies of peace and war. It not only goes out of its way to relieve, but to prevent suffering, instanced in its campaign of education in accident prevention among miners, lumbermen and railroad men.

ALL SHOULD JOIN.

"But what is the use of trained workers if the equipment necessary to their work is lacking for the need of funds?" Dr. Speight asked. "The Red Cross is seeking one hundred million dollars for the war relief fund. This may seem a huge sum but one country alone, its industries disorganized and many of its sources of revenue paralyzed by war, its people forced to spend vast sums in the conflict and in financing its allies—England—has raised two hundred million for relief in Belgium alone. Japan has a Red Cross—"

MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED; CROWDS GATHER TO TAKE PART IN RITES

Throngs from All Parts of County Aid Woodland Citizens in Honoring Dead And Displaying Patriotic Fervor in Present Crisis of the Nation

A DAY of patriotic fervor, visualized by a spectacular pageant was the result of the devoted energy of the county council of defense, assisted by other forces within the county when at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning Marshal James Monroe and his aides brought their divisions of marching humanity in formation and led the way toward the city cemetery, where the solemn rites of remembrance were to be performed according to the ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic.

It was a county wide assembly. Estimates vary, but it is surely within the proper limit to say that not less than twelve thousand people were gathered at the county seat to participate in the patriotic services outlined in the program.

Not less than three thousand were in the line of march, being, no doubt, the largest number ever in a parade in this county. The head of the column had arrived at the city park—the point where the school children were to fall out—before the last division on lower Main street had even began the march.

Music Chairman Thanks Public

A. W. Fox Appreciates Work of the Bands in Memorial Day Success.

As an aftermath of the patriotic demonstration in this city yesterday A. W. Fox, who had charge of preparing for all the music, wishes to express his thanks to all those who aided in any way in making the music one of the features of the day.

This expression of thanks goes to the bands of Woodland, Winters, Davis and Knights Landing, all of them giving their services free of charge.

PARADE SETS RECORD

There would be little hope of doing justice to that parade if considered in detail as there was so much of it that it would be an impossible task. As a whole it may be said in the words of one of the council of defense, "We knew that Yolo county would respond in full numbers and in enthusiasm to our request, but we are overwhelmed at the actual result."

The schools of the county were represented by hundreds—many hundreds, of Young America. Naturally the larger part came from this city, the center of population, but it must not be forgotten that Esparto, Knights Landing, Winters, Davis, Madison and other school sections came in bodies. Special features were in evidence all along the line, from the high school youths and their kindergarteners, to the little tots, like the little girls of the Snow and Mr. Snow.

Season to feel proud of the work he has so successfully accomplished with his boys. The Woodland High Guard made its first public appearance, some seventy-five strong, and while some of them were foot wear at the end of the long march, they showed a sturdy willingness to go where duty might call at any time and under any circumstances.

FRATERNITIES RESPOND.

The fraternal orders also responded splendidly. Practically all the orders of the city were represented in line, not under the fraternal banners, but marching under the Stars and Stripes to martial music. The Herman Sons, a German-American organization, was one of the strongest numerically in the line of march. The Red Cross was also well represented, and the injunction to "Form a Liberty Bond" was the only banner permitted in the parade, being carried aloft by Banker C. Bush, chairman of the county committee. Of citizens there seemed to be no end. The street was literally full of them as they lined up in marching order; but at that time there were some who held a place at the line of march who would better taken a place shoulder to shoulder with the marchers, who were silently signifying their willingness to respond to any call made upon them in this time of war.

Dr. Reinhardt and Neyland Stir Their Great Audience

Following the usual memorial services at the cemetery the military section counter-marched to the city park, where the other divisions awaited their coming. Here were assembled several thousand people. Music by the bands of Woodland, Winters, Davis and Knights Landing, choruses by the school children and by the vast throng, created a scene that cannot be described but must be seen and participated in to be understood.

Judge Anderson presided. He first introduced Arthur Neilson, who made a speech dedicatory of a new flag for the Esparto school district, and intrusting it to the loving care of the students of that section of the county.

FLAG FOR COMPANY F

Rev. W. E. Bobbitt performed a like service for the flag recently made for Company F by the Betsy Ross club of this city. Two of the members of the company, now on duty "somewhere in California," were here specially to receive the emblem of liberty. Both dedication services were very prettily carried out.

Judge Anderson then introduced Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills college, as the principal speaker of the day. Dr. Reinhardt is classed as one of the leading educators of the country and made a powerful appeal to the audience to preserve the tenets of democracy, to do individual duty to the country in times of war and in times of peace, to remember the injunctions of the fathers of the country and not to falter in devotion to liberty, justice and right. The oration is one which will long be remembered by all who heard it.

SHOULD STAND BY FLAG.

John Francis Neylan, president of the state board of control, was the concluding speaker. He also made a splendid, patriotic address, couched in inspiring words. In earnest manner Mr. Neylan abjured his auditors to stand by the flag under all circumstances and not to permit the least blot to tarnish its fair fame through any lack of individual effort. His address, like that of his predecessor, was greatly enjoyed.

The great audience closed the morning services by joining in singing "America," and the thunderous tones could be heard all over the city.

THANKS TO WOMEN'S CLUBS

The meeting at the city park yesterday recalls a bit of past history. Those who have lived here for a number of years will remember the devoted work of the Woman's Improvement club of those years; how they worked, toiled and we think prayed for the funds to purchase the site and present it to the city. We remember how one obstacle after another was placed in their path, how they persevered in the face of every divergent force, and of how, finally, they crowned their efforts with success.

Among those who devoted months of their time to the task set for themselves were Mrs. T. S. Spaulding, Mrs. W. P. Craig, the Misses Annie and Carrie Blowers and others not recalled just at the moment.

In A. D. Porter these ladies had a strong backer, both financially and influentially. The wisdom of these women was demonstrated yesterday when the great throng sat and stood under the shade of the towering oaks in one of the prettiest little parks in the state.

MARRIAGE DOES NOT EXEMPT ANY FROM DRAFT

Family Has Some Other

band May Be Drafted

DEFENSE COUNCIL TO DECIDE

staken Idea About Farmer
Being Exempt; Some May
Be and Some May Not

to determine just what claims of exemption are just; and to determine who is subject to exemption under conscription law is the task which confront members of the Yolo

County Council of Defense, beginning Tuesday morning. This decision is to be made by nine men as follows:
George W. A. Anderson of Woodland, General Archer of Madison, C. Q. Nelson, William Gould, J. W. Monroe, H.
Saunders, C. C. McDonald, Niles Pis and J. S. Scott of Woodland.

"MARRIAGE DOESN'T EXEMPT." Careful perusal of exemption laws, which follow, will correct the ideas of what constitutes exemption from military service.

ALL FARMERS NOT EXEMPT.

There is an idea prevailing that all cultivators are exempt. This is a mistaken idea. One engaged in agricultural pursuits may have things in favor, but this alone will not exempt him. It will be up to the Defense Council to determine. As an illustration, a farmer's son who is engaged in raising alfalfa would stand a chance of being drafted than the farmer whose son was engaged in aiding to raise barley, wheat or a crop of food nature.

LOCAL DISABILITY EXEMPTS.

Under the married man clause, the farmer may be drawn if the family has no other source of support.
Physical disability is another exemption clause.

The decision of the county council of defense is not final on exemption matters. This board acts upon the recommendations, and makes their recommendations to the State Council of Defense, and then to the adjutant general of higher military tribunals. The appeal and highest tribunal of all is the president of the United States.

DETAILS BEING ARRANGED.

Washington, D. C., regulations to grant exemption under the selective draft are being worked out by Provost Marshal General Crowder with a number of prominent lawyers. Although plans are not complete it is probable that the jury wheel system will be used in selecting those who are to go into the first army of 500,000 and that the names have been drawn by registration district has proportioned to it, exemptions be considered. As individual drawn reports, his exemption will be passed if he is exempted another drawn to fill the vacancy.

Reported intention of men above age to register, "is a mistake of patriotism," announces General Crowder, "and it will only result in confusion. All registrars are instructed to accept only cards from men between the ages of 21 and 30, not necessarily be excluded from the draft because they are General Crowder explained today those whose dependents are solely on them for support are exempted," he said, "and all married men between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive, must register or not they purpose to be exempted.

Establishing the selective draft gives the president to exempt from the draft status with respect to personal exemption or disability. The census estimates that almost half the men in the draft are married and exemption of married men is therefore inadvisable."

YOLO SUPERVISORS TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS FOR COUNTY

No Dissenting Vote On A Motion To Purchase $30,000 Worth

Without a dissenting voice, Yolo county's supervisors voted today to purchase $30,000 worth of Liberty Bonds from the United States government.

Considering the loan as a secure investment for Yolo county, the board had no hesitancy in subscribing and the motion to that effect was carried through in quick order.

"If the principles of American Liberties, for which our forefathers gave the best of their lives, means anything to this county, now is the time to manifest it," said Chairman J. S. Scott, as he instructed County Clerk Saunders to record the motion on his minutes as passed.

City And County Offices Will Be Closed Tomorrow

A number of both the city and county offices will be closed all day tomorrow. Announcements were made this morning that both the city and county libraries would remain closed. There will be no session of the superior court and a great number of the county offices will be closed. The county clerk's office will probably be open a part of the day, although it is not known whether all day or not. County Clerk H. S. Saunders was not able to announce for a certainty today.

MANY CLAIM EXEMPTION IN YOLO

Registration Is Brisk And Is Early In All Parts Of The County

NO DISTURBANCES REPORTED

Big Foreign Registration And Many Make Claims "Agriculturalist"

Young men of Yolo county, Woodland, and in fact, the entire United States, are today registering for selective draft purposes. Up to press time this afternoon, no unusual demonstration had marked registration in Yolo county as far as reports at the Council of Defense and County Clerk H. S. Saunders, in charge of the registration, could learn.

MANY EARLY REGISTRATIONS.

With credit to the young men of Yolo county between the ages of 21 and 31, it must be said that registration was early and brisk in many cases. The indications are that Yolo county will show few or no "slackers." There was even competition in an attempt to see who would be the first to register at several of the precincts.

Registration clerks were greeted with a sight they did not hardly anticipate, that of several waiting in front of the polling places when they were opened for registration purposes.

FOREIGN REGISTRATION BIG.

A feature of the registration, as far as Yolo county is concerned, is the large number of foreign registrations. There were numbers of them in the down river districts. Educated Japanese foremen saw to it that the eligibles were all registered. This may also be said about the Chinese and other nationalities.

By as early as 10 o'clock almost every nationality under the sun had registered.

MANY CLAIM EXEMPTION.

Question Twelve on the cards drew forth every known answer under the sun. The County Council of Defense will probably face a stupendous task in the next few days, as indications are that over eighty per cent of the registrations claim exemptions from draft for some reason, fancied or real. It is barely possible that the county council will escape this task. General Borree telephoned here today that the method of procedure had not been finally settled.

In one Woodland precinct 19 of the first 21 to register claimed an exemption. Certificates will show Yolo county ranking as the leading agricultural county in the world. Over 90 per cent of the rural population, between the ages of 21 and 30, became farmers over night.

LOCAL ARREST PROBABLE.

Although reports from various parts of the United States are to the effect that trouble was experienced, Yolo county will probably be free of any.

WOULD BE IN REAR.

One youth seemed determined that he be kept away from the bullets as far as possible. After telling a brief military experience as a private in F Company, Woodland, he was asked, "What rank were you?"

"Rear rank," he replied. "You know I always marched in the rear."

RED CROSS CHAPTER IS NEARING ITS $3000 GOAL

Board Of Managers Hears The Reports From All Parts Of Yolo County

MANY OPTIMISTIC RETURNS Workers Will Receive Appeal Urging Many Reasons To Aid Work

Yolo Chapter of Red Cross is nearing the 2000 mark. The membership total as reported Monday afternoon at a meeting of the vice-presidents and heads of the committees, showed that the membership for Yolo county is well over 1800. Meetings similar to the one held yesterday afternoon will be held twice a month, on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month in the superior court rooms.

WILL REACH THEIR GOAL.

That the goal of 3000 would soon be reached was indicated by the reports made at yesterday's meeting. As representative of the Knights Landing district, Mrs. T. H. Dixon reported that workers of that section had secured a membership of 125 in two days' campaign. Madison sent in a report that 75 members were signed up as the result of a Sunday morning meeting, at which A. G. Bailey and Mrs. Fred Meier were the speakers.

For Davis, Dr. W. E. Bates assured the Board of Managers 400 members and his report was followed by a similar one from Dr. M. O. Wyatt of Winters, who added 400 more. Thomas Brook and Mrs. McCarty, of Esparto, gave optimistic reports for that section.

COUNTRY MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

The following appeal is sent out by the Board of Managers:

"To Our Workers: If suffering humanity has any claim on us, our duty to aid the Red Cross work is clear and imperative. The aim is to provide for the sick and wounded, to alleviate suffering and as far as possible to lessen the horrors of war. We therefore beg you, one and all, to help in the work.

"First, organize your forces. Get those in your community who will aid and set them to work. In every village and town an office should be opened and membership solicited. A table and one or two chairs in any convenient public place, with some Red Cross literature and someone to enroll names and receive the membership fee and other donations is a good start.

FOR EFFECTIVE WORK.

"Two working together can do most effective work—one to enroll, the other to call attention of passers by. A number of volunteers, working by turns will lessen the burden of each. If every signer can be induced to ask others to join, the number of active workers will be increased daily. When volunteer registrations cease a house-to-house canvass may be necessary.

Woodland's Home Guard Company made a great showing at drill last night. There was an attendance of 54 members of the company in addition to a number of spectators.

From what was several weeks ago the "rockiest" of "rocky" squads, the company has taken on a decided military aspect and is rapidly forming into a military organization of consequence.

Members of the company are to be congratulated on the patriotism and public-spiritedness they show. It is not very much fun to go stamping around to the tune of "squad left" several hours and obeying other military orders, especially after you have done a day's work. Members of the Home Guards are doing their "bit" by showing up twice a week. The attendance is good.

Red Cross Gaining Members Fast County Reports Show

Red Cross work is flourishing in this county. That was demonstrated yesterday at a special meeting of all the vice presidents and heads of committees in the county, called by Chairman McConnell for the purpose of co-ordinating the work in all portions of his jurisdiction.

Mrs. Dixon of Knights Landing reported that the workers of that section had secured a membership of 125 in two days' work. From Madison came the report that seventy-five members were signed up there at a meeting held on Sunday, when Mrs. Meier and A. G. Bailey of this city addressed a gathering. Dr. Bates of Davis said to county on 400 members from that enterprising section and Dr. Wyatt of Winters was of like mind. Thomas Brock and Mrs. McCarty of Esparto also brought cheering reports. The Woodland roster up to date carries a trifle over 600 names. It looks as though the 3000 aimed at in the county will be reached in a reasonable time.

MEET TWICE A MONTH

It was decided that such meetings as that of yesterday are good for the cause and it was determined to hold them on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 1:30 o'clock at the superior court room. The membership committee has issued the following appeal to all the officers of the county:

To Our Workers:

Supervisors Buy $30,000 of Liberty Bonds for County

The county of Yolo, through its board of supervisors, yesterday voted to bear its share of investment in the liberty bonds in the sum of $30,000 for the war expenses of the United States. The action was taken without a dissenting vote of the board as was the resolution to pay $600 as the first installment. The purchase will be made through the Bank of Yolo.

The subscription of the county was the first substantial one of its kind since Yolo has taken up the responsibility of disposing of its share of the war credit, about $700-

000. Those who are interested in the sale of the bonds here are much encouraged by the action of the supervisors and look for it to carry much weight in the disposal of the rest.

This week will see much activity on the part of the publicity committee who are in charge of the sale in the county, trips being planned for every town in Yolo. It is thought no difficulty will be found in finding ready money and anxious buyers for such a safe investment and for such a noble cause.

Council Warns All Eligible To Register

U. S. District Attorney Wires
That No Interference Is To Pass Unchallenged

Following a meeting yesterday of the county council of defense, a reiteration of the warning against interference with registration today or the failure to register, was given out. The council was notified by H. S. Saunders, county clerk, that all was in readiness for the work today. The necessary documents are on hand, the roster of registrars is complete and all registration places are in order. The energies of the council today will be directed toward assisting Mr. Saunders in his tasks.

Judge Anderson, head of the council, and C. C. McDonald, district attorney, yesterday received the following final instructions from John W. Preston of San Francisco, United States district attorney:

TO MAKE ARRESTS

"All eligible persons failing to register under the terms of the draft act should be warned, but not arrested until after 9 p. m. At that time prompt arrests should be made for willful failure and the facts reported to this office. During registration day all persons disturbing the peace or endeavoring to persuade persons not to register or in any way interfering with candidates or registration officers should be arrested immediately.

"Full publicity should be given to the fact that the United States will tolerate no failure to register or interference with registration work. Complaints on behalf of the United States may be sworn to before any United States commissioner, superior judge or justice of the peace, and all patriotic citizens are expected to co-operate in seeing that the full purposes of the law are carried out."

The question of drafting an army of boys, from 15 to 20 years old, to work arable lands should they be taken over by the government for national use, and which has been the subject of quite a bit of discussion, was taken up. Owners of 13,000 acres in Butte county have offered their tract for this purpose. The council took no action on the matter, and will hold its opinion in reserve until the problem of supplies has more fully developed.

Today has been declared a state holiday and city and county offices will remain closed. Holiday hours will be observed at the postoffice. A number of Woodland merchants announced their intention of granting a holiday to their employees yesterday, but most of the stores and shops will remain open.

WOODLAND MEN SPEAK

Committee Bends Energies to Esparto Tomorrow and to Woodland on Saturday

That the Liberty Bond is the safest and the best security in the world today; that the purchase of a bond is just as simple as the buying of a pair of shoes or a loaf of bread; that a payment of 10 per cent and 10 per cent installments will secure the bond, and that it is the patriotic duty of every American to subscribe to the loan, were among the many facts brought out at the meeting in the interest of the issue held last night at Winters.

This meeting, which is the second of the series of county meetings to be held by the committee during the week's campaign, was a most enthusiastic one. More than 250 persons attended and the appeal for signatures brought a ready response. Forty-three signed agreements and it was estimated that these represented subscriptions of fully $15,000 for Winters.

ISSUE EXPLAINED

Ed. E. Leake of Woodland was the principal speaker and made a strong address, fully explaining just what the liberty bond is, how the issue is made, what the government intends to do with the money and also stressing the importance of every person investing even if only the smallest denomination and in installments. Others of the Woodland party taking part in the meeting and talking on certain aspects of the loan and the obligation of the citizen were C. W. Bush, who acted as chairman, J. D. Harling, Fred Shaffer and John L. Stephens.

The meeting had been arranged by I. A. Morris, Winters banker, who called the audience to order and presented Mr. Bush. The hall had been handsomely decorated and the pleasure of the occasion was much enhanced by music by the Winters band and chorus. All Winters residents were pleased with the result and voted their thanks to the liberty loan committee.

Tomorrow night a meeting will be held at Esparto and Saturday night at Woodland.

DEFENSE COUNCIL IS ENGAGED IN MAKING A CANVASS OF REGISTRATION

The County Council of Defense was called into session this afternoon at a few minutes after 2 o'clock to begin the canvass of the selective draft registrations. The meeting is not for the purpose of making any exemptions, as they have not yet had instructions to this effect from the state council or from the adjutant general's office. They will, however, make a canvass of the registration and classify the registrations into groups according to instructions. The exemption selections are to be made from this classification later. There are 1625 cards to be gone over in Yolo county.

YOUNG HOBOES VANISH.

The small crop of youthful vagrants who have been summering in "The Jungles," east of the Woodland city limits, disappeared early this morning to avoid registering. Elderly tramps who make this place their rendezvous gave out this information to the officers. That the runaways will be caught shortly is predicted by the government authorities, who will issue instructions to the various township officers to accost all suspicious characters and compel them to show their registration credentials.

SOLANO JAPS HERE

So many Japanese crossed into Winters from Solano county to register, that the officials in one precinct ran short of supplies. County Clerk Saunders lost no time in hurrying further cards to the registration clerks. It was pointed out that the little brown men rightly should enlist in Solano county, but the election officers thought it best to accommodate the foreigners and take their names in this county.

FIVE FROM HECKE'S

State Horticultural Commissioner G. H. Hecke brought in five young men from his ranch, southwest of Woodland. He intends taking out citizenship papers as soon as possible.

Citizens of Winters Will Help Largely In The Purchase of Bonds; Meeting Last Night Enthusiastic

The Yolo Liberty Bond committee members who visited Winters Tuesday night were pleasantly surprised with the prompt response of the people of that community. Almost three hundred people were present and interest did not flag from the beginning to the close of the meeting.

The Winters band rendered a number of patriotic selections and aided materially in arousing the patriotic spirit that prevailed. The auditorium was attractively illuminated and decorated for the occasion. Preceding and following the meeting the ladies of the Catholic church held a parcels post sale.

A number of prominent Americans of foreign birth were present. They were not only interested in the proceedings, but they heartily applauded all the telling points made by the speakers and responded to every appeal to patriotism with genuine enthusiasm. If there are any slackers in Winters or vicinity, there was no indication of it Tuesday evening.

The members of the Yolo committee, who with many prominent residents of Winters occupied seats on the auditorium stage, were C. W. Bush, L. J. Stephens, F. W. Blanchard, J. D. Harling, Ira Morris, "Bud" Baker and Dr. M. O. Wyatt. A chorus of the best voices in Winters led in singing America as the opening number, and the chorus at intervals during the meeting inspired fervor with fine selections. America, the audience joining, was again rendered at the close.

Ira Morris presided and introduced C. W. Bush as the first speaker. Mr. Bush compared the present bond issue in times of war during other periods in the history of the country, and advised the audience that, from a business point of view, no better investment has ever been offered to the people. He read some statistics which showed the wealth and resources of the various countries engaged in the world's war. He explained how, under the plan proposed by the government and approved by the banks, it is easy for even the wage-worker to become the owner of a government bond.

Fred Shaffer was the next speaker. The reception he received indicated that he is a favorite in that section of the county. He first spoke of the Red Cross and appealed to the people of Winters to aid in efforts to increase the membership in Yolo county. Mr. Shaffer also made a strong appeal for the bonds.

J. D. Harling was next called. He frankly stated that he could say nothing about bonds that had not already been said, but he put the audience in a good humor with some funny stories and personal allusions to the town of his birth.

Dr. M. O. Wyatt made a stirring speech, during which he not only urged the people of Winters to buy bonds liberally, but scored them for their apparent lack of interest in Memorial Day. He also spoke an encouraging words for the Red Cross.

The last speaker was Ed E. Leake, whose remarks were more in the nature of an appeal to patriotism and love of country than an explanation of the bond issue. He also appealed to Americans of foreign birth to be loyal in their support of the country that has made them free and offered them every opportunity to become prosperous and happy.

Bankers Baker and Morris passed among the audience with blank applications and secured the signatures appended below. Many present who did not sign expressed their intention of doing so at the local banks this week. It is estimated that those who applied will subscribe for twelve or fifteen thousand dollars worth of bonds. The following are the Winters applicants who have already signed up:

J. E. Sackett, Maria Sackett, Helen Sackett, Bardeen Sackett, T. A. Sparks, Annie Sparks, T. A. Sparks Jr., D. M. Sparks, M. V. Sparks, J. R. Griffin and family of five, W. Ben Putman, August Brinck, Mrs. August Brinck, R. M. Rice, Mrs. B. M. Sinclair, M. W. Sellers, Ray Overhouse, Jessie Rippey, Martha Rummelsburg, Joe Rummelsburg, Mrs. I. A. Morris, M. H. DRAFT TOTAL FOR COUNTY IS UP TO ESTIMATE

Returns From All Precincts Show 1625 Young Men Are of Age for Service

CLASSIFICATION BEGUN

More Than Ten Million Sign Roster Throughout Nation and Disorder Lacking

Following the receipt of the returns from all precincts yesterday the total of the draft registration in Yolo county was found to be 1625. This is but fifty-nine less than the estimate previously made by the county council of defense. The city of Woodland's registration exceeded 500, the exact number being 505.

During the afternoon yesterday the council of defense began the work of classifying the registrations according to race, nationality, color and military experience. When the county total is classified plans will be made for the organization of an exemption board. It is expected that Woodland and Yolo county first will be requested to furnish 150 young men for the draft army.

Woodland's Registration Is 505 Clarksburg Shows Big Precinct Many Voters Claim Exemption

County Council of Defense
Will Probably Have to Investigate All of Exemption Claims

Based on the estimate of 111 reported from Clarksburg at 8:30 last night, Yolo county's total for selective draft is 1625. The accompanying table shows how the precincts in the county registered. Clarksburg was the last precinct to be heard from and it was the largest in the county registration. This was due to the big foreign population in the down-river district. Yolo county's quota of men to be drafted into the U. S. army will be based by the State Defense Council on the estimated 1917 population of the county, which is 14,150. Of this number the state figures that 1,684 are between the ages of 21 and 31.

The complete returns from Wednesday's registration show that 1625 took out cards, only 59 less than the number estimated by the state council.

Registration for selective draft was a day without incident as far as disturbances were concerned. It was featured by the fact that registrations were made quite early and by the fact that returns came in rather late, due to the fact that the proclamation of the president necessitated the closing of registration booths after 9 o'clock.

FOURTEEN LATE PRECINCTS.

At 9 o'clock this morning but twenty-one of the thirty-five precincts in the county had reported and a total showed that there were 889 registrations.

The remaining precincts would make the total registration over 1500 for Yolo county. The city of Woodland's registration exceeded 500. Based on the revised ratio, there will be about 150 taken from Yolo county on the first call.

To Clarksburg, in the down-river district, will go the banner for heavy registration. At 8:30 last night they had reached a total of 111.

TWO FROM WOODLAND LATE.

Late precincts to report this morning were: Two West Woodland precincts; three from Winters; two Knights Landing; two Washington; Dunnigan, South Putah, Cacheville and Capay.

Sheriff Monroe and his deputies had a busy day of it all day yesterday in rushing from place to place to replenish the supplies needed in the registration. This was brought about by the unusual heavy foreign registration requiring a number of blanks. Mrs. Robert Woods had to be deputized and was sent on a flying trip to Washington.

CALLS FOR "AMMUNITION."

when it was seen the "munitions and ammunition" for registration was running quite low.

Throughout the county, the majority of the registrations were made before noon, thus leaving nine hours of "time to gossip" for the registration clerks.

In several precincts in Woodland last night the clerks who were very familiar with those whom they thought should register began checking up to see if any had neglected to register. Friendly tips were sent out to these and two or three made eleventh hour registrations. There were other cases where it was learned that they had registered in some other precinct.

During the day there was no strict adhering to the rule of register in your own precinct as many registered in precincts in which they did not reside. This was especially so in cases of foreigners who came in groups with an interpreter.

ONE FIFTY FROM YOLO.

Guinda And Rumsey To Have Combined Meeting To Hear of Red Cross And Liberty Bonds

Frank Mixon Sr. and Dr. Fred Child will be the speakers tonight at a combined meeting of the Guinda and Rumsey Farm Bureaus. The meeting is to be held at the Guinda town hall.

As the meeting has been extensively advertised it is expected that there will be a big attendance. It was for the combined purpose of making a Liberty Bond appeal and for the Cross work. Both Mixon and Child are active workers for the causes and this is one of the meetings of its kind for this vicinity of the county.

"Democrat" the number to be drawn will be less than 1000. On the revised estimate from Yolo county based on a ratio of about one of every ten there will probably be in the neighborhood of 150 selected. The first ratio for Yolo county was set at 342 in the first year.

With the complete registration in the Yolo County Council of Defense will begin the task of going over the lists and the weeding out of the exemptions. This will be done by the County Defense Council unless orders to the contrary are received from the adjutant general's office.

LOCAL EAGLES BUY LIBERTY BONDS

The Woodland Aerie of Eagles last night voted to buy $500 worth of Liberty Bonds. It was also decided that the lodge would take still another subscription, if such be deemed necessary later on.

Desirous of stimulating its membership to highest ideals of citizenship and loyalty to country, Grand Worthy President Rex B. Goodcell, the executive officer of the lodge, has issued instructions to every aerie of Eagles to purchase the government bonds. He sides this move the Grand urged members everywhere to immediately take active military; will take care of the men killed or injured in their country; and a patriotic fund, from which a life insurance will be payable as an additional benefit to the relatives of their lives in any branch service.

Liberty Bond Meeting At Esparto This Evening

In the interests of the sale of Liberty Bonds, the Yolo County Liberty Bond Committee is to journey to Esparto tonight. The trip is one of the several about the county. Advices from Esparto are to the effect that a big reception is planned by citizens of that place.

Tonight's meeting will be followed by a big one Saturday night in the Elm street grammar school at Woodland. Cyrus Pierce, a man well informed on bond issues, is to be the speaker at the Woodland meeting.

Making of Duplicates For Adjutant General Will Be a Big Task

Just how much labor there is connected with the registration which took place Tuesday is a subject that the average person is not familiar with, neither is that average individual familiar with the amount of time generally taken to do it.

The task is a heavy one and even though the actual work of registration is complete, there remains much yet to be done before the end is in sight.

One of the biggest jobs is the making out of the duplicate registration cards for the adjutant general's office. One of the best pen men in Sacramento, after long hours of work, has maintained an average of one card in six minutes.

This average cannot be maintained by the average as the handwriting is hard to decipher in many instances and it will take much longer to a card. There are 1625 duplicates to be made in this county.

for the county totaled 19, thus making the alien registration for Yolo county 393.

At a glance Sheriff Monroe's estimates on the unofficial returns are that of the total registration of 1625, there will be 692 exemptions in Yolo county. On registration day from his quick estimates 553 in the county did not claim exemption. The county alien registration was 393 and to Knights Landing No. 2 goes the banner registration for no exemption claims. Their registration showed that 44 out of 69 claimed no exemption and the estimate is that there will be but four exemptions.

With a registration of 1625 and a possible exemption of 692 there will be 933 names to draw from. If the first apportionment of 342 from Yolo county is exacted, predictions by the "Democrat" of one out of three will come about.

Some estimate that the draft will draw one of ten but the early apportionment for Yolo county was 342 and no official notice has been received to the contrary.

Monroe has made the following approximations from unofficial canvass according to registration:

HUNTINGTON WITH YOLO BOYS TO BE IN BIG FIGHT

Adin Whitehead writes home from the U. S. battleship Huntington, now off the coast of Florida, that the Yolo county boys on board are all well and contented. Hampton Rhodes will probably be their next stop. From there the Huntington, guess the sailor boys, will bid good-bye to Uncle Sam's waters and set out for real service with the British fleet. The Huntington has picked up three more hydroplanes, giving them an air fleet of six ships.

Other Woodland boys aboard the Huntington intimate in their letters home that they confidently expect to see service with the British fleet within thirty days.

The Yolo county boys take zealously to the work. The business of locating submarines is not attempted by recruits, but is the duty of experienced seamen. Nets are spread around the Huntington each night, as a special protection against the German U-boats.

The local sailor boys have enjoyed several days on shore at Florida. The officers, however, keep their crew occupied nearly every hour of the day. A great portion of the Huntington crew is made up of young college students, who are having their first taste of sea life. Some of them experienced much sea-sickness the first few days out, but now all have become acclimated and accustomed to the "rolly motion."

The technique of anti-submarine warfare is being studied by every one of the Yolo county boys, even though they are not expected to have anything to do with the periscope observation department for many months.

Target practice is held daily. Navy men report that the Huntington gunners have shown more improvement in the last three weeks than those of any other ship in the United States navy. Parents, relatives and friends of the Yolo county young men on the Huntington accept this report as a compliment to the character standard of the men registered on the Huntington's logbook.

Red Cross Managers Get New Instructions On Packing Shipments

Late directions arriving from the Red Cross Pacific Coast headquarters to the local Red Cross Board of Managers contain instructions about the shipment of material that will be a big aid to those engaged in Red Cross work. Cheering reports are coming in daily on Red Cross membership. The publicity campaign is bringing results and people everywhere are becoming familiar with the work and the fact that nobody is barred from aiding and that their donation is the only requirement.

COMPANY F NEW HOME DESCRIBED IN LETTER

Tells of What This Government Is Doing to Prepare For Drafted Men

BIG CAMP IS NEAR SAN DIEGO

Uncle Sam Preparing a Fine Home For His Boys In Khaki Uniform

Some idea of the plans that the United States War Department is making for the big army and navy camp at San Diego, where F Company, Woodland, along with other troops in the Second Regiment of the California National Guard, is to be stationed within a few weeks, is contained in a private letter just received in Woodland by Mrs. Addie R. Turner from her sister, Mrs. Libbie E. Spring, a former resident of this city.

SAN DIEGO ELATED.

Mrs. Spring writes in part: "It seems to be an assured fact that we are to have the soldiers stationed here. It means a great deal for San Diego."

FIFTY MILLION EXPENDITURE.

"More than fifty millions is to be expended by the federal government within the next seventeen months. This does not include the money that will be paid out for supplies for the vessels, navy radio stations, training camp and the monthly disbursements in salaries and wages paid the officers and attaches of the ships and shore stations.

DEEP CHANNEL PLANNED.

"The dredging plans calls for an expenditure of $340,000 to improve the harbor. The sum of $220,000 is to be utilized in reclaiming the marine brigade post on Dutch Flats, and $85,000 is to be used in excavating a turning basin at the approach to the municipal pier. About $35,000 will be spent to widen the channel, the depth of which will be thirty-five feet.

Co. F'S BARRACKS.

"The barracks and officers' quarters where F Company, Woodland, and others of the second regiment will be stationed, are to be of Mission style and will be equipped with every modern convenience. About 30,000 soldiers will be at Lind Vista Mesa, fourteen miles out of San Diego. Their monthly pay roll will exceed $120,000.

LAND RENTED FREE.

"There will be special camps for breeding and training thousands of cavalry horses. Carpenters are being advertised for now. The soldiers will have their own postoffice. They will also have the use of 8000 acres of land for five years, rented to the government free."

Your Registration Is No Bar To Service In Either Army or Navy

Many of our young men who registered Tuesday are of the opinion that they must now become a part of the army and are barred from the navy through that registration. This is a mistaken idea. Even after men have registered it does not debar them from enlisting in the navy. The official authority for this statement is a telegram to that effect received.

"The bureau of navigation has informed this office that registration does not affect enlistments for navy and that governors of states will be notified to this effect by provost marshal general. This being the case, registration will not prevent subsequent enlistments in the navy after June 5. Until a man has actually been called he is eligible for enlistment in the navy and recruiting officers will be so guided. It is directed that recruiting officers give this as much publicity as possible in order that men who desire to enlist in the navy will have no mistaken idea that after they have registered they are subject to army service only."

Highest and Lowest States.

Almost everybody knows which is the smallest and which is the largest state in the Union, but how many know which is the lowest and which is the highest? According to the measurements and calculations made by the United States geological survey, Delaware is the lowest state, its elevation above sea level averaging only sixty feet. Colorado is the highest, averaging 6,800 feet above the sea, while Wyoming is a close second, only 100 feet lower than Colorado.

In minimum elevation Florida and Louisiana dispute for second place after Delaware, their average elevation being for each 100 feet.
Taking the United States as a above the average elevation of the land of the globe.

PURCHASE BY COUNTY OF BONDS DISPUTED

District Attorney McDonald And Others Certain They Have This Power

U. S. WEBB IS UNCERTAIN

Sections Cited In Civil Code Which Appear to Give Board This Right

District Attorney C. C. McDonald and other county officials feel certain that the board of supervisors had the right to purchase Liberty Bonds as an investment for Yolo county, despite the fact that Attorney General U. S. Webb, who is now looking up the law in the case, is uncertain about the matter and is now investigating.

The attitude of the attorney general followed the announcement that the Yolo county board of supervisors had decided to purchase $30,000 worth of bonds. This action was followed by the Placer board and the Yuba board for bond purchases totaling $50,000.

CITE CERTAIN CODE SECTIONS

To strengthen their contention, District Attorney McDonald and other county officials cite section 73 of one of the most recent codes. Provision in this code are as follows:

Any county, city and county, or incorporated city and town which now has, or hereafter shall have, any surplus money in the treasury thereof and required in the immediate necessities of the said county, city and county, or incorporated city and town hereby authorized to invest such surplus of and such surplus as the governing body of said county, city and county, or incorporated city or town may be deemed wise or expedient in bonds already issued or hereafter to be issued by any school district situated wholly or in part within the limits of such county, city and county or incorporated city and town, or in bonds issued by the state of California or United States and such investment may be made by direct purchase of bonds after they have thus been issued or part thereof at the original price of such bonds or by the purchase of such bonds after they have thus been issued. Any bonds thus purchased and held, may from time to time be sold and the proceeds be redeemed in bonds as above provided.

WAIT OFFICIAL RULING.

Although the question is now under consideration a final decision as to the purchase of Liberty Bonds with county funds by boards of supervisors and donations to the Red Cross and similar sources has not been reached by the attorney general's reads an official statement there.

County Attorney General R. T. McDonald said: "The county officials and others are glad to know that, although the question of the power of boards of supervisors to invest in Liberty Bonds with funds of their respective counties is under investigation, no conclusion has been reached upon this subject has been reached."

Dutcher Hopes to Prove Age Seeks His Birth Certificate Action Based on Legal Advice

Hoping to convince the local authorities beyond all doubt that he is but 20 years old, and hence not eligible for draft into the U. S. fighting forces, Uriah Dutcher today instituted an investigation on his own account to try to locate a birth certificate, or other documents, tending to show the exact date of his birth. The county recorder of Plumas county has been appealed to, but it is not believed that he will report the certificate on file in his office, as the law did not require such filing until after Dutcher was born.

Although the state military officials are inclined to believe Dutcher's statement of yesterday, that he swore falsely last May when he secured his marriage license after declaring that he was 21 years of age, Dutcher is not satisfied, but will attempt to produce documents to prove his assertion.

Dutcher will communicate with Dr. Horn, who, he says, was the stork's chief aide in his case. Dr. Horn, Dutcher, believes, may have a record of the birth.

That Dutcher acted upon the advice of his attorney, Harold M. Ball, in not registering here last Tuesday, also developed this morning. Dutcher stated that he intended registering, but after he had consulted counsel, decided against it. Attorney Ball verified Dutcher's statement.

"It was upon the advice of an attorney and others that I did not register," stated Dutcher. "I know I did wrong in swearing falsely when I got my marriage certificate, and I can't fully explain why I did it, unless it was that I was a bit worried about getting my parents' consent."

"Sacramento papers have referred to me as a slacker. Naturally, I resent this. I'm ready to answer my country's call at any time that I am needed."

Native American Jailed on Charge of Traitorous Tirade

Jack Mansfield, a native-born American, was arrested yesterday evening on Main street by Deputy Sheriff Hillhouse following a profane denunciation of President Wilson, the American flag and the nation. The incident is the first of its kind which has led to an arrest in Woodland since the outbreak of the war and aroused several spectators, including women, to a fighting pitch before the matter was reported to the police.

A San Francisco woman, Miss G. Kincaid, told Deputy Hillhouse of the attack against the government and later identified the man, who was in a badly intoxicated condition. Mansfield was placed in the county jail and will probably be reported to the federal authorities today.

The sight of the American flag in the postoffice window is said to have occasioned the cursing of the country, according to those who overheard the abusive language. After his arrest Mansfield denied the story but will be questioned this morning when sober.

All that is known of the man is that he has worked about Woodland for the past year, being employed three weeks ago by E. L. Younger, contractor. He has worked other places also, according to those who know him. Last night was the first time he had voiced any traitorous sentiments, say his friends.

LIBERTY BOND MEETING IS DISAPPOINTMENT AND INDICATES THAT OUR CITIZENS DO NOT APPRECIATE THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE TIMES WE ARE NOW IN

Parade and Advance Indications Made It Appear That Crowd
Would Tax the Capacity of Armory Hall, But Nobody Was Compelled to Even Look Around For Seats;
Bonds Are Subscribed to Sum of $15,000

The public meeting held in armory hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Liberty Bond Committee was rather disappointing in numbers. The preliminaries gave promise of something better.

PARADE MADE GOOD SHOWING.

The parade on Main street, which preceded the meeting, was a very creditable affair. The Woodland Band led a long procession in which were the Home Guards, each carrying a flag, the Boy Scouts in neat khaki suits and captained by Rev. P. G. Snow, and a long line of automobiles filled with people, and appropriately decorated.

The streets were lined with people, most of whom must have gone to the movies after the parade was dismissed, for the hall did not contain more than three hundred at any time during the evening.

ATTENDANCE SHOWING POOR.

Population considered, it did not compare favorably, either in attendance or the amount of subscriptions obtained at the Winters meeting. As a patriotic demonstration it hardly measured up to the standard set by our western neighbors, who seemed to be fired with enthusiasm and cheered lustily every good point made by the speakers.

IS IT LACK OF PATRIOTISM?

The inexplicable part of the affair was the absence of men and women who ought to be most interested and who are known to be loyal in their support of their country. Many men and women who have already signified their intention of subscribing for Liberty Bonds, were not there, although their presence was so much needed to inspire a spirit of patriotism in others. There was no response from many of those who will be hardest if this war should be lost.

TOO SURE OF VICTORY.

The only possible explanation is that they feel that there can be only one outcome and that is victory. Perhaps they never considered that in order to insure victory the sinews of war must be furnished by those who are too old or physically unable to fight and should let their money fight for them. Maybe they had never had the idea pressed home to them that it is not patriotism alone that urges the buying of a Liberty Bond, but that thrift and wise economy in investing small savings commend such securities to small investors. Possibly it never occurred to them that indifference upon the part of the people in responding to the call of the government would be construed as an indication that they are not backing the government in good faith in the war for human liberty.

TIME TO MAKE AMENDS.

Whatever may have been the cause, and we do not ascribe it to lack of patriotism, many were not there who should have been there and they should lose no time in making it clear that they are supporting the country heart and soul in the hour of its great need. This can be done most effectively by going to our local banks without further delay and subscribing for Liberty Bonds. The name is in honor of one of the most priceless heritages of the American people and it is better to buy one while you can do so as a freeman, lest the day should come when you may be forced to buy an indemnity bond, which will be a badge of servitude.

ONE LINE DESCRIBES MEETING.

What was done at the meeting can be narrated in a single paragraph. A male quartet sang "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." C. W. Bush called the meeting to order and made terse and convincing introductory remarks. Cyrus Pierce, of San Francisco, made a strong appeal for the bonds and later conducted a campaign on the floor which resulted in obtaining subscriptions aggregating about $15,000. That was not altogether encouraging.

WILL WAKE UP SOON.

However, we still have faith in the good people of Woodland. We are confident they will do their full share. The thing to do now is to get busy. Only a few days remain in which to promote the sale of bonds of the value of $700,000, the amount allotted to Yolo county. It can and will be done. Let every man and woman subscribe what they feel they can afford and the amount be oversubscribed.

BOND IS EXCELLENT SECURITY.

The Liberty Bond is the premier security of the world. It has advantages possessed by no other bond in the world. It can be exchanged for a bond bearing a higher rate of interest whenever the issue of such a bond is authorized. Mr. Bush announced that the banks will loan money on the bond on the basis of one hundred per cent of the face of it. The Liberty Bond is backed by all the wealth of the most resourceful country in the world. It is certain to sell for a premium in less than a year. That is the business view of the investment.

WE OWE A DUTY.

But there is another and higher consideration. It is a duty we owe the government. We are in this war and we must consider the situation seriously. If we win the outlook for a world-wide peace maintained by a democracy will be bright. If we lose Germany will do to us as she did to France, compel us to pay an enormous indemnity which will be far in excess of the voluntary subscription that will enable us to win.

REALIZE THE SERIOUSNESS.

If every man and woman in Yolo county will get firmly in the mind the fact that we must win this war if it is to be won; that if it is lost our own ideals and institutions are in grave danger, then, and not until then, will we be in an attitude to face the task that is ours.

What is the answer to be? Will we subscribe for that $700,000 worth of bonds to play its part in the fight for human liberty? When we send the flower of American manhood to

FRATERNAL ORDERS ARE PURCHASING U. S. BONDS

Native Sons and the Foresters Are Latest Two to Join Liberty Bond Move

OTHERS PLAN BUYING BONDS

Action of Lodges a Stimulus To Citizens to Make a Good Investment

Fraternal organizations in Woodland and Yolo county are doing "their bit" in regard to the Liberty Bonds. Almost every lodge meeting night one hears of another lodge subscribing for a block of bonds.

Woodland Lodge of Elks started the ball rolling in this city with a subscription of $1000. They were followed by the Knights of Pythias with a like subscription.

TWO MORE LODGES BUY.

On Wednesday night the local Aerie of Eagles subscribed, or instructed their treasurer to purchase, $500 worth as an investment. Two other lodges, the Native Sons and the Foresters of America bought $1000 worth each at their meetings last night.

Among the other fraternal organizations there is talk of similar moves. Nearly every lodge has its patriotic feature, and in addition to being a move to help the country, it is a safe investment.

OTHERS PLAN PURCHASE.

Indications are that almost every fraternal lodge in the county will be owners of bonds before June 15. The action by the lodges is a good publicity move, as the lodge members are fully advised regarding the bond. As a result of the lodges taking the sue, many smaller bond purchases are being made.

Per capita bank deposits in Yolo county are known to be the largest of almost any county in the United States, and the indications are that this county will lead the interior counties of the nation in bond purchases.

FOLLOW SUPERVISORS EXAMPLE.

Bond purchasing was given much prestige by the action of the board of supervisors.

Meetings are to be held in various parts of the county to educate the citizens as to the advantages of the bonds and as to the service and aid to the country one does by the purchase of one or more.

ATTEND MEETING TOMORROW.

The next meeting of importance will be held tomorrow night in the Elm street school auditorium when Cyrus Pierce, a man of statewide reputation, will address the citizens on the bonds. Pierce is recognized as an authority on bonds. Make it your duty to hear him and bring your neighbor with you.

U. DUTCHER IS LOCKED UP BUT IS LIBERATED

Claims He Is Not of Age But Marriage License Claim Was That Of 21

BORREE SENDS INSTRUCTIONS

Patrolman's Son Given Choice Of Registering or Staying Under Arrest

ON THE COMPLAINT OF THE YOLO COUNTY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE, URIAH DUTCHER, SON OF NIGHT PATROLMAN DUTCHER, WAS ARRESTED THIS MORNING FOR FAILURE TO REGISTER ON TUESDAY. HE WAS TAKEN TO THE COUNTY JAIL, AND LATER, UPON THE ADVICE OF ADJUTANT GENERAL BORREE, WAS LIBERATED AFTER HE HAD REGISTERED. DUTCHER WAS GIVEN THE CHOICE OF REGISTERING, OR REMAINING UNDER ARREST UNTIL THE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES TOOK UP HIS CASE. DUTCHER STATED THAT HE DID NOT CARE TO WAIT, AND SO REGISTERED AND WAS LIBERATED.

Dutcher's arrest was brought about because of the fact that his marriage license certificate and affidavit on file in the county clerk's office showed him to be 21 years of age, according to his own oath. The license was issued May 1, 1917.

Dutcher, it is alleged, prior to registration day claimed that he was not 21 years of age. To substantiate his claim he says that a birth certificate will prove it, if it can be located. This record is hard to obtain, he alleges, as many papers of this character were lost in floods in the east.

The County Council of Defense is daily being informed of other similar cases and they are making investigations of a number. There is a list of names to be looked up at the present time and others are daily being reported.

The council today authorized the statement that any who are of age and who have not yet registered, had better do so. Adjutant General Borree authorized the council to make arrests, and if the registration was made allow liberty; if the suspect still refused to register, keep him in jail.

Join Patriotic Parade Here Saturday P. M.

At a meeting this afternoon of the committee in charge of Liberty Bond meeting to be held in Woodland tomorrow evening, it was decided that a patriotic pageant down Main street would start at 7:15. Members of the Woodland Home Guard, Boy Scouts and Red Cross Association, and Liberty Bond workers will head the procession. Citizens owning automobiles are urged to fall in line. The parade will form on Main street, from Third to East.

The line of march will lead to the grammar school auditorium, where Cyrus Pierce of San Francisco will be the chief speaker of the evening.

Every patriot in Woodland should feel it his or her duty to participate in the parade and attend the mass meeting.

Capay Valley Red Cross Branch Formed Twenty-Seven Members First Evening Another Meeting To Be Held On Friday

Twenty-seven additional members for the Yolo Chapter of Red Cross were obtained last night at Guinda, when about eighty residents of Capay valley gathered at a joint meeting of the Guinda and Rumsey Farm Bureau centers at Guinda, and heard speakers from Woodland tell of the Red Cross work. A house-to-house canvass is to be made and those attendant last night confidently expect to increase the membership in the locality to at least 150 members. A meeting of a similar character is to be held next Friday night at Rumsey.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Frank Davisson, vice-chairman of the Woodland branch. She briefly announced the purpose of calling the meeting, and introduced a Woodland trio of singers, Messrs Fox, Bowen and Ralls. These singers rendered several selections to the evident enjoyment of the assemblage.

Dr. F. R. Fairchild and W. F. Mixon made good talks on the work being done by the Red Cross, and J. D. Harling spoke of the Liberty Bonds.

Exemption Board Is To Be Composed Of Competent Three

To the Yolo County Defense Council will fall the task of appointing an exemption board of three members, who will pass upon the merits of the exemption claims of the young men registered in this county last Tuesday. Governor Stephens sent such advices to Superior Judge Anderson today.

That the new exemption board be comprised of men of integrity, firmness of character and sound judgment; and that none of the members be public officials or of military rank, are requirements. The defense council will make the appointments at their meeting next Tuesday. The exemption board will then organize and start work immediately.

MANY MARCHERS EXPECTED TO APPEAR AT MEETING IN ARMORY HALL TONIGHT

If you own an automobile, or a friend who has one; or even if you admit possessing a flivver, or a certain borrow a steer 'er down Main street, between Third and East, before 7:15 o'clock. That's the time set for the big patriotic Liberty Bond parade.

But not only is the automobilist expected to fall in line, but the marcher—even one who's not even considering a joy-ride mortgage—is wanted in the pageant.

For the seventy-first time since the war outbreak, the Woodland band members have voted to contribute their services and will lead the procession. Woodland Home Guards, Boy Scouts, Red Cross and Liberty Bond workers and fraternal organizations will next fall in line. The eighty-nine thousand, or more, automobile city in Woodland and environs will follow.

The line of march will lead west down Main street, as far as College city where the leaders will turn and show the way to armory hall.

C. W. Bush, chairman of the Yolo district Liberty Bond Committee, will likely preside at the big mass meeting. Head count will introduce Cyrus Pierce, San Francisco bond expert, as the chief speaker of the evening.

Suppose you were asked, invited politely requested to take your place in the trenches in France against the common foe—Germany; to be shot at by rapid-fire machine guns; bombs; high-power cannon, hand grenades; to be smothered with poisonous gases or burned with gas or oil sprays; to sleep (when you got a chance) in a trench above or in a miserable damp dugout and eat army grub, and see the killed and maimed, the dead or dying comrades taken or buried before your eyes; to spend weeks, months, perhaps years away from those near and dear to you; If it were left to you do you think you would accept the invitation?

Well, the government has commanded a half million of her sons to go into the trenches to endure all the hardships and take all the risks of battle and disease, that free government may exist. There is no option to these boys; they must go. When they reach the battle front they will be placing their lives between the foes of human liberty and your family and home. If they can risk their lives can't you lend the government the silver bullets to equip the soldier upon this saliors in the field of honor?

You can, by subscribing to the Liberty Bond. Tonight's patriotic speaking in Woodland for the purpose of promoting the sale of Liberty Bonds.

It's your patriotic duty

Dutcher Hopes to Prove Age Seeks His Birth Certificate Action Based on Legal Advice

Hoping to convince the local authorities beyond all doubt that he is but 20 years old, and hence not eligible for draft into the U. S. fighting forces, Uriah Dutcher today instituted an investigation on his own account to try to locate a birth certificate, or other documents, tending to show the exact date of his birth. The county recorder of Plumas county has been appealed to, but it is not believed that he will report the certificate on file in his office, as the law did not require such filing until after Dutcher was born.

(Editor's Note—Since the foregoing was written, County Recorder Young of Quincy has phoned the "Democrat" that Plumas county has no record of Dutcher's birth).

Although the state military officials are inclined to believe Dutcher's statement of yesterday, that he swore falsely last May when he secured his marriage license after declaring that he was 21 years of age, Dutcher is not satisfied, but will attempt to produce documents to prove his assertion.

Dutcher will communicate with Dr.
Horn, who, he says, was the stork's chief aide in his case. Dr. Horn, Dutcher, believes, may have a record of the birth.

That Dutcher acted upon the advice of his attorney, Harold M. Ball, in not registering here last Tuesday, also developed this morning. Dutcher stated that he intended registering, but after he had consulted counsel, decided against it. Attorney Ball verified Dutcher's statement.

"It was upon the advice of an attorney and others that I did not register," stated Dutcher. "I know I did wrong in swearing falsely when I got my marriage certificate, and I can't fully explain why I did it, unless it was that I was a bit worried about getting my parents' consent.

"Sacramento papers have referred to me as a slacker. Naturally, I resent this. I'm ready to answer my country's call at any time that I am needed."

Native American Jailed on Charge of Traitorous Tirade

Jack Mansfield, a native-born American, was arrested yesterday evening on Main street by Deputy Sheriff Hillhouse following a profane denunciation of President Wilson, the American flag and the nation. The incident is the first of its kind which has led to an arrest in Woodland since the outbreak of the war and aroused several spectators, including women, to a fighting pitch before the matter was reported to the police.

A San Francisco woman, Miss G.
Kincaid, told Deputy Hillhouse of the attack against the government and later identified the man, who was in a badly intoxicated condition. Mansfield was placed in the county jail and will probably be reported to the federal authorities today.

The sight of the American flag in the postoffice window is said to have occasioned the cursing of the country, according to those who overheard the abusive language. After his arrest Mansfield denied the story but will be questioned this morning when sober.

All that is known of the man is that he has worked about Woodland for the past year, being employed three weeks ago by E. L. Younger, contractor. He has worked other places also, according to those who know him. Last night was the first time he had voiced any traitorous sentiments, say his friends.

LIBERTY BOND MEETING IS DISAPPOINTMENT AND INDICATES THAT OUR CITIZENS DO NOT APPRECIATE THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE TIMES WE ARE NOW IN

Parade and Advance Indications Made It Appear That Crowd Would Tax the Capacity of Armory Hall, But Nobody Was Compelled to Even Look Around For Seats; Bonds Are Subscribed to Sum of $15,000

The public meeting held in armory hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Liberty Bond Committee was rather disappointing in numbers.
The preliminaries gave promise of something better.

PARADE MADE GOOD SHOWING.

The parade on Main street, which preceded the meeting, was a very creditable affair. The Woodland Band led a long procession in which were the Home Guards, each carrying a flag, the Boy Scouts in neat khaki suits and captained by Rev. P. G.
Snow, and a long line of automobiles filled with people, and appropriately decorated.

The streets were lined with people, most of whom must have gone to the movies after the parade was dismissed, for the hall did not contain more than three hundred at any time during the evening

ATTENDANCE SHOWING POOR.

Population considered, it did not compare favorably, either in attendance or the amount of subscriptions obtained at the Winters meeting. As a patriotic demonstration it hardly measured up to the standard set by our western neighbors, who seemed to be fired with enthusiasm and cheered lustily every good point made by the speakers.

IS IT LACK OF PATRIOTISM?

The inexplicable part of the affair was the absence of men and women who ought to be most interested and who are known to be loyal in their support of their country. Many men and women who have already signified their intention of subscribing for Liberty Bonds, were not there, although their presence was so much needed to inspire a spirit of patriotism in others. There was no response from many of those who will be historical if this war should be lost.

TOO SURE OF VICTORY.

The only possible explanation is that they feel that there can be only one outcome and that is victory. Perhaps they never considered that in order to insure victory the sinews of war must be furnished by those who are too old or physically unable to fight and should let their money fight for them. Maybe they had never had the idea pressed home to them that it is not patriotism alone that urges the buying of a Liberty Bond, but that thrift and wise economy in investing small savings commend such securities to small investors. Possibly it never occurred to them that indifference upon the part of the people in responding to the call of the government would be construed as an indication that they are not backing the government in good faith in the war for human liberty.

TIME TO MAKE AMENDS.

Whatever may have been the cause, and we do not ascribe it to lack of patriotism, many were not there who should have been there and they should lose no time in making it clear that they are supporting the country heart and soul in the hour of its great need. This can be done most effectively by going to our local banks without further delay and subscribing for Liberty Bonds. The name is in honor of one of the most priceless heritages of the American people and it is better to buy one while you can do so as a freeman, lest the day should come when you may be forced to buy an indemnity bond, which will be a badge of servitude.

ONE LINE DESCRIBES MEETING.

What was done at the meeting can be narrated in a single paragraph. A male quartet sang "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." C. W. Bush called the meeting to order and made terse and convincing introductory remarks.
Cyrus Pierce, of San Francisco, made a strong appeal for the bonds and later conducted a campaign on the floor which resulted in obtaining subscriptions aggregating about $15,000. That was not altogether encouraging.

WILL WAKE UP SOON.

However, we still have faith in the good people of Woodland. We are confident they will do their full share.
The thing to do now is to get busy.
Only a few days remain in which to promote the sale of bonds of the value of $700,000, the amount allotted to Yolo county. It can and will be done.
Let every man and woman subscribe what they feel they can afford and the amount be oversubscribed.

BOND IS EXCELLENT SECURITY.

The Liberty Bond is the premier security of the world. It has advantages possessed by no other bond in the world. It can be exchanged for a bond bearing a higher rate of interest whenever the issue of such a bond is authorized. Mr. Bush announced that the banks will loan money on the bond on the basis of one hundred per cent of the face of it. The Liberty Bond is backed by all the wealth of the most resourceful country in the world. It is certain to sell for a premium in less than a year. That is the business view of the investment.

WE OWE A DUTY.

But there is another and higher consideration. It is a duty we owe the government. We are in this war and we must consider the situation seriously. If we win the outlook for a world-wide peace maintained by a democrack will be bright. If we lose Germany will do to us as she did to France, compel us to pay an enormous indemnity which will be far in excess of the voluntary subscription that will enable us to win.

REALIZE THE SERIOUSNESS.

If every man and woman in Yolo county will get firmly in the mind the fact that we must win this war if it is to be won; that if it is lost our own ideals and institutions are in grave danger, then, and not until then, will we be in an attitude to face the task that is ours.

What is the answer to be? Will we subscribe for that $700,000 worth of bonds to play its part in the fight for human liberty? When we send the flower of American manhood to France to fight for the principles that form the very life blood of the nation are we going to guarantee that they will be properly equipped, that they will be properly clothed and provided with everything that will contribute to their health and comfort? Are we to hold our money dearer than our liberty, purchased at the price of the lives of our forefathers?

REMEMBER, THIS IS YOUR FIGHT.

No! A thousand times no! They may not have yet fully realized how serious is the condition that confronts them, but they will, and when they do their patriotic devotion to the flag, their love of country will be quickened and they will rally to the cause of human freedom as one man. Without hate in their heart for the German people, without lust for power or desire for acquisition, with no ambition but to maintain their rights and sell the world's highways without having to ask the permission of the kaiser, with a determination to live as we have lived and not as others would have us live, they will be inspired by a love of country, a love of American ideals and institutions and they will fight, if not with arms at least with the sinews of war until Prussian militarism, imperious autocracy and despotic feudalism meet their certain doom and a world's democracy has furnished a guarantee of world-wide and permanent peace.

EXEMPTION BOARD THREE IS MATTER CONSIDERED BY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

Members of the Yolo County Council of Defense are meeting this afternoon for a purpose that means much to 1625 young men of Yolo county. They will appoint the exemption board of three, who will sit in judgment on the exemption claims, stated by over 600 when they registered for selective draft service.

At this afternoon's meeting, the Council of Defense will also consider the matter of fire protection to grain fields. Another meeting for this purpose is called for tomorrow morning.

As chairman of the County Defense Council, Judge W. A. Anderson received the following letter today from Governor William D. Stephens:

"I wish through you to congratulate the people of California on the success of the military registration of this state.

"The call of the nation has been met ungrudgingly in the spirit of loyalty and service. It is true indication of the inherent strength of democratic government.

"That California understands the great war issue, understands the vital necessity of meeting it, and is ready to give of its treasure and its sons, is shown by the response to the national call for registration for military conscription. I cannot but express the profound feeling of satisfaction which this gives me as governor of this state, and its responsible representative in the matter of registration, and the confidence which it inspires that in the trying days ahead of us, we will meet every trial with the strength, endurance and determination of true and united patriotism.

"I should be lacking if I did not express to the different County Councils of Defense, to the different city and county officials, to all of the multitude of citizens who have so freely given of their time and labor, to the work of registration, the appreciation which is their due. I take it upon myself to thank them, one and all, on behalf of the people of the state of California."

Members of the Woodland Home Guards at their meeting last night gave double evidence of patriotism when they subscribed for $2100 worth of Liberty Bonds. The responses were quick and the subscriptions were made after W. F. Mixon, of the Liberty Bond committee, had made them a good patriotic speech.

Those subscribing were A. W. Fox, $100; (additional) D. B. Woods, $500; Ed Dieudonne $50; (3rd subscription) F. B. Breckinridge, $150; Bruce Frazee, $200; Henry Hazeman, $50; Arthur Neilson, $100; (additional) D. P. Wilson, $100; P. T. Foster, $100; S. G. Robb, $100; I. D. Farnham, $100; J. A. Choose Officers For Home Guards W. H. Curson Choice For Captain Company Decides on Its Policies

Woodland's company of Home Guards became a military unit last night, at which time officers were elected and the organization became officially known as Second Company Woodland Home Guard of California. The election was authorized by Adjutant General J. J. Borree.

Major W. H. Curson, was unanimously elected captain, William Rawson first lieutenant and A. W. Fox second lieutenant. Officers elected were authorized to appoint the non-commissioned officers.

With hopes of making a battalion for Yolo county, thus embracing the companies at Winters, Davis and companies talked of at Madison and in the Capay valley, a second company is being considered in this city.

To meet expenses, such as hall rent, lights and other incidental expenses, the company plans giving a dance in the near future and with the surplus place themselves on a financial footing. T. L. Whitehead, H. S. Summers and J. A. Murray were appointed on this committee.

It was decided that Monday night should be drill and business night and that the Thursday night's gathering should be for drill alone. About 56 are regular attendants and the company is making an excellent showing.

EXEMPTION COMMITTEE ANNOUNCED BY COUNCIL

Three Citizens Not Members Of Defense Council Are To Act

THREE ACCEPT POSITIONS Council Asks Supervisors To Buy Fire Truck; Insurance Men To Help Finance

To E. E. Gaddis, P.-N. Ashley and Kirk Swingle falls the task of acting as an exemption committee to take up the matter of the exemptions claimed by some 600-odd, in the registration for selective draft purposes.

The appointment of these three was announced officially this morning by the Council of Defense for Yolo county, after the members had given the matter much serious thought and attention. Defense council members thought it much better to have a committee from outside their numbers to pass on the exemption claims. After considering a number of names, they selected the above named three. All three announced today that they would act. Their appointment should prove satisfactory to all concerned, as they are men of firm and sound judgment.

The names will be submitted to the officials at Washington, and if satisfactory they will be commissioned to go ahead. Their action regarding the exemptions is by on means final, as the names selected by the county board will be revised by a state board later, and probably by a military board at Washington after this.

Final announcement of Yolo county's share in the first draft has not yet been announced, but it will probably be well over a hundred.

COUNTY URGED TO BUY AUTO TRUCK.

The Defense Council met with the Fire Underwriters this morning to discuss the protecting of grain. J. S. Scott, C. Q. Nelson and E. H. Archer were named as a committee to appear before the supervisors, to urge them to purchase an automobile truck. The insurance underwriters agreed to equip the same with fire extinguishers and other necessary paraphernalia. The truck would be maintained at a central office in Woodland, ready for immediate service any place in the county. The salary of the driver would be paid by the insurance underwriters.

It is possible that the supervisors will be called together early this evening, to take immediate action upon the recommendation of the defense council.

Until recently Simpson had planned to return to the Milwaukee college to study electrical engineering. Heeding the call of his country, he altered his decision and enlisted.

Liberty Bond Canvass Of The Town Planned By Committee in Charges

Woodland's business and resident sections are today undergoing a rigid canvass for the Liberty Bonds. Every store and every home in this city will be visited within the next three days by a committee, armed with applications and contracts and authorized to accept subscriptions.

E. B. Hayward, P. G. Friday, Fred Shaffer and Lawrence Stephens are supervising the canvass. They have appointed their own individual corps of helpers and started work this morning.

The country districts, too, are being appealed to. The Davis, Esparto and Winters bank heads are in charge of their own home committees of assistants.

Reports of today's work were encouraging. However, it is declared that few of the bond purchases here exceed $100. While many men of means have made liberal subscriptions, and the banks and bankers have all bought bonds, there is a long list of residents whose property values run into five figures who have failed to heed their country's call.

Volunteers Asked To Report Tomorrow At Board of Trade

A little army is wanted to reinforce the men behind the guns—to assist in procuring the necessities required by soldiers. "You can do your 'bit' right here at home in Woodland—and surely you will," said Fred Shaffer of the board of trade today.

The Liberty Bond committee has asked the secretary of the Board of Trade to make a canvass of the territory east of First street and north of Main. "We are asking the good people to help us—men and women," said Shaffer. "Blanks will be furnished and instructions given as to terms, etc. Will you volunteer to help in this good cause? If so please report at the board of trade tomorrow (Wednesday) morning about 8 or 9 o'clock."

GRESS PORTED BY ALL IN RED CROSS

Expert To Coach Women In Work Of Preparing All Day Tomorrow

MEETING CALLED TOMORROW

Memberships Steadily Coming
In and Goal Looks To Be a Certainty

Active members of the Yolo Chapter of Red Cross will be given some excellent training tomorrow, according to advices received today. A representative from the Red Cross headquarters is to give them some coaching in the preparation of articles they are preparing to send to the various hospital bases.

The representative will be a trained nurse, well versed in the making, packing and shipping of the articles the local Red Cross members are busily engaged in preparing.

The Board of Managers of the Red Cross Chapter has called a meeting for tomorrow night for the various chairmen and reports will be made as to the progress of the membership campaign.

The booth at the garden fete held Tuesday at the Bullard home netted $10.

Red Cross workers in Woodland, as in all other cities, towns and villages in the United States have begun a "Red Cross Drive." The Yolo county drive began today and will continue throughout the week.

The Yolo membership is below the goal of 3000 and every effort is being made to reach the total. A house to house canvass is being made with excellent results.

At the Red Cross headquarters memberships are slowly but surely coming in. Reports from Davis, Winters, Knights Landing and other parts of the county are that progress is being made and the executives of the Yolo Chapter feel that tomorrow night's reports will show that Yolo county is well along towards its goal and that it will be among the leading counties in the state for Red Cross memberships.

CANVASS FOR BONDS BRINGING RESULTS

Committee Making Grand Rally
To Bring Yolo's Amount
To That Apportioned

VERY FEW HOURS REMAIN

Subscriptions For County Are Behind Ten Percent Of Bank Deposits

Sectional canvass of Woodland and environs for the subscription to the Liberty Bond Loan was bringing good results at noon today according to reports at headquarters.

When the canvass started this morning, Yolo county's apportionment of ten per cent of the amount of deposits in the savings banks was quite a little behind the normal amount and an active drive was started on the house to house basis.

The Liberty Bond committee is endeavoring to avoid a statement going out that Yolo county, which for years has held the undisputed claim of being the richest county in the United States, per capita deposits, had failed to subscribe for the amount set opposite her name.

But a few hours remain for the citizens of the county to make the subscriptions to the bonds. The amount does not have to be made in cash, as easy payments are provided if the subscriber chooses to take advantage of them.

The time limit closes Friday night and in the few remaining hours it is hoped that citizens will be patriotic and loyal enough to subscribe to a cause which is one of patriotism and one which will end the war that much sooner. A Liberty Bond is not a donation; it is an investment. It means the saving of just that amount of money and it gives the government the use of the amount to carry on the war, without the necessity of raising money by direct tax.

The fire bell will ring two times tonight at 9 o'clock to announce to the citizens that but two days remain in which to subscribe.

Efforts will be made at Clarksburg
Thursday night and at others of the Farm Bureau center meetings throughout the county to increase the Yolo subscription.

Appeal Is Nade To Aid Red Cross And The Young Men of Yolo County Who Go To Fight The Nation's Battle

(By J. I. McConnell.)

As the representative of the Yolo County Chapter of the Red Cross, the writer again appeals to the sound judgment and charitable instincts of all the men and women of Yolo county.
You have long since learned the purposes of this organization and cheerfully recognize the great work being done as paramount to all other worldwide work of charity and relief.

Our young men of Yolo county are already in the army and navy, more than a hundred strong, and the day is rapidly approaching when many more are to follow. Our desire is for their welfare and comfort. Silently these young men appeal to us to provide for an emergency when personal comforts and medical aid may be necessary.

Are you, reader, not willing to help provide the protection and relief that one dollar will afford? Are you not willing to lend the influence of your name to an order that works for humanity, for the relief of suffering with no consideration of creed or country?

We are grateful to all those who have united with us, but we must have many more, if we wish to do our part.
We are laggards and slackers today as compared with other countries.
Even the Oriental nations far exceed us, both in membership and good work.

Is it not time for us to wake up and establish a record! This is a matter wherein professions of charity and assistance do not count. Deeds and acts count when benevolence and fraternity are in the balance. There are twenty or more fraternal orders in Yolo county, all professing charity, fraternity and brotherly love. Let me suggest that here is an opportunity to let your light shine both as an order and as members. Let me suggest that each order call a special meeting and present the cause of the American Red Cross as a matter of special interest, and if possible enlist every member in the work. A name and a dollar is as little as anyone can possibly give to so worthy a cause.

The Red Cross is a national institution, chartered by congress; the president of the United States is its president; its finances under government control; its charity world-wide and all those working for the order do so without pay, devoting time and energy in the name of humanity and civilization.

Let your motto be "Join Now," and do it now. Don't wait for a canvasser to persuade you to do your duty.

reservation and the nominal sum of five cents extra will be charged for the reservation. This, too, will be added to the fund.

Home-made candy will be offered for sale by the ladies of the Red Cross and flowers for boutonnières will also be on sale and will be pinned on by dainty and delicate hands that are

YOLO WILL SUBSCRIBE HER QUOTA TO LIBERTY BOND LOAN

"You can quote me as saying that incomplete returns from the various banks of the county assure Yolo's subscription to the amount of at least ten per cent of her total bank deposit," said Chairman C. W. Bush, president of the Liberty Bond committee this morning.

It was admitted that final returns might bring the total to approximately $700,000. This amount will make the per capita subscription of Yolo county about $40, if based upon the basis of ten per cent of the bank deposits. The average per capita draft of the bonds in the nation is $20, or one-half the amount asked of Yolo county.

Chairman Bush states that the subscription will close this afternoon, as report must be made to the Reserve Bank by tomorrow noon. Some of the local banks, however, will accept subscriptions up to noon tomorrow, expecting to wire them into headquarters.

The work of the committee has been active and vigorous. Response on the part of the people and the banks is best indicated by the splendid total to be forwarded in defense of the nation.

Winters will probably make the best showing so far as the outside towns of the county is concerned. Woodland banks, and those of other sections, have made a loyal effort during the past two weeks. Bankers from the local institutions have worked night and day. They have attended meetings in various parts of the county and have made individual calls upon those known to be able to do their part in sustaining the government.

Indications this morning pointed to a heavy local subscription during the day. The fact that the bonds are a splendid investment is beginning to appeal to the people and the late reports may show that $700,000 has been subscribed. Mr. Bush expressed himself as well pleased with the results achieved and paid a nice compliment to the people of the county and the co-operation of the banks, the press and the investors.

RED CROSS MATERIAL SHOULD BE STANDARD

Official Demonstrator Give Yolo County Women Very Instructive Talk

DONOT ABUSE USE OF EMBLEM

Proper Methods of Preparing Hospital Materials Are Shown by Official

Standardization of the Red Cross work was the keynote of a very interesting appeal and lecture given a number of the women of Yolo county the Elm street grammar school yesterday by Miss Margaret Scott, official demonstration expert and lecturer of the Red Cross. There were women present from Knights Landing, Yolo, Madison and other parts of the county. Miss Scott asked these women spread broadcast the vices she gave them.

The speaker asked that care be taken in the method and manner of using the Red Cross emblem. Miss Scott explained the federal laws on this subject declared that it was not legal to use the emblem only when it is employed for actual service. Doctors and physicians should not display the Red Cross promiscuously and neither should the Red Cross emblem be used for commercial gain any more than should the American flag. This is also true regarding the use of the emblem for benefits and other features of that kind. The government stands behind the Red Cross and its workings are a feature of the government.

Miss Scott gave very instructive and interesting demonstrations in the proper preparing of articles for the various hospital bases. She emphasized the fact that there would not be need for a few consignments of bandages, surgical dressings, hospital supplies, but that the needs of them would run into the hundreds of tons.

Germany entered the war with 800,000 trained nurses and 80,000 trained ambulance drivers. The United States enters the war with but a mere handful and they are woefully unprepared in the way of supplies.

The speaker emphasized the need of standard articles as a few of one kind and not enough of another would mean a handicap in the work being accomplished. Miss Scott demonstrated the correct methods of making all of the things needed and asked that those who had been given the benefit of her instructions take it upon themselves to see that all others engaged in the work do the same thing in spreading the gospel of standardized Red Cross work.

Miss Scott is a nurse herself and has had actual battlefield experience. Because of this fact she has been made an official lecturer for the Red Cross, as she, perhaps better than many others, knows the actual needs, and what is actually needed most.

Per Capita "Bit" Of Forty Dollars Against Twenty Throughout Nation

Citizens of Yolo county responded nobly to the appeal from Uncle Sam to purchase his liberty bonds and their donations, subscriptions or purchases were just $661,350.

HAVE YET TO REALIZE WAR COUNCILMAN TELLS MEN

A. Natfger, Vice Chairman of State Council of Defense, Speaks Before Men's Club

IDE AWAKENING DUE

Speaker Also Dwells on Food
Problem During War, Urging Economy in Every Sphere

People of this country are failing properly realize the fact that we involved in a great war, according to F. A. Natfger, vice-president of the State Council of Defense, who was the main speaker before the annual seasonal meeting of the Men's club of the M. E. church held yester-evening. About 100 members and guests attended the meeting and enjoyed the excellent speeches repeated served by the women of the club.

The speakers, besides Mr. Natfger, were L. B. Mallory, assistant secretary of the state board of health, who briefly of the work of that body.
F. McClure, state engineer, who briefly of the work of his office; State Agricultural Commissioner G. H.
Leake, who told of the conservation work of the horticultural department and Chauncey H. Dunn, of Sacramento, who urged the needs of the Y. M.
A. to enlarge its usefulness in the war camps.

Mr. Natfger in his address touched lightly on the duties of the state department, stating that it was organized for the purpose of securing the happiness, safety, comfort and security of the citizens of the state and that every county in the state they had organized county councils of defense to co-operate with the state council and also to provide comfort, welfare and relief in emergency.

HAVE RUDE AWAKENING

Continuing Mr. Natfger stated that the people of this country did not realize that we are in war and that we would not until we read in the paper the first casualty list, and, if his list contained the names of our son or our neighbor's son, then we could realize what war meant to us; that the war was brought about by a few hereditary kings and princes and the outcome would be that either a government or our forefather's would be taken from us or the government of the people would survive.

Mr. Natfger spoke at length on the problem of the world and what meant to our allies. He stated that it had been estimated that at the end of harvest there would not be more than half enough food-stuffs to apply the world. "The only thing!"
he said, "between us and invasion by Germany is England's fleet and it is absolutely necessary that we should apply our allies with foodstuffs so they can keep on fighting. We will have to give up some of our foods as other countries have done, who have meatless days and sometimes breadless days.

Waste must be eliminated in the use of particularly of wheat, rye, fats and sugar."

WILLING TO GIVE ALL

In closing he suggested a thought that it might be possible that we would have to give up our independent government and be ruled by another power and that if it took all the resources of our republic to prevent this he appealed to his audience and the citizens of the country to cheerfully and willingly, and with united purpose, give them.

Judge W. A. Anderson called on every citizen of the country to do his duty in the support of his country in the present crisis and stated the local council of defense was doing all within its power, particularly in the prevention of fires in the many acres of ripening grain.

Mayor Wilconon and Rev. Irving Bristol of Sacramento were called on and responded with a few remarks.

YOLO DOLLARS POURED INTO WAR CREDIT OF NATION

This County Rushes to Throw
Its Wealth By Hundreds of Thousands to Uncle Sam

CREDIT TO COMMITTEE

Will Rank at Top of Counties of Nation for Subscribing To Bonds per Capita

Yolo county has performed her duty. She has done her "bit" insofar as subscribing for the Liberty Bonds is concerned. At the top of twelve yesterday the books were closed for the final count and when that count was completed it was found she had reached a total sale of the bonds of $663,350.

This sum is probably as large, if not the largest of any county in the state or nation, per capita. The task of drawing the attention of the people to the necessity to subscribe for these bonds has been an arduous one for the county committee, but to its credit may it be said that not one of the members has shirked any responsibility, but each member has done his share individually as well as in combination.

The people also have not lagged.
Wherever the matter was brought to attention, they have responded generously. One of the interesting facts to record is the large number of small purchasers by wage earners, men and women who will earn their dollars as the time of payments mature. In those cases it is a real investment, the hope of the treasury department in that direction being fully realized so far as Yolo county is concerned.

Upper Part of Capay Valley Red Cross Roll Shows Big Increase

Yolo Chapter of Red Cross received a substantial membership increase last night when residents of the upper Capay valley gathered at Rumsey to hear Red Cross speakers tell of the workings of that organization. There were over 100 present in the Community hall and at the close many joined and many more signified their intentions of joining.

The meeting was promoted in the neighborhood by Mrs. Frank Schaeffer, who was assisted by other ladies of community. Reports by Mrs. Davisson and Mrs. Olsen showed that the membership roll is rapidly nearing the 200 mark.

Speakers last evening were J. I. Mc-ter; Mrs. Fred Meier, vice-chairman;

Mrs. T. R. Lowe and Frank Mixon Sr.

DEFENSE MEN LAUDED FOR ACTION TAKEN

Judge Anderson of the Yolo Defense Board Told Preparatory Work Has Just Been Inaugurated

Awaken Local People to the Seriousness of Situation Is Plea Sent Out by the State Organization

Superior Judge Wm. A. Anderson has just received from the State Council of Defense at Sacramento a letter thanking the local council for its work during the recent registration.

The letter also calls attention to the fact that the real work of the war has barely begun and cautions the members of the local council against over-confidence as to the early outcome of the war. In this connection the letter sounds a note of pessimism by saying "We must not be too sure of winning."

The letter which is signed by A. H.
Natfger, vice-chairman of the state council, is as follows:

The State Council of Defense feels that it would not be doing justice if it did not send a special letter commending you and your fellow workers of the Yolo County Council of Defense for the excellent work you performed, not only on Registration Day, but also preparatory to that day. We wish, therefore, to take this small means of thanking you for your patriotic co-operation in the splendid achievement and organization that made California the second state in the Union to respond "ready" to the president. Had it not been for your efficient work, and the efficient work of each of the other county councils in California, we would have been unable to accomplish what we did.
Will you therefore kindly convey this message of gratitude and appreciation to each of your fellow-workers.

But the task is not ended. The real work has barely begun. We cannot impress upon you too strongly that this is a serious war with possibilities of a serious outcome. The enemy has not yet by any means been defeated. Those who have been near the front and know the actual conditions all remind us that we must not be too sure of winning. The only certain way is for every man and woman to take this war seriously enough to do his or her utmost in whatever way possible in an earnest endeavor to carry us on to victory.
This is not France's war, nor is it England's. It is the war of democracy against certain ideas which dominate Germany and her allies and which, for our own preservation of liberty, comfort and happiness, we must not permit to continue to exist on this earth.

We therefore ask you to use every effort in your county to arouse a determined enthusiasm that will cause your people everywhere to leave nothing undone which will help to achieve the final victory.

F Company One Shy Minimum; Yolo Youths Subject To Draft Advised To Enlist Immediately

With F Company's membership now one less than the minimum fixed by the U. S. War Department, the Yolo County Council of Defense has been asked to encourage recruiting for the local military organization. Here are now fifty-nine young men answering roll call at Richmond with F Company; the defense council is urged to increase that number to one hundred and fifty.

From meager information that has come to the local Exemption Board, the War Department intends sending the drafted men into the camps of the various national guards. All of which means that youths drafted in Yolo county may be sent to F Company, or to some other troops elsewhere in this state. It is even possible that young men drafted here may be detailed to national guard organizations out of this state.

The Yolo defense council, in support of its appeal for more recruits for F Company, advises those subject to draft to enlist now with their local company.

FLAT FEET BRING HONORABLE DISCHARGE FROM "HUNTINGTON" FOR ELMER MURPHY, LOCAL LAD

Honorably discharged because of a defect in his physical make-up, Elmer Murphy is returning to Woodland from Florida and is expected to reach here this week. Murphy will bring the first direct news home from the Yolo county boys aboard the U. S. battleship Huntington. Murphy was rejected on account of his flat feet.

With the other local lads, Murphy underwent the severe examinations imposed by navy surgeons. Although it is estimated that nearly twenty per cent of the navy recruits will be disqualified because of physical flaws, Murphy is the first of the Yolo sailors to be released. America's navy will be made up of the finest physical manhood in the nation. Murphy's physique conformed to all of the stringent requirements of the doctors, except that the arches of his feet had fallen and left him flat-footed.

CLAD IN OVERALLS, WOODLAND BOYS BEGIN REAL TRAINING WITH ENGINEERS

Blue denim overalls, a jumper which looks like a bobtailed nightie and goes on the same way, and a plate shaped hat of the same material, comprise the official uniform of the Eighth Reserve Engineers, according to word received today from Meredith Gregory and Trenton Taylor, now in training at American Lake, Washington.

The overalls and auxiliaries will form the permanent fatigue garb of the engineers, and the regulation army uniform will be used only for dress. A supply of the latter already is on hand, but has not yet been issued. As a special concession the men, therefore, are allowed to wear their "cits" on their time off spent in the city. Saturday nights and Sundays, incidentally will probably be the only liberty allowed.

The overalls have been found a particularly appropriate uniform to date. The first detachments arriving had to erect the tents—the entire regiment being under canvas—level the ground, dig laterals and drains and lay floors. And in this work the reason for the donation to the government of this reservation of 70,000 acres or thereabouts was disclosed—boulders, which begin a few inches beneath an innocent looking surface, continue as far as anybody has yet gone.

The cars on which Gregory and Taylor were transported with the rest of the engineers was epigrammed with such information as "Berlin or Bust," "Farm, Fight or Finance," "The Kaiser's Goat Getters," "Trance Bound." On the way up the boys received ovations at every town and dogs—for prospective mascots—at most of them.

Yesterday Major A. J. Clark, regimental surgeon, addressed the assembled camp—now numbering upwards of 600—on sanitation, announcing that there will be three injections of anti-typoid prophylaxis and three of anti-paratyphoid fluid. These will be administered at intervals of four days, he added, although the ordinary interval is ten days, because the War Department wants to get the men in readiness to depart as soon as possible.

PICK AND SHOVEL DRILL.

The routine of the day following the completion of the regiment will include from four to five hours' exercise and drill each day. It has not yet been decided whether side arms or rifles will be given out. The manual of arms will come later, only the rudiments of this study having been acquired to date with picks and shovels.

There has been no sickness and no one in the guardhouse. University graduates accustomed to a room and bath have shown no distaste at sharing a tent with seven others, and the man accustomed to a fingerbowl has not yet complained about the absence of butter at one meal a day. One private who made $5000 a year and took his golf sticks along, figuring that the shell hoes would be ideal obstacles for a course on the battlefield, had to pick up cigarette butts on the company street.

The Red Cross headquarters were moved yesterday from the old Bank of Woodland corner to the Yolo County Board of Trade rooms, opposite the I. O. O. F. Hall building. The move was made necessary because the old location has been leased by the Yolo Water & Power company and workmen will be put to work making necessary changes for the new tenants.

There will be a meeting today at 1:30 o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall in the small banquet room, of all the officers, including the executive committee and vice presidents of the county chapter. The purpose is to receive reports of those working over the county on the membership. A discussion will also be carried on relative to the national campaign to raise the hundred million dollar fund for the central organization, which has been deemed the present requirement to make the work efficient along the fields of conflict.

The benefit given the Woodland Chapter yesterday through the courtesy of Mr. Webster of the Strand, was one of the successes of the season. The theater was packed and the pictures were first class. Mr. Webster had prepared for the hot day and had a number of electric fans scattered about the room, thereby providing for the comfort as well as the entertainment of those who attended. The financial returns were most satisfactory, and the best of it was that every cent goes to the Red Cross.

Advised Not To Solicit Funds For Woodland Home Guards; Federal Authorities Will Supply Equipment

Soliciting of funds for home guards should be discouraged, as the federal government will eventually equip the community organizations. So writes Adjutant General Borree to the Yolo Defense Council.

Borree's letter follows:

June 19, 1917.

Honorable W. A. Anderson, Chairman Yolo County Council of Defense, Woodland, California—Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of June 11, 1917, with reference to soliciting of funds for the equipment of the Woodland Home Guard.

This is, indeed, a difficult question to answer and one which I believe should be decided by the County Council of Defense.

I am of the opinion that the federal government will eventually arm the home guard organizations. A bill to that effect has been passed by congress and is now before the president for signature. I cannot state when such arms would be available for issue. It would probably be some little time. I would discourage the soliciting of funds to equip home guard companies until the president has taken action on the bill now before him.

As a matter of fact, the home guard companies can do a great deal better drilling without arms for two or three months. I realize it is a difficult matter to convince men of this, but in the regular army recruits are not given a rifle for at least three months.

Should the home guard company be needed for service in the near future, arms can then be secured upon short notice for such emergency. Very respectfully,

J. J. BORREE,

Brig. Gen., N. G. C.,
The Adjutant General.

$15,000 Red Cross Fund to Be Raised

Yolo County's Share of Great Drive for $100,000,000 Must Be Subscribed This Week to Hold Up Our End

First Donation

The first donation to be officially announced from this county for our portion of the $100,000,000 Red Cross fund, comes from Woodland Commandery, No. 21, K. T. that Masonic body having voted the sum of $250 for the purpose last night.

Every one of us at one time or another have heard some one say, "Well, that job's done and now I can take a breathing spell."

It is all right to take a breathing spell if you are sure the job is finished, but so many of us want to stop at the half way station and console ourselves with the thought that we have reached the journey's end.

And in this Red Cross matter we have hardly started. It is going to be our job, yours and mine, to keep it going for the full term of the war. It will be more and more impressed upon us as time goes on that it is the bounden duty of those of us who have to stay at home, to provide the money to make life as safe and comfortable for the boys who are on the firing line as possible. Patriotism calls for nothing else, our government requires just that much.

$100,000,000 THIS WEEK

During the present week, beginning June 18 and ending June 25, this country is going to raise a special relief fund for the Red Cross Society of $100,000,000. That represents just one dollar for every man, woman and child in the nation. This country is called on to do its share and we must not fail. That duty, the duty nearest for solution at this present moment is to raise $15,000, as our contribution, for there are 15,000 men, women and children in this county. Every other locality in the land is working hard toward that end. Yolo never failed on a job yet, and we feel sure she will not at this critical time in the history of the country.

The Red Cross officials met yesterday at the Yolo county court room and outlined a plan whereby it is hoped to make a quick and effective campaign. That plan is simple and, we believe, is just. It is in the hands of the finance committee of the Yolo County Chapter, the committee being composed of T. S. Spaulding, S. M. Griggs, J. D. Harling, H. L. Huston and R. G. Lawson.

ROLL OF HONOR OF 150

The plan contemplates the securing a roster of 150 names compiled from the great register and the telephone directory of the county, the names to be of those who are financially able to make a contribution of $100. That will total the full $15,000. This list will be kept on file as the first roll of honor of the county and those making the contribution will be exempt from a call for other donations until the time when others have been called on to do their share. Some are more fortunate than others and can give more. Those are the ones who will be called on first. Other calls for funds for necessary requirements will be based on the financial ability to respond.

A PATRIOTIC CHARGE

Under the present situation, with the country engaged in a mighty war, contributions take on an aspect of more than voluntary response; it becomes a patriotic charge and must be met, even though there may be some bit of self denial involved. It is not a question of begging money, it is simply a sort of official duty of those in charge to call your attention to the fact that so much is due from you for a specified purpose.

May there be none who will shrink from meeting the demand if it should be your fortune to be one of the first 150 conscripted by the finance committee. Send your check with a smile and a hearty word of good will.

Clubwomen of Yolo Will Be Mobilized

Meeting of Heads of All Organizations in County Is Called at Request From National Headquarters

A call for the mobilization of all the women of the nation, to bear their share of the burdens of war, has been received in Yolo county. Operating through those bodies of women who are already organized into clubs, associations and the like, the first step will be taken "to enlist at once the greatest possible number in the service which the national crisis demands and to prevent all duplication and overlapping of activities." This plan of organization links in complete co-operation existing organizations of women.

The call to this county has been received by Mrs. H. J. Shute, for the past five years principal of the Esparto Union High school, from Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, California chairman of the Woman's committee, Councils of National and State Defense. As a result a meeting of all the heads of every organized woman's club in Yolo county have been called to meet in Woodland next Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the club room of the city library, at which time preliminary organization of such clubs will be perfected to prepare the members for such service that may be asked of them by the government.

MRS. SHUTE TO PRESIDE

As temporary chairman of this meeting Mrs. Shute has been named by Mrs. Cable, and in her hands rest the duties attending the first gathering. Special attention is being called to the fact that the leader, or her representative, of every organization of women in the county, no matter how large or small, be present. It was a wise step which prompted the national leaders to pick the women's organization of the nation through which to work in this worthy cause and it is now up to these units to respond unanimously.

Among those clubs which are expected to be represented are the

MRS. H. J. Shute, Esparto Teacher, Who Is Head of War Organization of Clubs.

Town and County Club of Yolo county, with its several units, the Study Club, Dramatic Club, Letters and Art Club, Current Topics Jr. Club, Cos Lectura Club, Current Events Club, all of Woodland and the branches at Rumsey, Guinda and Winters. Clubs which are not affiliated with the Town and Country Club are the Shakespeare Club, Fortnightly Club, Current Topics Club and Parent-Teachers Club of Woodland, and the Leisure Hour and Women's Improvement Club of Davis, Thursday Study Club of Yolo, Women's Improvement Club of Knight's Landing. There are still others, which might not be listed in the above which are expected to participate in the meeting.

Just the nature of the work to be assigned the great organizations of women, under this plan, has not been divulged and no idea of it will be made at the meeting here Saturday. That gathering will be merely for consolidating the existing clubs for the common cause, the fight for liberty and democracy against a common enemy.

Divide County in Districts To Solicit Red Cross Fund

Finance Committee of Yolo Chapter Names Some of Prominent Citizens to Take Charge of Work in Field—Deputies Will Be at Work Today Subscribing Our Share to Worthy Cause

The finance committee of the County Red Cross Chapter met last night to inaugurate the details to be adopted for the purpose of securing at the earliest possible date the $15,000 which has been determined as the proper share of Yolo County in the $100,000,000 special Red Cross fund, being raised this week in the nation.

Those present were J. D. Harling, T. S. Spaulding, H. L. Huston, R. G. Lawson, S. M. Griggs, of the committee and J. I. McConnell, president of the Chapter. It was determined the best plan would be to apportion the county into districts and to appoint solicitors for each district. Following that plan the appointments made are for north Woodland, Mrs. C. W. Bush, and C. Q. Nelson; west of Woodland, Mrs. E. A. Bullard, Mrs. Lydia D. Lawhead; east of Woodland Miss Annie Blowers and Geo. Zane; south of Woodland, Mrs. G. H. Hecke and Wm. Gould; Yolo, B. Borach and

Mrs. Chas. Hoppin; Blacks, Ed. Clover and Mrs. Geo. Houx; Rumsey, Ben Lloyd and Miss Silvia Morrin; Guinda Mrs. B. F. Davisson and M. H. Stitt; Knights Landing Mrs. T. H. Dixon; Dunnigan, Mrs. S. W. Barker; Willow Oak Park, J. M. Fishback and Mrs. E. C. Snively; Esparto, Sam Schwab and Mrs. Geo. Stephens; Madison, Miss Verdere Archer and J. L. M. Shetterly; Winters, Mrs. T. A. "Bit" Toward Winning War Sure To Attract Nation-Wide Attention

HERBERT HOOVER INFORMED OF YOLO'S "BIT" FOR NATION

SECRETARY FRED SHAFFER, OF THE YOLO COUNTY BOARD OF TRADE, HAS FORWARDED THE FOLLOWING TELEGRAM TO HERBERT C. HOOVER, FOOD DIRECTOR, IN WASHINGTON:

"Conservative official crop estimate for Yolo county places value of her contribution to season's food supply in agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, live stock and dairy products at twenty million dollars. Population of county estimated at fourteen thousand, representing average production of over one thousand four hundred dollars for every man, woman and child in county. Subscription of citizens and banks to Liberty Loan Bonds was over forty-seven dollars per capita, or almost one fifty-dollar bond for each inhabitant. One out of eight of male citizens in county has either registered without exemption, joined army or in home guard service. Our people, our purses and our prayers are with you. If we come across as we ought to, the Kaiser can't if he wants to."

"If we come across as we ought to, the Kaiser can't if he wants to," is the Yolo County slogan and actual deductions furnish proof of its efficiency. The county leads in every field of patriotic endeavor. Systematic organization and active effort combined with the patriotic sentiment of the people brings the results.

ALMOST BOND FOR EVERY RESIDENT.

Estimating the population of the county at 14,000, the people, with a subscription of $661,350, purchased over $47 per capita, or almost a $50 bond for every man, woman and child in the county, of the Liberty Loan bonds.

ONE OUT OF SEVEN IN RED CROSS.

The total Red Cross membership of the county is in excess of 2000, or one member out of every seven in population. So far the amount contributed to the Red Cross has been over $2500, and a campaign is on to raise $15,000 additional.

ONE OF EIGHT MALES ANSWER CALL.

The total registration in the county was 1625, and out of this number 553 did not claim exemptions. The active volunteer list of the county, including those not claiming exemption on the date of registration, is as follows: 553 not claiming exemptions; 60 enlisted in F Company; 80 enlisted in navy; 15 enlisted in engineer corps; 100 in Woodland Home Guard; 50 in Davis Home Guard; 12 in Boy Scouts—total, 870.

This represents over 6 per cent of the population of the county, or one out of every sixteen of the inhabitants. Assuming that one half the population is male, it would represent one out of every eight ready for service for his country.

ENORMOUS PRODUCTION, $1400 PER CAPITA.

Nearly every available acre is under cultivation—a large area being cropped a second time. The total agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, live stock and dairy production is by conservative official estimate placed at twenty million. This would represent a production of $1400 per capita for the population of the county, and an average production of over $48 per acre.

SUPERVISORS DOING THEIR PART.

The county board of supervisors, in order to protect the grain for food use during the crisis has passed an ordinance compelling growers and harvesters to protect the fields by plowing fire-guards and carrying fire extinguishers. The supervisors have also purchased a county fire truck, ready for call from any part of the county. This has already saved thousands of acres of grain.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS IN FIELDS.

One hundred and fifty high school boys have been mobilized to furnish labor in harvesting and are now employed in various lines. One hundred high school girls will assist in the work of harvesting the fruit.

DEFENSE COUNCIL DOING IMPORTANT WORK.

The County Council of Defense is urging economy in all matters. All-county meetings for the purpose of kindling the fires of patriotism are recommended by the council. Memorial Day was one of these occasions in Woodland. July 4 will be the next one at Winters. It is estimated that 10,000 people attended the Memorial Day services in Woodland. Winters will attract almost as many.

Mayor of Woodland Urges All Citizens to Help Red Cross

Urging the citizens of Woodland to give without solicitation to the Red Cross fund during this week of great national campaign to raise the sum of $100,000,000, Mayor C. W. Wilcox yesterday issued the following statement:

"To the People of Woodland:

"This is Red Cross Week.

"The Liberty Bonds will organize and equip the armies to fight for Liberty and Righteousness. To the American Red Cross is given the care of our soldiers who are injured, sick or in other need.

"There, the Red Cross and Liberty Bond go hand in hand—one as essential as the other.

"Woodland met the Liberty Bond campaign with patriotic response. Woodland has no explanations or apologies to make for her cheerful cooperation with the government.

OUR ALLOTMENT $15,000.

"We are now in the midst of a Red Cross Drive to raise our allotment of $15,000, or practically one dollar for each man, woman and child. Every city in the United States is likewise engaged in raising an apportioned sum of save our boys from the pangs of unattended pain.

"The President of the United States who is at the head of the head of the American Red Cross, has set aside this week for this humanitarian work.

"The War Department audits the Red Cross books and never a question has been raised about honesty or efficiency.

"One hundred cents of your Dollar will go to reduce the misery of war.

"The merchants, professional busness men and ranchers, who have establishments in Woodland and other cities also, must not forget their duty to Woodland—the city supporting them in part.

CALLS FOR DONATIONS

"As mayor of Woodland, I call upon all residents of Woodland to donate to Yolo County's Red Cross Fund. Where you live is where you should give.

"People of Woodland—don't wait for solicitation. It is our duty to offer and not to be nagged.

"If you have a son or brother eligible to honor in his country's service, surely you will contribute to his comfort and safety. If you have no dear ones to answer the call, then above all others you should help those who are to fight your battles.

"Yours for victory through sacrifice and faith.

"C. R. WILCOXON,
"Mayor of the City of Woodland."

Call Comes For Recruits; Ashley Worley And Lester Johnston Report With Engineers

Uncertainties of military business and the determined manner in which this country is going about its war against the kaiser, were never more illustrated than in the case of Ashley Worley, local attorney, and Lester Johnston, grocer of this city.

Worley and Johnston enlisted at Sacramento last Tuesday with A Company, of the California National Guard Engineers, expecting that they would not be called before August 1. Last night telegrams reached Woodland, advising both young men to report at once at the Sacramento armory.

Worley and Johnston left for camp this morning. According to their latest instructions, they will probably remain at Sacramento for a few days only. The training camp of their company will either be at Lake Washington or Linda Vista.

Coming from the Red Cross Council, the following telegram received in Woodland today:

Washington, D. C., June 22,

J. I. McConnell, Chairman American Red Cross, Woodland, Cal.

Returns pouring in from parts of country, in great war fund campaign, but have not heard from your community. Are you conducting campaign; if not, will you give citizens chance to contribute to this patriotic enterprise? Those of our gallant men who are fighting for us must not be neglected by us. They are going to uphold the rights of all the people, and it is as little as we do to open our purses and see that our sick and wounded soldiers are given the best care on the field of battle in hospitals. This Red Cross money goes straight to help our sick and wounded and the appeal must go straight to the heart of every lover of his country.

C. W. DENTRICH, Secretary Red Cross War Council. Following the receipt of the telegram, J. I. McConnell dictated this message to the people of Yolo county: "Citizens of Yolo County: What are you going to do about this? The council is in the midst of a great money raising campaign."

Yolo County Denizens Must Not Snort: "Let The Big Fellow Do It"

By the number of subscribers as well as the aggregate donations will Yolo county's faith in the Red Cross be determined. There are hundreds in this section who have not even affiliated with this great mercy organization, say the local workers.

The present war is a fight for all the people. That its ends may succeed it must be waged by all the people.

Yolo's residents each must be willing to do his or her part for the Red Cross, loyal and earnest and faithful to the cause of democracy.

Let the big fellow do it?

No!

Let us, all the people, contribute according to our means.

Eleven $500 subscriptions were reported Friday evening. The donors were Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Laugenour, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Griffin (of Winters), Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Ashley, Mrs. C. W. Bush, R. J. Gibson, G. N. Merritt, J. L. Stephens, Bullard Brothers, C. Q. Nelson, Thomas, Stephens & Mattei and Samuel Schwab (Esparto).

FAIR SEX BEGIN AN ECONOMY CRUSADE

Executive Meeting of All Yolo County Club Presidents Develops Plan

NEW WAY CLUB IS FORMED

Many Problems Now Confront
Women; Expect Economy
In Wake of Activity

How the women of Yolo county are to do their "bit" toward winning the tremendous struggle for democracy was outlined this afternoon, at an important executive meeting in the basement of the county library in Woodland of the presidents of all the women's clubs in the county.

PLANS EXPLAINED.

Mrs. H. J. Shute, former principal of the Esparto Union High School, presided and explained the plan of work detailed by the California Women's Committee of the Councils of National and State Defense. Under the direction of the state committee, which is co-operating with the national women's committee, the Yolo county women decided to carry out the proposed scheme of work suggested. The various county units will work in full harmony with one general county committee and will co-operate also with the county council of defense.

The new Yolo war committee will have nothing to do with the Red Cross Society. It will be known as the Yolo County Women's Committee of the Councils of State and National Defense.

ACTIVITIES OUTLINED.

It will be the duty of this new general women's committee to recommend work to the unit organizations, plans for which will tend to promote these interests: Registration for service, home relief, allied relief, food production, conservation and thrift,

Americanization labor of women, public health, child welfare, instruction courses, protective regulation (recreation), conservation of moral and spiritual forces.

CONSERVATION IDEA.

The object in forming the new women's committee is to co-ordinate women's organization and their working forces, in order to enlist at once the greatest possible number in the service which the national crisis demands.

The Yolo county general committee will report frequently to the state committee, which in turn will tell of California's accomplishments to the women's committee of the council of national defense at Washington, D. C.

TEST OF PATRIOTIC DEVOTION CARRIED IN RED CROSS CAUSE

Calling upon the people of Yolo county not to procrastinate in the subscribing of our $15,000 share of the great $100,000,000 Red Cross fund being raised this week throughout the nation for the protection and comfort of the American soldier boys at the front, J. I. McConnell, chairman of the Yolo chapter of that organization, has issued the following statement to the people:

"The Red Cross War Council has made a demand upon Yolo County for her proportion of the $100,000,000 which the Government is raising as a means of preparing against the time when our soldier boys will require medical, surgical and other care.

"Our donation must not be less than $15,000. Yolo county has an honorable reputation for doing its duty in all emergencies. The test of our liberality and our patriotic devotion to our country is now at hand. We cannot afford to be a slacker county. We must not procrastinate. The sick of the army and the wounded on the battle field cannot endure to wait on the tardy action of those who look with greed upon war stained profits.

"You may have no son or relative to offer as a sacrifice but your friend and neighbor has. His sacrifice is your gain in national freedom and commercial profit. Meet your friend half way; while he gives a member of the family you must give of your profits to care, comfort and protect his soldier boy.

"More than 100 of our young men are in the army and navy today, and 300 more are subject to immediate call. Are you not ready and willing to provide protection for them in advance. Nobody can refuse this call with any reasonable argument. Wounded soldiers are not enemies. The Red Cross bestows assistance upon friend and foe. Let us help to build up as great a charitable organization in the American Red Cross as Japan and Germany possess, and be as liberal in the bestowal of assistance. We must prove that the U. S. is second to none in either patriotism or in our practical national charity."

No longer is there any question of Yolo county raising her fair proportion of the $100,000,000 special Red Cross fund, the drive for which is nation wide this week. The books are to be closed on the night of the 25th and by that time it is our bounden duty to have reached to the limit set for us as our share, $15,000.

Eleven subscriptions of $500 each were received yesterday by the committees working about Woodland. It is hoped to have several more by the close of work today. The list will be published daily, with all additions until the sum is in hand.

All the committees over the county are working diligently and when the reports begin to come in there will be some surprises if bits of information which are filtering into town are correct. The list this morning contains only the names of those who have the maximum amount asked. Beginning tomorrow the lesser amounts will be included.

A number of public spirited citizens, men and women, have responded most generously, but there are many more whose duty it is to make a contribution of $100, or more toward the goal.

Two more subscriptions of $500. were received yesterday, one by G. H. Hecke, state commissioner of horticulture, and the other by Baird Bros., farmers east of Woodland. Several subscriptions of $100 and over were received. It is known that several substantial donations have been made to committees working in various parts of the county which have not yet been officially noted by the finance committee.

Clubwomen Organize For Service in War

Representatives of Fifteen Yolo County Clubs Meet and Name Officers to Carry on Work Under Direction of California
Women's Committee of Councils of National-State Defense

Responding to a call from the California Women's Committee of the Councils of Nation and State Defense, the clubwomen of Yolo county yesterday perfected an organization consolidating fifteen of the existing clubs whose executive duty it will become to work in harmony with other bodies of a like nature throughout the nation in aiding the country in the war. Officers chosen were: Mrs. H. J. Shute of Esparto, permanent chairman; Mrs. H. E. Coll, vice-chairman; Mrs. A. G. Bailey, secretary; Mrs. Leander Turney, treasurer.

The meeting was held in the rooms of the Yolo County library and those who attended as official representatives of the respective clubs manifested an interest which showed that the women of the county are as ready and willing to do their share in the country's crisis as are the men who are eligible to bear arms.

PROVIDE FOR COMMITTEE

The name of the organization formed yesterday will be the Yolo County Women's Committee. Its activities will be directed by the four officers elected yesterday, who have the power to appoint as many additional members as their desire to form an executive committee. The chairman, Mrs. Shute, automatically becomes an advisory member of the state council of defense.

The primary subjects of attention for the county committee are:

1. Registration for service.

2. Home relief.

3. Allied relief.

4. Food production, conservation and thrift.
5. Americanization.
6. Labor of women
7. Public health.
8. Child welfare
9. Instruction Courses
10. Protective regulation (recreation).
11. Conservation of moral and spiritual forces.

This plan of proposed organization merely links together in complete working co-operation existing organizations of women.

UNIFICATION MAIN OBJECT

The object of the plan of organization proposed is to CO-ORDINATE women's organizations and their working forces in order to enlist at once, the greatest possible number in the service which the national crisis demands. It is also most desirable that no defense work of any kind already done shall be lost. Each county division will be expected to investigate the work under way and so to co-ordinate activities as to eliminate duplication and overlapping. Each county will find problems peculiar to itself but the good judgment of all women in charge of organized work will so clearly realize the importance of unification that the solution should readily be found. It should be remembered that the women's committee of the council of national and state defense desires to conserve everything useful in the way of work and organization and advises centralization in the interest of higher efficiency.

YOLO TO FORE IN GETTING DOLLARS

Sure To Reach Amount Asked By Red Cross
National Committee

Yolo county's Red Cross fund is growing at the rate of $50 an hour. This county's $15,000 debt to humanity is sure to be paid.

At press time this afternoon, J. I. McConnell, chairman of the Yolo County Red Cross financial committee, issued this statement:

"If promises made to us earlier in the campaign are fulfilled—and I believe they will be, Yolo county will over-subscribe her allotment of Red Cross money. Actual money returns show that we are within $1000 of the $15,000 checked against us. The committee is bending every effort to meet the demand of the mercy department of this nation. Those who have not yet subscribed to this great humanity enterprise, should do so within the next twelve hours."

Winters jumped to the front today, when J. R. Griffin announced that he and the other Red Cross workers in that district had obtained $2300. Esparto, too, made a splendid showing. The sum of $600 was turned in by Esparto workers, which, added with the noteworthy contributions of the Stephens interests, gives the little western Yolo town a prominent place on the Red Cross map. Zamora has also donated generously, there being $450 accounted for by the people of that thriving little city. The city of Davis has reported $400, but is expected to increase that amount before the books are closed. Knights Landing and other rural districts are yet to be heard from.

Woodland's contribution, it is estimated, will be upwards of $10,000.

Finds It Easier Training In Army Than On a Paper

Writing here from the U. S. Marine Corps' Barracks at Mare Island, Willis T. Chapman, former item collaborator for the "Democrat," declares that he is a private among four thousand marines in active training. "It's a great game and I like the going," he says. "It doesn't pay quite as well as chasing news for a paper, but there is much less to worry about. It's like camping out and getting paid for it."

War Causes Fourth Vacancy In Hi Faculty

Leaving the fourth vacancy in the Woodland high school teaching staff, Irving Norton, commercial instructor, has resigned and enlisted in the U. S. Ambulance Corps being organized at Sacramento for service in France. Norton expects to be called as soon as the unit is recruited to full strength.

Barber Changes To U. S. Engineer; I. Bostwick Joins

Irvin Bostwick, likeable young fellow who has been employed at the Holloway-Shellhammer barber shop, heard the call of Uncle Sam last night and joined the California National Guard engineers' corps at Sacramento. He will report to camp Thursday. This is the same organization in which Attorney Ashley Worley and Lester Johnston, also of Woodland, are already enlisted.

EXTEND TIME FOR YOLO TO DONATE RED CROSS FUND

County is Short Almost Four Thousand Dollars When End Of Week Has Been Reached

WILL NOT SHIRK TASK

Substantial Subscriptions in Winters and Davis Reported
But Amount Not Received

Yolo county never yet failed to accomplish a task which she had set for herself, nor will she fail in raising the required $15,000 as her proportion for the $100,000,000 special Red Cross fund. The time was up last night and only $11,150. of the sum has been officially announced, but the committee has "its mad up" now and has arbitrarily extended the time for another 24 hours, in which to raise the balance of $3,850.

The amount reported this morning does not represent all the funds in hand as there are a number of subscriptions in lesser amounts than the minimum of $100. set by the committee. These amounts will be published later, but until the sum really amounts to near the total it has been thought wise to withhold these smaller amounts.

Word was received last night from Joe Griffin, who with Mrs. Sparks is canvassing the Winters section, that a nice amount would be sent over from there, but it was not possible to get it here on Monday. Solicitors are also working in the Davis section and it is fully expected that a substantial sum will be reported from there. Whatever happens, Yolo county is going to raise the sum set for her.

Home Guard Is Cool Headed in Any Emergency

The usual semi-weekly drill of the Home Guard last night was made of a rather unusual character from the fact that the Morris Pastuerizing plant sent the boys four gallons of ice cream. The way they 'tore' into it demonstrates the fact that they are ready for any emergency. When they got through with that ice cream there was nothing left but a lot of contented looks and nothing was heard but contented sighs. Trench warfare has its bright spots after all.

A communication was read from the Winters Fourth of July committee, inviting the guard to participate in the parade on Independence Day. Formal action will be had on Thursday night, with indications that it will be accepted. District Attorney McDonald, member of the county council of defense, was present and was asked what chance there was for some sort of equipment for the company. He said he thought the time had arrived when arms should be provided and he said he would bring the matter to the attention of the council.

OVER HALF OF TOTAL GIVEN IN WOODLAND

Yolo county's contribution to the Red Cross will be in excess of $17,521.50 instead of $15,000, the amount asked for at national headquarters. Residents of Woodland accounted for $11,368.50, Winters $2413, Esparto $900, Yolo $800, Madison $650, Davis $550, Capay $400, Zamora $325 and Knights Landing $140. Guinda and several other small districts in the county are yet to be heard from. Here is the official list:

TOTAL MAY REACH $18,000

Although Books Closed, More

Swell Mercy Fund

(By J. I. McConnell, Chairman Yolo County Red Cross Chapter.)

The Books are Closed.
A drive of five days has resulted in donations amounting to approximately $18,000 to the one hundred million dollar Red Cross fund.

Yolo county has done her part nobly without noise or friction.

Liberal responses have come from every section of the county. The responses would have been great but really the work has been done quietly and rapidly that the books were closed before some worthy and willing people were aware of the drive.

To those who have not had a chance to give, we say, do not be disheartened. Should the war continue, another call will be made, because $100,000,000 will soon be used in the greatest and noblest of protective charities.

In behalf of the Yolo County Chapter of the American Red Cross, as chairman, I thank everybody for the loyal assistance rendered during the campaign. Although this is the busy time of the year, the call to the workers found no slackers.

The work has been well done. Yolo county has again asserted herself through the agency of her loyal, sympathetic, patriotic and devoted citizens.

Personally, I thank everyone who has made a donation or assisted in the good work.

Donations reported on page three of today's "Democrat" show that the sum of $17,521.50 has been accounted for. Since that list was compiled, the local Red Cross workers have received additional amounts, which when totaled will bring Yolo's contribution close to the $18,000 mark, or $3000 over the amount asked of this county.

All Yolo Japs Will Be Red Cross Workers

Humanity's appeal through the Red Cross does not confine itself to the Caucasian race, says G. Y. Noda, a Woodland Japanese farmer. Noda has been interesting himself in the Yolo Red Cross chapter. He took out membership papers this morning and declared that every Japanese in the county would follow his example.

Noda was greatly pleased when told that eight of his countrymen had secured Red Cross buttons Tuesday. Noda talks the English language clearly. "You bet, we brown men will all be with Uncle Sam," he said this morning. "And I'll tell you something else; we'll help United States clean up on the kaiser. He can't beat us."

Contributions to the amount of $891.50 were added today to the list published in the "Democrat" Wednesday, bringing the grand total up to $18,412.80, or $3,412.80 more than was asked of Yolo by the national committee.

New contributions include the sum of $96.50 raised by the Japanese of this community. The new list follows:

George Osterman left last night for San Francisco, where he will investigate army and navy conditions with the intention of enlisting. Osterman will likely apply for admittance into the Officers' Reserve training camp at the Presidio. He has had twelve years' practical experience in electrical and engineering work of various kinds and should make a valuable acquisition to Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

CLERGYMEN OF COUNTY TO PREACH FOOD CONSERVATION FROM PULPITS

Residents of Yolo county are going to have an opportunity to show their patriotism by taking a hand in helping Uncle Sam to solve the problem of conserving the food supply for this nation and its allies.

This section did nobly in helping Uncle Sam to fill his war chest by buying Liberty Bonds. The people have also done themselves proud by giving money to the $100,000,000 fund which is to provide the relief for the soldiers and war victims not provided for by army and navy boards, or by government appropriations.

Now the people of this community are to be asked to do something else that is big and grand and patriotic.

The "Democrat" is in receipt of a letter from Herbert C. Hoover, who has been placed by President Wilson at the head of the food service department, in which he proposes a plan, through the press and pulpit, to enlist the co-operation of the people in a great food conservation plan of work.

In his letter to this paper, Mr. Hoover says, in part:

"There will be mailed to every minister whose name I can secure a personal letter over my signature asking him to preach upon the subject of Food Conservation on Sunday, July 1. In the same letter, I shall express the hope that this day will become known as 'Food Saving Day,' and that it may be made the purpose and motto of every household in America to Save the Waste and Win the War."

Mr. Hoover points out that it is necessary to enlist the civic, fraternal, patriotic and other organizations in Yolo county in an effort to make "Food Saving Day" really effective in conserving the food supply for the United States and the allies and "in reducing the cost of living to our own people."

EXTENSION OF TIME BRINGS FORTH MANY DONATIONS

Proof That Our People Realize Worthy Cause Is Had in the Generous Response From All Parts of County

Well, we did it!

Subscribed our quota of $15,000 to the Red Cross emergency fund and what is more we have reached a $2,000 over-subscription. The total amount shown by the tabulation published in this issue of the Mail is $17,019.50. A hard pull on the wind-up yesterday brought it up to the seventeen thousand dollar mark. It may even reach more than that as there are several places yet to hear from.

It is a good job well done, and as predicted, Yolo county has measured up to her full duty in this as in all other things. Yesterday was an active day with the workers; everyone went out determined that the four thousand dollar shortage of the night before must be overcome. New leads were opened and unexpected finds were made. People are beginning to realize that it is their bounden duty to meet the call for emergencies and are willing to meet the demand.

FOUR DAYS OF WORK

The campaign has lasted for four days of actual work and the engaged in raising the sum have given practically every minute of their time to the task. Chairman of the Yolo county chapter, J. I. McConnell, is pleased at the result of the efforts of his committeemen and is also well pleased that his county is one of the many in the Union which has over-subscribed the per capita quota.

As was expected, Woodland, being the center of the greater population, subscribed the largest amount, her response to the fund being $10,916.50. Winters did mighty well, and all the county is proud of her. Under the driving power of Joe Griffin and Mrs. Sparks, she leads all outside districts with a total subscription of $2,413. Some of the other outside districts have come up to expectation.

TO MAIN RED CROSS

It must be borne in mind that this sum goes in its entirety to Washington as a special Red Cross fund for emergency work. The county chapter is still seeking new members and its needs must per force be taken care of by the residents of the county. There will be other sums to raise, but not in such large sums. Those who have been disappointed in not being called on to contribute in this instance will have an outlet for their patriotism by subscribing as liberally as possible to the local work, as the many hundreds of women members are getting into shape to begin work on hospital supplies and the money to purchase the material must be provided.

WOMEN ASKED TO WIRE CONGRESS

Demands For Immediate Food Legislation To Be Asked In Local Telegram

YOLO WOMEN IN CHARGE

"Those At Home Can Give No Nobler Service," Says Mrs. Shute

"Urge that letters and telegrams be sent immediately to senators and members of congress, demanding that food legislation measures now pending in congress be passed without delay."

Such is the text of a telegram just received in Woodland by Mrs. H. J. Shute, chairman of the Yolo County Women's Committee of the Councils of the State and National Defense.

Mrs. Shute anticipates that the women of this community will follow the suggestion contained in the message.

"Hundreds of personal communications to our congressmen and senators will be sent out of Woodland this week," said Mrs. Shute. "Those of us who remain at home can do no nobler service during this great war period than helping the fighter fight. Unless food legislation is enacted immediately, this country will be greatly hindered."

"Since food will decide the war, each Yolo county woman can do a real national service by wiring such a message as has been suggested by the national defense council. I expect Yolo women to respond heartily to the plan."

E. E. Gaddis, who had arranged a fishing trip of some duration, immediately communicated with Ashley and Swingle and the outing had to be abandoned. The three will probably take their oath of office late this afternoon, after which they will nominate a chairman and clerk. Within forty-eight hours Governor Stephens will have been notified that the Yolo exempters have complied with the government's orders.

CARDS TO BE

CHECKED MONDAY.

By Monday the local committee expects to be in possession of the 1625 registration cards in this county. Those cards that belong under the jurisdiction of the appellate board of this district will be mailed to that body.

All cards must be numbered and copies thereof sent to Adjutant General Borree within four days after the organization of the board.

TWO OF BOARD

WILL DECIDE.

A majority of the local board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If in the event two members are unable to agree, the matter upon which they disagree shall be submitted to the board when all three members are present, in which case the vote of any two shall decide.

The Yolo board will name an examining physician. One copy of the record of each business meeting must be filed with Governor Stephens.

FOUR LISTS OF

NAMES NECESSARY.

The board must prepare four duplicate lists of the names of all persons whose registration cards are in its possession. One copy must be posted in a conspicuous public place; one must be in the office of the board; one must go to the press; and another must be sent by registered mail to the Provost Marshal General.

MANNER OF DRAFT

ANNOUNCED LATER.

The method and manner of making the draft will be prescribed by later regulations. The quotas to be furnished by the local boards, too, shall be determined in accordance with regulations to follow.

Object Lesson Of Loyalty Provided By Yolo County Banks

(By Ed. E. Leake)

The banks of Yolo county have won a handsome reputation for commercial sagacity. They sacrificed something of it in the last few days, but gained a credit greater than any springing from shrewd business transactions.

Their action in giving aid to the raising of the Liberty Loan was what individuals disunited could not have performed. Banking is an extremely complicated function in the social organism, and its powers are immense. The Yolo county banks are heavily capitalized and their ramifications extend into multitudes of intricate paths. Their highly trained and well-salaried clerical forces could have been more remuneratively occupied for the employers than in devoting time to the Liberty Loan work. To the honor of county, banking and manhood they were not.

Some fine flowers are rising from the bloody soil of the war-clutched earth. They are perfuming the air in Yolo county. One that we should retain as the rosemary for remembrance to dispel a cankering pessimism is that commercialism destroys the nobler sentiments; that capital is a soulless thing heartlessly operated by men who have lost their souls in its accumulation for selfish purposes.

Banks more than anything else typify the money power. Yolo county's financial institutions are rated with the best of their kind. An object lesson is provided for us at our doors that devotion to monetary concerns does not dehumanize. Democracy called for help. No more unselfish, loyal and enthusiastic support leaped in answer to the cry than has come from the banks of our country, and, heaven, from our county.

Yolo County Is Working at Top Speed--Shaffer

TRADE SECRETARY SAYS EVERY CONSTRUCTIVE AGENT IS IN ACTION FOR OUR CREDIT

"Yolo county has made a wonderfully attractive record in her activities," said Secretary Shaffer, of the Yolo Board of Trade last night. "One can hardly pick up a paper that does not contain some complimentary mention of its achievements. There is reason for it. No county in California, or in the United States, possesses a more progressive people."

"The bankers, the board of supervisors, The Defense Council, the press citizens generally, and every factor contributing to constructive work is thoroughly alive and working. This is what makes for success. No community can succeed where those who possess the capital and the power refuse to wield it. During the past three months the active and organized effect of the best known and wealthiest citizens of the county has been exerted in behalf of preparedness. As a result Yolo county stands first in the list of counties to respond and this recognition is accorded her without question."

"These men feel that they owe a debt of gratitude to State, County and Nation and are doing more than their part. Where the thought and action of a community is prompted by such a spirit success is as certain as the rising and setting of the sun. They can't beat Yolo county—they can't even tie her."

Systematic Purchasing to Be Adopted By Red Cross of Yolo

The board of managers of the Yolo County Chapter of the American Red Cross met at the aBnk of Yolo Directors room last night, Chairman McConnell presiding.

Routine matters were first considered, among them being the payment of several bills contracted for materials and supplies. It was determined to lay in a supply of materials of various kinds for the different branches, the thought being that by purchasing in larger quantities it would conserve the funds of the branches as well as establish a uniformity of materials used in the various parts of the county.

To make clear the provisions laid down by the higher authorities the following resolution was adopted and to be promulgated throughout the county.

RESOLVED; That, in accordance with instructions from headquarters in San Francisco, that in as much as Military Relief committee of each chapter is the purchasing power and chapter, that all branches of Yolo county chapter be required hereafter make their purchases through the purchasing agent of the county chapter.

That They May Buy Own Suits and

PLANS LAID TO MARCH IN

City Wednesday Should Report

CAN YOU ASSIST?

At the meeting of the Home Guard last night, it was suggested that anyone who could furnish either an automobile, or seating room in one to go to Winters on the Fourth should report to either Fred Shaffer at the Board of Trade rooms; J. A. Murray, at the Woodland Hardware Company, or William Gould, County Horticultural Commissioner. The service of five or six machines will be required and reports should be made today. The machines will leave the armory at 8:30 Wednesday morning.

Three strong, vigorous features marked the drill and business meeting of the Woodland Home Guard last night.

1. The members are going to be uniformed.

2. Forty members will attend the celebration at Winters.

3. Prompted by the patriotic spirit shown by the local company Esparto is now asking that she be permitted to organize.

These three features serve to convey an idea of the power for good the organization is representing in the community.

Last night Judge Anderson, Supervisor Scott, William Gould, and C. Q. Nelson of the County Defense Council were present. Judge Anderson told of the visit of four members of the council to Sacramento, to confer with Adjutant General Borree in reference to guns and uniforms. Summed up, the reply of the Adjutant General indicated that the modern rifles would be available for distribution after August 15 and uniforms, preferably of an olive gray, could be purchased at any time by the members of the guard.

NELSON STARTS FUND
C. Q. Nelson suggested that the people would respond promptly to an appeal to uniform the guards and offered to start the list with a contribution of $100. This would represent quite a proportion of the amount as only about $750 or $800 would be required.

Secretary Fred Shaffer, of the Yolo County Board of Trade, Chairman Scott, of the Board of Supervisors William Gould and others made brief talks congratulating the guard upon the progress it had made in the few months of active drilling.

Shaffer was made an honorary member of the guard and appointed to assist the organization in publicity work required.

Captain Curson complimented the members upon their persistence in attending the drills during the hot weather and suggested that anyone subject to conscription should feel at liberty to meet and drill with the local organization as a matter of preparedness.

REALIZING IMPORTANCE

The public is fast becoming familiar with the importance of the work undertaken by the Home Guards, the organization not only stands in line for the protection of the interests of the people, should the necessity arise but it is also serving to kindle the fires of patriotism in all parts of the county.

Next Thursday night will be "ladies night" at the armory and the ladies are cordially invited to attend and witness the drill, gather some idea of the sacrifice being made by these men in time and effort and become more familiar with the good cause they have undertaken.

UNUSUAL COMPANY DEPARTS TO FRONT

Woodland Youth a Member of
Most Talented Troop Yet
Organized For France

REMARKABLE QUOTA ENLISTS

Men of University Prepared To Comfort, Entertain; Given
College Credits

Moreland Leithold of Woodland left this morning for Allentown, Pa., accompanying one of the most unique ambulance companies yet organized for service in France. The organization is prepared to give complete vaudeville and concert performances to the weary men in the trenches as well as to care for the wounded.

This company, which was the second to be formed in the United States, goes under the direction of Dr. Alvin Powell of Berkeley, who has been commissioned captain. Among those enlisted in it are five members of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society of the university, three men who took the honors of their classes, five members of the English Club, which has been responsible for many dramatic productions at the Greek Theater; many members of the Glee Club, two violinists, two cellists, a flutist, pianists, a banjo player and performers on many other instruments.

WILL ENTERTAIN SICK.

They are prepared already to entertain the sick, feeling that they may do much in this direction as well as in a medical one. A glee club of twenty singers has been formed. A group of three musicians will play chamber music; on the other hand, an orchestra of students who have played for many a college dance will do its different share. Athletes who have made names for themselves during their college years have organized two baseball teams in Red Cross Company Two and are planning to play on the other side on a holiday.

HISTORIAN TO TEACH.

One man in the organization is giving the others lectures in the history of France and the geography of the part of the country where they are going, with particular emphasis on the castles. Another has been instructing them on the architecture and on the stained glass for which France is famed. Scientific preparation in every direction has given the pilgrimage the university stamp.

FRENCH COOKS INSTRUCT.

Of the 119 enlisted men who will go with the five doctors and surgeons, only the cooks and a few of the mechanics are not either students or graduates of the university. Even the cooks are remarkably busy already, for they are all French, and all four have been drilling the company in the language of their "patrie" by telling them French stories.

EXTRAORDINARY QUOTA.

One cook is from the staff of chefs at the Palace hotel in San Francisco and another hails from the St. Francis. One of the privates of the company is the very responsible head of a bond house in San Francisco, while another is sales manager of a well-known importing house, with a large force of salesmen under him. Dr. Powell thinks the company owes its extraordinary quota of talent and mentality to the fact that it goes to do constructive work.

FOUR LEADING DOCTORS.

The other four doctors who accompany the force are: Dr. A. M. Meads, a son of Professor S. Meads of this city; Dr. Homer H. Wolf of Albion, Dr. D. L. Martin of Orland and Dr. Frank E. McCullough of Lincoln. Together with the enlisted men, they will remain in Allentown a brief time for further drill and then proceed to France for service.

FIRST AID PREPARATION.

Although the University of California has already sent three ambulance units to France, this is the first ambulance company to leave this side of the state. The members of the ambulance units are being trained in first aid and other special work. The company has been attending to the first aid and other special work. UP LACK IN MATERIALS

The Yolo county chapter of the Red Cross has received a copy of a letter which has been sent out to all Chapters of the Nation, in which is an urgent appeal for more speed in providing certain supplies for use in the war zone by the armies of the allies. The letter is being published in order to give as wide publicity as possible to the great need, and in order to effect a greater degree of speed by the various working sections. The letter is under date of June 25th and is as follows:

"Based upon recent cable advices from our allies the following supplies are urgently needed and all chapters are asked to ship to the nearest Branch Warehouse of the Red Cross Supply Service whatever supplies they may have on hand corresponding to this list and to speed up their work rooms on these particular articles.

350,000 Bath robes or Convalescent Gowns.

100,000 pairs of Bed socks.

700,000 handkerchiefs.

650,000 hospital bed shirts.

450,000 suits pajamas.

300,000 shoulder wraps.

800,000 pairs of socks.

250,000 pairs of ward slippers.

"These hospital garments are greatly needed now and should be made according to specifications given, in A. R. C. 165, pages 7-8.

"The production of bandages and surgical dressings, however, should not be allowed to fall off on account of this special appeal, as cable messages from Paris and Rome ask for a constant supply of these in view of the recent heavy fighting and the difficulty of getting the raw materials abroad.

"A special effort should be made to have the above articles shipped at the earliest date possible."

FAKE DRAFT "TIP" STIRS YOUNG MEN

Fake reports of numbers that had been drawn for the draft gained wide circulation in Woodland and elsewhere over the valley today. The rumor is supposed to have emanated from a Sacramento banker, who told it that he had private advices from a bonding house in San Francisco. Like wildfire the numbers spread over this section of the state. One local business house posted the numbers, and many an eligible young man wrote the same on his memorandum book and then hurried home to compare them with his registration card.

As the cards will not have been turned in until tomorrow in many sections of the country, the drawing could not possibly have taken place. The business of passing on the exemption claims will further delay the call.

At the headquarters of the Yolo exemption board today, it was said that 325 local cards would be ready to send to Governor Stephens and the Provost Marshal tonight. The board observed Independence Day by working for the government. E. E. Gaddis was selected chairman of the board and Kirk Swingle clerk.

Yolo Board Organizes For Duty
And Take the Official Oath of Office

INSTRUCTIONS COMPLETE

Governor To Be Told Monday That Local Board Has Obeyed Orders

Direct from Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder at Washington, D. C., this morning came the instructions to the Yolo county draft exemption board, advising the three members to organize and begin work at once. Along with the instructions from the national capital came the copies of the oaths of office which E. E. Gaddis, P. N. Ashley and Kirk Swingle, members of the local board, must take within twenty-four hours.

"JUDGES" FISHING TRIP ABANDONED.

E. E. Gaddis, who had arranged a fishing trip of some duration, immediately communicated with Ashley and Swingle and the outing had to be abandoned. The three will probably take their oath of office late this afternoon, after which they will nominate a chairman and clerk. Within forty-eight hours Governor Stephens will have been notified that the Yolo exempters have complied with the government's orders.

CARDS TO BE CHECKED MONDAY.

By Monday the local committee expects to be in possession of the 1625 registration cards in this county. Those cards that belong under the jurisdiction of the appellate board of this district will be mailed to that body.

All cards must be numbered and copies thereof sent to Adjutant General Borree within four days after the organization of the board.

TWO OF BOARD

WILL DECIDE.

A majority of the local board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If in the event two members are unable to agree, the matter upon which they disagree shall be submitted to the board when all three members are present, in which case the vote of any two shall decide.

The Yolo board will name an examining physician. One copy of the record of each business meeting must be filed with Governor Stephens.

FOUR LISTS OF

NAMES NECESSARY.

The board must prepare four duplicate lists of the names of all persons whose registration cards are in its possession. One copy must be posted in a conspicuous public place; one must be in the office of the board; one must go to the press; and another must be sent by registered mail to the Provost Marshal General.

MANNER OF DRAFT

ANNOUNCED LATER.

The method and manner of making the draft will be prescribed by later regulations. The quotas to be furnished by the local boards, too, shall be determined in accordance with regulations to follow.

Object Lesson Of Loyalty Provided By Yolo County Banks

(By Ed. E. Leake)

The banks of Yolo county have won a handsome reputation for commercial sagacity. They sacrificed something of it in the last few days, but gained a credit greater than any springing from shrewd business transactions.

Their action in giving aid to the raising of the Liberty Loan was what individuals disunited could not have performed. Banking is an extremely complicated function in the social organism, and its powers are immense. The Yolo county banks are heavily capitalized and their ramifications extend into multitudes of intricate paths. Their highly trained and well-salaried clerical forces could have been more remuneratively occupied for the employers than in devoting time to the Liberty Loan work. To the honor of county, banking and manhood they were not.

the bloody soil of the war-clutched earth. They are perfuming the air in Yolo county. One that we should retain as the rosemary for remembrance to dispel a cankered pessimism is that commercialism destroys the nobler sentiments; that capital is a soulless thing heartlessly operated by men who have lost their souls in its accumulation for selfish purposes.

Banks more than anything else typify the money power. Yolo county's financial institutions are rated with the best of their kind. An object lesson is provided for us at our doors that devotion to monetary concerns does not dehumanize. Democracy called for help. No more unselfish, loyal and enthusiastic support leaped in answer to the cry than has come from the banks of our country, and, heaven, from our county.

Yolo County Is Working at Top Speed--Shaffer

TRADE SECRETARY SAYS EVERY CONSTRUCTIVE AGENT IS IN

"Yolo county has made a wonderfully attractive record in her activities," said Secretary Shaffer, of the Yolo Board of Trade last night. "One can hardly pick up a paper that does not contain some complimentary mention of its achievements. There is reason for it. No county in California, or in the United States, possesses a more progressive people."

"The bankers, the board of supervisors, the Defense Council, the press citizens generally, and every factor contributing to constructive work is thoroughly alive and working. This is what makes for success. No community can succeed where those who possess the capital and the power refuse to weld it. During the past three months the active and organized effect of the best known and wealthiest citizens of the county has been exerted in behalf of preparedness. As a result Yolo county stands first in the list of counties to respond and this recognition is accorded her without question."

"These men feel that they owe a debt of gratitude to State, County and Nation and are doing more than their part. Where the thought and action of a community is prompted by such a spirit success is as certain as the rising and setting of the sun. They can't beat Yolo county—they can't even tie her."

Systematic Purchasing to Be Adopted By Red Cross of Yolo

The board of managers of the Yolo county Chapter of the American Red Cross met at the Bank of Yolo Directors room last night, Chairman McNeill presiding.

Routine matters were first considered, among them being the payment of several bills contracted for material and supplies. It was determined to lay in a supply of materials of various kinds for the different branches, the thought being that by purchasing in larger quantities it would conserve the funds of the chapter as well as establish a unit of materials used in the various parts of the county.

To make clear the provisions laid down by the higher authorities the following resolution was adopted and promulgated throughout the county.

RESOLVED: That, in accordance with instructions from headquarters at San Francisco, that inasmuch as the Military Relief committee of each chapter is the purchasing power of the chapter, that all branches of the Yolo county chapter be required hereafter make their purchases through the purchasing agent of the chapter.

HOME GUARD WILL BE UNIFORMED AND ARMED

Judge Anderson Tells Woodland Men
That They May Buy Own Suits and Modern Guns Will Be Furnished

PLANS LAID TO MARCH IN WINTERS FOURTH PARADE

People With Accommodations to Take
One or More of Members to That City Wednesday Should Report

CAN YOU ASSIST?

At the meeting of the Home Guard last night, it was suggested that anyone who could furnish either an automobile, or seating room in one to go to Winters on the Fourth should report to either Fred Shaffer at the Board of Trade rooms; J. A. Murray, at the Woodland Hardware Company, or William Gould, County Horticultural Commissioner. The service of five or six machines will be required and reports should be made today. The machines will leave the armory at 8:30 Wednesday morning.

Three strong, vigorous features marked the drill and business meeting of the Woodland Home Guard last night.

1. The members are going to be uniformed.

2. Forty members will attend the celebration at Winters.

3. Prompted by the patriotic spirit shown by the local company Esparto is now asking that she be permitted to organize.

These three features serve to convey an idea of the power for good the organization is representing in the community.

Last night Judge Anderson, Supervisor Scott, William Gould, and C. Q. Nelson of the County Defense Council were present. Judge Anderson told of the visit of four members of the council to Sacramento, to confer with Adjutant General Borree in reference to guns and uniforms. Summed up, the reply of the Adjutant General indicated that the modern rifles would be available for distribution after August 15 and uniforms, preferably of an olive gray, could be purchased at any time by the members of the guard.

NELSON STARTS FUND
C. Q. Nelson suggested that the people would respond promptly to an appeal to uniform the guards and offered to start the list with a contribution of $100. This would represent quite a proportion of the amount as only about $750 or $800 would be required.

Secretary Fred Shaffer, of the Yolo County Board of Trade, Chairman Scott, of the Board of Supervisors, William Gould and others made brief talks congratulating the guard upon the progress it had made in the few months of active drilling.

Shaffer was made an honorary member of the guard and appointed to assist the organization in publicity work required.

Captain Curson complimented the members upon their persistence in attending the drills during the hot weather and suggested that anyone subject to conscription should feel at liberty to meet and drill with the local organization as a matter of preparedness.

REALIZING IMPORTANCE

The public is fast becoming familiar with the importance of the work undertaken by the Home Guards. The organization not only stands in line for the protection of the interests of the people, should the necessity arise but it is also serving to kindle the fires of patriotism in all parts of the county.

Next Thursday night will be "ladies night" at the armory and the ladies are cordially invited to attend and witness the drill, gather some idea of the sacrifice being made by these men in time and effort and become more familiar with the good cause they have undertaken.

UNUSUAL COMPANY DEPARTS TO FRONT

Woodland Youth a Member of
Most Talented Troop Yet
Organized For France

REMARKABLE QUOTA ENLISTS

Men of University Prepared To Comfort, Entertain; Given
College Credits

Moreland Leithold of Woodland left this morning for Allentown, Pa., accompanying one of the most unique ambulance companies yet organized for service in France. The organization is prepared to give complete vaudeville and concert performances to the weary men in the trenches as well as to care for the wounded.

This company, which was the second to be formed in the United States, goes under the direction of Dr. Alvin Powell of Berkeley, who has been commissioned captain. Among those enlisted in it are five members of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society of the university, three men who took the honors of their classes, five members of the English Club, which has been responsible for many dramatic productions at the Greek Theater, many members of the Glee Club, two violinists, two cellists, a flutist, pianists, a banjo player and performers on many other instruments.

WILL ENTERTAIN SICK.

They are prepared already to entertain the sick, feeling that they may do much in this direction as well as in a medical one. A glee club of twenty singers has been formed. A group of three musicians will play chamber music; on the other hand, an orchestra of students who have played for many a college dance will do its different share. Athletes who have made names for themselves during their college years have organized two baseball teams in Red Cross Company Two and are planning to play on the other side on a holiday.

HISTORIAN TO TEACH.

One man in the organization is giving the others lectures in the history of France and the geography of the part of the country where they are going, with particular emphasis on the castles. Another has been instructing them on the architecture and on the stained glass for which France is famous. Scientific preparation in every direction has given the pilgrimage the university stamp.

FRENCH COOKS INSTRUCT.

Of the 119 enlisted men who will go with the five doctors and surgeons, only the cooks and a few of the mechanics are not either students or graduates of the university. Even the cooks are remarkably busy already, for they are all French, and all four have been drilling the company in the language of their "patrie" by telling them French stories.

EXTRAORDINARY QUOTA.

One cook is from the staff of chefs at the Palace hotel in San Francisco and another hails from the St. Francis. One of the privates of the company is the very responsible head of a bond house in San Francisco, while another is sales manager of a well-known import house, with a large force of salesmen under him. Dr. Powell thinks the company owes its extraordinary quota of talent and mentality to the fact that it goes to do constructive work.

FOUR LEADING DOCTORS.

The other four doctors who accompany the force are: Dr. A. M. Meads, a son of Professor S. Meads of this city; Dr. Homer H. Wolf of Albion, Dr. D. L. Martin of Orland and Dr. Frank E. McCullough of Lincoln. Together with the enlisted men, they will remain in Allentown a brief time for further drill and then proceed to France for service.

FIRST AID PREPARATION.

Although the University of California has already sent three ambulance units to France, this is the first ambulance company to leave this part of the state. The members of the ambulance units are simply prepared to drive ambulances, while the work of a company has far greater scope. A man with an ambulance company is trained to do everything for the wounded from the time he finds him until he puts him in a base hospital. As the base hospitals are usually at least fifty miles from the fighting the company has charge of these wounded seldom less than twenty-four hours. Each of the men has been trained in first aid and is ready to transport the victims of the battlefield on anything from a wagon to a canal boat, whatever is at hand.

HISTORY OF COMPANY.

The history of Red Cross Ambulance Company No. 2 dates back to a year ago when it was decided that such an organization should be always maintained as part of the university military course, so that it would always be ready in case of an emergency. Students enrolling were to be given credit, according to the plan, which will be carried out permanently when the war is over.

For the present need the company which was the second in the country to be formed, was somewhat reorganized so that graduates and needed men outside the university might be admitted. Its personnel now represents the selection from a list of 500 applicants. Since it was commissioned thirty-seven other companies scattered over the United States have been officially recognized and eleven others are in the making, so that there will be fifty in all. Pasadena was the first city to make this move. Chicago followed Berkeley.

For the past six weeks the company has been drilling in the "school of the soldier," the "school of the company" letter drill, ambulance drill, first aid, camp sanitation, care of the sick and other special work. Every man is familiar or unfamiliar with French conversation when in Allentown they

RUSH CALL FOR SUPPLIES MADE

YOLO RED CROSS CHAPTER IS ASKED TO HELP IN MAKING UP LACK IN MATERIALS

The Yolo county chapter of the Red Cross has received a copy of a letter which has been sent out to all Chapters of the Nation, in which is an urgent appeal for more speed in providing certain supplies for use in the war zone by the armies of the allies. The letter is being published in order to give as wide publicity as possible to the great need, and in order to effect a greater degree of speed by the various working sections. The letter is under date of June 25th and is as follows:

"Based upon recent cable advices from our allies the following supplies are urgently needed and all chapters are asked to ship to the nearest Branch Warehouse of the Red Cross Supply Service whatever supplies they may have on hand corresponding to this list and to speed up their work rooms on these particular articles.

350,000 Bath robes or Convalescent Gowns.
100,000 pairs of Bed socks.
700,000 handkerchiefs.
650,000 hospital bed shirts.
450,000 suits pajamas.
300,000 shoulder wraps.
800,000 pairs of socks.
250,000 pairs ward slippers.

"These hospital garments are greatly needed now and should be made according to specifications given in A. R. C. 165, pages 7-8.

"The production of bandages and surgical dressings, however, should not be allowed to fall off on account of this special appeal, as cable messages from Paris and Rome ask for a constant supply of these in view of the recent heavy fighting and the difficulty of getting the raw materials abroad.

"A special effort should be made to have the above articles shipped at the earliest date possible."

Fake reports of numbers that had been drawn for the draft gained wide circulation in Woodland and elsewhere over the valley today. The rumor is supposed to have emanated from a Sacramento banker, who told it that he had private advices from a bonding house in San Francisco. Like wildfire the numbers spread over this section of the state. One local business house posted the numbers, and many an eligible young man wrote the same on his memorandum book and then hurried home to compare them with his registration card.

As the cards will not have been turned in until tomorrow in many sections of the country, the drawing could not possibly have taken place. The business of passing on the exemption claims will further delay the call.

At the headquarters of the Yolo exemption board today, it was said that the 1625 local cards would be ready to send to Governor Stephens and the Provost Marshal tonight. The board observed Independence Day by working for the government. E. E. Gaddis was selected chairman of the board and Kirk Swingle clerk.

How to can properly is to be demonstrated to the women of Yolo county next Wednesday afternoon, July 11, by Mrs. T. F. Schilling and Miss Lillian Clark, experts from the state university agriculture extension department.

Eugene Kellogg, member of the local high school staff, today completed arrangements for the demonstration. Practical methods of preserving and canning vegetables are to be shown by the university women.

The preservation of America's food supply is strongly urged by the U. S. War Department, through Herbert C. Hoover. Such demonstration as the one to be in Woodland next Wednesday, are sanctioned by the government, and are part of the vast program mapped out for the conservation of this county's food supply.

"Every culinarian in the county should be at the high school for the demonstration," said Kellogg today. "Not only will they be doing their country a service, but undoubtedly they will benefit personally from the practical lessons that will be taught. The demonstration will begin promptly at 2 p. m., in the domestic science department."

Marine Private Chapman Writes of a Visit To F Co. May Soon Be Promoted

Willis T. Chapman, former "Democrat" reporter, writes that the U. S. Marine Reserves, with whom he is enlisted at Vallejo, expect to be called within a few days for "somewhere." "Chap" is now a squad leader, with excellent chances of being promoted to corporal very shortly.

Chapman visited F Company at Richmond recently. "It was a case of Greek meeting Greek," he writes, "when I dropped down to Richmond while on shore leave and visited the Yolo county soldier boys. We had a regular re-union. It did seem strange, however, to have to salute Captain Caldwell and Lieutenants

Hill and Bruton; as heretofore the 'power of the press' sort of gave me the nerve to do all the leading with them. But it's different now. I had to stand at attention while they talked and saluted them in passing.

"At that, the F Company officers rather threw their military dignity to the winds and Private Chapman ate chow in their mess tent, despite the fact that he is but a 'buck private' in 'them there Marines.'

CIVILIANS TO COME UNDER RED CROSS ENDEAVOR

Committee of Local Chapter Instructed As to How to Carry Out New Service

NO CHARITY INVOLVED

First Duty Will be to Make Out Complete List of Men Who Joined from County

As the days go by the several branches of work of the Yolo county chapter of the Red Cross society, as represented by the committees, are becoming organized for their own particular service. The latest to meet and outline plans for activity is the Civilian Relief committee, of which Miss Rhoda Maxwell is chairman.

The civilian relief committee, as its name indicates, has charge of that branch of relief work not directly connected with the military service. Its principal business under the existing circumstances is to inform itself of any need which may exist among the dependent ones of an man in the ranks, whose call to military duty may leave a void in the family life hard to fill. The committee will not be a dispenser of charity, for there is no such thing as charity, as that term is understood in Red Cross work. It is simply serving.

SPECIAL AGENT HERE

The committee met yesterday afternoon at the County board of trade rooms to meet with Miss Anita Eldridge of San Francisco who is the Red Cross state agent for this particular line of endeavor. She is visiting each Chapter in the state and is giving valuable instruction to those who will have charge of her department of the work.

The first real task facing the committee is to procure a correct roster of all the patriotic boys who have enlisted from this county. No record has been kept in the county and the records of the war department are not available at this time for the purpose. The committee is therefore requesting those of local community centers to make a list of the recruits of the neighborhood, with the names of wife, father and mother and number of children, if any. It is estimated that not less than 200 have volunteered from this county including the members of Company F, so it is not going to be an easy matter to get a full and complete roster. Every one should help, by sending any information to Miss Maxwell at Woodland.

Those of the committee beside Miss Maxwell are Miss Ella Baker, Mrs. Geo. Zimmermann, J. A. Murray and E. B. Hayward.

NEW WORK RATHER OBSCURE

In line with the work which the committee will have in charge, the Red Cross headquarters issues the following statement:

The Red Cross at the present time has over 1200 chapters distributed throughout the country and many of these have organized branches at auxiliaries in neighboring communities. People understand pretty well what the Red Cross is doing, the medical, nursing and supply side of its program, but as yet there is not a full grasp of what this organization in planning to do among families of soldiers and sailors. This is natural since this work is not so immediate as other lines of effort, and because as yet the volume of family work is comparatively small.

The Red Cross officials at Washington, however, are looking ahead towards a large task that will confront the Civilian Relief section of the chapters throughout the country in the near future. Even with the increased pay of soldiers and sailors, recently provided for by act of congress and even though the government grants a separate allowance for dependents of soldiers and sailors, further, under the selective draft a large percentage of the registered men with families may be exempted it is still conceivable that among the grand total of the men drawn into the armed service of the country in every branch, there will be left behind tens of thousands of relatives of these men, who in one way or another, will need the friendly aid of the Red Cross.

MANY DEPENDENT ON SERVICE
It must be remembered that in peace times fourteen per cent of regular army men sent home portions of their pay to relatives in need of the same, even though the

RED CROSS UNITS TO HELP

Dependents of Soldiers Will Be Assisted In Every Way Possible

To expedite the work outlined for them by the American Red Cross Association, the newly-organized Civilian Relief Committee of the Yolo Red Cross Chapter, today through the "Democrat" appeals to every citizen in the county to send data relative to the dependents of men who have taken their places in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

CO-OPERATION OF
ALL CITIZENS NECESSARY

"We must have a list of the parents, wives, children or any other persons dependent upon soldier boys called away from home," said Miss Rhoda Maxwell, chairman of the committee. "We already have F Company's roster, but there are fully two hundred other volunteers from this county whose names are unknown to us. We hope each citizen will deem it his, or her personal duty to forward the names of these men, together with the names of their dependents. Of course, names may come to us more than once, but the method we suggest seems to be the only satisfactory solution of our problem."

UNITS TO ASSIST.

Miss Anita Eldridge, national field agent, detailed the character of the work expected, at a meeting in the Yolo board of trade rooms Friday afternoon. Other members of the Civilian Relief Committee named besides Miss Maxwell, were Messdames George Zimmerman, J. A. Murray and E. B. Hayward and Miss M. Ella Baker. The county branch organizations of the Yolo chapter will be called upon to secure lists of names in their respective communities.

WILL AID DEPENDENTS

BEST WAY POSSIBLE

"In general the work mapped out for this new committee," said Miss Maxwell this morning, "is to aid, in any manner necessary, the families of men from this county who are serving in any branch of land or sea forces of this country."

Yolo County Used As An Example By State Council

Yolo county is being held up as an example of what might be done to aid the nation in its time of war by the state council of defense. All other counties are urged by that organization to profit by what we have done here in the line of crop production and assistance in money as well.

A great deal of the work of the state council is done through press dispatches and it is in one of these that Yolo county is complimented for her part in sharing the burdens of war. Following is the dispatch in full:

"The example set by Yolo county in increased crop production and all-round patriotism is being commended for emulation to other counties of the state by the State Council of Defense and by Governor Stephens.

"Here are some of the things which Yolo county, which is one of the richest agricultural regions in California, already has done in the cause of patriotism:

"Raised crops worth twenty million dollars.

"Increased its crop production approximately $7,000,000 over last year.

"Subscribed to Liberty Loan bonds on a basis of $47 to every person living in the county.

Contributions to Red Cross will average $1 or more for every inhabitant of the county.

"Registered 1,625 males under Federal draft act, only 535 claiming exemptions.

"Contributed 60 men to National Guard, 80 to the U. S. Navy and 15 to the Engineering corps.

"Yolo county's crop production alone shows an average of $1400 in foodstuffs for every person in the county. In some instances the county increased its production of certain foodstuffs over last year by close to 100 per cent.

"Herbert Hoover, national food director, already has sent Yolo county a telegram commulating the county upon its showing."

Mrs. Mrs. H. J. Shute, chairman of the Yolo County Women's Committee of Councils of National and State Defense, today issued the following appeal to the women of this county:

"Your country asks of you service which will cost you nothing, but will on the contrary, put money into your pockets; a service that only women can render.

"Sign a U. S. A. Hoover Food Administration Pledge; mail it to the California Women's Committee of Councils of National and State Defense, Los Angeles, Cal. Later from Washington, D. C., you will receive

FREE in return for your pledge, "a national shield, surrounded by heads of wheat." This is the insignia of the United States Food Administration. You are to hang it in your window or display it in some way in your home. It is public evidence that you are pledged to support our government in its efforts to win this great and terrible war.

"Get copies of the pledge from your women's church society, your club, from the county library or its branches, the Woodland city library, or the Yolo County Board of Trade room, 712 Main street, Woodland."

Affidavits Must Be Filed By All Exemption Claimants; Specific Instructions Sent

Further instructions from the War Department concerning their duties came today for the Yolo draft exemption board. These include voluminous routine items, including all phases of the work which will be necessary to carry out the law pertaining to the drafting and the exemption of those who have registered for the army.

The boards' instructions cover the manner of examination of all registered men. First is the physical, by Dr. W. A. Beattie.

EXAMINATION DATE
AFTER DRAFT DRAWING.

Although under the law it is the duty of all persons eligible for the draft to ascertain for themselves whether or not they are listed, the board will notify by mail registrants as to time and place of the meetings for examination. This will be done after the draft drawing has been made and the results announced.

Applicants for exemption from the draft will be compelled to file affidavits as well as to submit to personal inquiry before the boards.

The exemption and discharge lists as recorded in the instructions are similar to those which were sent out from Washington several days ago with the president's approval.

The instructions provide for appeals from the exemption boards' decisions to district boards to be appointed in each federal judicial district. These appeals may be taken by either the applicant or by the government.

DECISIONS FROM LOCAL BOARD IN THREE DAYS.

Local exemption boards will be required to give their decisions within three days after the examination of applicants for exemption or discharge from the draft.

FIRST CALL FOR 687,000 REGISTRANTS

E. E. Gaddis, chairman of the Yolo exemption board, received word today that the first draft of America's citizenship for war service will be for 687,000 men. This number is just enough to fill the regular army to war complement, increase the national guard to regulation strength and provide the levy of 500,000 for the sixteen cantonment camps, where the men will train.

As California has filled its regular army quotas, her quota will be reduced.

The government will divide the burden on the basis of population between counties and cities.

Local Aviators May Enlist With U. S. Flying Corps

Nightly and early morning air flights over this city by T. J. Owens and H. T. Davis, amateurs from Target station between Woodland and Elkhorn, are arousing much interest in the birdman's game. Both Owens and Davis are becoming adept at the sport. When they first started their series of night capers last week, residents here became alarmed and thought that enemy agents were soaring over the county, probably to drop fire bombs upon the bumper crops. Officers investigated and found that Owens and Davis were merely practicing, with a view of enlisting later in the United States aviation corps.

YOLO TO UTILIZE STATE COUNCIL'S COMMENDATION

Fred Schaffer, Secretary of Board of Trade, Will Give Boost From State Board Wide Circulation

EVERY LETTER SENT OUT OF COUNTY WILL HAVE FOLDER

All Business and Civic Concerns
As Well as Individuals to Be Asked to Help in Movement

The State Council of Defense is not in the business of boosting any one section of the state at the expense of another, but when within its province of commending certain counties for work done in line with the national defense, the fact becomes apparent that this county has taken a proud place and it is not amiss to state that fact.

Such a thing has happened in this county and the Council of Defense has justly given official commendation.
We refer to the authorized statement of the State Council, which was published in the Mail Sunday morning.

It credited us with raising seven million dollars worth of food products in excess of any other year, of subscribing a per capita of $45, for liberty bonds, for meeting the call of the Red Cross for more than one dollar per capita, and a number of other things.

Fred Schaffer, secretary of the county board of trade, was quick to see the value of the statement from the point of advertisement and he has now on the press a neat folder, letter size, containing the text of the Defense Council's statement. This folder will be widely distributed over the county, being put in the hands of every business house and those sending out letters will be requested to enclose one of the folders in every letter. By that method there should go out not less than two or three thousand folders every day.

ALL ASKED TO AID
"I hope the women's clubs, the various civic organizations and the business men and citizens generally will call and get these folders when they are finished and see that one goes into every letter mailed out. We want them to reach every section of the county—Winters, Esparto, Davis
Zamora, Dunnigan, Knights Landing, Guinda, Capay, Rumsey, West Sacramento, Riverbank, Clarksburg, Washington, and every place in Yolo county. It will be the very best kind of advertising, and the people receiving the little folder will cherish it more because it comes from some friend than they would if it came from a commercial organization. Everybody who writes a letter is hereby appointed an assistant secretary of the board of trade. Let us see if it is not possible to get 3000 per day of these in the mails.

Yolo Women Urged To Sign Pledges

This County Should Do Its Part
In Food Control Project

In an appeal to the women patriot of Yolo county, Mrs. H. J.
Shute, chairman of the Yolo county women's committee of the Councils of National and State Defense, urges that they respond to the call of their country and sign one of the food administration pledges which have been distributed under the direction of Herbert Hoover, Food Administrator. Following is the call issued to the Yolo county women:

"Will you women of Yolo county not respond quickly to your Country's call for a service that you alone can perform? This service will cost you no money. It will save money for you.

Sign and mail at once to the address given on the pledge, a United States food administration pledge—you will receive later a National shield surrounded by heads of wheat.
This is proof that you are helping our United States to win the war.

"One million women, among them Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and wives of members of President Wilson's cabinet, have already signed these pledges. If Yolo county is to continue to hold its high rank for patriotic service, the women of the county must move quickly in this matter.

"Get pledges from your pastor,

U. S. Marine Maxwell Expecting A Transfer To Foreign Waters, Hastens the Date of Wedding

Lieutenant George Lawrence Maxwell and his bride of yesterday, the former Miss Eva Banton of Red Bluff, are today enjoying the first moments of a necessarily brief honeymoon sojourn in Shasta county. The couple were wedded at Red Bluff Tuesday, the father of the bride-elect, Rev. J.
A. Banton, performing the ceremony.

The groom must return to Mare Island navy yard this week end to rejoin his company of United States Marines. The couple had not planned to marry until late this coming autumn, but the groom's chances for being transferred from this coast into foreign waters very soon hastened the nuptials.

The wedding was the culmination of a friendship that began when the two were attending high school in this city. The affection blossomed into love when they began their college careers at the state university.

The bride would have been a junior at "California" this next semester.
Maxwell graduated last June. He was awarded the university medal for the best scholarship record of all the students registered. He was also honored by being chosen a member of the Phi Kappa honor society. During his last semester an additional honor came to him, when he was chosen president of the university chapter of the Young Men's Christian Association.
He is the son of George Maxwell of Woodland.

Woodland Women Preparing

SANGUINE OF BIG RESULTS

Of the State Council

"California Women's Committee of Councils of National and State Dethe story of the entry of the women into the fields of endeavor in connection with the prosecution of the war.

Mrs. H. J. Shute, a veteran in civic work, is chairman of the local committee; Mrs. Herbert E. Coil, vice-chairman; Mrs. Leander Turney, treasurer, and Mrs. A. G. Bailey, secretary.

It is the understanding that this organization will co-ordinate with the State Council of Defense, and that it is primarily under the jurisdiction of that body. The conservation of food and other matters where women can exert a direct influence are all within the line of action.

Work is being conducted from the Yolo County Board of Trade rooms, and already the accomplishment has been something encouraging. Over 1800 food pledges have been given out and one cook wagon is handing them out in various parts of the county.
These pledges are to be signed up and sent to headquarters. As soon as received a pretty shield will be returned to the loyal signor and later a date will be fixed for registration in the county. On this date it is hoped that all women will register to assist in the work of prospecting the war.

The county council of defense is working heartily with the ladies organization.

COMPLAINT THAT GOVERNMENT ACTION IS SOMEWHAT DILATORY

Believed That Secret Meetings Inimical To Interests of Loyalty Are Being Held Without Interruption --- Cases Have Been Reported, But Delay In Action Claimed To Be Due
To Enormous Amount of Investigation Required

Some little complaint has been received from various places in the county because of the alleged delay of the government in investigating cases where a few are suspected of un-loyal utterances, and in some instances where it is reported that secret meetings are being held.

It is claimed that cases have been reported to the proper department of the government by the State Council of Defense and by the county organization as well. More than this, many reports are said to have been made by citizens where it was believed the exigencies demanded it.

Recent press dispatches would indicate that the secret service of the government is crowded with work and is endeavoring to reach the various complaints from the different sections with as much haste as possible.

The authorities in Yolo county take the stand that it is best to clean up all this unloyal element right in the beginning and make object lessons of those who fail or refuse to abjure loyalty and allegiance to the enemy nation.

RUSSELL LOWE TELLS WHAT IT FEELS LIKE TO CROSS SEA

Writes Graphic Narrative of How It Feels To Be Afraid of Diver

IS NOW HAULING MUNITIONS

Life Belts Are Popular When Gunners Fire Under Periscope

What it all means and how it feels to step from the sunlight of Yolo county into the shadows of Europe, is written between lines in a letter just received in Woodland from Russell J. Lowe, who is now hauling munitions to the French gunners. Not so many days ago Lowe and his young associates were discussing almost light-heartedly the probabilities of being pressed into service and even cast into "No Man's Land." Now with Lowe it is a reality.

PSYCHOLOGY OF SEA
TRIP IN WAR TIME.

Having passed through the deadly sea lane, the young Woodland farmer knows what it is to take a sea voyage, with the menace of a diver ever present. In his letter he vividly tells about an actual submarine attack.

PROMINENT AMERICANS
ON PASSENGER LIST.

With Lowe aboard the steamer Espagne were many prominent Americans, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Frederick Havermeyer, Maurice, the celebrated dancer, Florence Walton his stage partner, Andred Lord, members of the Stanford and California units of the American Ambulance Corps, and many other prominent collegians from all parts of the United States, were on the passenger list.

WHISPERS OF DANGER
HEARD CONTINUOUSLY.

"If anyone tells you that he was not afraid, in the face of the submarine menace, he straps from the righteous path of honesty," writes Lowe. "I was frightened, and I'm not ashamed of it."

"There was never a dull moment on board our ship, and that was chiefly because of diver rumors. Whispers of danger started soon after our departure from New York. From the deckhand to the captain, the reports spread and continued to be the chief topic of discussion until we docked."

SPIES PERISCOPE OF HOSTILE DIVER.

"On a Friday we were still outside the submarine zone, when suddenly a black thing was observed sticking out of the water. Every person on board saw it. We held our eyes on the speck for four or five minutes that seemed like days. Then one of our gunners let fire. We knew for sure at this time that a diver had come on us."

Mannequins generally travel in pairs, one was watching for the second.

"Many life preservers were in evidence at our next meal. The cook, himself, I am told, wore one. A freighter passed us a little while later, and all on board were wearing lifebelts."

"We were informed by men in authority that the submarine that was after us was 3000 meters away, too distant to do effective work. The captain opined that our gunners had caught it."

MANY VOLUNTARILY
ON NIGHT DUTY.

"When night came on many of us were still too scared to go to bed. Some, however, chose bed as the most comfortable and safest place. If we were hit by a torpedo, they figured,

NATIONAL RED CROSS COUNCIL LAUDS ALL PATRIOTS OF YOLO COUNTY FOR GENEROUS GIFTS

Special recognition from the National Red Cross War Council of Yolo county's response to the appeal for special Red Cross funds, has just come here in the form of a letter to J. I. McConnell, chairman of the Yolo Chapter. The communication reads:

Mr. J. I. McConnell, Woodland, Cal.—Dear Mr. McConnell: At the close of the wonderfully successful campaign for the Red Cross War Fund I intended, in behalf of the War Council, to send you and your associates, a telegram of thanks and congratulation for your splendidly effective work. On reflection, however, decided in view of the nation-wide extent of our organization that it would be more economical, and equally satisfactory, to write to you instead of telegraphing.

We of the War Council are deeply grateful to you, to your colleagues, to the devoted men and women of local Red Cross Chapters and Auxiliaries, and to every element and individual in your community who aided by service and contribution.

There is no method by which we can reach the legion of individuals, organizations, churches, newspapers, societies, banks, companies and firms whose united effort has provided this great fund for humanity, and if through your press and by other means you can make public expression of our gratitude we shall deeply appreciate the courtesy. Their joint accomplishment has stirred the pride of every American.

I wish to add my personal thanks to you, and through you, to all who contributed to the splendid result.

Very sincerely yours,

ties, to organize the forces to withstand the threatened invasion. Special officers will be stationed on all the main highways and guards will be placed around the many granaries in the county, according to plans not yet matured.

OFFICIALS HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN PAST INVASION.

The agitators are meeting such strenuous opposition down south and in the far north that they might become disorganized before they reach this vicinity. County officials, however, have not forgotten the bother, worry and expense caused at West Sacramento not so many months ago by the jobless army. Then the county officers were lenient, compared to what they will be in the event of an invasion this season.

CAPTAIN SAYS HOME GUARD IS READY.

It has been suggested to District Attorney McDonald that the Woodland Home Guard might turn out for its first skirmish. Captain W. H. Curson said today that his forces could be depended upon. "It is just such outbreaks as may arise with the coming of the agitators that we expect to quell," said Curson. "I'm sure that the county will find us ready and willing in the event of an emergency."

WAREHOUSES TO BE PROTECTED.

Immediate steps will probably be taken to guard the warehouses. Many of the granaries are already protected, but some are not. The I. W. W.'s have boasted that they would wait until the storehouses are chockful and then apply the torch.

YOLO REPORTS INVESTIGATED
BY FEDERAL OFFICERS.

"Any combined effort by Industrial Workers of the World to destroy crops will amount to conspiracy to commit treason," Caspar A. Oronbaum, United States assistant district attorney, said Friday in San Francisco, after appeals for federal aid to halt an alleged I. W. W. conspiracy on the part of the I. W. W. to destroy their crops had been received from Yolo, Stanislaus, Alameda and other California counties.

According to Oronbaum burning or destruction of crops will constitute giving "aid to the enemy."

Federal authorities are investigating the charges, details of which were submitted to United States District Attorney J. W. Preston's office.

YOLO TO UTILIZE STATE COUNCIL'S COMMENDATION

Fred Schaffer, Secretary of Board of Trade, Will Give Boost From State Board Wide Circulation

EVERY LETTER SENT OUT OF COUNTY WILL HAVE FOLDER

All Business and Civic Concerns As Well as Individuals to Be Asked to Help in Movement

The State Council of Defense is not in the business of boosting any one section of the state at the expense of another, but when within its province of commending certain counties for work done in line with the national defense, the fact becomes apparent that this county has taken a proud place and it is not amiss to state that fact.

Such a thing has happened in this county and the Council of Defense has justly given official commendation. We refer to the authorized statement of the State Council, which was published in the Mail Sunday morning.

It credited us with raising seven million dollars worth of food products in excess of any other year of subscribing a per capita of $45, for liberty bonds, for meeting the call of the Red Cross for more than one dollar per capita, and a number of other things.

Fred Schaffer, secretary of the county board of trade, was quick to see the value of the statement from the point of advertisement and he has now on the press a neat folder, letter size, containing the text of the Defense Council's statement. This folder will be widely distributed over the county, being put in the hands of every business house and those sending out letters will be requested to enclose one of the folders in every letter. By that method there should go out not less than two or three thousand folders every day.

ALL ASKED TO AID
"I hope the women's clubs, the various civic organizations and the business men and citizens generally will call and get these folders when they are finished and see that one goes into every letter mailed out. We want them to reach every section of the county—Winters, Esparto, Davis, Zamora, Dunnigan, Knights Landing, Guinda, Capay, Rumsey, West Sacramento, Riverbank, Clarksburg, Washington, and every place in Yolo county. It will be the very best kind of advertising, and the people receiving the little folder will cherish it more because it comes from some friend than they would if it came from a commercial organization. Everybody who writes a letter is hereby appointed an assistant secretary of the board of trade. Let us see if it is not possible to get 3000 per day of these in the mails.

Yolo Women Urged To Sign Pledges

This County Should Do Its Part In Food Control Project

In an appeal to the women patriots of Yolo county, Mrs. H. J. Shute, chairman of the Yolo county women's committee of the Councils of National and State Defense, urges that they respond to the call of their country and sign one of the food administration pledges which have been distributed under the direction of Herbert Hoover, Food Administrator. Following is the call issued to the Yolo county women:

"Will you women of Yolo county not respond quickly to your Country's call for a service that you alone can perform? This service will cost you no money. It will save money for you.

Sign and mail at once to the address given on the pledge, a United States food administration pledge—you will receive later a National shield surrounded by heads of wheat. This is proof that you are helping our United States to win the war.

"One million women, among them Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and wives of members of President Wilson's cabinet, have already signed these pledges. If Yolo county is to continue to hold its high rank for patriotic service, the women of the county must move quickly in this matter.

"Get pledges from your pastor, your women's church society, your club, the Yolo county free library or its branches, Woodland city library, rooms of Yolo county board of trade."

U. S. Marine Maxwell Expecting A Transfer To Foreign Waters, Hastens the Date of Wedding

Lieutenant George Lawrence Maxwell and his bride of yesterday, the former Miss Eva Banton of Red Bluff, are today enjoying the first moments of a necessarily brief honeymoon sojourn in Shasta county. The couple were wedded at Red Bluff Tuesday, the father of the bride-elect, Rev. J. A. Banton, performing the ceremony. The groom must return to Mare Island and navy yard this week end to rejoin his company of United States Marines. The couple had not planned to marry until late this coming autumn, but the groom's chances for being transferred from this coast into foreign waters very soon hastened the nuptials.

The wedding was the culmination of a friendship that began when the two were attending high school in this city. The affection blossomed into love when they began their college careers at the state university. The bride would have been a junior at "California" this next semester. Maxwell graduated last June. He was awarded the university medal for the best scholarship record of all the students registered. He was also honored by being chosen a member of the Phi Kappa honor society. During his last semester an additional honor came to him, when he was chosen president of the university chapter of the Young Men's Christian Association. He is the son of George Maxwell of Woodland.

Of the State Council
Of Defense

"California Women's Committee of Councils of National and State Defense." This is the way it reads to tell the story of the entry of the women into the fields of endeavor in connection with the prosecution of the war.

Mrs. H. J. Shute, a veteran in civic work, is chairman of the local committee; Mrs. Herbert E. Coll, vice-chairman; Mrs. Leander Turney, treasurer, and Mrs. A. G. Bailey, secretary.

It is the understanding that this organization will co-ordinate with the State Council of Defense, and that it is primarily under the jurisdiction of that body. The conservation of food and other matters where women can exert a direct influence are all within the line of action.

Work is being conducted from the Yolo County Board of Trade rooms, and already the accomplishment has been something encouraging. Over 1800 food pledges have been given out and one cook wagon is handing them out in various parts of the county. These pledges are to be signed up and sent to headquarters. As soon as received a pretty shield will be returned to the loyal signor and later a date will be fixed for registration in the county. On this date it is hoped that all women will register to assist in the work of prospecting the war.

The county council of defense is working heartily with the ladies organization.

COMPLAINT THAT GOVERNMENT ACTION IS SOMEWHAT DILATORY

Believed That Secret Meetings Inimical To Interests of Loyalty Are Being Held Without Interruption --- Cases Have Been Reported, But Delay In Action Claimed To Be Due To Enormous Amount of Investigation Required

Some little complaint has been received from various places in the county because of the alleged delay of the government in investigating cases where a few are suspected of unloyal utterances, and in some instances where it is reported that secret meetings are being held.

It is claimed that cases have been reported to the proper department of the government by the State Council of Defense and by the county organization as well. More than this, many reports are said to have been made by citizens where it was believed the exigencies demanded it.

Recent press dispatches would indicate that the secret service of the government is crowded with work and is endeavoring to reach the various complaints from the different sections with as much haste as possible.

The authorities in Yolo county take the stand that it is best to clean up all this unloyal element right in the beginning and make object lessons of those who fail or refuse to abjure loyalty and allegiance to the enemy nation.

RUSSELL LOWE TELLS WHAT IT FEELS LIKE TO CROSS SEA

Writes Graphic Narrative of How It Feels To Be Afraid of Diver

IS NOW HAULING MUNITIONS

Life Belts Are Popular When Gunners Fire Under Periscope

What it all means and how it feels to step from the sunlight of Yolo county into the shadows of Europe, is written between lines in a letter just received in Woodland from Russell J. Lowe, who is now hauling munitions to the French gunners. Not so many days ago Lowe and his young associates were discussing almost light-heartedly the probabilities of being pressed into service and even cast into "No Man's Land." Now with Lowe it is a reality.

PSYCHOLOGY OF SEA TRIP IN WAR TIME.

Having passed through the deadly sea lane, the young Woodland farmer knows what it is to take a sea voyage, with the menace of a diver ever present. In his letter he vividly tells about an actual submarine attack.

PROMINENT AMERICANS ON PASSENGER LIST.

With Lowe aboard the steamer Es-pagne were many prominent Americans, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Frederick Havermeyer, Maurice, the celebrated dancer, Florence Walton his stage partner, Andred Lord, members of the Stanford and California units of the American Ambulance Corps, and many other prominent collegians from all parts of the United States, were on the passenger list.

WHISPERS OF DANGER HEARD CONTINUOUSLY.

"If anyone tells you that he was not afraid, in the face of the submarine menace, he straps from the righteous path of honesty," writes Lowe. "I was frightened, and I'm not ashamed of it."

"There was never a dull moment on board our ship, and that was chiefly because of diver rumors. Whispers of danger started soon after our departure from New York. From the deckhand to the captain, the reports spread and continued to be the chief topic of discussion until we docked."

SPIES PERISCOPE OF HOSTILE DIVER.

On a Friday we were still outside a submarine zone, when suddenly a black thing was observed sticking out of the water. Every person on board saw it. We held our eyes on the speck for four or five minutes that seemed like days. Then one of our officers let fire. We knew for sure at this time that a diver had come up.

SCRAMBLE FOR LIFE BELTS.

There was a scramble for lifebelts. One of us fell in line, expecting to use the life boats. Our boat moved sharply. The stern pointed toward the speck. Zig-zagging, we cut through the waves.

French curves in her wake. French shells darted for the rails. Our searchlight was heard to explode. Then we saw a spot of oil on the surface where the periscope had been. We heard two more shots, fired under the nose of our captain. Then our boat shot a head and steamed through in a straight course.

WHAT WE WOULD, MIGHT HAVE DONE.

"It was some time later, however, before all of us had abandoned our lifebelts. Then we got busy telling each other just how we felt, and what we would have done. We said some nice things about those brave boys behind the guns, but it occurs to me that not one of us thought of the poor stokers who helped us steam out of the danger zone, and who could not have escaped death had we been torpedoed."

NEXT SCARE TURNS INTO "BUM JOKE."

"After this we tried to occupy ourselves, and forget the submarine. We were startled in a few minutes, however, when another shot went across the bow. Later it was explained that the gunners had been told to shoot at anything on sight, and that they had fired at a barrel. Our lookout remained at his post. I was told that submarines generally travel in pairs. He was watching for the second."

"Many life preservers were in evidence at our next meal. The cook, himself, I am told, wore one. A freighter passed us a little while later, and all on board were wearing lifebelts."

"We were informed by men in authority that the submarine that was after us was 3000 meters away, too distant to do effective work. The captain opined that our gunners had caught it."

MANY VOLUNTARILY ON NIGHT DUTY.

"When night came on many of us were still too scared to go to bed. Some, however, chose bed as the most comfortable and safest place. If we were hit by a torpedo, they figured,

NATIONAL RED CROSS COUNCIL LAUDS ALL PATRIOTS OF YOLO COUNTY FOR GENEROUS GIFTS

Special recognition from the National Red Cross War Council of Yolo county's response to the appeal for special Red Cross funds, has just come here in the form of a letter to J. I. McConnell, chairman of the Yolo Chapter. The communication reads:

Mr. J. I. McConnell, Woodland, Cal.—Dear Mr. McConnell: At the close of the wonderfully successful campaign for the Red Cross War Fund I intended, in behalf of the War Council, to send you and your associates, a telegram of thanks and congratulation for your splendidly effective work. On reflection, however, decided in view of the nation-wide extent of our organization that it would be more economical, and equally satisfactory, to write to you instead of telegraphing.

We of the War Council are deeply grateful to you, to your colleagues, to the devoted men and women of local Red Cross Chapters and Auxiliaries, and to every element and individual in your community who aided by service and contribution.

There is no method by which we can reach the legion of individuals, organizations, churches, newspapers, societies, banks, companies and firms whose united effort has provided this great fund for humanity, and if through your press and by other means you can make public expression of our gratitude we shall deeply appreciate the courtesy. Their joint accomplishment has stirred the pride of every American.

I wish to add my personal thanks to you, and through you, to all who contributed to the splendid result.

Very sincerely yours,

H. P. DAVISON,
Chairman, Red Cross War Council.

WRIGLEY'S

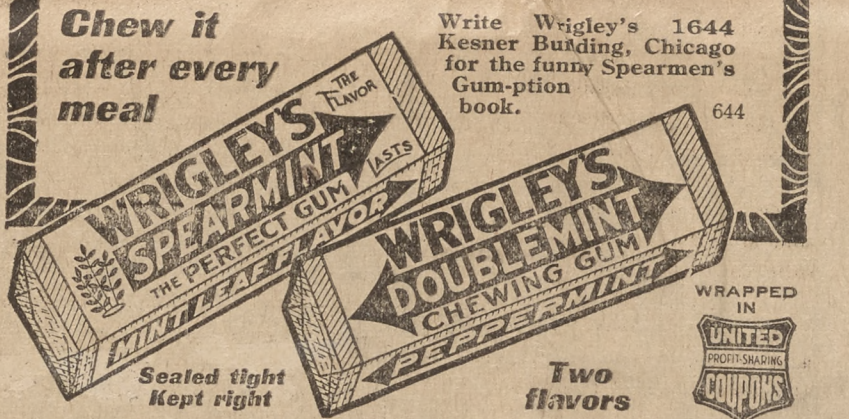

Friends!

Wrigley's is a constant friend to teeth, breath, appetite and digestion.

The refreshment and comfort of this toothsome, long-lasting confection is within the reach of everybody.

Its benefits are many — its cost small. That's why it's used around the world. Nothing else can take its place.

Chew it after every meal

Write Wrigley's 1644 Kesner Building, Chicago for the funny Spearmen's Gum-ption book.

Insulting the Housewife's Intelligence

Most Eminent Scientists

Just stop and think how ridiculous it is for anyone to make a statement or claim that the so-called Alum Baking Powders are in any way injurious to health. The highest authorities and most eminent scientists in the world have after careful experiments of all kinds decided that the so-called alum baking powders are just as wholesome as any other baking powders.

The Department of Agriculture

The Department of Agriculture, which is the Pure Food Department of the United States, have made careful investigations and experiments, and find no reason to even question their sale. They, too, came to the conclusion that such powders are just as wholesome as other baking powders.

Sold In Every State

So-called alum baking powders are sold in every State in the Union. If they were not pure and wholesome, certainly the food commissioners would not permit their sale. The Food Commissioner of each State is not permitting to be sold anything that is unwholesome. So-called alum baking powders have been brought to their attention for years, with the same results—they are pure and wholesome.

Important Everyone Should Know

There are some so-called alum powders in which the acid phosphate is replaced by enough soda alum—not the drug store alum—to insure perfect keeping qualities and to properly regulate the speed action. If there is any doubt in your mind as to the wholesomeness of baking powder containing alum, ask your doctor. He will tell you that the latest, most complete investigations have proven that no baking powder is more wholesome than so-called alum baking powders.

Divert the Public Mind from the Fact

The only ones who have attempted to discredit the so-called alum baking powders, or to claim that they are unwholesome, are those baking powder companies who do not use alum. No food official—no doctor—no housewife has ever objected to its use. Only those companies who wish to get an exorbitant price for their goods or who wish to conceal the fact that their goods are unsatisfactory because of poor keeping qualities are striving to intimidate the public with a ridiculous no-alum outcry.

FLAGDEFAMER IS GIVEN SIX MONTHS FOR HIS ACTS

Wilhelm Doerner, German Who Was Arrested on Saturday,
Blames it On Whiskey

S. P. AGENT TESTIFIES

Byers Tells of Speech Saying Kaiser Would be Over Here
Soon; Insults President

"Whiskey did it, whiskey did it!"
So said Wilhelm Doerner yesterday afternoon when he was sentenced to six months confinement in the county jail by Recorder R. W. Harrison, for uttering treasonable sentiments against this nation.

Doerner was much perturbed as he sat in court awaiting the arrival of assistant agent Byers of the Southern Pacific company. He had plead guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace when the case was called.

Doerner is the man who was arrested by Lee Hoffman last Saturday night, for creating a disturbance at the depot. He was intoxicated when arrested. Yesterday he said he got his whiskey in Sacramento.

Mr. Byers testified that Doerner came to the ticket window Saturday evening and bought a ticket to Knight's Landing. While standing at the window he began to curse the country and the president. "You don't know anything about it, you Americans, but I do. The Kaiser will be over here for you before long." Spitting on his hand and making an insulting gesture, "That for your President Wilson," he said. Byers ordered him out of the waiting room and later when he could leave his place, he went to the platform and found Doerner continuing his antics. He called an officer and had him arrested.

Doerner stated in court that he would not have talked as he did, had he been sober. He said the prisoner's card found on him was an intern card from Australia, where he was held for six months by the British in 1916. He claimed he had been released but had nothing to show for it. The case was tried before the city authorities, city attorney Chalmers appearing for the people. The county officials have not yet been called, but may bring the matter to the attention of the federal authorities.

House-To-House Canvass Is To Be Made Supporting Hoover Save-Food Pledge

"If every housewife in California will manage to prevent the waste of only one slice of bread each day for a whole year, this will mean a food saving equal to all the wheat that could be grown upon 475,000 acres of fertile ground in the same period of time."

The state council proposes to carry out the "wheatless" and "meatless" propaganda through the newly organized Woman's Council for State and National Defense, and which already has affiliated with it organizations of women in practically every city, town and village in the state. House to house canvasses are to be made in Yolo county, and wherever possible written pledges to abstain from meat one day each week and from wheat products during one meal each day, will be obtained.

Moreland Leithold Writes of a Novel Letter Writing Plan

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Leithold are in receipt of a letter from their soldier lad, Moreland. He is stationed at Allentown, Pennsylvania, and his parents, of course, carry lighter hearts because he is some place in United States rather than somewhere in France. The letter is full of good cheer.

Moreland is with the First California Company, ambulance corps. He says the boys are very comfortable, although rain has fallen every day since their arrival. The weather has prevented training to any extent.

The military authorities have given kind consideration to the relatives at home, and through a novel scheme worked out in San Francisco, parents of all the enlisted men will be able to get general news from the camp very often. This will enable them to supply the personal requirements of their sons much more frequently than would have been possible without the new arrangement.

The most ingenious part of the idea, however, is to have the more interesting portions of the boys' letters to their parents sent to headquarters of a firm in San Francisco that has donated the services of the office staff, have the bits of the letters put together, mimeographed and the composite sent to all parents.

Draft Quota of Yolo County To Be Told Exemption Board Soon As Figured Out--Borree

Upon estimates given by Adjutant General Borree the quota to be furnished by each registration district in Yolo county of men liable under the selective draft will be known and the Yolo exemption board notified by the end of this week. Shortly thereafter it is expected the news of the beginning of the draft will be received from Washington. Each board in each county in the state will be told of the proportion of men that will be drawn to make up California's total of 23,060.

The quotas are being figured out on a strictly mathematical ratio between the number of men wanted and the population of the registration districts. There will be no chance for a shacking of districts. In the calculation is included the number of men already enlisted or a part of the national guard. According to General Borree, the most difficult part of the work now being done by his department is in placing the credit due cities and counties for men already furnished through enlistment. The tracing of these records makes the task a formidable one. Literature from the war department is arriving, almost by the ton, for the further instructions of the boards of exemptions that will soon be called upon to exercise their functions. These instructions are now being remailed from the adjutant general's office to the various boards throughout the state, making necessary the addition of a number of extra employees.

Home Guards Would Not Hinder Plans; Wrong Inference From State Council; Guards Ready To Take Place of Called

"Press dispatches last night in reference to the Home Guard organizations in the state apparently carried a misleading inference," said Secretary Shaffer of the board of trade this morning. Shaffer was recently named publicity chief for the Woodland Home Guard company. "The guard does not draw from eligibles for the draft, and interferes in no manner with enlistment or conscription along the lines defined by the government," he continued.

"It serves as a training school, and is in readiness in the event that the service of men incapacitated for service under the government rules, either because of age or some other defect, is required for home defense."

"Our local company has asked all the young men eligible for service and liable to draft, to meet with on drill nights and become familiar with military maneuvers. The home guard organizations interfere in no sense with the government's plan, but on the contrary are actually a part of the plan inaugurated for home defense. In a broad sense the organization serves to kindle the fires of patriotism in the various communities and represents an educational force along lines of military training and discipline."

F COMPANY'S REGIMENT SHY OF WAR STRENGTH

The Second Regiment, of which F Company is a member, is still short of war strength. The officers are anxious to maintain the status of a purely volunteer regiment. Unless recruited to full strength, men will be drafted to fill the gaps. This, National Guard officers argue, would not speak well for the volunteer spirit in California, or the loyalty of the people to their own organization. This regiment is now on the footing of regulars, and their training on the Mexican border last year, and in the field this summer, have made seasoned troops of them. There are proportionately more veterans in this regiment than in the infantry regiments of the regular army. The officers all have been put through a series of strict examinations by the war department.

One of the chief recruiting arguments being made, is that a man who enlists can choose what company he wishes to belong to, and thus may be sure of associating in the intimate camp life of the soldiers with young fellows of his home town.

200 New Members For the Red Cross

Capay and Yolo Branch Chapters
Report Creditable Increase

The Capay valley branch of the Yolo County chapter, Red Cross, made a settlement with the local headquarters yesterday and reported 161 members, for which due payment has been made.

Yolo branch also made its report, showing that 104 members are now enrolled in that section.

On Friday night a meeting is to be held at Riverbank to organize an auxiliary to the Washington branch. This city will be represented by several of the workers for the cause, and the Woodland Male Quartette will go over to furnish some vocal music.

Mrs. C. W. Bush and Mrs. Meier visited the Knight's Landing branch yesterday and found a score or more of the women of that branch busily engaged in hospital supply work. The same report came from Davis, from Fred Shaffer, who was a visitor there yesterday afternoon.

War Training Not Half Bad, Writes The Boys of Leithold's Company

Fourteen northern California boys, including Moreland Leithold of Woodland, are with the American Red Cross Ambulance Company at Allentown, Pennsylvania, the second organization of its kind in the United States.

Paul Rieger, 116 First street, San Francisco, who has two sons enlisted with the company, is the leader of a movement to organize an association of the parents. Letters received by the mothers and fathers will be forwarded to Rieger. He will take the most interesting features from the various communications and compose a new letter embracing them. These will be mimeographed and a composite sent to each parent. This scheme will give each parent a better idea of the wants of the company.

COMPOSITE SENT TO PARENTS.

Here is the first composite letter, just received by Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Leithold from Rieger, who donated his entire office staff to carry out the scheme:

Probably all the relatives and friends of "The Boys" of Ambulance Company No. 2 have had occasional cards and letters from along the way. Several letters have been sent me by parents recounting the story of the trip. Many of the boys had never before been outside of California, and many more had not passed over the Southern and Middle West country.

VARIES, SAY BOYS.

The letters refer to the excellent dining car service on the Southern Pacific to El Paso, the only fair service at eating houses from there to St. Louis and the superior dining car service on the Pennsylvania lines from there to Allentown.

YUMA GIVES COLLEGIANS RECEPTION.

Frequent opportunities of exercising at stations, and an occasional march through the streets of a few places, were also referred to. Yuma especially kept the boys in good trim. The weather, while hot, was not as bad as expected. The partitions and hangings in the car were removed, and the platforms were used as shower baths "a la bucket." The Glee Club and musicians helped to make the trip a happy one.

ROUGHING. IT AT TRAINING CAMP.

The experience of roughing it upon arrival at Allentown was a new one to many, but they all took it in good shape and spirits. The cool, rainy weather at Allentown bothered some. Their quarters were in the old stables at the district fair grounds, which had been cleaned and whitewashed. The old stalls accommodated two army cots with no pillows and two army blankets and the managers to hold their things. Here also the shower bath is ready, and the boys are counseled to use it morning and night, and some of more frequent use.

The race track is adapted to track meets, and the ball games have been made. As 75 per cent of the 5000 at the camp are university men, athletics will have a prominent part in their recreation.

THE PROGRAM OF MILITARY TACTICS.

The day's program is as follows:
8:30 a. m.—First call.
9:40 a. m.—Reveille (get ready).
9:45 a. m.—Assembly and exercises.
10:05. In here we make our own baths after exercising and sweeping the bunks and straighten up everything.
10:30 a. m.—First mess (breakfast).
10:50 to 9:30 a. m.—Drill.
10:45 to 10:30 a. m.—Recreation except Saturdays.
11:45 a. m.—Lectures.
12 m. to 1:30 p. m.—Lunch.
2:20 to 3 p. m.—Recreation (ball, etc.).
4:40 p. m.—Lectures.
4:55 p. m.—Drill.
5:15 to 5:15 p. m.—Parade assembly.
5:45 p. m.—Dinner (getting better the time).
6:30 p. m.—Tattoo (means all lights and only whispering).
7:30 p. m.—Taps (silence and all in except special late passes).

The meals appeared coarse at first, but are either improving or the boys' appetites are. New York City is two and a half hours distant and Philadelphia a little less.

The arrival of the California Unit created some stir among the 5000 lads from other colleges. The letters speak of the welcome and God speed along the way, and of the greater seriousness of the people the farther east they got.

The boys from California have their turn now at fatigue and general duty and are kept busy. This lasts about two weeks, until the next lot of "greenhorns" arrives.

GLEE CLUB COMPOSES SONG.

This song of the Glee Club received applause at all the stops and is a favorite at the Allentown Camp:

Where do we go from here, boys?
Where do we go from here?
Anywhere from Berkeley to a Jersey City pier;
And when we see a pretty girl we'll whisper in her ear,
Oh joy, oh boy, where do we go from here?
Where do we go from here, boys?
Where do we go from here?
To slip a pill to Kaiser Bill and make him shed a tear;
And when we see the enemy, we'll shoot them in the rear!
Oh joy, oh boy, where do we go from here.

All the army people are kind, and as the 5000 are 5 per cent college men the surroundings are not like those of the regular army. There are lots of trees around the grounds. The summer rains keep the country green and beautiful.

MUCH ENTERTAINMENT FROM TOWNSPEOPLE.

The people of Allentown appear to be entertaining the young men in different ways. They expect to be only a few days in the stables and then move into one big tent with a new board floor. There is no domineering spirit of officers over the men, and all seem well acquainted and working with the men.

I find I have gotten into a rather interesting job, as many of the letters from parents to me are human interest letters. The husband of Mrs. Rideout is a captain now in France. She has not heard from him for a month. Surely she is doing her "bit" and a little more with son and husband both in the army. Some parents are quite lonely and perhaps bits of letters that come to you all may be of interest to such.

EACH LAD SEES THINGS DIFFERENT.

I have taken parts of about fifteen letters that have come to me from parents. Each boy sees things from a different angle and when each has his own work, no doubt the letters will touch on many different phases of army life and Red Cross work.

Dr. Powell had not arrived up to the 12th, but after his arrival we shall no doubt have occasional letters from him and other officers, copies of which I shall be glad to send to those who desire to have them.

Time For Draft Friday Morning At 9:30 O'Clock

The Yolo Exemption Board was today notified that at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, in room 226 of the senate building, America's great lottery to determine the order in which her men are to respond to the call of democracy will be held. This is 6:30 a. m. Friday, Woodland time.

The entire registration rolls of more than 9,650,000 men will be drafted. The lottery will consume about an hour. Only one thousand numbers will be drawn and eleven others to fix the order of the "thousands."

Predicted His Number Would Come

Bradley Stephens, assistant accountant at the First National Bank in Woodland, appeared last June 5 at his registration precinct in this city a half-hour before the precinct officials arrived.

"I'm going to be the first to register here, and then possibly the first to be drafted," Stephens told the board.

Today number 258 was the first Yolo county number taken out of the great war lottery box. That number is Stephens'.

The banker and his wife left here last Sunday, to enjoy two weeks of rest.

Quota From Yolo County Not Yet Figured Out

BULLETIN.

Yolo's quota will be announced at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The different quotas from the various registration districts of the state, showing the number of men from each district who will be subject under the selective draft that started this morning in Washington, have not yet been determined by the adjutant general, owing to the almost insurmountable task of deducting from each list the number of names of persons who have already enlisted from various portions of the state for service in the army, the navy and the national guard.

The war department has notified Adjutant General Borree that California's entire quota would approximate 34,000. The estimate of the population of the state on which this quota is based is a matter of doubt, but is somewhere in the vicinity of 3,038,036. The entire registration, which was originally estimated by the federal bureau of registration at 300,000, actually reached 299,277.

The net quota of the state amounts to 23,060, which results after deducting approximately 11,000 persons who have already enlisted in the different branches of the service.

GIGANTIC TASK HERE FIRST CALL SOUNDED

All Exemption Claims Must Be Passed On As the Next
Lottery Step

QUOTAS ARE ASSIGNED TODAY

May Be Weeks Before Those Are Known Who Answer
First Call

In another column will be found the list of registrants in Yolo county whose numbers had been drawn from the great war lottery box at Washington, D. C., up to press time, this afternoon. The numbers were taken out in the order published.

EXEMPTION LIST MAY BE FIFTY PER CENT.

It will be noted that many married men, who will probably be exempted because of dependent families, are included in the list. The U. S. War Department estimates that not more than fifty per cent of the men called will be exempted, or will fail to qualify.

BIG TASK AHEAD

BEFORE FIRST CALL

Who of the following drafted registrants may be taken away with the first call, will probably not be known for a month, or even longer. The quotas of each district in each county in each state must be assigned, and the process of passing upon the exemptions must be finished before the names of those finally drafted into service on the first call become known. The quotas will be assigned this after-

Drafted Now Await Orders From Borree

Since each registered individual is now supposed to know his serial number, he will be compelled to rely upon the press reports from Washington and the numbers as given out locally for his identification under the numbers drawn at the nation's capital. Whether or not he comes within the limits of the quota of his district, he must wait upon a complete report from the adjutant general of the state.

Four Times In Same Spot For This Bank

Uncle Sam's stern hand, through the army draft, fell particularly hard on the banking staff of the First National and Home Savings banks in Woodland today. Bradley Stephens, assistant accountant here, was the first to be drawn; Walker Apperson, another assistant accountant in the same institution, was the fifty-first to be taken, and W. W. Hopper, manager of the First National's branch at Knights Landing, was the sixty-fifth. Stephens and Hopper are married. Apperson is single.

Two other officials in the bank, Ralph Schluer and W. F. Baird, registered, but their numbers had not been drawn up to this writing.

LATER — Ralph Schluer's number has just been reported.

Yolo Exemption Board Gets Instructions For Registrants; How To Furnish Proof

THE YOLO EXEMPTION BOARD TODAY RECEIVED ITS FINAL INSTRUCTIONS AS TO THE ORDERS TO BE GIVEN OUT BEFORE THE DRAFT FOR THE INFORMATION OF THOSE WHO HAVE REGISTERED AND WHO ARE ELIGIBLE TO BE CALLED.

AFTER EXPLAINING THE DUTIES OF THE LOCAL AND DISTRICT BOARD AND ADVISING THE YOUNG MEN TO WATCH FOR THE DRAFT NUMBERS, WHICH ARE EXPECTED TO BE DRAWN THIS WEEK, THE INSTRUCTIONS GIVE SPECIFIC DETAILS AS TO WHAT THE REGISTRANTS SHOULD DO.

Here is the order of procedure suggested by the U. S. Provost Marshal:

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION.

You must report for physical examination on the day named in your call.

(a) If you are found physically disqualified the board will give you a certificate which will explain to you what your further duties are.

(b) If you are found physically qualified and file a claim for exemption within 7 days after your call you will be given 10 days after filing your claim of exemption to file proof in support of your claim of exemption. See (VII) below.

(c) If you are found physically qualified and file a claim for exemption, or if you do not appear for physical examination, your name will be posted to the district board as one who was called for military service and was not exempted or discharged. On the eighth day after call, or within two days thereafter, copies of the list of persons so posted to the district boards will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in a place at the office of the local board accessible to the public view, and notice will be mailed to you at the address on your registration card. Therefore watch the notices posted in the office of the board about 10 days after the day you were called and make arrangements for the prompt receipt of mail.

VII.

SEVEN DAYS TO FILE

CLAIMS OF EXEMPTION OR DISCHARGE.

(Except for industrial or agricultural reasons.)

NOTE.

(a) No claim of discharge on account of the industry in which you are engaged can be decided by a local board. (See Par. XV below.)

(b) WHETHER YOU FILE A CLAIM OF EXEMPTION OR NOT, YOU MUST PRESENT YOURSELF FOR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION ON THE DAY NAMED IN THE NOTICE.

From the day notice that you are called is mailed and posted you have seven days in which you may file a claim of exemption or discharge. The form for filing this claim is simple. If you wish to file such a claim—

(a) Go to the board and get Form 110 for exemption or Form 121 for discharge. If the board has not the printed forms ask to consult the form pamphlet and copy the form shown there.

(b) Fill out the proper form and file it with the board.

(c) Do this within seven days of the posting and mailing of notice to you to present yourself.

The following are the only grounds for exemption:

1. That you are an officer, legislative, executive, or judicial of the United States, a State or Territory, or the District of Columbia.
2. That you are a regular or duly ordained minister of religion.
3. That you were on May 18, 1917, a student preparing for the ministry in any recognized theological or divinity school.
4. That you are in the military or naval service of the United States.
5. That you are a subject of Germany, whether you have taken out papers or not.
6. That you are a resident alien who has not taken out first papers.

In addition to claims for exemption claims for discharge may be made on any of the following grounds, which are the only grounds for discharge by a local board.

1. That you are a county or municipal officer.

2. That you are a customhouse clerk.

3. That you are employed by the United States in the transmission of mails.

4. That you are an artificer or workman employed in an armory, arsenal, or navy yard of the United States.

5. That you are employed in the service of the United States (under certain conditions). See paragraph (e) of section 20, Regulations.

6. That you are a licensed pilot regularly employed in the sea service of any citizen or merchant within the United States.

8. That you are a married man with a wife or child dependent on you for support.

9. That you have a widowed mother dependent on your labor for support.

10. That you have aged or infirm parents dependent upon your labor for support.

11. That you are the father of a motherless child under 16 dependent upon your labor for support.

12. That you are a brother of an orphan child or children under 16 dependent on your labor for support.

13. That you are a member of any well-recognized religious sect or organization organized and existent May 18, 1917, and whose then existing creed or principles forbade its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said religious organization.

These are the only grounds for exemption or discharge by a local board. Another person can file a claim in your behalf, but must use different forms in filing the claim.

VIII.

TEN DAYS AFTER FILING CLAIM TO FILE PROOF.

Your claim of exemption or discharge must be filed within seven days of the day on which notice to you that you are called was posted and mailed. But after you have filed your claim for exemption or discharge you have ten days within which to file proof.

The method of proving claims is very simple but it is rather exact. If you follow the rules given below you will have done what is required of you.

FIRST. GO TO THE LOCAL BOARD AND CONSULT THE REGULATIONS TO FIND OUT THE FORM NUMBER OF THE AFFIDAVIT THAT YOU MUST SUBMIT FOR YOUR PARTICULAR CLAIM.

SECOND. ASK THE BOARD FOR THE BLANK AFFIDAVITS THAT ARE NECESSARY IN PRESENTING YOUR PROOF; IF THE BOARD HAS NOT THE FORMS, ASK TO CONSULT THE PAMPHLET OF FORMS.

THIRD. HAVE THE AFFIDAVIT PROPERLY ACCOMPLISHED AND RETURN THEM TO THE BOARD WITHIN THE TIME LIMIT ASSIGNED YOU—10 DAYS FROM THE FILING OF YOUR CLAIM.

Remember:

(a) You must submit your proof in the prescribed form and the board has no authority to exempt or discharge you unless you submit ALL the affidavits required by regulations.

(b) There will be no argument before the board and no proof other than the prescribed affidavits unless the board calls for other proof which it will do in only a limited number of cases.

IX.

WHEN CLAIMS ARE DECIDED.

Every claim for discharge or exemption will be decided by the local board within three days after your affidavits have been filed.

X.

CERTIFICATE OF EXEMPTION OR DISCHARGE.

If your claim is allowed a certificate of exemption or discharge will be issued to you.

Remember:

(a) This certificate may be recalled at any time.

(b) If it is temporary or conditional, it becomes of no effect when the time or the condition named are fulfilled.

(c) You have been drawn for military service and when the condition that has postponed your posting to the colors ceases you may be recalled at any time.

(d) Remember that your case may still be appealed to the district board by the government and on this appeal your certificate may be withdrawn at once. When so withdrawn you stand precisely as though you had been selected for military service by the local board.

XI.

ADVERSE DECISIONS ON CLAIM.

If your claim is disallowed by the local board your name will be certified and sent by the local board to the district board as one who has been called for military service and not exempted or discharged. Within two days thereafter, if practicable, a list of those so certified to the district board will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in the offices of the local board accessible to the public view, and notice will be mailed to the address on your registration card.

THEREFORE, IF YOU HAVE FILED A CLAIM FOR EXEMPTION AND PROOF IN SUPPORT THEREOF, WATCH THE NOTICES IN THE OFFICE OF THE LOCAL BOARD BEGINNING ABOUT FIVE DAYS AFTER YOU HAVE FILED YOUR PROOF TO SEE WHAT DISPOSITION WAS MADE OF YOUR CASE AND MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE PROMPT RECEIPT OF MAIL.

XII.

HOW THE CLAIM APPEALS TO DISTRICT BOARDS.

Claims of appeal may be made by a person within 10 days after the day when notice has been posted and mailed that such person's name has been certified to the district board as one who has been called for service and not exempted or discharged.

Therefore if you desire to appeal—

1. GO TO THE LOCAL BOARD AND GET OR COPY FORM 153 OR 154 FOR FILING YOUR CLAIM OF APPEAL.

2. GET OR COPY ALSO FORM 151 OR 152 FOR NOTIFYING THE DISTRICT BOARD OF APPEAL.

3. FILE YOUR CLAIM OF APPEAL (153 OR 154) WITH THE LOCAL BOARD.

4. SEND YOUR NOTICE OF APPEAL (FORM 151 OR 152) TO THE DISTRICT BOARD.

5. DO THIS WITHIN 10 DAYS FROM THE DAY WHEN NOTICE THAT YOUR NAME WAS CERTIFIED TO THE DISTRICT BOARD WAS POSTED AND MAILED.

Remember:

1. You can only appeal the final order of the board exempting or discharging or refusing to exempt or discharge you. You cannot appeal other orders or action of the local board.

XIII.

PROVING YOUR APPEAL.

You have five days after the district board receives your notice that you have filed a claim of appeal in which to file evidence additional to that filed by you in the local board, but all such evidence must consist of affidavits.

XIV.

DECISIONS ON APPEAL.

The decision on your appeal must be made within five days of the closing of proof, and you will be notified by mail of the action of the board on your appeal.

XV.

CLAIMS FOR DISCHARGE ON INDUSTRIAL GROUNDS.

Only the district board can receive claims for discharge on the ground that you are engaged in industry, including agriculture found to be necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment, the effective operation of the military forces, or the maintenance of national interest during the emergency.

Such claims must be filed with the district board on or before the fifth day after the mailing and posting of notice that you have been certified by the local board as one who has been called for service and not exempted or discharged.

If you desire to file such a claim:

1. Get or copy at the local or district board Form 161 or 161a.
2. Fill the form out properly.
3. File it with the district board within five days after the mailing and posting of notice that your name has been certified from the local board to the district board.

See section 44, Regulations.

XVI.

PROOF IN SUPPORT OF INDUSTRIAL CLAIM.

Only affidavits can be used in filing proof before the district board of a claim for exemption on industrial grounds. All such affidavits must be filed within five days after the filing of the claim.

XVII.

DECISIONS OF DISTRICT BOARD ON INDUSTRIAL CLAIM.

Within five days after the closing of proof in any industrial claim the district board must decide the claim.

If the decision of the district board is in favor of the claim the board will issue a certificate of discharge. If the decision is against the claim the district boards will so notify you.

Remember that you have been called for military service and that the certificate of the district board is only conditional on your remaining in the kind of industrial service on account of which you were discharged. No such exemption shall continue when a cause therefor no longer exists and your certificate of discharge may be withdrawn or modified by the district board at any time that the district board shall determine that the circumstances require it.

APPEALS OF INDUSTRIAL CLAIM TO THE PRESIDENT.

Only decisions of district boards on industrial claims for discharge can be appealed.

If you desire to appeal the decision of the district boards to the president, you may do so within seven days of the date of mailing to you of the decision of the district board. To perfect your appeal—

1. Get or copy from the district or local board Form 163.
2. Fill out the form and file it with the district board.
3. Do this within seven days after the mailing of notice to you of the decision of the district board in your case.

XIX.

HOW YOU WILL BE NOTIFIED THAT YOU HAVE BEEN SELECTED FOR MILITARY SERVICE

As soon as your case is finally disposed of, the adjutant general of your state will notify you by mail that you have been selected for military service in a place at the office of the local boards accessible to public view. The local board will also give lists of persons selected for military service to the press with requests for publication.

XX.

NOTICE THAT YOU HAVE BEEN SELECTED FOR MILITARY SERVICE WILL NOT NECESSARILY ORDER YOU INTO SERVICE.

The notice to report for military service will come when the government is ready to receive you.

PEAK'S HOTEL, Johnsville, Plumas County, Cal., July 14, 1917.

Editor "Democrat": I am writing today from Johnsville, one of the prettiest, quaintest, queerest little towns one might hope to see. I was about to say it boasted of a fine hotel, wonderful scenery, the finest fishing—or as good as the best—on the Feather river; but this wouldn't be exactly true. The town doesn't boast. It is very modest and very retiring; maybe because it is hidden away off from the railroad—about seven miles, I think, from Blairden—and it sets close in to the mountains.

LIKE AN APLINE IS JOHNVILLE.

Coming in by stage, you set out from Mohawk and climb and climb for nearly a thousand feet, riding all the while through a forest of pine and fir and cedar. At the summit, the stage swings into an open space, and way off across the canyon, down one mountain and part way up the side of another, we glimpse for the first time our destination. Seen at this distance, it might be Switzerland—an Alpine village way up on the side of the mountain.

The first impression is one of splendid isolation. Great white-capped mountains surround it on three sides and a deep canyon—traversed by a wonderful mountain stream—sharply defines its eastern edge and save for the bridge, cuts it off entirely from the great outside. A drop down the mountain side, a quick run on the bridge over the canyon, a sharp turn in the road and behold, Johnsville!

SOME DAY MOVIE

MEN WILL FIND IT.

If you come in on the morning stage, the little town will blink at you. It isn't an Alpine village. And you rub your eyes, and look and wonder. It isn't an Alpine village. And you wonder if you have been sitting in a "movie," watching a mountain stage on its daily run. Some day the movie people will find it. They couldn't make anything like it, and they couldn't find anything like it anywhere.

TYPICAL WESTERN

MINING TOWN.

Did you ever see in the movies an old mining town in the mountains, with its one street, one store, one firehouse, one church, one constable, one bad man, and one pretty girl? That's Johnsville, as near as the movies can get to it, excepting the bad man, who isn't here. There are many pretty girls. It is a real movie mining town, partly deserted now, because once on a time there were two mines—gold—in full swing, and OLD-TIMERS TELL MANY STORIES OF THE BRET HARTE TYPE ABOUT THE EARLY DAYS WHEN THE "DIGGINS" WERE GOOD. THEY TELL STORIES, TOO, ABOUT BLACK BART AND CAN SHOW YOU JUST THE SPOT WHERE THE STAGE WAS HELD UP. Now there is only one mine in operation, and this keeps the town alive.

FLAGS FLY ON

EVERY BUILDING.

There is a conglomerate population—Austrians, Italians, Spanish, the native American, and thin scattering of English. All told, there are not three hundred people here. AND IN THIS TINY OLD-WORLD HAMLET, WITH ITS MIXTURE OF PEOPLES, AND ITS ALMOST ENTIRE ISOLATION, EVERY HOUSE HAS ITS AMERICAN FLAG FLYING, AND EVERY HOUSE HAS ITS GARDEN. Garden doesn't sound much, but in this place of snow and rare summer days—rare in kind as well as number—garden spells a bigger patriotism than all the glads the winds play havoc with.

STORE MUCH FOOD

FOR WINTER USE.

Winter lingers late in these mountains, and comes early. The last of September and early October all is yellow and brown and red, and the air is crisp, and stoves are lighted early at night; and before November comes the white begins to flick itself among the browns and yellows—autumn is crowded out, and winter is here to tarry long. Today we visited a little Italian woman, very young and very pretty. She took us through her house, out in the woodshed stacked with cords and cords of splendid pine timbers; then into the storeroom, piled high with great sacks of flour. We asked how much flour she had and she told us about 800 pounds, and the store was holding for her about 600 pounds more. The wood was not sufficient, another load must be stored away, and the flour would just do her family of three during the winter. AS WE CAME INTO HER GARDEN THREE OR FOUR LITTLE GIRLS CAME BY LEADING A SHEEP. WE ASKED WHAT THEY DID WITH ONE SHEEP AND THEY SAID, "OH, KEEP IT FOR THE WINTER. WE PAY $9 FOR IT NOW, THEN KEEP TILL WINTER WHEN WE KILL IT. THAT'S ALL THE MEAT WE GET IN WINTER TIME, EXCEPT SALT MEAT."

HAPPINESS IN THIS

ISOLATED LITTLE WORLD.

Winter is the time of story, and sleighing, and skiing. Everybody travels on skis. And they tunnel out from their doorways, and dig steps in the snow, and climb to the top of the fifteen foot white carpet. Sometimes this snow carpet is not so thick, but it usually maintains a happy average of 10 or 15 feet. Even the horses wear snow shoe, and the mountains, that are the lure of the daring and the adventurous in summer, become the playgrounds of the children and the grown-ups in winter. They walk over them on their skis, and slide down in their sleighs, and they stay at home and play while the big world outside goes on with its work. They are happy in their little snow world cut off from the big outside.

FISHERMAN'S PARADISE

IN EARLY SPRING.

Then June comes, or late May, and the thaws begin, and the call of the outside can no longer be stayed, communication is established again and the little town prepares to smile its welcome on the first tourist who is fortunate enough to find his way thither. Doubtless he will linger. The fishing may hold him. Each day he may choose a different fishing spot. He may walk just 50 yards across from the hotel and find a trail that will bring him in little more than half hour to Eureka lake. This is just above the town, just a little higher up on the side of the mountain. Here he will find mountain trout, and he may rest under the pines that fringe the lake, and fish, and rest; or he may return to the hotel in ample time for dinner, and start out again. This time down the road, past the mine, and on up the trail to Grass lake, about four miles of cosy walking from the hotel. Here he will find fish aplenty, and a boat on the lake—wonderful boon to the tire hikers.

MANY PLACES ONE

CAN VISIT DAILY.

One visit to Grass lake never satisfies anybody. Besides, when you get back to the hotel, the greeting—"Where were you today? Out at Grass lake? Did you see Jamison and Wade and Rock Lakes? No? Well, you have to take that trip." Jamison is but a short distance beyond Grass lake, Wade is close to Jamison, and on the way back you must see Rock and Grass lakes again. Then there's Smith lake, just over the ridge, this side of Grass lake. Why you can see them all at one time as you go on up the Jamison trail! Not Smith lake, of course, that's just over the ridge, but you can see all the others—and then and there you determine to make these trips, or die in the attempt.

Last time I was here I spent many days at these different lakes. They are wonderfully beautiful, and all well stocked with trout. Better still, they are all within easy walking distance of the town and the trails are good. Then you may fish as you go, for our wonderful mountain creek follows right below the trail, and on a warm day the temptation to linger is sometimes too strong. I think Rock lake is one of the prettiest small lakes I have ever seen, not excepting the lakes of Yosemite. Most of the people from Feather River Inn motor over to the lakes, or to within a short walking distance of them.

JOHNSVILLE HOTEL

SATISFACTORY TO GUESTS.

There are not too many people here in Johnsville at the hotel, which is one of the cleanest and best I have found in the mountains anywhere—the Inn, of course, and the like excepted. The table is good—the vegetables come from the hotel garden—and the service is excellent. The owners are running it this year and they are very pleasant people. The other guests are all here on their third or fourth trip. All are very congenial and we have had some delightful hikes already. Tomorrow, or the next day, we plan a trip for some lakes farther up the canyon, about 7000 feet high. We anticipate a beautiful ride.

WONDERFUL PANORAMA

ABOVE OROVILLE.

The trip up from Sacramento was very pleasant, and after leaving Oroville it was one grand panorama of beautiful sights. All though the canyon the scenery was wonderful. Next

Endorsed at Home

SUCH PROOF AS THIS SHOULD CONVINCE ANY WOODLAND CITIZEN.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Woodland adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

A. Kechn, proprietor of planing mill, Fifth street, Woodland, says: "About five years ago I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Shelton's Drug Store. The results I received were so satisfactory that I have no hesitation in recommending this medicine to others who may be suffering from kidney complaint."

WOODLAND IS BREATHLESS AS NUMBERS ANNOUNCED

Intense Interest Is Displayed
Here as "Those Elected"
Are Posted By Mail

FIRST QUOTA SETTLED

Result of Game of Chance Is Received in Varied Spirit
By All Those Affected

It was like an old fashioned election around the Mail office all day yesterday and well up toward midnight. Every mother's son in Yolo county seemed to want to know at the earliest possible moment just what place in the list he was to hold in the selective draft, and from the way the telephone hummed, it is surely a fact that every mother in the county was just a bit more anxious than her son.

The Mail posted the numbers just as fast as they came over the wire and every few minutes someone would be heard to shout, "That's my number," and then you would see a preceptable squaring of the shoulders and just a bit prouder bearing.

BRADLEY STEPHENS FIRST

Bradley J. Stephens was the first man in the county to have his name posted. He was also the first man to register on June 5th for the selective draft, and if his luck goes with him, he may be the first man to put the handcuffs on the Kaiser. The second man drawn was Oakes Scarlett of Yolo, the third being Harry Crites of Guinda.

One rather strange occurrence of the day was the fact that of the five men of draft age who are employed in the First National Bank, four of them are drawn within the first two hundred numbers drawn, which makes it a practical certainty that they will be subject to examination for the first call. Those in the list are Bradley Stephens, Walker Apperson, W. W. Hopper and Ralph Schluer. It is a veritable fact that the oft repeated slogan of Cashier Harling in his advertisements, that "the eagle eye of Uncle Sam is continually on Our Bank," has been proven beyond doubt by the result of the drawing.

ELECTIVE HOLIDAY

An interesting feature which developed during the day was that many of the harvester crews and hay baling outfits of the county had to suspend operations for the day, as the workers insisted on coming to town to watch the posting of the numbers at this office.

The drawing is very much slower than was anticipated and it now seems likely that it will be at least another twenty-four hours before the list can be completed. The system developed practically over night at Washington, seems to have worked perfectly so far as fairness is concerned, and probably it has been better to make speed slowly, particularly as the lives of men are at stake.

Just what the quota for this county will be has not yet been announced from the Adjutant General's office, but is estimated that it will be anywhere from 116 to 130. If that presumption is correct it is then likely that approximately the first 250 or 300 names on the draft list will have more than a fair chance to be within the first call to duty. Those above that number will be held in reserve and called as required to fill up the quota or to replenish the ranks if that becomes necessary. Every one of the 1535 names listed in this county will be placed somewhere in the list.

Fred Fairchild, surgeon, will report Monday to the United States medical headquarters in San Francisco. He received his commission as a captain several weeks ago, but his call to duty did not come until Friday.

Dr. H. E. Miller, dentist, is now a Lieutenant. He applied to join the U. S. Medical Corps several weeks ago, and has just received his commission. When his call will come is a matter for conjecture.

NOW OPEN TIME FOR FIGURING EXCUSED

Who Will Be Exempted Is a Subject Now For Much Speculation

DRAFTED CONTINUE LABORS

Method of Deciding Fates of Registrants Not Being Criticised

With customary American adaptability, the drafted have today resumed their vocations as undisturbed as the young men who drew blanks in the national lottery, announcements from which were awaited by 90 million people with feverish anxiety.

IMAGINATIVE RELATIVES ALARMED AT FIRST.

Imagination was racing at high tide in Woodland Friday. The list of names printed in the "Democrat" was read with horror-stricken faces by hundreds of nerve-racked women. Every young man drafted could be seen by the mind's eye silhouetted against a battle-flamed sky, target for murderous missiles. The mother, wife or sister who saw her own heart's treasure numbered in battle array suffered as much temporarily as though the beloved had marched away.

MANY A MOTHER GAVE SIGH OF RELIEF.

Many a mother lifted up an enraptured face to heaven, eyesured face to heaven, eyes bedewed with sacred tears. Her boy's name was not there. It was not selfishness. It was her mother-love, without which she would degrade her holy life. There was no exultation. This war has brought about a state of feeling where only the most callous remain indifferent to the sufferings of others. The mother who rejoiced quickly turned her heart in loving sympathy towards the mother who must give; for, as has been remarked, everybody yesterday was thinking that to be drafted meant to go to war at once. The list was read as soon as a "Democrat" could be secured. The comforting assurances in the right-hand column of the page passed unheeded till the reader learned whether or not "my own" was called.

EXEMPTION SPECULATIONS NOW CHIEF TOPIC.

Speculation on exemptions is the chief topic in homes today. The contention, of course, is made that some unmarried men are needed by their near relatives as much as married men, even when the bachelors are not the sole support of parents or minor brothers and sisters. The question is a delicate one. After all eliminations, some young men must be in readiness, and the hearts of relatives are heavy.

DRAFT METHOD CONCEDED FAIR, JUST.

NEW SALES RECORD MADE

So Many Phone Enquiries the

"Hello" Staff

The newspaper of today, the one that really is all that its name implies, has had a responsibility put upon it than in magnitude and importance is second to none among all the agencies in this supreme hour of the world.

PEOPLE DEPEND WHOLLY ON PAPERS.

The people are depending on the papers as never before. The demand for the "Democrat" is indescribable. The office was fairly besieged yesterday and again today. The biggest sale in its history was recorded Friday afternoon. The papers could not be handed out with sufficient dispatch to allay the impatience, although the service was efficient. Comments were rife, and there was a babel of voices as extracts were read aloud from the "Democrat's" news reports, with subsequent discussions.

COUNTRY RESIDENTS CAUSED RUN ON PHONE.

Residents outside the town showed their confidence in and reliance on the "Democrat" by a storm of telephone inquiries. Miss Blanche Esycheck, chief of the telephone exchange, had to engage extra help. The service was good.

PEOPLE GREEDY FOR LATEST NEWS.

The people are famishing for news, and peruse with avidity their favorite local paper. It is their storehouse of supply, without which they feel as though needful sustenance were denied.

WORK OF PAPERS HARDLY REALIZED.

The work entailed on a live newspaper at this strenuous time cannot be understood by one unfamiliar with the methods of getting late and important news and putting it into readable shape. The "Democrat" finds its reward in the satisfaction it is giving the public.

GREAT FIND FOR SHREWD ADVERTISERS.

The advertiser who uses space in the paper now will find his announcements read by a larger number of people than were ever promised him by the most energetic solicitor of ads., for "ma, pa," and the whole family have the reading habit.

THOSE BEYOND 300 MARK ARE LIKELY TO ESCAPE FIRST CALL

Allowing for the estimated number of exemptions, these registrants whose names appeared with the first 300 published in the "Democrat" Monday, are likely to be the ones upon whom Uncle Sam will depend for the first draft call. It is believed that those whose numbers were not drawn with the first 300 will likely not see service until the second call is made.

With the finishing of the lottery at 2:18 o'clock this morning, it was announced that those whose numbers were drawn toward the end would not be announced over the wire until later, none of them will be needed in the first call.

EXAMINATION CALL TO BE SENT OUT TO 214

Credit System Will Greatly Reduce the Number Requested
For First Ranks

YOLO COUNTY will be called upon to furnish 107 men for the first draft. That figure was announced yesterday evening by Adjutant General Borree, whose office assigned the quotas of the several counties of the state under a table compiled by the provost marshal general's office in Washington. With the first official announcement of this number those men selected in order at Friday's great lottery may form some estimate of their chances for being called to service with the first national draft army.

Although Adjutant General Borree stated this figure of 107 might vary one or two numbers one way or the other it may be safely stated that for the first examinations the first 214 men on Yolo county's draft list will be summoned. According to the estimates of the government it is thought that two men will have to be called for examination to procure one soldier, fifty per cent being exempted so upon this basis the men may figure

There are, of course, those few men who are placed in an uncertain position, men who have drawn a few numbers ahead or after the 214 mark. They must wait for the number of exemptions before they will be certain of their liability for the first army.

Yolo county, in being assigned its quota, fared well in the matter of credits for enlistments from this section. The gross quota, figured upon the population and registration percentages, was 192. After applying the credit table, however, 85 men were eliminated.

EXEMPTION BATTLE TO BEGIN

SCORES OF DRAFTED APPEAR BUT ARE TOLD TO WAIT

NOTICES

GOVERNMENT MAY CONTEST MEN EXCUSED BY A LOCAL BOARD; DELAYED

Drafted men in Yolo county should not file their exemption claims with the local exemption board, until they have received their notice advising them when to appear for physical examinations. Scores of young men whose names appeared among the first 214 drawn from the lottery box, visited the Yolo board's headquarters in E. E. Gaddis' office today. Many had come a long distance to state their cases. All were told to watch the papers for further instructions.

EXEMPTED SHOULD WATCH FOR NOTICE.

"We have received no official advice as to our next step," said Gaddis this morning. "All young men eligible for the first call should now watch for the notice informing them when to appear for physical examination. Because of the great amount of business that must be transacted in connection with the draft, I do not look for these notices to be sent out before at least seven or eight days."

U. S. WILL BATTLE AGAINST EXEMPTION.

It is not going to be an easy matter for a drafted man to escape service. The government will appeal every exemption granted by a local exemption board. The district boards appointed by the government will be the final arbiters in all exemption questions.

The list of the drafted men will be posted and they will be notified by postcard that they have been drawn. Each man desiring exemption will have to see to it that his claims are properly made. Every man will be entitled to a hearing on the merits of his claim within ten days of the seven day period following posting of the lists here.

DISTRICT QUOTA IN COUNTY TO BE GIVEN SOON

Adjutant General Borree Saturday night announced a revised list of quotas for the counties and cities of California, deducting for enlistments. As a result, the number of men included in the first call will be considerably smaller than was indicated in the gross quotas announced by General Borree and published in Saturday's papers.

Yolo county's new quota is given as 107.

The quota first announced was 192. This was the figure before army enlistments had been subtracted. The net quota is formally announced as 107.

The quotas for each district will be announced later by the adjutant general. The only effect of the change in Yolo's quota will be that it will reduce the quota estimated for each district, and will thus act to cut down the number of men to be ordered for examination in the first call to 214.

Yolo Not Evenly Affected By Exactions Under Draft

Compilation of Figures on First Call Show Second District Must Furnish Sixty Men While Woodland, with much Heavier Registration, is Drawn for Only Five More Conscripts

A compilation of the draft figures for Yolo county by supervisorial districts show that the second district, represented on the board by W. O. Russell, has been hit by far the hardest of any of the other districts in the county.

Taking the first 214 names in the draft, that being the number estimated to be called on for examination for the first call to arms, gives the second district 60 men out of its 328 on the entire registration draft. That number is only 5 less men than the fourth district in which the city of Woodland is situated, which district has 505 men in the draft register. The third district, represented by Mr. Edson, is the lightest hit in the county, having 167 registered and only 16 men in the first 214.

INTERESTING FIGURES COMPILED
By districts, these interesting figures have been compiled.

First district, 953 registered voters; 331 draft registration; 37 men in the first 214; average of those called to total draft registration, 1 to every 9.

Second district, 1322 registered voters; 328 draft registration; 60 men in the first 214; average of those called to total draft registration, 7 to every 5 1/2.

Third district, 615 registered voters; 167 draft registration; 16 men in the first 214; average of those called to total draft registration, 1 to every 10 1/2.

Fourth district, 2829 registered voters; 505 draft registration, 65 men in the first 214; average of those called to total draft registration, 1 to every 7.

Fifth district, 1320 registered voters; 294 draft registration, 35 men in the first 214; average of those called to total draft registration, 1 to every 8 1/2.

WOODLAND ON AVERAGE

The average for the entire county is very close to 1 for every 7 1/2 which is just the quota for the Woodland district. The second district is giving its over-plus for the reason that the great lottery bowl at Washington did not give up the numbers of those registered in the first, the third and the fifth districts.

Winters and Davis, the two towns in the second district, will have the distinction of being represented in Uncle Sam's army to a greater extent than any other portion of the county, provided the physical condition of her men is on a par with those of the other districts, and it is altogether probable that it is.

HOW MANY MEN TO BE CALLED IS QUESTION

Yolo Exemption Board Would Call Over Twice Quota For Examination

WILL SUMMON 300 DRAFTED

Borree Advises That Only the Quota Number Will Be Called First

A difference of opinion as to the number of Yolo drafted men to be given five-day notices to report for medical examination in the first call, has arisen between the Yolo county exemption board and Adjutant-General Borree. Borree today advised that only 107 men, Yolo county's net quota, should be sent notices, and that after this number is exhausted additional drafters should be notified until the 107 have been accepted.

The local board believes that this is an inefficient method of examining and is in favor of summoning 300 men for examination.

"As long as we must accept 107 men," said Chairman E. E. Gaddis today, "it seems that we should call at least 300 men, in view of the large number that will be exempted for various reasons. If more than our quota seems likely to be secured from this number, the examining can stop when the quota is reached. The plan of the adjutant-general to summon only as many as are wanted for examination, would require at least two sets of five-day notices being sent out and would result in a waste of time."

The local exemption board will issue the call for examinations as soon as the master list is obtained from the adjutant-general. The notices will be sent out next week, as the Yolo county official list will have arrived by that time.

PLAN OF DEFENSE COUNCIL ACTED ON

Governor and Officials of State Consider Suggestions of Local Body

TO GUARD ALL WAREHOUSES

Ogden Storehouses Among the First In California To Be Protected

Suggestions made by the Yolo county defense council several days ago were considered by the State Council of Defense and Governor W. D. Stephens Thursday, and as a result armed watchmen will probably be stationed about every grain warehouse in the state within the next few days. It was pointed out at yesterday's meeting that in Yolo county alone, there are thousands of dollars' worth of wheat and barley stored in warehouses that are unprotected.

At the present time, California warehouses are bulging with immense grain and bean crops. There is hardly a warehouse in the state of any size containing less than 300,000 bags of grain, and some of them contain as high as 1,000,000 sacks. The grain crop this year is so heavy that much of it will remain out of doors, owing to lack of warehouse capacity.

With wheat at $2 per hundred, a fire in any one of these warehouses would cause great loss. The presence of so much grain at this time and for some time to come is due partly to a lack of shipping facilities.

George Ogden, local warehouseman, was one of the first in the state to seek protection against the torch. For some time Ogden has had armed guards watching his storehouses in this city. Other county warehousemen were today arranging to secure protection.

EXAMINE DRAFT MEN SATURDAY

SELECTION BOARD SUMMONS
321 MEN FROM LIST PUBLISHED IN 'DEMOCRAT'

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION TO TAKE FOUR DAYS; 75
MEN EXAMINED
EACH DAY

The first 321 men whose names appear on the official draft list published in today's "Democrat" are included in the first draft for the national army and will be required to present themselves for physical examination beginning next Saturday morning. Chairman E. E. Gaddis of the Yolo Selection Board today announced the procedure that will be followed in supplying this county's quota of 107 men.

EXAMINATION TO CONSUME FOUR DAYS.

The first 75 men on the list are required to appear at 8 o'clock next Saturday morning, at the superior court room in the I. O. O. F. hall. The next 75 will be examined Sunday, beginning at 8 o'clock, the next 75 on Monday, and the remaining 96 on Tuesday. Every man must be at the examining headquarters at 8 o'clock and wait until his turn to be examined.

OFFICIAL NOTIFICATIONS SENT OUT TODAY.

Gaddis and the newly appointed assistant of the local board, Miss Irene Hildebrandt, having received the master list from Sacramento, set to work this morning mailing official notices to the first 321. Notifications for the first increment at least will be mailed out today.

Claims for exemption must be filed within seven days of today, or tomorrow, if your official notice is not mailed until then. The claim must be stated plainly. At the end of the seven days you have ten more days in which to submit proofs for your claims of exemption. The grounds on which exemptions may be based have already been printed in the "Democrat."

EXAMINATION TO BE STRICT AND SEARCHING.

The examining physicians, as announced several days ago, are Dr. H. D. Lawhead of Woodland and Dr. G. Wilson of Sacramento. Both men will examine every candidate and if one rejects the man under examination the other will himself examine him. Every effort will be made to avoid any unnecessary exemption on grounds of physical disability and the government will contest every rejection.

FAILURE TO APPEAR MEANS PHYSICALLY QUALIFIED.

The men of this county who are included in the first 321 called should study the official list published today and find out what day they will be required to appear. Failure of any man to be present will mean that he will be certified as physically qualified for army service.

The exemption board here, especially Mr. Gaddis, are to be commended for the dispatch with which they are handling the arrangements. Work was not commenced on the master list until this morning, and already the list of 10,500 numbers has been checked up and a number of the official notices mailed.

Local Youth Writes From Shadow of Guns

Russell Lowe Tells of Events Behind French Front Since He Arrived to Haul Ammunition to Big Guns; Has not Yet Been Under Fire but was Nearly Torpedoed Going Across.

From the shadow of the trenches has come a letter to Woodland, from Russell J. Lowe, telling of the work and experiences of the American young men who are at present performing the hazardous task of feeding the great "French 75's." The letter was received by Miss Claire Lowe, his cousin, and is the first genuine news to be received in Woodland from a local man at the front.

The letter is crowded with color such as one may poorly imagine until they are a part of such a scene as is depicted in the description, couched in only such terms as such a student as Lowe is capable of. He tells of his experiences, from the time the ship upon which he sailed to Europe narrowly missed being torpedoed, up until the time the letter was written. It follows:

"You can not imagine how very hard it is here in camp to write. There are forty-two of us in this camp at present, consequently some noise. We are in training within sixteen miles of one of the French fronts.

IN TRANSPORT SERVICE

"I did not go into the American ambulance but I am with the Camion service of the French army, that is we drive Pierce-Arrow five-ton trucks and carry ammunition to the French guns at the front. We do not get so very near the first line trenches because of the fact that the trucks must have the best of roadways. What we have to look out for are the big German shells from overhead and the bombs which the Boshe planes are liable to drop.

"Coming across the ocean we ran up with a German submarine. It sent two torpedoes at us, both going by the stern. Our "French 75" gave it five shells, two of the last hitting—so we were told. We saw a big explosion just over the periscope and a moment later there was no periscope. We were told that the "Boshe Sub" was gone to the bottom.

FEW MEN IN PARIS

"In Paris one sees very few young men, in fact none at all, except those in the army who are on their seven day rest. There are on every side terrible sights in the way of cripples—men with no legs, no arms, no eyes—all these poor fellows being aided along in wheel chairs. The women in Paris are as pretty as as ever, most of of them dressed in black. There are no lights after 9 o'clock, even the subway stopping running after 10:30. It is all very dismal.

"With all of France's (eliminated by censor) the big restaurants are able to serve you a better dinner at a cheaper price than you can get in San Francisco. Even in the clothing stores you can buy better stuff than you get in your own home town and at a cheaper rate, of course.

"I have met and talked with a great many young Canadian soldiers who were at Viny Ridge. I wish I could tell you of the slaughter of the Huns that took place there. It must have been great.

PICTURES OF HATRED

"I have seen many German prisoners of late. Most of them looked like big animals, well fed, hard face. When you pass them they stare at you as if they hated the very ground you walked on. Some more German hate, I suppose.

"I think that if America gets into the action the war will be over in another year. We understand Germany is fast falling away in here army morale. Her soldiers allow themselves to be taken prisoners and are also deserting very fast. Some even refuse to fight. All this we hear from soldiers who have been at the front. Of course it is to some extent rumor but I personally believe most of it.

"The boys here are a fine lot. Most of them from eastern universities. I have met six or seven of my fraternity brothers here at the camp. Most of them are from the Universities of Illinois and Chicago."

The above was written on July 3, while the rest of the letter was written on July 5.

OBSERVED THE FOURTH

"Since last writing all the American camps got together and had a fine Fourth of July. We drilled all morning and in the afternoon the Algerian and Tunisian troops pulled off some good dances. The Algerians are the dark troops, along with the Singalese, who go after the Germans with a knife. When these black troops get into action no German has half a chance. Either the German must use his gun with success or he is cut to pieces. When I see you (after the war) I can tell you some very interesting things, some that I have seen and some that I have heard.

"Have you heard of any fires in the grain fields about home? I naturally suppose that there are Germans or I. W. W. in Woodland and Yolo county who would do a thing of that sort.

"You are no doubt having a hot spell about now. Here it is still cold and we have a rain about three days out of the week. They tell me that heavy bombardments have some thing to do with it. We hear the big French guns almost all the time.

ALL OLD FRIENDS DEAD

"On my first furlough, which will come in three months, I am going to Grenoble to look up some of my old friends. All of the young fellows with whom I chummed are dead and I suppose the young Englishmen are too. Tell me when you write who the boys are who have enlisted for over-sea service, also who we drafted. It will be very interesting to know whose names have been added to the roll of honor."

EXAMINATION CALLS TO GO OUT TO 321 ELIGIBLES

Yolo County Selection Board
Sends First Lot of Notices
And Will Have All Others
Ready Within Few Days

PHYSICAL TESTS TO START ON SATURDAY

Men Get Only 7 Days in Which To File Exemption Claims
And Then Tens Days to Present All Proofs

Three hundred and twenty-one men are to be called before the Yolo county selection board for physical examination for the first draft army, according to the announcement of that body yesterday. Although this county's quota is but 107 men it is desired to call enough to assure the filling of that number at the first and not delay the work by waiting on a second series of notices. Work of examination will begin next Saturday morning, according to the statement.

The divisions in which these men men will report for the official physical tests is as follows: Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, 75; Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, 75; Monday morning at 8 o'clock, 75; and Tuesday at 8 o'clock the remaining 96. All the men called in the first lot were sent their notices yesterday evening and should begin receiving them today. They will be required to report in a body and wait their turn of examination. Failure to receive the notice will not be considered an excuse of non-appearance and failure to report will mean they will be adjudged physically fit for the army. The place of examination is the superior court room in the I. O. O. F. hall in Woodland.

FILE EXEMPTION CLAIMS

Another announcement made by the selection Board was that any claims of exemption must be filed within seven days of the receipt of the notice to report for physical examination. Otherwise they will not be considered. This claim does not mean the presentation of proofs of the claim set forth for they will not be required until ten days after the filing of the claim. Proofs must be submitted upon regular affidavit forms. All draft eligibles, especially those who come in within the first 321 drawn, will do well to thoroughly inform themselves of the exemption proceedings, information being available at the local board headquarters.

CONTINUE TO MAIL OFFICIAL NOTICES

Slight Change Made In Order Of Examinations After Saturday

GOOD PROGRESS IS MADE

Government Agents Will Wage Unrelenting Warfare
On Slackers

The last of the official notices to drafted men to report for physical examination are expected to be in the postoffice late this afternoon, according to a statement of the Yolo selection board today. The first 125 notices were mailed Monday and the board has been working today to finish up its task of notifying the first 321 men to be called.

A slight change has been made in the time at which the drafted men are to appear. Saturday morning at 8 o'clock the first 75 are to be on hand at the Odd Fellows' Hall, as announced in Monday's "Democrat." Sunday, however, the next 12 are to appear at 8 o'clock and the other 63 at 10 o'clock Sunday. Monday the same order will be followed. Tuesday the first 12 will appear at 8 o'clock and the remaining 63 at 10 o'clock. In case the quota of 107 is secured before the list is exhausted the remainder will be excused. The notices sent out contain the serial number, order or draft number and instruction to appear at the office of the draft board at a certain date for examination. Time begins to run, as to the filing of claim and proof, from the date the notice is mailed. Each board will send notices in groups. If six hundred men are to be called, two hundred will be called each day for three days, so that one-third of the work will be started before the second third reports.

Prompt and efficient work by district exemption boards is expected by government officials as a result of stripping all red tape from the procedure of the tribunals. President Wilson's executive order outlining the principles to govern exemptions, coupled with instructions to the boards from Provost Marshal General Crowder, are regarded here as setting in motion the last phase of the selection process with a momentum that insures a minimum of confusion and delay.

The object of instructions is to enable the boards to help choose the national army in the shortest possible time. To that end they have been informed that no legal precedents bind them.

Attorney General Gregory set in motion Monday further machinery to increase the size of the registration reservoir from which the 687,000 men of the first call are to be drawn. Thousands of men failed to register, it has been found. Through the district attorneys, the Department of Justice is rounding up these men and when found they will be assigned numbers which will insure their being called up for examination at an early date. They will be given the serial numbers of men near the top of the list already permanently discharged for physical reasons.

SENDS OUT A CALL FOR WOMEN TO ORGANIZE

Mrs. Shute Tells How Clubs
Of Yolo County May Help Nation

CO-ORDINATION IS KEYNOTE

Formation of Yolo Branch of State Council Will Follow Soon

Mrs. H. J. Shute, who is organizing the Yolo County Women's Committee of the Councils of National and State Defense, today sent out announcements of the defense plan to the heads of all the women's clubs in the county. The keynote of the movement is to conserve the food resources of the country and the club women are reminded that signing a food pledge is equivalent to making the following promise: "I will use food wisely and save all and put up or dry all that I can."

WORKING HARMONY AIMED AT IN FORMING NEW BODY.

Unification of effort is the primary aim in forming the new Yolo county body, it being intended to co-ordinate women's organizations and their working forces in order to enlist at once the greatest possible number of women in a service which the national situation demands. The plan merely links together in complete working organization existing societies of women.

POINTS IN WORKING OF THE COMMITTEE.

The aims of the committee of women is expected to be fulfilled by registration for service, home relief, allied relief, food production, conservation and thrift, Americanization, labor of women, public health, child welfare, instructive courses, protective regulation (recreation), and conservation of moral and spiritual uplift forces.

MAKEUP OF PARENT
BODY AND LOCAL BRANCH.

Mrs. Shute's announcement tells that the California's Women's Committee is composed of the three women members of the State Council of Defense and the presidents of the state organizations of women. The first work of this committee is to appoint a temporary chairman for each of the fifty-eight counties of the state. In Yolo county this chairman is Mrs. Shute, and she is instructed to call into conference the presidents or their proxies of all organizations of women in the county. Today's announcement is preliminary to such a call.

TO FORM PERMANENT
LOCAL COMMITTEE.

Each county shall then form a permanent committee, composed of the president or one representation from each of the women's clubs in the county. The committee so organized shall continue in existence during the war, and as long thereafter as the Council of National Defense may direct. The permanent chairman of the county committee is to be an advisory member of the state council.

After the heads of the women's clubs in Yolo county have been notified of the defense plan Mrs. Shute will start the work of organization. She expects to call a meeting of the club presidents and their leading members to form the county committee which will in turn elect a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer.

Finishes the Draft Call But Spends Busy Day In Answering Questions

Chairman E. E. Gaddis and his assistants spent a comparatively restful day today, having completed the mailing of the official notices Tuesday afternoon. Aside from preparing for the work of hearing exemption claims, and answering questions over the telephone, by mail and in person, the selection board had nothing to do today.

Not more than 320 men will be examined during the four days beginning Saturday, for number 221 was held by Roy Hoffman of Davis, who was buried here Sunday.

Selection boards throughout the state are preparing for one of the heaviest jobs ever given to a body of public officials.

The list of men called in the first draft may be found on page 4 of today's "Democrat". Cut out the list and save it if anyone in your household is included.

There was a rush to enlist in the regular army Tuesday and Lieutenant-Colonel John H. Gardner, in charge of recruiting, reported last evening that 150 men enlisted during the day, one of the heaviest days since war was declared. Many of the men were in the draft age, but a large proportion were free agents and beyond the draft, according to Colonel Gardner, showing that many men feel they are needed in the regular army at once, he says.

The regular establishment is now only 15,000 short of its full quota, according to word from Washington yesterday, and it is the opinion of recruiting officers that no men chosen by the draft will be taken into the regulars for a few days. By that time it is believed the regular enlistments will have filled the number desired and all the drafted men will go into the National Army.

With the possibility of only one more day in which men who have been drafted may enlist voluntarily both the regular army and the navy, naval reserve and marine corps expected a large number of enlistments today.

READY FOR PHYSICAL SCRUTINY SATURDAY

First 75 Men Called In Draft To Face Examiners At
I. O. O. F. Hall

TEST TO BE STRICT BUT FAIR

Men Claiming Exemption Must Fill Out a Blank After Being Passed

Seventy-five of Yolo county's stalwart, upstanding young men, the first to be called in the draft here, will assemble at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning at the superior court room in Odd Fellows Hall for the examination which will determine whether they are physically qualified to serve their country.

The men will be examined in the order in which their names appear on the official list. If the candidate is accepted by the first physician who examines him, he is declared accepted. If he is rejected the other physician will then examine him. Every effort will be made to give each man a careful and fair examination.

ORDER OF PHYSICAL TEST.

The physician will first observe the general condition of the skin, scalp, cranium, ears, eyes, nose, mouth, face, neck and chest. He will measure weight, height and chest expansion. Lack of standard weight or of chest expansion may be overlooked if the applicant is active, has firm muscles, and is evidently vigorous and healthy. To be acceptable men below 64 inches in height must be of good physique, well developed, and muscular. Variations in weight above the standard are not disqualifying, unless sufficient to constitute obesity. Unless exceptionally well proportioned, men above six and a half feet in height will be rejected.

After inspecting the applicant in various body motions the examiner will test his heart and lungs; then his upper extremities. A mental examination will next be given to discover whether the applicant is possessed of normal, sound understanding.

Tests will next be made of his sight, and his hearing. Careful tests will be made of both of these senses. An elaborate certificate will be made out covering the case of each man examined.

EXEMPTION CLAIMS

AFTER EXAMINATION.

Immediately after an applicant is examined he will be given either an exemption blank, if he is declared physically fit, or a discharge, if the doctors agree that he is unfit. If claiming exemption, he will place a cross opposite the exemption claim he submits and return the claim to the board, which will sit beginning tomorrow at the place of the examination.

Physical Test Matter Of Confidence

MEN THEMSELVES CAN TELL

Examination Proceeds Calmly
During Day; Japanese
Are Excused

Physical examination of 320 young men for the first draft began at Odd Fellows Hall today and the first 75 on the list are expected to have been passed upon by 5 o'clock this evening.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon 39 men had been called by the board. Of these five were absent when their names were called, but they were expected to return and await their turn at the bottom of the list. Eight Japanese among the first 75 were excused as aliens, after they had made affidavits of having been born in Japan. Their cases will be passed upon later.

No information was given out as to the men passed and rejected in today's examinations and the board stated that the names will not be made public.

"This process of examining a man to determine whether he is physically qualified to serve his country or not is a confidential matter between the man and the exemption board," said E. E. Gaddis today. "We do not feel that it can with propriety be told to the public. Those men who have passed the examination have been given a chance to file exemption claims, while those who have been rejected by the doctors will be given discharge certificates."

Anyone today who was given a blank with which to claim exemption may be reasonably sure that he passed the examination. There were very few cases of failure to pass, showing that the physical standard in the county is high. A majority of the men passing the examination and offered the exemption blank filled out the claim on some ground or other.

Sunday morning at 8 o'clock men numbering 76 to 87, inclusive, on the official list will appear for examination. Those numbered from 88 to 150 inclusive will appear at 10 o'clock Sunday.

New students need not appear in person at Berkeley until Friday, August 17, unless they have entrance examinations to take, or unless their credentials require special adjustment.

Those who have not full recommendations for admission can take examinations between August 9 and 14.

Immediately on registering, every new student must report to the Medical Examiner and receive an appointment for a medical examination, for no student is admitted to the university whose physical condition would be dangerous to others or make life at the university inadvisable for the individual's own health. All young men must report also on registration day to Professor F. L. This Military Scout Subjects Automobile Rigid Tests

When a mud-bespattered motor car pulled up in front of a hotel in Salt Lake City and four khaki-clad soldiers climbed stiffly from the seats and stretched their weary limbs for the first time in many hours, one of the most gruelling and practical tests to which an automobile was ever subjected was pulled off to demonstrate the utility of motor cars for military purposes.

All previous automobile records from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City were shattered, and a new record was hung up that will probably stand for years. The party left Los Angeles at 4 o'clock Monday morning, and were checked out by a committee composed of army officers. The drive was made over the Arrowhead trail, a distance of 826 miles, in the remarkably fast time of 36 hours and 14 minutes.

A. McBroom of the McBroom Motor Sales Company, local dealers in Oldsmobiles, is elated over this magnificent achievement of the Oldsmobile, and cites the fact that if the run had been continued on across the continent maintaining its average and best take—for regular physical exercise is required of all freshmen and sophomores, as well as military drill for all the young men in those classes. New men students must report on August 17, 18 or 20 at the armory for military enrollment.

The University has issued a "Freshman Circular" in which the new student will find when and where he is to report for assignment to sections in his classes.

President Wheeler will welcome the new students to the University at a "University Meeting" in the great open-air Greek theater at 11 o'clock Monday morning, August 20. Regular class exercises will begin on the following morning—Tuesday, August 21—and prompt attendance is expected of every student. The new student has until Monday, August 27, however, to make his final determination as to his study-list and to have it signed by the proper officer.

Tuition is free, save that non-residents of California pay $10 each half year. There are laboratory fees for the materials used in various laboratory courses. Every student is expected to supply his military uniform and his athletic uniform. All students pay a "gymnasium and infirmary fee," of $5 each half-year, which entitles them to use of the gymnasiums, swimming pools and athletic fields, and to the privileges of the Infirmary, where, in return for this semi-annual fee, the student is entitled to receive all the medical advice and hospital care that he may require at no further cost save in case of a serious surgical operation. Last year 5000 of the 6300 students were treated or advised at the Infirmary—45,000 times in all. Actually, a student's health is better safeguarded than when he is in his own home. The Infirmary system is a great comfort to parents as well as a great blessing to the students.

ONLY FEW ARE FOUND TO BE PHYSICALLY DEFICIENT

Large Number of Married Men
In First List Is Given as Cause for Large Number Seeking Discharges

SOME SLACKERS ARE DISCOVERED IN YOLO

Several Fail to Report for Examination; Some Said to Have Enlisted But Some Are Evading Service

Ninety percent of those men who have been found physically fit for military duty under the selective service system in Yolo county claim exemption. Such were the figures returned after the first day of examinations completed last night at 7 o'clock by the local selection board. Reasons are varied, although most claim exemption on the grounds that they have dependent wives, and some children. Sixty-four were tested by the physicians in the Odd Fellow's hall yesterday, eleven of the first quota of 75 having failed to appear.

While some of those who did not report have already enlisted in some branch of the service, several, some half-dozen in number, are thought to be evading the law and if they do not present themselves for examination by next Tuesday will be reported to the federal officials and arrested. This will mean they will automatically be called to service and be in danger of capital punishment as deserters if they do not then report. At least two instances are known where the men have fled to evade service.

FEW PHYSICALLY UNFIT
Physical disability, and discharges for this cause, are running low in Yolo county. Only twelve of the sixty-four examined were discharged. Of the total number, however, twelve have also been exempted for the present as aliens. Eight of these were Japanese and four Spaniards. With these twenty-four rejected from the total of sixty-four, forty were left who are eligible before the exemption claims are passed upon. Of this number there were only four who offered no excuses, the other thirty-six claiming exemption. One reason advanced for this high percentage by the board last night was the fact that most of those called yesterday were married men and they, almost without exception, asked exemption.

EXEMPTION PROCEEDURE
All the men who claimed exemption will have ten days in which to file affidavits, the affidavit of the dependent wife and the affidavit of at least one head of family who knows the circumstances claimed. After the filing of these affidavits with the county exemption board, that board has three days in which to either allow or reject the claim. If the claim is rejected by the local board the affiant has an additional ten days in which to file an appeal to the district board. In case the claim is allowed by the local board, the government has retained the right to make the appeal to the district board.

Another quota of 75 will be on hand for examination this morning and the list will be required to appear from day to day until the full 321 have been examined.

HOUSEWIVES OF YOLO COUNTY URGED TO FOLLOW HOOVER'S FOOD CONSERVATION POLICY

Local Women's Defense Council Receives Instructions Which Are Being Practiced All Over Nation — Chairman Shute Is Anxious to Have Woodland Join in Necessary Campaign.

"Yolo county now has another opportunity to show its patriotism, this time through the housewife," says Mrs. H. J. Shute chairman of the Yolo County Women's Council of National and State Defense. "We have set a record here for money, crops and men for the nation in its time of need, but these works have generally rested with the men. The woman's turn has come in the proper use of foods and the conserving of the supply, for food is needed as badly as are men and money."

Mrs. Shute has just received from headquarters a set of instructions outlined by Herbert Hoover, acting food administrator. It is under these suggestions that the women's councils are working all over the country and it is proper that they should be presented to the patriotic women of Woodland and Yolo county.

SOME OF IMPORTANT FACTS

Here are some of the most important:

Save the wheat—one wheatless meal a day; use corn, oatmeal, rye or barley bread and no wheat for breakfast foods. Cut the loaf at the table and only as needed. Use stale bread for cooking, toast and eat less cakes and pastry.

Our wheat harvest is far below normal. If each person weekly saves one pound of flour from wheat, that means 150,000,000 bushels more of wheat for the allies to mix in their bread. This will help save Democracy.

Save the Meat—Beef, mutton, pork not more than once daily. Serve smaller portions and stews instead of steaks. Make made dishes of left overs. Do this and there will be meat for all at a reasonable price.

CONSERVE YOUNG MEAT

We are killing today dairy cows and female calves as the result of high prices. Therefore eat less and eat no young meat. If we save an ounce of meat a day per person we shall have an additional supply equal to 2,200,000 cattle.

Save the milk—Children must have milk. Use every drop. Use sour milk and buttermilk for cooking and to make cottage cheese. Use less cream.

Save the fats—we are the world's greatest fat wasters. Butter is essential for growth and health of children. Use no butter in cooking. Other fats are as good. Reduce use of fried foods. Save daily one third ounce of animal fats. Soap contains fat. Don't waste it.

Save sugar—sugar is scarcer. We are using three times as much per person as our allies. Use less candy and sweet drinks so there will be enough for all at a reasonable price. Don't stint sugar in putting up fruit and jams. They will save butter. If each one will save one ounce of sugar daily, it means 1,100,000 tons a year.

SAVE PERISHABLE FOODS

Use perishable foods—as a nation we eat too little of fresh fruits and vegetables. Double their use and improve your health. Store potatoes and other roots properly and they will keep. Can or dry all surplus garden products.

Use local supplies—buy at home, distance means money. Buy perishable food from your neighbor and save transportation.

General rules; buy less, serve smaller portions. Preach and live the "Gospel of the Clean Plate." Don't eat a fourth meal. Don't limit food of growing children. Watch out for the wasters in the community. Full garbage pails in America mean empty dinner pails in America and Europe.

Let the more fortunate avoid waste and not over eat and the H. C. L. problem of the less fortunate will be solved.

HERBERT HOOVER.
United States Food Administrator.

WOODLAND SOLDIERS PASS EXAMINATIONS FOR FEDERAL POSTS

Three Woodland men are among National Guard officers who were declared Sunday to have successfully passed the examination in which Brigadier-General Wankowski and eighteen other officers failed and were thereby retired to private life. The successful trio includes Charles W. Thomas Jr., Rodney J. Hill, and J. Grant Bruton.

Thomas was one of the three prominent attorneys of the state named lieutenant-colonels for the Judge Advocate General's department. Hill passed as a first lieutenant for infantry. Bruton became a second lieutenant in the infantry.

With the calling of two thousand members of the National Guard into federal service Sunday the federalization of the state troops was made almost complete. The organizations affected by the mobilization orders include the second field hospital companies, three ambulance companies, one company of signal corps, a squadron of cavalry, troops A, B and C, with machine gun troops; a battalion of field artillery and two coast defense companies, one from San Francisco and one from Los Angeles; brigade headquarters and equipment.

MAY FINISH LIST TONIGHT

Board To Await Borree's Order Before Giving Names
Of Claimants

No estimate could be given today by exemption board officials as to number of additional men to be called for examination, in order to make out the quota of 118 men which Yolo county must send to the regular army physicians for examination. It thought that the number will run over 150. The claim of every man seeking exemption must be passed on by the local board and approved by the district board, before it can be determined how many of the number called have been accepted. This will take at least two weeks more, since claimants are given ten days to submit proofs after filing claims.

Yolo county must send 118 men, cause the government has ruled that each county shall send ten per cent more than its quota, to allow for the strictness of the regular army examination, which is certain to exclude some of those passed by civilian examiners.

Although there were 55 names remaining on the list to be examined at 2 o'clock this afternoon, some of these are excused aliens and some have been excused for temporary illness, so that the board is hopeful of finishing the examinations this evening. If the list is not exhausted by the men remaining will probably be examined tomorrow. Dr. Bradford today took the place of Dr. Plaford, who returned to Sacramento today evening.

Chairman Gaddis will await an official order from Adjutant-General Borree before giving out a list of claiming exemption.

"I have read that boards have been ordered by Marshal Crowder to publish each day a list of those claiming exemption, and their reasons," declared Gaddis, "but until we receive formal notice from the adjutant-general's office we will continue to regard these claims as the private concern of the war department and the claimant himself."

Willis Chapman, Late of the 'Democrat,' On Furlough

SAYS CAMP LIFE A BENEFIT

Training To Be Given National Army Sure To Make All Better Citizens

Willis T. Chapman, former city editor of the "Democrat," and now one of Uncle Sam's fighting Marines, is a visitor, on a furlough, to his former haunts in Woodland. The "fighting scribe" gives a very interesting account of what confronts those men who have been drafted in the national army.

"NOTHING TO DO, UNTIL THE NEXT DAY."

"There is little or nothing to do but drill," said Chapman today. "You start in about 6 o'clock in the morning and all you do from that time on is drill, wash, clean up, drill and a few other things," continued "Chap- pie."

"At 5:45 a. m. Uncle Sam's nephew will be awakened from his cot, which will, in all probability be in a tent with about six others, a bugle call will awaken him. He will have six minutes in which to get dressed and into line for roll call. Then his company will be marched to the drill ground for a brief period of exercise. This will be followed by breakfast.

BREAKFAST IS SERVED IN SEVERAL COURSES.

"Now as to this breakfast—it will not be 'ham-an,' lady fingers or chocolate eclaires—but will very likely be beans, coffee, bread and butter, mush, and will be alternated with hash and similar changes.

"Thirty minutes later Mr. Soldier will line up for a fifty minute drill period in marching instruction; school of the squad and the like. Then ten minutes' rest and another brief drill. At 9:30 he will probably have inspection of quarters, clothes, and soldier paraphernalia.

"Eleven o'clock witnesses another drill period. Twelve o'clock is 'chow.' Plain, wholesome food, nothing elaborate, but substantial food.

OUT WITH THE MUSKET FOR MORE DRILLING.

"Mr Soldier in the making drills until 3:30 and then all he has to do is to wash his clothes, keep his gun polished to a point where it shines like a mirror, his shoes clean, and his personal effects in apple pie order.

"Drill periods are alternated with the exercise periods. Uncle Sam believes in lots of exercise and he sees to it that his nephews get it. The exercise is quite varied and some of it is quite difficult and strenuous.

MOTHERS NEED NOT WORRY ABOUT WILLIE.

"Mothers whose sons have been drafted need have little or no worry about their loved ones. Their boy will be trained, and trained to the minute. He will come out a man, and all man. The first few weeks will be hard and he will have many an ache and pain. He will get over it. It will teach him regularity, punctuality and many things he was never taught at home, despite all that mothers and fathers say about how they would raise their sons.

"The national army man will probably not see any real service in more than a year and in the mean time he will receive medical and physical attention that will add years to his lifetime and efficiency. Being drafted will be the making of many a young American who might have not turned out as well—again making all due allowance for the training he got at home."

Miss Willetta Hayden, daughter of Mrs. S. F. Hayden of Yolo, has been asked by Dr. Berkeley of San Francisco to go to France as his private secretary in the event that he goes to Europe to take up children's hospital work.

Dr. Berkeley is at present treating children's cases in San Francisco. He is expecting the arrival of Dr. Lucas, head of a hospital for children in northern France. Dr. Lucas, who is a San Francisco man, is expected to name Dr. Berkeley as his successor in the work. Dr. Berkeley has requested Miss Hayden to go to France as his secretary. She is in San Francisco now familiarizing herself with the work which she will be called upon to do.

Miss Hayden taught school in Yolo county for two years. She was graduated from the University of California in 1906. Her knowledge of the French and German languages recommended her for the important appointment. She expects to leave for France about the middle of September.

Only Half Enough

Estimate of Board

Not more than 60 men will be accepted out of the 321 summoned for physical examination by the Yolo exemption board. Such was the announcement made by the board today, after the doctors had examined the last man. Probably another 300 men will have to be called.

The many claims for exemption, with the prospect of a good proportion of them being sustained, and the rejection of at least 25 per cent of the candidates because of physical deficiencies is the cause for so few of the men being accepted.

The exact number passed will not be known definitely until the board can pass upon the exemption claims carefully. This will consume several days at least.

Since 118 men must be sent to the regular army examiners only half of Yolo county's quota was filled by the first examination.

Replying to statements that he should follow the lead of other counties in publishing the names of men claiming exemption from military service, Chairman E. E. Gaddis of the Yolo exemption board declared today that the claims are not his property but that of the claimants and the war department and that until he receives an order from the adjutant-general he does not feel justified in publishing the names.

"I realize that these names are being published from other counties," said Mr. Gaddis, "but I don't feel justified in publishing them until told to do so. I read that Adjutant-General Borree had ordered publication but so far we have not received a word from Sacramento to that effect. I shall certainly give the list for publication if so ordered, but until that I shall consider that they are not my property, hence not mine to publish."

The board will gather Monday to continue its work of considering exemption claims and to prepare its report to the war department.

CONGRESS TAKES UP IMPORTANT WAR MEASURE.

Bearing the president's stamp of approval and Secretary McAdoo's plea that it be made law, in justice to America's fighting men and their families, the long-expected war compensation, indemnity and insurance bill was introduced in both houses of congress today.

It represents America's first attempt to be forehanded in providing for those whose homes are wrecked by war.

Its outstanding feature is organization of insurance for every fighting man and nurse at $8 a year per $1000 worth, up to $10,000.

Drafted by international experts under Secretary McAdoo's direction, the proposed law is a substitute for the civil war pension system.

It will cost the government $556,000,000 the first two years.

BOARD CALLS 300 MORE MEN

Examinations Will Commence
Monday and Continue
For Four Days

Of the 321 men summoned for examination in the first call 162 passed the physical test, according to the list published today. Several others from outside districts were passed also, but they will not count as part of this county's quota, hence their names are not published.

A majority of those who passed the examination have claimed exemption, and the board has been working today to prepare a complete list of the men claiming excuse. This list should be completed by tonight, when it will be given out for publication.

The figures telling of the physical test would indicate that only half of the men called passed the examination. But some of the 321 in the first call have already enlisted, some were excused as aliens, and some were excused from the examination because of temporary illness.

After a consultation late Monday afternoon the Yolo board decided to issue a call for 300 more men, to be examined on the four days beginning next Monday. The mode of examination will be the same as for the first call. The time of the examination is given today on page 4, with the names of the men included in the new call. The list begins with number 323, for number 322 was given to Charles Doll, who failed to register and thereby lost his chance to receive a place later in the list.

Just how many men will be accepted from the first call cannot be determined until the board receives final notice of the status of married men with dependents. This will influence.

Asks District Board to Issue Order Directing Exemption of Tractor Engineers From Draft

Believing that the exemption from the draft of competent tractor engineers, who are said to be unusually scarce at present, is necessary to the harvesting of the rice and bean crops, and therefore an important expedient in the conservation of the food supply, S. W. Persons of Woodland today addressed a letter to the Third District Exemption Board asking that certified tractor engineers be excused from call. Persons is engaged in general land development work.

After stating that he has no personal interest in the exemption of such men, none of his employes having been drafted, Persons writes that ninety per cent of the plowing for the harvesting of beans, rice, barley, and wheat in California is now done by traction engines. He declares that during the preparation of the bean land and the harvesting of grain competent engineers were not to be had at any price, not even at $14 per day, which he knows to have been offered by one man.

Persons refers the board to the Holt Manufacturing Company at Stockton, the Best Traction company at San Leandro and other concerns if they would verify his statement as to the number of engineers employed in harvesting, and also his statement as to the recent scarcity.

For Three Hundred

THREE hundred more men are to be called by the Yolo county selection board for physical examinations, according to the announcement of that body yesterday. This second summons which will be made today and tomorrow by the mailing of notices to those men included, will raise the total number called to furnish Yolo county's quota of 118 to 622, 322 having been already physically examined by the board physicians.

Although it is not known whether or not the entire 300 will be needed for the filling of this county's increment, the board will examine all of them beginning next Monday morning at 8 o'clock and continuing through the following Thursday.

WANT TO MAKE CERTAIN
"We want to make certain," said E. E. Gaddis, chairman of the board, yesterday, "that we will not have to issue a third call so we will have enough already examined to prevent any possible delays. Of course, nothing is certain as to the number of men we will select from the first 322 but in my opinion it will not furnish more than 60 men for the service."

Others of the board share Mr. Gaddis' opinion that exemptions are to be heavy and will pull the number passed into the army to a low figure.

The local board has not yet begun to act upon the affidavits filed by those who have already claimed exemption but expect to soon be able to grant or deny the claims. They

Dixon Will Bring Band For Guards' Meeting Thursday

Home guards from Woodland, Davis and Dixon will hold a battalion drill next Thursday evening at the drill grounds opposite armory hall. The Dixon guards will bring their band to add a martial finish to the exercises. Following the drill a supper will be served the visitors in armory hall. Ben Farquar, A. W. Fox and Dr. T. W. Prose are conducting the supper arrangements.

The visiting guards are coming at the invitation of W. H. Curson. It is hoped to make Thursday night's affair a notable one for the home guard movement, so people of Woodland and vicinity would do well to attend the drill and thereby show that they are behind it.

The entire membership of the home guards, numbering a hundred, is expected to report for Thursday's drill, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Dependent Wife No Claim For Exemption in County

Yolo Board Will Follow Instructions of District Boards as Formulated in Conference and Refuse Discharges For Men Who Do Not Show Wives Will Become Charge Upon Public

Interpretation of the workings of the draft law and the local selection board's outline of procedure in acting upon the scores of claims for exemption which have been filed in Yolo county has been somewhat upset by the recent decision of the five district boards of the state at Sacramento when they adopted resolutions setting forth their position in the matter of allowing claims for discharge to married men without children. While the Yolo board had already acted favorably upon some of the affidavits claiming dependent wives alone they have now decided to follow the course set by the higher board and will, according to their intentions expressed last night, refuse to grant any such claims unless it is proved that the wife would become a public charge in case the husband was taken into the army.

Although this had not been the construction placed upon the instructions from the government in such cases they have taken cognizance of the adverse opinion of the district bodies and will accordingly, act upon exemptions in a different manner.

WOODLAND HOME GUARDS SCORE SUCCESS AS HOSTS TO DIXON BROTHERS; DAVIS FAILS TO SHOW

Several hundred people gathered at the drill grounds of the Home Guards Thursday evening to witness the battalion drill. For some unexplained reason the Davis guards failed to appear, while the Dixon people came without the band. Yet the drill was put through with zip and enthusiasm and the spectators were much impressed.

The two companies were drilled by Captain Curson of Woodland and Captain Harris of Dixon. Their proficiency was very marked and the men seem to be improving with each night's drill.

Following the leg work the guards and their wives were invited into armory hall for a supper that had been prepared from donations. The supper committee consisted of A. W. Fox, Ben Farquar, Dr. T. W. Prose, and

M. Packer. The ice cream was the gift of F. W. Blanchard, the butter from the Woodland Creamery, the coffee from Johnston Bros., and B. Della Santa, the sugar from the Model Grocery, the cigars from Eastham's, Aronson & Weider's, Troy Barr and Martin Hucker. The Ellas Marx Music Company brought a phonograph to the hall and supplied patriotic music during the dinner hour. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company fitted the hall with new lights, greatly to its improvement.

After the spread there was music by the Woodland quartet. Those who responded to toasts were Captain Curson, Captain Harris, Mayor Wilcoxon, City Trustee Mrs. Lawhead, Professor Wm. Hyman, Lieutenant Phillips of Dixon, Lieutenant Fox and E. S. Farnham, veteran of the civil war.

Here's Good Way to Give Reading Matter To Boys At the Front

If you cannot fight at the front, you can send a book to the man you are sending to the front to do your fighting for you. The government has asked the American Library Association to assume responsibility for supplying the camps and cantonments with reading material. Every group of soldiers, small as well as large, is to have books. The public library in this city has been asked to get donations of books in Woodland. These will be sent to the various camps and cantonments, throughout the country and will be made available to the soldiers, either directly or through such agencies as have facilities for distribution of books.

If you will write in each book your name and address, the soldier who reads it will know that someone in Woodland is his friend and stands ready to help him.

The following is suggested as to the books desired:

Poorly printed, uninteresting, obviously out-of-date books, are not worth shipping to the men. Type should be good and clear and the books in fair condition. Books of good stories will be wanted most, books of adventure, sea stories, detective stories, especially humorous ones. Such authors as Kipling, Doyle, McCutcheon, O. Henry, Stockton, Bindloss, Tarkington, Hopkinson Smith, Oppenheim, etc., have been found popular authors with men. Good poetry and drama can be utilized.

All kinds of men must be helped by these libraries. Some of them have not established reading habits. Some of the books must therefore be light and easily read.

Foreign language study books, especially French grammars and dictionaries are much needed—possibly more than any other non-fiction books. In one camp nearly one-fifth of the men are studying French. They should have easy readers and stories besides their text books. Books of travel, biography and history, especially lives of heroes and travels in the countries at war.

Make It a Point to Be At the Battalion Drill Tonight At 8 O'Clock

All Yolo county is invited to attend the drill party to be staged at the armory campus this evening by the Woodland home guards, when the Davis and Dixon guards will join with them in a drill and a supper to follow. A special invitation has been extended to Yolo County Council of Defense and to the citizens' committee appointed to secure funds for guard uniforms. The drill ground should be literally surrounded by spectators this evening, for it is by attending the drills that local people can encourage the efforts of the home defenders.

Expects Release From Service In Exemption Work

Leaving early today for a few days' business trip through northern California E. W. Inasmuch as Armfield assisted nearly half of the claimants in making out their claims he does not feel that he could now act as counsel for the government, which will contest every application for excuse from service. Armfield will apply to Superior Judge Anderson to have another attorney named in his place.

Asks District Board to Issue Order Directing Exemption of Tractor Engineers From Draft

Believing that the exemption from the draft of competent tractor engineers, who are said to be unusually scarce at present, is necessary to the harvesting of the rice and bean crops, and therefore an important expedient in the conservation of the food supply, S. W. Persons of Woodland today addressed a letter to the Third District Exemption Board asking that certified tractor engineers be excused from call. Persons is engaged in general land development work.

After stating that he has no personal interest in the exemption of such men, none of his employees having been drafted, Persons writes that ninety per cent of the plowing for the harvesting of beans, rice, barley, and wheat in California is now done by traction engines. He declares that during the preparation of the bean land and the harvesting of grain competent engineers were not to be had at any price, not even at $14 per day, which he knows to have been offered by one man.

Persons refers the board to the Holt Manufacturing Company at Stockton, the Best Traction company at San Leandro and other concerns if they would verify his statement as to the number of engineers employed in harvesting, and also his statement as to the recent scarcity.

INITIAL CALL IS FAR SHORT OF SUPPLYING YOLO'S QUOTA

Although All Men Included in New Summons May Not Be Needed to Fill Yolo Quota
Board Will Make Sure

EXAMINATIONS WILL START NEXT MONDAY

Estimate That Only Sixty Men Will Be Available for New Army Out of First Call
For Three Hundred

THREE hundred more men are to be called by the Yolo county selection board for physical examinations, according to the announcement of that body yesterday. This second summons which will be made today and tomorrow by the mailing of notices to those men included, will raise the total number called to furnish Yolo county's quota of 118 to 422, 322 having been already physically examined by the board physicians.

Although it is not known whether or not the entire 300 will be needed for the filling of this county's increment, the board will examine all of them beginning next Monday morning at 8 o'clock and continuing through the following Thursday.

WANT TO MAKE CERTAIN
"We want to make certain," said E. E. Gaddis, chairman of the board, yesterday, "that we will not have to issue a third call so we will have enough already examined to prevent any possible delays. Of course, nothing is certain as to the number of men we will select from the first 322 but in my opinion it will not furnish more than 60 men for the service."

Others of the board share Mr. Gaddis' opinion that exemptions are to be heavy and will pull the number passed into the army to a low figure.

The local board has not yet begun to act upon the affidavits filed by those who have already claimed exemption but expect to soon be able to grant or deny the claims. They are at present busy putting matters into shape so that when they once begin this great task they will be able to move with the greatest possible efficiency. The requests for exemption have continued to be heavy all through the first examinations and consequently scores of affidavits are to be gone over and passed upon.

ALL CASES APPEALED

Another thing which makes matters rather uncertain for the local board as to just how many must be examined is the fact that the government automatically appeals every exemption granted here to the district board at Sacramento so that it will not be known for some time just where they stand as to the filling of the Yolo quota. In addition to this any applicant for discharge who is denied exemption by the local board has the right to appeal, further delaying the process of selection.

The board is now at work segregating the names and reasons of those who have asked exemption and as soon as completed they will be furnished the press for publication.

The complete list of those men to be called in the next 300 will be found on another page of this issue.

Dixon Will Bring Band For Guards' Meeting Thursday

Home guards from Woodland, Davis and Dixon will hold a battalion drill next Thursday evening at the drill grounds opposite armory hall. The Dixon guards will bring their band to add a martial finish to the exercises. Following the drill a supper will be served the visitors in armory hall. Ben Farquar, A. W. Fox and Dr. T. W. Prose are conducting the supper arrangements.

The visiting guards are coming at the invitation of W. H. Curson. It is hoped to make Thursday night's affair a notable one for the home guard movement, so people of Woodland and vicinity would do well to attend the drill and thereby show that they are behind it.

The entire membership of the home guards, numbering a hundred, is expected to report for Thursday's drill, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Dependent Wife No Claim For Exemption in County

Yolo Board Will Follow Instructions of District Boards as Formulated in Conference and Refuse Discharges For Men Who Do Not Show Wives Will Become Charge Upon Public

Interpretation of the workings of the draft law and the local selection board's outline of procedure in acting upon the scores of claims for exemption which have been filed in Yolo county has been somewhat upset by the recent decision of the five district boards of the state at Sacramento when they adopted resolutions setting forth their position in the matter of allowing claims for discharge to married men without children. While the Yolo board had already acted favorably upon some of the affidavits claiming dependent wives alone they have now decided to follow the course set by the higher board and will, according to their intentions expressed last night, refuse to grant any such claims unless it is proved that the wife would become a public charge in case the husband was taken into the army.

Although this had not been the construction placed upon the instructions from the government in such cases they have taken cognizance of the adverse opinion of the district bodies and will accordingly, act upon exemptions in a different manner.

WOODLAND HOME GUARDS SCORE SUCCESS AS HOSTS TO DIXON BROTHERS; DAVIS FAILS TO SHOW

Several hundred people gathered at the drill grounds of the Home Guards Thursday evening to witness the battalion drill. For some unexplained reason the Davis guards failed to appear, while the Dixon people came without the band. Yet the drill was put through with zip and enthusiasm and the spectators were much impressed.

The two companies were drilled by Captain Curson of Woodland and Captain Harris of Dixon. Their proficiency was very marked and the men seem to be improving with each night's drill.

Following the leg work the guards and their wives were invited into armory hall for a supper that had been prepared from donations. The supper committee consisted of A. W. Fox, Ben Farquar, Dr. T. W. Prose, and

M. Packer. The ice cream was the gift of F. W. Blanchard, the butter from the Woodland Creamery, the coffee from Johnston Bros., and B. Della Santa, the sugar from the Model Grocery, the cigars from Eastham's, Aronson & Weider's, Troy Barr and Martin Huckle. The Elias Marx Music Company brought a phonograph to the hall and supplied patriotic music during the dinner hour. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company fitted the hall with new lights, greatly to its improvement.

After the spread there was music by the Woodland quartet. Those who responded to toasts were Captain Curson, Captain Harris, Mayor Wilcoxon, City Trustee Mrs. Lawhead, Professor Wm. Hyman, Lieutenant Phillips of Dixon, Lieutenant Fox and E. S. Farnham, veteran of the civil war.

If you cannot fight at the front, you can send a book to the man you are sending to the front to do your fighting for you. The government has asked the American Library Association to assume responsibility for supplying the camps and cantonments with reading material. Every group of soldiers, small as well as large, is to have books. The public library in this city has been asked to get donations of books in Woodland. These will be sent to the various camps and cantonments, throughout the country and will be made available to the soldiers, either directly or through such agencies as have facilities for distribution of books.

If you will write in each book your name and address, the soldier who reads it will know that someone in Woodland is his friend and stands ready to help him.

The following is suggested as to the books desired:

Poorly printed, uninteresting, obviously out-of-date books, are not worth shipping to the men. Type should be good and clear and the books in fair condition. Books of good stories will be wanted most, books of adventure, sea stories, detective stories, especially humorous ones. Such authors as Kipling, Doyle, McCutcheon, O. Henry, Stockton, Bindloss, Tarkington, Hopkinson Smith, Oppenheim, etc., have been found popular authors with men. Good poetry and drama can be utilized.

All kinds of men must be helped by these libraries. Some of them have not established reading habits. Some of the books must therefore be light and easily read.

Foreign language study books, especially French grammars and dictionaries are much needed—possibly more than any other non-fiction books. In one camp nearly one-fifth of the men are studying French. They should have easy readers and stories besides their text books. Books of travel, biography and history, especially lives of heroes and travels in the countries at war.

Make It a Point to Be At the Battalion Drill Tonight At 8 O'Clock

All Yolo county is invited to attend the drill party to be staged at the armory campus this evening by the Woodland home guards, when the Davis and Dixon guards will join with them in a drill and a supper to follow. A special invitation has been extended to Yolo County Council of Defense and to the citizens' committee appointed to secure funds for guard uniforms. The drill ground should be literally surrounded by spectators this evening, for it is by attending the drills that local people can encourage the efforts of the home defenders.

Expects Release From Service In Exemption Work

Leaving early today for a few days' business trip through northern California E. W. Armfield stated that he expects to be released on September 1 from his appointment to represent the Yolo County Exemption Board in appeals by exemption claimants. Inasmuch as Armfield assisted nearly half of the claimants in making out their claims he does not feel that he could now act as counsel for the government, which will contest every application for excuse from service. Armfield will apply to Superior Judge Anderson to have another attorney named in his place.

Third of War Department's Talks to New Soldiers Gives Six Qualities of a Soldier

The third of the war department's series of "citizen-soldier" informal talks explains six qualities that should distinguish the soldier. The first three are intelligence, cleanliness, and cheerfulness.

INTELLIGENCE

Intelligence does not necessarily mean education, but rather quick observation and willingness to learn. There is plenty of need for intelligence in modern warfare. The National Army will be forced to absorb within a few months a training which would ordinarily extend over a period of two or three years. Those who intend to fit themselves for promotion should study thoroughly the manuals and the drill regulations which affect their duties. In time they should learn something about map-making and map-reading, the construction of field entrenchments, training and care of horses, signalling, the handling of complex pieces of machinery, and many other subjects.

Any practical knowledge that you now possess will surely be useful to you in the army. Capt. [Name] of the English Army, the first British [Name] of the previous [Name] can military history to justify this confidence.

THREE QUALITIES OF BATTLE

Finally, there are the three battle qualities of the good soldier:

Spirit,
Tenacity,
Self-reliance.

Unless a man has these three qualities—even though he possesses all the other six in good measure—he is after all only a camp-fire soldier.

SPIRIT

Spirit—fighting spirit—is far from being mere hatred of the enemy or blind fury, on the one hand; nor is it mere passive obedience to orders, on the other. It means cool, self-controlled courage—the kind of courage which enables a man to shoot as straight on the battlefield as he does in target practice. However, it even goes a step beyond that point. Decisive victories cannot be won by merely repulsing the enemy. "Only the offensive wins." (Infantry Drill Regulations, paragraph 11.)

Like all the other qualities of a soldier, spirit can be cultivated. An untrained army seldom possesses it. But it can be developed. You can and will develop it until becomes as much a part of yourself as any of your easy-going civilian habits are now.

TENACITY

Spirit carries a body of soldiers forward. Tenacity is the quality that makes them "stick." The thorough soldier is never ready to stop fighting until his part of the battle is won. Tenacity was never better expressed than in the words of John Paul Jones. Standing among his dead and wounded on his sinking ship which was "leaking like a basket," he replied to his adversary's invitation to surrender.

referred to as "initiative." It is a quality needed more than ever before in present-day warfare. Major General Leonard Wood, in his introduction to the Field Service Regulations of the United States Army, says:

"Officers and men of all ranks and grades are given a certain independence in the execution of the tasks to which they are assigned and are expected to show initiative in meeting the different situations as they arrive. Every individual, from the highest commander to the lowest private, must always remember that inaction and neglect of opportunities will warrant more severe censure than an error in the choice of the means."

An Act of Kindness

A WOODLAND RESIDENT SPEAKS PUBLICLY FOR THE BENEFIT OF WOODLAND PEOPLE

If you had suffered tortures from kidney trouble,

Had experimented with different remedies without relief;

If you were finally cured through a friend's suggestion—

Wouldn't you be grateful?

The following statement has been given under just such circumstances: Mr. Grimes has used Doan's Kidney Pills.

He publicly tells of the benefit he has received.

His is a simple act of kindness to other Woodland sufferers.

No need to experiment with such convincing evidence at hand.

Mr. Grimes speaks from experience.

You can rely on what he tells you.

A. Grimes, blacksmith, 316 First street, Woodland, says: "Many years of hard work as a blacksmith is what weakened my kidneys and and brought on backache. When I stooped over to shoe a horse a sharp pain caught me in the small of my back and I could hardly move. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretions were highly colored. I had dizzy spells when everything seemed in a blur. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and two boxes cured the backache and dizzy spells and regulated my kidneys."

WOODLAND MEN SOON TO START TO FRONT

Five Members of the Engineer Corps At Camp Fremont
Among Called

"DEMOCRAT" MAN A VISITOR

Local Boys Making Advance Toward Better Place
In Service

Five Yolo county boys are included in the call made Tuesday afternoon for 20,000 national guard troops to prepare for departure to France. The time of leaving is withheld under the voluntary censorship but the men are expected to be on their way long before Christmas.

The quintet of Yolo county soldiers includes Lester Johnston, Ashley Worley, George Zane and Irving Bostwick of Woodland and "Pink" McCann of Esparto. All are in the engineers' corps, stationed at Camp Fremont, Palo Alto. A sixth Woodland man is Sergeant "Bill" Ogden, who is in the quartermaster's department.

A "Democrat" reporter visited Camp Fremont purposely to see the boys from his "home town." He found them aglow with the spirit of the camp, which calls for action, lots of it, and then still more of it.

ALL WITH ENGINEERS EXCEPT SERGEANT OGDEN

All of the local youths, excepting Ogden, are with A Company, California National Guard Engineers. Ogden is Forage Master in the Headquarter's Company of the Quartermaster's Corps. It is hinted that Lester Johnston, too, would like to transfer into the Quartermaster's Corps. On account of his previous experience in handling provisions.

points in the Sacramento

crut has chosen his branch of service he is seldom changed, unless for extreme reasons.

ENGINEERING NOT WHAT IT'S SUPPOSED TO BE

Johnston, Worley, Zane, Bostwick and McCann have learned that engineering has a different meaning with Uncle Samuel than they originally suspected. The engineering companies have been called upon to do extensive drilling, when not engaged in real manual labor. Said manual labor gives their vocation a tinge of a "job," rather than a "position" such as an engineer is civilly thought to hold. The boys are contented, however, and not given to shirk from the orders of their officers in command. Carpentering, ditch-digging and wood-chopping are included in many of the arrangements.

"LES" JOHNSTON ALL SAME UNCLE HENRY

"Les" Johnston, in particular, has had some heavy details. Recently he was assigned to fell some trees. "Well, I once had an uncle," he told his Captain, "who could wield an axe, and so I guess I can." And he did.

Again the former Modern spud dispenser was told to get his tools, find some lumber and build a bench. "Les," remembering that his Uncle Henry was once a house builder, set about to manufacture the bench and succeeded. This Johnston spirit is what "catches" the attention of the men above. That's the reason these Woodland boys are figured to be promoted as soon as anyone else in their company.

TOO BUSY NOW FOR LEGAL LORE.

Attorney Worley finds no time for keeping in touch with Blackstone.

"Gee, this right-about-face music and trench digging keeps me too busy to have other cares," he told the "Democrat" scribe. Worley is one of many young barristers in camp. The legal fraternity is expected to prove valuable when court-martial work begins.

DRAFTED LAD ONE OF NEW RE-CRUITS

George Zane is the latest addition to the Woodland brigade in camp. Zane's number was close to the top of the draft heap, and so he concluded that he'd do his own selecting, rather than be told what branch of service to take and where to report.

TONSorialist WORRIES NOT.
ABOUT PAY DAY

Irving Bostwick is one of the few in Camp who doesn't worry about the monthly pay day. Bostwick is running the hair mover so rapidly that his jeans are always jingling with kale. There is but one other barber in his company, which means that "Baldy" is faring even better than he did when he had a chair in the busy tonsorial shop of Holloway and Shellhammer. At that "Baldy" has to do much "jawbone" business, which in army parlance means credit business.

SERGEANT OGDEN TO BE MUCH OCCUPIED.

Sergeant "Bill" Ogden, as Bob Eastham and his clique from the "Latin Quarters" might expect, is one of the best known nom-noms in camp. Although the future holds forth much to do for "Bill," he has been particularly fortunate thus far and has not handled as much hay and grain in the month he has been in the service, as he did on any one day of this season in Father George's warehouse in Woodland.

WILL HAVE BIGGEST WAREHOUSE IN STATE.

But with the arrival of more regiments to bring the personnel of the camp well past the 40,000 mark, "Bill" is destined to have plenty to do. As a matter of fact, to "Bill" went the task of figuring out an approximate guess as to the amount of hay and straw that will be necessary in the camp. His estimate is that 6,117,000 pounds of hay will be used each month, or twice as much as is handled by any warehouse in the Sacramento valley. "Bill" has reported to his captain that 4,112,700 pounds of oats, 12,000 sacks of bran and 1200 tons of straw will be required for a month's rations. The former Woodland warehouseman knows more about grain, hay and straw than all the other quartermaster men in camp combined.

TOO BAD "TOM HUTCH" ISN'T IN ON THIS.

Sergeant Ogden's department is one of the most interesting in camp. He and two others have a big tent all to themselves, and they are not required to drill or report for roll-call. Being on the ground first, they will be leaders in his particular division when more forage masters arrive from other states. Sergeant Ogden is slated to be chief inspector and his two pals are to be Weigher and Yard Foreman. Civilians will be hired when there is danger of blistered hands.

REFUSED JOB AS CHIEF OF POLICE.

Although jovial "Bill" would not admit it, rumor has it that he may be a commissioned commissary Lieutenant before long. It was also told the "Democrat" representative that the joy of Eastham's smokorum recently turned down an opportunity to be Camp Provost Sergeant, whose duties are similar to those of a chief of police in a city. "It takes too much time," was "Bill's" alibi, according to the report that reached the reporter's ears from authentic sources.

ESPARTO BOY HASN'T FORGOT-TEN "HOME TEAM"

"Pink" McCann's the Esparto boy, takes up a great portion of his spare time exploiting the record of Esparto to baseball team. His brother, Tom, according to "Pink" is the greatest receiver in the bushes. "Pink" may be right too.

Still another lad well-known in Woodland, was located in the camp in the person of Max Newman. Newman will be remembered as the small but portly young accountant who worked in Woodland for his uncle, I. Rosenberg. It was Newman's lot to fall into the Baker's O Company at Camp Fremont. Max doesn't know a baker's bun from a toper's. But he's going to be greasing pans just as soon as the bakery department starts operating.

HAS LITTLE HOPE OF BEING CHANGED

Newman's enlistment with the Baker's division was not by choice. He was told by recruiting officers, he says, that he could transfer into the Quartermaster's Corps. Ever since his arrival at Fremont, a few days ago, he has been trying to get a transfer, but he seems to have as much chance as a baby buggy at a birth control meeting.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR EAST-HAM'S TO CHEER

As unhappy as his fate is, Newman takes some consolation in telling his friends that his Captain is a Millionaire. Writing of moneyed soldiers reminds the scribbler that there are many wealthy lads at Camp Fremont. David Keith is a millionaire's son from Salt Lake City. Being a high private in the Quartermaster's Corps, he became acquainted with Sergeant Ogden. The two, so other Woodland lads told me, have become real chummy. (Another reason for Eastham's bump to swell up over their favorite Sammy.) Sergeant Ogden and Millionaire Keith "stutzed" down to San Mateo the other night to see the fights at Justin Fitzgerald's club.

While at Camp Fremont, one hears many a yarn that would make interesting reading to the relatives and friends of the boys away from home. For instance, it is told that "Les" Johnston and Sergeant Ogden went to San Francisco the other night to buy $2 worth of oats apiece. How close they came to succeeding may be judged by the size of their checks. "Les" read $1.85 and "Bills" $1.90.

BOSTWICK WASN'T COMING TO BIG FIRE, BUT

Another story concerns Irving Bostwick. "Baldy" has been barbering all day and well into the night. He was a tired soldier. He rolled under his blankets in Rip Van Winkle style. At mid-night there came a call for fire-fighters to go into the Santa Cruz mountains. Every man in camp was aroused. "Baldy" however, "took a chance" and stayed in his tent. "Bill" Ogden learned of it. Next came a report from Bostwick, with the admonition that he "better get up and dam quick, too, or go to the guardhouse." Like one of "Uncle Tom" Cummins' whipped airdale hounds. "Baldy" hurried himself into his uniform and started running in the general direction of the fire. After a chase the jocular Sergeant Ogden caught up with him, and then "Baldy" recalled that the voice of the severe officer did have a familiar ring to it after all.

The general order and morals of the camp are excellent. Thus far there has been but little need for the guardhouse. The great majority of the boys are collegians. Twelve mule skinner came in while the "Democrat" reporter was in camp, and ten of the twelve were fraternity youths from the University of Washington.

DAMSELS FIGURES IN QUARREL OF CITIES

To get the patronage of the 40,000-odd soldier boys who will be in training at Fremont for how long no one knows, there is great rivalry between the cities of Palo Alto, Menlo, San Mateo and Redwood City. The other night San Mateo gave a dance to the soldier boys, seeking to gain their favor. But Redwood City was equal to the occasion. Three hundred of their most stunning young damsels were conveyed to the dance unaccompanied, to make the acquaintance of the "Sammys." The plan developed finely, for now there are many Camp Fremont lads wending their way to distant Redwood, instead of right-at-home Palo Alto or Menlo.

The camp is expecting a detachment of 800 Medical Corps men. It is possible that Dr. Fred Fairchild, Ed. Henle, Joe Dessel George Apperson, or some of the other Woodland men enlisted in the medical service from Woodland will be sent to Fremont.

"BOOTS" EVERTS ON TEST CAP-TAIN DETAIL

Captain W. S. Everts, known in Woodland as "Boots," is one of the many "John Captains" in Camp. (A "John Captain" is the name the boys have dubbed the Officer's Reserve Captains). Major James A. Fournier, the former local boy assistant quartermaster in charge of transportation, Everts, like all of the other "John Captains," is always on his mettle. His work is in the nature of a test. Whether or not he retains his commission depends wholly upon his record in the training camp.

FIRST CAPTAINED BACKYARD SQUAD HERE

For a while Everts was Captain of Sergeant Ogden's company. Incidentally the two met by chance, neither knowing the other was anywhere about. Everts found time to recall to Ogden that they once were members together of "company" that was formed in "Skinny" Barnes' back yard on Walnut street, Woodland. Captain Everts could not remember Cosby Barnes' name, but described him as "the fellow we used to smash to see his nose bleed."

Board Spends Day Hearing Testimony About Exemptions

The county exemption board spent today in hearing testimony of witnesses in doubtful exemption cases. In all cases in which the members of the board are not certain as to circumstances they have called in witnesses. The physical examination of the next 300 men called will begin Monday morning at 8 o'clock. As a result of the new ruling on married men the board expects that close to eighty-five may be accepted from the first 321 examined.

At least eighty and probably as many as eighty-five men will be selected for military service under the draft law from among the first call for 321 men, according to the estimate of the local selection board which is rapidly nearing completion of the consideration of the many cases of exemption. While only about 60 men would have been found eligible under the first methods formulated by the Yolo board, some twenty-five more men will be denied exemption claims since the changing of this policy to follow more closely the attitude expressed by the state district boards.

Work of passing on the claims of exemption from more than one hundred men is being handled rapidly by the board and they expect to have the disposition of the first 321 men off their hands before the beginning of the physical examinations of the second call for 300 which begins next Monday morning.

MEN CALLED TO TESTIFY

In order to facilitate the work several of the men who have exemption claims in have been notified to report before the board this morning to furnish further testimony, the board not being satisfied with that set forth in the affidavits.

Should the same percentage of acceptances for duty hold good in the next 300 men not more than a little over half of that number will be required to fill out Yolo county's quota of 118 men for the first army. The Yolo board will easily have the first third of their men ready for call by September 3, the date set by the provost marshal general for entraining for the training camp at American Lake in Washington.

SECOND CALL ON DRAFT IS REDUCED BY 50 PER CENT

Stricter Lines for Allowance Of Exemptions Increases by Large Number Men Who Are Selected in First Call

OVER HUNDRED HAVE NOW BEEN PROCURED

Board Believes That Half Of Three Hundred to Have Been Examined This Week to Be Enough to Fill Quota

One hundred and fifty men, bearing order numbers from 473 to 623, inclusive, who have been summoned to appear before the Yolo county draft selection board on next Wednesday and Thursday, will not be needed to complete the Yolo quota of 118 men and have been notified not to report. This decision was made by the board yesterday morning when it was ascertained that enough men would be procured from the first call of 321 men to assure the need of only 150 out of the second call of 300 issued a few days ago.

Further progress into the work of passing upon exemption claims, based upon the more strict lines adopted by the board last week, showed that they would probably select as many as 106 from among those included in the first call. Still allowing for some changes the board was satisfied they would have enough men ready with only an additional 150.

Into the calculations have also been taken the fact that some of the men passed for service by the local board will probably be exempted by the district board upon industrial claims for discharges and also for any chance of reversals by the same board upon appeals.

"MANY CALLED FEW CHOSEN" -- WRONG HERE

Two cases of unadulterated patriotism were recorded today at the draft examinations being held in the superior court room.

R. Seaton of Dunnigan and A. Abila of Davis were the men who told the exemption officials that though they were legally exempt, being aliens, they were willing to fight for their adopted country right away, if necessary.

Seaton is a single man. He was born in Scotland. But instead of claiming exemption when called today Seaton said he would like to get into the army.

"I haven't taken out papers yet," said Seaton, "but I'm ready to do my share for the allies right here. Nothing would please me better than to fight with the Americans."

Seaton was told to return this afternoon for examination.

Abila was born in Mexico, but says he is ready to fight if called upon. He returned to Davis today, where he has a wife.

EXAMINE NEW LIST FOR ARMY

HALF OF 300 MEN IN SECOND CALL EXCUSED FROM REPORTING TO BE EXAMINED

BOARD TO TAKE MORE FROM FIRST LIST, BUT NO ESTIMATE GIVEN
OF NUMBER

Examination of the next 150 of Yolo county's drafted men began this morning. Tuesday will conclude the work, for the board decided Saturday that only half of the 300 men in the second call would be needed. The remainder were notified Sunday that they would not have to report.

A large number of aliens were in the list called today and they were excused.

Members of the board said today that it will not be known until late in the week how many men in the first call will be accepted for service. Testimony in a few cases is to be heard Wednesday, after the board has been relieved of examination work. The board does not wish to publish a list of men accepted until there is no further doubt about the status of married men.

Renewed discussion of this point has been aroused by President Wilson's reply to Senator Weeks' inquiry dealing with this subject. The president's statement was interpreted as indicating approval of exemption of any man of family who had not married merely to escape military duty.

The president has full power to direct that the regulations governing selection be amended to this effect.

The regulations now make exemption possible only in case of actual dependency, and it is believed that no general exemption of married men will be given now.

The members of the Yolo board are moving as rapidly as possible toward selecting this county's quota for the army. They are anxious, however, not to announce that a single man has been accepted or exempted until all doubt has been removed as to one action or the other.

Woodland Boys Learn They Are Not Included In First Mobilization

Visiting here with his parents Sunday, Sergeant Bill Ogden, one of the six Yolo county men at Camp Fremont, said that the report that the local boys are not in the first contingent of troops ordered to France turned out to be untrue.

"That report originated in the order given to the engineers' corps to recruit to full war strength," said Ogden. "When the boys at Fremont heard that order they thought they were to go across with the first twenty thousand, but they found later they were not included in that consignment."

The men at Camp Fremont with Ogden are Ashley Worley, Lester Johnston, "Pink" McCann of Esparto, Irving Postwick, and George Zane.

Home Guards Soon To Go To Davis; No Uniforms Yet

Woodland's Home Guards are soon to participate in a three-cornered battalion drill at the state farm, according to announcement at last night's bi-weekly meeting at the Armory Hall following company drill. Davis is to entertain the Woodland men and will invite Dixon to take part. The affair is scheduled for some Sunday in the near future.

The Woodland guards also have received an invitation for a return engagement at Dixon. The guards from the dairy city have not forgotten their splendid treatment here last Thursday and they are anxious to reciprocate.

It was reported at last night's meeting that the committee appointed some time ago to raise funds for guard uniforms had not been heard from. The guards are hoping that the committee will extend itself, for they believe that interest in the drill will increase as soon as the men are decked in regulation style.

Tandy went to the Mexican border with Company F a year ago as a private. While there he earned the rank of top sergeant. Upon the return here he went to Richmond and joined B Company there. Upon the declaration of war B Company was called to Ft. Mason. The Capay boy served four months at Ft. Mason as quartermaster sergeant and then applied for the officers' reserve corps.

After working all day today on exemption claims submitted under the first call the members of the Yolo exemption board expect soon to be able to announce the list of men accepted for service out of that number. Only 71 of the 150 in the second call passed the physical test, concluded Tuesday evening, and of these over half will claim exemption. Many of the 150 were excused as aliens, and a large number failed to respond to the summons of the board.

Alteration in Exemptions for Men With Children Makes It

Over List as Completed

But seventy-one men have been found to be available for draft out of the total of 150 who were called by the local selection board for the second series of examination which were completed yesterday afternoon. Out of this number is yet to come those who will be exempted which will leave a smaller number of men for the service than was planned on by the board. The fact that less than half of the call is eligible is due to the fact that there were many aliens in the increment while physical disabilities ran somewhat higher than in the first call. Besides these two classes there were many who failed to report at all.

With a new interpretation upon the exemption of married men with children received by the board yesterday it has been found necessary to modify to a certain extent their action upon exemption claims from among the first call and this work will begin today but will occupy little time, according to the board. They expect to be able to announce the disposition of all the cases as well as those men who have been finally selected for service.

SECOND CALL TO BE ACTED ON BY BOARD

Service List Will Be Swelled
To 140 to Allow for Action
Of District Board Upon
Industrial Exemptions

One hundred and eighteen men selected for service in the first draft army, 189 exempted or discharged for various reasons and 16 failing to report for examination and also reported as ready for service is the disposition of the first call of 323 men in Yolo county as announced by the selection board yesterday afternoon. The task of choosing Yolo county's quota of 118 men was completed yesterday after three weeks of continuous work on the part of the board who have come to a solution of their delicate work with as fair a result as it is possible to obtain. Although it is a strange coincidence that the exact quota of men was obtained from the first call the board will not stop at this but will proceed to pass upon the second call of 150 men out of whom 71 have been found eligible outside of exemptions. It is estimated by the board that at least 140 men will be required to allow for possible exemptions on industrial claims, reversal of decisions and the like. The board is satisfied that they have a sufficient number of men to draw from in the next 150.

REPRESENTATIVE SELECTION
In the 118 men selected for duty is a representative delegation of young men to represent this county in the first draft army. In it will be found men from all stations of life, and taken as a whole it is an increment of which Yolo county should be justly proud.

In the list reported of those exempted or discharged are included four classes, those who were found to have dependents needing their presence at home, aliens, physically unfit and those already enlisted in some arm of the service.

According to announcement from headquarters at Washington the first one-third of Yolo's quota, or forty men, will entrain from Woodland for the training camp at American Lake in Washington on September 3, or a week from next Monday. This should be the occasion of a great patriotic demonstration in Woodland and steps should be taken immediately to prepare for it.

Woodland Soldiers Likely to Leave Fort Mason Before Sept. 1

One of the Men Is Injured by Baseball Bat; Others In Good Health

F Company, the organization in which the majority of Yolo county's volunteer soldiers enlisted, is packed and ready to leave its present headquarters at Fort Mason, San Francisco, at a minute's notice. To what training camp the local company will be sent is yet a matter for conjecture. The time of F Company's departure from the metropolis, too, is only being guessed at, but the military forecasters believe that the Yolo county troop will be on its way to Camp Fremont, Linda Vista, or possibly some northwestern or eastern training camp before September 1.

TRIP TO FRONT

MAY BE DELAYED.

The experience of F Company at the Mexican border and at Richmond, California, is expected to serve the men well when the company settles down for final training for actual service in foreign territory. However, Captain Caldwell's men are not likely to be ordered to France until Christmas. If the company is not among the organizations sent to France or Russia by January 1, 1918, military experts believe that the voyage of the home lads across the waters will be delayed until next spring.

NOT SHUDDERING AT IDEA OF BIG SERVICE.

There's not a single "Sammy" in the company, however, who trembles at the idea of seeing service on the European battle front. A "Democrat" reporter visited the men at Fort Mason and found them surprisingly receptive to military orders and discipline. The boys are becoming accustomed to the uncertainties of soldiering life, and in the parlance of Captain Caldwell, "are ready for anything."

"THIRTEEN" SQUAD ON GUARD AT BERKELEY.

Even the supposedly ill-fated "13" holds forth no terrors for F Company. Thirteen of the organization, including First Lieutenant Rodney J. Hill, are now stationed in the Berkeley hill district for guard duty. The rest of the company, excepting Quartermaster Sergeant Weldon J. Black, and Corporal Harold C. Weis, are at Fort Mason. Black and Weis are doing recruit work, the former being stationed in Woodland and Weis having his headquarters at Grass Valley. Both men are meeting with much success in their efforts to add new members to F Company. The boys doing guard duty at Berkeley under First Lieutenant Hill are Corporal Leland S. Elliot, Privates Lawrence E. Davison, John J. McCarthy, Daniel E. Rollins, Cecil C. Woolsey, Edward L. Carter, Fred E. Connell, Lawrence Dieudonne, Milby T. Murray, Emmett L. McCune, Lawrence B. Scherer and Doniso Zuniga.

BUT ONE SOLDIER "HORS DU COMBAT."

All of the men, excepting John Dieudonne, are hale and hearty. Dieudonne's indisposition is temporary. He occupies a cot at the Letterman Hospital, which has been turned over to the military authorities at the Presidio. "Johnny" had the ill luck to be standing too close to the "home plate" when a baseball slugger trying to emulate Ty Cobb, missed a "groover" and let the bat fly out of his hands. The big stick connected with Dieudonne's head, knocking him unconscious and for awhile in a serious condition. This is the first time in the Dieudonne record book that the sturdy "Johnny" has had to be ordered to the sick bed, and so the young Woodland lad speaks of his mishap in whispered tones. Doctors feared at first that the boy's skull had been broken, but today pronounced him out of danger.

BUSY SCHEDULE KEEPS BOYS ON THE JUMP.

"Go it all the time," is the way Captain Caldwell answered the "Democrat" reporter's query as to what constituted the daily grind of the company. Getting more explicit, he explained that the men rolled out from under their blankets each morning at 5:15 o'clock. "Then at 5:30," continued, "the

Fairchilds, Millers Arrange to Live In S. F. During War Period

Vernile Read Is Now at Camp Fremont; G. Sharpnack With Signal Corps

Letters received here today stated that the California engineers at Camp Fremont, including Lester Johnston, Ashley Worley, George Zane, Irving Bostwick and "Pink" McCants, will not leave for Linda Vista before September 15. They will train there before being dispatched to New York for their final work on the continent. They are to recruit to war strength once.

FAIRCHILDS NOW LIVING

IN PRESIDIO HOME.

Captain and Mrs. Fred Fairchild have moved from their down-town apartments in San Francisco to a home at the Presidio. Captain Fairchild's stay at the Letterman general hospital is indefinite, but it is not believed that he will be removed from there for several weeks. The new Fairchild home being partly furnished, Mrs. Fairchild supervised the moving of enough of their furnishings from their beautiful residence in Woodland to complete their home in the metropolis.

MILLERS RENT LOCAL

HOME TO WORLEYS.

First Lieutenant and Mrs. Henley E. Miller of Woodland have made arrangements to remain permanently in San Francisco. They have given up their residence on First street and taken apartments in the metropolis. As is the case with Captain Fairchild, Lieutenant Miller's stay at the Letterman hospital is indefinite. The Miller home here, which is owned by C. C. Knight, has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Bart Worley.

VOSBURGH VISIT TWO

SONS IN METROPOLIS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vosburgh have been visiting their sons, Lowell and Elwood, in San Francisco. Lowell is with F Company and Elwood with Battery C of the United States Artillery. Harold Curson is also with Battery C.

GEORGE SHARPNAK OF WOOD- LAND, IS NOW AT ANGEL ISLAND, ENLISTED WITH THE U. S. SIGNAL CORPS.

LOCAL BALLPLAYERS

READY FOR SERVICE.

George McGinnis, former Woodland baseball player now with Vernon, has been called to the colors, having been examined and passed at Los Angeles. He is awaiting orders to report to Sacramento. He will not ask to be exempted.

Ad Machold, who has twirled for Woodland baseball teams and who is now with the U. S. navy, will pitch against the army team in San Francisco next Monday.

MRS. LAWHEAD VISITS

HUSBAND PHARMACIST.

Mrs. Fred S. Lawhead has joined her husband in San Francisco. She will not take up her residence there, however, having decided to remain in the cosy home on Second street while her husband is preparing prescriptions for 500-odd soldiers at the Presidio.

VERNILE READ NOW

AT CAMP FREMONT.

George and writes that the Engineers of the 3rd Oregon arrived at Camp Fremont Wednesday. They will be followed in a day or so by a Company of Engineers from Washington. Other troops will be there as fast as the buildings are completed to accommodate them.

VERNILE READ, YOUNGEST SON OF MR. AND MRS. TEMPLE READ OF RICHMOND, FORMERLY OF WOODLAND, IS NOW AT CAMP FREMONT WITH THE MEDICAL CORPS.

Exemption Claim Yet Is Open For District Attorney; Was Drafted

Although the name of C. C. McDonald appears among the list of men accepted for the army, Yolo county's district attorney, the only county official who registered for conscription last June, will have a chance to claim exemption on the ground of being a county officer.

McDonald, who is now vacationing in Glean county, was told at the time of his examination that his eyesight was not up to the standard required for the army. He was under this impression when he left for his vacation.

A few days later, after a consultation with the second examining physician, the first doctor decided that the district attorney's vision was strong enough to permit his serving in the army, and the new certificate accepting McDonald for service was given the date of the one rejecting him.

When he comes home the district attorney will be given an opportunity to claim excuse, under a ruling that any drafted man prevented from claiming exemption by absence or sickness may be given an extension of time at the discretion of the local board.

Lately he has admitted that he has spent the most of his career around Guinda and Esparto. McCants claims that he will come back from France in perfect condition, as he has fought gnats in the Madison hay fields and survived.

VAULTS PLANNED, BUT SAVINGS TO BE SHY.

Irving Bostwick "postals" from Camp Fremont that the Y. M. C. A. is a very popular place there. "They run a free picture show three nights a week," he writes, "and they intend installing safe deposits vaults for the soldiers. I hardly think they will need them; however, as the saving habit has not hit the camp as yet."

MENLO TAKES ON MINING DAY ATMOSPHERE.

"Menlo Park is getting to look like a '49 camp," writes Ashley Worley. "Every house and shack is being finished for poolrooms, soft drink bars and chop houses. Work has also started on a fireproof theater and a bathing tank."

"RUSS" LOWE TO GET BOX OF SWEETS.

A box of sweets left Woodland today consigned to Russell J. Lowe, local farmer, who is hauling munitions to the front in France. Miss Claire Lowe, his cousin, was the consignor.

Patrick H. Monagan of Sacramento is the camp comedian with F Company. Monagan is a witty Irishman.

Roy Hamilton, with F Company, came all the way from San Pedro to join his home troop. Hamilton was with the local boys at the Mexican border.

Robert P. Milligan was called home from F Company, on account of the critical illness of Al Crowder, Madison farmer. Milligan was adopted as a son by Mr. and Mrs. Crowder.

CECIL M. WOOLSEY IS THE ONLY EASTERNER WITH F COMPANY. WOOLSEY COMES FROM TAYLORSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.

CAMP ABANDONMENT REPORT NOT CONFIRMED.

Woodland boys at Camp Fremont today stated that officers and men there were much disquieted over the report that the camp is to be abandoned as a result of the insistence of local health authorities that sewers be installed. The rumor that all troops originally to be assigned to Fremont would be rushed to Charlotte, North Carolina, had not yet been officially confirmed. Hope was expressed that the sewer difficulty will be settled.

company reports for calisthenics. This body exercising lasts until 6, and then at 7:30 we begin the bayonet exercises. From 8 to 8:30 a signal drill is held. Recruit instruction goes on between 8 and 9 o'clock. The company has its first close order drill between 8:30 and 10. The battalion drill and parade takes place between 10:30 and 11:45. Another signal drill is held from 1 to 1:30. First aid work begins at 1:30 and lasts for thirty minutes. Recruit instruction continues from 2 until 2:30. More advice as to the use of the bayonets is given during the same period. Then we have another company close order drill for an hour, beginning at 2:30. The non-commissioned officers report at school from 3:30 to 4:30; the commissioned officers from 4:30 to 5:30."

THERE'S HOPE FOR MAX NEWMAN, BAKER.

Although Grover C. Lewis of Madison and Dallas W. Killingsworth of Chico are "breaking in" as cooks, the boys declare that their mess is the equal of any company at the Fort. The reporter will testify that he got a "tummy full" eating at the table of Captain Caldwell and Second Lieutenant Bruton. Lewis and Killingsworth had had no experience as culinarians proper to their enlistment with F Company. They adapted themselves to the task so quickly that one is led to suspect that even Max Newman, the former Woodland accountant, may yet graduate from a pan greaser to a full-fledged baker at Camp Fremont.

RAZORS TOO NUMEROUS, SAYS "COOT" SCHLUEK.

Carl Schluer and Robert G. Doty are the company barbers. Schluer complains that business is slow. "There're too many darned razors in camp," he told the scribe.

THREE BENEDICTS, BUT ONE IS TRANSFERRED.

Eldred Holt, whose marriage to Miss Charlie Beebe of Woodland came as a surprise to their many friends a few weeks ago, is no longer with the company. Holt has transferred to the Sanitary Detachment of the California Infantry, and is stationed at Richmond. Holt, by the way, was not the only F soldier to fall a victim of the wily Cupid. Frank Mallo of Winters, married a Richmond belle, and Henry F. Hurdle of Marysville wedded a girl from his home city. Mallo and Hurdle are both well thought of privates.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS AMONG THOSE THERE.

Lawrence B. Scherer of Winters is the oldest man in Camp. He is 46 and a Spanish war veteran. Louis Sheridan of Madison, the company's chief mechanic, was also with Uncle Sam at the time of the trouble with Spain. Earl Smith, bugler, is the youngest soldier in the company. Smith is but 18 years old. He enlisted with the written permission of his parents. He formerly was employed in the "Democrat" office.

"CAP" CALDWELL, VETERAN, ATTENTIVE TO DUTIES.

Captain Caldwell is the oldest man in the company in point of service. "Cap" will have been with his home troop thirteen years next March. He is even more enthusiastic about the organization's welfare today than he was when he first enlisted. He has left the fort but once since the men arrived from Richmond. Although he has granted frequent furloughs to other men in the ranks, he has taken but one home leave of absence since the company left town and that was on account of urgent business reasons.

HILL, BRUTON, ALSO PIONEERS IN SERVICE.

First Lieutenant Hill is the second F Company veteran. Hill has been with the organization for ten years.

Second Lieutenant Bruton, too, has answered roll call with F Company for a long time. He joined almost eight years ago.

Athletic games have just started at Fort Mason. The companies have organized a rugby team that made its debut by defeating Lowell high school. Lieutenant Bruton, who starred in his high school days, will probably line up for the next game.

Michael Pavloff, impresario of the ballet, made this exclamation when he visited the ballet school and saw Vasta dancing.

Taking a great fancy to the girl he picked her out as his choice of the pupils to accompany the ballet to Paris for the winter season.

"No, no, she cannot leave St. Petersburg," declared Marta, despite Vasta's pleadings to be allowed to go.
"No, she must stay here."

But that night Vasta determined to go to Paris, disguised herself as a boy and accompanied the ballet.

On the train it was found that Vasta was masquerading as a boy. She was scolded and then complimented for her bravery. And the impresario, eyeing her greedily, smiled as a recollection of something he had seen came to him. This recollection was of seeing Grand Duke Alexis and Vasta together and the impresario, putting two and two together, became convinced that Alexis was the father of Vasta.

Additional Men To Be Named As Alternates

With the mailing out tonight of notices to 118 Yolo county men telling them that they have been accepted for service in the national army, the next step in the process of selecting Yolo's representation will be the hearing of appeals by the district board. Many appeals are expected to come from the list of men accepted, which is published on this page.

Appeals from the rulings of the local board must be sent to the local board within ten days from the time the notices are mailed. The board will transmit these appeals, with all affidavits of the appellants, to the district board at Sacramento, which is given five days in which to pass upon them and make its decision. The decision of the district board is final.

Although the required number of 118 men, representing Yolo county's quota of 107, with ten per cent additional to allow for the more strict physical examination to be undergone at the army cantonment—was accepted by the local board from the first call following its deliberations all day Wednesday, additional men will be chosen from the 71 who passed the physical examination out of the second call of 150. This will allow for possible exemptions or discharges by the district board on appeal.

The appendid list is arranged beginning in the order in which the men ginning in the order in which the men increment of 30, 30, 30 and 10 per cent of those finally accepted will be sent to the training camp, September 5.

Joseph Richard Clark, colored, named by the Yolo exemption board last night as one of those who failed to appear for examination, came over from Sacramento this afternoon. His explanation to the board was to the effect that he had talked with one of their number and had been told that he would be notified within five days to appear. The mails, he said, failed to bring his notification. His case was adjusted without the aid of the federal authorities, and his name appears today in the list of drafted men.

Thirty-Two of Yolo's Drafted Increment Leave September 5

The local exemption board has received notice from the adjutant general that the first quota, being thirty per cent of the total, or 32 men, will be required to entrain for mobilization on September 5, at an hour yet to be announced.

The local board will select the thirty-two men from the entire list, choosing those who are in the best position to go at once, unmarried men, preferably. When the selection is made each individual will be notified.

Under the rules of service the men will come to Woodland and will be provided with sustenance and lodging, they will be in charge of the local board and in military service. They will be required to assemble each day at 5:30 for 'retreat roll-call,' and must hold themselves under command at all times.

When they entrain the local board will provide transportation and arrange for their meals while enroute to their camp. They will be placed under command of one of their number, selected by the local board and he will be responsible for their safe arrival at the mobilization camp.

The order to the local board reads as follows:

August 23, 1917.
To Local Board No. 1, Yolo County California—Gentlemen:

The president of the United States has called upon this state to furnish thirty per cent of the net quota on the 5th day of September, thirty per cent on the 19th day of September; thirty per cent on the 3d of October, and ten per cent at a date to be determined later.

Your board is, therefore, called upon to furnish 32 men, which is thirty per cent of your net quota. These men must be ready for entrainment on the 5th day of September. You will later be informed of the particular hour of entrainment.

By direction of the governor.

Demonstration Will Be Staged
In Woodland City Park Day
Before Our Boys Depart

The first quota of the new army called to service, consisting of 32 men of Yolo's 107, will entrain for mobilization on September 5. That is the information given out by the local exemption board.

The citizens of Yolo county, deep down in their hearts, honor the men who are going, and wish to give some outward expression of that fact. To blaze the way for that public expression, a number of citizens met last night at the Elk's Club and took the first step to arrange for a public reception in this city on the evening of Tuesday, September 4, the place to be the city park.

The affair is all-inclusive of the county, and it is hoped that several thousand people will assemble on that occasion to show their friendship and good will toward those who are called to their country's service.

FOR ENTIRE QUOTA
Everyone of the 118 young men who are called will receive a personal invitation to be the guest of the county that evening, and they are privileged to bring all their friends. A patriotic program will be presented, talent from all parts of the county being requisitioned for the purpose. The plan thus far are tentative, but will be worked out at a meeting of all the committees on Monday evening at the Elk's Club at 8 o'clock.

The general chairman appointed last night is George Cobb, who was the first to suggest this public expression of friendliness. His working committees will be, finance, Geo. Cobb, chairman; John Stephens, 'Chris Knight; on illumination of grounds, J. W. Coons, he to select his own assistants; committee preparation of grounds, J. W. Monroe, chairman; J. A. Murray, H. L. Huston; committee on program, W. F. Mixon, chairman; T. S. Spaulding, Miss Harriett Lee.

All members of these committees will please take notice that they are to meet Monday evening as stated above.

Twenty-three Men To Entrain From Here September 5

E. E. Gaddis, chairman of the Yolo exemption board, today received this official notice from General J. J. Borree:

Franks Farish Predicts This Is His Last Home Furlough

Franks Farish, now with the United States regular engineers at Fort McDowell, Angel Island, was an arrival Thursday to spend what he expects will prove to be his last furlough at home prior to his departure for France. Farish declares that Uncle Sam has been drawing on the men in his division steadily, but his number has not yet been drawn.

The former local real estate adviser all men who have not yet received their official draft notices to enlist in some branch of the service. There are plenty of good divisions open for recruits, and I believe that it would be to the advantage of the drafted men to get busy at once," stated Farish. Farish will return to Angel Island this evening.

TWO LOCAL LADS PILOT AIR RAIDERS

Phil Smith of Woodland and Gordon Snaveley of Richmond, but formerly of Woodland, are now aviation pals at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Both young men, who have enlisted in the airship service of the United States Signal Service, have been removed from Fort McDowell, Angel Island, to the Texas training school. If Snaveley learns to fly in one of Uncle Sam's air raiders as well as he used to "fly" over the rugby gridiron and basketball courts for Woodland high school, he should be dropping bombs on the kaiser's palace before many months.

Smith, too, has the nerve and "gameness" to make a good cloud pilot.

Mrs. F. Meier Informed That Red Cross Books Will Soon Be Here

Mrs. Fred Meier, who is directing Red Cross work in this county, said today that subscribers to the Red Cross Magazine will receive the current issue as soon as possible. Owing to some congestion at the publishing plant the publishers have been delayed in sending out copies. Several interesting copies of the magazine are at the city library.

Letters just received here disclose that Meredith Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gregory, Trenton Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor, and Harold ("Butch") Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong, are now in France, with the 18th Engineers, Railway Company A., U. S. A. The boys left American Lake, Washington, August 1. They sailed from New York on August 8 and arrived in England on August 13. After the company was reviewed by King George the men left for France.

Roy Chamberlain On Way to France With Aero Squad

Advices have just reached relatives in Woodland that Roy Chamberlain sailed from New York last Monday for "somewhere in France." The young Woodland man enlisted several months ago with the 37th Aero Squadron. He had been training at Fort Houston, Texas, and had not expected to be called to foreign quarters for some time. He writes that very few of the recruits in the aero division will ever get an opportunity to ride in an airship. The aero "Sammies" shoulder guns and train just like the men in the other branches of the United States army.

Over $2000 worth of knitting yarn will be bought by the Yolo county Red Cross chapter, to meet the late call from national headquarters for 450 sets, including a sleeveless sweater, a pair of socks, a pair of wristlets and a muffler. Volunteer knitters should get into communication with Mrs. C. W. Bush.

This "Rookie" Didn't Know How To Get Squad Through "Happy" Ogden's Menlo Park Straw Pile

Jovial Sergeant Wm. O. Ogden of Woodland has been dubbed "Happy" Ogden by his soldier pals at Camp Fremont. The following anecdote comes from the camp:

One rookie in camp will be a top sergeant before the year's out, if ability and willingness to "bluff it through" will bring home the bacon. The other day he assumed command of fifteen fellow rookies and marched them to the straw pile where Sergeant "Happy" Ogden was in charge. In the few days he had been in camp he had been watching his drill sergeant closely, so there was very little wrong with the way he shouted "column right," "column left" and "halt," and he added the customary "ha-arch" with real military vigor. But he had never heard the commands "column half right" or "column half left" that send a column off at a tangent short of a right angle. So he was stumped for a minute when it came time to march the column through the bales of straw at an angle of about forty-five degrees. But he wasn't stumped for long. "Cat-a-corner, ha-arch!" he shouted, just at the right moment, and his squad of rookies executed the latest thing in military maneuvers without batting an eye.

OPERATION MAY KEEP WOODLAND LAD FROM GOING TO FRANCE WITH HIS SELECTED COMPANY

From Allentown, Pennsylvania, has come the word that Moreland Leithold, local lad with the University of California ambulance company, was operated on last Monday for relief from appendicitis. The operation was performed by a Pasadena surgeon, who is at the training camp with the company. The young man's condition is satisfactory.

According to a ruling of the war department, a soldier must wait several months after a surgical operation before engaging in war service. All of which means that if the university company leaves for France with the next contingent, the Woodland youth will not be with them. Young Leithold is eager for service, however, and will probably arrange to join his college organization later, in the event that he is left in on this shore.

Yolo County Board Asked to Give War Board List of All the Aliens Registered For Draft In County

The United States war department has called upon the Yolo exemption board to furnish lists of every alien of a friendly nation who has been registered for the draft and has claimed exemption.

This move is made, according to the department, to obtain the record of aliens who may be liable for military service under the flags of their own nationalities, and who have taken advantage of the law which exempts them from such service with the United States.

It is said in army circles that this is the first result of the tour of Brigadier General W. A. White, chief of the British recruiting mission in the United States, who has been in San Francisco for several days arranging for the enlistment of British subjects under their own flag.

"This looks as if all aliens will be called upon to show cause why they should not respond to the call of their own nations," said E. E. Gaddis today. "It is a move to assemble all of the friendly nationals who have secured exemption from service in our own army under the draft law."

"I have been asked to get the records of all Italians, Frenchmen, Englishmen, including Australians and Canadians, Russians, Austrians, Belgians, Chinese, Japanese, Greeks, Rumanians, Serbians and those of South American states that are friendly. In short the aliens of all nations except those of Germany, with whom we are at war. German subjects are automatically exempted as enemy aliens."

A large number of aliens have claimed exemption in Yolo county. The French have shown the least in proportion to their population here of any of the foreign friendly nations.

SIX MEN TO LEAVE HERE WITH DRAFT INCREMENT

Only six drafted men from Yolo county will entrain here September 5 for Washington, according to new orders. The Yolo exemption board has just been informed that five per cent of the white men, preferably those with military experience, from each local area, will be started forward to the camps September 5, instead of 30 per cent, or 32 men. They equal size and from skeleton company organizations and set up a going concern into which the remainder of the total quota can be absorbed without confusion as they reach the cantonments.

ORDER OF NEXT INCREMENT'S DEPARTURE.

The next forty per cent of the quota will go forward September 19, when the second 30 per cent originally was scheduled to go; a second 40 per cent will go forward October 3, instead of the third 30 per cent, and the remaining 15 per cent will be called up as soon thereafter as practicable.

MEN OF EXPERIENCE GIVEN PREFERENCE.

Local boards are directed to disregard order of liability numbers to some extent in selecting the first 5 per cent, as men of experience such as cooks and former soldiers, are desired at that time. Warning is given, however, against getting into this levy by reason of his experience any man who might not otherwise have been included in the first increment of the district, at all.

UNDER the latest orders from the war department and special instructions to the Yolo county selection board from Adjutant General Borree only six men of the county's draft quota will be sent to the training camp as the first increment on September 5. Although it is not yet definitely settled just who these six will be the board is satisfied that they will be picked from the preceding twelve names, of whom all have volunteered their desires of being among the first division to report for training at American Lake in the state of Washington.

Power to select the first increment has been vested in each local board and in the case of Yolo county they will make their choice mainly by volunteers and those who are the best position to leave immediately.

CALLS SEPTEMBER 4

The six men selected will be called to assemble in Woodland on the day preceding entraining, September 4, and their first military life under the draft will be seen on the evening of that day when they are summoned for retreat roll call before the members of the board.

Orders on just what train the men will leave for duty have not yet been received but will be announced soon. They will depart from Woodland under the command of one of their number whose duty it will be to deliver them to the commanding officer at the training camp and notify the local board here of their safe arrival.

The committees having in charge the county reception to the men of the county who go to army service, met last night and took further steps to arrange details. The reception will be held on the evening of September 4th, the evening before the first quota entrains for mobilization.

The finances have been taken care of through an energetic finance committee. The grounds will be brilliantly lighted and all other arrangements made for comfort by the grounds and lighting committees and the program is now being arranged by the program committee.

Every one of the men who are to go into military service will be specially invited to be present at the reception. They will be asked to bring as many of the members of their families and their friends as possible. It is designed to make this a county affair, in which no part predominates, and in which every nook and corner has a part.

Exempters Name Six Men To Be Entrained On Different Days; Transportation Arrives

With the arrival here today of new instructions, together with the transportation and lodging expenses of the six men to be drafted from Yolo county with the first increment, the Yolo exemption board was busy this afternoon making final arrangements for the entraining of this county's quota.

MEN TO LEAVE ON DIFFERENT DAYS.

According to the selection of the exempters, and in conformity with the new advice received direct from Provost Marshal Crowder, the following six men will be entrained on the days following their names:

J. Dickson Stephens, Woodland, September 5.

Emmett C. Cooper, Woodland, September 6.

Edgar H. Brendel, Woodland, September 7.

Galvina Pena, Davis, September 8.

Chris Reyn Jr., Woodland, September 9.

Norman D. Simpson, Woodland, September 10.

TWO ALTERNATES TOLD TO BE READY.

E. P. Rineer and C. E. Altpeter, both of Woodland, will be the alternates.

They will be ready in the event that any of the aforementioned becomes ill, or for some other reason is unable to leave on the scheduled date.

All of the eight selected by the exemption board are single men and without dependents. Stephens, Cooper, Brendel and Pena asked that they be sent with the first call. Prior to the draft registration, Stephens twice applied to be allowed to train at the Officers' Reserve training camp at the Presidio. Each time his application was received too late.

ARRANGEMENTS UNDER NEW WASHINGTON ORDER.

The entraining of the men on different days is under a new order received this morning from Washington. Originally it was intended that the six from here should leave on the same date.

SPLENDID QUOTA IN FIRST CALL.

Every one of the eight young men named by the exemption board is well thought of in this community, and it will be a thoroughly representative delegation that reaches Camp Lewis from this county. Seven of the eight named are from Woodland.

MRS. SHUTE IS INFORMED THAT WOMAN'S COMMITTEE IN EVERY WAY COOPERATES WITH RED CROSS

Mrs. J. H. Shute, chairman of the Yolo County Woman's Committee of Councils of National and State Defense, has just received the following communication, which is self-explanatory:

Woman's Committee—State Chairman: The question is often asked, "Why was it necessary to create a Woman's Committee with governmental sanction, when the Red Cross, so largely concerned with women's work, already existed with the authorization of congress and the convention of Geneva establishing its international status?"

The answer is found in the acceptance of the fact that to the American Red Cross is assigned definite duties, the limits of which are clearly defined. The Woman's Committee is given direction of the work for women outside the field of the Red Cross. The following statement is made by Mr. Elliot Wadsworth, Chairman of the National American Red Cross.

"The American Red Cross is charged with the duty of helping to provide the troops with comforts and necessities when in the field; helping them in transit and assisting the Army Medical Corps in taking care of the sick and wounded. The Red Cross will also raise funds to carry on relief work for the families of soldiers and sailors, who may be left in need by the mobilization of troops. To further this work and to prepare women for service with the Red Cross, it conducts classes in first aid to the injured, in elementary hygiene and home care of the sick, in dietetics and in surgical dressings. The American Red Cross, moreover, in the case of flood, famine or pestilence, is supposed to act in such emergency and organize the relief necessary in such disasters."

The main activities of the Woman's Committee lie entirely outside of these functions, and therefore, there can be no overlapping or duplication of effort. The Woman's Committee is concerned, through its different departments, with the registration of women for general service; with food production and conservation, with child welfare and industrial conditions concerning women and children; education of women along all lines outside of the Red Cross service; with the maintenance of all existing social agencies, and the safe-guarding of the moral and spiritual forces of the Nation, so that those inner defenses of our national life may not be broken down in the period of war. The work of these departments is to be carried on through co-operating organizations where such exist.

The Woman's Committee is in every way sympathetic to the aims and purposes of the American Red Cross. It will urge women everywhere to join in the making of hospital supplies and garments for the civilian population in the devastated districts of Europe, and to avail themselves of the educational advantages offered by the Red Cross. In every community where the Woman's Committee is represented, it hopes to see, also, a Red Cross organization, the two co-operating in the greatest harmony for the common welfare.

Very sincerely yours,
ANNA HOWARD SHAW,
Chairman, Woman's Committee

LOCAL LADS ON CRUISER AWAITING GETAWAY

Huntington Expects Orders For Foreign Service Before
First of Month

HOME BOYS HAD PNEUMONIA

Now Well and Eager to See Action In Waters of Other Ports

Many youths from Yolo county who enlisted on the United States battleship Huntington, will see foreign service in a few weeks, judging from letters received here by parents. The cruiser is "somewhere off one of this country's biggest ports." That orders are expected any hour for foreign service is indicated by the strict restrictions placed on the young sailors when given shore leave. The jolly tars must keep into almost hourly telephonic communication with the ship's office.

TWO LOCAL LADS OVERCOME PNEUMONIA.

Adin Whitehead and Frank Elston, both from Woodland, have just become convalescent after attacks of pneumonia. The young men received excellent medical attention and are now able to be about their work.

WHITEHEAD VICTIM OF DESERTER THIEF.

Young Whitehead recently lost all of his civilian clothes along with some valuables, suitcases and hand grips. The deserter who pilfered them was caught, but none of the stolen goods were returned.

SOUTHERNERS "KNOW HOW," BOYS WRITE.

All of the lads aboard the Huntington write enthusiastically of the "hospitable South." The Virginia folk opened their hearts and homes to the Californians, extending them a warm reception all during their stay in southern waters.

HUNTINGTON WELL EQUIPPED SEA WOLF.

The Huntington, which was formerly the Virginia, is now one of the best equipped battleships in the United States navy. Her crew numbers twelve hundred.

ONE LOCAL LAD WILL REJOIN AS WAR ENDS.

The navy life is proving very agreeable to many of the Yolo boys, most of whom had never been on a river steamer before their enlistment on the Huntington. So enamored is Adin Whitehead with the vocation that he contemplates re-enlisting in the event that the war is ended, soon. Whitehead, who is a fireman, was the first of the Yolo sailors to receive a promotion. Whitehead's salary was substantially increased recently.

Barristers Kept Busy Filing Appeals For Selected Ones

Still another official order came to the Yolo exemption board today, which sets aside the arrangements completed Tuesday for the entraining of six drafted men from here on different days, beginning next September 5. According to the latest instructions, five men named in these columns yesterday will leave for Camp Lewis, Washington, on the same train September 6.

Many local attorneys report that their attention these days is being commanded by young men seeking appeals from the decision of the local board. This rush was anticipated by the government. The ten-day limit allowed for filing appeals will have terminated soon.

Food Pledges Must Be in September 5

Woodland Women's Committee Gets Orders to Close Campaign

Mrs. H. J. Shute, chairman of the Yolo County Women's committee of National and State defense, has received instructions from headquarters at Los Angeles to close the food pledge campaign by September 5, that date having been set all over the nation for the reporting of the last signings. Following is the communication received in Woodland:

"The food administration wishes the Women's Committee to round up the present food pledge campaign by the 5th of September. We are instructed to urge you to hasten the canvass for signatures and not to have any pledges signed after September 5th. We must speed up in every direction so that by the 5th of September every possible person, who would sign a food pledge, has been reached.

"Mr. Hoover is seeking with the zeal of one who knows to prevent disasters from overtaking us such as European nations are suffering from. Let us set an example of loyal confidence in the man whom the President selected for the special purpose of preventing suffering from hunger among either the people at home or the army abroad.

"It is our privilege and duty to uphold the Food Administration in every helpful way by urging women everywhere to prove their oft repeated claim that they are ready to serve their country whenever called upon."

Drafted Soldiers May Yet Join U. S. Marine Corps, Said

Drafted men who have been accepted for the national army and are awaiting orders to report at their mobilization camp may be accepted for enlistment in the United States marine corps, according to a telegram just received from marine corps headquarters at Washington.

It is necessary, however, for such men as desire to enlist in the marine corps, first to apply, pass the marine corps physical examination and obtain tentative acceptance by the marine corps and then secure written permission from their draft board to join the marines.

Few men will be able to take advantage of this new ruling, as the marine corps is now 3000 over its full

FLYING HERE TO FIT HIMSELF FOR ARMY AVIATING

Ed Bartoli to Join U. S. Aero Corps at San Diego to Be One of Few

Ed Bartoli, young local man who, with a partner, is practicing the art of aviation at Target Station, between Woodland and Elkhorn, plans to leave shortly for San Diego, where he will enlist with the United States aviation corps.

ONE OF FEW TO WEAR AVIATOR'S HELMET.

Bartoli is becoming adept at cloud piloting, and will probably be one of the very few Californians selected for actual aviation work. But few of those enlisted with the aviation branch qualify to become pilots. Bartoli's experience, however, is expected to place him in line for early service.

JOYED AT SUCCESS OF ITALIAN FORCES.

Bartoli, who is an Italian, is particularly joyous over the late reports from the Italian army. The success of his countrymen in driving out the Austrians, he believes, will have a marked influence in bringing the war to an end. Although Bartoli could probably be used to splendid advantage with the Italian troops, he will join Uncle Sam's division, expecting to get into action before many months.

AIRPLANE BROUGHT HERE FOR REPAIRS.

The young local aviator had his favorite machine brought into Woodland last night. It was shipped to Sacramento to undergo repairs, after which Bartoli will make arrangements to enlist.

ALL PARTS OF COUNTY WILL JOIN DRAFT RECEPTION

Canvass of Western Yolo Gets Enthusiastic Response On Demonstration Tuesday

ALL MEN WILL ATTEND

Large Number of Singers Want
To Take Part on Program;
Local Band Volunteers

Yolo county, all of her men, women and children, are becoming greatly interested in the reception to be given the soldier boys in this city next Tuesday evening.

A number of the heads of committees visited Esparto, Madison, Winters and Davis yesterday and found the leading men and women of all those sections interested to the point where they have promised themselves and the committees that they will have every one of the selected men here on that evening to see just how much in esteem they are held by the citizenship of the county.

On other days this week like trips will be made to other sections of the county and like results are anticipated. The leader of the Woodland band sought the chairman of the program committee yesterday and stated that the band wished to donate its services and it now looks as though there will be a patriotic song service as was never before heard in this city.

ALL PROMISE TO ATTEND

Return cards from the invitations sent out to the 118 young men are beginning to be received and thus far not one but has said he will be here. Every section of the county will prepare to bring the boys and their wives, mothers or sweethearts to Woodland and return them home without the least expense. It is expected that they will really be the guests of the county for the evening.

The plans, as now outlined, will be the assembly of the enlisted men at Armory Hall at 7:30 p. m., from which place they will be escorted by the Woodland and Davis home guard companies, led by the Woodland band to the city park, where the reception and exercises will be held. The general public will congregate at the park to be in readiness to receive the boys as they march to their places either on the platform or to reserved seats.

Remember, this is an event in which every one in the county is expected to participate. No matter where you live, you are expected to be in Woodland on next Tuesday evening. If you have some extra room in your automobile, bring some of your neighbors, who are not so fortunate. Some of the soldiers from your section will be here; do your part toward making the reception a record breaker.

Lieutenant Lawrence Maxwell Of This City Seriously Ill; In War Hospital At Washington

Ill luck in the guise of sickness seems to be following close upon the path of many of the young Woodland men who have offered their military services to Uncle Sam. Second Lieutenant Lawrence Maxwell is the latest reported on the hospital list. Recently it was related in these columns that Moreland Leithold, with an ambulance company in Pennsylvania, was recovering from an appendicitis operation and that Frank Elston and Adin Whitehead, sailor boys on the Huntington, were convalescent after attacks of pneumonia.

Lieutenant Maxwell is at the United States War Department hospital at Washington, D. C., overcoming a severe attack of measles. The young Woodland man lost thirty pounds in the first week of his sickness. After being held indoors for many days, he suffered a relapse on the day the hospital authorities had released him. He was taken back to the hospital for further treatment.

Maxwell's wife, who until a short while ago was Miss Eva Banton of Red Bluff, a former Woodland girl, left this week to join her husband. She had been living with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Banton. Arrangements have been made whereby Mrs. Maxwell will remain in the east and be permitted to visit her husband on Saturdays and Sundays until his departure for France.

Lieutenant Maxwell believes that he will be on his way across the waters the fore part of November. The lieutenant is enlisted with the U. S. Marine Corps. He received his commission as Second Lieutenant, as a sequel to a good record in military affairs at the state university. He is one of the youngest commissioned officers with the "Billy Blue" division. He reached his twenty-first birthday the day following his marriage to Miss Banton.

ALL YOLO MEN IN DRAFT TO LEAVE HERE ON THE 6TH

Latest Word From Offices of Adjutant General Borree to Effect That Men Will Go To Camp Lewis Together

NUMBER IS REDUCED TO FIVE CONSCRIPTS

Ever Changing Orders Now
Made to Send Men as Units
From Different Parts of State at Same Time

While many conflicting orders have come to the Yolo county exemption board concerning the sending of the first quota of men for the draft army still another change has been reported from the office of Adjutant General Borree. Although instructions received yesterday called for the entrainment of Yolo's six men on separate days the latest plan is to send them all together, but on September 6 instead of the 5th. The number is also reduced from six to five according to the report.

The new program for the arrival of the first five per cent call to the colors is based upon districts in the state, the larger cities to send their men on September 5 and the smaller counties on subsequent days. By this method the men will arrive at different days but in their respective units.

To entrain with the Yolo county men on the 6th are the quotas of Nevada, Placer, Colusa, Glenn, Sutter and Yuba counties. All these men will arrive at Camp Lewis at American Lake on September 8.

THIRTY-SEVEN ACCEPTED IN SECOND CALL FOR DRAFT

Process of Pruning Married Men From Service List Cuts
Total From First Call to Greatly Reduced Figure

THIRD CALL IS FOR HUNDRED AND FIFTY

Examination Summons Will Be Sent Out First of Week and Men Will Begin to Appear
Within Few Days Later

CONSEQUENT upon the pruning of all married men from those accepted for service from the first call in Yolo county, under a new ruling by the local selection board, and the selection of 37 men from the second call of 150 the total list of eligibles now number 112. Thirty-two men were changed from the accepted list to the exempted column by yesterday's action by the board and taken together with those exempted by the district board will cut the first call selections down to almost 70 men.

In order to make up the deficiency caused by the pruning process of married men it has been found necessary, as announced yesterday morning to make another, the third call. This will total 150 men, next in order on the liability list of the county. It will include all men bearing order numbers from 474 to 623 inclusive, and not from 323 to 473 as erroneously reported yesterday evening. This latter group of men was the second call and all their cases have been disposed of by the board.

SECOND CALL FINISHED

The work of passing upon the exemption claims from the second call was completed by the board yesterday afternoon and is announced this morning. Exemption was allowed on the new basis of exempting all married men and with this system the total of 37 out of 71 who were eligible for service after the examinations, is a remarkably high number. Although the Yolo quota will fall only 6 men short of the 118 total after the second call men have been reported for service the board will have to make allowances for possible exemptions in the second call by the district board.

In this they are acting upon the same percentage discharged in the first call, 17 in all, as far as the claims have been acted upon. Four of this 17 were men who were also exempted by the local board on their latest revision of their records so that only 13 will have to be subtracted on account of industrial exemptions. The board is satisfied that 150 more men called for examination will be adequate for supplying the demand.

NEW CALL THIS WEEK

The call will be issued the first of this week and it is probable that the work of examination will begin toward the end of the week. Quick action will be necessary on the part of the board as they will have not over a month to complete their disposition of all the cases in order to allow time for action by the district board.

Forty percent of the total Yolo county quota will be called out on September 19, another 40 percent on October 1 and the remaining 15 percent as soon as possible, according to department announcement, leaving but a short time.

The following men were yesterday stricken from the list reported for service from the first call and placed upon the exempted list: H. E. Crites, Guinda; E. R. Lewis, Esparto; A. C. Flowers, Woodland; Warren H. Underwood, Winters; E. Baldwin, Winters; Arthur J. Williams, Brooks; J. E. Vasey, Winters; E. M. Gaither, Woodland; W. H. Mitchell, Winters; R. S. Burke, Esparto; A. C. Food Pledges Signed By 2,000 in County

Special Meeting of Women's Committee Hears Report of Big Success in Conservation Campaign Waged Here; Hecke
Tells of Great Farm Waste and Suggests Needed Remedies

An unusually large attendance at a special meeting of the Yolo County Women's Council of National and State Defense, held yesterday afternoon in the county library for the purpose of making a grand closing of the campaign of food pledge signing in this county, indicated the earnestness of Yolo women's organizations in their support of the food administration. While reports of the progress of the work during the past month were received plans were laid for the completion of the campaign which has been limited to September 5.

The report of the chairman, Mrs. H. J. Shute, showed that since the organization of the Yolo county committee over 2,000 pledges had been signed by housewives of Yolo county, a most creditable record for a community of its size. The work which accomplished this was announced as that of the executive committee and members of the organization together with the aid of the newspapers of the county, the motion picture theaters, the Yolo County Board of Trade, the county library and branches, the schools through Superintendent H. S. Lee, the County Council of Defense and the Yolo chapter of the Red Cross.

HECKE ADDRESSES MEETING

Although no formal program had been arranged for the meeting one of the most interesting features was an address by State Horticultural Commissioner G. H. Hecke, who was present by invitation. His report of the enthusiastic response of the farmers to our government's appeal was good to hear and his contrast between wasteful American methods on farms and thrifty European ways was most interesting and instructive. By its mere telling, based upon personal, first hand knowledge, it carried great warnings of our need of thrift not only in the raising, but in the use and conserving of foods. He urged upon the women hearty co-operation with Ralph Merritt, recently appointed by Mr. Hoover to direct the food administration work in California.

Mr. Hecke, who is one of Mr. Merritt's co-workers, promised all help that he could give in information, suggestions or advice along this line.

WEST YOLO CONTRIBUTORS

Proof of the fact that all parts of the county are interested in the work of the committee was embodied in a report made by the treasurer, Mrs. Leander Turney. She reported that Mrs. Charles Olsen of Guinda, superintendent of the Indian school, was the bearer of $21.65 raised by the young people of Guinda under the direction of Miss Lillian Anderson of Alameda, Miss Anderson, a University of California student, was working in the fruit at Guinda, had suggested and successfully coached a play, the proceeds of which were donated to this patriotic purpose.

Special acknowledgement for the aid they have rendered in the work was extended to the following: County Librarian, Miss Eleanor Hitt and assistants; County Superintendent of schools, Miss H. S. Lee; County Trade Secretary, Fred Shaffer; Mrs. Alice McInteer, county council of defense, the newspapers of Yolo county, managers of motion picture theaters, Miss Alberta King, Miss Mildred Bannerman, the Red Cross chapter, and the trustees and the caretaker of the city library.

Mrs. H. J. Shute, who resigned her chairmanship to take the principalship of the Hamilton City high school, was elected by a unanimous standing vote as honorary chairman. Mrs. H. E. Coil, vice chairman, is now acting chairman. Her successor will soon be selected by the executive committee.

YOLO COUNTY BIDS FORMAL FAREWELL TO YOUTHS WHO WILL FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

One of the Largest Throngs Ever Gathered
In Woodland Stages Patriotic Reception
To Quoto of Men Who Will Leave this Month for Training---Borree is Present

TWO thousand five hundred hearts beat with true American patriotism and instilled into the breasts of scores of the flower of Yolo county young manhood the joy of the task for offering themselves in the fight for the principles for which the nation is now plunged in war, at a thrilling demonstration last night as farewell to those men who have been chosen under the selective law to represent this county in the first national army. None there were who did not experience that peculiar, gripping sensation at what they saw, what they heard and what they felt. The Woodland city park held the greatest crowd in its history to pay homage to our heroes who are soon to don the uniform of Uncle Sam and prepare themselves to bear the first burdens of this war.

Hundreds there were from all reaches of the county and they came, each one of them, with their man or men who had been selected from their particular district, feeling for him above all the others but paying their due respects to all, each and every one. It was a sight and an experience which rang true of what Americanism is, and, above all, accomplished the purpose of the reception, the demonstration that every heart in Yolo county is going with these first 118 men to their training camps and to the front in a foreign land to fight the fight of democracy, equity and justice.

VARIOUS EMOTIONS ARE EVIDENT

Varied were the emotions of those among the thousands who joined in the demonstration. Here one could see a mother of one of the boys on the platform, her eyes maybe soft with mother's tears, not tears of sorrow alone, but tears also of pride. Nearby might have been seen one who had no personal interest in this scene but one whose prayers will ever follow these brave men in their world work. Here was a big brother, silently regretting the fact that he was over 31, there a little brother or sister paying reverence to that big brother who was going to be a soldier. But the most silent in their pride and admiration were the fathers, men who express their feelings at such a time by a hand-grip only, and one which only a son can understand.

There was no sense of compulsory service in that whole throng last night, instead a spirit of pride and confidence in those excellent specimens of manhood who are to lend their beings to our cause. Finally there was a sense of breathless suspense which hung upon the sight of those men and upon all that was said and done in the way of a fitting farewell to Grant to remember them in a forceful speech. He said he found his task in pronouncing an eulogy to these brave men as difficult as the perfuming of a rose or the painting of a lily. He, however, spoke the feeling of his audience in saying that they were as much in the thoughts of those at home as were the men who were about to enter into the great war and that their deeds in battle would be received with the same enthusiasm and praise.

"We have never before coped with an enemy worthy of our steel," said Mr. Grant. "America has fought many wars but we now find ourselves up against the real thing, in hostilities with a power which will exact the best we have and all we have. It is to be a struggle in

WHOLE COUNTY REPRESENTED AT PATRIOTIC PROGRAM GIVEN AS A TRIBUTE TO COUNTY'S DRAFTED

Woodland and all of Yolo county made enthusiastic response to the call to the patriotic program at the City Park Tuesday evening. The event entirely carried out the hopes of its sponsors.

The address of General Borree, who honored this county among all the others holding similar meetings last night, was a straightforward talk such as might be expected from a veteran army man. He pictured the scenes of desolation throughout France and Belgium and compared them to the security which America enjoys through the yeoman work of the British navy. Borree adjured the young drafted men to persevere in the integrity and manliness they now display and he told them that California and the nation is proud of every man drafted into his country's service.

Chairman Gaddis of the exemption board told the audience that last night's splendid turnout completely repaid him and his colleagues, Messrs.

Ashley and Swingle, for the tedious exemption work of the last few months. Mr. Gaddis paid a splendid tribute to the men leaving.

W. H. Grant spoke feelingly on the subject of the seriousness of the war and of the necessity of every one's joining in pushing the war aims of the administration. He eulogized F Company and the scores of other young men who have already gone from this county.

Superior Judge Anderson, head of the county council of defense, told stirringly of the manner in which America is getting ready for the clash with German autocracy.

The musical numbers on the evening's program were all well received by the immense audience, including the Woodland Band, which played for the march of the home guards, drafted men, and Boy Scouts from the armory to the park and closed the program with the playing of America, sung by the audience. W. F. Mixon made an efficient chairman.

Jack Tillotson, Jr. Goes to Texas Camp To Learn Aviation

Jack Tillotson Jr., son of John Tillotson, formerly of this city, wrote friends here today that he would leave Tuesday night for Texas, to take intensive training in the U. S. aviation corps before being sent to France. Tillotson has been stationed at Fort McDowell, Angel Island.

We Believe in You, Charge of General Borree

FATE OF NATIONS DEPENDS ON
SELECTIVE SERVICE MEN,
SAYS STATE ADJUTANT

Adjutant General J. J. Borree, in delivering his charge to Yolo's selective service men at last night's demonstration, spoke as follows:

"You men who have been chosen under the selective service law represent the first contingent of America's great national army. Men now in the field are the result of our ordinary peace preparation. You represent America's preparation for this great war.

"Your country has conferred upon you the greatest honor which can be conferred upon any citizen, the right to bear her banner and the right to protect it.

MEN START TODAY

"During the past three months 4,500 local boards have been laboring throughout the United States in an effort to secure their districts' quotas for the national army. Tomorrow will witness the first results of their labor. Tomorrow small groups of men will wend their way from 4,500 local boards to their nearest points of entrainment. These straggling groups will gradually increase until with the arrival of the last lot of men, early in October, we will have an army of 650,000 encamped at the sixteen different Army cantonments. At these cantonments will be trained the first contingent of our national army.

"Tomorrow 32,500 men will leave various points in the United States for the mobilization camps. On September 19, 260,000 men will go; on October 3, 260,000 men, and a few days later the last men, 97,000, will entrain.

"You men are entering upon a new and interesting experience. A few may have had some military training but the vast majority will be men entirely untrained in military matters. There will be new and splendid opportunities unfolded to you. There will be every chance for advancement for the men who are willing to make the effort required to attain it.

TRAINING TO BE BENEFIT

"The training you will receive in the national army should be of the greatest benefit to you. The physical training acquired through various exercises, drills and the out-of-door camp life, with sanitary surroundings, will develop each one into a splendid specimen of manhood.

"You leave your homes clean, upright young men. See to it that you return in every way improved by the splendid opportunities which are opened up before you tomorrow.

"The fate of nations depends upon you and your comrades. You have been called to perform a mighty task. The whole state looks to you to uphold California's glorious reputation. You have a sacred trust. We believe in you and you will not fail us. God speed you."

HOME GUARD ARE GUESTS AT DIXON

WOODLAND COMPANY IN THREE HOUR DRILL SUNDAY WITH
NEIGHBOR ORGANIZATION

A number of the members of the Woodland Home Guards made a trip to Dixon on Sunday, where they were the guests of the Dixon guard. The entertainment furnished was enjoyable and greatly appreciated by the local men.

During the morning hours about three hours drill was had by the combined companies, after which a splendid repast was served. The Timm dairy gave one hundred quart bottles of certified milk for the lunch, and the boys agree that it was "some milk."

The members of the local guard will be interested to know that General Borree stated last night that he was of the opinion that it would not be long until the guard companies of the state are supplied with rifles. The war department has made such provision and General Borree has made the required requisition. Just how long it will be, he could not definitely state. He also said the secretary of war has advised a certain uniform for the companies, that all may be uniformed alike.

Mayor Wilcoxon Greets Drafted In Name of City

Mayor Wilcoxon today issued the following greeting to the selected men:

The young men who leave their homes beginning tomorrow to fight for democracy depart so that the sufferings of the world in this hateful war may be speedily terminated. They go as American soldiers have always gone to fight, proud of their flag, proud of their right to battle for it and now particularly proud of the high mission that calls them.

On to victory, sons of Yolo county. Onward to bring a world's peace. We know your spirit, we know your courage, we know your patriotism.

You know our love for you. You know our pride in you. You know our hearts go with you.

HEAD OF COUNTY'S DEFENSE COUNCIL PROCLAIMS EVENT

Judge W. A. Anderson Publishes Call For Tonight's Program At Woodland City Park

The following call to the people of Yolo county was made today by Superior Judge Anderson, chairman of the county defense council:

Yolo county will this evening express its appreciation to the men who are to make up its quota to the national army, the first increment of which will start Wednesday for American Lake, Washington. The patriotic program to be given at the City Park should be the signal for an outpouring of our county's citizens. The county council of defense cordially invites and urges every loyal and patriotic citizen to join with the members of the council and the committee in charge to make the exercises representative and genuinely enthusiastic.

Draft Army Means New Inspiration For Nation--Scott

Speaking of the tribute to be paid to Yolo's selected men this evening, and of the entrainment of the recruits to their Washington camp, Chairman Smith Scott of the county board of supervisors declared today that the raising of this army will act as a vivifier of the national feeling and make the whole country proud of the men called to defend it.

"The assembling of this great democratic army," said Scott, "will unquestionably act as an inspiring and unifying force in the nation. It will bring a keener realization of the thought that the brave young men offering up the last measure of sacrifice, must go forward with the unqualified assurance that back of them is all the power and spirit of the nation as well as all the love and devotion of a hundred million people."

YOLO COUNTY BIDS FORMAL FAREWELL TO YOUTHS WHO WILL FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

One of the Largest Throngs Ever Gathered
In Woodland Stages Patriotic Reception
To Quoto of Men Who Will Leave this Month for Training--Borree is Present

TWO thousand five hundred hearts beat with true American patriotism and instilled into the breasts of scores of the flower of Yolo county young manhood the joy of the task for offering themselves in the fight for the principles for which the nation is now plunged in war, at a thrilling demonstration last night as farewell to those men who have been chosen under the selective law to represent this county in the first national army. None there were who did not experience that peculiar, gripping sensation at what they saw, what they heard and what they felt. The Woodland city park held the greatest crowd in its history to pay homage to our heroes who are soon to don the uniform of Uncle Sam and prepare themselves to bear the first burdens of this war.

Hundreds there were from all reaches of the county and they came, each one of them, with their man or men who had been selected from their particular district, feeling for him above all the others but paying their due respects to all, each and every one. It was a sight and an experience which rang true of what Americanism is, and, above all, accomplished the purpose of the reception, the demonstration that every heart in Yolo county is going with these first 118 men to their training camps and to the front in a foreign land to fight the fight of democracy, equity and justice.

VARIOUS EMOTIONS ARE EVIDENT

Varied were the emotions of those among the thousands who joined in the demonstration. Here one could see a mother of one of the boys on the platform, her eyes maybe soft with mother's tears, not tears of sorrow alone, but tears also of pride. Nearby might have been seen one who had no personal interest in this scene but one whose prayers will ever follow these brave men in their world work. Here was a big brother, silently regretting the fact that he was over 31, there a little brother or sister paying reverence to that big brother who was going to be a soldier. But the most silent in their pride and admiration were the fathers, men who express their feelings at such a time by a hand-grip only, and one which only a son can understand.

There was no sense of compulsory service in that whole throng last night, instead a spirit of pride and confidence in those excellent specimens of manhood who are to lend their beings to our cause. Finally there was a sense of breathless suspense which hung upon the sight of those men and upon all that was said and done in the way of a fitting farewell to them.

MILITARY ATMOSPHERE

It was a truly military body which formed in line at the Armory ball and marched to the city park. The combined Woodland and Davis home guard companies followed the lead of the Woodland band and were followed by the Woodland Boy Scouts, under the direction of Scoutmaster Philip G. Snow, and took just as big steps and carried themselves with just as good a military bearing as the men. Then came the selective service men with Adjutant General J. J. Borree at their head. There were about fifty of the first quota from all parts of the county in line.

The arrival of the column at the park was the signal for a prolonged demonstration and it was not until after all the men had been placed that Chairman G. M. Cobb was able to restore order for the beginning of the patriotic program. With a few well chosen words he introduced W. F. Nixon as chairman of the evening following which an invocation was asked by Rev. Philip G. Snow.

WORK OF SELECTION

E. B. Gaddis, chairman of the Yolo county selection board, was the first speaker of the evening. In stating that at times the task of that organization had appeared even disheartening Mr. Gaddis said that this feeling was now all dispelled as he witnessed the spirit in which the men his board had selected were being sent to the front. He dwelt at length upon the difficulty of the task of a selection board due to the great amount of "red tape" which was required in its process. The status of married men, he said, had been changed several times in instructions sent out from Washington, necessitating additional work and worry. But at last, said the speaker, they had succeeded in selecting the men for Yolo county's first quota and that he was justly proud of its personnel.

"In the course of our work we have become so well acquainted with every man who has registered," said Mr. Gaddis, "that I know each one who has been selected as well as if I had lived with him all his life. These men here tonight, therefore, I regard with somewhat the same feeling as if they were my own sons and it is with a tender affection that I suggest one thing, that every one of you people here tonight, should you find it possible, be at the Northern Electric depot at 7 o'clock next Thursday night to bid these men 'God Speed' when they entrain for their training camp. These boys are your representatives in the national army and you have a personal interest in their tasks and well being as much as if you were a relative. Do not let the opportunity pass to show them that you have confidence in them as your champions in the fight for freedom."

ADJUTANT GENERAL PRESENT
The reception last night was particularly favored with the presence of Adjutant General Borree from Sacramento. His speech was in the nature of a solemn charge to the county's men selected for the service, one in which a wealth of good advice and information was embodied. So worth while are the sentiments expressed in his address that they are printed under a separate heading.

In the absence of a representative from the governor's office, the executive himself, having been unable to attend the demonstration in answer to an invitation, a telegram from the north from the governor was read. He wired:

"All honor to the local men who go out to fight our country's war. The people of California feel for them a sincere admiration and affection. May God bless our boys and give them strength and victory. It is our earnest prayer that they may return home safe again."

WILLIAM D. STEPHENS, Governor.

ENLISTED NOT FORGOTTEN
In the course of the homage paid to the selective service men those Yolo county boys who have already answered the call of their country and are in some branch of the service, F company and other enlisted in the regular service, were not forgotten. It fell to the lot of W. H.

We Believe in You, Charge of General Borree

FATE OF NATIONS DEPENDS ON
SELECTIVE SERVICE MEN,
SAYS STATE ADJUTANT

Adjutant General J. J. Borree, in delivering his charge to Yolo's selective service men at last night's demonstration, spoke as follows:

"You men who have been chosen under the selective service law represent the first contingent of America's great national army. Men now in the field are the result of our ordinary peace preparation. You represent America's preparation for this great war."

"Your country has conferred upon you the greatest honor which can be conferred upon any citizen, the right to bear her banner and the right to protect it."

MEN START TODAY

"During the past three months 4,500 local boards have been laboring throughout the United States in an effort to secure their districts' quotas for the national army. Tomorrow will witness the first results of their labor. Tomorrow small groups of men will wend their way from 4,500 local boards to their nearest points of entrainment. These straggling groups will gradually increase until with the arrival of the last lot of men, early in October, we will have an army of 650,000 encamped at the sixteen different Army cantonments. At these cantonments will be trained the first contingent of our national army."

"Tomorrow 32,500 men will leave various points in the United States for the mobilization camps. On September 19, 260,000 men will go; on October 3, 260,000 men, and a few days later the last men, 97,000, will entrain."

"You men are entering upon a new and interesting experience. A few may have had some military training but the vast majority will be men entirely untrained in military matters. There will be new and splendid opportunities unfolded to you. There will be every chance for advancement for the men who are willing to make the effort required to attain it."

TRAINING TO BE BENEFIT

"The training you will receive in the national army should be of the greatest benefit to you. The physical training acquired through various exercises, drills, and the out-of-door camp life, with sanitary surroundings, will develop each one into a splendid specimen of manhood."

"You leave your homes clean, upright young men. See to it that you return in every way improved by the splendid opportunities which are opened up before you tomorrow."

"The fate of nations depends upon you and your comrades. You have been called to perform a mighty task. The whole state looks to you to uphold California's glorious reputation. You have a sacred trust. We believe in you and you will not fail us. God speed you."

WHOLE COUNTY REPRESENTED AT PATRIOTIC PROGRAM GIVEN AS A TRIBUTE TO COUNTY'S DRAFTED

Woodland and all of Yolo county made enthusiastic response to the call to the patriotic program at the City Park Tuesday evening. The event entirely carried out the hopes of its sponsors.

The address of General Borree, who honored this county among all the others holding similar meetings last night, was a straightforward talk such as might be expected from a veteran army man. He pictured the scenes of desolation throughout France and Belgium and compared them to the security which America enjoys through the yeoman work of the British navy. Borree adjured the young drafted men to persevere in the integrity and manliness they now display and he told them that California and the nation is proud of every man drafted into his country's service.

Chairman Gaddis of the exemption board told the audience that last night's splendid turnout completely repaid him and his colleagues, Messrs.

Ashley and Swingle, for the tedious exemption work of the last few months. Mr. Gaddis paid a splendid tribute to the men leaving.

W. H. Grant spoke feelingly on the subject of the seriousness of the war and of the necessity of every one's joining in pushing the war aims of the administration. He eulogized F Company and the scores of other young men who have already gone from this county.

Superior Judge Anderson, head of the county council of defense, told stirringly of the manner in which America is getting ready for the clash with German autocracy.

The musical numbers on the evening's program were all well received by the immense audience, including the Woodland Band, which played for the march of the home guards, drafted men, and Boy Scouts from the armory to the park and closed the program with the playing of America, sung by the audience. W. F. Nixon made an efficient chairman.

HOME GUARD ARE GUESTS AT DIXON

WOODLAND COMPANY IN THREE HOUR DRILL SUNDAY WITH
NEIGHBOR ORGANIZATION

A number of the members of the Woodland Home Guards made a trip to Dixon on Sunday, where they were the guests of the Dixon guard. The entertainment furnished was enjoyable and greatly appreciated by the local men.

During the morning hours about three hours drill was had by the combined companies, after which a splendid repast was served. The Timm dairy gave one hundred quart bottles of certified milk for the lunch, and the boys agree that it was "some milk."

The members of the local guard will be interested to know that General Borree stated last night that he was of the opinion that it would not be long until the guard companies of the state are supplied with rifles. The war department has made such provision and General Borree has made the required requisition. Just how long it will be, he could not definitely state. He also said the secretary of war has advised a certain uniform for the companies, that all may be uniformed alike.

A Spanish teacher having been recently secured, Holy Rosary now offers courses in the modern languages usually studied—German, French and Spanish; while the course in expression aims to produce not declaimers, but readers, able to give expression to the beautiful thoughts of the great authors who have made English literature.

Special attention will this year be given to physical culture and playground work, and this department will be in charge of Miss Kathleen Burke and Miss Bernice Ball, two young ladies who have specialized in these subjects at the University of California. They will teach Swedish gymnastics, military marching, Russian bar work, and games for the playground. They will also have charge of the dancing classes, teaching

Finally, as a means of further development of the pupils, lectures, recitals and artistic readings by people of note in their professional lines will be given monthly, as was done last year. These and the entertainments which the students of music and expression frequently give in the auditorium of the school, will always be free to the public, who long ago learned that the programs Holy Rosary offers are always well worth attending.

TELLS OF AVIATION TRAINING IN TEXAS

C. W. Zimmer Describes Camp Life as Found During Quarantine

ELOQUENT ABOUT CYCLONES

Many From This County At San Antonio Learning
Flying Game

C. W. Zimmer, who was married here last Easter Sunday to Miss Bertha Storz, wrote to the "Democrat" today from Kelly Field, at San Antonio, Tex., where he is enlisted with the 87th Aero Squadron. Addressing his letter to "Woodland, Cal., God's Country," Zimmer sends greetings from "the land that was taken from the Mexicans and should be returned with regrets." The Woodland man has been in quarantine hospital. He is only one of several men from this county who are learning the air game at San Antonio.

"The soldier's life in a quarantine camp," he writes, "is not what the pictures emblazoned with colors and captioned with patriotic legends would lead one to believe. But thank the Lord we were released from quarantine yesterday and can now roam at will after duties are done. Although this is an aviation camp, and an honest-to-goodness one at that, there are no aeroplanes at one's disposal to cruise in during leisure. Most of my time is spent in the kitchen, where I have been assigned to cook for the hungriest bunch of true-blue soldiers anywhere in the U. S."

TELLS OF TEXAS AND ITS "SAND BLIZZARDS."

According to my observation, Texas is inhabited mainly by young cyclones, lizards, and rattlesnakes. The latter have been cleared from our camp, but there is nothing to stop the cyclones and 'sand blizzards' when all Texas decides to get on the move. A roar is heard and soldiers are seen running to their tents and holding on to them to prevent their being blown away. Then the storm hits, scattering dust everywhere and beating and lifting everything not properly secured. Dust clouds the eyes, fills the ears, nose and mouth, hair, clothing, shoes, and so completely crowds the atmosphere that it is almost impossible to breathe.

DRENCHING THUNDERSTORMS
FOLLOW CYCLONE'S DEPARTURE.

"The cook tents suffer most from the wind for they are more expansive than the others and have fewer men to hold them on the ground. The cyclone is followed by a thunderstorm and a drenching rain. The thunder here is extra loud and the lightning affords a splendid display.

"Being an aviation base our camp is naturally alive with aircraft. Sunday is exhibition day for the ladies, and of course the birdmen do their best to scintillate."

Wants to Visit Parents Before Going to Camp

W. H. Hoyle, Davis man accepted for service in the draft army, went to Sacramento this afternoon to learn whether it is too late for him to be transferred to North Carolina for entrainment. Hoyle's father and mother are in failing health and he wants to visit them before going to the war camp. His application for transferral was referred by the board here to the main office in Sacramento.

Hoyle came to Davis four years ago from his home in Lincoln county, North Carolina. He worked three years for O. B. Wilbur and during the last year has been employed at the State Farm.

MOVE TO EXEMPT MARRIED MEN O. K.

Gen. Borree Sends Word Local Board's Explanation Is Satisfactory

NOT EXCUSED AS A CLASS

Adjutant-General Was Reported
To Have Disapproved
Of Exemption

A statement issued today by Adjutant General J. J. Borree was to the effect that he is satisfied with the Yolo Exemption Board's explanation of the married men exemption move here. Borree stated that Chairman E. E. Gaddis' report was to the effect that married men in Yolo county were not exempted as a class, but that each individual case was disposed of and it was determined that none of the married men in the first two calls were in such financial condition as to leave their wives independent.

Late Tuesday General Borree announced in Sacramento that he would investigate the report that a sweeping revision here had resulted in the exemption of all married men regardless of whether or not they had dependents. The statement emanating from the general's Sacramento office this morning indicates that he is satisfied with the findings.

Tells of Letter Received From Unknown Writer

Speaking of the incidents met with during exemption duties, Chairman Gaddis of the board here told at Tuesday night's meeting of receiving an anonymous letter from someone in this county criticizing his work and assuring him that he had not better put himself up for political honors in this county again.

"The unknown writer took the trouble to go to Sacramento to mail the letter," said Gaddis, "and he forgot apparently that my political death overtook me several years ago."

NO MILITARISTIC TUNES
IN SELECTION FOR BOYS

Captain Caldwell Expresses the Appreciation of Himself and Men for Generous Support

Company F is fully satisfied that the people of this community are going to turn out in sufficient numbers on Friday evening, at the Ellas Marx studio to make it possible, not only to buy the army and navy phonograph, but also to purchase a number of records.

It seems so at least for the boys sent up their selections of records yesterday, with instructions to send them right along with the phonograph. Here is the list selected by the boys, and it will be noted that not one of them is militaristic in character, but most of them are good home songs.

Moonlight in Jungle Land, song; Below the Mason-Dixon line, song. Infanta March, Banjo; Dixie Medley, Banjo.

Hey! Wop, song; Oh, How That Woman Could Cook, song.

Aunt Dinah's Golden Wedding, vaudeville sketch; Gasoline Gus and His Jitney Bus, song.

Go to Sleep my Little Pickaninny, song; My Sweet Little Colleen, song.

My Mother's Rosary, song; There's a Long, Long Trail, song. Lovesick Coon, vaudeville sketch; When That Little Fellow Plays Piano, (Hannah Plays banjo).

Beautiful Isle of Somewhere, song. Kathleen Mavourneen, song.

The Rosary, song; When the Robins Nest Again, song.

I Love You California; Summer Days.

Intermezzo-Cavalleria Rusticana, orchestra; Barcarolle-Tales of Hoffman.

Bridal Chorus-Lohengrin, orchestra; Introduction to Third Act-Lohengrin, orchestra.

Good Bye, song; Ma Curly Headed Baby, song.

Mother Machree, song; My Wild Irish Rose, song.

O, Promise Me, instrumental quartette; Sweetest Story Ever Told, instrumental quartette.

Kentucky Babe, male quartette; Swing Along, male quartette.

Rock Me to Sleep Mother, song; When You and I Were Young Maggie, song.

Anvil Chorus-Trovatore, light opera company; Miserere-Trovatore, chorus.

Home to Our Mountains, 11-Trovatore, song; Praise Ye-Atilla, vocal Trio.

In sending the list, Captain Caldwell, speaking for the members of his company, says:

"I would like to express my appreciation and the appreciation which Company F feels toward those people of Woodland who have taken such a generous interest in our welfare."

Remember this entertainment, not calculated to make a penny for any individual or firm, but simply to meet the cost price of these gifts to our local company, will occur on Friday evening. The tickets will be fifty cents each and the entertainment will be first class.

HUNDREDS BID FAREWELL TO FIVE STURDY SELECTIVES

Scene Never Equalled in This City Marks Departure of Our First Men to Become Part Of Great Select Army

DEAFENING CHEERING SENDS BOYS ON WAY

Sadness of Relatives at Loss Of Sons Is Forgotten When They Become Center Of Great Demonstration

WITH the cheers of hundreds and the fond farewells of their relatives and friends ringing in their ears, five of Yolo county's most stalwart sons are this morning upon their way to become a part of the vast national army of America in its fight for equity. They are John Dickson Stephens, in command, Emmett C. Cooper, Norman D. Simpson, Edgar H. Brendel and Galneva Pena. The boys entrained at 7 o'clock yesterday evening from the Northern Electric depot for Sacramento and left from that city for American Lake in Washington at 9:30 o'clock on a special troop train.

All traffic was blocked by the great throng which gathered to bid their last farewells to our boys and feeling ran high as they appeared with the selection board, which had named them as the first to go. Hundreds of eager hands were outstretched for a final friendly and well wishing grip before the men boarded the train and "Good-by," "Good Luck" and "God Bless You" were uttered from as many strained throats. It was a farewell such has never before been witnessed in Woodland and a scene which will only be equalled when these brave boys, with many others who are to follow, return home again.

NO GRIEF AT PARTING
Few were the tears which entered into the goody but suppressed feeling was evident in every pair of eyes which looked upon the men who have been selected to represent Yolo county in the first increment to go into training. Family farewells had already been said before the time for entraining and the blood relatives of the boys momentarily forgot the loss of their sons and brothers in the glory of them being the center of such a patriotic scene.

It was as the train swung around the curve leading to the east that this pent up feeling of that crowd found voice in deafening cheering that rose to heaven to join in those from tens of thousands of other throats which are sending their men to the service all over the nation. Should a small part of these farewells carry to the ears of the enemy these men are to fight any sense of trifling of the United States in war would be turned to apprehension and fear. Such are the scenes of war which will in the end more closely unite our people in the common cause for democracy and freedom.

Simpson Twins Separated For First Time In Lives When Yolo Men Leave Town Amid Cheers

One of the touching incidents of the departure of Yolo county's first draft increment on the 7 o'clock electric train Thursday evening was the parting of Norman Simpson, one of the five men leaving, and his twin brother, Charles Simpson. This is the first time the pair have ever been separated for any considerable length of time. They have lived here all their lives and were from earliest youth close chums. Charles was called in the first draft also, but he was exempted because of a dependent family.

The departure of the first of "Woodland's finest" was attended by hundreds of people from this vicinity, who were anxious to extend a parting word of appreciation to Dickson Stephens, who captained the party, Calvin Pena of Davis, Emmett Cooper, Edgar Brendel, and Norman Simpson.

As the train left the station the crowd broke into cheering and continued until the train was beyond the S. P. crossing.

At Sacramento the boys joined recruits from central and southern California, leaving after midnight for their camp at American Lake.

FAILS TO REGISTER IN DRAFT; ARRESTED

David Johnson, Alien Working Near Clarksburg, Falls
In Officer's Net

NO DESIRE TO GO TO WAR

Prisoner Came From Sweden
Four Years Ago; Knew
Of Registration

Another draft evader was brought to time here today, when David Johnson, 23-year-old Swede, was arrested by Constable King of Clarksburg and brought to the county jail. Johnson failed to register for conscription on June 5. He is an alien.

Johnson was arrested at the Anderson ranch, below Clarksburg. He has been under surveillance by the sheriff's office here several days.

Today's prisoner looks little more than a boy, although there is no doubt that he is well above the minimum age for the draft. He came to Courtland, Sacramento county, from Sweden four years ago. He had been at the Anderson ranch for the past year.

Asked why he failed to register, Johnson, who became a very timid youth under questioning, replied falteringly that he did not want to go to war. He admitted that he was aware of what was transpiring on registration day.

Had Johnson registered he would not have been eligible for service under the present situation covering aliens, for he has never even applied for naturalization papers. He said today that he has a brother, John, working on a dredger at Mare Island. The latter has been in this country ten years.

The sheriff's office will notify the federal authorities to come after their prisoner.

CAMP LIFE AT AMERICAN LAKE DESCRIBED BY WOODLAND MAN, MEMBER OF AMBULANCE CORPS

Professor N. I. Norton of Masonic Contingent Writes Of Experiences in Training—Tells of Departure of Engineer Corps in Which Three Woodland Boys Went to France

In a letter to friends in Woodland, Professor N. I. Norton, formerly an instructor at the Woodland high school, but now a member of the Masonic ambulance corps which is training at American Lake, Washington, is told an intensely interesting story of camp life as it will be lived by the Yolo county men who have left and will leave in the near future as a part of the national selective army. Vivid descriptions of the surroundings, events of the day and the like are told and will be read with interest by those men who are about to become a part of the scene.

Professor Norton has now been at Camp Lewis for several weeks but gives no hint of a possible date of departure for France, although he tells of the entrainment of the California engineer corps of which three Woodland men are members. Following is the letter:

Well, here I am in camp—four weeks tomorrow, and I feel as far from being a soldier as ever before. The more we know, the more we know there is to learn, so I keep on, knowing that they run in the race run all—but Paul fails to foretell how many return from the trenches, and I am getting to be a rank fatalist. My two brothers were in the second call and have both passed their physical examinations.

For the sake of the boys' mothers I wish this dastardly war would end and the sooner the quicker. But as for myself, it matters not, nor do I care for I am but one of many coming together to form an effective unit to do its part in a great cause. May the outcome be that hoped for and prayed for.

Camp Lewis is situated in the bed of what was once called an immense lake of which American Lake is the beautiful relic. I don't know how many centuries it has taken for the elements to carry in some two feet of dirt to cover up the round rocks and gravel which the clear water once covered and in which fir trees up to two feet in diameter have level surface, and larger ones along what was the edge and on the hills surrounding the camp site. As to the lake itself, I have had but one view. It certainly is beautiful as it nestles among the fir trees. It is all of a half mile wide. Believe me, the swimming is some good and that is the real object of going to the lake.

ARRANGEMENT OF CAMP

Barracks have been constructed to house four brigades—fifty buildings to a brigade. The first and second brigades are on the north side of the valley, the third and fourth confronting them on the south. The buildings stretch out in five rows two miles in length. The vast space between the two big divisions will be smoothed off for the parade ground. I do not know what kind of treatment that ground will receive to settle the dust, but I do know that the dust is so constant that we scarcely know whenever we get clean. At present the barracks and showers are not completed and the latter cannot be installed too soon either. We now have to hike about a quarter of a mile thru the dust to use the showers erected for the workmen; by the time we arrive at our "home" we hardly know that we were showered. Each barracks will have its own showers and wash room.

Lanterns now serve to light us on our way at night—that is up to 10 p. m. If we need a light after that late hour we must needs swipe a feather out of some fellow's pillow, for that is light enough for anyone. Very few of the fellows have such a relic of civilization as a pillow. I shove an extra layer of straw into that end of the bed sack and then use my thoughts for a head rest. There are about 10 U. C. boys among the crowd. Some are graduates and some are, or were undergraduates. The discord and jealousy which were at first so apparent, are gradually wearing out and co-operation and helpfulness is taking place.

ENGINEERS START TO FRANCE

Last night the company of California engineers broke camp and left for France. They have some 20 days in which to be on foreign soil. The wives of some of the officers arrived about noon yesterday from Los Angeles to visit their husbands. About 7 o'clock in the evening as they were standing around talking together, assembly sounded, the men fell in, the officers took their posts, and all marched to the special train awaiting them. Once on the train no one, not even an officer, was allowed to get out for so much as to say goodbye, and the train pulled out. A sad farewell for those poor women who came so far. Once in the army we move when ordered, when or whither is not for us to say. I maintain that the place to say farewell is at home and then those who do not have to go should stay at home. Wives and women folk have no place around camp.

I suppose you wonder as to our grub. Well, our head chef was head cook at Hotel Oakland and so knows how to put stuff together. Following is the menu of August 21. For breakfast: wheatflakes, with milk, fried bacon, roast potatoes, stewed peaches, coffee, bread; for dinner: cream of lettuce, roast veal with dressing, steamed squash, baked macaroni, fresh pears, loganberry juice, bread; for supper: tea, bread, baked macaroni and cheese, creamed onions, raisin sauce. Really you know that tastes fine on paper, but when it comes to cooking them en masse, we masticators sometimes have a hard time identifying the different viands. Most of us make no kick and take what is served knowing that we fare as well as the other companies and even better than a great many—what peeves me is that some dubs are chronic grumblers.

ARE ONE OF BEST

Permit me to revert once more to the California engineers. They came here about three weeks before we did. Now that they have left there is but one unit here older than ours. That mere fact may have some significance and it may not. The commander of sanitary units here has publicity said that our was the most reliable and active ambulance corps at Camp Lewis; also our motor ambulance and other equipment was sent to Philadelphia two days ago.

For the past 2 weeks I have been company clerk, which position I am to hold permanently. And believe me there is lots of work attached to the job, especially at the first of the month when we have to make out the muster roll and pay roll, and when neither I nor the top sergeant knew anything about it to begin with, you can imagine how we had to study it out and make

Uncertain Whether to Try For Army Aviation Service

Gordon Snively writes from San Antonio, Tex., that he has been made an acting corporal and hopes to become a sergeant before many weeks. He has not yet taken his examination to qualify for the flying corps, and is uncertain whether to enter that branch of the service. There are fifteen thousand men in training at San Antonio. inquiries of the precious few who could enlighten us. We congratulate ourselves that it didn't come back from the Q. M. to be done over, which latter occurrence is the usual one from what we can find out. It has one advantage—I am relieved from drill, guard duty and kitchen police (scullions). Had done only one turn at guard duty before getting this job, and had substituted in the office enough to get credit for kitchen police work before having to serve my turn at that honerous job.

SEES NORTHERN LIGHTS

Had my first view of the Northern lights the other night. The northern sky seemed to be crossed with a light haze, and then shafts of lights, like distant search lights trying to penetrate a fog, flickered back and forth across the starry blackness and died out, much like the searchlights at the P. P. I. E.

We have a wonderful view of Mt. Rainer from here on clear days. To me it is more majestic than Mt. Shasta. The snow-covered top is not like Mt. Shasta in that it is not one of two peaks, but is more of a flat between three smaller peaks. Shasta looks like a volcano, as it is, but Rainer is more like a huge boulder thrust upward into the inky blue of the sky. Take it on a clear evening after dusk has settled down upon our camp, the retreating rays of the setting sun cast a golden glow upon its snowy heights much as if some unseen hand had put a transparent film of gold upon it.

"MILITARY ETIQUETTE"

Military etiquette frowns upon promiscuous association between officers and men; but I will say that our officers are fine fellows and were out playing baseball with the fellows this morning. One of the lieutenants is an ex-baseball player and so certainly knows the game from A to Z and doesn't hesitate to try to teach the fellows.

I think it is about time for me to end this essay. I think something was said one time about passing my letters around among my friends so they all could get what news I may have to tell. That is one reason for the length of this epistle. May I hope that all who read it will take it as a letter to them and as such answer it, for although I am separated from Woodland by but a few months and many miles, my interest in Woodland and Woodland folk still remains the same.

Sincerest regards to all,
N. I. NORTON.

Physical Tests for Third Call to be Finished Tonight

Registrants whose draft order numbers place them in the third Yolo county call had an Admission Day observance of their own yesterday, and the celebration was continuing today. For many of the young men it marked their first step toward becoming admitted into Uncle Sam's new army.

Out of forty-nine examined Monday by the local exemption board, but eight waived claim for exemption. Those who did not ask to be excused were James Seton of Dunnigan, H. Louia of Yolo, Steve Ballard of Guinda, Henry McGarr of Winters, James Fisher of Woodland, Wm. McGarr of Winters, Thomas Stephens of Woodland and John Beauchesne of Paramount.

Better progress was made by the board today. Out of thirty-eight that had been examined up to 3 o'clock this afternoon, there were thirteen who asked no exemption. They were T. M. What is thought to be the final physical examinations by the Yolo county selection board for the first draft army were completed yesterday when the physicians finished with the third call for 150 men. With two exceptions the examinations were without material change over the figures and percentages of the other two calls. One difference was seen in the decreased number of men who claimed exemption and another of men who failed to appear at all to the call.

A letter from Fred S. Lawhead, who volunteered in the medical corps of the military service, comes to the editor. In part it is a private communication, but some parts of it will be of public interest. Fred is at Letterman Hospital at the Presidio. He says:

"My work is keeping me very busy all the time now, in fact I am working longer hours than usual, as I have two lecture courses that require considerable study. However, I enjoy the work and intend to get out of the courses all I can.

"Our work is all mental work—not drilling and marching—but, nevertheless, just as important as the other in this branch of the service.

"Am in full charge of the dispensary of the hospital, and am told by good authority that this is the largest hospital in the army. At present there are approximately 650 patients in the hospital. Two-thirds of these require something each day, hence during the time the dispensary is open I am very busy, even with the help I have."

Among all of Professor Hyman's revered records of former high schoolers' achievements none holds a more prominent place at present than his list of young men who have entered the service of Uncle Sam's army and navy.

Twenty-four graduates have already enlisted. Three more have been accepted in the draft. Of the boys who spent one or more years at the institution fourteen volunteered, while four were drafted.

Following are the graduates who are now "doing their bit," or awaiting their call: Charles W. Thomas Jr., Russell Lowe, Harold Armstrong, Meredith Gregory, William Simpson, Edward Henle, George Zane, Charles Clowe, Lawrence Maxwell, Franks Parish, Moreland Leithold, David Curson, Gordon Snaveley, Fred Lawhead, Leslie Smith, Osmond Wraith, Robert Browning, Howard Lawson, George Apperson, Ludwell Harlan, Elbridge Blanchard, Grant Bruton, Harvey Clendennin and Charles Day. Graduates called in the first draft are Emmett Cooper, Howard Cook and Howard Parker.

Former students who have enlisted are Robert Heald, Hodney Hill, Leslie Caldwell, Fred Parker, Maxwell Pew, Frank Elston, Kennedy Stewart, Will Ogden, Lester Johnston, Eldred Holt, Lawrence Dinsdale, Lowell Vosburg, George Sharpnack, and George Hollingsworth. Those drafted are Edgar Brendel, Charles Altpeter, Clarence Weaver, and Raymond Parker.

Mr. Hyman is particularly proud of the high school's championship football team of 1914, for nine of the men wearing the "W" that year have enlisted. These are Gregory, Snaveley, Smith, Wraith, Browning, Blanchard, Bruton, Day and Hollingsworth.

Yolo's Second Draft Increment
To Gather at Board's Office Day Before

NEW LEADER TO BE NAMED

Official Notice Given As To Manner of Entrainment and Preliminaries

Monday, September 24, was announced today by E. E. Gaddis to be the date for the entrainment of Yolo county's second increment to the drafted army. Headed by a captain to be named later the 43 men will take the 10:37 train for Weed, Siskiyou county, where they will connect with train No. 22 for Camp Lewis.

Ralph Royce, Davis man who was named at first to lead the second increment, has been exempted by the district board on his appeal. His successor will be named when the men first mobilize, which event is set for 10 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, September 23, at the office of the local board. At 5:30 that same afternoon the selected men will again report for orders. The next morning at 9 o'clock they will meet at the office of the local board and march to the Southern Pacific station.

Here is the official notice authorized by Gaddis today:

The second increment of 43 selected men for the national army will be mobilized at Woodland on the morning of September 23, 1917, at 10 o'clock at the office of the local board, at which time each man selected will be expected to answer to roll call. Any man failing to answer this roll call subjects himself to arrest and punishment. At 5:30 in the evening of the same day the men will again assemble for retreat roll call when they will be informed as to their duties as well as of the fact that they are now in the service of the United States and that unpunctuality and failure to report are grave offences in time of war. At the same hour a person will be selected from among their number to take charge of the selected men. Unless the men otherwise request, they will be fed and lodged by the local board during the day of the 23d and until the departure of their train.

At 9 o'clock on the following morning they will again be assembled at the office of the local board and march to the Southern Pacific depot at Woodland in charge of the person selected by the local board. They will entrain on Train No. 30, which leaves Woodland at 10:37 a. m., and which will connect with train No. 22 at Weed, thence direct to Camp Lewis. The men are requested to bring with them only light hand baggage, preferably bundles, but should provide themselves with at least two good suits of medium weight underclothes, plenty of socks and one pair of good, comfortable shoes, in addition to the toilet articles of which they have already received notice. R. P. Royce, who has heretofore been selected as the party to take charge of this increment, has been exempted by the District Board and no selection of a party to take charge has yet been decided upon. Official notice has been mailed today to all of the selected men to appear on September 23d, at 10 a. m., at the office of the local board.

Miss Hitt to Conduct Campaign

MILLIONS TO BE RAISED

Gen. Borree Says Spanish War
Showed Need of Libraries
For Soldiers

Miss Eleanor Hitt, county librarian, has just been appointed local campaign director for the Camp Library Week movement to collect a million dollars for engaging librarians and purchasing books for libraries to be established at the thirty-two army cantonments in the United States. Miss Hitt will be assisted by Miss Dorothea Smith, city librarian, and Miss Harriett Lee, county superintendent of schools, and the campaign will be waged here from September 24 to 29.

California's quota of the amount to be raised is about $50,000.

The Camp Week movement is being directed by the American Library Association and the War Council appointed by the war department. James E. Ferguson, new state librarian of California, is district director of the council for this section.

The war council has already raised money for erecting library buildings at the thirty-two army training stations.

The strong need of good reading matter for men in the cantonments was pointed out today by Adjutant-General Borree when he declared that the greatest need of the troops in the Spanish war, aside from surgery and sanitation, was library facilities. Borree is strongly in favor of the library movement for the new camps and he is particularly interested in the progress of the library being erected at American Lake, where the California troops will do their training.

Football Player Named to "Captain" Next Draft Party

C. E. Slater, Davis farm student, known to football fans as "Babe" Slater, and hero of many a Rugby game for the Olympic Club, was chosen today by the local exemption board to act as captain for the next 43 men to be sent from this county to the draft army. Slater's home is in Berkeley but he attended the State Farm for three years and was in full charge of the farm picnic last April. For the last two months he has been farming in Imperial valley.

Slater's order number entitled him to wait until a later departure, but he asked to go with the second increment. He succeeds Ralph Royce, also of Davis, who was exempted from service by the district board after being chosen to lead his drafted mates to camp.

From the 52 men receiving mailed notices to report a week from Sunday the board will name the 43 to comprise the second increment.

According to instructions received by the Yolo county selection board from state headquarters the next increment of 43 men from this county for army service will leave Woodland on Monday, September 24. Captain Caldwell Expresses The Captain Leslie Caldwell, captain of F company, has written to the Elias Marx Music company here in thanks for the army phonograph which was recently sent the boys as a gift from the patriotic citizens of Woodland. It is just the thing for the purpose, says Captain Caldwell, who writes as follows:

Sirs:
I wish to acknowledge receipt of the Army and Navy Model Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph, which through the efforts of your company has been donated to the members of Company "F" 2nd California Infantry.

The designer of this machine certainly knew the requirements of an army camp, as I do not know of any article that would entertain as many men and yet stand the usage as this model of Phonograph.

The members of this company extend to you their most sincere thanks and best wishes for the future. Your efforts will be the means of lightening the hearts of many a man when he is far from home and feeling blue.

With kindest regards

TO GO TO FRANCE IN 4 MONTHS

WOODLAND MEN AT CAMP
LEWIS TOLD TRIP WILL BE MADE SOON

D. STEPHENS SAYS DRAFTED HAVE BEGUN WORK
AND ENJOY IT

In a private letter written by J. Dickson Stephens to E. E. Gaddis from Camp Lewis, Wash., where 107 Yolo county men will be training before the middle of October, it is stated that the five local men already at camp have been notified that the coast troops will be sent to France after four months' training at their northern camp.

Stephens writes that the men have settled down to business, with a regular routine of work for each day. They drill one hour, rest fifteen minutes, drill another hour, rest again, then are put to the setting up exercises for one hour and rest again.

"We are located in barracks consisting of a building about 200 feet long, 75 feet wide and two stories high," writes Stephens. "It is built to accommodate 150 men very comfortably and is divided into four large rooms, three dormitories and a mess hall. Each room has an air heater but these are not in working order at present. Each man has an iron cot, mattress, bed sack and blankets."

EXPECT FULL EQUIPMENT
WITHIN FEW DAYS.

"So far we have been furnished only a few of the absolute necessities, but we are told that the full equipment will be distributed in a few days. The weather is about perfect, cold at night and about 65 degrees Fahrenheit during the day. It gives the boys plenty of "pep," so as a rule they are anxious to drill."

LOTS OF RAIN
BUT VERY LITTLE MUD.

"It rains almost every four hours but the soil is of a formation which does not become muddy or stick to the shoes. Camp Lewis is located on the state highway ten miles south of Tacoma and about two miles southwest of American Lake. It consists of 75,000 acres in one body.

"The second day after our arrival our men were called one at a time into a private room and each was questioned in regard to his former occupation, experience, age, etc. This same day I was appointed a temporary corporal and given charge of seven men. This is to last only a few days, however, as each man is to be given a chance at it.

"The 363d Infantry Regiment is made up of California boys and the barracks of our regiment are grouped together. I have found so many boys I know that it has kept that lonesome feeling away.

"We were informed today that after four months' training here, we were to leave for France and so I do hope you will make us a visit before that time and would certainly be glad to see you and show you around as a good private should. Nearly every one in our company has had a cold. I think most of the fellows from the valley will experience the same sickness, as there is such a difference in the two climates."

Knitters for soldiers in Yolo county have renewed their efforts since Mrs. Fred Meier was notified that this county's share of soldier supplies is 450 sets of woolen garments. Fifteen more men were certified by the Yolo exemption board today for war service. Another list of registrants was placed on the suspense chart and their cases will be disposed of by the local board Friday.

WOODLAND MEN NOT IN FRANCE, MESSAGE

From France; Voyage

Indicating that Harold Armstrong, Trenton Taylor and Meredith Gregory are not in France, as was reported following a cable message from Gregory, but are still in England, Mrs. W. H. Gregory has received from her son a letter written somewhere on English soil.

The letter was dispatched August 26, two days after the Gregorys received a cable from Meredith saying he had arrived safely. This message was interpreted at first as announcing the arrival of the Woodland boys in France.

Gregory stated in his letter that the trip across was entirely free from any sign of danger. He says that there was nary a sign of "tin-fish," which is 1917 for "submarine."

The letter of the one-time stellar high school athlete is unsigned, and mentions none of the places he and Armstrong and Taylor have visited since leaving New York. He states that men in the service are forbidden to mention any names of localities.

Gregory declares that it is highly inspiring to talk with some of the British soldiers who have been in the war for a year or longer. He adds that the people of England are heart and soul in their support of the government's prosecution of the war.

The three Woodland men left American Lake, Wash., on August 1. They arrived in England August 24. They are members of the engineers' corps.

FEW NEEDED TO SAVE CROP

Albert Leutwein, a Registrant
From Ely, Nev., to Be
With Local Men

Fifty-three young men called in the draft from Yolo county and one Ely, Nev., registrant now making his home here will gather Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the office of the Yolo Exemption Board to place themselves under the order of the board for mobilization to Camp Lewis, American Lake. Of the 53 assembled the board will choose the 43 to go as this county's second forty per cent.

TWENTY-SIX WILL LODGE AT HOME.

From that hour until their departure on the 10:37 train Monday morning for the north the men will be under the immediate custody of the board. They will be required to remain within easy summons until their departure. Meals and sleeping accommodations beginning tomorrow morning will be provided by the board, but the men drafted will be given the privilege of staying at their homes until 9 o'clock Monday morning as long as they are within call. Twenty-six have applied for and received this permission.

Reporting at the board's headquarters Monday the men will be checked up and then the required 43 will be selected. These will march to the Southern Pacific station.

RAINY WEATHER WILL EXCUSE FEW

In choosing the 43 out of the 53 reporting the board will be influenced by the present rainstorm, for several of the men listed are badly needed to help in emergency measures to save crops from damage.

There is a possibility that one of the men called will not be on hand thought to have left the county. The Broderick postmaster has notified the board that Traverses has not been seen and he believes he has left this vicinity.

Albert Leutwein will be the fourth member of the party leaving under the captaincy of Colby Slater. Leutwein, who is the son of the Rev. A. Leutwein of the German Church here, registered at Ely, Nev., but has recently moved to Woodland and applied for transfer to this jurisdiction. He was authorized by the board at Ely to entrain with the second increment.

PROMPT RESPONSE TO ROLL CALL SHOWS STERLING CHARACTER OF MEN

Only two of the fifty-three young men summoned from Yolo county to answer war roll call before the Yolo exemption board on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, failed to appear. They were C. B. Robertson of Woodland and Hermiris Traveres of Broderick. Robertson, according to information that has reached the exemptors, is a "holy roller," and fled from this city because he is religiously opposed to going to war. Traveres' case has not been explained. Officers will try to apprehend both men.

ROLL CALLS FIND MEN IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Two roll calls Sunday and one at 9 o'clock this morning, before the registrants in good spirits. On all three occasions the men assembled in the

Exemption Board Members Greet Drafted With Speeches of Warm Feeling and Grateful Admiration

Short addresses by the members of the Yolo Exemption Board featured the second meeting Sunday of the drafted men. Chairman E. E. Gaddis was the first to speak. P. N. Ashley and Kirk Swingle followed.

WORK LABORIOUS, BUT SATISFACTORY, SAYS GADDIS.

"Our work has been very laborious, but at the same time satisfactory," said Gaddis. "It has been satisfactory because we've had to deal with high class men. Many cases of hardships have been reported to us, and we have tried to treat according to the laws given us by the Provost Marshal. We are fighting for peace, and we must win decisively. We know that you men will do all that you are called upon to do."

The remarks of Ashley and Swingle were similar to those of Gaddis. "It's been hard for us to tell you to go to war, after we've considered the hardships that you must endure," said Ashley. "But you have accepted our decision like true patriots, and we thank you for the courtesies that you have extended us. I only wish, gentlemen, that I were thirty years younger, for I'd be with you, believe me." Swingle said that he'd never before experienced such interesting work.

WORK MOST INTERESTING, SWINGLE'S DECLARATION.

"We've come into contact with new conditions in life that we never dreamed existed," he said. "The case of each individual here today has been duly considered by us, to the best of our ability. As a whole, we have found that the young men of Yolo county are willing, and even anxious to fight for the great cause that our country is championing. I'm sure that I am expressing the wish of every resident in Yolo county, when I say to you, boys, good luck and God speed you."

Wait Till Next Entrainment—Not One of 43 Accepts Chance; Winters Man Finally Consents

Going to war holds no terrors for the forty-three young men who departed here this morning for Camp Lewis. There was not one in the lot who'd consent to allow George Christenson to go as his substitute, when Chairman E. E. Gaddis made such suggestion to the boys at the first roll call meeting Sunday.

Christenson had arrived at the call after the forty-three men had been named. "The best we can do is to make you an alternate," Gaddis told him after calling for someone to step out and receiving no reply.

Later the exemption board found out that Christenson had given up a steady position, so as to leave today. Kenneth Guthrie, Winters lad, then consented to allow Christenson to substitute for him.

FIVE ARE CHOSEN TO ASSIST "CAPTAIN" SLATER IN CONDUCT OF MEN

Cheered by hundreds of relatives and friends who had assembled early this morning at the Southern Pacific depot, and by the local high school students, who had marched to the station in a body, "Captain" Colby Slater and forty-two other stalwart Yolo county lads entrained today for Camp Lewis, American Lake, Washington, to begin intensive training to fit themselves for espousing the cause of liberty.

"CAPT." SLATER NAMES FIVE ASSISTANTS.

The "liberty boys" left the exemption board's headquarters promptly at 9:15 o'clock and marched in pairs to the depot. Reaching the station, "Captain" Slater named as his chief aides for the trip, Ben Stephens of Madison,

B. O. Shedd of Grafton, Ray Taber of Capay, L. H. Stites of Winters, and S. H. Matthews of Grafton. These men will have charge of squads of seven, and will be accountable to "Captain" Slater for the conduct of their squads during the journey.

C. D. Thomas of Davis, will be "assistant captain" of the men. Slater named Thomas, giving him the authority of meting out instructions and necessary permits to the boys while on the way to Washington.

URGES CHARGES TO SHOW PROPER MILITARY SPIRIT.

Before leaving the exemption office, "Captain" Slater addressed his charges as follows: "There's just one thing that I want to impress upon your minds, and that is that we are all under military orders and discipline. I want every one of you to assist me in making a favorable impression for Yolo county. We are to stay together during the entire trip, and any boisterous conduct will be reported to military headquarters. There must be no running out of the trains at the different stops en route, unless permission is given. At Williams we will line together. I do not anticipate one bit of trouble, as I never saw a more serious and willing squad of men leave for a war training camp than is on its way today."

Yolo superior court room, some of them accompanied by relatives and friends.

At the first call Sunday morning the forty-three men who entrained today for Washington were named after the exemption board had considered the case of several young men who had asked to be held over until the third increment departs. C. J. Smith of Woodland, W. Rose of Clarksburg and H. T. Souza of Broderick were temporarily exempted because of their agricultural pursuits.

NONE OF ALTERNATES CALLED UPON TO SERVE.

Five alternates were named, but none of them had to leave this morning. They were C. J. Smith of Woodland, A. P. B. Gielengs of Davis, George Durst of Dunnigan, Everett Larson of Woodland and Kenneth W. Guthrie of Winters. G. P. Christenson of Winters was chosen an alternate at the first roll call meeting Sunday but on the second call he received permission to take the place of Kenneth Guthrie, who had been selected at the first call. Smith, Gielengs, Larson, Guthrie and Durst, alternates, were given to understand, as were the other four men who were excused for occupational reasons, that they must all be ready to depart with the third increment.

WOODLAND DAILY DEMOCRAT

Some of the President's critics say his wish that he could lead American soldiers in the trenches was a mere bit of rhetoric. Nonsense! From the beginning he has given every indication of the intensity of his conviction that this is a glorious war for the defense of the United States and for the emancipation of mankind from imperialism.

World democracy is well pleased with President Wilson for its spokesman.

France's ideas on Alsace-Lorraine seem to be simple. Germany must give it up.

It appears that by an overwhelming majority the kaiser is elected president of the Ananias club.

There are all kinds of war taxes, but the worst is that levied by Senator La Follette upon the nation's patience.

The Chronicle seems to have very materially modified its views in relation to the causes which led up to the Houston race riot.

The price of silver continues to rise and it threatens to pass the minting standards. Some financiers fear a disarrangement of standards.

Germany has made many colossal blunders since it began this ruthless war, but it is beginning to realize that the one blunder, the consequences of which will be the most serious, was committed when it forced the United States into the war.

The Kaiser is obliged to make the most of his successes over Rumanians and Russians, as he gets none on the western front, and he has not to win on the western front in order to win the war, and on that front we are getting substantial reinforcements to the British and French.

As a statesman Chancellor Michaelis gives one the impression of a small bureaucrat rattling around in a big office. As a statesman von Bethmann-Hollweg, though not in the first class, was certainly a more interesting and commanding figure than his fussy successor.

The effectiveness of naval convoys in guarding cargo ships against submarines is strikingly evidenced by the fact that fewer than one-half of one per cent of the vessels thus protected have been sunk. It is gratifying to know that where vessels are convoyed the losses are almost negligible, for that is a golden pledge of safety to the troops that will follow the sea trail of the Pershing expedition.

Ex-Ambassador Gerard is of the opinion that Germany which expected to make its enemies bear the whole cost of the war, now faces financial as well as moral bankruptcy. The annual interest it must pay exceeds the annual increment of the country. The mere interest of the war loan amounts to four billions of marks a year. Now that the collection of indemnities from other countries seems to be out of the question, the situation ought to convince intelligent Germans of the necessity for peace at almost any cost.

An apportionment of the supply of coal will be even more necessary than the regulation of prices to assure fair dealings. American requirements will have to be first considered, and not until sufficient of the available supply shall have been appropriated to cover legitimate domestic demands can any part be released for export. The surplus will not meet the entire foreign demand, which exceeds any possible increase in production. Therefore, it will have to be apportioned among our allies and the neutrals in accordance with the urgency of their needs.

There Is a Good Reason

Statistics show that Yolo County's crop production alone averages $1400 in food stuffs for every person in the county. In many instances the county increased its production of food stuffs more than 100%.

In the foregoing we find a reason why our deposits have increased more than $500,000 in 9 months.

F Company En Route to Camp Kearney, Linda Vista; May Be Changed to Machine Gunners

True to schedule, Woodland's "own company," F Company of the Second Regiment, broke camp at Fort Mason early today for Camp Kearney, Linda Vista. They took the 7:30 ferry from San Francisco to Richmond, and there boarded the Santa Fe for San Diego.

With the Woodland boys were Companies E, G and H of the Second Regiment. The entrainment included 230 men and 03 officers in charge of Major H. H. Brown.

The heavy camp equipment of the soldiers was all loaded last night, so they had to sleep in their "puppy tents," which are carried for emergency use.

Before leaving Fort Mason Captain Leslie Caldwell and Lieutenant Rodney Hill made the declaration to a "Democrat" reporter that the boys of F Company were the best behaved and best drilled of the entire Second Regiment. The local soldiers have received many compliments from visiting officers and civilians for their splendid military bearing.

It is expected that one of the companies in the Second Regiment will be made into a machine gun company. Every one of the four units leaving for San Diego this morning is anxious to man the heavy guns that are expected to "rock the buttons" of the kaiser.

PATRIOTS AND FRIENDS SEE MEN START FOR CAMP

Yolo Has Now Sent Forty-Three of Its Sons to Train for Our National Army

THE actualities of war were brought home very directly to several hundreds of Yolo county citizens yesterday morning when they assembled at the Southern Pacific depot to see 43 of her stalwart sons entrain for the military camp at Fort Lewis.

It was a trying time for mothers, for sisters, for fathers and, may it be said, for the soldier boys themselves. Tears mingled with cheers, but under all the tears shed by mother or sister was the pride that the son or brother had been found to be worthy of fighting for his country.

The boys met at 9 o'clock at the head-quarters of the local board where the roll was called and not an absentee was noted. They were then given into the charge of C. E. Slater, formerly of the university farm at Davis, an ex-football player of note and looking every inch a soldier. He outlined the plans he and the local board had adopted for the trip and said he was sure every member of the company would be an honor to the county they were to represent.

THROUGH AT DEPARTURE

The company was then marched to the Southern Pacific depot, where a great crowd awaited their arrival. Good-byes were said again and again; hearty hand-clasps were given whether there was a personal acquaintanceship or not, the bond of sympathy sweeping aside all thought of the usual social etiquette.

As train time approached, acting Captain Slater, divided his company into squads, placing as corporals over them, Ben H. Stephens of Madison, B. O. Shedd of Grafton, Ray Taber of Capay, L. H. Stites of Winters and S. H. Mathews of Grafton. C. D. Thomas of Davis was appointed assistant captain. When the train pulled in each corporal gave the command which took his squad into the line as the entrainment was made. As the train pulled out there was a great cheer, a waving of flags and shouts of farewell. The Woodland high school came in a body and marched in review down the line of soldiers.

There was little of ceremony between the boys entrained, the members of the local board wisely giving most of the time for the saying of farewells. However, just before train time, C. D. Thomas, for the selected men, asked for attention and said he wished on behalf of the comrades he was going into service with, to express the thanks of all the boys to the local board for uniform kindness, courtesy, justice and friendship which had been shown. No man was in the ranks who did not feel that he had been treated exactly square. This sentiment was received with cheers by the assembly. Then came Veteran Sam Montgomery. He carried an army musket for three years during the civil war. His white locks contrasted strangely

Draft Slackers To Be Taken as Army Deserters

Hermiris Traveres and C. B. Robertson, who failed to appear for entrainment to American Lake last Monday, are being looked for by both the sheriff's office here and the federal officers. Sheriff Monroe has instructions to arrest both as U. S. army deserters. Robertson is thought to be in the county and an early arrest is expected. Traveres is thought to have gone east. Robertson is said to have declared that his religion forbade him to comply with the draft order.

"Liberty" Boys He Makes; Gets None Himself

The unalloyed bliss of being the head of a local exemption board is well illustrated in the case of E. E. Gaddis, Yolo's efficient and courteous draft chief. An actual count by a friend of Gaddis' shows that he has had but two days' vacation this summer and that his stenographer, Miss Irene Hildebrandt, nearly all of whose time has been devoted to exemption work during the last two months at least, has had but a week.

Gaddis is something of a fisherman, but every trip he has planned since taking hold of the draft work has had to be canceled. He planned one for the coming week-end, but today's draft order caused this to be blue-penciled. And the bait had already been bought!

Link Letter Plan Proposed for Yolo

Clearing House for News From Men In Service Is Suggested

Many people are familiar with the composite, annotated, or link letters, whatever they may be called, being prepared by Paul Rieger of San Francisco. They are simply extracts from the letters sent by the California boys in training at Allentown Pennsylvania. Take Same Train as Second; No Married Men Named In Today's List

Fifty-six men, from whom forty-three will be finally selected, were named today by the Yolo exemption board to comprise the third draft increment. Definite orders also reached here this morning, specifying that the next Yolo increment shall leave Woodland on Monday, October 8. TRANSFERRED TO ELECTRIC WORK

HOWARD LAWSON TAKEN FROM BUNKERS AND GIVEN POST HE ORIGINALLY WANTED

The parents of Howard Lawson, Woodland boy who is at present aboard the battleship Oregon, have received word from their son that he has been transferred from the position of fireman to the electrical department of the service, the branch he originally enlisted for. Following is the letter:

Dear folks:—Well here I am in my new home. It sure is fine and all the more so because it came so unexpectedly.

This morning I went down in the fire-rooms to turn to as usual. In about ten minutes a messenger came down from the log-room and said that I was wanted there. I went up and reported to the Chief Engineer. He asked me if I still wanted to go into the electrical branch and I said, "I sure do, sir." He then told me to report to the chief electrician and here I am. I still hold the rate of fireman 2nd class but my work is all electrical. I am helper to a rated man who has charge of all six search-lights, the signal lights, and running lights. That means that I will have all outdoor work for they are all high up on the masts. We start working on the search-lights tomorrow morning so that they will be in good shape for the coming target practice. I know that I will like it fine and I feel like a new man.

As I am changed to the starboard watch, I might possibly be home this Saturday, but do not know for sure yet. We are over here at Sausalito now but we are going to get under way in the morning. No one knows where we are going but it will probably be back to the city.

DESCRIBES NEW CAMP OF F CO.'S IN SOUTH

Earl Smith, Printer, Bugler, Says "Class" Predominates At Linda Vista Camp

TALKS LIKE AN ARCHITECT A Detailed Description Shows Local Men Housed In Comfort And Great Convenience

Earl B. Smith, bugler with F Company at Linda Vista, and a former member of the "Democrat" printing force, wrote to his mother, Mrs. Carrie Smith, telling her of the arrival of the Woodland men at their southern camp and of the arrangements of their new home. Smith says the boys of F Company are enamored with the appointments of Camp Kearney.

CALLS CAMP "CLASS."

"Talk about class," Smith writes, "we surely have it here. First, we have a gas range to cook on. It is about six feet long and four feet wide, with two large ovens, and two large roasters and some new pans to cook in.

"And that's not all of our twentieth-century equipment. There is a large, roomy storeroom for our provisions, a pantry with mixing boards, and shelves for all our canned goods. Two sinks with twelve feet of drain board, and plenty of hot and cold water makes it easy for the dishwasher.

"In order to Hooverize to the best advantage we use a refrigerator, which is six feet high, seven feet long, and three feet wide. It has three compartments with space enough for two hundred pounds of ice."

ELECTRIC LIGHTS, TOO.

The company mess hall, the letter continues, is lighted by electricity and seats 200 men. The kitchen also has electric lights.

The tents occupied by the Woodland boys have floors of board two feet above the ground and are boarded on the sides. Each tent is lighted by electricity.

Smith writes that all trains on the Santa Fe were sidetracked to give clearance to their special. Two compound engines pulled it from Bakersfield southward.

YOLO TO OPEN ITS LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE ON MONDAY

Meeting of County Committee Is Called in Consideration Of Formulating of Plans

COUNTY SHARE UNFIXED

Prosperous Conditions Should Make It Possible to Take Another $600,000 Worth

Mr. C. W. Bush, chairman of the Yolo county Liberty Loan committee has called a meeting of his committee for the sale of the quota of bonds in this county of the "Second Liberty Loan."

The campaign is for the sale in the nation of three billion dollars of these bonds and the time of sale is set for October 1 to 27, inclusive. The bonds are to bear four percent and those who invested in the first sale, bearing three and one-half percent, will have the privilege of exchanging them for the later issue, if they so desire. The second issue of bonds are subject to sur-tax, but are not assessable in any other way.

PROPORTION NOT KNOWN

Just what proportion of the bonds will be required from this county has not been announced. In the first issue the county took over $600,000 worth. There are a number of reasons why that limit could easily be reached again. We have just harvested the biggest and most valuable crop in the history of the county, we have seen high prices fixed by the existing war, for the payment of which the bonds are being issued; we know that not less than half a billion dollars will be spent in this state for products, manufacturers and labor, directly traceable to the war; more than all that we now have a great many of our young men under arms and it is for their equipment and protection that this vast sum of money is being raised by Uncle Sam.

Secretary of the treasury, McAdoo has made the following announcement to this latest loan.

Amount—$3,000,000,000 or more. The excess not to exceed one-half of the amount of the over subscription. Term of bond—Maturity 25 years. Redeemable at the option of the secretary of the treasury in ten years. Denominations—$50 and multiple of $50.

Interest rate—Four per cent payable semi-annually September 15 and May 15.

Term of payment for bonds—Two per cent on application; 18 per cent November 16; 40 per cent December 15, and 40 per cent January 15, 1918.

The privilege of converting bonds of this issue into bonds of any succeeding issue bearing a higher interest rate than 4 per cent is extended.

F Company En Route to Camp Kearney, Linda Vista; May Be Changed to Machine Gunners

True to schedule, Woodland's "own company," F Company of the Second Regiment, broke camp at Fort Mason early today for Camp Kearney, Linda Vista. They took the 7:30 ferry from San Francisco to Richmond, and there boarded the Santa Fe for San Diego. With the Woodland boys were Companies E, G and H of the Second Regiment. The entrainment included 290 men and 68 officers in charge of Major H. H. Brown. The heavy camp equipment of the soldiers was all loaded last night, so they had to sleep in their "puppy tents," which are carried for emergency use.

Before leaving Fort Mason Captain Leslie Caldwell and Lieutenant Rodney Hill made the declaration to a "Democrat" reporter that the boys of F Company were the best behaved and best drilled of the entire Second Regiment. The local soldiers have received many compliments from visiting officers and civilians for their splendid military bearing. It is expected that one of the companies in the Second Regiment will be made into a machine gun company. Every one of the four units leaving for San Diego this morning is anxious to man the heavy guns that are expected to "rock the buttons" of the kaiser.

PATRIOTS AND FRIENDS SEE MEN START FOR CAMP

Yolo Has Now Sent Forty-Three of Its Sons to Train for Our National Army

THE actualities of war were brought home very directly to several hundreds of Yolo county citizens yesterday morning when they assembled at the Southern Pacific depot to see 43 of her stalwart sons entrain for the military camp at Fort Lewis. It was a trying time for mothers, for sisters, for fathers and, may it be said, for the soldier boys themselves. Tears mingled with cheers, but under all the tears shed by mother or sister was the pride that the son or brother had been found to be worthy of fighting for his country. The boys met at 9 o'clock at the head-quarters of the local board where the roll was called and not an absentee was noted. They were then given into the charge of C. E. Slater, formerly of the university farm at Davis, an ex-football player of note and looking every inch a soldier. He outlined the plans he and the local board had adopted for the trip and said he was sure every member of the company would be an honor to the county they were to represent.

THROUGH AT DEPARTURE

The company was then marched to the Southern Pacific depot, where a great crowd awaited their arrival. Good-byes were said again and again; hearty hand-clasps were given whether there was a personal acquaintanceship or not, the bond of sympathy sweeping aside all thought of the usual social etiquette. As train time approached, acting Captain Slater, divided his company into squads, placing as corporals over them, Ben H. Stephens of Madison, B. O. Shedd of Grafton, Ray Taber of Capay, L. H. Stites of Winters and S. H. Mathews of Grafton. C. D. Thomas of Davis was appointed assistant captain. When the train pulled in each corporal gave the command which took his squad into the line as the entrainment was made. As the train pulled out there was a great cheer, a waving of flags and shouts of farewell. The Woodland high school came in a body and marched in review down the line of soldiers. There was little of ceremony before the boys entrained, the members of the local board wisely giving most of the time for the saying of farewells. However, just before train time, C. D. Thomas, for the selected men, asked for attention and said he wished on behalf of the comrades he was going into service with, to express the thanks of all the boys to the local board for uniform kindness, courtesy, justice and friendship which had been shown. No man was in the ranks who did not feel that he had been treated exactly square. This sentiment was received with cheers by the assembly. Then came Veteran Sam Montgomery. He carried an army musket for three years during the civil war. His white locks contrasted strangely with the boys, he was addressing but the fire of eternal youth seemed to be lit afresh as he stood there. "Boys," he said, "you will receive lots of advice, you will learn many things and you will come home proud of having had this opportunity to serve your country. My advice is to obey every order given you, leave whiskey alone, be good Americans and then you will be proud of yourselves as we are proud of you now."

APPEAL FOR COMFORTS

Rev. Philip G. Snow also spoke to the boys in a way which won their approval. He said his duties were religious but he knew that a good pipe, a good cigar or a pack of cigarettes were not amiss in the hands of any man in camp. He addressed himself to the audience and called on them to see that these camp comforts were provided for every man in the company who used the weed that soothed. And we commend the doctor's thought. It is not bad religion at that. With the 43 men who left yesterday this county has supplied 48 of the 107 men called for. The local exemption board is now at work preparing for the third increment, although when it is to be called has not yet been announced.

An enthusiastic meeting was held in Fiske hall yesterday at which 30 women gave their attendance. Mrs. Fred Meier and Mrs. P. N. Ashley of this city were present to lend any aid necessary in the organization. It was reported that 133 members had already signed the roll.

The officers of this new branch are Mrs. A. J. Chaney, chairman; Mrs. Roy Wyatt, vice president; C. F. George, treasurer; Mrs. S. L. Murray, secretary. These officers with Sam Schwab will compose the executive committee.

The branch will take up three lines of work, knitting, sewing and surgical dressing. Splendid co-operation is assured and the Esparto branch bids to become one of the most effective in the county.

Third Increment Leaving Here For Camp Lewis Same Size as Second

TO BE SELECTED FROM 56

Take Same Train as Second; No Married Men Named In Today's List

Fifty-six men, from whom forty-three will be finally selected, were named today by the Yolo exemption board to comprise the third draft increment. Definite orders also reached here this morning, specifying that the next Yolo increment shall leave Woodland on Monday, October 8. As was the case with the second increment, the boys will entrain on the Southern Pacific train at 10:37 a. m. on the day named, and will assemble for roll call in Woodland on the previous day.

There are no married men included in the latest list. As the fourth increment, which will leave Woodland about October 15, will comprise but 16 men, the exemption board will have ample names from which to fill that increment without having to sound another call for registrants.

TRANSFERRED TO ELECTRIC WORK

HOWARD LAWSON TAKEN FROM BUNKERS AND GIVEN POST HE ORIGINALLY WANTED

The parents of Howard Lawson, Woodland boy who is at present aboard the battleship Oregon, have received word from their son that he has been transferred from the position of fireman to the electrical department of the service, the branch he originally enlisted for. Following is the letter:

Dear folks:—Well here I am in my new home. It sure is fine and all the more so because it came so unexpectedly.

This morning I went down in the fire-rooms to turn to as usual. In about ten minutes a messenger came down from the log-room and said that I was wanted there. I went up and reported to the Chief Engineer. He asked me if I still wanted to go into the electrical branch and I said, "I sure do, sir."

He then told me to report to the chief electrician and here I am. I still hold the rate of fireman 2nd class but my work is all electrical. I am helper to a rated man who has charge of all six search-lights, the signal lights, and running lights. That means that I will have all outdoor work for they are all high up on the masts. We start working on the search-lights tomorrow morning so that they will be in good shape for the coming target practice. I know that I will like it fine and I feel like a new man.

As I am changed to the starboard watch, I might possibly be home this Saturday, but do not know for sure yet. We are over here at Sausalito now but we are going to get under way in the morning. No one knows where we are going but it will probably be back to the city.

HOWARD.

DESCRIBES NEW CAMP OF F CO.'S IN SOUTH

Earl Smith, Printer, Bugler, Says "Class" Predominates At Linda Vista Camp

TALKS LIKE AN ARCHITECT

A Detailed Description Shows Local Men Housed In Comfort And Great Convenience

Earl B. Smith, bugler with F Company, at Linda Vista, and a former member of the "Democrat" printing force, wrote to his mother, Mrs. Carrie Smith, telling her of the arrival of the Woodland men at their southern camp and of the arrangements of their new home. Smith says the boys of F Company are enamored with the appointments of Camp Kearney.

CALLS CAMP "CLASS."

"Talk about class," Smith writes, "we surely have it here. First, we have a gas range to cook on. It is about six feet long and four feet wide, with two large ovens, and two large roasters and some new pans to cook in.

"And that's not all of our twentieth-century equipment. There is a large, roomy storeroom for our provisions, a pantry with mixing boards, and shelves for all our canned goods. Two sinks with twelve feet of drain board, and plenty of hot and cold water makes it easy for the dishwasher.

"In order to Hooverize to the best advantage we use a refrigerator, which is six feet high, seven feet long, and three feet wide. It has three compartments with space enough for two hundred pounds of ice."

ELECTRIC LIGHTS, TOO.

The company mess hall, the letter continues, is lighted by electricity and seats 200 men. The kitchen also has electric lights.

The tents occupied by the Woodland boys have floors of board two feet above the ground and are boarded on the sides. Each tent is lighted by electricity.

Smith writes that all trains on the Santa Fe were sidetracked to give clearance to their special. Two compound engines pulled it from Bakersfield southward.

YOLO TO OPEN ITS LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE ON MONDAY

Meeting of County Committee Is Called in Consideration Of Formulating of Plans

COUNTY SHARE UNFIXED

Prosperous Conditions Should Make It Possible to Take Another $600,000 Worth

Mr. C. W. Bush, chairman of the Yolo county Liberty Loan committee has called a meeting of his committee for the sale of the quota of bonds in this county of the "Second Liberty Loan."

The campaign is for the sale in the nation of three billion dollars of these bonds and the time of sale is set for October 1 to 27, inclusive. The bonds are to bear four percent and those who invested in the first sale, bearing three and one-half percent, will have the privilege of exchanging them for the later issue, if they so desire. The second issue of bonds are subject to sur-tax, but are not assessable in any other way.

PROPORTION NOT KNOWN

Just what proportion of the bonds will be required from this county has not been announced. In the first issue the county took over $600,000 worth. There are a number of reasons why that limit could easily be reached again. We have just harvested the biggest and most valuable crop in the history of the county, we have seen high prices fixed by the existing war, for the payment of which the bonds are being issued; we know that not less than half a billion dollars will be spent in this state for products, manufacturers and labor, directly traceable to the war; more than all that we now have a great many of our young men under arms and it is for their equipment and protection that this vast sum of money is being raised by Uncle Sam.

Secretary of the treasury, McAdoo has made the following announcement to this latest loan.

Amount—$3,000,000,000 or more. The excess not to exceed one-half of the amount of the over subscription. Term of bond—Maturity 25 years. Redeemable at the option of the secretary of the treasury in ten years. Denominations—$50 and multiple of $50.

Interest rate—Four per cent payable semi-annually September 15 and May 15.

Term of payment for bonds—Two per cent on application; 18 per cent November 16; 40 per cent December 15, and 40 per cent January 15, 1918.

The privilege of converting bonds of this issue into bonds of any succeeding issue bearing a higher interest rate than 4 per cent is extended.

CAMPAIGN TO SELL YOLO'S SHARE OF LIBERTY BONDS WILL SOON BE UNDER WAY

County Committee Hard at Work Preparing Plans for Drive Which Will Reach to All Corners of District; Hope to See Subscriptions to First Issue Equalled or Surpassed

Yolo county is called on once again to do her share in the selling campaign which is to be waged over the nation for the next 27 days. In that time it is expected that three to five billion dollars of 4 percent bonds will be sold to the investor and the patriotic citizens of the land. In this campaign Yolo county must do her part.

The local committee, the same having charge of the sale of the first quota of bonds, met at the Bank of Yolo yesterday to take preliminary steps to begin the drive for the sale. Those plans will be unfolded from day to day. Yolo subscribed for $662,000 worth of the original liberty bonds and it is confidently expected that she will do better this time. Many more times over, has that amount come back to the people of the county during the present harvest from the increased prices of farm products consequent on the war, and as a matter of business it has been a good thing. More than all that, however, is the patriotic motive which must be the first consideration.

MAY EXCHANGE FIRST ISSUE

The present bonds bear 4 percent interest and those who bought the first issue bearing 3½ percent will have the privilege if they so desire, of exchanging for the higher interest bearing bonds.

The committee plans to circularize the county at once and also will send speakers to all the county assemblies that they hear of, to explain just how to subscribe and what is expected of the people. If there is to be a meeting of any kind in any section, where any considerable number of people are to assemble, it is the request of the committee that such fact be sent by letter to Mr. C. W. Bush of this city, who will arrange to have some one or more men attend to occupy only a few minutes relative to the bonds.

The Mail expects to give considerable space during the next three weeks to this bond issue and not to become tiresome at the start, it will give the official statement issued by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, and content itself with that for this issue.

TO PAY WAR COSTS

"For the purpose of equipping with arms clothing and food our gallant soldiers who have been called to the field, maintaining our navy and our valiant tars upon the high seas; providing the necessary means to pay the wages of our soldiers and sailors, and, if the bill now pending in the congress passes, the monthly allowance for the support of their dependent families and to supply them with life insurance; constructing a great fleet of merchant ships to maintain the line of communication with our brave troops in France, and to keep our commerce afloat upon the high seas in defiance of the German Kaiser and his submarines; creating a great fleet of aeroplanes, which will give complete supremacy in the air to the United States and the brave nations fighting with us against the German military menace; and for other necessary war purposes and Congress of the United States has authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to sell to the American people bonds of the United States bearing four percent interest, with valuable tax exemptions, and convertible under certain conditions into other issues of United States bonds that may be authorized by the Congress. The official circular of the treasury department gives full details.

IS SAFEST INVESTMENT

"There is now offered to the American people a new issue of $3,000,000,000, of bonds to be known as the second Liberty Loan. They will be issued in such denominations and upon such terms that every patriotic citizen will have an opportunity to assist the government by lending his money upon the security of a United States Government bond. It is essential to the success of the war and to the support of our gallant troops that these loans shall not only be subscribed but over-subscribed. No one is asked to donate or give his money to the Government; but everyone is asked to lend his money to the Government. The loans will be repaid in full with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum. A Government bond is the safest investment in the world. It is as good as currency and yet better, because the Government bond bears interest and currency does not. No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash, and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the United States.

"People by thousands ask the Treasury constantly how they can help the Government in this war. Through the purchase of Liberty bonds every one can help. No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot actually fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the Government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers and sailors all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.

FOR OUR VITAL RIGHTS

"We fight, first of all, for America's vital rights, the right to the unmolested and unobstructed use of the high seas, so that the surplus products of our farms, our mines and our factories may be carried into the harbors of every friendly nation in the world. Our welfare and prosperity as a people depend upon our right of peaceful intercourse with all the nations of the earth. To abandon these rights by withdrawing our ships and commerce from the seas upon the order of a military despot in Europe would destroy prosperity and bring disaster and humiliation upon the American people. We fight to protect our citizens against assassination and murder upon the high seas while in the peaceful exercise of these rights demanded by international law and every instance and dictate of humanity.

"We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world. We fight also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful to live and to govern themselves according to the will of their own people. We fight of peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves and which not the sword nor the bayonet of a military despot but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world. To secure these ends I appeal to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free America and enjoys the blessings of her priceless institutions to join the league of patriots by purchasing a Liberty bond."

NOW WANTS TO BE RELEASED

Camp Lewis Soon to Be Trolley League Nest, Judging By Men Going

Bob White, popular here with Woodland baseball fans, "pulled a boot" in the matter of registering for the United States army draft and now he's trying to rectify matters. White thought he was within the age limit so he registered. Since then the official birth certificate records have disclosed that White was past thirty-one when he signed up. Conditions at home are such that White would like to correct the error and so he has taken steps to inform the exemption boards of his mistake.

White is slated to leave Woodland next Monday with the third increment. He will be here ready for service.

Bob will find many of his former Woodland baseball mates at Camp Lewis. Les Sheehan, one of the best hitting outfielders ever developed here, will leave Monday with the Sacramento increment. George McGinnis, former local shortstop, will go with the fourth increment. Bally Wingham, who pitched for Woodland, is already at the camp and Louis Guisto, the major leaguer who had his start from the Oroville Trolley League team, will depart Monday with the Napa increment.

WRITES OF LIFE LED BY LOCAL SOLDIERS

Chris. Reyn, Jr., of County's Second Increment, Tells What Boys Doing

PASS VACCINATION ORDEAL

Says Officers Looked Quick
When Told He Could Speak German

A letter from Chris Reyn Jr. to his mother, Mrs. Chris Reyn, gives some interesting sidelights of the experiences being undergone by Woodland men at Camp Lewis. Reyn left here with the second company of drafted soldiers who arrived at their northern camp in the early hours of last Wednesday.

NEW SOLDIERS GET

TO WORK AT ONCE.

Reyn says the newcomers from this county were put to work soon after they arrived, getting their barracks ready and absorbing the first rudiments of military training.

The second division of recruits had not taken their physical examination when Reyn wrote. He says that Ed Brendel, who left here with the first five, told him that the physical test was not so strict as he had expected it to be.

SAID HE KNEW GERMAN;

OFFICERS LOOK HIM OVER.

Reyn tells of one examination, however, that made an impression upon him. Along with the rest of the newcomers he took his turn at answering various questions for the information of the receiving officers.

"After asking me my occupation, age, who my nearest relative was, the questioners asked me if I knew more than one language. I told them I could speak German and they looked up at me quickly as if I were one of the kaiser's hired men. It shows how vigilant the war department is and must be since the recent disclosures of German influence in this country."

MEN TAKE TURNS

WAITING ON TABLE.

During the first few days of camp the new soldiers are taking turns waiting on table. Reyn says he has not been called on for this service yet, but that his friend, Clarence Weaver, has already had his chance.

The Yolo county men have already been given the regulation camp outfit, including a straw tick, two double blankets, a comb and brush, bar of soap, towel, and toothbrush. Their uniforms and army shoes have not come yet, but these are expected soon.

LOCAL MEN ALREADY

HAVE FELT NEEDLE.

Reyn's Company has been vaccinated. He does not mention anyone having become sick or indisposed through the plying of the needle. Reyn says that he and his mates of the second increment are in a different barrack from the five men who left here September 6. The weather has been only moderately cold. Rains are frequent, but the soil is gravelly and there is little mud.

High School Girls To Begin Soldier Knitting Tomorrow

Over 100 high school girls who have signed up to knit for the Red Cross will meet at the school Thursday afternoon to begin work. Two women members of the Red Cross fraternity here will be at the meeting to instruct those girls who are not yet "up" on the knitting art. Wool will be supplied by the local branch of the Red Cross. At each gathering of the school girls for this purpose this winter two of the older knitters will be assigned to "show them how."

Raymond Parker left New York Tuesday for San Francisco, having been called in the draft from that city. After visiting Washington, D. C., he will see the first two games of the world's series at Chicago.

Recruits Wanted From West Coast

Woodland Boy Now at Camp Greene In North Carolina Writes Home

Captain Curson of the Woodland Home Guards has received a letter from Bruce Frazee, who is now in Uncle Sam's service, being located at Camp Green, North Carolina. The letter is an appeal to the other young men to join the company with which he holds membership. He says:

"I am writing these few lines to you, hoping they will bear fruit. Company A, Oregon Engineers, is short about 100 men and our lieutenant has asked the men to write home and see if they could get some of our friends to enlist with this company, as they would like to have it made up of western men. If there are any who would like to enlist with this company, they can go to any recruiting office and enlist under the head of Company A, Oregon Engineers, 116th, regiment, W. C. Parrish, commanding.

"I have belonged to this company since the 11th of September and like it fine. A fine lot of men and officers we have and the officers handle the men well. They are certainly a jolly bunch. There is a Y. M. C. A. here where we spend our evenings, plenty of music and a free library, and moving pictures twice a week. Local talent comes out from Charlotte and entertains the men. Hoping you will make this public, I remain

"Yours truly,
"BRUCE FRAZEE,

Board Gives Names of Fifty
Who Ignored Call to Be Examined

Officers have been unable thus far to find C. B. Robertson, young Woodland man, and Hermiris Traveres, Broderick youth, who failed to report for selection on the second Yolo county draft increment. Robertson's excuse that he is religiously opposed to the war is not accepted by the local exemption board in good faith. Why Traveres did not appear has not been explained. Both men are now classed as deserters.

There are fifty men listed on the exemption board's pink sheets for arrest by the federal officers. All of these men failed to appear for physical examination. The exemption board considers that the majority of them are aliens and of the "floating population." It is likely, think the local exempters, that these foreigners had moved away since the registration date and so did not receive their official notices to come before the doctors.

The fifty men whose failure to appear before the board on schedule time has not been explained, are listed as follows:

Publicity and Solicitation Campaign to Every Part of County—Arrange to Work Through Farm Bureau

FIX DATE FOR SPEAKING TOURS TO ALL TOWNS

Patriotic Opportunity and Security of Loan Should Bring Creditable Investments From Big and Small Moneyed
Men Alike in Yolo—Banks All Back of Big Issue

FOR the next twenty-four days every man, woman and child of the nation is going to hear a great deal about the second liberty loan. For during those days must we, as a nation, subscribe for at least three billion dollars worth of these bonds.

And there is a reason why. Uncle Sam has come into our homes and taken more than a million of our boys into his service to fight for the rights of this nation and for the rights of man-kind. Those boys have to be equipped, fed and clothed, beside being made as comfortable as possible during the trying times ahead of them. To do that will require all this money which must be raised.

The local committee, of which C. W. Bush is chairman, is about ready to begin its campaign of publicity and solicitation in this county. To assist in that work it has been thought advisable to have sub-committees in each district, men who are in daily contact with those of their neighborhood.

DISTRICT MANAGERS APPOINTED

With that thought in mind the following have been appointed; Madison, W. E. Tadlock and Geo. Bourland; Clarksburg, S. S. Hinsdale, Jesse Cave and George Colby; West Sacramento, Wm. Clingensmith and Mr. Hallett; Zamora, C. S. Blodgett and one other to be appointed later; Yolo, B. Borach and J. E. Scarlett; Guinda, L. P. Everett and M. H. Stitt; Esparto, Sam Schwab and M. O. Wyatt; Tancred, John Winter; Dunnigan, S. W. Barker and one other to be appointed later; Rumsey, S. Gladney. These men are requested to take a deep personal interest in the work near at hand and to hold themselves in readiness to assist the main committee at any time when it may be in the neighborhood.

Advantage is to be taken of the various farm unit meetings in the county during the month. Representatives will be sent to all these meetings and if possible some sort of entertainment will be provided outside the usual routine work of the units. Thus far meetings have been called at Winters, October 8; Madison, October 9; Clarksburg, October 11; West Sacramento, October 12; Dunnigan, October 16; Zamora, October 18; Yolo, October 24; Willow Oak Park, October 25. Meetings at Guinda and Esparto will be sandwiched in during the month on acceptable dates to the community.

PELTIER MAY TALK HERE

On Friday, which is "old settlers" day as well as Sacramento day at the county fair, Mr. George W. Peltier of Sacramento is expected to speak to the large crowd for a short time. Mr. Peltier is giving practically all his time to this work, under authority of the secretary of the treasury at Washington. He is an interesting speaker and all should make it a point to hear him.

May we just say a few words directly about the bonds. They will bear four percent interest, being backed with the full strength and all the wealth of the nation. A great deal of the money subscribed in this county will come directly back to the pockets of the farmer for the things which he has raised this year. The history of the bonds sold in August is that while this county subscribed for a little less than $700,000 worth, there has come back ten times more than that in the surplus selling price of farm products over the usual price, and as a consequence, there is practically 25 percent more money in the savings banks than when the first bond issue was floated.

BANKS BACK OF ISSUE

And speaking of savings banks, we do not believe there is a banker in the county who will not encourage a depositor to buy these second series of liberty bonds, even though he takes his deposit out of the bank to make the payment. He knows that the withdrawal will be only temporary and that your business will go back to the bank in increased volume. Remember these bonds bear 4 percent interest, just the amount you are getting for your deposit. That rate is fixed and is as unchangeable as the law of the Medes and the Persians, and at the same time you have the added advantage that the bonds will very likely go above par when the war is over.

Then the patriotic feature is worth your consideration. We must back the government in all reasonable demands, and this is reasonable. Over in Germany they began floating their seventh loan at the same time we began our second. We are told by the newspapers paragraphs that they are going to beat us out on their subscriptions. They are bringing in their gold jewelry, their silver plate, their watches and their precious stones and turning them in to war bonds. When we are called to go that length, then may there slight excuse to complain, but now, with the opportunity to make a good investment and without sacrificing any comfort, we should oversubscribe the bonds many fold.

Several thousand dollars of the bonds were sold yesterday at the Woodland banks.

Gregory Writes Hyman Of Visit to England's Greatest Universities

W. M. Hyman is in receipt of a brief communication from one of his former star athletes and "regular students," Meredith Gregory, in which the Woodland boy states he visited the two great universities of England. This is taken to mean Oxford and Cambridge, Gregory gives only a general outline of his experiences in Europe, for American soldiers across the water or on their way are forbidden to mention names of places. Gregory arrived "at an English port" late in August.

Assignments Given Local Men At Camp Lewis Told In Letter; Simpson May Be Sent South

Something of the assignment made of Yolo county's drafted soldiers is told in a letter received from Emmett Cooper by his mother, Mrs. J. T. Cooper of Yolo.

Cooper writes that of the first five men who went north only three are now together, including Ed Brendel, Galvena Pena, and Cooper himself. Norman Simpson is in line for a trip to Florida, according to present instructions. He was first transferred to headquarters' company and went from there to the ammunition train attached to the artillery branch of the service, and finally to a truck unit which will probably be sent to Florida before many weeks. Dick Stephens is in a machine gun company of the same regiment as his three mates.

"The second contingent from Yolo county," writes Cooper, "are part of the so-called depot brigade. These divisions, after some preliminary training, and when augmented by soldiers yet to come in, will be transferred to existing regimental organizations to bring these up to full strength. This amounts in regular infantry companies to 250 men. There are now 150 men in our own company. It is made up mostly of recruits from San Joaquin county."

Cooper has been made an acting corporal. He adds that he and his two companies of the first contingent have just had their initial experience in guard duty. They have just been issued their blouses and overcoats and are preparing to ship their civilian clothes home.

Broderick Honors Boys Who Are to Leave On Monday

All of Broderick gathered at the town hall Thursday night to do honor to its third contribution to Uncle Sam's new army, the men who are to leave Woodland next Monday morning for American Lake. Following an address by A. L. Chase, superintendent of the Washington schools, there was a musical program. The evening closed with a dance.

These are the men who were honored by their townspeople:

William Williams, Albert Krann, W. J. Leinberger, William Hesson, H. T. Souza Jr., J. Rodriguez, W. E. Gallop, Robert White, Rudolph Binse, Edward Van Olinda, William Noonan and D. DeLanini.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Two Yolo Men Today

The Federal Grand Jury at Sacramento today returned indictments against David Johnston of Calksburg, who failed to register for the army draft; and again Lee Ling of Broderick, who is accused of smuggling opium into this country.

Sergeant Weldon Black of F Company, who spent several months here this summer recruiting for his company, is recovering at Linda Vista from a bullet wound in his right leg. Black was in guard inspection and after presenting his rifle he failed to neutralize the charge in the gun. The bullet entered two inches below the right knee and then struck the instep. The injury is not dangerous.

Reception For Winters Drafted Men Tonight

Winters people are to tender a reception tonight to the men from that section who are due to leave here next Monday with the third drafted increment. At the meeting Liberty Bond speakers from Woodland will be given the floor to tell of the importance of subscribing liberally for the second series of Liberty Loans.

LIBERTY LOAN IN PREACHED BY THREE SPEAKERS

County Fair Audience Is Told Of Patriotic Duty in Buying Credit to Help Press War

PELTIER MAIN TALKER

Thos Hayden and Fred Shingle Of San Francisco Two Other Orators Urging Purchase

The second liberty loan received its first boost in this community yesterday when George W. Peltier of Sacramento, chairman of the state auxiliary committee, Mr. Thos. E. Hayden of San Francisco and Mr. Fred Shingle, representing the 12th federal reserve district, came to this city at the invitation of the local committee, and spoke before a large audience at Armory Hall during the afternoon session of the county fair.

The gentlemen were given close attention during their addresses and made a favorable impression, taking the applause as an indication. Mr. Peltier, the first speaker, outlined the plans of the government and made a patriotic appeal for united support in the rapid subscribing of the second bond issue.

TOUCHES PATRIOTIC CHORD

Mr. Hayden followed and made a splendid speech. He gave unanswerable arguments why the United States was not only justified, but compelled to enter the war. He said we were sending our sons into the battle fronts and it was our bounden duty to back them up with our money. The only way to supply that money is through the avenues opened by the government as outlined by the issuance of bonds. He clearly pointed out that while we were performing the patriotic duty of standing back of the government, we were at the same time making a splendid investment; one as safe as the very gold itself we were using in purchasing the bonds. He also stated, and it is a fact, that the bankers of the county stand ready to finance the purchase of these bonds in any reasonable amount by any one, and permit the payments to be made in installments, if that should be the desire of the purchaser.

TO START SOLICITATION

Neither of the speakers made a direct appeal for the sale of bonds at the meeting, contenting themselves with generalizing. They left the work of personal solicitation to the members of the local committee. This committee urgently requests every resident of the county to quickly make up his mind to purchase as many of the bonds as possible and get in touch with his banker, who will give all details of purchase.

READY TO SEND 3rd EMBRYOS TO CAMP

Fifty-eight to Gather Sunday For Roll Calling and Selection

43 TO LEAVE HERE MONDAY

Next Entrainment Includes Two Seaton Brothers, Both From Scotland

On the eve of the roll call for the third increment of drafted men from Yolo county, Chairman E. E. Gaddis of the local exemption board announced that every arrangement is completed for sending away the liberty boys according to instructions from the War Department. Fifty-eight men will assemble in the Superior Court room Sunday morning at 10 o'clock to answer the first roll call. Of this number forty-three will be chosen to entrain from the Woodland Southern Pacific depot on Monday morning at 10:37 o'clock for Camp Lewis, Washington.

The list given out today by Chairman Gaddis includes the same names as were published in these columns last September 27, excepting that three more young men have been added and Charles Leslie Howard's name has been stricken off the list because of his having been excused by the District Board. James Seaton of Dunnigan, secured permission to leave Monday with his brother, Robert Seaton. Both of the Seaton's are natives of Scotland. James has taken out his naturalization papers, but Robert is yet an alien. He waived the right to be excused from service, however, telling the board that he is eager to get to the front. The complete revised list appears on page 4 of this issue.

RED CROSS IN CHARGE

Banquet Precedes Meeting in Open Air Attended by Many Hundreds of Home Folks

Winters knows how.
That tersely expresses the spirit of the western Yolo people when they undertake anything. Last night it was a farewell gathering for the boys of that section who have been chosen to carry the honor of the county into the battle line for democracy. The meeting was the thought of the Red Cross workers of Winters, and led by Mrs. T. A.
Sparks and Mrs. L. Baker, with a splendid assistance of other members, it was one of the most successful demonstrations ever held in the county.

The western town was literally crowded with people. One wondered where they all came from. There was a spontaneity of sentiment which must have impressed the soldier boys with the thought that the folks at home hold them in the most loving esteem.

GUESTS AT BANQUET
Prior to the public meeting, which was held in the open, there was a supper given to the boys at the Masonic Hall. Each one was privileged to invite his very dearest girl friend, so despite the reason for the demonstration, it was a jolly little prelude to the mass meeting later on.

After the supper the boys, accompanied by the young ladies and preceded by a squad of young boys bearing an immense flag, and the ladies who served the supper, marched from the hall to the main street and counter-marched to the speakers' stand, from which, during the early evening, the Winters band had been giving a concert of patriotic tunes.
There Supervisor W. O. Russell assumed command and in an introductory speech paid tribute to the young men and also presented each one with a well filled comfort bag, made by the women of Winters.

WORDS OF FAREWELL
He introduced Rev. Ford, who sang "My Own United States," in splendid voice. The editor of the Mail was then introduced to give the parting words to the boys on behalf of the citizens of Winters and of Yolo county. Mr. C. W. Bush spoke briefly of the second liberty bond issue. J. I. McConnell did not speak from the platform but took the opportunity to do a good bit of work in connection with the Red Cross work of the section at Winters representing the Yolo County Chapter.

The meeting was accounted a success and the boys will leave home today assured that they will be backed by the sympathy, the money and the best wishes of a host of admiring friends.

In response to the county's roll call another carload of liberty boys left Woodland this morning for the army camp at American Lake, Washington. Captained by H. W. The boys are due to arrive at Camp Lewis early Wednesday morning.

CAPTAIN SPINDLER HAS FIVE ASSISTANTS

Captain Spindler named Albert John Reed of Davis his chief assistant. The corporals, all of whom have charge of a squad of men and will be responsible to Captain Spindler for the conduct of their charges during the trip, are Antone Gullings of Davis, Walter Gallup of Bryte, Kenneth Guthrie of Winters, Raymond E. Hughes of Woodland and Herbert Keith of Grafton.

William Smith of Grafton, appeared for roll call Sunday and was selected to entrain this morning. He went to Sacramento last night, however, and his automobile became stuck in the sand below Elkhorn this morning. He was delayed reaching here. He surrendered himself at the station only a few seconds before the train started. His place, however, had already been assigned to Castle Smith of Brooks, who had told the board Sunday that he was prepared to leave. The Grafton man will depart with the next increment.

Indication of How Smoothly Our New National Army Is Being Raised

The mobilization of the new army of nearly three hundred thousand is being accomplished as smoothly and as successfully as in those countries which have had the largest experience in the military business and have a well organized and disciplined force for the work.

While the heads of our War Department had every confidence in the patriotism of the people and believed that they could be brought into line, some fear was expressed that being a little familiar with the details of mobilization and having our men scattered over such a wide territory, it would be difficult to carry through the mobilization with complete success. There was some apprehension that German and other hostile interests would seek to put obstacles in the way to cause confusion.

German influence and a small element of disloyal Americans did try to embarrass the administration and delay the work, nevertheless mobilization is not only going on successfully, but it is demonstrating a great growth in patriotic sentiment in the spirit of the people.

When the war was first declared, it came as a surprise to many, who had not time enough to fully understand it and its causes and how much there was at stake in it for this country. They know better now. All doubts have been cleared away. We knew who are to be trusted. The mobilization is bringing to light all those who are lukewarm. It has measurably strengthened and united the people; and the United States is now stronger than it has ever been.

Nowhere was this more clearly and enthusiastically demonstrated than in California. Those who thought this county in the State sent its speed and more unanimous enthusiasm and pride over represent the country and f

Next Increment to Go According to Order Number Rule

Temporary exemptions granted by the Yolo Exemption Board to young men engaged in urgent farming or business operations will have to be overlooked in the selecting of this county's final draft increment of twenty-three men. Instructions reached here today from Adjutant General Borree to the effect that the exemption board will not be allowed to select substitutes for men whose order numbers qualify them for the next entrainment, unless the men have been temporarily excused by the District Exemption Board.

Gaddis also announced this afternoon that additional notices would probably be sent to all young men who have not previously heeded their notices. As many of these men as can be located will probably be chosen to go with the next Yolo increment.

Three Woodland men have already been to France and back with the United States navy, it was learned today. The trio are Adin Whitehead, Frank Elston, and John Elder. They are on the Huntington. The Huntington is back in New York after a quick round-trip to the French coast. Woodland relatives had not heard from the boys recently until a telegram came from Whitehead saying he had "arrived safely" in New York.

Nothing was said of where he had been. Now comes word that the boys' ship has "been there and back" and is awaiting the answer to "Where do we go from here?"

Close to thirty Broderick youths are aboard the Huntington.

Address of Local Men
At Linda Vista

Every man in Woodland's crack military company, at Linda Vista, formerly known as F Company, has subscribed to the Liberty Loan for a total of $5900, according to word received today from Lieutenant Grant Bruton at Linda Vista.

"I am proud to say," writes Bruton, to the "Democrat," "that within an hour after the bonds became available every man of what used to be F Company of the Second California Infantry had subscribed to fifty dollars' worth or more of the loan that is to help Uncle Sam's men put an end to this world war. In counting up the individual sums I found our subscription to be just $5900.

"It is certainly gratifying," continues Bruton, "to be allowed to serve with a company of men with a spirit that prompts them to save from their small salaries enough money to make a considerable loan to their government."

Besides shipping home this delectable piece of news, Bruton asked the "Democrat" to publish the correct and official address of the local company. Here is the way the Woodland men should be addressed until a new order is received, in the event that they should be moved following the announcement Monday that the Second Regiment has been absorbed by the Seventh:

14th Company,
4th Training Battalion,
65th Depot Brigade,
Camp Kearney,
Calif.

Writing for Captain Caldwell Lieutenant Bruton says the men in the company have not been receiving their mail regularly.

"Letters sent now to the 158th Infantry will go to the First Arizona Infantry," he says, "and letters addressed to the Second California may not reach us at all."

Bond Booster Here; Was With Fated Regiment

Sergeant C. L. Frazer, the British recruiting officer who spoke in Woodland today on the second Liberty Bond issue, is one of the 40 survivors from the famous Princess Pat regiment. Out of 1400 men in this regiment 1360 died on a European battlefield. Sergeant Frazer was wounded twice, once superficially but the second time so critically that he was ordered from actual fighting service.

Officer Frazer now has a younger brother going "over the top," while he himself is enlisting new recruits and helping United States to sell its second series of Liberty Bonds.

BRITISH OFFICER APPEALS FOR U. S.

Declares Everyone Having $50 Should Invest It And Aid Government

HURTS KEEP HIM FROM FRONT

Says Majority of Soldiers Go Cheerily Into Battles,
Ignoring Danger

Sergt. C. L. Frazer and Fred Shingle, Liberty Loan boosters, visited Woodland today as part of a campaign among the towns of the valley to urge investment in the second series of bonds. Frazer and Shingle started at Davis at 10 o'clock. After leaving Woodland their program includes stops at Yolo, Zamora, Dunnigan, Arbuckle, Maxwell, Willows, Williams, Germantown, Orland, Corning, Red Bluff, Tehama, Chico, Durham, Gridley, Oroville, Marysville, Wheatland, Lincoln. They will return to Sacramento Friday evening. The speakers are being met by members of the liberty loan committees of the various towns and the four-minute speakers.

HURRY MEETING CALLED.

Members of the Yolo Liberty Bond committee succeeded in getting out a fair-sized crowd today to listen to Sergeant Frazer. Nearly all of the stores closed their doors between 11 and 12, to give the clerks an opportunity to attend the meeting. The Woodland band boys were summoned for the 'steenth time to volunteer their services.

HUNS ARE CENSURED.

Frazer, who was twice wounded while with the famous Princess Pat regiment, gave a vivid description of the warfare that is being waged by the Germans. "Their style is more Hunnish than any of the so-called barbarous wars of the early days," said the Britisher.

SHOWS WAR TROPHIES.

Frazer displayed two helmets, one of the British type and the other an elaborate German head protector. "It is to buy these bullet deflectors for your soldier boys that you are being asked to buy Liberty Bonds," he said. Frazer also showed a gas mask.

HOME FOLKS HEROES.

The English recruiting officer told of his own personal experiences in the trenches. "The real heroes of this awful war," he said, "are the mothers and sisters of the men who are at the front. I know, from my own observations, that the men go into the war with a determined spirit, not fearing the loss of their own lives. I did not mind being in action, and I believe that the great majority of the boys feel the same way about it."

DUTY CONFRONTS EVERYONE.

Frazer made a strong appeal to the man with the small pocketbook to do his "bit" by subscribing to the government's bonds. "I'll venture to say that not one per cent of this audience has made any change in their mode of living, or any sacrifices worth while," he stated. "Anyone with as much as $50 or $100 in the bank should buy a bond."

The executive committee of the state auxiliary committee for the Sacramento valley yesterday made an offer of a $50 bond for the new campaign slogan submitted. The contest is open to all residents of the 13 northern California counties. All slogans must be submitted before noon October 16. They are limited to ten words.

Prediction that the new bonds will go to a premium after the war was made yesterday by George W. Peltier, chairman of the executive committee. He said that their exemption from all taxation except that on inheritance and the surtax on incomes, together with their convertibility into an issue bearing a higher rate of interest, would keep them at par during the war and make them profitable afterwards.

Ben Stephens Back From Camp Lewis

Madison Man Disappointed at His Failure to Pass Physical Test

Ben Stephens, who went out with the second increment of selected men from Yolo county to report to Camp Lewis, returned home yesterday afternoon. He was rejected by the army examining board because of flat feet, and he is very much disappointed.

Mr. Stephens says all the Yolo county boys in the big camp are well and happy and are contented with the service. They are well taken care of and comfortably equipped. He says Emmett Cooper is getting fat.

After he found he had not passed the final physical test, Mr. Stephens tried to get into some other branch of the service, but without success. As he put it, "they would not even let me work at kitchen police."

MAY TALK IN CHURCHES
The committee has also decided to request the ministers of the county to join with the churches of the nation on Sunday, October 21, in making their services patriotic in nature and speaking briefly in favor of the bonds. They will be requested to have congregational singing of "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner." To those churches which do not have the words of these good old songs in the hymnals, the committee will supply slips on which the words are printed. A canvass will be made today to interest the ministers in this plan. If the plans of the national committee are carried into effect, thousands upon thousands of congregations all over the land will be singing the "Star Spangled Banner" at exactly 11 o'clock on that day. It will be a national anthem which literally will reach heaven.

REJECT SIX MEN IN THIS COUNTY

Dispatch From Camp Lewis
Tells Men Fail to Pass
Physical Test

EXPECTED HOME NEXT WEEK

Last Increment From Here Will Probably Be Augmented
To Fill Quota

A dispatch from Camp Lewis today brought word that six men who left Woodland with the second draft contingent on September 24 were discharged Friday because of their failure to pass the camp's physical test. They will probably be sent home early next week. The men are Victor Carmichael, Woodland; Ben Stephens, J. W. Tilly and Frank Collett, Madison; C. D. Thomas, Davis; S. H. Matthew, Knights Landing.

The six local men are all members of the 346th Artillery. No reason was given in today's dispatch for any of the rejections.

FOURTH INCREMENT HERE
MUST BE INCREASED.

Although 26 men will be sent from here in the last contingent, making 117 in all, ten above the county's quota of 107, it is probable that several more will be sent north to make up for rejections in the third contingent that left here last Monday.

Army officers at the northern camp said last night that unless late third quota arrivals are heavier than they have been this week, the fourth quota, which was originally set for 15 per cent, promises to be almost double that number. It is estimated the fourth quota, which will start moving October 17, must be augmented at least ten per cent to fill the ranks depleted by rejections for physical disability.

Two hundred and seventy men in the 91st division were discharged yesterday because of physical deficiency.

WESTERN TROOPS TO VOTE AT CAMP.

Today's announcement included word that all troops of Camp Lewis from the states of the western department will be allowed to vote at the November elections in their states as provided by law. Men whose residences are in other states will also be allowed to cast their ballots. Camp Lewis votes are liable to be the deciding factors in close elections.

Red Cross Asks Address of All Yolo Soldiers

LOCAL CHAPTER PLANNING ON SENDING ALL MEN PRESENT FOR CHRISTMAS TIME

The Yolo County Red Cross Chapter wants to send a Christmas remembrance to every man in the military service from this county. The problem now facing those in charge is that of securing the names and address of these men. It will be comparatively easy to get the information so far as it applies to the members of Company F, and the men who have gone through the selective draft, but it is not so easy as relating to the men who have volunteered in the different branches of the service.

To get as complete a list as possible the committee of Civilian Relief, Dr. T. W. Prose, secretary, asks every person in the county to send immediately to him at Woodland, the name and address of men with whom they are in communication. Appeal is particularly made to the members of the families of these men.

It is of importance that this information be had within the next two weeks, and the request is made that the information be sent at once.

Knights Landing Gathers to Renew Sense of War Duty

Knights Landing's patriotic meeting Friday evening was entirely up to the hopes of its sponsors. The crowd was large, including about fifteen persons from Woodland. The Liberty Loan movement, the Red Cross society, and war service in general made up the burden of speeches by Superior Judge Anderson, C. W. Bush, head of the local loan committee, and the Rev. B. Paige. Judge Anderson spoke feelingly and effectively for nearly an hour. His address was an appeal to support the president and the administration in the prosecution of the war in every way open to the individual. He pointed out many ways in which those at home could supplement the valiant efforts of the men on the fighting line.

A feature of the meeting was the singing of patriotic songs by the Knights Landing school children. Miss Dorothy Thomas of Woodland pleased her audience by singing "I Love You, California." Justice Allen presided over the meeting, which was arranged by Mrs. Lloyd Osborne, leading Red Cross worker of Knights Landing.

BOY TELLS OF TRAINING AS AEROPLANE MECHANIC

Raymond Campbell Writes His Mother of Life In School
Of Royal Flying Corps

ONE OF FIRST TO GO

Enthusiastic Over Course Of Learning How To Repair
Uncle Sam's Airships

Raymond Campbell, a Yolo county boy, has written a letter to his mother from his training camp in England, where he is in the aviation works taking his military instruction in the mechanism of the flying machine.

Young Campbell was employed as the electrician at the Overland shops in Sacramento when the first call for volunteers came. He wanted to go, but remembered that he was becoming the support of his mother, who had given many years of her life in fitting him to play a man's part in the world. He sought her and broached the subject. She also recognized that the call of the country was vital and together they determined that the thing to do was to do their duty.

ENLISTED IN APRIL

The young man enlisted April 10 and was sent to Angel Island. There he was quarantined because of scarlet fever in the camp and it was some months before he was sent to San Antonio. He assisted in building the barracks there and they were taken to New York and shortly afterward he was sent over to England. It is from Reading, England the letter comes. It bears the censor's stamp but came through intact. It is published to show that the conditions which our boys are to meet on the other side are not so alarming after all.

"Dear Mother:—Well, here I am for a couple of months anyway. Out of the 1200 which came over there are just 40 of us here, and only 4 of the 37th squadron. This is a great big aeroplane school, which has been taken over by the British Flying corps. We have started a course of 8 weeks instruction. When we went through the school believe me it looked like a heaven to me.

LEARNING REPAIR WORK
"There are all kinds of planes and motors and we are to be taught to repair them. We are under the jurisdiction of the Royal Flying corps and they are certainly doing their best to make us comfortable.

"This is not a flying school but a construction school. We are about 50 miles from London. I guess the rest of the 37th squadron is scattered over England and France. They are going to teach us so that we can instruct the other Americans that come over.

"You see, after all our picks and shovels, Uncle Sammy has arranged a golden opportunity for us.

"On account of the squadron being split up there must be a bunch of letters for me somewhere enroute. We have not been down town yet so can not tell you much about it. We arise at 5:30 and drill an hour before breakfast. We go to school at 8 o'clock and get out at 5. The meals are even better than they were at Camp Kelly.

"We are the first Americans in the aviation corps to come over. I sure wish that Uncle Ed and August could be here to go through the school as it is such a wonderful place.

USED TO HARDSHIPS

"I just cannot get over my perfect health under all conditions. The day of cots and mattresses has passed but the board seems to have grown soft, as I always feel perfectly rested when I get up in the morning. Well, mother there is lots I would like to say, but could talk better than write. We have to turn in by 9:30 so I will close.

"Raymond."

Woodland Boy Scouts will gather at St. Luke's rectory Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 to make plans with Scoutmaster P. G. Snow for their bond-selling campaign beginning Saturday. Scouts here will co-operate with the nationwide movement to urge the sale of the Liberty Loan bonds.

Under the slogan "Every Scout to Save a Soldier," 338,000 Scouts and Scout officials will make house-to-house solicitations in the United States. Before the end of this week the boys will call on Woodland householders as specially appointed messengers of the United States government, and will leave a circular advertising the second loan. From the 20th to the 24th they will return to solicit purchase of the bonds.

A gold medal will be given to the Scout who secures the most subscriptions in the United States.

Latest reports show that Boy Scouts secured subscriptions for $23,338,255 from 139,645 different people in the First Liberty Loan campaign; 7740 Scouts qualified for War Service emblems by selling bonds in ten or more homes. Similar recognition will be given in this campaign.

At their meeting tomorrow afternoon the Scouts will initiate several new members. About twenty-six Woodland boys are now enrolled on Scoutmaster Snow's roster.

LOWE WRITES OF NIGHT SHELLING BY GERMAN GUNS

Among the war letters that have reached Woodland, none has given more of the real atmosphere of the world conflict than one just received from "Russ" Lowe, who is driving an ammunition truck in the very thick of the fighting. Lowe says the enemy has learned that the allies are transporting ammunition by night and they have been shelling the trucks with furious insistency. A shell was dropped into the munitions division next to Lowe's division, killing twenty. Lowe says information is being guarded so carefully that those in his camp are unaware of war operations a few miles away. He declares readers of newspapers in America know more of what is going on at the front than do those on the ground. Lowe adds a plea for home news.

High School Girls Plan to Send Christmas Cheer to Soldiers; Other School Activities Told

Pamphlets edited by the high school girls are to be sent along with each Christmas box sent from Woodland by the Red Cross for the local soldier boys. The pamphlets will tell of interesting and unusual local happenings, and will give a personal touch to the Christmas gifts that would otherwise be lacking. The girls will do their best to have the "Sammies" in cheerful spirits on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Fred Meier, Red Cross worker, told the students this week of what Marshall Hale, head of the Western Division of the Red Cross, had to say about this state's duty toward the mercy organization. Mrs. Meier heard Hale speak in San Francisco recently.

The high school Red Cross girls will elect a new secretary to succeed Winifred Gibbs, who has departed for her new home at Berkeley.

One of the first house-to-house drives to be made here by high school girls will be for old gloves. The leather is being used in San Francisco for making headgear for aviators. It is believed that many castaway hand protectors can be gathered here to aid in the equipment of the bird-men.

James Mills, president of the Board of Education at Hamilton City and a regent of the state university, addressed the Woodland high school student body, declaring this to be one of the finest schools in the west. The school system throughout Yolo county, he said, compares favorably with the educational plants of counties much larger than Yolo. Mills advised the students that one way of doing their "bit" to win the war is serious application to studies. There are school room slackers as well as other kinds, stated Mills.

The first report cards of the term were given out this week. On account of the large number of absentees due to the labor shortage, the reports were not up to standard and so the names of the "E" students were not released. The next quarterly reports will be better.

At a senior class meeting a plan was devised whereby each class will be expected to give a party during the year. The events will be held on the dates upon which visiting athletic teams are in town. The seniors will give the initial affair on November 15, according to present plans. The near-graduates will attempt to make the affair unusual.

The Student Body is to hold a "Pep" meeting Friday. At this assembly efforts will be made to "bury the dead" and awaken new interest in school affairs in general.

At a meeting of the high school Red Cross branch, it was decided to hold another "paper day." The date will be named so that housewives may bundle up their old papers for delivery to the students. The sales money will go into the Red Cross fund.

The order provided that Diggs and Clark leave on October 27, or within the five-day period immediately following.

TO DRAW LOTS FOR "CAPTAIN" HONORS.

Even so small a company as this latest one must have a captain, so Gaddis will have the two men draw lots for the distinction of "bossing" the other.

The departure of J. Porter Diggs will leave a gap in local fistiana that will be hard to fill. Diggs was last winter one of the Woodland Athletic Club's top-line ring attractions. Fight fans here expect him to ably represent Woodland in the amateur bouts that will help the soldiers up north to pass long evenings this winter.

MANAGER OGDEN EXPECTED TO SPEED PROTEGE.

Sergeant Bill Ogden, who is remembered as Diggs' admiring manager last winter, has not yet been apprised of his protege is soon to leave his native heath. Bill is expected to apply for a furlough from his hay-buying duties at Camp Fremont in order to give Porter the "north and south" before he leaves for the training camp.

FIRST ORDER REGARDING COLORED DRAFTED.

Today's order is the first received here covering colored drafted men. So far as is known, it is the smallest drafted increment that has been called to leave northern California.

No order has been received for the entrainment of Yolo county's final drafted increment.

Dunnigan People Assemble to Hear Bond Speakers

Yolo county's Liberty Loan and Red Cross advocates will tonight turn their guns on Guinda. A. G. Bailey is to be the principal speaker. W. F. Mixon also will speak for the bonds. J. I. McConnell and Mrs. Fred Meier will represent the Red Cross. J. L. Stephens and C. W. Bush expect to go along to lend their support. A. W. Fox will take a quartet to sing patriotic songs, including besides himself Clinton Ralls, C. W. Bush and A. G. Bailey.

Last night the boosters visited Dunnigan to make their appeal to the northern section of the county. S. W. Barker presided. Speeches favoring the second loan were made by District Attorney McDonald, C. W. Bush, chairman of the liberty loan committee, and by W. F. Mixon, a member of the committee. J. I. McConnell and Mrs. Fred Meier spoke effectively for the Red Cross. Before leaving Dunnigan for home J. L. Stephens secured $1700 in bond subscriptions and it is expected that last night's meeting was productive of enough publicity to sell many more. Community singing was led by A. W. Fox, who also sang a solo, "Tenting Tonight."

Guinda was appealed to last night in the campaign being waged in favor of Liberty Bond sales and spreading the work of the Red Cross. Bond speakers were A. G. Bailey, C. W. Bush and W. F. Mixon. J. L. Stephens gave subscription blanks to the entire audience and many promised to subscribe.

BOY SCOUTS WILL AID IN LIBERTY BOND CAMPAIGN

Young Patriots Will Solicit Subscriptions to Loan Four Days Next Week, is Present Plan

ORGANIZATION EFFECTIVE IN FIRST LIBERTY LOAN

Scout Master P. G. Snow Getting His Command Ready to Make Good Showing for City

The Boy Scouts of the Nation are getting ready for action. They will respond to the call of the president to assist in the liberty loan drive now going on over the country.

The Scouts of Woodland are to be right in the fray and are to follow instructions to the letter. To get ready for this drive in Woodland Scout Master Snow has called a meeting of his company for Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock, at which time there will be an initiation of new recruits, boys who wish to volunteer for any service which they may perform. For Sunday October 21, the head of the movement in America has issued the order that each company of Scouts attend church in their uniform. This is a part of the movement to have all churches on that day give a portion of the time to the advocacy of the sale of these liberty bonds. Special services are to be held in the churches here. The Scouts will attend the Episcopal church, of which their leader is the rector.

BOYS ARE EFFICIENT
The Scouts were so effective during the sale of the first issue of liberty bonds that President Wilson wrote a special letter of commendation to the headquarters. This time these headquarters offer special medals for the workers who reach a certain percentage of efficiency in their work.

The boys will do their work in Woodland next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. When they call at your home, give them a cordial reception; remember they are little patriots, doing their bit and make them feel that they are accomplishing something for the country.

All Local Boys In France are Well, Is Word

TRENTON TAYLOR WRITES OF HIMSELF AND COMRADES IN U. S. ENGINEER-CORPS

Mrs. J. H. Taylor received a batch of five letters from her son, Trenton H. Taylor, yesterday, all postmarked France. They were written from the 5th to the 22nd of September. The language in all the letters are guarded in character, to comply with the censorship and the reading must to a great extent be between the lines. The letters make mention of Meredith Gregory, Wm. Turner and Harold Armstrong, who are companions of Taylor. All are well. Gregory was in the hospital for a time from a minor strain of his back, but he is all right now.

The suggestion is made that any one sending packages to the boys in France send them by first class mail, as the parcel post matter is long delayed in its handling. Make them in as small packages as possible. The writer says that 2 cent U. S. stamps should be sent, and that tobacco and chocolates would be more than acceptable.

No mention whatever is made as to the location of the Woodland boys, nor is there any reference as to just what line of work is engaging their attention.

Madison Woman Outlines Plan To Equip F Company Members With Chilly Weather Clothing

Mrs. A. S. Crowder of Madison wrote today to the "Democrat" seeking necessary publicity to reach "the mothers, sisters or sweethearts" of the boys of F Company, asking them to knit necessary articles of clothing for them before the boys are sent to France.

Mrs. Crowder announced also that an entertainment and dance will be given at Madison on October 27, to raise enough money to equip those boys who would otherwise be unprovided for. In the case of those, however, who have relatives or sweethearts, the latter are reminded of their obligation to fit them with proper clothing.

"Contributions should be made of the following articles," writes Mrs. Crowder: "Sweaters, mufflers, gloves, wristlets, socks, abdominal belts, or money to buy the yarn for these articles. All clothing should be made of four-ply yarn, not khaki but olive drab. The socks can be made of gray yarn."

The writer emphasizes that all articles intended for boys at Linda Vista should be sent directly to them by their relatives or friends. Money donated to buy materials should be deposited with the Yolo County Savings Bank, where arrangements have been made for taking charge of it. A full account of expenditures will be given. All articles will be sent to the person for whom they are made.

A few of the boys in the company have already been provided for, but the majority are in need of the winter clothing accessories enumerated above.

CAPAY VALLEY GETS BEHIND YOLO DRIVE FOR BONDS

Meeting Conducted At Guinda By County Committee With Encouraging Results

MANY PLEDGES SIGNED

Capay Valley Red Cross Unit Is Organized With Mrs. B. F. Davisson Jr. as President

Despite the strong north wind which prevailed last night, a good crowd met at the Guinda hall with the liberty loan committee and together went into the details of this second call on the pocket books of the nation made by the government. The result of this meeting is that the Capay Valley folk will do their share in raising the sum allotted to the county. A number of subscriptions were given at the meeting and a great deal more is promised when the heads of families have a chance to talk it over around the home fire-side.

The first speaker at the meeting was C. W. Bush, who clearly and concisely outlined the needs of the government and explained how the bonds could be procured and how paid for without any resultant hardship on the purchaser. A. G. Bailey followed in a patriotic address which held the closest attention of the audience. He in turn was followed by W. F. Mixon, who made the personal appeal for subscriptions to the bonds.

After the presentation of the subject of bonds, the Red Cross officials assumed charge of the meeting and an hour was devoted to the formal organization of the Capay Valley Red Cross section. Mrs. B. F. Davisson Jr. was chosen president, Mrs. Frank Schaffer, vice president, Mrs. George Metzger, secretary, M. H. Stitt, treasurer. These four with John Winter will compose the executive committee. The Capay branch has a large membership and is fully organized to undertake the enlarged work of a branch of the County Chapter. Mrs. Fred Meier, vice president of the county chapter, outlined the work to be undertaken and gave a most interesting report of a recent meeting she attended in San Francisco. Miss Rhoda Maxwell, Mrs. Geo. Zimmerman and Miss Ella Baker of this city, members of the civilian relief committee, were also in attendance at the meeting and arranged with the representative of that committee who lives in Capay valley to keep them informed of any case that should have the attention of that particular activity.

PLEDGES ARE SIGNED

Music for the meeting was in charge and led by A. W. Fox of Woodland. John L. Stephens, member of the county bond committee, placed subscription blanks in the hands of all those in attendance and has the pledges of many for subscriptions to the second issue of bonds. The committee will hold a meeting at Madison tonight, W. H. Grant being the main speaker.

Company F Boys are Putting in Full Day in Camp Kearney Drill

A letter from a member of Company F of this city is replete with interesting information. The statement is made that every member of the company subscribed for a second liberty bond, not one of the whole company but made the sacrifice, when they are getting but $30 a month. Food for thought in that for some of us who are staying at home.

Next Draft Contingent, Though Small, Will Make Loud Getaway; Full Particulars, Read Down—

Bill, the betting bootblack who wears the white sailor hat, deserves a berth in the news again today, for he has come to the front nobly. Bill up and hired the Woodland Band today to accompany J. Porter Diggs and Joseph R. Clark to the train when they leave for American Lake a week from Saturday or thereabouts. Bill wants to see the boys make their getaway in regular style and he thinks nothing would be better than to give them a sendoff resounding with brass. Whether it was his world series winnings that prompted his move the naval bootblack would not say. He doesn't want anyone to think he intends to be the whole circus at the coming departure, but on the contrary he wants every colored resident in the village to be at the train when the two men leave for service in Uncle Sam's army.

When the band boys receive their pay for the coming job they will have reason to celebrate, for it will be the first time during a series of patriotic performances that they have received regular money for their service.

Numbers Poor But Interest is Good

Madison Turns Out Reluctantly For Liberty Loan Bond Meeting

If mere numbers only were considered, the liberty bond meeting held at Madison last night would not be written down as a great success, but if interest in what was said entered into the calculations, the meeting was far from a failure.

Informal talks were made by C. W. Bush, W. H. Grant, and W. F. Mixon. Mr. Fox led in the patriotic songs. Several subscriptions were made for the bonds and all those present took a supply of the blanks with the agreement that they would circulate them among their neighbors and join in the efforts of the committee to make certain that Madison is not behind in her share of the county subscription.

The next meeting will be at Davis on Saturday night. E. E. Leake will be the principal speaker.

DAVIS IS TOLD OF LIBERTY DRIVE OF COUNTY

County Committee Conducts Big Meeting at State Farm Town
Before Good Attendance

E. E. LEAKE IS PRINCIPLE
SPEAKER FOR THE EVENING

Editor Delivers Excellent Talk Setting Forth Needs of Nation
And Duty of Its Citizens

A liberty bond meeting was held last night at Davis, the arrangements being made by the Davis members of the county committee. A fair attendance was recorded and the interest was very satisfactory.

The first speaker was C. W. Bush, who outlined the pending plan of the government and gave information relative to their purchase. Close attention was given Mr. Bush by the audience.

The next speaker was E. E. Leake of this city. His speech was intensely patriotic and an appeal to every man and woman to stand by the government and at the back of the boys at the front. He classified the inhabitants of this county as either American or anti-American; there is no middle ground; a man is either a patriot or a traitor. He excoriated those men of foreign birth who have come to this country, accepted its hospitality, acquired its soil, raised their families and waxed rich and yet are against the government in spirit and act.

LAUDS JULIUS KAHN

At the same time he paid a tribute to the men who had sworn allegiance to the country and had stood four-square for the country in the face of nationality. Particularly he commended the course of Congressman, Julius Kahn of California, a native of Germany, a Republican in politics, but who became the floor leader for the administration in its plans to uphold the honor of the country. That his sterling Americanism is stamped with approval is demonstrated that a great public demonstration in his honor is the plan of San Francisco on next Tuesday night. The speaker also mentioned the patriotic attitude of George H. Hecke, a Yolo county German born citizen. The Davis hall should have been filled to hear the address of the editor of our contemporary.

Supervisor Russell spoke briefly as the representative of Davis and W. F. Nixon closed with a personal appeal to every one present to do the part which they are called on to perform, just as the boys who have gone into military service have done theirs. A. W. Fox of this city led in singing the national songs. The next meeting will be at Yolo on October 24.

Yolo Baking 305 Cakes for Boys

Every Man in Army Will Taste Of Home Cooking on Christmas

Yolo county women are taking old father time by the forelock and are already preparing dozens upon dozens of Christmas fruit cakes to be sent, so far as possible, to every one of the 305 men who have gone from Yolo county. They even expect to have some left over to go to some other county's boy who may not get some of the good home cooking which always lifts a load of gloom during the holiday season.

There is a little message sent to the women who are making those cakes. The message is sent by those directly in charge. Bake your cakes in square cornered pans. That does not mean that the pans must be just square, an even number of inches each way, but in pans of any size, just so there are no "round corners." This request is made on account of the packing. When you have your cake baked, just notify the committee and it will be called for in good time.

HUNDREDS ATTEND BIG YOLO RED CROSS DEMONSTRATION

Not less than four hundred people from all over the county assembled at the Yolo Town Hall last night in a real demonstration of approval of the work which the County Chapter of the Red Cross and particularly the Yolo branch, is carrying on during these war times.

Mrs. C. R. Hoppin and her many assistants are deserving of a great deal of credit for the splendid success of the affair. The decorations of the large hall were typical of the section in which it was located. All the exhibits which gained the first prize for Yolo at the recent county fair were replaced on the stage making a harvest festival setting which was very pleasing. American flags abounded and the flags of the allies all found a place in the general scheme.

J. I. McConnell, president of the Yolo County Chapter, was the honored guest of the evening and during the refreshment period he and his party were given tables on the platform. Hundreds of lunch boxes, covered with red, white and blue, were served to those present and the hour of refreshment was most pleasantly spent.

Mr. McConnell, in an address, gave an outline of the work which the Red Cross has undertaken in this world's cataclysm and told his audience of the things which the many active branches in this county are doing as the several sections meet day by day.

Then came the dancing. The music was supplied by Miss Adelaide Stevens' orchestra and the hundred couples who indulged in dancing pronounced it just right. Captain Chas. Hoppin came up from Fort Mason to attend his home town demonstration and he surely can go back to his men with the information that the Red Cross workers of this county are loyal, energetic and industrious.

Final Quota for First Draft From Yolo County is Selected

Fourteen men, Yolo county's fourth increment of the selective service army, will go forward from Woodland on or about November 2, according to the statement of the local exemption board made yesterday. Accompanying the announcement is a list of twenty-four names, the first fourteen of which will be named to make up the final quota. Any of those who fail to appear to the call will be reported by the local board to the war department as army deserters and will be dealt with as such when apprehended.

It is thought probable, however, that at least five of the men within the first fourteen on the list will be unable to appear to the call of the board. The addresses of Hermiris Traveres and Clark Belgium Robertson are unknown. Wallace McClure Hoyle will be certified to Camp Jackson, South Carolina. Gust Johnson is now in Seattle and may not appear. George Barney Weiss has recently been operated on for appendicitis and cannot be forwarded.

Raymond L. Best is in British Columbia and will not probably appear.

Following is the list:

Walker M. Apperson, Woodland
Hermiris Traveres, Broderick
Clark B. Robertson, Woodland
Wallace M. Hoyle, Davis
Lester Mitchell, Woodland Chris Julius Smith, Woodland

CLOSING WEEK IS AT HAND

BOOKS FOR SECOND LOAN TO BE SHUT TIGHT NEXT SATURDAY NOON

COUNTY FAR BEHIND MARK SET AS ITS SHARE OF SECOND LOAN

"Bonds or Bombs" connotes the directness with which the question of "Will you buy a bond" will be put up to tardy citizens this week. The books close at noon next Saturday, and the campaign managers in this county entered the final week today with the determination to bolster up Yolo's sagging support, to make up during the next five days for the rather anemic showing made thus far.

Every bank in the county is willing and anxious to take subscriptions for bond purchases and each of the heads of these institutions is working night and day to urge a proper response to Uncle Sam's second appeal for citizens to loan to their government.

THREE MORE COUNTY MEETINGS TO BE HELD.

Three more meetings are to be held this week. Wednesday evening the boosters will visit Yolo. Thursday night Willow Oak Park's community hall will be the scene of the meeting and the last gathering will be held at Blacks Friday evening, when the new town hall will be dedicated. In every one of these places the speakers will remind the townspeople of their obligations and remind them that after next Saturday noon it will be too late to think of buying of the second Loan.

COUNTY NOT DOING SHARE FOR SOLDIERS.

The model soldier at Sacramento which is being equipped by different counties in Superior California is in danger of contracting pneumonia on the right side, for that is the portion which Yolo county is delegated to cover. So far the covering has been thin, almost diaphanous, and the soldier is crying to the people of this county for relief.

CLERGYMEN URGE LOAN FROM PULPIT.

Every clergyman in Woodland urged his congregation Sunday to buy bonds according to financial ability. Next Sunday the local churchmen will respond to the president's appeal for universal prayer for the success of American arms in the war.

Davis was visited by the bond promoters Saturday night. Ed E. Leake was the principal speaker. He told of the administration's need of money and pointed out what would be sure to happen if the government were hampered by a lean treasury. He rapped those people who have come to this country and taken from its bounty and are yet unwilling to support the country in time of need. He paid a special tribute to Julius Kahn, California's brilliant representative in congress. C. W. Bush, Supervisor Will Russell, and W. F. Mixon were the other speakers. A. W. Fox conducted the musical program.

GROVER STEVENS GOING TO ITALY WITH AVIATORS

Mrs. Laura Stevens has received word from her son, Grover Stevens, that orders have come to his aerial squadron at Belleville, Ill. to prepare for departure to Italy. Stevens and seventy of his companions have been transferred to the 21st squadron, which has been ordered overseas. More intensive training is thought to be the reason for transferring the student airmen. Gordon Snively is in the same camp as Stevens, but in another squadron. The two Woodland men were transferred to the Illinois post almost a month ago.

Yolo Shows Pride In Heroic Work of The Red Cross

Yolo paid its tribute to the workers under the banner of the Red Cross, at a meeting in the town hall Saturday night, attended by at least four hundred people from different parts of the county. Mrs. C. R. Hopkin, in charge of the event, was aided by a company of able assistants. Yolo's prize-winning exhibit at the recent county fair was displayed for the visitors, being part of a decorative scheme that made the cosy hall more attractive than ever.

Previous to the dance, music for which was furnished by Miss Adelaide Stevens' orchestra, J. I. McConnell, president of the Red Cross Chapter, spoke of the immense service which that relief organization is performing for the country's defenders.

HOME SOLDIERS FAIL TO SHOW

After waiting at the S. P. station all Saturday afternoon friends of Yolo county soldiers scheduled to come through Woodland on their way from Camp Lewis to Camp Kearny found that the boys were not on No. 15, which was five hours late. Some of the people waited until ten o'clock. It is thought the train went south Friday, for today a letter was received from John Martinelli one of the soldiers, mailed at Modesto.

YOLO BUYS $100,000 WORTH OF U.S. BONDS

County Supervisors Agree On Amount After Short Deliberation

TOOK $30,000 OF FIRST LOAN

C. W. Bush Emphasizes Needs Of Government In Pushing War

Yolo's supervisors placed their stamp of approval on the war being waged for Democracy by subscribing this morning for $100,000 worth of this government's second issue of Liberty Bonds. The money will come from the county's surplus fund. Each member of the board declared his belief that the investment is safe, practical and humane. There was not a dissenting voice when the Liberty Bond order was read by County Clerk Harry Saunders.

Yolo county subscribed for $30,000 worth of the first Liberty Bonds, but secured only 60 per cent of their total subscription, or $18,000.

C. W. Bush, president of the Yolo Liberty Bond Committee, was the chief speaker before the supervisors today. In part, he said:

"We are in a great war. We must win. We can't win without money and we can't win without men. Taxation and the sale of bonds must supply the money. Taxes have been levied to raise part of the funds. The First Liberty Loan Bonds have been sold to raise another part of the funds. More money must be raised by the sale of the Second Liberty Loan Bonds.

"Therefore, let Yolo county do her share. It is a good investment. It will make Yolo's people feel more than ever that they have a stockholders' interest in the government. Taxes pay no direct interest. Bonds do.

"The sum of forty billion dollars is the estimated annual income of the people of the United States. We need eighteen and one-half billion dollars of this income for the first year of the war. Yolo should put up her part by purchasing Liberty Loan Bonds. Her boys offer to die. Yolo should offer to buy. And for what? In order that the American principle of free government may encompass the globe, and insure the liberties of our descendants forever."

Bush stated further that he had received a telegram this morning from national headquarters to the effect that each county's Liberty Bond performance would be made a matter of public record.

"Yolo has contributed nobly thus far with her immense production record, and I feel sure that we will not fall down in this bond crisis," he added.

BIG TASK YET AHEAD OF COUNTY.

Today's subscription by the county added new vigor to the homestretch campaign over the county for funds. Yolo's allotment of bonds, however, is by no means sure of being subscribed. The individual subscription list is discouragingly small. There must be some great activity before Saturday noon.

Surely this county of counties is not going to let it be said that she was a slacker in regard to the second series of Liberty Bonds!

RELATES AVIATION THRILLS

PHIL SMITH, NOW STATIONED AT MICHIGAN CAMP, WRITES HOME

UNCENSORED PART OF NOTE SAYS AIRMEN YEARN FOR SERVICE

A letter just received by the "Democrat" from Phil Smith, former young Woodland man now with the 87th U. S. Aero Squadron at Mt. Clemens, Michigan, contains much interesting news of contemplated maneuvers of troops. Only a part of the letter, however, can be published.

DANGEROUS STUNTS FOR FIGHTING BIRDMEN.

"The squadron is divided into two divisions," writes Smith. "One set flies in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon. This camp is slightly in advance of the one at San Antonio. Here all kinds of tail spins and nose dives are practiced.

TALKS HOW COMRADE MET AWFUL DEATH

"One of our civilian instructors was killed three days ago. He was flying about 3000 feet over Lake St. Clark when he started a tail spin. He came out of it upside down. The opinion of a camp is that he was dizzy and instead of turning the nose upwards, directed it down and could not bring it out of it. However, we saw him fall into the lake about 50 feet ahead of the machine and the safety strap had been unbuckled. This leads to the theory that he could not straighten out and so unbuckled and jumped. The machine must have driven him right down into the mud, as no trace of him has been found.

"Of course, many planes tumble, but one would be surprised to note the small number of men who are badly hurt.

SURE TO SEE SERVICE ABROAD.

"We are all hoping we will get to see actual service soon. Orders may come at any time. One never knows here what will happen. There is one thing we do know, and that is that ours is a service for abroad. I am strong for the service."

German Born Citizens Take $50,000 Loan

Guardians of John Wohlfrom, wealthy Woodland banker, today asked Superior Judge Anderson if he would consider an application for permission to invest $50,000 of the Wohlfrom capital in Liberty Bonds. Judge Anderson replied affirmatively, stating that he considered the government bonds the safest investment in the world. The application will be made before the Yolo books close next Saturday noon, so that the subscription will be credited with others from this county.

The Wohlfrom subscription should stimulate further bond activity in this county. Wohlfrom and his guardians are all of German nativity, but loyal to the cause for which the United States is fighting.

FARMERS ARE APPEALED TO TO HELP IN WAR BONDS

Secretary of Agriculture, In Telegram to Adviser Searles, Requests Special Efforts

ARE BEHIND AS CLASS

All Men With Available Money Are Urged to Help Country in Making Loan Success

Farmers of Yolo county have been personally appealed to to help the nation through the liberty loan in a telegram received by County Farm Adviser N. P. Searles from D. F. Houston, United States secretary of agriculture. An urgent request is made in the communication, which has been sent to every county farm agent in the nation, to make special efforts to have the farmers as a class, strongly support the $5,000,000,000 loan during the final week.

It is hinted at in the telegram that the farmers are falling behind the other classes of American industries in bond subscriptions and it is sought to make up this deficiency during the last days. Following is the message:

"N. P. Searles, Yolo county farm adviser,

I urge you to make a special effort during this concluding week of the Liberty Loan campaign to bring before the farmers of your county the need of large national response to the Liberty Loan and with each farmer of available funds doing his part. Emphasize importance of farmers not falling behind other classes in this contribution to the cause of freedom.

Dinsdale is one of fifty who were sent east from Monterey, all of whom are in the base hospital.

"I am stationed in the operating room," he writes, "and am getting some splendid experience. We have some of the finest physicians and surgeons in America in our unit. We expect to leave here early in the spring for service overseas."

Tuesday is Red Letter Day for Liberty Bonds

County of Yolo and John Wohlfrom Estate Subscribe Total Of Hundred and Fifty Thousand—Smaller Purchasers Are Rushing in at Last Minute to Swell County's List.

Tuesday was one of those days which brought a cheerful smile to the faces of the members of the Yolo county liberty bond committee. Two large subscriptions helped to swell the total for the campaign. One was made by the county through its board of supervisors, the amount taken being $100,000, the other will be by the guardians of the estate of John Wohlfrom, for $50,000. Thirty-five other subscriptions were returned to Mr. Bush, chairman of the county committee, so the total for the day is rather encouraging to those who have spent practically all of their time at the work for the past two weeks.

The supervisors met in special session yesterday and the matter was presented by Mr. Bush. The members of the board had previously talked the matter over and at once did the patriotic service which will no doubt be endorsed by every citizen of the county. The funds used in the purchase are surplus in the various funds and the law provides that they may be invested in such manner as they have now been put to. The county was also a subscriber for the first liberty bonds in the amount of $30,000.

GERMAN BORN SUBSCRIBE

In the case of the Wohlfrom estate, a court order will have to be perfected, but Judge Anderson told the guardians that no safer investment could be found and indicated that the proper order would be made before Saturday. The Wohlfroms are all natives of Germany and their action is taken as an answer to some doubt which has existed as to the attitude of many American citizens, native of that country. At least "Uncle John" and his relatives have decisively answered for themselves.

Only four more days remain until the close of the sale of the bonds; if you have not yet bought your bond, do so at the first opportunity. There must be a considerable sum subscribed yet before the amount is reached which will place Yolo county among those who have done their full duty.

GREATER RESPONSE NEEDED IN BOND CAMPAIGN

With Less Than Three Days Left, County Is Far Behind Mark

With less than three days left before the books close for subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan, Yolo county was this afternoon considerably behind the mark set for it by the treasury department. Apparently aroused by the record of Glenn county in being the first county in the United States to subscribe its quota, and of Colusa county in bringing its total above the mark required, Yolo county people responded more readily to the loan plea today and sent the bond barometer on its way upward. The mercury is still in need of a strong lift, however, before it reaches the proper altitude.

Liberty Loan boosters will tonight visit Yolo to remind the people there of the proximity of the closing time, next Saturday noon.

SIXTY PER CENT OF YOLO MEETING TAKE BONDS

Enthusiastic Gathering Attends Session Conducted By County Liberty Loan Committee

SPEAKERS CREATE INTEREST AND AROUSE PATRIOTIC DUTY

J. E. Scarlett, Local Chairman Of Drive, Presides and Calls Up on Three For Addresses

The town of Yolo responded in a most satisfactory manner to the appeal made last night for the sale of the second series of liberty bonds. A meeting was held in the town hall and considering the strong north wind, was well attended.

The meeting was called to order by J. E. Scarlett, who introduced C. W. Bush as chairman of the evening. Mr. Bush, as head of the Yolo county committee, lost no time in preliminaries, but immediately took up the subject of discourse. He presented the facts as compiled in figures and told his auditors of the personal responsibility resting on each individual in this bond campaign. His words carried conviction and he was closely attended in all his remarks.

E. E. GADDIS SPEAKS
E. E. Gaddis was the next speaker. He appealed more along patriotic lines. He delivered a strong address and proved himself a strong protagonist for the nation on the platform as well as in his position as chairman of the county exemption board.

W. F. Mixon followed Judge Gaddis. His province was to make the direct appeal to the audience for subscriptions and Yolo responded well. More than 60 per cent of those in the audience, including those who had previously subscribed, are numbered among holders of bonds in this issue. The result is very gratifying to the committee, and it was assured by many of those present that they will make it a personal duty to carry the message to those of their neighbors who were not present. The full result of the meeting cannot be measured until the close of the sale of bonds on Saturday. Patriotic music was led by A. W. Fox of this city.

COUNTY'S LOAN QUOTA STILL LONG WAY OFF; HOME SOLDIERS KEEP UP VIGOROUS DRIVE

Banks Report Better Response, But Further Energy Yet Needed

TWO MORE MEETINGS HERE

Neal Chalmers To Speak Again At Strand Tonight; Ball Friday

Yolo county's valiant home soldiers, the promoters of the second Liberty Loan, increased their efforts today to raise the subscription here to the allotted mark by Saturday noon. Citizens of the county are apparently awakening to the movement, for slightly increased business was reported this afternoon by the banks here. The men who are checking up the receipts said this afternoon, however, there's yet a "long, long trail" to be traversed before our quota is reached.

Tonight Neal Chalmers will give a four-minute bond talk at the Strand. Justice H. M. Ball will speak at the same place tomorrow night.

A public meeting will be held at Willow Oak Park this evening, with A. C. Murray as the principal speaker. All of the bond "regulars" will be on hand. Zamora and Esparto will be invaded Friday night for the last public demonstration in the county, with the exception of the visit of Governor Stephens to Winters, who will stop off Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to sound a last call.

Last night the bond boosters visited Yolo, and after the meeting was over new subscriptions and old ones brought the proportion of bond holders in the hall to sixty per cent of the audience. J. E. Scarlett was the chairman. The speakers were C. W. Bush, E. E. Gaddis and W. F. Mixon.

A meeting at Hood, Sacramento county, Tuesday evening, resulted in $15,000 worth of subscriptions, of which over half was taken by Yolo county people living in the vicinity of Clarksburg, across the river from Hood.

Red Cross Christmas Box Fast Taking Shape; Funds Flow In

A good bit of interest is being manifested in that Christmas box which the Red Cross is to send to the men who have enlisted and are serving from this county in the military camps.

It is necessary to state that the $500 or more which will be required to supply these boxes must come from a voluntary fund, as the laws of the Red Cross will not permit the taking of the regular funds for such purposes. Those funds must be devoted only and directly for certain defined purposes.

No one is worrying about the funds however. It is certain that there will be a flood of donations just as soon as the public is aware of the situation. You need not give large sums; many small sums will be better, but give right away as the boxes must be on the way by the first week in November to assure proper delivery at Christmas. Donations should be given to J. I. McConnell at the Bank of Woodland, National Association. The list will be published from day to day.

OLD PAGE IN HISTORY

One donation received yesterday recalls a page of almost forgotten history in this city. It came from the old Federated Brotherhood, which had a leading part in the final campaign which closed the saloons in this city. When that campaign was successfully concluded there was a small sum of money left after all expenses had been paid. It was placed in a bank subject to the order of the finance committee. That committee met and determined that no more useful purpose could be found for it than to make happy some of our soldiers, so it was turned into the fund yesterday. Subscriptions thus far received are:

Federated Brotherhood	$ 76.65
Knights of Pythias	5.00
Chris Knight	5.00
J. I. McConnell	5.00
W. F. Mixon	5.00

Yolo Shows Pride In Heroic Work of The Red Cross

Yolo paid its tribute to the workers under the banner of the Red Cross, at a meeting in the town hall Saturday night, attended by at least four hundred people from different parts of the county. Mrs. C. R. Hopkin, in charge of the event, was aided by a company of able assistants. Yolo's prize-winning exhibit at the recent county fair was displayed for the visitors, being part of a decorative scheme that made the cosy hall more attractive than ever.

Previous to the dance, music for which was furnished by Miss Adelaide Stevens' orchestra, J. I. McConnell, president of the Red Cross Chapter, spoke of the immense service which that relief organization is performing for the country's defenders.

HOME SOLDIERS FAIL TO SHOW

After waiting at the S. P. station all Saturday afternoon friends of Yolo county soldiers scheduled to come through Woodland on their way from Camp Lewis to Camp Kearny found that the boys were not on No. 15, which was five hours late. Some of the people waited until ten o'clock. It is thought the train went south Friday, for today a letter was received from John Martinelli one of the soldiers, mailed at Modesto.

YOLO BUYS $100,000 WORTH OF U.S. BONDS

County Supervisors Agree On Amount After Short Deliberation

TOOK $30,000 OF FIRST LOAN

G. W. Bush Emphasizes Needs Of Government In Pushing War

Yolo's supervisors placed their stamp of approval on the war being waged for Democracy by subscribing this morning for $100,000 worth of this government's second issue of Liberty Bonds. The money will come from the county's surplus fund. Each member of the board declared his belief that the investment is safe, practical and humane. There was not a dissenting voice when the Liberty Bond order was read by County Clerk Harry Saunders.

Yolo county subscribed for $30,000 worth of the first Liberty Bonds, but secured only 60 per cent of their total subscription, or $18,000.

C. W. Bush, president of the Yolo Liberty Bond Committee, was the chief speaker before the supervisors today. In part, he said:

"We are in a great war. We must win. We can't win without money and we can't win without men. Taxation and the sale of bonds must supply the money. Taxes have been levied to raise part of the funds. The First Liberty Loan Bonds have been sold to raise another part of the funds. More money must be raised by the sale of the Second Liberty Loan Bonds.

"Therefore, let Yolo county do her share. It is a good investment. It will make Yolo's people feel more than ever that they have a stockholders' interest in the government. Taxes pay no direct interest. Bonds do.

"The sum of forty billion dollars is the estimated annual income of the people of the United States. We need eighteen and one-half billion dollars of this income for the first year of the war. Yolo should put up her part by purchasing Liberty Loan Bonds. Her boys offer to die. Yolo should offer to buy. And for what? In order that the American principle of free government may encompass the globe, and insure the liberties of our descendants forever."

Bush stated further that he had received a telegram this morning from national headquarters to the effect that each county's Liberty Bond performance would be made a matter of public record.

"Yolo has contributed nobly thus far with her immense production record, and I feel sure that we will not fall down in this bond crisis," he added.

BIG TASK YET AHEAD OF COUNTY.

Today's subscription by the county added new vigor to the homestretch campaign over the county for funds. Yolo's allotment of bonds, however, is by no means sure of being subscribed. The individual subscription list is discouragingly small. There must be some great activity before Saturday noon.

Surely this county of counties is not going to let it be said that she was a slacker in regard to the second series of Liberty Bonds!

RELATES AVIATION THRILLS

PHIL SMITH, NOW STATIONED AT MICHIGAN CAMP, WRITES HOME

UNCENSORED PART OF NOTE SAYS AIRMEN YEARN FOR SERVICE

A letter just received by the "Democrat" from Phil Smith, former young Woodland man now with the 87th U. S. Aero Squadron at Mt. Clemens, Michigan, contains much interesting news of contemplated maneuvers of troops. Only a part of the letter, however, can be published.

DANGEROUS STUNTS FOR FIGHTING BIRDMEN.

"The squadron is divided into two divisions," writes Smith. "One set flies in the forenoons and the other in the afternoon. This camp is slightly in advance of the one at San Antonio. Here all kinds of tail spins and nose dives are practiced.

TALLS HOW COMRADE MET AWFUL DEATH

"One of our civilian instructors was killed three days ago. He was flying about 3000 feet over Lake St. Cloud, when he started a tail spin. He came out of it upside down. The opinion in camp is that he was dizzy and instead of turning the nose upwards, directed it down and could not bring it out of it. However, we saw him fall into the lake about 50 feet ahead of the machine and the safety strap had been unbuckled. This leads to the theory that he could not straighten out and so unbuckled and jumped. The machine must have driven him right down into the mud, as no trace of him has been found.

"Of course, many planes tumble, but one would be surprised to note the small number of men who are badly hurt.

SURE TO SEE SERVICE ABROAD.

"We are all hoping we will get to see actual service soon. Orders may come at any time. One never knows here what will happen. There is one thing we do know, and that is that ours is a service for abroad. I am strong for the service."

German Born Citizens Take $50,000 Loan

Guardians of John Wohlfrom, wealthy Woodland banker, today asked Superior Judge Anderson if he would consider an application for permission to invest $50,000 of the Wohlfrom capital in Liberty Bonds. Judge Anderson replied affirmatively, stating that he considered the government bonds the safest investment in the world. The application will be made before the Yolo books close next Saturday noon, so that the subscription will be credited with others from this county.

The Wohlfrom subscription should stimulate further bond activity in this county. Wohlfrom and his guardians are all of German nativity, but loyal to the cause for which the United States is fighting.

FARMERS ARE APPEALED TO TO HELP IN WAR BONDS

Secretary of Agriculture, In Telegram to Adviser Searles, Requests Special Efforts

ARE BEHIND AS CLASS

All Men With Available Money Are Urged to Help Country in Making Loan Success

Farmers of Yolo county have been personally appealed to to help the nation through the Liberty loan in a telegram received by County Farm Adviser N. P. Searles from D. F. Houston, United States secretary of agriculture. An urgent request is made in the communication, which has been sent to every county farm agent in the nation, to make special efforts to have the farmers as a class, strongly support the $5,000,000,000 loan during the final week. It is hinted at in the telegram that the farmers are falling behind the other classes of American industries in bond subscriptions and it is sought to make up this deficiency during the last days. Following is the message:

"N. P. Searles, Yolo county farm adviser,

I urge you to make a special effort during this concluding week of the Liberty Loan campaign to bring before the farmers of your county the need of large national response to the Liberty Loan and with each farmer of available funds doing his part. Emphasize importance of farmers not falling behind other classes in this contribution to the cause of freedom.

George Dinsdale Sends Picture Of His Illinois Camp

George Dinsdale, Woodland man, enlisted in the hospital corps at Monterey Presidio and was transferred to the Base Hospital at Camp Grant, Ill., sent to the "Democrat" today a splendid picture of his new location. The camp is just outside of Rock Island, which is a town about the size of Sacramento. The camp is on the bank of the Rock river, and it covers six miles.

Dinsdale is one of fifty who were sent east from Monterey, all of whom are in the base hospital.

"I am stationed in the operating room," he writes, "and am getting some splendid experience. We have some of the finest physicians and surgeons in America in our unit. I expect to leave here early in the fall for service overseas."

Tuesday is Red Letter Day for Liberty Bonds

County of Yolo and John Wohlfrom Estate Subscribe Total Of Hundred and Fifty Thousand—Smaller Purchasers Are Rushing in at Last Minute to Swell County's List.

Tuesday was one of those days which brought a cheerful smile to the faces of the members of the Yolo county liberty bond committee. Two large subscriptions helped to swell the total for the campaign. One was made by the county through its board of supervisors, the amount taken being $100,000, the other will be by the guardians of the estate of John Wohlfrom, for $50,000. Thirty-five other subscriptions were returned to Mr. Bush, chairman of the county committee, so the total for the day is rather encouraging to those who have spent practically all of their time at the work for the past two weeks.

The supervisors met in special session yesterday and the matter was presented by Mr. Bush. The members of the board had previously talked the matter over and at once did the patriotic service which will no doubt be endorsed by every citizen of the county. The funds used in the purchase are surplus in the various funds and the law provides that they may be invested in such manner as they have now been put to. The county was also a subscriber for the first liberty bonds in the amount of $30,000.

GERMAN BORN SUBSCRIBE

In the case of the Wohlfrom estate, a court order will have to be perfected, but Judge Anderson told the guardians that no safer investment could be found and indicated that the proper order would be made before Saturday. The Wohlfroms are all natives of Germany and their action is taken as an answer to some doubt which has existed as to the attitude of many American citizens, native of that country. At least "Uncle John" and his relatives have decisively answered for themselves.

Only four more days remain until the close of the sale of the bonds; if you have not yet bought your bond, do so at the first opportunity. There must be a considerable sum subscribed yet before the amount is reached which will place Yolo county among those who have done their full duty.

GREATER RESPONSE NEEDED IN BOND CAMPAIGN

With Less Than Three Days Left, County Is Far Behind Mark

With less than three days left before the books close for subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan, Yolo county was this afternoon considerably behind the mark set for it by the treasury department. Apparently aroused by the record of Glenn county in being the first county in the United States to subscribe its quota, and of Colusa county in bringing its total above the mark required, Yolo county people responded more readily to the loan plea today and sent the bond barometer on its way upward. The mercury is still in need of a strong lift, however, before it reaches the proper altitude.

Liberty Loan boosters will tonight visit Yolo to remind the people there of the proximity of the closing time, next Saturday noon.

SIXTY PER CENT OF YOLO MEETING TAKE BONDS

Enthusiastic Gathering Attends Session Conducted By County Liberty Loan Committee

SPEAKERS CREATE INTEREST AND AROUSE PATRIOTIC DUTY

J. E. Scarlett, Local Chairman, Of Drive, Presides and Calls Up on Three For Addresses

The town of Yolo responded in a most satisfactory manner to the appeal made last night for the sale of the second series of liberty bonds. A meeting was held in the town hall and considering the strong north wind, was well attended.

The meeting was called to order by J. E. Scarlett, who introduced C. W. Bush as chairman of the evening. Mr. Bush, as head of the Yolo county committee, lost no time in preliminaries, but immediately took up the subject of discourse. He presented the facts as compiled in figures and told his auditors of the personal responsibility resting on each individual in this bond campaign. His words carried conviction and he was closely attended in all his remarks.

E. E. GADDIS SPEAKS

E. E. Gaddis was the next speaker. He appealed more along patriotic lines. He delivered a strong address and proved himself a strong protagonist for the nation on the platform as well as in his position as chairman of the county exemption board.

W. F. Mixon followed Judge Gaddis. His province was to make the direct appeal to the audience for subscriptions and Yolo responded well. More than 60 per cent of those in the audience, including those who had previously subscribed, are numbered among holders of bonds in this issue. The result is very gratifying to the committee, and it was assured by many of those present that they will make it a personal duty to carry the message to those of their neighbors who were not present. The full result of the meeting cannot be measured until the close of the sale of bonds on Saturday. Patriotic music was led by A. W. Fox of this city.

COUNTY'S LOAN QUOTA STILL LONG WAY OFF; HOME SOLDIERS KEEP UP VIGOROUS DRIVE

Banks Report Better Response, But Further Energy Yet Needed

TWO MORE MEETINGS HERE

Neal Chalmers To Speak Again At Strand Tonight; Ball Friday

Yolo county's valiant home soldiers, the promoters of the second Liberty Loan, increased their efforts today to raise the subscription here to the allotted mark by Saturday noon. Citizens of the county are apparently awakening to the movement, for slightly increased business was reported this afternoon by the banks here. The men who are checking up the receipts said this afternoon, however, there's yet a "long, long trail" to be traversed before our quota is reached.

Tonight Neal Chalmers will give a four-minute bond talk at the Strand. Justice H. M. Ball will speak at the same place tomorrow night.

A public meeting will be held at Willow Oak Park this evening, with A. C. Murray as the principal speaker. All of the bond "regulars" will be on hand. Zamora and Esparto will be invaded Friday night for the last public demonstration in the county, with the exception of the visit of Governor Stephens to Winters, who will stop off Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to sound a last call.

Last night the bond boosters visited Yolo, and after the meeting was over new subscriptions and old ones brought the proportion of bond holders in the hall to sixty per cent of the audience. J. E. Scarlett was the chairman. The speakers were C. W. Bush, E. E. Gaddis and W. F. Mixon.

A meeting at Hood, Sacramento county, Tuesday evening, resulted in $15,000 worth of subscriptions, of which over half was taken by Yolo county people living in the vicinity of Clarksburg, across the river from Hood.

Red Cross Christmas Box Fast Taking Shape; Funds Flow In

A good bit of interest is being manifested in that Christmas box which the Red Cross is to send to the men who have enlisted and are serving from this county in the military camps.

It is necessary to state that the $50, or more which will be required to supply these boxes must come from a voluntary fund, as the laws of the Red Cross will not permit the using of the regular funds for such purposes. Those funds must be devoted only and directly for certain defined purposes.

No one is worrying about the funds however. It is certain that there will be a flood of donations just as soon as the public is aware of the situation. You need not give large sums; many small sums will be better, but give right away as the boxes must be on the way by the first week in November to assure proper delivery at Christmas. Donations should be given to J. I. McConnell at the Bank of Woodland, National Association. The list will be published from day to day.

OLD PAGE IN HISTORY

One donation received yesterday recalls a page of almost forgotten history in this city. It came from the old Federated Brotherhood, which had a leading part in the final campaign which closed the saloons in this city. When that campaign was successfully concluded there was a small sum of money left after all expenses had been paid. It was placed in a bank subject to the order of the finance committee. That committee met and determined that no more useful purpose could be found for it than to make happy some of our soldiers, so it was turned into the fund yesterday. Subscriptions thus far received are:

Federated Brotherhood	$ 76.65
Knights of Pythias	5.00
Chris Knight	5.00
J. I. McConnell	5.00
W. F. Mixon	5.00

His enlistment with the American aviators adds still another name to the long list of young men whom this county has sent for airplane service.

Esparto To Meet Friday Night For Final Bond Effort

The Yolo County Liberty Loan Committee has arranged for a public meeting to be held in Esparto Friday night, October 26, at the high school auditorium. A. G. Bailey will be the principal speaker, assisted by part of the county committee and a choir leader. M. O. Wyatt, Sam Schwab and W. T. Moore, working with C. F. George, who is a member of the county committee, will probably deliver short addresses and occupy a few minutes in the more intimate work of soliciting subscriptions.

The date was originally set for last Friday night.

Prior to the speaking a moving picture entertainment of several interesting reels from the state educational bureau will be furnished under the direction of Prof. L. R. Switzer of the high school.

There should be a rousing meeting and a generous response.

National Recruits Assigned to Co. F

A letter from a member of Yolo's contingent at Camp Kearney, San Diego, tells us that old company F has had an addition of 125 men from Camp Lewis, Washington. This is a portion of a contingent of 1800 men sent from the north to fill up the ranks of the various companies. Among the men who arrived was John Martinelli, who has been assigned to company H of Red Bluff. John says he likes the southern camp better than that in the north. He hoped to be assigned to the Woodland company, but did not succeed.

The letter also states that Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston, Mrs. Ethel Butzbach and Mr. and Mrs. Rablin have been visitors at the headquarters of the Woodland boys, their visit being undertaken to visit their son, brother and nephew, Darrel Johnston. All the boys are well.

AN ELEVENTH HOUR SMASH NOW ON FOR U. S. BONDS

Yolo Must "Hustle" to Reach Goal by Tomorrow Noon; Far From Top

"WHERE IS YOUR BUTTON?"

Campaign Ends Tonight With Big Meetings at Zamora And Esparto

There must be a flood of Liberty Bond buyers between today and tomorrow (Saturday) noon, if Yolo county is to "make good" for Uncle Sam. This county is one of the few in the Sacramento valley not yet "over the top" of its minimum allotment.

The "where's your button?" eleventh hour drive started today.

"Where's your button?" This will be the question asked of every one who does not display the "badge of honor."

The campaign closes tonight, with meetings at Esparto and Zamora. Six substantial subscriptions came in as a result of last night's meeting at Willow Oak Park. Attorney Alfred Murray talked impressively.

New Liberty Bond buyers reported today included the following:

Woodland Man Relates Unique Demonstration at Kelly Field; Urges All to Purchase Bonds

Al Hoover, Woodland man training for Uncle Sam's airplane service at Kelly Field, San Antonio, wrote today of a unique Liberty Loan demonstration made by the hundreds of aviators at his camp. Thousands of San Antonio citizens were thrilled by the daring feats of the aviators, who were determined to go the limit in giving the spectators a "good time" and to inspire them to lend money to make possible the purchase of airships, and machine guns, and gas masks, and all the other varied paraphernalia accompanying modern warfare. So successful were the efforts of the soldiers that the camp's bond subscription passed the $625,000 mark.

"The program for the demonstration was in two parts," writes Hoover. "The first was the inspection of Kelly Field No. 2. With ten thousand men lined up in military formation behind the long line of airplanes, five machines rose one after the other in the face of the high wind and made daring flights. The second portion included speaking, mass singing and the music of the military band.

"By 2:30 o'clock, when the exhibition flights were to begin, between four and five thousand civilians in automobiles had parked their cars the whole length of the field on the Rio City Road. In front of them extended an equal'v long line of airplanes, small ones, large ones, planes of more kinds and shapes than the public had ever seen before.

"The appearance of Col. W. D. Chitty, commandant, and his staff was the signal for activity in the waiting lines. With a whirring of motors, the planes rose into the air one at a time and circled above the heads of the spectators. The first plane to rise flew the French flag and carried Lieutenant Marquisan and Lieutenant Paffly, the French instructors at the field. Other planes rose rapidly, but the final and most daring flight was made by Maj. H. B. Burwell. His plane carried the stars and stripes, and as it rose into the air the crowd cheered lustily."

"In spite of the fact that the rain, which had been threatening off and on all the afternoon and had broken into showers from time to time, now came down in a solid sheet, the men crowded around the tables, which had been stationed in front of the speakers' stand, and began signing up for bonds."

Franks Farish Gives Soldier's Reasons For Civilians Taking Bonds to Their Full Capacity

A Liberty Bond plea of telling force came today from one of the soldiers preparing for service in Europe. Franks Farish wrote the "Democrat" from Vancouver Barracks, Wash., in this wise:

"We have been reading that the second Liberty Loan is not being taken up as fast as it should be. We are told here in camp that nothing could jolt the kaiser more at this time than another over-subscription of government bonds. It would show that the people of the United States are solidly behind the administration. If the people in civil life would follow the example of men in uniform, who have subscribed beyond what could be reasonably expected of them, we would undoubtedly see before long an end to the great slaughter of lives across the seas, since money is needed by the allies at this time more than men."

Farish writes that his company of 150 men subscribed to $10,000 worth of bonds, although the great majority of them are receiving only $30 per month. Buying the bonds on the payment plan, they are giving up $5 a month out of their wages. All but four in Farish's company subscribed, each taking from one to four $50 bonds.

The Woodland man, who is with Company D of the 4th Engineers, says his company is being taught every one of the duties of the army engineer on the battle line.

Willow Oak Park Is Told of Bonds

Liberty Bond Committee Conducts Meeting at Fair Sized Crowd

The liberty bond committee met last night with the residents of the Willow Oak Park section to bring directly to their attention the fact that every portion of the county is expected to participate in the subscription to the quota assigned to Yolo county.

A fair sized attendance was at the meeting and several of those present signed the application blanks of purchase. Mr. C. W. Bush and W. F. Mixon spoke for the committee and A. C. Murray made the main address of the evening. Measured by other meetings the Willow Oak Park gathering would be accounted satisfactory. The committee goes to Blacks tonight for the last meeting of the present campaign, which closes on Saturday at noon.

YOLO MUST NOT FORGET RED CROSS

(By G. P. Hurst, of Yolo Red Cross Membership Committee.)

Although one-fourth of our people have contributed, each, one or more dollars to the Red Cross work, it must not be thought that the task of providing for our boys at the front is done. The necessities of our liberty's defenders grow with every day that passes. Our boys abroad are now ready to enter the trenches and winter with its mud and snow and cold rains will be there also. The soldier who stands or wades in mud and water and snow must have frequent changes of warm socks, mittens, mufflers and warm under-clothing or he will be in as much danger from pneumonia as from the enemy's bullets. You perhaps have paid your dollar. Have the other members of the family done "their bit"? Where possible, every member, from the grandmother to the baby, should have a part in this war for human liberty—to make the whole world safe and democratic.

We are getting ready for a new drive for members. Don't wait to be asked. Let your children each give 25 cents and join the Red Cross Juniors. Let every grown-up give a dollar at least and help the cause and our brave defenders.

Zamora to be Host To Many Tonight

Zamora is "all set" for the grand ball, bond meeting, and dedicatory program that are to formally open its new town hall this evening. Visitors from Woodland and other parts of the county are being made ready for by the committee, which has been working for the last fortnight to make this evening's event worthy of the people of northern Yolo county. Neal Chalmers, and perhaps the Rev. W. E. Bobbitt will be the principal bond speakers.

Tonight's affair is being handled by the general hall committee, Ed Clover, P. T. Foster, Fred Wild, S. C. Barner, and G. E. Schlosser Jr.

Letters from the BOYS

Harry W. Spindler, principal of the Davis public school, was in command of the third contingent of Yolo county selected conscripts sent to Camp Lewis last October. He is now at a camp near New York. Spindler has written a letter to Miss Harriett Lee, county school superintendent, from which the "Democrat" has been permitted to take the following extracts:

From the very start it has been wonderful. The men from Woodland submitted themselves so readily to discipline and showed themselves to be such real, patriotic men that I really shed tears of pride. The people all along the way treated us like gentlemen. That was one of the wonderful things to me, when I considered how some of the troop trains behaved.

The flags were bought by the Yolo boys as a whole, and unanimously voted to the grammar schools of Yolo county. They are not much to look at, but the thing they represent to be is wonderful.

At Camp Lewis we were assigned to a company composed of Yolo, Yuba and Mendocino men. After a few weeks we began to transfer men to other organizations. I had an opportunity to go with the first assignment to join the California National Guard at Linda Vista, but on the advice of our company commander I stayed. Everything would have been fine if the War Department had not decided to discontinue ten battalions the first of November. Our company was one of the first to die a sudden death.

"At this time all the training companies were mere skeletons. As the one to which I was assigned had all its own non-commissioned officers I hardly had a chance to make good again in time to be recommended for the third O. T. C. Several of the officers with whom I had been in contact seemed to think that I had a better chance if I transferred to a permanent organization. So when a call came for 12,000 men to go to New York, I asked to be allowed to go. I acted as first sergeant of our company on the way across and received a couple of fine letters of recommendation.

Here I was assigned to the supply company of the 162d Infantry. It used to be the 3d Oregon National Guard. Everything was topsy-turvy here in preparation for crossing "over."

Last month was the month when the new Soldiers' Insurance and Allotment law went into effect. Writing insurance applications, filling out allotment blanks, and then making out a most complicated payroll was my lot for over two weeks. I worked hard at Camp Lewis but this was the limit. I enjoyed every moment of it, though.

We are all finished, packed up, and marking time. Practically all of this division has gone and we expect the word at any moment. We have received it three times in the last two weeks, but, for some mysterious reason, it has always been changed. We slept on the ground in all our clothes last night and may have to do the same tonight. My writing desk is the carrying case of our Corona typewriter, so you must not be critical.

There are still two of the boys with me who were in the contingent that left Woodland October 17. The others are in a dozen different organizations.

You can see monotony is not one of the banes of our existence. We are just at the end of one of the worst blizzards the people have seen in years. Many of our tents blew down. I shall certainly be able to picture Washington's winter at Valley Forge if I ever have the opportunity of teaching that part of American history again.

You will be interested in knowing that these soldiers are the cleanest group of young men I have ever seen, or expect to see. I mean mentally and morally as well as physically. I feel that our draft law has proven a most wonderful expression of democracy. Kaiser Bill will probably feel the same way if he lives through this war.

My opportunities for taking advantage of leaves of absence have been limited, but on Thanksgiving day our first lieutenant urged me to accept an invitation to a dinner and dance given by a Parent-Teachers' Red Cross Club at Cranford, New Jersey, to fifty soldiers and sailors. Since then I have buried my pet phrase of "Western hospitality." The east has it in its best form. Our own mothers and sisters could not have treated us with greater respect and confidence than did these people. Of course an intangible sense of gloom, unnoticed by most, hovered far in the background of one's consciousness. We certainly had a real evening, however.

"There is no state that compares with California from a productive standpoint," writes Wylie Chalmers, Woodland boy who is with the U. S. Quartermaster Corps at Camp Johnston, Jacksonville, Florida. In a letter just received by the "Democrat" Chalmers writes, in part:

After five days of traveling, reached our camp safely, about nine miles out of Jacksonville, and I can say we were all mighty glad of it. Coming by the southern route there is no state that compares with California from a productive standpoint.

The Y. M. C. A. training quarters are new and very neatly arranged. There are in the neighborhood of 10,000 in training at the present time and the accommodations appear to hold that many more.

The climate up to now has been warm, but there is a light cold wind blowing at present.

Wishing you all a merry Christmas and prosperous New Year, I am, as ever,

WYLIE CHALMERS.

Walker Apperson, formerly accountant in the Home Savings Bank here, is now in France, judging from letters just received from New York. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Apperson, believe that his transfer to the Forestry division has been effected.

His new address is given as follows: Company H, 161st U. S. Infantry, American Expeditionary Forces, France, via New York.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Evans received a letter last night from their son, Manderson, advising them that he and Arthur Hardy, a college mate at U. C., had joined the U. S. Signal Corps in New York. They will receive ten weeks' training in aeronautics at Cornell University. Kenneth Evans also had tried to enlist, but was rejected because of poor eyesight.

YOLO SETS PACE FOR NATION IN BUYING ALMOST ONE MILLION IN LIBERTY BONDS

FIGURES SHOW $60 BOND FOR EVERY RESIDENT IN COUNTY; $20 NORMAL PER CAPITA RATIO

Citizens of Yolo county bought over $900,000 worth of the Government's second Liberty Bonds, or about $250,000 more than minimum amount asked of this section.

Based on the bank deposits and a population of 15,000 this is a subscription of $60 per capita, while throughout the United States the appeal was for but $20 per capita. Yolo's record will probably not be surpassed by any other county of similar population in the United States.

Actual figures obtained by the Yolo Liberty Bond committee at press time, showed that $897,750 had been paid into Yolo's banks for bonds. The two banks at Winters and the Bank of Esparto will remain open until night-fall, which assures a total subscription of over $900,000.

The actual amount will not be known before Monday, as letters with checks for bonds are expected to be straggling in until that day.

Yolo bought $661,350 worth of the first issue of Liberty Bonds, a per capita "bit" of $40.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS SIGN TO AID FARMERS

High school boys will take advantage of next week's holiday period by heeding the call of the farmer and helping him out with his crops. Nearly every one of the 115 boys on Principal W. M. Hyman's register will be somewhere in the fields this coming week. More than fifty started work this morning. Mr. Hyman was appealed to by different farmers in the county to line up his boys to work, and at a meeting yesterday nearly the whole enrollment asked employment. Professor Kellogg, of the agriculture course, helped the farmers and the boys to get together.

Elks Initiate Three Then Feast on Roast Duck; 120 Answer

Friday night deserves a big red mark on the calendar of local Elksdom. At least 120 of the lodgemen answered roll call, watched the initiation of three neophytes, and then "sat in" at a feast of roast duck.

A delectable collection of 125 ducks, gathered by a committee of five Elks who were assisted by several sportsmen in the lodge, was cooked to the proper point in the bake-ovens of E. C. Gisselbrecht, another Elk. The birds were served steaming hot, along with sweet potatoes, hot rolls, pumpkin pie, and coffee. P. T. Laugenour, Sr., W. O. Kean, F. L. Mattei, J. L. Hare and William Roach are the men who furnished the ducks, either from their own foragings or from contributions by fellow members.

The three men initiated are W. r Boyce, W. H. Daily, and Home Howard.

RUSH TO BUY BONDS AFTER GOV. STEPHENS MAKES PLEA

State's Executive Addresses People of Winters In Final Rally

Governor Stephens visited Winters this morning in his last-minute rally for the war bonds. Arriving from Napa shortly before ten o'clock, the governor was greeted by hundreds of people, some of whom had come from Solano county. That his visit was fruitful was evidenced by the bond-purchasing rush that followed. At one bank four clerks were kept busy filling out subscriptions. The banks will remain open all day to accommodate late comers.

Woodland was officially represented at today's meeting by Superior Judge Anderson, who with the governor and Judge W. T. O'Donnell of Solano county, shared the speaking honors, H. R. Saunders, C. C. McDonald, and E. N. Archer, of the county council of defense; and A. A. Powers, county probation officer.

Governor Stephens spoke for twenty minutes upon the profound responsibilities resting on the commonwealth during the prosecution of a great war such as the United States is now waging. According to the Woodland men, the governor, always a forceful and an inspiring orator, was at his best today in pleading the cause of national support. The addresses of Judge Anderson and Judge O'Donnell were listened to with marked attention and both men were seen to have made strong impressions.

Lawrence Wilson, former assemblyman, acted as chairman. Governor Stephens left between 11 and 12 o'clock for Fairfield.

General Response of Yolo County To Second Liberty Bond Drive Inspiring, But Names
Of Many Wealthy Yolo Citizens Are Missing

In over-subscribing the allotment of Liberty Bonds, the community again demonstrated their loyalty. The response was manifest on all sides. Citizens are coming in today, telling us they had subscribed to the bonds, and they believed the slogan of the day: "U. S. bonds are the safest investment." The story of the success of the drive, it looked as though the banks, it was practically the entire allotment, in particular, would not have been able to do so. However, the records disclose that from whom much was rightly expected. General subscriptions. THE COMMITTEE FINDS TOO MANY WEALTHY CITIZENS WHOSE NAMES ARE MISSING FROM THE LIST. TO HAVE "SLACKERED" ON THE BOND DRIVE. Bonds are actually in sympathy with the democratic cohorts? The evidence is in the fact that the Government is actually against us in the most successful year experienced, the Government is probably the largest of the greatest system of wheat, rice, barley and bean storage facilities on the Pacific coast, are already available and plans and specifications are being made.

With the announcement of the building of the big warehouses, President J. H. Stephens of the Pacific Rice Growers' Association, says the organization he heads is planning to erect a great rice mill at Sacramento.

The need of such a mill and the use of large elevator and warehouse facilities is emphasized at this particular time with the rice harvest in full swing. A majority of the growers are utilizing every available warehouse, although it frequently necessitates hauling the cereal for many miles. Others are building temporary warehouses.

CALIFORNIA GETS 39 THOUSAND FOR SCHOOLS SUPPORT

Allotments totaling $423,532, the first federal grants of money to the states under the Smith-Hughes vocational education act, were made Thursday by the federal board to seven states which have complied with the law by submitting plans for the promotion of vocational education and agreeing to match every federal dollar with money publicly raised by the state or local community.

The total available for use during the current fiscal year is $1,800,000 and an equal amount must be raised by the states. Thirty-five states so far have submitted their plans for approval. Negotiations are in progress between the federal board and states which have not yet submitted any plans.

Among the states to which grants have been made California has been allotted these amounts: Agriculture, $9197; industrial, $17,375; training courses, $12,972.

Rev. L. P. Shearer, formerly of this city, has protested through the Willows Journal against the irreverent, fanatical, sacrilegious prayer chain in behalf of our soldiers. "One has just come to me," says Rev. Shearer, "presumably copied and sent on by some well-meaning person. Do not drag religion in the dust by such methods."

WOMEN HAVE THEIR TROUBLES.

Not only middle-aged women, but younger ones, too, suffer from backache, pains in side, swollen ankles, sore muscles, rheumatic pains and kindred ailments without knowing that these are most often the result of deranged or overworked kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills are good medicine for kidney trouble. Sold by Corner Drug Store.

SEES BIGGER MARKET.

The report that France is to put an embargo on all rice exportations from her colonies has reached the California growers, and President Stephens believes this will open up a much broader market for the Sacramento valley produce, as California will be called upon to supply the countries that have previously imported their rice from the French colonies.

The rice harvest is turning out better than expected, and on many farms the cereal is running as high as 109 pounds to the bag. The average is 98 to 100.

Speaking of the quality of this year's Sacramento valley rice, J. A. Foster, manager of the big mills at Lake Charles, La., said it is the finest Japanese rice grown in the world.

War, Non-Support

U. C. Farm Paper

Because its editor, W. C. Tesche, and Manager C. M. Seibert, expect to be called into military service, the Agricultural Journal, a publication of the University of California agricultural students, will be discontinued. This decision was made at a meeting of the Agricultural Club last night. Non-support from the students is also one of the reasons for the closing down of the publication.

M. H. Houser, federal grain commissioner for the Northwest, announces that he has received confirmation of reports that large quantities of Australian wheat are being shipped here. "The Australian wheat," Mr. Houser said, "will be available for milling here, and this will release a corresponding amount of Northwest wheat for shipment overland to Chicago."

START IN SECURING PLEDGES

WHOLE COUNTY IS AT WORK
TODAY TO CONSERVE
FOOD SUPPLY

TWELVE NAMED TO COVER
WOODLAND; 15 MORE
ARE WORKING

Work of securing food pledges from heads of Yolo county households began today and will continue all this week, which is being observed throughout the nation as Food Pledge Week. Every county in the United States is to be covered to enlist the help of the home managers in conserving the food supply in order to insure plenty of food for our own soldiers and to enable our allies to be fed while helping to destroy Prussian militarism.

REQUESTS MADE ARE ENTIRELY REASONABLE.

Every community in the county has a chairman in the work that began today, these having been appointed by Mrs. H. E. Coil, who is chairman of the women's committee of the councils of state and national defense. These deputies are to visit every household in their community and they will in all possible cases talk with the husband as well as the wife. The request will be to save one pound of white flour a week and to economize in the use of sugar, meats, and fats. No one will be asked to reduce his or her normal diet. The deputies are instructed to take the name and the reasons of any one refusing to sign the pledge. Pledges may be secured also at the library here and at the board of trade rooms.

EVERY CIVIC BODY
HELPING IN WORK.

Sunday the pledges were distributed at the churches of the city. The conservation movement this week has enlisted the help of the men's and women's councils of defense in this county, the ministers of all the churches, heads of clubs, lodges, and banks, the Betsy Ross girls, and the Boy Scouts.

Here are the names of the twelve men and women who will circulate the pledges in this city:

Judge W. A. Anderson, H. H. Gable, G. H. Hecke, Mrs. E. A. Bullard, Mrs. F. Meier, Mrs. W. F. Mixon Sr., Mrs. E. E. Leake, Mrs. H. K. Brown, Mrs. D. Johnston, Mrs. J. L. Hare, Mrs. D. B. Guile and Miss Eleanor iHtt.

STRONG ADDRESS SPEEDS PAIR ON WAY TO SERVICE

One of the features of the send-off given the two drafted colored boys from Woodland this morning, Porter Diggs and J. R. Clark, was an impromptu address by Rev. J. M. Riddle, late of Pasadena. The colored minister, who has himself applied to be named chaplain in the United States army, and who may be persuaded to take charge of ministerial work at the Second Baptist church in Woodland, declared that the "black boys" can be depended upon to do their duty in the war crisis.

In part, Rev. Riddle said:

"As the morning sun peeps from behind the Orient and takes its course westward, we are proud to meet here to give expression to that spirit of patriotism that instinctively wells up in our hearts. In sending our boys into camp preparatory to going to war we are defending our doctrine of human liberty and are extending our ideas of democratic principles over the entire world.

KAISER MUST PAY PRICE FOR HIS DEPREDEDATIONS

"WE ARE TEACHING THE KAISER THAT HE CANNOT DESTROY OUR MEN AND WOMEN ON THE HIGH SEAS AND IGNORE OUR DOCTRINES OF DEMOCRACY WITHOUT PAYING THE PRICE FOR IT IN THE BLOOD OF HIS OWN SUBJECTS.

"BLACK BOYS" HAVE ALWAYS BEEN FIGHTERS.

Our black boys in going to war are expressing that spirit of patriotism that has always characterized the colored race. For the Revolutionary War we purchased the liberty of our country with the blood of these black men as well as with the blood of the white men. FOR, IN THE LANGUAGE OF THE POET BURNS, WHITE OR BLACK, "A MAN'S A MAN FOR A' THAT." We helped to beard the British lion in the high seas in the war of 1812, and in the war of 1861 we gave 200,000 of our best blood and we have one million more to put into this war to further the doctrines of human liberty.

GREAT TO DIE FOR CAUSE OF RIGHTEOUSNESS.

If we must pay the price of human blood to further the doctrines of human liberty, we'll do it and do it gladly. If we must cross the turbulent Atlantic and go into the trenches in Europe, WRAP THE FLAG AND STRIPES AND STARS ABOUT YOU AND SEAL THE DOCTRINE OF LIBERTY AND DEMOCRACY WITH YOUR OWN BLOOD. GO HOME AND REPORT TO GOD THAT YOU'VE DONE THE BEST YOU COULD.

BAND'S PLAYING HELPS CLARK TO LEAVE ON TIME

Had it not been for the band's playing at the electric depot this morning the draft increment leaving here would have consisted of but one man instead of two, for Joseph Richard Clark was still sleeping like a dead man at 6:30 when the band started work. He made a quick trip to the station and was on hand when the train left at seven.

Porter Diggs, Clark's mate, was made captain of the entertainment. He was asked by Chairman Gaddis if he had ever been captain of anything before.

"Yes, ah been captain of a football team already," answered Diggs.

FIGURES EXCEED ESTIMATE

REPORT TODAY FROM BANKS SHOWS BOND TOTAL
$913,350

PER CAPITA AVERAGE FOR BANKS IN WOODLAND
IS $134

Final reports made by all of the banks this morning disclosed that citizens of Yolo county subscribed for $913,350 worth of Liberty Bonds. A few subscriptions are yet expected, but the total sum announced today will not be materially advanced.

WOODLAND'S PER CAPITA CONTRIBUTION MARVELOUS.

Of the $913,350 subscribed for the entire county, the sum of $738,650 was subscribed through the banks in Woodland. Based on a population of 5500, the per capita bond subscription from Woodland is slightly over $134. In other words, the figures show that a $134 bond was bought for each person in this city.

WINTERS RUNS SECOND TO WOODLAND DISTRICT.

Winters' response ranked next to Woodland's. The total subscriptions accounted for by the two banks at that place amounts to $69,650. The Esparto district ranked third with a total of $54,100. Davis placed fourth with $42,950. Citizens of Clarksburg contributed $8000.

NORTHERN CITIES HELP
SWELL WOODLAND'S TOTAL.

The subscriptions from Knights Landing are figured in Woodland's total. Bonds bought by cities in the western part of the county were mostly represented in the aggregates reported by the banks of Winters and Esparto. Subscriptions from Zamora, Dunnigan, Yolo and elsewhere in the northern part of the county were divided mostly between the banks in Woodland.

SATISFACTORY ANSWER TO KAISER & CO.

Yolo county's total subscription was $251,343 more than her minimum allotment and $189,995 less than her maximum lot. Considering that Yolo was "assessed" for more bonds than all of the other counties in the valley, excepting Sacramento and Butte, the returns here are a decisive rebuke to Kaiserism.

YOLO HAS CAUSE TO BE PROUD.

Colusa, Glenn, El Dorado, Plumas, Sierra and Sutter counties were the sections in this district that reached their maximum allotment, but none of these counties was required to furnish as much as Yolo. Sacramento and Butte were the only counties that subscribed sums in excess of Yolo's total, and both of these districts outstrip Yolo in population.

COLORED DRAFTED ENTRAIN

CLARK AND DIGGS LEAVE FOR CAMP LEWIS AS BAND PLAYS

REPRESENTATIVE CROWD
RISES EARLY TO ADD TO SENDOFF

This community's first increment of drafted colored men left this morning for Sacramento to entrain there with four hundred others of their race for Camp Lewis, Washington. Porter Diggs and Joseph Richard Clark comprised the increment. Diggs was captain.

"BILL'S BAND STIRRED UP REPRESENTATIVE CROWD.

Although their departure was at an early hour, 7 o'clock, there was a representative gathering of friends at the Northern Electric depot to bid the boys farewell. Thanks to the men who subscribed to "Bill's" music list, the Woodland Band enlivened the occasion with patriotic airs. A chorus of colored people sang America, adding an original touch to it with words composed by Mrs. M. F. Gaither of Esparto.

FRIENDS ACCOMPANY PAIR TO SACRAMENTO.

Rev. J. M. Riddle, late of Pasadena, aroused enthusiasm with a short address.

The two drafted boys then boarded the train for Sacramento, accompanied by a few friends who will remain with them until their departure for the northern camp.

SING "AMERICA," ORIGINAL VERSION

An inspiring incident of this morning's program at the electric depot was the singing of "America" to words composed by Mrs. M. F. Gaither of Esparto, who wrote them in honor of this county's two colored national army soldiers. Here are the words:

God bless our splendid boys;;
Bring them safe home again.
God bless our boys.
Keep them victorious,
Patient and glorious.
They are so dear to us:
God save our boys.

As they go from us, Lord,
Let them expect reward;
Be Thou their guide.
In all their conflicts be,
That they may plainly see
That Thou are leading them:
God bless our boys.

National Food Pledge Week Under Way

Yolo County Workers Open Intensive Campaign

All Housewives Will Be Asked to Sign

All Sections of County Will Be Visited in Work

With more than a score of workers in the field, the Yolo county division of the California Women's committee of councils of National and State defense, yesterday launched their Food Pledge week campaign in co-operation with the movement which is sweeping the nation this week to promote economy in the use of foods so that our own troops and those of our allies may be properly supplied. The local campaign is to stretch to the remotest reaches of the county and that housewife who is not visited and asked to sign the pledge to help in this great work may well feel slighted.

As explained the movement is one in which the President and the United States Food Administrator have asked that every householder and the head of every family in the nation sign an agreement to accept membership on the United States food administration and to carry out its direction in their homes in so

This is a war work in response to This is a war work in response to the appeal of our President and not a request of any member of the committee or the chairman. It does not mean that those signing the cards must deprive themselves of food, but rather it is the idea of President Wilson in carrying out his broad plan of uniting the people of the country in a consciousness of the war.

The signatures are to be personally solicited by a corps of twenty-eight workers which has been appointed by Mrs. H. E. Coil, chairman of the Yolo county committee, and on which all centers of population in the county are represented. A great deal of the time of those officials will be spent during the week in procuring the solid enlistment of the housewives into the service of conservation. To aid in the work the presidents of all lodges, clubs and banks, the Boy Scouts, the Campfire Girls and the Betsy Ross Girls will be mobilized, a working force which will be able to cover the county in the allotted time and enroll the head of every family.

Following is the list of directors to work in Woodland and other section of the county:

NEW LAW WILL NOT PREVENT RELEASE

Provision Made For Families Of Drafted Is Not to Make Them Go

BULLETIN COMES TO THOMAS

Provost Marshal Crowder Gives Details of Law Covering Support of Kin

C. W. Thomas Sr., who was named last August by Governor Stephens to represent the government in all appeals from the rulings of the Yolo Exemption Board in draft cases, received today from the adjutant general a circular fixing the status of married men under the provision for dependents' allowance. The bulletin indicates that few married men will be denied exemption on account of the new government allowances for national army men's families.

Sons who only partly support their parents will find it harder than before to get exemption on that ground. Virtually, the only married men who will be affected are those whose families are supported partly by income from other sources.

Although Provost Marshal General Crowder is careful to say that his letter is "merely informative, not directive," he is "confident that the provisions of the army allowance act will be of considerable aid in disposing of requests to reopen dependency cases," and suggests that boards "withhold definite action on specific cases until copies of this act are placed in their hands."

HOW LAW WORKS.

The government will pay, on application, $15 a month to a wife alone, $25 to a wife and one child, $32.50 to a wife and two children, and $5 apiece for each additional child, provided the whole allowance does not go over $50. A motherless child gets $5, two $12.50, three $20, and so on, and there is an allowance of $10 for a parent and $5 for a sister, brother or grandchild. Besides this allowance, the drafted man must send a fixed amount, in some cases as high as $15, out of his monthly $30 to his wife or child.

YOLO COLORED CONTINGENT ENTRAINS TO CAMP

J. P. DIGGS, Upper, And J. R. Clark, Lower, Two Yolo County Colored Boys Who Left for Army Monday

James Porter Diggs and Joe Dick Clark Are Sent North To Enter Into Training

PATRIOTIC FAREWELL

Rev. J. M. Riddle Delivers Ringing Charge to Boys in Talk Bidding Good-Bye

Yolo county's colored contingent to the national draft army departed for service yesterday morning at an early hour, but amid a scene of farewell as patriotic and enthusiastic as has occurred on any previous entrainment of men for the training camp at American Lake. James Porter Diggs and Joseph Richard Clark were the two men who went forth to join the colors at the call of their country. They left at 7 o'clock in the morning for Sacramento where they joined others from all over the state later in the day for the north. Diggs was named as captain of the two.

The farewell address was delivered by the Rev. J. M. Riddle, late of Pasadena, who is a prospective occupant of the pulpit of the Woodland Second Baptist church. He expressed from fine thoughts in sending his "Black Boys" away to do their duty, charging them with the responsibility of upholding the glorious record of their race in previous wars of America. And no doubt the two who left Woodland yesterday are the men capable of living up to such a charge.

Final Draft Departure Set For Next Monday; Seventeen To Go Instead of Fourteen

With the naming of Walker Apperson as captain, Chairman E. E. Gaddis today completed arrangements for the sending away of Yolo county's last contribution to the national army for the first draft call. The men are to gather next Sunday at 10 o'clock for roll call, and will leave Monday on the 10:37 train for Camp Lewis. Both the second and the third contingents answered roll on Sunday and left on Monday.

In order to fill vacancies caused by rejections on account of physical deficiencies Adjutant General Borree instructed the board here to select three men in addition to the fourteen necessary to bring the county's total to 107. When the next seventeen men have entrained this county will have sent away 110 men. Of these, six have come home already.

The six names added to the list of twenty-four eligibles already published are Paul Nonella, Wylie Chalmers, Leroy A. Harris, Elmo E. Johnson, Carl Reichard and Joseph E. Terk. The seventeen men leaving here Monday will be selected from the order below, the first seventeen reported

ing to be taken. Here is the order list:

SIMPSON HELPING REBUILD FRANCE

Woodland Man Chief Assistant
M. Chevrillon In Work
Rehabilitation

WRITES FOR NEW REPUBLIC

Letter Home Tells of Reunion
With Russ Lowe, Chum
At High School

John L. Simpson, young Woodland man who worked with Herbert Hoover when the latter was a member of the American Commission for Relief in Belgium, and then helped to direct the food survey in France after America's entrance into the war, now is chief assistant to M. Chevrillon in the work of reconstructing and rehabilitating northern France.

Simpson's offices are at Paris and he is working under the supervision of the French government. Letters are coming to his relatives here every three weeks. Formerly they arrived at broken intervals, being delayed on their way to the French coast.

A reunion with his former Woodland high school chum, Russell Lowe, was told of in a recent letter Lowe, who left Woodland last summer, brought to Simpson a remembrance from the latter's mother and sister here. The two young men had a merry reunion at Paris.

MEN WELL TREATED AT CAMP LEWIS, SAYS CHARLES DOLL

A glimpse into the comforts and life of the national army recruit at Camp Lewis at American Lake was brought home to Woodland yesterday with the return of Charles Doll of Winters, who was sent to the camp with the second increment from Yolo county. Doll was rejected on physical grounds, the army physicians finding his heart not quite normal.

The Yolo county man was rejected upon his arrival at camp but was granted the request that he be given something else to do than go into the ranks and was put in the kitchen as cook. Later he was advanced to mess sergeant, having 257 men to feed three times a day. At this task he served for 20 days, then being taken ill and sent to the hospital. Upon his recovery he was discharged.

POOR CARE STORIES FALSE

"All these stories that one may hear of poor food and treatment for the boys in camp are all false," said Doll yesterday evening. "The care is so good that many men are getting even better than they had at home and grumbling is never heard, except possibly now and then by someone who has had no conditions to face other than mother's care.

"In my position as mess sergeant I was able to know exactly the kind of food that was served and it was good enough for the most critical. It is not uncommon for the men to get steaks for breakfast, with all the other necessities to keep the body in good health. Luxuries are even indulged in, such as pies, cake and the like and the men have access to stores in the camp at which they may buy many delicacies.

LIBERAL EXPENSE ALLOWED

"Each day a company mess sergeant is given a side of beef and he must make it do for the three meals. He can serve it as he sees fit but he must keep a careful record of just what it is costing him. He is allowed 39 1/2 cents a day for every man and with this it is simple to provide the best.

"Outside of the meals the men have the best of care and opportunities for recreation and pleasure. Each barracks has a piano which is at the disposal of the men and outdoor sports are plentiful. Football, baseball, track athletics, tennis, basketball, swimming and the like are freely indulged in and anyone may participate. In addition to this the government supports a theater and the best talent is brought to the camps.

"The health of the men is one of the more important cares of the camp. Every precaution is taken to guard against uncleanness. The kitchens are scrubbed once a day with lye water while the mess tables get a bath three times a day. The beds of the men are diligently looked after and must be made each morning just so. Scores of men are kept busy at all times in keeping the camp in shape and it has the appearance of the best kept city.

"I was really disappointed at leaving," said Doll in conclusion, "so satisfied was I with all conditions and treatment which we received."

BOXES BEING MADE READY

Chairman McConnell Wants
More Money and He Wants It Now

If the subscriptions continue to pour in as they have ever since the plea of J. I. McConnell appeared in Tuesday's "Democrat," Yolo's soldier boys will receive a substantial remembrance "from home" on Christmas Day. The fund that had remained stationary for several days suddenly began to swell, and today McConnell reported that $162.65 had been contributed. McConnell has placed $300 as the minimum amount needed to carry out the work, but there is no maximum figure.

If you have not yet subscribed your mite, do it NOW. McConnell is handling the entire fund at his office in the Yolo County Savings Bank.

The largest subscription to be turned in yet was given by the Federated Brotherhood.

Red Cross workers started today the task of packing the 300 Yolo county boxes that will be sent from here. The work is going at the Yolo County Board of Trade offices. Each box will contain a quantity of staple provisions, chocolates and writing paper. The articles were selected according to the instructions of the National Red Cross Association. The boxes will be shipped to San Francisco, from which center they will be consigned by the Pacific division of the Red Cross.

If your name is not among the subscribers get busy at once. Surely, you'll not deem it too great a sacrifice to help bring cheer to our "Sam-mies" who are enlisted to do or die for you and your country.

Four-Minute Help For Food Pledges To Start Tonight

Are Lester Johnson, Neal Zane and Ashley Worley, all of Woodland, on their way for "over there?"

The fact that the Johnston, Zane and Worley families have not heard from their soldier sons for three weeks leads them to believe that they are now dodging U-boats and will soon be in France, or some other friendly country.

Young Johnston, Zane and Worley, along with Irving Bostwick, also of Woodland, enlisted with the California Engineering Corps. They tented at Camp Fremont until their departure for Cottage City, Long Island, New York, last September.

HOPE TO DRILL IN UNIFORMS ERE LONG

Movement to Equip Woodland's Home Guards Delayed By Other Projects

MEMBERS WILL BUY GUNS

Guards Here First to Gather In State; Roll Call More Than Required

Woodland's valiant company of Home Guards, the first to be organized in California, and numbering a membership far above the standard quota, is soon to be equipped with uniforms, if the efforts of a committee appointed to raise funds for the purpose are successful. The matter of dressing up the Home Guards was temporarily shelved by the Liberty loan drive and the food pledge campaign closing this week, but now the five committeemen, J. D. Harling, chairman, C. Q. Nelson, Smith Scott, L. Stephens and C. W. Bush, hope to be able to start work.

75 UNIFORMS WILL COST $1200.

Seventy-five uniforms are needed, and the total cost will be about $1200. The guards have agreed to buy their own guns as soon as they get the uniforms. There are several in the company past the age limit of 60, and these will buy their entire equipment, for the regulation age is from 18 to 60 years. There are also a number of boys drilling under 18, and these are included in the 75 regular members.

GUARDS ORGANIZED SOON AFTER WAR CALL.

The Woodland Home Guards organized immediately after the declaration of war, with W. H. Curson as captain, Will Rawson first lieutenant, A. W. Cox second lieutenant, and Chester Addison sergeant. They drill Monday and Thursday evenings. They are using armory hall through the courtesy of the Bank of Yolo, F Company having given up its lease on the building last month.

GUARDS ALREADY HAVE UNIFORMS.

Although numbering but thirty members, many more having been taken in the draft, the guards at Davis already have their uniforms, bought by regular subscription.

The necessity for the Home Guard of the state buying their own equipment followed the announcement of the federal government that it is not authorized to support the guards, nor the state empowered to do so. Only the national guard is supported by the federal government, and the state officials have advised men desiring military training to join the new national guard companies being organized over the state.

BORREE TRIED TO PROVIDE EQUIPMENT.

Adjutant General J. J. Borree was once turned down at Washington when he appealed for rifles and other equipment for the men who desire to enlist in the home organization.

LAST OF DRAFTED ENTRAIN MONDAY

Roll Call Tomorrow at Ten, When Seventeen Will Be Designated

COUNTY SHOULD SPEED GO

Early Second Call Indicated By Order to Rush Work Of Classification

Yolo county's last draft contingent will gather for roll call at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and prepare to leave for Camp Lewis Monday morning on the 10:37 train.

Chairman Gaddis of the local exempters said today that the arrangements for sending this county's last contribution of seventeen men to the national army should go forward without a hitch. Every man reported so far as available to leave Monday is expected to be present at roll call tomorrow.

It is hoped that people of Woodland and vicinity will join relatives of the men leaving in a farewell that will be at least equal in wholeheartedness to those that have sent away preceding increments.

The board here has received orders from the Provost Marshal General calling for high speed in cleaning up all work on the first draft allotment. This is taken as an indication of the nearness of the call for the second draft, which is scheduled to be ordered during the first week in December.

It is expected that the classification of the men into the five classes as arranged by the war department would necessitate the closing of the exemption boards to the public for a period of at least a month while the files were being re-arranged, but it is now announced that these changes will take place while the men of the second draft are being called.

Local Men at Camp Kearney Are all Well

WILLIAM JOHNSTON AND PARTY RETURN FROM SOUTH AFTER EXTENDED VISIT TO SON

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston, Mrs. Ethel Butzbach and Mr. and Mrs. Rabin have returned from Camp Kearney at Linda Vista, where Yolo county's Company F is encamped. They bring the cheerful tidings that all our boys are well and contented and that they are applying themselves to the duties which will make them capable soldiers.

Mr. Johnston stated that his party made headquarters at San Diego, fifteen miles from camp, but drove out in their car almost every day. They were welcomed by all the Yolo county men, who were particularly pleased to see some one from home.

At the present time there is not a single man from this community under medical treatment, the last one having been discharged from the hospital a few days ago when he had recovered from an attack of the measles. Captain Caldwell and his officers are making good and the men all swear by them.

The camp is ideally located and is as clean as a pin, particularly as regards sanitation. The company is now recruited to full war strength of 250 men, the last contingent coming from Camp Lewis.

The Johnston party traveled 1700 miles while on the trip and had only one puncture on the entire trip. It was a pleasant outing and the view of the war camp was an interesting one.

MORE WAR BOYS LEAVE TO TRAIN

Absentee Taken In Charge By Sheriff's Forces, Pleads "Too Much Church"

Another Increment Necessary to Fill County's Quota Because Of Physical Rejections

Hundreds, including relatives and friends, braved the elements today to say farewell to sixteen more drafted men from Yolo county. The men entrained on the Southern Pacific train at 10:37 o'clock this morning, for Camp Lewis, Washington.

REJECTIONS NECESSITATE FILLING ANOTHER INCREMENT

Originally it was thought that today's increment would be the last required to complete Yolo's quota of 107 men. However, seven of the local boys have been sent home because of physical defects, and it will be necessary to fill these vacancies with another increment of at least four men. With the departure of today's contingent, Yolo had sent 110 men to the war college at Washington.

The exact number of men to make up the last increment will depend upon the results of the examination to which the latest draftees are submitted.

LAST OF DRAFTED ENTRAIN MONDAY

Roll Call Tomorrow at Ten,
When Seventeen Will

COUNTY SHOULD SPEED GO

Early Second Call Indicated
By Order to Rush Work
Of Classification

Yolo county's last draft contingent will gather for roll call at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and prepare to leave for Camp Lewis Monday morning on the 10:37 train.

Chairman Gaddis of the local ex-empters said today that the arrangements for sending this county's last contribution of seventeen men to the national army should go forward without a hitch. Every man reported so far as available to leave Monday is expected to be present at roll call tomorrow.

It is hoped that people of Woodland and vicinity will join relatives of the men leaving in a farewell that will be at least equal in whole-heartedness to those that have sent away preceding increments.

The board here has received orders from the Provost Marshal General calling for high speed in cleaning up all work on the first draft allotment. This is taken as an indication of the nearness of the call for the second draft, which is scheduled to be ordered during the first week in December.

It is expected that the classification of the men into the five classes as arranged by the war department would necessitate the closing of the exemption boards to the public for a period of at least a month while the files were being re-arranged, but it is now announced that these changes will take place while the men of the second draft are being called.

Local Men at Camp Kearney Are all Well

WILLIAM JOHNSTON AND PARTY RETURN FROM SOUTH AFTER EXTENDED VISIT TO SON

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston, Mrs. Ethel Butzbach and Mr. and Mrs. Rablin have returned from Camp Kearney at Linda Vista, where Yolo county's Company F is encamped. They bring the cheerful tidings that all our boys are well and contented and that they are applying themselves to the duties which will make them capable soldiers.

Mr. Johnston stated that his party made headquarters at San Diego, fifteen miles from camp, but drove out in their car almost every day. They were welcomed by all the Yolo county men, who were particularly pleased to see some one from home.

At the present time there is not a single man from this community under medical treatment, the last one having been discharged from the hospital a few days ago when he had recovered from an attack of the measles. Captain Caldwell and his officers are making good and the men all swear by them.

The camp is ideally located and is as clean as a pin, particularly as regards sanitation. The company is now recruited to full war strength of 250 men, the last contingent coming from Camp Lewis.

The Johnston party traveled 1700 miles while on the trip and had only one puncture on the entire trip. It was a pleasant outing and the view of the war camp was an interesting one.

Franks Farish is Home from North

Member of Engineers Stationed At Vancouver, Washington

Franks Farish, member of the engineers corps of the U. S. regular army, now stationed at Vancouver, Washington, arrived in Woodland yesterday evening on an extended furlough granted because of the illness of his father, who is confined to the Lane hospital in San Francisco. Farish has been allowed to leave until November 13.

The Woodland man tells of an intensive course of training through which the engineers are being paced. They are learning all branches of army construction as well as drill regulations. He expresses himself as well pleased with the exception of the retention of his unit in America instead of being sent to France. Although rumors are many, Farish says there is no indication of an early move.

MORE WAR BOYS LEAVE TO TRAIN

Absentee Taken In Charge By Sheriff's Forces, Pleads
"Too Much Church"

Another Increment Necessary to Fill County's Quota Because Of Physical Rejections

Hundreds, including relatives and friends, braved the elements today to say farewell to sixteen more drafted men from Yolo county. The men entrained on the Southern Pacific train at 10:37 o'clock this morning, for Camp Lewis, Washington.

REJECTIONS NECESSITATE

FILLING ANOTHER INCREMENT

Originally it was thought that today's increment would be the last required to complete Yolo's quota of 107 men. However, seven of the local boys have been sent home because of physical defects, and it will be necessary to fill these vacancies with another increment of at least four men. With the departure of today's contingent, Yolo had sent 110 men to the war college at Washington.

The exact number of men to make up the last increment will depend upon the results of the examination to which the latest draftees are submitted.

CAPTAIN SELECTS AUTO SALESMAN AS ASSISTANT.

Walker Apperson, an accountant at the Home Savings Bank in Woodland, captained this morning's contingent. His assistant was Joseph Soloman, formerly salesman at the Electric Garage in this city.

OFFICER TAKES ABSENTEE ROBERTSON IN CHARGE.

As was the case with the previous increments, the spirit of the boys was inspiring. But one expected man failed to make his appearance at roll call Sunday. Clark Robertson of Woodland, who had failed to appear once before when notified to, had to be summoned by Sheriff J. W. Monroe's force. He gave as his excuse that he had gone to church Saturday evening and had remained there until a late hour, causing him to oversleep Sunday morning. Robertson is said to be "religiously" opposed to war.

TWO ALIENS WOULD TRAIN TO FIGHT KAISER.

Two of today's increment would not have had to entrain this morning had they not cared to. Gust Johnson of Madison, and John Beauchesne of Paramount are both aliens, Johnson being a Swede and Beauchesne a Canadian. Both men, however, were anxious to go.

"BOYS" WHO ENTRAINED HERE THIS MORNING.

Comprising the increment were Walker Apperson, Lester Mitchell, Chris Smith, Gust Johnson, Willie Rose, Joseph Soloman, Henry Souza, Forrest Russell, William H. Bellows, Willie Hesson, Albert Krahn, John Beauchesne, Albert F. Matthews, Denver D. Holmes, William Smith and Clark Robertson. Two transferred were to have gone with the Yolo contingent, but they did not appear until too late to arrange for their transportation.

GRAFTON MAN EXCUSED BY DISTRICT BOARD.

John Chambers of Grafton has been listed to answer roll call but was later excused by the District Exemption Board. Joseph E. Terk of Oakland had also been told to report yesterday, but he was not required to come because the exemption board was sure that enough men ahead of Terk would qualify for the increment.

TWO ABSENTEES FARMING IN B. C.

Leroy A. Harris and Raymond Best, two young men now engaged in agricultural pursuits in British Columbia, had also been slated to come Sunday but were later found to be engaged in farming in British Columbia.

THREE GRANTED TEMPORARY EXEMPTION.

Willie Chalmers and Ross Wilson, young business men of Woodland, were excused until December 1. George Weiss, also of Woodland, could not answer roll call because of a recent operation and, too, was exempted temporarily.

The alternates today were Charles P. Culton of Winters, George Wind of Woodland, Paul Nonella of Clarksburg, Elmo Johnson of Woodland and Carl Reichard.

Hermis Traveres of Washington, again failed to appear as was expected. The officers have been unable to locate him. Traveres was to have gone with the third increment.

SHORT SPEECHES FEATURE FAREWELL.

The send-off to Yolo's Liberty Boys this morning was enlivened by patriotic airs rendered by the Woodland band and by cheers from the high school student body. Impromptu speeches were made by Dr. H. D. Lawhead, Supervisors M. H. Stitt and W. O. Russell, Dr. M. O. Wyatt and Fred Shaffer.

SHAFFER QUOTES BILLY SUNDAY.

Shaffer referred to Billy Sunday's declaration that "if Hell were turned upside down the 'made in Germany' remark would be written under it." Applying it locally, Shaffer said in this vein: "I feel sure these Yolo boys are going to hell. I hope they'll never come back. I hope these boys are going to hell, too; for I've never seen a Yolo yet that's ever come back."

FOOD PLEDGE IS SIGNED BY 2,500 HERE

Yolo County Allowed Another Week in Which to Sign Her
Quota of 3,900 Names

With the food pledge week almost officially over, but extended until next Saturday in Yolo county to enable the workers to cover the remotest section, but 2,500 food cards have been signed by Yolo housewives, according to Mrs. H. E. Coil, chairman of the Yolo county committee of Women's National and state defense. Yolo quota is 3,900 names, and hope has not been abandoned to secure that many signatures before next Saturday night.

In order to facilitate the immense labor of visiting every home in the county the request has been made that those women, who have not been visited and asked to sign a pledge to help in the conservation of food and directly help feed our allies in this struggle for freedom, inform either Mrs. H. E. Coil or some member of the committee of which she is chairman and have a card brought for her signature.

The food pledge is the opportunity for the housewife who has her husband and family to provide for through the kitchen to display some small spirit of thanks that she has her bread winner at home to do for by helping in the work of feeding those who have become non-producers and are fighting her fight, and her husband's, at the front. The husband is also privileged to sign the food card.

Would Raise Big Sum Here For Y. M. C. A. Relief

To raise $10,000 in Yolo county for the purpose of equipping a Young Men's Christian Association, "Hut" "somewhere," James Edmunds of Los Angeles is here inaugurating a campaign. An executive committee will comprise A. C. Huston, C. R. Wilcoxon, A. W. Morris, W. H. Grant, J. D. Harling, C. F. Evans and J. Reith Jr. A mass meeting is planned for the near future.

These seven men will meet tonight in the Yolo County Board of Trade rooms for the purpose of organizing. Their task will be the selection of a field force of fifty workers, twenty-five men and twenty-five women. The field workers will meet in the superior court rooms the following night, Wednesday, and there hear of the duties to be performed and assigned to their various units.

YOLO OUT FOR $10,000 FOR Y. M. C. A. WAR FUND

Individual "Hut" Is Object Of

GREAT MASS MEETING WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

Fifty Men and Women Will Be Selected to Help Carry On Solicitation to Finance
Humanitarian Work

WILL Yolo county have her own individual Y. M. C. A. "Hut" somewhere in the United States? Such question is now under consideration by a patriotic few who took upon themselves the burden of raising the sum of $10,000 for the purpose of answering the interrogation with an emphatic "Yes." The matter was broached yesterday evening when James Edmunds, Los Angeles wholesale merchant, who is giving up his business and devoting his entire time to the $35,000,000 Y. M. C. A. drive, November 11-20, came to Woodland and met with some of those interested in the proposition and anxious to do their bit in providing funds for the most praiseworthy work being carried on for the comfort of Americans in the army.

Incidentally the above mentioned $10,000 is the quota of Yolo county in the $35,000,000 campaign, but as a matter of distinction to those counties which succeed in raising their total a building erected with that money by the Y. M. C. A. in one of the training camps in America will bear that county's name, such as "Yolo county, California, Hut."

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NAMED

According to plans laid down at the meeting last night Yolo county is going out after her "Hut." In the way of organization an executive committee has been named which will have in charge the workings of many more committees which will be selected before the drive begins. The executive body is composed of A. C. Huston, C. R. Wilcoxon, A. W. Morris, W. H. Grant, J. D. Harling, C. F. Evans and J. Reith Jr. These seven men are called to meet tonight in the Yolo county board of trade rooms for the purpose of organizing and laying out some definite plan of work to be followed out. Their principle task will be the selection of a field force of fifty workers, twenty-five men and twenty-five women.

This two score and ten will meet in the superior court rooms the following night, Wednesday, and there hear of the duties to be performed and assigned to their various units.

MASS MEETING PLANNED

The biggest event of the whole drive will be a great mass meeting which is to be held in the Armory hall and which will be featured by the presence of some man of state prominence, pictures showing the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the army camps and the trenches, and the launching of the Yolo $10,000 drive to provide for the comfort of those men whom she has already sent to the colors.

Plans and developments will be announced as they materialize and the people of the county may expect to see a campaign which will be second to none of those which has been successfully carried on in Yolo county.

YOLO SENDS SIXTEEN MORE SONS TO WAR

Yolo county's final regular increment of selective men have departed for the training camp at American Lake, Washington, having entrained from the Southern Pacific depot at 10:37 o'clock yesterday morning amid a recurring scene of enthusiasm and patriotism. Sixteen men were in the quota, the last for the first army with the exception of four or five who will have to be sent forward on account of rejections at the camp on account of physical unfitness. The county has now furnished 110 men.

In spite of the inclement weather a large throng gathered at the depot to bid the boys farewell, the departure being marked by scenes which have featured all like occasions since the cause of liberty has called upon the young manhood of the land. The boys, who are captained by Walker Apperson, formerly connected with the Home Savings Bank, embarked upon their uncertain mission in the best of spirits, eagerness to be at their tasks and their performance to the best of their ability, glowing from their manner. Joe Solomon was second in command.

With the patriotic spirit of the crowd aroused by airs played by the Woodland band, which donated its services for the morning, several good-bye speeches were made to the boys. Supervisors M. H. Stitt, and W. O. Russell, Dr. H. D. Lawhead, M. O. Wyatt of Winters and Fred Shaffer, each took a few minutes before departure of the train to express the confidence of those who were staying behind in the men who had been selected to go to the front.

Sweets, Tobacco and Like In Boys' Christmas Boxes

Score of Red Cross Workers Engaged With Packing Holiday
Remembrances From Home for Yolo Men Who Are Now
In France; Those Training at Home to be Provided For

The first smack of Christmas might have been sensed yesterday by any one who happened to drop into the board of trade rooms on Main street. There were gathered twenty-five of the Red Cross workers of this section of the county, all busy as bees packing the Christmas boxes to go forward to the general headquarters for re-shipment to the boys wearing Uncle Sam's uniform.

Yolo county is to send 350 of these seven pound boxes as her share. They are made up in approved holiday style and each one carries a Christmas card, hand painted by the girls in the art department of the Woodland high school, each containing a holiday sentiment. Of the total number sent, Woodland is to supply 100. Winters, Davis, Esparto, Madison, Guinda, Blacks, Yolo, Knights Landing and Dunnigan will supply their proportion. The boxes will be sent on their way this week.

AN ARRAY OF GIFTS

Each box is seven by ten inches in size and three inches in depth. In it is made four compartments and so constructed that it will stand the maximum usage in its travels to the particular individual it is to cheer on Christmas morning. Each box contains one-half pound of candy, one-half pound of chocolate, one-half pound of shelled nuts, a particularly large piece of fruit cake, dried prunes, raisins and figs. There is also a tablet of writing paper, two packages of envelopes, a lead pencil, three packages of smoking tobacco, cigarette papers, a deck of playing card, and a joke scrap book made by the pupils of the high school. In each package is also a large red bandana handkerchief.

The articles are so packed that there will be no divergent mixture to taste or odors from one article with another. The final packing of the packages will be done by Griggs & Bush under the personal supervision of Henry Bush.

MANY ARTICLES DONATED

Many of the articles contained in the boxes were purchased from the local merchants, but a great deal was donated. The almonds were donated by George Cobb, J. L. Stephens and Mrs. Alvis G. Hunt, the walnuts by J. W. Gallup and Mrs. C. W. Bush, the figs by Mrs. P. N. Ashley and Mrs. Chas. Nelson, the prunes by Mrs. Herbert Coil and Mrs. Henle, 20 pounds of candy by Henry Siebe, the parafine wrapping paper by T. S. Spaulding, Gus Dahler and Johnston & Raffaetta. The nuts were hulled by Mrs. Jennie Read of Davis.

The fruit cake was the gift of two score of the very best cooks in Yolo county, whose names it was not possible to get. Into the toothsome mixture went many a prayer and good wish for the happiness of the lad into whose hands it might fall on Christmas morn.

Every Red Cross section in the nation is engaged in a like service and there will be no man over on the foreign shore who will not receive this kindly remembrance "from back home." A little later the same service will be undertaken for the boys still training on this side of the Atlantic and then Yolo county will make it her business to get her donations directly to Yolo county lads.

Christmas Boxes To Bring Cheer To Yolo's Fighting Men Will Soon Be En Route To Camps

With contributions coming in steadily and with prospects of sufficient money's being subscribed before the boxes close to bear the expense of sending 350 seven-pound Christmas boxes to the Yolo county boys serving their country the people preparing the shipments here are working hard to get the boxes off in plenty of time to insure their reaching the consignee in due time. The first consignment is to be placed in the custody of Uncle Sam's postal department some time before the end of this week. The last group will be packed next Thursday.

Each box will contain one-half pound of candy, one-half pound of chocolate, one-half pound of shelled nuts, a large piece of fruit cake, dried prunes, raisins and figs. There is also a tablet of writing paper, two packages of envelopes, a lead pencil, three packages of smoking tobacco, cigarette papers, a deck of playing cards, and a joke scrap book made by the pupils of the high school. In each package is to go a large red bandana handkerchief.

The boxes will be adorned with Christmas decorations.

The parcels will be prepared for mailing by Griggs & Bush, under the supervision of Henry Bush. The almonds for the shipment were donated by George Cobb, J. L. Stephens, and Mrs. A. G. Hunt. The walnuts came from J. W. Gallup and Mrs. C. W. Bush. The raisins were donated by Mrs. C. W. Bush, Mrs. Geo. Zane, Mrs. Fred Meier, C. Q. Nelson, Mrs. P. N. Ashley and Mrs. Chas. Nelson gave the figs. Prunes were given by Mrs. Leroy Coil, Mrs. A. Henle, and Mrs. Leroy Coil and Mrs. A. Henle. Henry Siebe contributed twenty pounds of candy, the paraffine wrapping paper came from Spaulding's, Johnston & Raffaeta, and Gus Dahler. Mrs. Jennie D. Read of Davis took care of hulling the nuts.

These are the women who baked the cakes: Mrs. Fred Mattel, Mrs. J. I. McConnell, Mrs. W. M. Hyman, Mrs. J. L. Harlan, Mrs. E. T. Clowe, Mrs. Ed E. Leake, Mrs. George Zimmerman, Mrs. T. D. Cakes were baked by members of societies affiliated with the Christian, St. Luke's Episcopal, Catholic, Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches.

Mrs. T. R. Lowe announced today that more cake is needed for the second shipment of boxes going out next week. Since each soldier is sent a piece of cake measuring 3 1/4 by 4 1/4 by 3 inches, many cakes will necessarily be consumed. The cakes should be sent in by a week from tomorrow morning. It is imperative that the cakes be baked upon a uniform plan. The standard recipe may be secured from Miss Carmen Clowe. The entire cake specified in the recipe is needed.

Two Benefits for Red Cross Carded

Blacks and Guinda Sections Will Give Entertainments This Week

Red Cross meetings are of such frequency that it is next to impossible to keep track of all of them, but because this paper is deeply interested in that branch of the work of succoring the soldiers of the nation, it hopes that those in charge will keep us in touch with affairs in their neighborhood.

On Thursday evening the section at Blacks will hold a public entertainment, at which time a program of excellence and a dance will be given. All the county is invited to be there and it is the expectation that the new hall at that place will accommodate a large crowd.

At Guinda on Saturday night an amateur company will present a play and a dance will follow. The amateurs have given the play before and received many words of praise because of their efforts.

The ladies of both these towns are making preparations to entertain all who elect to become their guests and as the distance is not great for those having autos, it is hoped a good representation may go from this city. Tickets may be had at this office.

Mule to Be Sold And Re-Sold for Yolo Red Cross

"LITTLE JEFF" TO BE PLACED ON BLOCK AT ZIMMERMAN'S
AUCTION FOR GOOD CAUSE

Do you remember the span of mules which stood side by side in the animal tent at the county fair? One weighed 1700 pounds and the other weighed 550 pounds. The large one belonged to Frank Doyle, the small one to Joe Harlan.

Well, the little fellow, "Little Jeff"
he was called, will be sold at auction at the Zimmerman sale on the 14th, and the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross fund of Yolo county. If some one buys him, or her, and wants to swell the fund, said buyer may resell the same way, again and again. He, or she, is a perfectly good mule and ought to bring some perfectly good money.

One More Week to Sign Food Pledge

Yolo County Committee Works To Have 3,900 by Saturday Night

Have you signed the food pledge?
That is the question which is exercising the county committee of which Mrs. H. E. Coil is chairman.
The number of pledges sent in is far short of what should have gone from this county during the week which was supposed to see the campaign closed, and that this county might not be written down as lacking the conservation spirit, Mrs.
Coil asked and was granted an extension of time for the present week.

Bear in mind the pledge does not oblige you to go hungry, rather, it simply obligates you to use all diligence in eliminating waste and so far as possible use other articles of food which will release some of the essentials for the use of the armies in the field.

Pledge cards may be had in every community in the county and all you have to do is to sign your name and drop the card in the post office.
Few people who have been approached have objected to signing the cards, so there can be no good reason why every man and woman in the county should not respond to the desire of the authorities to assist in conservation. It is hoped by Saturday night to have at least 3900 of these cards signed and returned.

BIG MEETING WILL LAUNCH DRIVE FOR Y. M. C. A.

Monster Gathering to Be Held In Woodland Next Monday

Jas. Edmunds Discusses Needs
Of Such Work as is Seeking Support During Next Week

Yolo county's drive for $10,000 for the construction of her "hut" under the direction and management of the Y. M. C. A. in that organization's war work, will be opened in Woodland next Monday night, the second day of the great national campaign to raise $35,000,000, with a monster mass meeting in Armory hall. Efforts are being made, with hope of success, of obtaining Governor William D. Stephens as the chief orator of the evening, while a special speaker will be furnished by the Y. M. C. A. campaign committee for the purpose of setting forth the work being done in all the allied nations.

Announcement of the Meeting was made last night to a meeting of the general committee, consisting of fifty men and women of all parts of the county, in the superior court room. Forty interested workers attended the meeting and heard an outline of the course to be pursued in obtaining Yolo county's quota of the $35,000,000.

NEED OF WORK TOLD

James Edmunds, special representative in this district, was the chief speaker, telling of the need of such work as the Y. M. C. A. is carrying on in army camps and trenches.

"It is a work to conserve the manpower of our allies," said Mr. Edmunds. "When our boys go forth to the great ordeal they leave behind all that tends for comfort and pleasure and it is left to such enterprises as the Y. M. C. A. is furnishing to protect the man against evils such as arise in their life as well as to maintain and improve the morale of troops. It is an investment of $2 to conserve an expenditure of $20,000, for that is the cost of the United States to put each man in the trenches in France."

Several special committees were appointed last night to start the campaign which will be in full swing after the mass meeting in Woodland Monday night.

GOV. STEPHENS WILL BE ABLY ASSISTED*Y. M. C. A. Secretary Home From War Prison Camps Will Address Big Rally

Governor Stephens will have a well-qualified colleague when he comes here next Monday evening to address the monster mass meeting in armory hall for the purpose of telling every one in the county the purpose of the local committee in raising $10,000 as this county's share of the $35,000,000 Y. M. C. A. fund to make America's soldier camps more livable and safer for the boys who have left their homes. The second attraction will be Fred Goodsell, one of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries, who is somewhere on the Pacific on his way home from Russia. Goodsell will reach San Francisco Sunday and will come to Woodland Monday.

Goodsell has spent the past two years at the war front, part of the time in prison camps of the Germans, and part of the time with those of the Russians. He has therefore gained first-hand knowledge of the conditions prevailing in soldier camps during the war and he will tell his audience all about it.

The Y. M. C. A. secretary is coming home to recuperate from the strenuous business of caring for fighting men. He will take the place here Monday evening of E. F. Francis, Los Angeles man, who was to have spoken, but could not come.

Arthur C. Huston, who is in charge of the campaign here, today made this official statement of the purposes of the movement:

STATEMENT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The National Campaign to raise $35,000,000 for Y. M. C. A. war work will open on Sunday next and close on Tuesday, November 20.

Yolo county has been asked to contribute $10,000 as its share of the fund. This sum will be used to erect and fully equip a Yolo county Y. M. C. A. hut in one of the army cantonments in the United States. The hut will be a standard building for the comfort and welfare of the soldiers. It will serve five thousand men. In these buildings the boys can read, write letters home, buy stamps and postal cards, hear music, join classes in English and French, and enjoy some kind of healthy entertainment every night.

The Yolo County Hut will help safeguard them against temptations and keep them physically fit, mentally sound and morally clean. Similar buildings will be provided at the battle front by the Y. M. C. A. Men and women of splendid character and influence will be in charge.

This appeal should meet with a prompt and liberal response. No cause could be more deserving. Here is an opportunity for everyone to do something for the men at the front. You can do no more patriotic or valuable service than by supporting this cause.

The committees in charge of the work in Yolo county need and ask for the assistance of everyone. Do not wait for a personal invitation, but do your part. Contribute yourself and secure contributions from others. Forward all subscriptions to Fred Shaffer, secretary of the committee, at Woodland.

The subscriptions may be made payable in full or in partial payments as follows: 50 per cent by January 1, 1918; 25 per cent on February 1, 1918, and 25 per cent

What may be rightfully called the crowning achievement of Yolo county in its war work, her response to the second liberty loan, in which she bought an average of about $60 for every man, woman and child, has come in for official recognition and commendation by the State council of defense, through its vice chairman, A. H. Naftzger, in a letter received yesterday by Judge W. A. Anderson as chairman of the Yolo county council of defense. The state organization takes pleasure in complimenting this county upon its patriotic showing, seeing in it only an addition to the splendid record which had previously been called to its attention.

LETTER FROM NAFTZGER

Following is the letter, another feather in the Yolo county's war bonnet:

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6, 1917.
Hon. W. A. Anderson, Chairman,
County Council of Defense,
Woodland, California.

My dear Judge Anderson:

The reports that come to us from time to time regarding Yolo county's activities, particularly its production of food stuffs, its support of Red Cross, Liberty Bonds, etc., are always a source of gratification, and as you know, have frequently caused us to make favorable comment.

We now take pleasure in commending the splendid record of Yolo county on the second Liberty Bond sale. The report before me says that "Yolo county has probably made the nation's record in its subscription of the second Liberty loan, averaging $60.00 for each person in the county." This is certainly a record to be proud of and we congratulate you and the people of Yolo county upon this splendid patriotic showing.

Very truly yours,
State Council of Defense,

Of Expenses

Chairman E. E. Gaddis of the Yolo county exemption board announced today that the actual cost of the registration and selection of the 110 men who have thus far been forwarded to Camp Lewis as Yolo county's quota of the national army came to $174.75. The larger part of this sum was expended in the hiring of stenographers to make the lists of the drafted men and copies containing their addresses, serial numbers and order numbers.

The foregoing estimate includes all expenditures of the local board of this county, from and including June 5, 1917, the date on which registration of the drafted men began down to the hour of their entrainment. This is probably one of the lowest expense accounts that will be presented to the government, considering the number of men examined and the number of men to be forwarded.

It makes an average of $1.58 each for the men actually inducted into the military service of the United States. The members of the exemption board here donated their services and kept down expenses to the minimum. In fact, some of the expenses incurred by the members of the board, such as the sending of telegrams, are not provided for by the government and the disbursements of these sums will be borne by the members of the board individually.

Writing to his mother from Camp Lewis, whither he was sent with the third Yolo county draft increment, James Porter Diggs tells of the various phases of life of a soldier in training. He has seen only the preliminary paces of the work to be done but comments at length upon the excellent treatment which the boys receive.

The food, clothing and pastimes provided are of the best, says Diggs, all of a character to lighten the burdens attendant upon the grilling drill. He speaks especially of the close relationship existing between the men, saying the colored boys are as much a part of the camp life as the others and are made to feel quite at home.

He has not yet received his physical examination so the army doctors have not had a chance to pass upon himself and J. R. Clark, who went to camp with him.

GOVERNOR William D. Stephens of California will honor Woodland with his presence on next Monday evening when he comes from the capital to be the chief figure at the great mass meeting which is being promoted for the launching of the $10,000 Y. M. C. A. campaign, aimed to provide the funds for the construction of a Yolo county "hut" under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. in its war work. The local drive is only a very small part of the national campaign to raise a total of $35,000,000 but it should be made just as big by the people of the county.

WILL DISPLAY PICTURES

An able second to the governor at the meeting will be E. F. Francis of Los Angeles, one of the big men of the state who is devoting all his time to the work. He will bring with him lantern slides showing the scope of the Y. M. C. A. work both in America and allied countries at the front.

Promises from Winters, Davis, Esparto and other towns of the county for automobile excursions to Woodland Monday night predict one of the biggest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this city.

The executive committee, of which A. C. Huston is the head, was more than pleased at a special meeting last night, at which further plans for the local drive were outlined, to hear that people are already requesting the pledge cards for subscriptions and offering donations unhesitatingly.

A two-word note brought relief to Woodland today for the parents and friends of George Zane, Lester Johnston, Ashley Worley and Irving Bostick, local lads who enlisted last summer with the California Engineering Company. The two words were, "Arrived Safe."

Although the notes were postmarked from New York, the parents knew that they had been left in Gotham with the censor with instructions that as soon as the cablegram was received in New York announcing their arrival in France the boys' parents should be notified by forwarding to them the notes. Although not officially informed of the fact, the Zane, Johnston, and Worley families and the relatives of Bostwick felt certain that the boys had sailed for France, as letters had stopped coming from their camp at Cottage City, New York.

With the danger of their being torpedoed ever imminent, the welfare of the boys was the constant thought of their families here.

WHOLE COUNTY IS TO ATTEND MONDAY MEETING

Promoters Visit Davis to Talk With Committee; Other Sections Coming

A. C. Huston and Fred Shaffer went to Davis Friday evening and met a committee which had been called together by Dean Van Norman. The people of Davis are enthusiastically co-operating in the arrangements for the mass meeting to be held in this city Monday night, to inaugurate the drive for the $10,000 Y. M. C. A. fund. The committee was assured today that Winters and Esparto also will send large automobile delegations here Monday evening. From the way the different communities are lining up it looks as if the armory would bulge with an overflow crowd Monday night.

It was announced today that the general committee will meet at Odd Fellows' Hall next Tuesday, at 7:30. The public is earnestly invited.

California's campaign begins tomorrow morning with the announcement by pastors from practically every pulpit in the state the purposes and aims of the financial canvass. Hearty co-operation on the part of the clergy has made the campaign a matter of close interest to every congregation. Organization of the various city and county committees which will participate in the "drive" is being completed today, though in many communities, it is announced, sums approximating even more than half of the quota to be raised already have been pledged. Notably is this true of San Diego, where $17,000 of the $30,000 in the county is now in hand. Practically the same may be said of Long Beach, where nearly $10,000 was raised at a single conference of business men.

The general committee today collected a symposium of the estimates made by leading war officials of the value of the Y. M. C. A. work. Here are the most notable ones: President Wilson says: "The Y. M. C. A. is prepared by experience, approved methods and assured resources to serve especially the troops in camp and field."

The following is an extract from an order by the president April 26, 1917: "Officers are enjoined to render the best practicable assistance and co-operation in the maintenance and expansion of the Y. M. C. A., both at permanent posts and stations, and in camps and fields."

General John J. Pershing (recently from France): "The work now being done by the Y. M. C. A. for the comfort and entertainment of our soldiers in France is very important. The Y. M. C. A. has won its place by unselfish personal devotion to the soldiers' welfare and deserves staunch support by our people at home."

Major General J. Franklin Bell says: "The Y. M. C. A. is an absolutely essential part of the allied army. Its work is to supply a touch of home; it is a home away from home. It asks for money, not for itself, but to do the work for your boys which you would do for them if they were here."

Ex-President Roosevelt says: "What the Y. M. C. A. has been doing in Europe has been really remarkable; and now our citizens should aid them to do work of the same type for our own troops."

Major General John F. O'Ryan says: "Money can be turned over to the Y. M. C. A. with every confidence that it will be expended scientifically and along lines most acceptable to the soldiers."

YULETIDE ALREADY SEEN AT P. O. HERE

Holly-bound Packages Leaving Office For Soldiers Overseas

TIME LIMIT ALMOST HERE

Carlton Club Sends Package Of Delectables to Every Member In Service

Although Christmas is a month and a half away, the Yuletide season has already begun at the Woodland post-office, for a goodly showing of holly-adorned parcels have already been sent on their way by local people to the boys across the Atlantic. Some have gone forth to men in training over here, a few bearing the admonition "do not open until Christmas." Apparently mailers are taking no chances on there being a congestion of soldier mail.

Those who have not made ready their bundles for their relatives or friends in foreign lands should hurry and do so, for the first part of next week is the latest time at which bundles may be sent with any certainty of their reaching their consignee by Christmas Day.

Among the shipments leaving here none was more Christmassy than that of the Carlton Club, which organization decided to remember every one of its past or active members in the service. Tobacco, cigarettes, and candies constitute the contents of the boxes prepared by the Carltons, through a committee including Frank Hollingsworth, Harold Gallup, and Lester Cranston, assisted by Guy Howard, secretary of the club.

The boxes for the six Carltons overseas are already on their way and the other sixteen will be sent next week. The men in Europe to receive them are John L. Simpson, Russell Lowe, Meredith Gregory, Ashley Worley, George Zane, and Lester Johnston. All of this sextet are in France.

The clubmen in the service in America are Kennedy Stewart and Robert Browning, of the battleship Oregon, now supposed to be in a southern harbor; Rodney Hill, Leon Borach, Darrell Johnston and John Laugenour of F. Company; George Hollingsworth, Camp Bowie, Tex.; Maxwell Pew, Charles Day and Ed Henle, all stationed at Camp Kearney; Franks Farish, with the engineers at Vancouver, Wash., but now on a furlough to visit his father, who is ill; Abner Brownell, who is in training at Mare Island; Aldice Dinsdale, who is with the 63d Infantry at the Presidio; Walker Apperson and Ben Hollman, both of whom are at Camp Lewis, and Frank Elston, who is on the U. S. Battleship Huntington, which presumably is on its way to France.

GOV. STEPHENS WILL BE ABLY ASSISTED

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Home From War Prison Camps Will Address Big Rally

Governor Stephens will have a well-qualified colleague when he comes here next Monday evening to address the monster mass meeting in armory hall for the purpose of telling every one in the county the purpose of the local committee in raising $10,000 as this county's share of the $35,000,000 Y. M. C. A. fund to make America's soldier camps more livable and safer for the boys who have left their homes. The second attraction will be Fred Goodsell, one of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries, who is somewhere on the Pacific on his way home from Russia. Goodsell will reach San Francisco Sunday and will come to Woodland Monday.

Goodsell has spent the past two years at the war front, part of the time in prison camps of the Germans, and part of the time with those of the Russians. He has therefore gained first-hand knowledge of the conditions prevailing in soldier camps during the war and he will tell his audience all about it.

The Y. M. C. A. secretary is coming home to recuperate from the strenuous business of caring for fighting men. He will take the place here Monday evening of E. F. Francis, Los Angeles man, who was to have spoken, but could not come.

Arthur C. Huston, who is in charge of the campaign here, today made this official statement of the purposes of the movement:

STATEMENT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The National Campaign to raise $35,000,000 for Y. M. C. A. war work will open on Sunday next and close on Tuesday, November 20.

Yolo county has been asked to contribute $10,000 as its share of the fund. This sum will be used to erect and fully equip a Yolo county Y. M. C. A. hut in one of the army cantonments in the United States. The hut will be a standard building for the comfort and welfare of the soldiers. It will serve five thousand men. In these buildings the boys can read, write letters home, buy stamps and postal cards, hear music, join classes in English and French, and enjoy some kind of healthy entertainment every night.

The Yolo County Hut will help safeguard them against temptations and keep them physically fit, mentally sound and morally clean. Similar buildings will be provided at the battle front by the Y. M. C. A. Men and women of splendid character and influence will be in charge.

This appeal should meet with a prompt and liberal response. No cause could be more deserving. Here is an opportunity for everyone to do something for the men at the front. You can do no more patriotic or valuable service than by supporting this cause.

The committees in charge of the work in Yolo county need and ask for the assistance of everyone. Do not wait for a personal invitation, but do your part. Contribute yourself and secure contributions from others. Forward all subscriptions to Fred Shaffer, secretary of the committee, at Woodland.

The subscriptions may be made payable in full or in partial payments as follows: 50 per cent by January 1, 1918; 25 per cent on February 1, 1918, and 25 per cent on March 1, 1918.

YOLO COUNTY COMMENDED ON LIBERTY LOAN WORK

A. H. Naftzger of The State Council of Defense Writes Praising Yolo Response

MAY BE NATION RECORD

Is Crowning Achievement for County's Splendid War Work In Country's Time of Need

What may be rightfully called the crowning achievement of Yolo county in its war work, her response to the second liberty loan, in which she bought an average of about $60 for every man, woman and child, has come in for official recognition and commendation by the State council of defense, through its vice chairman, A. H. Naftzger, in a letter received yesterday by Judge W. A. Anderson as chairman of the Yolo county council of defense. The state organization takes pleasure in complimenting this county upon its patriotic showing, seeing in it only an addition to the splendid record which had previously been called to its attention.

LETTER FROM NAFTZGER

Following is the letter, another feather in the Yolo county's war bonnet:

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6, 1917.
Hon. W. A. Anderson, Chairman,
County Council of Defense,
Woodland, California.

My dear Judge Anderson:

The reports that come to us from time to time regarding Yolo county's activities, particularly its production of food stuffs, its support of Red Cross, Liberty Bonds, etc., are always a source of gratification, and as you know, have frequently caused us to make favorable comment.

We now take pleasure in commending the splendid record of Yolo county on the second Liberty Bond sale. The report before me says that "Yolo county has probably made the nation's record in its subscription of the second Liberty loan, averaging $60.00 for each person in the county." This is certainly a record to be proud of and we congratulate you and the people of Yolo county upon this splendid patriotic showing.

Very truly yours,
State Council of Defense,
By A. H. NAFTZGER,
Vice-chairman.

REPORTS COST OF SENDING DRAFTED

Chairman Gaddis Shows Only $1.58 Spent On Each Recruit Leaving

BOARD HERE ECONOMIZED

Besides Donating All Services Local Men Paid Part Of Expenses

Chairman E. E. Gaddis of the Yolo county exemption board announced today that the actual cost of the registration and selection of the 110 men who have thus far been forwarded to Camp Lewis as Yolo county's quota of the national army came to $174.75. The larger part of this sum was expended in the hiring of stenographers to make the lists of the drafted men and copies containing their addresses, serial numbers and order numbers.

The foregoing estimate includes all expenditures of the local board of this county, from and including June 5, 1917, the date on which registration of the drafted men began down to the hour of their entrainment. This is probably one of the lowest expense accounts that will be presented to the government, considering the number of men examined and the number of men to be forwarded.

It makes an average of $1.58 each for the men actually inducted into the military service of the United States. The members of the exemption board here donated their services and kept down expenses to the minimum. In fact, some of the expenses incurred by the members of the board, such as the sending of telegrams, are not provided for by the government and the disbursements of these sums will be borne by the members of the board individually.

Colored Lad Tells Of Life of Soldier

James Porter Diggs Well Pleased With Conditions at Camp Lewis

Writing to his mother from Camp Lewis, whither he was sent with the third Yolo county draft increment, James Porter Diggs tells of the various phases of life of a soldier in training. He has seen only the preliminary paces of the work to be done but comments at length upon the excellent treatment which the boys receive.

The food, clothing and pastimes provided are of the best, says Diggs, all of a character to lighten the burdens attendant upon the grilling drill. He speaks especially of the close relationship existing between the men, saying the colored boys are as much a part of the camp life as the others and are made to feel quite at home.

He has not yet received his physical examination so the army doctors have not had a chance to pass upon himself and J. R. Clark, who went to camp with him.

Stop! Look! Listen! For the bombs next Monday night which will herald the opening of the Yolo county Y. M. C. A. drive. When the first one explodes with a great boom and lights the sky for miles around, then know ye all that you are summoned to the Armory hall for the big mass meeting and that you are called upon to give for this good cause.

GOVERNOR William D. Stephens of California will honor Woodland with his presence on next Monday evening when he comes from the capitol to be the chief figure at the great mass meeting which is being promoted for the launching of the $10,000 Y. M. C. A. campaign, aimed to provide the funds for the construction of a Yolo county "hut" under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. in its war work. The local drive is only a very small part of the national campaign to raise a total of $35,000,000 but it should be made just as big by the people of the county.

WILL DISPLAY PICTURES

An able second to the governor at the meeting will be E. F. Francis of Los Angeles, one of the big men of the state who is devoting all his time to the work. He will bring with him lantern slides showing the scope of the Y. M. C. A. work both in America and allied countries at the front.

Promises from Winters, Davis, Esparto and other towns of the county for automobile excursions to Woodland Monday night predict one of the biggest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this city.

The executive committee, of which A. C. Huston is the head, was more than pleased at a special meeting last night, at which further plans for the local drive were outlined, to hear that people are already requesting the pledge cards for subscriptions and offering donations unsolicited.

French Cable Brings Relief Here Today

A two-word note brought relief to Woodland today for the parents and friends of George Zane, Lester Johnston, Ashley Worley and Irving Bostick, local lads who enlisted last summer with the California Engineering Company. The two words were, "Arrived Safe."

Although the notes were postmarked from New York, the parents knew that they had been left in Gotham with the censor with instructions that as soon as the cablegram was received in New York announcing their arrival in France the boys' parents should be notified by forwarding to them the notes. Although not officially informed of the fact, the Zane, Johnston, and Worley families and the relatives of Bostwick felt certain that the boys had sailed for France, as letters had stopped coming from their camp at Cottage City, New York.

With the danger of their being torpedoed ever imminent, the welfare of the boys was the constant thought of their families here.

Woodland Woman Thanked By State Food Commissioner For Formula In Cheap Flour

Mrs. J. J. Laux, who resides on Gum Lane, Woodland, has just received a personal letter from Ralph Merritt, chief aide in California to Food Dictator Herbert Hoover. The letter acknowledges the receipt of a valuable suggestion from Mrs. Laux as to how to mill a new and cheaper grade of flour. Mrs. Laux was taught the process twenty years ago by an experienced miller. Merritt, through the State Council of Defense, will probably recommend the use of the new grade of flour suggested by the Woodland woman.

Here is Merritt's letter to Mrs. Laux:

San Francisco, Nov. 8, 1917.

Mrs. J. J. Laux, Gum Lane, Woodland, Cal.—My dear Madame: Your very kind letter of October 31, with reference to the present flour standard, has been received and read with a great deal of interest. We thank you for the suggestion which you have given to us.

Very sincerely,

WHOLE COUNTY IS TO ATTEND MONDAY MEETING

Promoters Visit Davis to Talk With Committee; Other Sections Coming

A. C. Huston and Fred Shaffer went to Davis Friday evening and met a committee which had been called together by Dean Van Norman. The people of Davis are enthusiastically co-operating in the arrangements for the mass meeting to be held in this city Monday night, to inaugurate the drive for the $10,000 Y. M. C. A. fund. The committee was assured today that Winters and Esparto also will send large automobile delegations here Monday evening. From the way the different communities are lining up it looks as if the army would surge with an overflow crowd Monday night.

It was announced today that the general committee will meet at Odd Fellows' Hall next Tuesday, at 7:30. The public is earnestly invited.

California's campaign begins tomorrow morning with the announcement by pastors from practically every pulpit in the state the purposes and aims of the financial canvass. Hearty co-operation on the part of the clergy has made the campaign a matter of close interest to every congregation.

Organization of the various city and county committees which will participate in the "drive" is being completed today, though in many communities, it is announced, sums approximating even more than half of the quota to be raised already have been pledged. Notably is this true of San Diego, where $17,000 of the $30,000 in the county is now in hand. Practically the same may be said of Long Beach, where nearly $10,000 was raised at a single conference of business men.

The general committee today collected a symposium of the estimates made by leading war officials of the value of the Y. M. C. A. work. Here are the most notable ones: President Wilson says: "The Y. M. C. A. is prepared by experience, approved methods and assured resources to serve especially the troops in camp and field."

The following is an extract from an order by the president April 26, 1917: "Officers are enjoined to render the most practicable assistance and co-operation in the maintenance and extension of the Y. M. C. A., both at permanent posts and stations, and in camps and fields."

General John J. Pershing (recently from France): "The work now being done by the Y. M. C. A. for the comfort and entertainment of our soldiers in France is very important. The Y. M. C. A. has won its place by unselfish personal devotion to the soldiers' welfare and reserves staunch support by our people at home."

Major General J. Franklin Bell says: "The Y. M. C. A. is an absolutely essential part of the allied army. Its work is to supply a touch of home; it is a home away from home. It asks for money, not for itself, but to do the work for your boys which you would do for them if they were here."

Ex-President Roosevelt says: "What the Y. M. C. A. has been doing in Europe has been really remarkable; and now our citizens should aid them to do work of the same type for our own troops."

Major General John F. O'Ryan says: "Money can be turned over to the Y. M. C. A. with every confidence that it will be expended scientifically and along lines most acceptable to the soldiers."

Carlton Club Sends Package Of Delectables to Every Member In Service

Although Christmas is a month and a half away, the Yuletide season has already begun at the Woodland post-office, for a goodly showing of holly-adorned parcels have already been sent on their way by local people to the boys across the Atlantic. Some have gone forth to men in training over here, a few bearing the admonition "do not open until Christmas." Apparently mailers are taking no chances on there being a congestion of soldier mail.

Those who have not made ready their bundles for their relatives or friends in foreign lands should hurry and do so, for the first part of next week is the latest time at which bundles may be sent with any certainty of their reaching their consignee by Christmas Day.

Among the shipments leaving here none was more Christmassy than that of the Carlton Club, which organization decided to remember every one of its past or active members in the service. Tobacco, cigarettes, and candies constitute the contents of the boxes prepared by the Carltons, through a committee including Frank Hollingsworth, Harold Gallup, and Lester Cranston, assisted by Guy Howard, secretary of the club.

The boxes for the six Carltons overseas are already on their way and the other sixteen will be sent next week. The men in Europe to receive them are John L. Simpson, Russell Lowe, Meredith Gregory, Ashley Worley, George Zane, and Lester Johnston. All of this sextet are in France.

The clubmen in the service in America are Kennedy Stewart and Robert Browning, of the battleship Oregon, now supposed to be in a southern harbor; Rodney Hill, Leon Borach, Darrell Johnston and John Laugenour of F. Company; George Hollingsworth, Camp Bowie, Tex.; Maxwell Pew, Charles Day and Ed Henle, all stationed at Camp Kearney; Francis Parish, with the engineers at Vancouver, Wash., but now on a furlough to visit his father, who is ill; Abner Brownell, who is in training at Mare Island; Aldice Dinsdale, who is with the 63d Infantry at the Presidio; Walker Apperson and Ben Holliman, both of whom are at Camp Lewis, and Frank Elston, who is on the U. S. Battleship Huntington, which presumably is on its way to France.

YOLO SHOWING ENTHUSIASM IN Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

All Signs Point to Greatest Mass Meeting Ever Held in Woodland When Drive Is Opened Monday Night

CAUSE TO BE AIDED IN CHURCHES TODAY

Governor Stephens and Worker
Just Returned From Russia
Will Be Chief Speakers
Tomorrow Evening

WITH much pre-season enthusiasm being stirred up in the churches of Woodland today, all Yolo county is beginning to contract enthusiasm for the $10,000 Y. M. C. A. drive which will be launched with a monster mass meeting in the Armory hall Monday night. Governor William D. Stephens is coming to this city to tell of the great good being accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. organization in army camps and trenches and the first relation of the history from the fighting front in Russia will be told in both verbal and pictorial form by Fred Goodsell, who will arrive in San Francisco today from Russia.

In response to the general invitation of the executive committee in charge of the work in Yolo county, to the citizens at large, whether or not they have been named on the general committee, to "contribute themselves and secure subscriptions" activity has already been reported from several organizations. The Town and Country club was the first to enter into the work, having issued a call to all its members to attend the meeting Monday night and to also lend their assistance to the solicitation and contribution.

Other clubs and societies which had had meetings scheduled for Monday evening have postponed them to enable their members to join in the Y. M. C. A. mass meeting.

HOPEFUL OF BIG SUCCESS

With such interest being manifested from every quarter great gratification is felt by those at the head of the campaign and they are hopeful that the $10,000 Yolo county "hut" will be made a possibility within the first few days of the drive which will be nation wide November 11-20.

That the work of the army and navy Y. M. C. A. calls for the utmost support on the part of the county is exemplified in this true story as told by F. R. Smith, a Y. M. C. A. war work secretary at San Diego.

"One day a major asked me to have a talk with a soldier boy," said Mr. Smith, "He sent an orderly for him and when he arrived I found that the lad was from a northern California city. He said that he had not had a letter from home in several weeks, had got discouraged and homesick and had tried to run away. He was caught and brought back to camp."

LETTERS BIG FACTORS

"The major was easy with him and gave him light punishment. I wrote his mother, brother, sister and the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in his home town about him. In less than a week four letters arrived for him. He has not been homesick since. He is a different boy. A letter sometimes makes a lot of difference. I wish the folks back home could realize this."

This is but one phase of Y. M. C. A. war work. The association building or tent is the soldier's club, a place where he can go at any time to write letters, read or play games. Entertainments are arranged and everything done that can help to keep the boy happy and contented. It is just as important to the well being of the soldier as any other part of army work.

To continue the war work and to extend it to reach American soldiers overseas the Y. M. C. A. is asking for funds. A great national drive for $35,000,000 is now on. Everyone is expected to help as it makes for the happiness and comfort of the soldier in the service.

TELLS IMPORTANCE OF Y. M. C. A. WORK AT AMERICAN LAKE

Every day letters are received from the boys in the training camps complimenting the work of the Y. M. C. A. and appealing to the people at home to support it. W. F. Burke, recently exempted and returned from Camp Lewis, was a guest today at the hotel Julian. To a "Democrat" reporter he said:

"Urge your people to respond to the call of the boys. I know what the Y. M. C. A. is doing—it is the ministering angel of the camps—the next thing to home. I wish I could talk for it. If I was a public speaker I would demand that I might be heard so that I could express my gratitude for what the organization did for me."

Hundreds of letters are received from the boys from Woodland making the same statement.

Tonight the supreme effort will be made to see to it that Yolo county responds to the call to duty and she will not be found wanting. Everybody is invited to come. Hear the governor—pay him tribute for his kindness in coming with us—hear the veteran who has returned and see to it that you do your part to sustain the boys who are fighting your battles for you.

Yolo is Asked For 150 More Soldier Boxes

THIS COUNTY IS CALLED UPON TO FURNISH TOTAL OF 500
FOR BOYS IN SERVICE

Here comes an S. O. S. call from Mr. Clymer, head of the Red Cross working California. He needs many hundreds more of those Christmas boxes if every one of the soldier boys is to be remembered Christmas morning.

He sent a hurry up call to the local chapter for another 150 boxes in addition to the 350 already provided. The committee was called together yesterday by President McConnell and it was determined to get busy at once and respond to the request.

These additional boxes must be sent not later than the 20th of the month, consequently there is no time to spare. An urgent request is made for donations of the following articles; 75 pounds of walnut meats; 75 pounds of almond meats; 150 pounds of raisins; 150 pounds of figs; 160 pounds of prunes.

Those who can help with these donations are requested to take them to the county board of trade rooms or report to Mr. McConnell at the Yolo County Savings Bank.

Members of Yolo's Last Draft Increment On Way to New York After 48 Hours At Camp Lewis

Every one of the sixteen men who left here last Monday for Camp Lewis is on his way to a training camp on Long Island, N. Y., except Joe Solomon, according to letters received here today from Walker Apperson, who captained Yolo's final increment. Solomon is to go east next Sunday. Apperson wrote that he was leaving Friday for the east, along with 500

BIG COMMITTEE MEETING TUESDAY

Tomorrow evening at 7:30, at the court room in Odd Fellows building, the general committee of fifty on Y. M. C. A. war work will meet. Everyone is invited to be present, whether members of the committee or not. The committee comprises fifty members. It was made large so that all the people—as nearly as possible—might join in the responsibility to our country in the conflict. If you are not a member of the committee, however, you are invited to come. It is a campaign for all the people. There is glory enough for everybody in the performance of a noble duty.

others from California, including a number from Dixon. His mentioning that Solomon was to stay in Washington is taken to indicate that the rest of the Woodland men in the final contingent were ordered east with Apperson.

The Woodland boy added that every one of the 500 men was given his camp outfit before starting. They were at the camp a little over 48 hours, having arrived early Wednesday morning.

It is believed that the purpose of the war department in ordering the new recruits east is to facilitate the training of the earlier arrivals, who it is probably thought, may be whipped into a trained body of fighting men much more quickly than if associated with the "greener" draftees.

Joe Solomon, assistant captain of last week's entrainment, wrote today that he and E. P. Rineer have been ordered to leave for the New York camp next Sunday.

CENSOR HELPS TO DELAY LETTERS, WRITES GREGORY

The blue pencil of the official censor is partly responsible for the delay experienced by Woodland people in hearing from their sons in foreign service, according to letters received from Meredith Gregory, who is with the U. S. engineers in France. Some of the letters to the boys have been censored as well as the ones they have written.

The Gregory family is using a system of numbering the letters to young Gregory, so they can find out from him whether he has missed any. All the letters they send are numbered consecutively. Last night Mr. Gregory wrote Number 15. One of the letters recently sent was a month in transit. The letter just received by the family was written October 13.

The Woodland boy pays a splendid tribute to the work done in France by the Y. M. C. A. "It's hard to see how the army here could get along without it," he says.

Gregory also mentions the eagerness with which he and his home companions, Trenton Taylor, Harold Armstrong and William Turner, read the news of home as it comes each day in the "Democrat."

MONSTER MEETING PROMISE

COUNTY AROUSED TO SPEAKERS; BOTH SUR
TO INSPIRE

OUTPOURING WILL MANI PUBLIC INTEREST IN GREAT WORK

If expressed enthusiasm is indicative of the county, Woodland will witness the greatest outpouring of her people to the Y. M. C. A. war rally at the Armory this evening she has ever experienced. The hearts of the people are being won at the front and the various organizations that minister to them are doing their best to keep the boys' physical life of the boys in the trenches.

Fred Goodsell, direct from the torn portions of the old world, he has been actively engaged in the work, will tell the story of the ble tragedy of the world. As slides showing how the Y. M. C. A. work is done will prove an interesting feature of the evening.

Tonight's gathering will arouse the people to the seriousness of the great conflict in which boys are participating. Our hearts will respond to the appeal of our own boys to support the organization that is furnishing a home for them.

Governor Stephens is a speaker and he will deal with questions of the day in words that cannot be mistaken. It is his introduction to the people of the land and he will be greeted with a meeting. A. C. Huston will be man.

Guinda Red Cross Scores Big Success in Benefit Program

The entire portion of Western Yolo was responsive to the invitation of the Guinda section of the Red Cross to attend an entertainment last night. The chief feature was an amateur performance by a company of young people of Esparto, who presented "The Bosom Friend of Bowster." The play was recently given at Esparto and will be repeated at Winters next Friday evening, all the presentations being for the benefit of the Red Cross sections of the various places. The participants are doing a real service to the cause in this county.

The cast, every one being very clever in the part assigned, was as follows:

Malvin Meekman, the "Bosom Friend of Bowster" . . . Fred Wyatt
Col. Benjamin Bowster, an old

army officerVictor Vieira
Travis Dale, of a romantic turn of mindHarry Baur
Prof. Travis Mathby, retired schoolmaster and uncle of young TravisWill Chaney
Tim Mulligan, a servant, formerly "One of the Finest"Will Holmes
Mrs. Rose Bowster, who has a secretMrs. Will Chaney
Mrs. Meekman, Meekman's much better halfMrs. Roy Wyatt
Rose Waters, Mrs. Bowster's secretMrs. Vena Fredericks
The entertainment was under the direct supervision of Mrs. Davidson, president of the Guinda section, who was very ably assisted by her corps of officers and the members of her section. Not less than 400 people were in attendance, Woodland, Knights Landing, Blacks and other points in the county being well represented. The evening closed with a dance, the music being supplied by Huckle's orchestra of this city. A considerable sum was realized.

Plainfield Social Fund to Red Cross

One-Half of Proceeds of Dance Will Be Donated to Good Cause

Plainfield has inaugurated a plan which will result in adding a good many dollars during the season to the Red Cross funds of the county. The plan to be followed will be to turn one-half of all receipts from the bi-monthly neighborhood dances into that fund. The first dance was held Friday evening and yesterday Mr. McConnell received $15. from Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Siefertmann, the two ladies who had charge of the dance.

Porter Diggs Rejected From Lewis War Camp

Porter Diggs, colored draftee from here, will be "among us" again this winter. He is due to arrive here this afternoon. Diggs has been rejected by the medical board at Camp Lewis, because of flat feet. The lower extremities of the darky pugilist are in such condition that the doctors did not think it worth while to try to remedy them at the camp. Diggs, however, with care on his part, will be able to get his feet in proper condition to do a bit of boxing this winter and may later win his way back into the army.

Yolo County Follows Up Great Bond Performance by Giving Y. M. C. A. More Than Asked

Additional contributions to Yolo county's fund for building a Y. M. C. A. building today, swelled the total to $10,687.50, or $687.50 more than was apportioned by the National Y. M. C. A. headquarters as Yolo's share of the $11-million fund being raised over the country. Over $10,000 was pledged Monday evening's mass meeting, establishing what is believed to be a national record for response from an interior county for the Y. M. C. A. There are 315 subscribers on the list. The City of Winters heads the list with a donation of $1000. Five local citizens contributed $500 each, and others added $250 each to the list. Four donors gave $200 apiece, $150, six $100, and one $75. Twenty-six subscribed for $50 each, fifty for $10 apiece, and one hundred and nineteen pledged $5 each. The remainder of the subscriptions ranged from $3 to $1.

"Fight to Victory," Message Of Governor W. D. Stephens

Governor William D. Stephens, in his first appearance in Woodland last night, brought a ringing appeal to Yolo county to carry this war to a successful conclusion. Every man, woman and child must have a big part in the present day crisis, was the message of the state's chief executive to one of the biggest audiences ever addressed in this city.

"We are 5,000 miles away from the scene of battle," said the governor, "but it is not far should Germany win this war." It would mean that within a few years America would be fighting the Kaiser single handed with the prospect staring her in the face of military slavery, worse than a hundred deaths. California would be a rich prize for a victorious Germany, said Governor Stephens, a condition against which we must throw every power within our command.

SPEECH OF GOVERNOR

The address, which was filled with patriotic spirit, in part follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen of Woodland and of Yolo county, fortunate is the Governor that can come to a city like Woodland and face such a magnificent audience as this. I feel greatly honored at such a splendid outpouring of people. For more than thirty years I lived in one county in California, but on the 15th day of last March, when I became the Governor, I moved out of that one county, and I now live in 58 counties in California, and I am just as much the Governor of Yolo county as I am of any other, and I am just as much determined to do my duty towards Yolo county as any other county in California.

"What I care most to talk to you about tonight is the situation in America is engaged today. I would impress upon you people here that America is engaged in a war. You may theorize about this matter, you talk, you may think that war should not be, should not have been; that America should not be engaged in war today, and that is wrong, but the fact remains that America is in war, in the awfullest war, if I may say, that the world has ever seen, fought with more horrible details than has ever before been related in history.

PEACE ON AMERICAN PLAN

"We must win. Why? Because, my friends, peacefully inclined as I am, and I do not think there is a man alive that wants peace more than I do, yet I would not have peace tomorrow unless it was upon the American plan. I do not want peace, my friends, until American has completely and overwhelmingly defeated Germany.

"I believe in preparedness: I have talked it for years, long before I went to congress, and then on the floor of the House of Representatives, of which I was a member. I have talked it in season and out of season, and talked it so much that my own family absorbed it. So I would have California prepare and then I would send California into this great world war to do her duty, and it is so necessary for California, and for all of us to do our full duty. Do you realize how poorly we are protected here on this Pacific coast, and how much we need preparedness. Well, if you will refer to naval affairs meeting held last January, about a year ago, you will find there in public print that Admiral Winslow told our committee about the Pacific Coast fleet. He said that one battle ship could devastate all the fleet America had on the Pacific Coast, and she has not as much today as she had then.

If Germany was to conquer America, then she would make pretty quick tracks for California, because California is a rich country, and if she came here we would have to do whatever she said, pay whatever tribute Germany asked, in money, property, or anything else she chose to ask.

AND IF GERMANY WINS

"We are 5,000 miles away from the field of battle, I know, but we are only a little distance away. If Germany conquers in this war, in my judgment, Germany will be fighting America within the next few years, and we will not have France or England to help us either.

"We are fighting to preserve democracy in the world, which is more or less idealism, and we are fighting to preserve our own self respect, and the privileges we have had all these years, not only for ourselves, but for the little ones. If Germany wins, do you think we can do that? No, neither can the little folks, and it is for the privileges that we have had and want for them that we are pursuing this war, because it means victor, means continued freedom, not only for the American people, but for the many other people in the world.

SENDING OUR BOYS OVER

"Friends, we are sending our boys to the front day after day. They are going; all our households are touched, yours, mine and all. It is hard to see them go, and yet when we realize what they are going for, it is not so hard. Mothers of Yolo, I know how hard it is to part with these boys. I know that your heart goes back to the day when the little fellow came toddling to your knee and learned there the prayer you taught him, and I know you remember when he looked into your eyes, and found there the fountain of all knowledge, and I know too, that you remember when that little fellow saw in your eyes the determination, and the willingness to give up your life any moment for his. And so you would keep him here, but Mother the day has changed; the boy has grown to manhood, and now he comes to your knee and asks the privilege of going to fight for your honor and your life, and mothers, send him forth with your blessing, and bid him God speed, and we at home will help him in every way we can.

HELP FURNISH FOOD

"We must furnish him food, and we must furnish him care of all kinds. We must do all we can, and we must grow everything we can in our yards and vacant lots. Why do I mention this tonight. Because, I think it is important. I have been preaching that ever since I have been Governor. All have to be fed, every man, woman and child in the United States, whether he belongs to the allies or not, and if we raise nothing we must get our food from the warehouses, and if we raise something, we will have just that much more in the warehouses, and our boys will have that much more for themselves.

"Then we must give to the Red Cross, because the Red Cross is a splendid organization, it is perhaps the most wonderful the world has ever had, and then we must buy liberty bonds. Yolo county has done splendidly on liberty bonds, and with the Red Cross, but there is another issue coming of bonds in time, and we must be ready, and every man in Yolo county should buy a bond, only such a size bond as you can afford, the Government virtually says, but buy a bond. You owe that much to your Government. Whether you are a banker or a farmer or a merchant, every man should buy a liberty bond, and lend something of what he has to the government. You will have to either lend something of what you have, or you will have to give, it all to the kaiser. Take your choice. In my judgment the man who can afford to buy a liberty bond, and does not buy, is treading pretty close to the path that traitors travel. AND THE Y. M. C. A.

YOLO SHOWING ENTHUSIASM IN Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

All Signs Point to Greatest Mass Meeting Ever Held in Woodland When Drive Is Opened Monday Night

CAUSE TO BE AIDED IN CHURCHES TODAY

Governor Stephens and Worker Just Returned From Russia Will Be Chief Speakers Tomorrow Evening

WITH much pre-season enthusiasm being stirred up in the churches of Woodland today, all Yolo county is beginning to contract enthusiasm for the $10,000 Y. M. C. A. drive which will be launched with a monster mass meeting in the Armory hall Monday night. Governor William D. Stephens is coming to this city to tell of the great good being accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. organization in army camps and trenches and the first relation of the history from the fighting front in Russia will be told in both verbal and pictorial form by Fred Goodsell, who will arrive in San Francisco today from Russia.

In response to the general invitation of the executive committee in charge of the work in Yolo county, to the citizens at large, whether or not they have been named on the general committee, to "contribute themselves and secure subscriptions" activity has already been reported from several organizations. The Town and Country club was the first to enter into the work, having issued a call to all its members to attend the meeting Monday night and to also lend their assistance to the solicitation and contribution.

Other clubs and societies which had had meetings scheduled for Monday evening have postponed them to enable their members to join in the Y. M. C. A. mass meeting.

HOPEFUL OF BIG SUCCESS

With such interest being manifested from every quarter great gratification is felt by those at the head of the campaign and they are hopeful that the $10,000 Yolo county "hut" will be made a possibility within the first few days of the drive which will be nation wide November 11-20.

That the work of the army and navy Y. M. C. A. calls for the utmost support on the part of the county is exemplified in this true story as told by F. R. Smith, a Y. M. C. A. war work secretary at San Diego.

"One day a major asked me to have a talk with a soldier boy," said Mr. Smith, "He sent an orderly for him and when he arrived I found that the lad was from a northern California city. He said that he had not had a letter from home in several weeks, had got discouraged and homesick and had tried to run away. He was caught and brought back to camp.

LETTERS BIG FACTORS

"The major was easy with him and gave him light punishment. I wrote his mother, brother, sister and the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in his home town about him. In less than a week four letters arrived for him. He has not been homesick since. He is a different boy. A letter sometimes makes a lot of difference. I wish the folks back home could realize this."

This is but one phase of Y. M. C. A. war work. The association building or tent is the soldier's club, a place where he can go at any time to write letters, read or play games. Entertainments are arranged and everything done that can help to keep the boy happy and contented. It is just as important to the well being of the soldier as any other part of army work.

To continue the war work and to extend it to reach American soldiers overseas the Y. M. C. A. is asking for funds. A great national drive for $35,000,000 is now on. Everyone is expected to help as it makes for the happiness and comfort of the soldier in the service.

TELLS IMPORTANCE OF Y. M. C. A. WORK AT AMERICAN LAKE

Every day letters are received from the boys in the training camps complimenting the work of the Y. M. C. A. and appealing to the people at home to support it. W. F. Burke, recently exempted and returned from Camp Lewis, was a guest today at the hotel Julian. To a "Democrat" reporter he said:

"Urge your people to respond to the call of the boys. I know what the Y. M. C. A. is doing—it is the ministering angel of the camps—the next thing to home. I wish I could talk for it. If I was a public speaker I would demand that I might be heard so that I could express my gratitude for what the organization did for me."

Hundreds of letters are received from the boys from Woodland making the same statement.

Tonight the supreme effort will be made to see to it that Yolo county responds to the call to duty and she will not be found wanting. Everybody is invited to come. Hear the governor—pay him tribute for his kindness in coming with us—hear the veteran who has returned and see to it that you do your part to sustain the boys who are fighting your battles for you.

Yolo is Asked For 150 More Soldier Boxes

THIS COUNTY IS CALLED UPON TO FURNISH TOTAL OF 500 FOR BOYS IN SERVICE

Here comes an S. O. S. call from Mr. Clymer, head of the Red Cross work in California. He needs many hundreds more of those Christmas boxes if every one of the soldier boys is to be remembered Christmas morning.

He sent a hurry up call to the local chapter for another 150 boxes in addition to the 350 already provided. The committee was called together yesterday by President McConnell and it was determined to get busy at once and respond to the request.

These additional boxes must be sent not later than the 20th of the month, consequently there is no time to spare. An urgent request is made for donations of the following articles; 75 pounds of walnut meats; 75 pounds of almond meats; 150 pounds of raisins; 150 pounds of figs; 160 pounds of prunes.

Those who can help with these donations are requested to take them to the county board of trade rooms or report to Mr. McConnell at the Yolo County Savings Bank.

Members of Yolo's Last Draft Increment On Way to New York After 48 Hours At Camp Lewis

Every one of the sixteen men who left here last Monday for Camp Lewis is on his way to a training camp on Long Island, N. Y., except Joe Solomon, according to letters received here today from Walker Apperson, who captained Yolo's final increment. Solomon is to go east next Sunday. Apperson wrote that he was leaving Friday for the east, along with 500 others from California, including a number from Dixon. His mentioning that Solomon was to stay in Washington is taken to indicate that the rest of the Woodland men in the final contingent were ordered east with Apperson.

BIG COMMITTEE MEETING TUESDAY

Tomorrow evening at 7:30, at the court room in Odd Fellows building, the general committee of fifty on Y. M. C. A. war work will meet. Everyone is invited to be present, whether members of the committee or not. The committee comprises fifty members. It was made large so that all the people—as nearly as possible—might join in the responsibility to our country in the conflict. If you are not a member of the committee, however, you are invited to come. It is a campaign for all the people. There is glory enough for everybody in the performance of a noble duty.

The Woodland boy added that every one of the 500 men was given his camp outfit before starting. They were at the camp a little over 48 hours, having arrived early Wednesday morning.

It is believed that the purpose of the war department in ordering the new recruits east is to facilitate the training of the earlier arrivals, who it is probably thought, may be whipped into a trained body of fighting men much more quickly than if associated with the "greener" draftees.

Joe Solomon, assistant captain of last week's entrainment, wrote today that he and E. P. Rineer have been ordered to leave for the New York camp next Sunday.

CENSOR HELPS TO DELAY LETTERS, WRITES GREGORY

The blue pencil of the official censor is partly responsible for the delay experienced by Woodland people in hearing from their sons in foreign service, according to letters received from Meredith Gregory, who is with the U. S. engineers in France. Some of the letters to the boys have been censored as well as the ones they have written.

The Gregory family is using a system of numbering the letters to young Gregory, so they can find out from him whether he has missed any. All the letters they send are numbered consecutively. Last night Mr. Gregory wrote Number 15. One of the letters recently sent was a month in transit. The letter just received by the family was written October 13.

The Woodland boy pays a splendid tribute to the work done in France by the Y. M. C. A. "It's hard to see how the army here could get along without it," he says.

Gregory also mentions the eagerness with which he and his home companions, Trenton Taylor, Harold Armstrong and William Turner, read the news of home as it comes each day in the "Democrat."

MONSTER MEETING PROMISE

OUTPOURING WILL MANIFEST PUBLIC INTEREST IN GREAT WORK

If expressed enthusiasm is indicative of the county, Woodland will witness the great outpouring of her people to the Y. M. C. A. war rally at the Armory hall this evening she has ever experienced. The hearts of the people are aroused by the boys at the front and the various organizations that minister to them.

Governor Stephens will arrive tonight. His heart is in the cause, caring for the moral, spiritual and physical life of the boys in the camps and the trenches.

Fred Goodsell, direct from the front portions of the old world, who has been actively engaged in war work, will tell the story of the terrible tragedy of the world. Slides showing how the Y. M. C. A. work is done will prove an interesting feature of the evening.

Tonight's gathering will serve to arouse the people to the seriousness of the great conflict in which our boys are participating. Our hearts will respond to the appeal of our own boys to support the nation that is furnishing a home for them.

Governor Stephens is a great speaker and he will deal with questions of the day in a way that cannot be mistaken. It is his introduction to the people of Woodland and he will be greeted with a meeting. A. C. Huston will be the man.

Porter Diggs Rejected From Lewis War Camp

Porter Diggs, colored draftee from here, will be "among us" again this winter. He is due to arrive here this afternoon. Diggs has been rejected by the medical board at Camp Lewis, because of flat feet. The lower extremities of the darky puglist are in such condition that the doctors did not think it worth while to try to remedy them at the camp. Diggs, however, with care on his part, will be able to get his feet in proper condition to do a bit of boxing this winter and may later win his way back into the army.

Guinda Red Cross Scores Big Success in Benefit Program

The entire portion of Western Yolo was responsive to the invitation of the Guinda section of the Red Cross to attend an entertainment last night. The chief feature was an amateur performance by a company of young people of Esparto, who presented "The Bosom Friend of Bowster." The play was recently given at Esparto and will be repeated at Winters next Friday evening, all the presentations being for the benefit of the Red Cross sections of the various places. The participants are doing a real service to the cause in this county.

The cast, every one being very clever in the part assigned, was as follows:

Malvin Meekman, the "Bosom Friend of Bowster" . . . Fred Wyatt
Col. Benjamin Bowster, an old

army officer Victor Vieira
Travis Dale, of a romantic turn of mind Harry Baur
Prof. Travis Mathby, retired schoolmaster and uncle of young Travis Will Chaney
Tim Mulligan, a servant, formerly "One of the Finest" Will Holmes

Mrs. Rose Bowster, who has a secret Mrs. Will Chaney
Mrs. Meekman, Meekman's much better half Mrs. Roy Wyatt
Rose Waters, Mrs. Bowster's secret Mrs. Vena Fredericks

The entertainment was under the direct supervision of Mrs. Davisson, president of the Guinda section, who was very ably assisted by her corps of officers and the members of her section. Not less than 400 people were in attendance, Woodland, Knights Landing, Blacks and other points in the county being well represented. The evening closed with a dance, the music being supplied by Huckle's orchestra of this city. A considerable sum was realized.

my judgment the man who can the path that traitors travel.

AND THE Y. M. C. A.

"There is another thing we can do, you can subscribe to the Y. M. C. A. It is not so absolutely necessary as to buy a liberty bond, because the liberty bond buys munitions with which to fight and food and which to feed the boys. But next to that comes the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross. The Y. M. C. A. takes care of your boy physically and mentally, and although you don't need to belong to a church, they ask no question, and they will not preach to you, either unless you want to hear it, but they do furnish all kinds of games and all kinds of reading matter, and all kinds of paper on which to write and the encouragement to write home, and they furnish a pleasant warm place for men to sit around when nothing is going on at the front for them. It is the nearest place to home that can be found in a battle field, and if you would like to have your boy feel at home, join subscribe to the Y. M. C. A. because that is pretty close to home.

"In every front, or just back every front, you will find a Y. M. A. hut, with hot coffee ready to give the boys as they come out of the trenches after serving there 7 hours.

"Give, my friends, in any way you can to help America win this war. And, you people of Woodland, would ask one thing, and that is that you help the governor. Keep California where she belongs. California's place is not in the rear rank. California's place is in the very front rank, and there I will ask you to help your Governor keep California there."

Tells of 1700-Mile Trip In Studebaker On Visit to Soldiers

A story of Studebaker efficiency was told Friday afternoon by William Johnston, who is home from a motor tour to San Diego during which his speedometer changed figures just 1702 times. Johnston's tool-box was not touched during the entire trip. There was one puncture, but that was fixed at a garage. The car covered something over 14 miles to the gallon of gasoline. Five gallons of oil was used.

Accompanying the Woodland man were Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. H. Butzbach, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rabin of Sacramento. They visited at Camp Kearny Daryl Johnston, who is with F Company and Merton Rabin, stationed in the medical department. They spent eight days in San Diego and motored almost daily to Camp Kearny, which is fifteen miles due north of the city.

Lieutenant Rodney Hill showed the local people a mammoth drill ground cleared of brush and large enough to permit 40,000 soldiers to drill at once. There are now just that many soldiers in the southern camp. The Johnstons say there are more than sixty jitneys running between Camp Kearny and San Diego. The soldiers are privileged to leave the camp at 3 o'clock on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons and return the next morning at seven.

Rejected and honorably discharged after Camp Lewis officers had waited in vain for him to take on weight and come up to the required specifications, Raymond Hughes came home Monday evening. He was found to be under weight and to have moderately defective arches. Hughes weighs 106 pounds and is the shortest in stature of all the men who have been sent from this county.

Hughes left here with the third contingent on October 8. He had returned from his vacation a short time previously and he figured he was at top weight and might "get by" the examiners. They objected to his weight but kept him at the camp. But Hughes but kept him at the camp. But Hughes, instead of gaining poundage, lost, and his rejection followed.

The Woodland man came south with fifty others, mostly from San Francisco. They were sent home for various deficiencies. Hughes said today that all of the Yolo county men at the camp are doing unusually well and are thriving on the training.

Asked the reason for the wholesale shipments of soldiers to eastern camps, Hughes said he believes the men are being sent to the more rigorous climates of the east in order to harden them for next winter's campaign in Europe. From what he learned he thinks the men sent on to New York will be sent across in the spring.

Seattle and Tacoma are great weekend centers for the draftees, according to Hughes. Unless charged with some unusual task the men are permitted to leave camp from Saturday afternoon until Sunday night.

Writes That Many From Camp Lewis Being Sent East

Drafted recruits are leaving Camp Lewis for the east in large bunches, according to a letter received by "Bill" Dahler of the Electric Garage from "Heavy" Rineer, who was one of the garage's mechanics before leaving here with the second draft contingent. Rineer himself is to leave for a camp in New York next Sunday, he told Dahler in his letter.

The former mechanic did not say what branch of service he was to be sent to in New York nor to what camp he was bound. This latter information is not permitted to be given out.

All but twenty-two of the 200-odd men in Rineer's barracks were ordered east, he adds. It is thought the transfers are being made partly for the purpose of making room for the men to be sent in the second draft.

MONSTER MASS MEETING IS QUICK TO RESPOND TO THE CALL FOR YOLO COUNTY HUT

It took Yolo county, the pace setter for America in war work, just one hour and a half to "go over the top" in raising $10,503.50, or an over-subscription of $503.50 for the "Yolo county Y. M. C. A. Hut." At the most remarkable mass meeting ever held in this city, no doubt in the state and probably in the nation, dollars rolled into the fund so rapidly that it took three announcers to keep pace with the flow of pledges to take the "home atmosphere" to the training camps of America and the fighting trenches in America.

Following ringing speeches by Governor W. D. Stephens, Fred Goodsell, Y. M. C. A. worker just back from the Rumanian front, and James Edmunds, head of the $35,000,000 national campaign in this district, pencils fairly flew to fill the subscription cards. They came all the way from sums of $500 to $1, the lowest being just as heartily applauded as the highest. Each person in the Armory hall, which held the largest crowd in its history, vied with his neighbor to pen the biggest pledge, the result being the complete construction of the Yolo hut, even to the topmost brick on the chimney, with some to spare. The county has responded most nobly to a great cause and has shown herself ready to give as well as to buy liberty bonds with a return of four percent.

WILLIAM D. STEPHENS

HALL FILLED EARLY

Long before the time for the opening of the meeting no seating space was available in the hall and rush orders had to be sent out for extra chairs to fill aisles and vacant spaces. Many remained standing during the entire meeting, so tense was the enthusiasm. A. C. Huston, chairman of the executive committee in charge of the Yolo county drive, called the meeting to order, expressing his gratitude to the manner in which the people had responded, taking it as a direct tribute to the distinguished speakers. He also expressed thanks to those who had contributed to the success of the meeting, mentioning especially the Woodland band, who donated their services for the evening, and to "Bill the Bootblack," leasee of the hall, who contributed the building.

Interest in the work at hand could be seen stamped upon every countenance in the hall as the speakers proceeded with their exposition of the cause and it was not an idle appeal when James Edmunds, the closing speaker, asked that the entire amount asked be raised right in the hall.

ONE FAMILY GIVES $900.

The first response came in the announcement of Mrs. L. D. Lawhead of the subscription of $1,000 which she had personally solicited. Nine hundred dollars of that amount came from one family, the Bullards. The sum of $500 was given by E. A. Bullard, $250 by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bullard and the other $150 by Mrs. Hattie Elston. To complete her $1,000 Mrs. Lawhead procured a check from her husband, Dr. Lawhead, for the remaining $100. Then to crown her labors she, herself, contributed $50.

With such an opening to the drive a corps of young girls, who distributed the pledge cards, were kept busy gathering up the promises of donations and the periodic announcement of the ever increasing total only spurred the audience to further effort to obtain the goal. It seemed that for every one announced there were two offered, and so it went until they not only "went over the top" but made a substantial advance into the enemy trenches.

STUDENTS CONTRIBUTE
One of the notable features of the drive was the subscribing of many of the high school students, mostly in the denomination of $5. It is safe to say that not one in the hall failed to sign a card, as well as the girls' and boys' athletic associations of the school. Wee children also enlisted their dollars, Paul Edward Leake being the youngest to contribute.

At the close of the meeting Chairman A. C. Huston authorized a statement in which he thanked the speakers for the great part they had played in the success of the undertaking and expressing his gratitude to the unprecedented response of the people.

In speaking of the meeting James Edmunds, organizer, said, "In my 25 years of experience I have never witnessed so fine a response to a great appeal as Yolo county gave tonight. I have no words in which to express adequately my appreciation of the spirit shown in the mass meeting tonight."

EXEMPTERS ASK RELIEF; GRANT TO SUCCEED GADDIS

At the request of E. E. Gaddis, chairman of the Yolo Exemption Board, the Yolo County Defense Council was this afternoon taking steps to relieve him of his burdensome government task. W. H. Grant was suggested as Gaddis' successor, and it is known that he will accept the responsible position.

It is proposed to appoint a clerk to take charge of the clerical work. Horticultural Commissioner Wm. Gould will likely accept the position. A deputy horticultural commissioner will probably be named to act under Gould's direction while the latter is serving with the exemption board.

Kirk Swingle and P. N. Ashley have also asked to be relieved. Their request will be granted if successors can be found. The Defense Council will recommend relief for the present Yolo board. Adjutant General Borree will then confer with President Wilson, who will probably accept the recommendation of the Yolo Defense Council. John L. Stephens, banker, was mentioned today for a place on the board.

The council will urge restaurants, hotels, and private homes to observe Tuesday as meatless day, Wednesday as wheatless day and Thursday as "ice-creamless" day.

Shower of gold greets Young Men's Christian association appeal to Yolo County's patriotic citizens for hut funds.

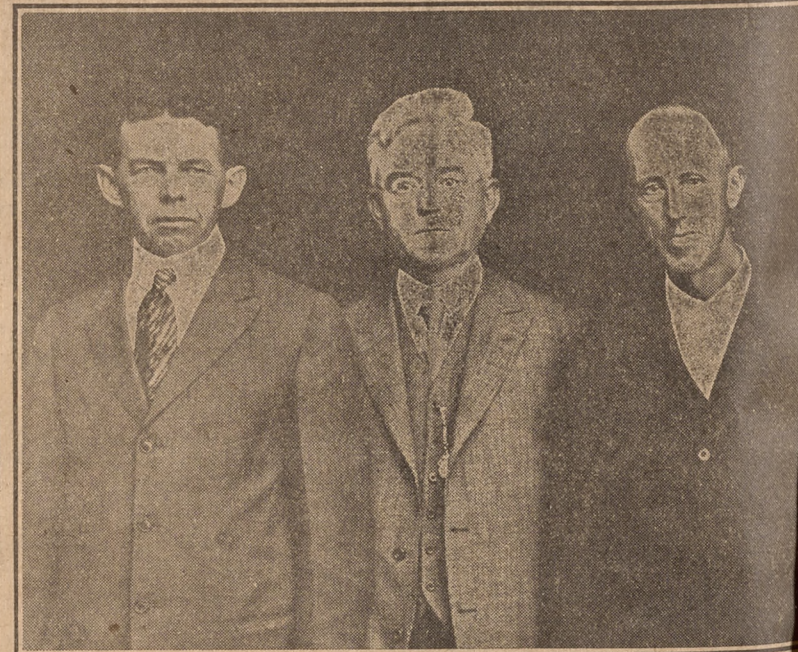

Sergeant Joe Dessel returned to the Presidio Monday evening. He is stationed with the 63rd Infantry Corps.

NAME NEW EXEMPTION BOARD

  W. H. Grant, J. L. Stephens, C. R. Wilcoxon *** **

DECISION IS UP TO GOVERNOR

YOLO COUNTY Exemption Board, Which Has Filed Blanket Resignation With Governor. Left to Right, Kirk Swingle of Davis, E. E. Gaddis and P. N. Ashley.

A new exemption board for Yolo county has been appointed by the county council of defense in the persons of W. H. Grant, attorney; J. L. Stephens, banker; and C. R. Wilcoxon, mayor of Woodland. The appointments were made at a meeting held yesterday, being called at the request of the old board, the members of which have filed their resignations with the governor of the state.

The council of defense will recommend to the governor and the adjutant general that the resignations be accepted and the new appointees be ratified as it is recognized that E. E. Gaddis, P. N. Ashley, and Kirk Swingle, the old board, have given freely of their time and energy for several months at personal inconvenience as well as business. It is felt that the board should be distributed.

The new members are men of equal intelligence to their predecessors and no doubt will fulfill all the duties required of them as well as did those whom they succeed.

To care for the clerical work which under the new plan of classification will be a task of considerable proportions, Chas. F. Evans will be employed, for a time at least, is planned to locate the offices of the board in the new court house as soon as possible, that all records may be kept together and more accessible than has been the case in the past.

Board's Headquarters to Be At Court House; Gould Is Fixing Quarters

District Attorney C. C. McDonald and Ed. Archer, both members of the Yolo County Defense Council, went to Sacramento this morning to consult with Governor W. D. Stephens and District Attorney C. C. McDonald relative to the resignations of E. E. Gaddis, P. N. Ashley and Kirk Swingle from the Yolo Exemption Board. General Borree had already recommended relief for Chairman Gaddis, and indicated that he would also recommend the appointment of new men to take the places of Ashley and Swingle.

Superior Judge Wm. A. Anderson, chairman of the local Defense Council, announced this morning that all three of the men suggested by the council at Tuesday's meeting had consented to fill the vacancies left by Gaddis, Ashley and Swingle. W. H. Grant and J. L. Stephens, as indicated in Tuesday's "Democrat," will take the places of Gaddis and Ashley, respectively. Mayor C. R. Wilcoxon was suggested late yesterday to be the third member of the board, has also expressed his willingness to serve.

Clerk Wm. Gould was busy making arrangements today to establish the headquarters of the exemption board in the new Yolo courthouse building. The draft judges will be the first to move into the new structure. They will have commodious quarters on the ground floor.

NEW BOARD'S TASK IS LESS ONEROUS.

Grant, Stephens and Wilcoxon are all busy men and they plan to hold their executive meetings in the evening. Examination of prospective draftees, however, will be conducted in the daytime. It is expected that the new classification system by which the young men are to be ordered into service or excused will simplify matters so that the local exemption board will not have to devote so much time as did the faithful servants who are to be relieved.

Clerk Gould has officiated with the old Yolo exemption board, and will be of valuable service to the new members. His chief assistant will be C. F. Evans, a competent accountant.

RESOLUTION PASSED BY DEFENSE COUNCIL.

The resolution passed by the Yolo Defense Council Tuesday and submitted to Adjutant General J. J. Borree today by District Attorney C. C. McDonald and Ed. Archer, follows:

Professor Kellogg Appointed Woodland Manager of Move To Increase Food Production

Eugene Kellogg, teacher of new system into three groups. The agriculture at the high school here, has been named to supervise the Woodland district in the movement just started to meet the war emergency and to increase the food supply through the co-operation of the schools with the federal department of agriculture and the state university.

The increase in food production in California is to be accomplished with the help of the high and elementary schools of the state. The Agricultural Department has settled on the plan of appointing a high school professor from each high school and giving him supervision of the entire district. It will be the duty of the appointed professor to act as head adviser of that district and supervise the planting of crops. He will also give advice as to the proper time to plant, harvest and other such work connected with the crop.

These agricultural clubs in different sections of the state, which formerly had only three months' productive duration, will be divided under the

Money Still Flowing Into Fund For Yolo County Y.M.C.A. Hut

You can't stop them, these people of Yolo county, when they get into a drive. Money is still flowing into the hands of the committee having charge of the Y. M. C. A. fund. Not of course, that any one wants to stop the good work. Subscriptions will still be received by the newspapers of Woodland or the secretary, Fred Shaffer.

A mass meeting was held at Davis last night at which $540 was subscribed in addition to the $110 subscribed by residents of that section at the Woodland meeting Monday night. And they are not through yet; they send word that they will not be content until they have reached a total of $1000.

There were 170 people at the Davis meeting, which was presided over by Forrest A. Plant. Addresses were made by A. C. Huston, Fred Shaffer and Jas. Edmunds.

SHOWER OF GOLD GREET'S YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION APPEAL TO YOLO COUNTY'S PATRIOTIC CITIZENS FOR HUT FUNDS

GOODSELL, BACK FROM WAR ZONE, SAYS U. S. MAKING GREAT WAR PROGRESS; HAS HOPE FOR RUSSIA

This country is making wonderfully rapid strides in its fight for Liberty, declares Fred Goodsell, Y. M. C. A. secretary who has just come from Russia and who spoke briefly at the Y. M. C. A. meeting in Woodland Monday evening.

"When I left Petrograd six weeks ago," said Goodsell last night, "I wondered what spirit I'd find in my own United States and particularly in California and the West. It pleased me greatly, let me tell you, to observe that we are actually doing things. As a matter of fact it is wonderful, the progress that has been made and is continuing."

Goodsell told of deplorable conditions in Russia.

"There is one thing I feel certain of," he said, "and that is that Russia will never offer terms of separate peace with Germany. The conditions in Russia command the sympathy of us all, but as long as Kerensky and men of his standing can keep in the fight I do not expect the Maximalists to revolt successfully."

Goodsell said that there are 200 Y. M. C. A. huts, such as Yolo will build, in the Russian camps. The speaker then forgot Russia long enough to tell

Bootblack Bill Receives Thanks For Use of Hall

In making his address of thanks at the end of the program, Chairman A. C. Huston did not neglect Bootblack Bill for his courtesy in giving the committee the use of the armory. Bill holds a lease on the hall from the Bank of Yolo and he sub-lets it to renters. When the promoters of last night's mass meeting came to Bill and asked to rent the hall Bill asked, "What's this here thing for?"

"It's to be a patriotic meeting for the Y. M. C. A. soldiers' fund," he was told.

"Then you can have this old hall that night for nothing," was the answer.

Governor Dines At Hecke Home; Praises Showing

Governor W. D. Stephens, Deputy State Horticultural Commissioner George P. Weldon and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Huston were the guests last night of State Horticultural Commissioner and Mrs. G. H. Hecke and family. The visitors were entertained at a dinner, after which the party adjourned to the armory hall for the big Y. M. C. A. meeting. Before returning home to Sacramento, Governor Stephens took occasion to remark to Commissioner Hecke that never in his recollection had he witnessed such a ready response for Y. M. C. A. funds as followed the speaking last evening.

Grizzled Veteran Cheered By Crowd; Gives $100

One of the stirring moments of last night's Y. M. C. A. mass meeting came when E. S. Farnham, Grand Army veteran who had opened the evening's events by marching through the center of the audience carrying Old Glory to the stage, whispered to the subscription takers that he'd give $100 toward the fund. The crowd arose en masse and cheered the venerable war campaigner.

Soldiers' Letters Lauding Y. M. C. A. Read

Three messages from soldier boys advising liberal support of the Y. M. C. A. were read at last night's mass meeting in this city. Captain Leslie Caldwell wired from Camp Kearny that it would be an outrage to refuse aid to such a commendable organization. Meredith Gregory wrote all the way from France of the wonderful work being done by the "Y." in that country. The third note of endorsement came from Lloyd Scoggins of Colusa, a brother of Mrs. Ralph Schuler of Woodland. Scoggins told of the excellent work being accomplished at Camp Lewis.

Mrs. D. R. Clanton Sends In a "Century"

Mrs. D. R. Clanton, one of the county's pioneer residents who was unable to attend the Y. M. C. A. mass meeting here last night, called upon Chairman A. C. Huston this morning and said that she wanted to be the first to open today's subscription list. Mrs. Clanton followed her telephonic conversation with a check for $100.

GOVERNOR TOUCHES AUDIENCE BY HIS PLEA TO MOTHERS

Perhaps the most touching portion of Governor Stephens' address last night was his reference to the willingness with which the mothers of the nation must accept the determination of their boy to go to his country's defense. Just as the mother is from the first ever willing to give her life for her son, so should she now accede to his eagerness to give his life, if need be, for the security of America's women. The governor said:

"Friends, we are sending our boys to the front day after day. They are going; all our households are touched, yours, mine and all. It is hard to see them go, and yet when we realize what they are going for, it is not so hard. Mothers of Yolo, I know how hard it is to part with these boys. I know that your heart goes back to the day when the little fellow came toddling to your knee and learned there the prayer you taught him, and I know you remember when he looked into your eyes, and found there the fountain of all knowledge, and I know too, that you remember when that little fellow saw in your eyes the determination, and the willingness to give up your life any moment for his. And so you would keep him here, but mother, the day has changed; the boy has grown to manhood, and now he comes to your knee and asks the privilege of going to fight for your honor and your life, and mothers, send him forth with your blessings and bid him God-speed, and we at home will help him in every way we can."

Band Boys Hold Up Their End, Plus Some More

The Woodland Band boys did more than their bit at last night's meeting. Besides playing without compensation—and the band helped greatly in exalting the spirits of the audience—the members came through nobly when the subscription cards were sent around. Last night's meeting was only one of the long string of patriotic functions at which the Woodland musicians have played on a "Thank You" agreement.

county has done splendidly on liberty bonds, and with the Red Cross, but there is another issue of bonds coming in time, and we must be ready, and every man in Yolo county should buy a bond. Buy only such a size bond as you can afford, the Government virtually says, but buy a bond. You owe that much to your Government. Whether you are a banker or a farmer, or a merchant, every man should buy a liberty bond, and lend something of what he has to the government. You will have to either lend something of what you have, or you will have to give it all to the kaiser. Take your choice. In my judgment the man who can afford to buy a liberty bond, and does not buy, is treading pretty close to the path that traitors travel.

GOVERNOR TELLS OF CRISIS IN AMERICA

Reminds Audience of Dangers At Hand and of Each Citizen's Duty

ADDRESS STIRS ALL HEARERS

Sees Kaiser In An Invasion of America Should He Win Present Struggle

"California's place is in the very front rank," urged Governor W. D. Stephens toward the close of his very impressive appeal at Monday evening's meeting here for funds to aid the Y. M. C. A. workers. Governor Stephens advised liberal support of this great humane work.

It was the governor's first appearance in public in Woodland. Although not an orator of the firebrand type, the remarks of the State's chief executive were tenderly worded to appeal to the hearstrings as well as the purse strings of his listeners.

Governor Stephens declared that America will find herself alone fighting Germany in a very few years if the Kaiser is not put to rout this time. "And California, he said, "would be a rich plum for victorious Germany. You may theorize about this matter. You talk, you may think that war should not be, should not have been; that America should not be engaged in war today, and that it is wrong. But the fact remains that America is in war, in the awfulest war, if I may say that, the world has ever seen, fraught with more horrible details than have ever before been related in history.

"We must win. Why? Because, my friends, peacefully inclined as I am—and I do not think there is a man alive that wants peace more than I do—yet I would not have peace tomorrow unless it was upon the American plan. I do not want peace, my friends, until America has completely and overwhelmingly defeated Germany."

The Y. M. C. A. hut, in the opinion of Governor Stephens, is the nearest place to home on the battlefield. "It is a patriotic duty," he added, "to give financial support to the workers in this great organization."

We must give to the Red Cross, because the Red Cross is a splendid organization; it is perhaps the most wonderful the world has ever had. And then we must buy liberty bonds. Yolo

For better food at less cost

MAZOLA

BUTTER, lard and suet have been used for years for deep frying, sautéing or shortening—because the housewife could find nothing better. Today the Food Administrator asks her to use vegetable oils.

And Mazola, the pure oil from corn holds first place among vegetable oils. It is the ideal medium for sautéing, deep frying, shortening and salad dressings from every standpoint.

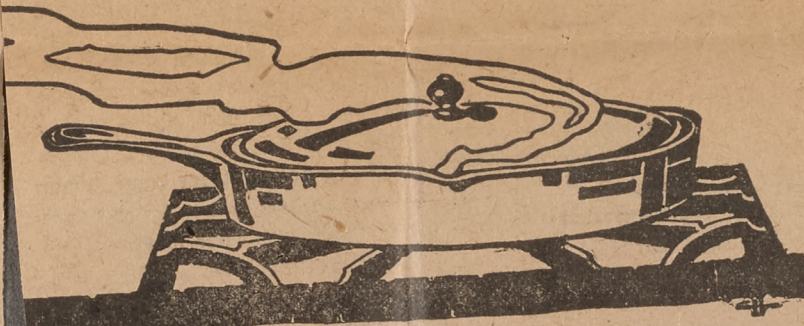

Mazola reaches cooking heat long before it smokes—cooks food more quickly and thoroughly—time more thoroughly. This does away with the greasiness so prevalent with the old cooking oils.

And over again because it does not burn and does not give food to another! It is wonderfully economical.

Try it at your grocer today. Sold in pint, quart, half-gallon and large sizes give greatest economy. Book of Recipes or write us direct. Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

Yolo's Present Exemption Board Must File Record Of Every Case Considered

Summary forms, which when filled out will show the status of every man in Yolo county on the day of registration last June, have been received by Chairman E. E. Gaddis of the Yolo exemption board. This system has been inaugurated to enable the government investigators to have a cross check on the "questionnaires" which will be received here shortly.

Among the last duties of the present exemption board will be to fill out the summary form, which will disclose the occupation of the registrant, his address at the time of registration, subsequent changes of address or occupation, the time he appeared for physical examination, the findings of the medical examiners, the forms filed for exemption, the stenographic notes of the exemption hearings before the local board, the disposition of the case at the hands of the local board, appeals filed with the federal district board, notes of the hearings before the federal body and the final disposition of the case.

The time of entrainment for the army camp will be entered in another part of the form, and then all the actions of the army officials with regard to the case, up to the time he is finally accepted for service and assigned to a regular organization, will be included.

"Little Jeff" is Sold Three Times

"Little Jeff" sold himself four times yesterday at the Zimmerman stock sale on a gradually declining scale but the four sales aggregated $94.00 for the Yolo county Red Cross chapter.

"Little Jeff" is the diminutive mule shown at the county fair by Joe Harlan. He was donated by the Harlan estate, to be sold at the sale yesterday. When he was put on the auction block the first time he was bid in by Mr. Harris of Dixon for $25.00. Back he went and Chas. Kull of Blacks bid him in for $25. Up he went to third time and Fred Ulrich was the lucky person and got him for $17. Fred picked his mule-ship up and put him back in the ring for the fourth time and in trying to "run him up" on a competitor, got him back for another $17.

Said Joe Harlan, "I'll bet 'Gill' takes him out to the Harlan ranch and turns him back into the pasture."

This little mule may yet become a meal ticket for the Red Cross.

Holiday Box Fund Is Now Completed

Red Cross Has Enough Money For Remembering All Yolo Boys

The last chapter of the Christmas box fund has been written, so far as collections are concerned. J. I. McConnell, president of the Red Cross Chapter of this county, made the statement yesterday that he had sufficient money to provide for all the boxes to be sent from this county to the soldiers now in service, both at home and on foreign soil.

Mr. McConnell requested the Mail to extend, through him, the thanks of the Red Cross and the boys to whom the packages of goodies are going. The people have been generous and have responded voluntarily, not one being personally solicited. That is at it should be.

PAPER DAY IS LATEST HI SCHOOL EXPEDIENT

Students to Gather Waste Paper

HOUSEHOLDERS ASKED AID

Whole School to Solicit; Cars
Will Make Rounds to Collect Proceeds

A practical way of raising relief money for soldiers has been devised by the girls of the Woodland high school, who will observe next Friday as Paper Day. They will solicit waste paper from householders in Woodland, Davis, Yolo, Zamora and Knights Landing. The paper will be baled and sold, and the money will be given to the Red Cross.

Each of the towns named is represented at the high school and some of the students from each section have been appointed to collect the paper in their respective localities. Each member of the general committee, of which Claire Lowe is chairman, will be required to communicate with five heads of families and exact from these a promise to save all their waste paper until next Friday and then to leave it on the front porch, so the girls can drive by and pick it up. Half a dozen automobiles will go the rounds to collect the paper. The boys and girls not on the committee will notify the collectors of at least two places where paper may be secured.

Here are the members of the committee working on the plan, under Claire Lowe's direction: Gladys Weaver, Virginia Hoppin, Mildred Cook, Alberta Howlett, Martha Hecke, Stella Berger, Bernice Gould, Gertrude Mast, Edith Davis, Laura Pike, Marion Scott, Yola Clover, Harriett Strong, Ruth Barnes, Bernice Hadsall, Lester Germeshausen, Billie Browning, Willie Bray, Woodley Palmer, Charley Johnson, Alfred Black and Merwin Springs. These will work the Woodland territory. Assigned to other towns are Lurline Cassilis and Elwyn Hays, Ruth Zamora, Ruth Quickenden, Jorie Chiles and Ruth Carey, David Ivry Knight and Ethel Taylor, Clytelle Shephard, Margaret Mandeville and Carl Edson, Knights Landing. The publicity committee consists of Reva Shaffer, Leila Hecke, Ruth Dickey and Mildred Bannerman. Teachers of the schools have been asked to conserve the paper from their waste baskets, in order to swell the amount to be collected.

Clothes For Belgian Refugees To Be Collected Friday When High Schoolers Hold Paper Day

Anxious to make their Paper Day next Friday as productive as possible in wartime needables, Woodland's high school students will collect old clothes along with waste paper and they asked today that householders from Davis northward to Zamora would collect whatever discarded clothing they have and give it to the collectors next Friday. The clothes will be sent to Belgium refugees. Gloves will be gratefully received, along with other articles of apparel.

The decision to add to the work of Paper Day was announced at this morning's high school assembly by Mrs. Lowe, head of the committee, Mildred Bannerman, of the publicity committee. The boys and girls were thanked at the same time for their help in pushing this county's house campaign to a luminous mass a week ago. Thanks were given to the school by Captain Virginia Hoppin of the girls' basketball team for the splendid support given for the Dixon game here Friday night. Miss Hoppin gave a word of gratitude also to the domestic science specialists who prepared the dinner served to the visitors after the game.

Captain Walter Lawson of the football team told the audience that his team would go to Chico Saturday with Moeller 2, Jessie Merkley 2, Margaret Harling 2.

FRESHMEN—Virginia Britton 3, Emma Waldeck 2, William Brown- ing 2, Meta Scott 2, Margaret Schlenz 2, Theodore Davidson 2, Theodora Purkett 2, Willie Cassilis 2, Dorothy Dahler 2, Barbara Simpson 2.

The Girls' Glee Club closed the assembly by singing "Darky Lullaby," adapted from Drozak's "Humoresque."

High School Students Work Hard To Outdo Old Rivals; Unique Use For Old Gloves

A return of the old-time rivalry between Woodland and Sacramento high schools was seen today in the eagerness with which the local academics went to work to surpass the record made recently by the Sacramentans in collecting old clothes and waste paper for the relief of Belgian refugees and for the benefit of our own American soldiers.

The students will place boxes at the postoffice and at The Vogue to receive donations of gloves, from which the leather will be made into various articles of use during the war, including the lining for aviators' helmets and for sailor caps. The girls of the big committee working on the project are receiving substantial help from Mrs. P. N. Ashley.

Here is a list of the various com- mittees at work:

COMPUTES COUNTY'S PATRIOTIC RESPONSE

What Yolo Has Offered In Men And Money Told By Shaffer

THINKS MARK STANDS ALONE

Bought Bonds Worth Million
And Half; $32,000
For Relief

That Yolo county has subscribed more per capita to the Liberty Bonds, Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. than any other county in the United States is the claim made by Fred Shaffer, secretary of the Yolo County Board of Trade.

Employing official census figures and the official amounts subscribed to these war emergency funds it is found that Yolo has furnished:

One hundred and twelve dollars per capita to the purchase of the first and second Liberty Loan.

One dollar and forty-two cents per capita to the Red Cross fund.

Eighty-nine cent per capita to the Y. M. C. A. War fund.

Over $10,000 was subscribed to the Y. M. C. A. fund in one hour and thirty minutes at a mass meet- ing of the people of the county in Woodland. The University Farm boys at Davis subscribed $1500 for war work in the Y. M. C. A.

The figures show a subscription of $661,000 to the first Liberty Bond issue; $913,000 to the second issue; $20,000 to the Red Cross work and, including the Univer- sity Farm subscription to the Y. M. C. A., $12,500.

Over 300 Yolo county boys are in the service of the government. Twelve of this number are in France. Twenty-one are on the Huntington and the others are represented by the members of Company F and the men enlisted and drafted into the service.

"I do not believe any county in the United States can equal this per ca- pita showing," said Secretary Shaffer this morning. "We of Yolo should feel a supreme pride in such results. Results are always the most eloquent comments, and surely the good peo- ple have crowned every endeavor with them."

The "Democrat" today for the first time publishes on pages 4 and 5 the complete list of subscribers in this county for the second issue of Liberty Bonds. The list was compiled from the official reports made by each bank in the county.

HOUSE PETERS AND MYRTLE STEDMAN IN "AS MEN LOVE," A SOCIETY DRAMA, AT STRAND TODAY

Lois Zellner, author of several big Paramount successes, has woven a wonderfully absorbing tale especially for House Peters and Myrtle Stedman, in their latest Pallas-Paramount picture, "As Men Love," a powerful society drama, at the Strand today.

House Peters, who has earned the title of the ideal hero of the screen, and Myrtle Stedman, who has won her way into the hearts of the photoplay audiences, form a co-starring duo which it would be difficult to surpass.

The story deals with the enduring friendship of one man for another who have shared each other's sorrows and joys since boyhood, but which is torn asunder by a frivolous woman, who marries one, but who believes she is in love with the other.

SOME WOODLAND KIDNEY SUFFERERS GET LITTLE REST OR COMFORT.

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof of merit in this Woodland woman's testimony:

Mrs. F. Kehn, 318 Sixth street, Woodland, says: "I had a constant dull pain in the small of my back which was worse in the morning when I first got up and when I was in a stooping position. Men With Dependents Secure, Result Of New Draft Classification Method

Men of draft age with dependent relatives are placed in a more secure position under the new regulations to govern future operations of the selective service law made public yesterday. While deferred classification under the new plan which contemplates that all discharge or exemption certificates may be revoked when granted for any other cause, there is no way in which men with dependents can be called up for service out of their turn.

Added protection for dependents is secured by the requirement in cases where the registrant seeks his deferred classification status that way-ers also must be obtained from those dependent upon him before he can be taken into the military service.

The effect of the regulation is to close the ranks of the army, navy or marine corps absolutely to men between 21 and 31 years where they have dependents upon them who suffer if they went to the front. Local boards are constituted judges of all such cases.

MAY USE ALL MEN.

For the first time a way is provided in which men physically unfitted for front line duty in the army and yet able to do some part of the work of a soldier may be called for limited military service behind the lines. Partial physical exemptions may be granted by local boards to create this new classification.

Where registrants are away from home districts or in other circumstances application to the local board for a questionnaire is required.

The most noteworthy changes in the regulations outside of the creation of an emergency fleet to permit ship workers to remain at their jobs are as follows:

"Local boards are granted virtually judicial powers to summon witnesses and obtain information. Local officers will see that any witness responds.

"A definite agreement of correspondence between the boards, state officials and the provost marshal general's office is provided to keep this arrangement centralized and moving smoothly.

"The entire postoffice machinery is drafted to district and local boards in tracing registrants and right-of-way for mail conducted with draft proceedings is required."

GRANT PARTIAL EXEMPTION.

Local boards are authorized to grant partial exemption for partial physical disability, reserving the men in this status for special and limited military service.

Authority is granted to form special classes of men highly skilled in particular trades or professions and summon them under this special heading regardless of their grouping in the general classification plan. The secretary of war may revoke original classification except that no man granted deferred classification because of dependents of registered men in the navy and when deferred classification has been granted for industrial or agricultural reasons a specially qualified registrant may be summoned out of his turn.

Under the new regulations district boards become purely appellate bodies, before which can be heard only evidence originating before the local board. For additional facts the case must be returned to the local board.

APPEALS WIPED OFF.

It is made plain that men already held by local boards for service will continue to be sent forward as decided until such time as the new class No. 1 in each district is sufficiently organized to care for drafts from the district. All pending appeals will then be wiped off the slate and the new system will apply in full.

Another change permits enlistment of registered men in the navy and marine corps where they are so far down on the call list as to make certain that their action will not delay the task of army building. No credit is given for such enlistment on army quotas, however, and local boards are judges of each case.

Castor and Pollux.

Castor and Pollux (mentioned in Acts xxviii, 11) were the twin sons of Jupiter and Leda. They were regarded as the tutelary divinities of sailors. They appear in the sky as the constellation Gemini, the twins. In art they were sometimes represented as stars hovering over a ship.

Expected That Walker Apperson Will be Transferred to Forestry Division; Now With 61st Infantry

Private Walker Apperson, who is with H Company, One Hundred and Sixty-first Infantry, Camp Mills, New York, is likely to be transferred to a branch of the service where his activities will not necessarily be so strenuous as in the regular army. He has not yet fully recovered from the effects of an operation for appendicitis and is therefore not in a fit condition for severe training.

Friends interested themselves in his behalf with the result that Major Robert A. Johnson of San Francisco has recommended that he be transferred to the Twentieth Engineering Corps of the Forestry Division, and there is but little doubt that the recommendation will be approved. Sergeant George Apperson, recently operated upon for appendicitis by Captain Fred R. Fairchild, in the Letterman Hospital, Presidio, San Francisco, is improving nicely and will soon be able to leave the hospital ward. His father and mother are in San Francisco for a few days and visit him every afternoon.

Davis Adds $2000 to Yolo Y. M. C. A. Fund

"Davis Does" would prove a fitting slogan for the Yolo city that is continually to the front.

It guaranteed $500 for the War Y. M. C. A. fund and announced this morning that it had collected $1925.

Dean H. V. Van Norman, at the head of the committee from that city, appointed a working committee that went to the bat and kept hitting a high average.

The boys at the University Farm assisted materially. A large number of them subscribed to the Berkeley fund—but many of them wanted to add to the laurels of good, old Yolo in its walk-away for supremacy—and they did it.

Besides this, when a woman says she will—she will, and the women were all working at Davis.

Draftees From Here At Camp Mills, New York

The censor at Camp Lewis today released the news that the majority of the draftees, including many from Woodland, who were moved from the Washington draft camp a few days ago, are now at Camp Mills, New York. The places to which the men were sent had to be withheld for safety sake. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the wrecking of troop trains.

EXPECT TO EXPERIENCE EARLY FOREIGN SERVICE.

The men at Camp Mills may see service in France before those of the Ninety-first division. There were 8000 men sent away from Camp Lewis.

Parents of the Yolo county draftees who had been anxious for the past few days because they had not received expected letters are now resting easier as the first letters from Camp Mills began reaching Woodland Tuesday. The men were not permitted to mail letters or postcards en route to their new station.

Big Sum Will Be Netted as a

TONS OF PAPER COLLECTED Clothing and Gloves Gathered By High School Pupils For the Belgians

The result of the earnest and enthusiastic labors of Woodland's patriotic high school students, today brought tons of waste paper and hundreds of old garments to the Hub quarters on Main street. The papers will be made ready for sale for the benefit of the Red Cross, and the clothes will be sent to the Belgian refugees.

The workers were from the city and from adjoining towns and their efforts met with liberal responses from all. The committees in their automobiles were tirelessly busy all day. The members of the committee, under the leadership and direction of Claire Lowe, did fine work. The teachers also contributed their liberal waste basket donations and many old garments to the good of the cause, and aided the students in the drive.

NEW BOARD OFFICIALLY ACCEPTED BY WILSON

Notice Coming Today to Gaddis

IT'S NOW CHAIRMAN GRANT

J. L. Stephens Will Take Place
Of Ashley; Wilcoxon to Succeed Swingle

With the coming of an official notice to E. E. Gaddis today that he had been relieved by President Wilson of his duties as chairman of the Yolo county exemption board the trio recently recommended by the county council of defense, including W. H. Grant chairman, and John L. Stephens and Mayor C. R. Wilcoxon, became this county's local exemption body.

The appointment of the three new members, and the relief order for Gaddis and his associates, P. N. Ashley and Kirk Swingle, both came from President Wilson to Governor Stephens. The governor had sent the recommendations of the local defense council to Washington and the judgment of the councilmen was not questioned.

No date has been fixed for the first official act of the new board. They will await orders from the adjutant general. Mr. Gaddis, the retiring chairman, was today preparing to move all the papers of his office to the new courthouse, where Secretary Gould will take charge of them in the office set aside for the draft board.

The notices coming from Washington to Messrs. Stephens and Wilcoxon said Stephens would succeed Ashley and Wilcoxon would take the place of Swingle.

Howard Parker, Draftee, Lands Camp Grant, Illinois, Position; Entrains Today For Army

Howard R. Parker, who since last July has most acceptably filled the city editor's chair in the "Democrat" office, has hearkened to the call to the colors and will soon be wearing khaki. He left this afternoon for Camp Grant, Ill., where George Dinsdale, another Woodland boy, is already in training in the hospital corps.

While Parker was attending Notre Dame University, at South Bend, Indiana, the order was issued for the registration for conscription purposes of all young men from 21 to 30 years, inclusive. In the draft that followed, the Woodland man's name was drawn and he later passed the physical examination in this city.

Parker returned to Woodland last July and after receiving notice of his conscription made application for and was granted a transfer to California. The understanding was that whenever called by the South Bend exemption board he was to go to Camp Lewis.

A week ago Saturday, while still awaiting his call to camp, Parker received a letter from a college mate at Camp Grant, Ill., who is connected with headquarters at that draft camp, advising him that he was authorized by the leader of the regimental band, a former English army officer, to offer Parker the position of directing the regimental orchestra. The offer was made on the strength of the Woodland man's record as leader of the Four Woodland boys for the past few months in training on the U. S. S. Oregon, have been ordered north from San Pedro to Vancouver where they will make up a part of the armed guard to man the defense guns of the steamer Great Northern, soon to be transferred to the Atlantic transport service. Such is the word which has been received here from Osmond Wraith, Robert Browning, Leslie Smith and Kennedy Stewart.

This means that the local jackies will soon see active service in the war against the submarine and will play their part in the protection of the American troops who are being taken to the fields of France. The boys are expected to pass through Woodland tomorrow on the north-bound Shasta Limited and will be met at Davis by their families and friends.

YOLO DEFENSE COUNCIL TO AID
IN CLASSIFYINGThe Yolo County Council of Defense is to be asked to assist the local ex emption board in the task of classifi ing the men in this county subject to the draft. Provost Marshal General Crowder will call upon every defense council in the country for help."There is in every city—in every hamlet almost—a council of defense," said General Crowder. "These organ izations were built to help the nation in its emergency. This is their oppor tunity. Everywhere there are men who need help in the preparation of their questionnaires. The legal advi sory boards will be the central advi sory committee. They will need men to go into the homes and factories.
Meetings should be organized, posters should be displayed, lists should be prepared, all looking to the help of the man and the quickening of the nation's man power into action."There are thousands of defense committees and hundreds of thousands of members. I am confident that as a result of this call every local board will be aided in its effort and every district, no matter how remote, will be aided. The twenty days following November 15 should find every patriot on duty."Woodland Daily Demo

Gray Eyes Or Green?

He Preferred the Gray

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Their first meeting was the day he was graduated from college. He had delivered his oration in the morning, and in the evening the president gave the usual reception to the graduating class. Agatha had been present at the graduating exercises and had looked upon the different aspirants for oratorical honors without emotion till Henry Fielding appeared. There was something about this young man that appealed to her. Whatever it was she was thrilled by his very presence. Within her was born a desire to possess him for herself alone.

In the evening at the president's reception he was presented to her. The valedictorian, the salutatorian, all the honor men, were present, but to her they were pygmies beside Henry Fielding. He passed from her to another girl. Immediately that girl was an object of dread to Agatha. He passed still to another. She was a beauty, with a willowy figure and dark, languishing eyes, which she cast up at the young graduate with a seductive power. Agatha was astonished at the panic she felt within her. She had seen him for the first day, and yet the moment he approached another girl she was in dread.

He must have been drawn to her as she was drawn to him, for he took steps to follow up the acquaintance. He did not know it, but he never paid the slightest attention to any other girl, but Agatha became stricken with a horrible sensation that she was about to lose him. During a four year course as a medical student they were engaged, and when he took his degree of M. D. they were married.

Young Dr. Fielding buttoned himself into a linen duster, crammed a cap on his head and bent down to kiss his pretty wife.

"Another call, dearest," he said, holding her face between his hands. "I must go out again. Goodby."

"Where this time?" asked Agatha quickly.

"Oakwood," he replied. "Who is in there?"

"Mrs. Munson has had another attack."

A cloud gathered over Agatha's face, and she drew away from her husband's touch. "I suppose that means you will stop for Miss Smith. I was going to say that I'd love to go over to Oakwood with you, Harry."

"I'm sorry, dear," he frowned, "but you know Mrs. Munson always requires a nurse when she suffers one of these attacks, and Miss Smith is her favorite among them, and I'm sorry the car holds only two." He went to the door.

Agatha's neck stiffened haughtily. "I wasn't criticising your choice of a nurse, Harry. I dare say Miss Smith is as competent as any of them. I was merely wishing for the ride."

"I will hurry home as fast as I can, and we will run back to Oakwood and have dinner at the clubhouse." He came back to her and would have dropped another kiss on her red lips, but just then she turned her head, and the caress fell on one little ear. The doctor swung about and tramped through the hall and out of the door without another word.

"I hate her, I hate her!" Agatha half sobbed as she picked up her embroidery.

When Dr. Fielding returned three hours later he had forgotten the little incident of the afternoon, for Agatha's jealousy had become such a common occurrence that her husband merely nerved himself to endure it, thankful when the mood had passed, as it usually did when his wife's naturally sweet and forgiving disposition righted itself.

The most exasperating feature of Agatha's jealousy of her young husband was that it was entirely unfounded, and in the bottom of her loving heart she knew it to be so. Still, there came moments when, seeing him absorbed in his beloved profession, she was stung with a sudden terror of losing his love.

There was Miss Smith, the clever trained nurse, whose skillful services were a factor in many of her husband's successful cures. Agatha always saw the slender, dark eyed young woman, self possessed, capable, never blundering or exciting the physician's irritability at critical moments. Besides all these virtues, Helen Smith possessed a certain piquant beauty.

Agatha Fielding was more jealous of Helen Smith than of any other woman. Perhaps it was because professional duties brought the physician and nurse together at frequent intervals. The doctor had grown weary of his wife's allusions to the pretty nurse, and this one rift in their newly wedded life threatened to become a wider breach.

On this particular evening Dr. Fielding came into the house, hollow eyed, weary and despondent. Agatha, dressed for motoring, met him at the door and recognized his condition at once.

"You are tired out, dear," she cried anxiously. "You shall not stir out of the house tonight. Jane can prepare some supper at once. Our trip to Oakwood will keep until another day."

"Very well, Agatha," he said rather shortly and passed into his office.

Agatha followed him, pale and accusing. All her tenderness had fled, and she was overcome by a spasm of jealousy. After spending three hours in the companionship of Miss Smith, whom he must treat courteously, he had returned to his wife silent and taciturn. It was not fair. It was not just.

Standing there in the office doorway, Agatha told her husband all these things and more—more things than she dared remember afterward in a saner moment. "I hate her!" she cried passionately. "You always loved me, Harry, and now you are fascinated by her dark eyes! You used to think my gray eyes were—were!" And poor Agatha dissolved in a flood of tears.

Dr. Fielding, pausing in the act of shedding his linen dust coat, started at her incredulously, pityingly. Then, tossing his coat to a chair, he mixed a sedative and made her drink it. When she had calmed down he sat down beside her on the lounge, and, clasping his hands about one knee, he looked at her under half lowered lids.

"Dear," he said patiently, "the girl I love hasn't got dark eyes, and she hasn't got gray eyes, either!"

Agatha lifted her head and gazed at him in horror.

"Another?" she gasped tragically.

He nodded. "The girl I have always loved, always will love, has green eyes—the greenest eyes you ever saw, Agatha." He looked at her closely, but she was staring back at him grief stricken.

"Very well, Harry. Thank you for your confidence in me," she said, with sudden unexpected quietness. "Perhaps—perhaps something can be done. I thought it was Miss Smith."

"I am sorry to say that Miss Smith was married this afternoon," said the doctor grimly.

"Married?" gasped Agatha. "Why—why—oh, Harry, and did you know it all the time—that she was going to be married?"

He shook his head impatiently. "I wish I had. It was very unexpected, but I believe she married a man whom she nursed through typhoid fever a year ago. She was the best nurse on my list, and if I had only had her help this afternoon—"

He paused and bit his lip.

"What happened, Harry?" she asked quickly.

"I lost Mrs. Munson's case. She died this afternoon. I had to take a new nurse out with me, and she did not understand the nature of the attack and was not quick to respond to my orders. That is how I shall miss Miss Smith."

Agatha sat in painful silence. While the fascinating nurse had retired to the background there had crept in the new creature who had fascinated her husband—the woman with the greenest eyes he had ever seen.

"Harry," she said timidly, "do you mind if I speak about the girl with the green eyes?"

"Go on, dear," he said, a smile tucked away at the corner of his lips.

"Is—she—pretty?"

For answer Dr. Fielding took his wife's lovely agitated face between his hands and gazed into her wide gray eyes. "Dearest," he said meaningly, "feature for feature, she looks exactly like you. She is the loveliest woman in the world, and I love her best in the world—only sometimes her eyes are gray, like yours are now, and sometimes they are green—green with jealousy!" His lips touched her trembling ones in a tender kiss.

"Harry," she whispered a little later, "I shall so manage it that you will never see that green eyed girl again as long as you live. Do you mind very much?"

"Dear," said Dr. Fielding emphatically, "I don't care if I never see her again. I always did like gray eyes the best."

Nothing So Serious.

"Is it true that you have a case of somnambulism in your family, my good woman?"

"No, ma'am. We ain't never had none of them new fangled diseases here. The only thing what worries us is that our Mame will walk in her sleep."—Baltimore American.

The sum of $4,000,000 is being sought in a nation-wide drive for the Young Women's Christian Association.

Among the purposes for the drive in the United States are the construction and maintenance of "hostess houses" at each of the army and navy camps and cantonments, where mothers and sisters, sweethearts and children of the men may meet and visit them in comfort and privacy and to care for the nurses who have volunteered for service at home and abroad. The work undertaken by the Y. W. C. A. is endorsed by the War Department.

YOLO LAD LOST ON DIVERED STEAMER

John A. Atkins, Nephew of Local Merchant, Went Down on Torpedoed Actaeron

Bare Chance That He May be Survivor; Men in Three Life Boats Missing

A FORMER YOLO COUNTY BOY, JOHN A. ATKINS, IS BELIEVED TO HAVE LOST HIS LIFE AS THE RESULT OF THE TORPEDOING OF THE AMERICAN STEAMER, ACTAERON, BY A GERMAN SUBMARINE, WHICH WAS REPORTED TUESDAY. There is a possibility that he may not be lost, but it is very remote.

Young Atkins lived in this county for many years. Some time ago he removed to Hood, on the east side of the river, opposite Clarksburg. He was in the employ of the Marconi Company as a wireless operator, and left for New York last August. He was one of four wireless operators aboard the Actaeron, en route for France.

Before the Actaeron went down the passengers and crew, eighty-three in all, took to four boats. Only one of the boats so far has reached land. The other three, containing sixty-three, are unaccounted for and it is feared they are lost. There is a bare possibility that Atkins may be one of the party landed. The report does not not give the names of the survivors.

Young Atkins was 24 years old, over six feet in height, weighed over 200 pounds, and was a fine specimen of physical manhood. His parents and one brother live at Hood. Another sister is a teacher in the Sacramento schools. George Atkins, farm implement dealer of Woodland, is an uncle. Another uncle, Lou lives in Sacramento county.

Men From Every State In The Union Given Great
Welcome

Although the parents of Lester Johnson, George Zane and Ashley Worley, all of Woodland, were informed privately several days ago that their sons had arrived safely in France, the censor at Washington, D. C., did not officially release the news until this morning.

The Woodland boys were with the California Engineers and in the Rainbow division.

From Washington today came the dispatch that the Rainbow division had arrived in France, along with other national guard units. They represent a total of 33 states.

From the American Field Headquarters in France came this dispatch:

American national guard units, representing every state in the union, are now in France.

They arrived some weeks ago, but it was not until today that permission was granted to announce that fact.

The new Sammies were given a heart-thrilling welcome by France. They were quartered in towns which heretofore had seen only a few of the American fighting men. The occasion of their arrival was made a memorable one by special welcoming ceremonies, in which local officials combined with the military authorities in a whole-hearted celebration.

Blaring French bands, trying their best to rattle off American ragtime, gave a home flavor to a reception which otherwise must have impressed the militia boys as unlike anything else in the world.

The Americans were welcomed like heroes.

The French population dressed in its gayest clothes, marched side by side with the detachment, festooned the soldiers with garlands of flowers and decked them out in tiny American flags.

Within 24 hours the militiamen were thoroughly at home and on most friendly relations with their fellow townsmen throughout the area over which they were billeted.

The first national guard arrivals, it was stated at headquarters today, have made encouraging progress in their training. General Pershing has already inspected certain of the units.

Waste Paper

Thanks to the teachers and students of the Woodland high school who did the collecting, and to the citizens who contributed, eight boxes of garments from Yolo county will leave the San Francisco headquarters consigned to Belgian refugees. Four tons of wearing apparel in all will be included in the shipment, the clothing having been collected and assembled from all parts of the state.

Miss Marguerite Hyatt, teacher who encouraged the local students to help them make a success of the great county-wide drive for clothing, gloves and waste paper last Friday reported last night that the paper sold would net upwards of $25 for the Red Cross. L. F. Parlin of this county bought the paper, paying $10 per ton for newspaper stock.

The gloves have not all been collected. The clothing given for Belgians was in excellent condition, said Miss Hyatt. But one box had been sent to the cleaners. Proprietor Langlois of the Woodland Cleaner & Dyeing establishment did the work well and made no charges.

Some very substantial and sensible clothing gifts were collected. Miss Hyatt kept an accurate account of the garments assembled. Here is published here below, that the people of this community might better appreciate the splendid results of patriotic work that was done to alleviate the sufferings of the half-starved half-clothed Belgians:

Waste Paper

Thanks to the teachers and students of the Woodland high school who collected, and to the citizens who contributed, eight boxes of garments from Yolo county will leave the San Francisco headquarters consigned to Belgian refugees. Four tons of wearing apparel in all will be included in the shipment, the clothing having been collected and assembled from all parts of the state.

Miss Marguerite Hyatt, teacher who encouraged the local students to help them make a success of the great county-wide drive for clothing, gloves and waste paper last Friday reported last night that the paper would net upwards of $25 for the Red Cross. L. F. Parlin of this city bought the paper, paying $10 per ton for newspaper stock.

The gloves have not all been collected. The clothing given for Belgians was in excellent condition, said Miss Hyatt. But one box has been sent to the cleaners. Proper Langlois of the Woodland Cleaner Dyeing establishment did the work well and made no charges.

Some very substantial and sensible clothing gifts were collected. Miss Hyatt kept an accurate account of the garments assembled. Here is published here below, that the people of this community might appreciate the splendid results of patriotic work that was done to alleviate the sufferings of the half-starved half-clothed Belgians:

Membership Drive Of R. C. Postpones

Yolo County Red Cross Will Join
In Great Christmas Campaign

The membership committee of the Yolo county Red Cross have been requested from headquarters to delay their drive for new members, which was to have been begun this week, until the time for the Christmas campaign which has been arranged to commence all over the United States on the 17 of December, next. It is desired by the authorities that all independent efforts be postponed until that date that all committees and workers generally commence at the same time and all co-operate in a grand Christmas campaign.

The Yolo county committee on membership have already checked copies of the great register indexes so as to show all voters who are now members and thus to aid the workers in an effort to secure the others. When the campaign begins workers will be furnished lists and an extra effort will be made to double the membership in Yolo county.

BANK OF YOLO TAKING "Y" FUNDS

"Subscriptions to the Y. M. C. A. fund are still coming in," said Treasurer C. F. Evans this morning, "and the subscribers are paying up promptly. There is a genuine enthusiasm in the work."

"I wish the people would make their payments at the Bank of Yolo, where proper credit will be given. I am working now with the exemption board and it makes it difficult for subscribers to find me to make their payments. For this reason arrangements have been made so that it can be paid at the Bank of Yolo—a saving of trouble to the subscribers."

COUNTY GIVES $500 TOWARD Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN

Yolo Again Subscribes Total Quota of War Fund in Less Than Hour After Meeting

DR. REINHARDT SPEAKS
'Hostess Houses' Cause Proves Worthy Undertaking and All Purses Quickly Loosened

History repeated itself again last night when the mass meeting, called at the instance of the workers for the Y. W. C. A. at the Elm street school house, raised $511, a generous share of the $10,000 to be raised in the Sacramento valley for the $4,000,000 fund in the nation to carry on the work of the association in its army work, as exemplified by the "hostess houses" at the various cantonments.

The meeting was called by the Woman's Council of Defense, of which Mrs. H. E. Coll is chairman. It was presided over by Mrs. Frank Fitz, president of the Town & Country club. The first speaker was Miss Helen Fulton of Berkeley, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., student association. She told of what had been done by the colleges of the land in raising one million dollars toward the work in hand and how it was to be expended.

Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills college, was the main speaker of the evening. Dr. Reinhardt has an established reputation as a public speaker in this city, and that reputation was strengthened last night as she reviewed the extraordinary work and responsibility this war is laying on the shoulders of the men and women of America. By way of introducing her subject she said there are 400,000 members of the Y. W. C. A. in America and that the organization is in existence in 25 countries of the world. At the present time there are occupied in unusual occupations eleven million women in America, and many of those women have gone to distant points from their usual environment. It has created a very serious problem how to keep these women in touch with the required influences and comforts to maintain them in their moral and physical well being.

Our duty to our soldiers has necessarily to be met through various avenues. The government supplies food, clothing, arms and certain medical aid. The Red Cross supplies cantonment homes, medical aid, nurses, hospitals, etc. But have we then done out fully duty to our men at arms? We have grown more socialistic in our conception of mobilization of human beings. We must look to the spiritual as well as bodily comfort of our men.

ALL IN MORAL WORK
To aid in this work we have called into existence a commission known as the Training Camp activities commission. The new army is a civilian army, men who have been used to many sides of life and who must be kept as nearly normal as possible to preserve the morale of army life.

The Y. M. A. C. now has 3,000 secretaries at work in army camps and is doing a wonderful work; the Knights of Columbus, a much younger organization, is also most helpful and deserves support, the American Library association has established a library in every cantonment and is providing for library work to meet the needs of the men. Then comes the organizations which are working outside the camps through the National organization of playgrounds and recreation. This organization is chiefly concerned about the cleaning up of towns contiguous to camps, the suppression of vice and the enforcement of laws relative to alcohol.

ACTIVE AT INVITATION
Then comes the Young Women's Christian association. It is at work by invitation of the heads of the army to help solve the great problem of the host of young girls and women who flock to the camps. There is no law to prevent them seeking such environment. The question is one partly to be solved by municipalities, partly by parents, but very largely by the establishment of "hostess houses" where the soldiers may meet their relatives and other women friends, under proper surroundings. Sixty-five social secretaries are now engaged in this work. These women are trained workers and are giving the best that is in their lives for the service of both men of the army and the women who seek out their relatives and friends in camp. In summing up her excellent speech Dr. Reinhardt said, "If we are going to make the world safe for democracy, we must be ready not only to give our lives but to use them."

EDMUNDS MAKES APPEAL
James Edmunds, who had charge of the Y. M. C. A. work in this district, spoke briefly and then sought subscriptions. The response was quickly made and in half an hour the quota of this county, $500, was completed.

During the evening, under the direction of Dorothy Thomas, singing, "Columbia" by Mary Lullaby," a high school teacher, Uncle Sam and The Star.

Movement Probable to Drop German Language From High School Course In This City

With thirty high schools in the state already refusing to teach German as a language, a movement is likely to be under way here shortly to persuade the Woodland school trustees to drop that language from the local high school study course. Commissioner of Secondary Schools Will C. Wood reports that 1463 students in the state have substituted French and Spanish in the classroom for German. Principal Wm. M. Hyman said this morning that the language is still being taught here. He did not indicate whether the trustees would consider dropping it from the course of study.

As the war progresses, the revelations of the atrocities committed by the nation at war with the United States and the allies have been responsible for the placing of the embargo upon the German tongue, and Commissioner Wood predicts it may eventually lead to the banishment of the language from every school room in the state.

"I doubt if the German language will ever be popular again, at least while the war lasts, and years after peace is restored," said the commissioner. "This is not only in California, but the sentiment in other states."

Governor W. D. Stephens announced late Monday that Superior Judge Wm. A. Anderson, A. C. Huston and E. E. Gaddis would comprise the Yolo County Legal Advisory Board, which is to assist draft registrants in answering questions of the questionnaire and to lighten thereby the work of the Yolo Exemption Board.

Anderson, Huston and Gaddis were appointed by the president, upon the recommendation of the governor. They will organize at once. Gaddis had only recently been granted the permission to withdraw from the Yolo Exemption Board, and he had thought that his work with the registrants was completed. "Of course I had expected to be relieved this time, but I'll accept the new burden just the same," said Gaddis today. "This latest appointment goes to show that you can't keep a good man down," he added jocularly.

There will be one board with three members for every county in the state, headed by the presiding judge of the superior court. Each board will be made the nucleus for the grouping of the lawyers in each county as associate members to expedite the work of preparing the questionnaires.

FIVE HUNDRED KIDDIES IN A BIG PAGEANT

The teachers of the grammar and primary grades are preparing to present a historical pageant, "Uncle Sam's Children," on Thursday and
Friday evenings, December 20 and 21.
There will be about 500 children participating, representing all the grades,
even the little tots in the kindergarten.

The history of this country will be presented in songs, dances, tableaux

and pantomime scenes such as Columbus, Making of the Flag, and Soldier
Boys in Europe, dating from the year
1400 to the present time. There has been much time spent in arranging the costumes and stage scenery.

Last May they gave the Mother
Goose Land cantata to furnish the music room of the school. The proceeds of the entertainment this month will be used to give memberships to the Junior Red Cross for every pupil
of the grammar and primary schools.

The popularity of the Sunny South

not so much to the sun as to the fact that she has the moonshine still.

LOCAL LAD IN MARINE CORPS CAMP ON SAN JUAN

Ollie Jensen Tells Of How

UNCLE SAM GOOD PROVIDER

Regiment Protecting Gigantic
Sugar Crop From Unciv-

Some idea of the steps being taken by Uncle Sam to conserve and increase the sugar production for this country is contained in a newsy letter just received here by the "Democrat" from Ollie Jensen, a Woodland lad, who is with the 71st Company of the 7th Regiment of the United States
Marines at Santiago de Cuba. Jensen writes that the entire regiment was sent there to protect the sugar crop.
"There is going to be about three hundred million tons of sugar raised in Cuba this season," says Jensen. "The most of it is owned by American interests. Last year the crop was destroyed by the natives. Uncle Sam does not intend to allow that to happen again."

The Woodland boy's company is camped on the historic San Juan Hill,
the scene of the big Spanish-American war battle in 1898. "Some of the big guns that were used in that battle are still here where they were last in action," writes Jensen.

"I have found the names of all the United States soldiers who were killed here. The old trenches are still standing, as is the tree called 'Peace.'
I am told that peace was declared where this tree stands. The tree is surrounded by a fence, the pickets of which are the barrels of old Springfield rifles that were used in the Spanish-American war."

Jensen's company is the crack organization of the 7th Regiment. "We hold the best record in everything that we have done," Jensen writes. "Our captain recently received a letter from Washington, D. C., complimenting us for work on the rifle range. Out of eighty men in the company, sixty-four came up to the standard set by the Government Marine officials. We have nine expert rifle men and twenty-

Will Not Ask Further Funds For Y. W. C. A.; Yolo's Quota Raised At Big Meeting Here

Mrs. H. E. Coil, who as chairman of the Yolo County Women's Committee of the National and State Councils of Defense made the arrangements for Monday evening's mass meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association, said this morning that she is not inclined to promote the Young Women's Christian Association's campaign in Yolo county for further funds. "I believe that the citizens at last night's meeting contributed generously and that the $516 raised represents Yolo's quota at this time," said Mrs. Coil. "Of course, if there are any more persons who desire to add to the fund voluntarily their subscriptions will be gratefully received."

Mrs. Coil further declared that the local Women's Committee is well satisfied with the outcome of the meeting. The attendance was small, but those who were there pledged liberal subscriptions. Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College, and Miss Helen Fulton, field representative of the National Y. W. C. A., were the chief speakers of the evening. Mrs. Frank Fitz, president of the Town and Country Club, presided. James Edmunds, field representative of the Young Men's Christian Association, called for pledges. Miss Dorothy Thomas conducted the musical program, in which the high school glee club and A. W. Fox took part.

The Beta Gamma Kappa sorority announced that it would give a dance in the near future, the proceeds from which will be given to the Y. W. C. A. It was decided today that the affair would be held on New Year's eve.

Company F Boys Are Trained For Machine Gunners

Mrs. Al Crowder of Madison, returned home this afternoon from Linda Vista. She reports that two men will be released each day from F Company until the entire forty-five who were rejected because of physical defects, are missing from camp. Lionel Hopkins returned home Monday from Camp Kearney, honorably discharged. Many of the F Company boys are being trained for machine gun work, says Mrs. Crowder.

"Jim" Merritt Has Received a Call to Jacksonville, Florida

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Merritt left for San Francisco this morning hoping to get an opportunity of bidding farewell to their son, James, who was notified last night of his transfer from Fort McDowell to a camp in Florida. Young Merritt does not know what time he will leave San Francisco, and so his parents are not certain that they will arrive there in time to see him. The lad is striving to be a sergeant in the Headquarters Company of the Quartermaster's Corps. He is already in the quartermaster division.

LOCAL LAD THRIVES ON EXISTENCE OVER THERE

Gains Weight and Height After Treatment Received In U. S. Hospital

POINTERS FOR GIFT SENDERS

Says Every Member of His Co. Reads 'Democrat'; Praise For Clover Bros.

Three letters from Meredith Gregory, Woodland lad "somewhere in France," arrived here Saturday evening. Two of them were penned to his mother and one was directed to Bert, Roy and Irvin Clover.

Gregory is apparently as happy as a fiddler in his new work. He has gained fifteen pounds and, due to treatment received at a U. S. hospital, he has taken on 1 1/4 inches in height. That "Greg" had been under a physician's care was not known until his latest letters arrived.

CENSOR BUSY

WITH BLUE PENCIL

The nature of the young Woodland man's work has not yet been ascertained. He tried to tell of it, but the censor ruled otherwise.

In his communication to the Clover boys, Gregory gives some good advice to those who are contemplating sending gifts to their friends "over there." "Greg" also takes occasion to say that the "Democrats" he is receiving "are read by nearly everyone in his company."

His letter follows:

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE,
November 12, 1917.

Dear Bert, Roy and Irvin: Received the package you were so kind to fix up for mother and I want to thank you ever so much for your kindness. Found the candies and the helmet, and how good it did seem to read just the few words from you. Of course I had to show the bunch the card, and also tell them that for service Clover Bros., Woodland, could not be beaten.

WOULD SEND WAR
PICTURES HOME.

How I would like to send you some pictures I have taken for your window, as I am sure they would attract quite a lot of attention, but after consulting the censor I found out that there was nothing doing at all. I will try later to send you a few souvenirs from the front to use if you find it possible.

We are having a fine experience and I would not have missed it for anything. This life certainly agrees with me, as I now weigh 183 pounds, and have gained four inches in my waist. Can you beat that?

TELL THE BOYS ON THE "DEMOCRAT" FOR ME, IF YOU WILL, THAT THEIR PAPERS ARE READ BY NEARLY EVERYONE OF THIS COMPANY, AND THEY ALL REMARK THAT FOR NEWS IT CERTAINLY IS SOME PAPER. WE READ EVERY AD. AND HAVE QUITE A DISCUSSION OVER THE EDITORIALS.

TIPS FOR FUTURE

"SAMMIES" OVER THERE.

I might give you a tip for the things a fellow needs if he is coming over here. First, high-top boots, like those I have, heavy socks, a good knife with a can-opener if possible, olive drab thread and cloth for patches, real heavy underwear, and a good supply of tooth paste. There are lots of other little things that make one comfortable but those that I have named are surely needed.

Saw in the paper that you suffered from a robbery. I am certainly sorry, but some things can't be helped. Well, fellows, I will tell you all goodbye, and I wish you all a thankful Thanksgiving, a merry and prosperous Christmas, and a happy New Year.

As ever, your friend,

GREG,

WOODLAND NEEDLERS NOT DOING THEIR "BIT"

Women of Country Responding More Liberally to Call For Garments

MRS. FRED MEIER REPORTS

Best Efforts Must Come Until January so "Sammies" Enjoy Comfort

"Woodland women are not contributing their handiwork for the soldiers as generously as are the women in the rural districts of Yolo county."

So declared Mrs. Fred Meier, one of the leaders in the Yolo County Red Cross Chapter today. Mrs. Meier considers that knitting garments for the soldiers is one of the most important "bits" that women can do toward winning the war.

WOMEN HERE NOT

YET AROUSED.

"I'm ashamed to admit it, but it's a fact that right here in Woodland the women are falling down on their sewing obligation," said Mrs. Meier. "We find the situation better in the outlying districts, and we believe that more women will rally to the need in Woodland when they come to realize the importance of the work they can accomplish."

RED CROSS SUPPLY

BRANCH SENDS LETTER.

Mrs. Meier added that she had just received this communication from the American Red Cross headquarters:

December 3, 1917.

To All Chapters: The following telegram just received from H. D. Gibson, General Manager, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C., by Marshal Hale, Manager of the Pacific Division, gives further emphasis to the great need of knitted goods for the relief of American fighters in France.

COLD WEATHER INCREASES

IMMEDIATE DEMAND

"It is imperative that all of the sweaters, wristlets and socks that can possibly be made by the women of the country should be turned in to the supply department at the earliest possible dates.

With the cold weather coming on the demand for sweaters especially has been beyond the capacity of all our resources to supply. We have forwarded promptly all knitted articles received from the chapters and have in addition been compelled to buy in the market 550,000 sweaters of which about 250,000 have been delivered.

"These sweaters are machine knit and the yarn used is a mixture of cotton and wool so that it does not withdraw any considerable amount of yarn from the women knitters of the Red Cross. We are buying all the yarn we are able to secure that is suitable for knitters and sending it out to the chapters as fast as we can get delivery of it. We have received from the chapters about 200,000 sweaters and approximately the same number of machine made sweaters, all of which have been delivered to the men in the camps and training stations with the exception of a few thousand which we have had to send to France.

"The requests of our organization in France for sweaters and knitted goods have had to remain unsatisfied on account of our inability to secure enough for the men in our own army and navy. We call upon the women to give us their very best effort from now until at least January 1, that we may be able to furnish our own men with those comforts and have some to spare for the dire needs in France."

and begins its round of twelve months. Miss Loraine Foley, presievery one has a particular duty to perform to make this one of the

FIVE HUNDRED KIDDIES IN A BIG PAGEANT

The teachers of the grammar and primary grades are preparing to present a historical pageant, "Uncle
Sam's Children," on Thursday and
Friday evenings, December 20 and 21.
There will be about 500 children participating, representing all the grades,
even the little tots in the kindergarten.
The history of this country will be presented in songs, dances, tableaux

and pantomime scenes such as Columbus, Making of the Flag, and Soldier
Boys in Europe, dating from the year
1400 to the present time. There has been much time spent in arranging
the costumes and stage scenery.

Last May they gave the Mother
Goose Land cantata to furnish the music room of the school. The proceeds of the entertainment this month
will be used to give memberships to
the Junior Red Cross for every pupil
of the grammar and primary schools.

The popularity of the Sunny South as a winter resort nowadays is due not so much to the sun as to the fact that she has the moonshine still.

LOCAL LAD IN MARINE CORPS CAMP ON SAN JUAN

Ollie Jensen Tells Of How
"Billy Blues" Found Bones
Of Old Spanish Soldiers

UNCLE SAM GOOD PROVIDER

Regiment Protecting Gigantic
Sugar Crop From Uncivilized Destructive Natives

Some idea of the steps being taken by Uncle Sam to conserve and increase the sugar production for this country is contained in a newsy letter just received here by the "Democrat" from Ollie Jensen, a Woodland lad, who is with the 71st Company of the 7th Regiment of the United States
Marines at Santiago de Cuba. Jensen
writes that the entire regiment was sent there to protect the sugar crop.
"There is going to be about three hundred million tons of sugar raised in Cuba this season," says Jensen. "The most of it is owned by American interests. Last year the crop was destroyed by the natives. Uncle Sam
does not intend to allow that to happen again."

The Woodland boy's company is camped on the historic San Juan Hill,
the scene of the big Spanish-American war battle in 1898. "Some of the big guns that were used in that battle
are still here where they were last in action," writes Jensen.

"I have found the names of all the United States soldiers who were killed here. The old trenches are still standing, as is the tree called 'Peace.'
I am told that peace was declared where this tree stands. The tree is surrounded by a fence, the pickets of which are the barrels of old Springfield rifles that were used in the Spanish-American war."

Jensen's company is the crack organization of the 7th Regiment. "We hold the best record in everything that we have done," Jensen writes. "Our captain recently received a letter from Washington, D. C., complimenting us for work on the rifle range. Out of eighty men in the company, sixty-four came in to the standard set by the Government Marine officials. We have nine expert rifle men and twenty-seven sharpshooters."

The young Woodland man left Woodland last April to enlist at the Marine recruiting station at Fresno.
He was sent there to Mare Island.
"At the Mare Island station I had to remain in the applicants' room for one whole week before I could take my four-year oath," writes Jensen.

The delay, he says, was necessary in order that his papers could go to Washington, D. C., and be returned.
After nine weeks of training at Mare Island, Jensen was ordered to report at San Diego. Here the 71st Company was organized. Jensen was at the Exposition Grounds at San Diego with his company for one month, after which he and his organization were sent to Philadelphia. "We had no more than landed in Philadelphia than we were ordered to Cuba," writes

Jensen.

"The 71st Company was given a royal time of it at the stop stations between San Diego and Philadelphia.
One place, Plano, in particular turned out en masse to treat us with ice-cream, cigars, cigarettes and anything that we asked for."

"The weather was all together too tropical to suit the "Billy Blues" when they first arrived at Cuba, but Jensen says that it has cooled off now and the men are much better satisfied. "Don't think that we are without enjoyment," advises Jensen. "We have our athletic teams, our moving picture shows, our boxing contests, and many amusement affairs. Uncle Sam is certainly doing lots to keep us contented."

Human bones, supposedly those of Spanish soldiers, were dug up by the marines near San Juan Hill, confides
Jensen.

Jensen's camp is about two miles from Santiago. "That city, writes Jensen," has a population of about 45,000 people. There are lots of Spanish girls, and so we are striving to master their language. The natives don't seem to have much use for us.
Some of them look at us like we were wild animals."

Jensen thinks that his captain is the best in the country. "There's not one of us who wouldn't do anything he asked," says Jensen. He's always for his men first. Our cook, too, is a mighty fine fellow and powerfully important gent, too, let me tell you. Our grub can't be complained about.

Closing his letter, Jensen says: "I will be mighty glad to hear from some of my old-time Woodland friends. This is a very lonesome country, and letters and papers from home afford us much joy."

(Ed. Note.—Jensen's address is as follows: Ollie Jensen, 71st Co., 7th Regiment, U. S. Marines, Santiago de Cuba, care P. M., New York City, New York.)

Reports Huntington Sank German Submarine On Voyage Back To New York From Devonport, Eng.

Howard Dalghren, gun-pointer on the Cruiser Huntington, is credited with the shot which sank a German undersea craft on the last trip across from England. The information arrived this morning in a letter from one of the boys on the ship, which is as follows:

Dear Friend: I am writing to let you know that the Willows boys on the U. S. S. Huntington are all fine. We have made two trips across the Atlantic. The second we landed in Devonport, England, where we all got a two days' leave and we visited the great city of London. We sank one German submarine on the way back. Howard Dalghren was the gun-pointer who fired the shot hit. Clinton Murphy is a good sailor and a gunner.—Willows Journal.

Frank Elston, Adin Whitehead and John Elder of Woodland are on the Huntington, and letters have reached here recently from them. No mention, however, has been made of the sinking of a German submarine. Relatives, however, say that the information contained in their letters was carefully censored, and it is possible that the boys were not allowed to write of the thrilling event told of in the Willows boy's message.

MANY LADS SCURRYING TO RECRUIT STATIONS

Yolo's Next Draft Quota Will Probably Be Greatly Reduced

Quartermaster Corps Seems To Be Popular Unit For Local Boys

If recruiting continues as brisk as it has been within the last few days, Yolo county's draft quota for the next call in December will be appreciably small. Every southbound train today carried Yolo county lads going to enlist with some branch of Uncle Sam's liberty seekers.

Wm. Fisher, William Provost and Stanley Bates, all of Woodland, left this morning to apply to enlist in the U. S. army. They will register in San Francisco. Victor Groh, Uriah Dutcher and Glenn Ervin, who successfully passed the physical examinations last week, reported today to the Quartermaster's Corps at Fort McDowell, expecting to be sent to Jacksonville, Florida. Herman Rominger left for San Francisco this afternoon to join the army.

The Woodland boys who enlisted last week in the Quartermaster's division of the U. S. army were given assignments for which they are particularly fitted. Willie Chalmers will be in the butcher business, Victor Groh will take care of the shoe department, Uriah Dutcher will be guardian of the soldiers' wardrobes, Glenn Ervin will be in charge of the grocery quarters, Frank Hollingsworth will be a carpenter. Groh, Dutcher and Ervin left for Fort McDowell this morning.

Charles Mansfield, Electric Garage employe, telephoned home this morning that he had enlisted in the navy in San Francisco. Everett Howard, another Electric boy, leaves Wednesday to be a cargador (shipper of livestock) in the Q. M. department; and George Hazeman, also from the Electric Garage, departs this week to become a mechanic in an engineer unit.

Ed Comontofski, Vernon Clover, Henry Kaupke and Harvey Frazier will leave here Wednesday for Sacramento, to join a company of Engineers. The organization will be moved to the Presidio, San Francisco, and from there transferred either to Atlanta, Ga., or New York. The quartette will be mechanical engineers in the naval aviation service. It will be their duty to see that the airships on board the American ships are kept in proper trim.

Ervin Elers left this morning to enlist in the quartermaster service.

K. C. DRIVE IN JANUARY

There has been so many calls upon the people of Yolo county for drives for various organizations that are trying to provide temporal and spiritual welfare for American soldiers that Father Horgan has decided to postpone the appeal of the Knights of Columbus until the first week of the new year. President Wilson has referred to the Knights of Columbus and the Y. M. C. A. as the two great organizations that can do the best service in promoting the general welfare of the fighting men of the nation. The drive for the Y. M. C. A. obtained subscriptions that carried it away "over the top." Father Horgan worked for and encouraged that drive and he feels that when the drive for the Knights of Columbus is inaugurated the people of all denominations and of no denomination will reciprocate his efforts.

Yolo Boys Continue Their Volunteering

Draft Quota of County Will Be Reduced By Many Enlistments

From the way in which volunteers are enlisting from this county seems probable that when the next call for selective draft service of the county will have well nigh met the requirement.

A partial list of those who have gone recently are Wm. Fisher, William Provost, Stanley Bates, Victor Groh, Uriah Dutcher, Glenn Ervin, Herman Rominger, Wiley Chalmers, Frank Hollingsworth, Charles Mansfield, Everett Howard, George Hazeman, Ed. Comontofski, Vernon Clover, Henry Kaupke, Harvey Frazier, Ross Wilson and Ervin Elers.

These young men come from industrial and professional ranks in this community and each one has the stuff which makes a good soldier.

NEW DRAFT BOARD TO MAIL LIST SATURDAY

Classification of Young Men Eligible For Second Call Starts In Earnest

FINISHED IN TWO MONTHS

Drafted On First Call To Move To Europe To Make Room For Next Defenders

CLASSIFICATION OF THE REGISTERED MEN IN YOLO COUNTY WHO HAVE NOT BEEN DRAFTED OR WHO HAVE NOT VOLUNTEERED FOR SERVICE IN THE U. S. ARMY OR NAVY WILL BEGIN SATURDAY. THE QUESTIONNAIRES ARE ALL READY TO BE MAILED. CLERKS WM. GOULD AND C. F. EVANS ARE ATTENDING TO THE ROUTINE OFFICE WORK OF THE LOCAL EXEMPTION BOARD IN THEIR OFFICES IN THE NEW COURTHOUSE BUILDING. The army board members are the first officials to move into the newly-completed county structure.

Within two months, and possibly sooner, the classification of the Yolo men will be complete and the board will be ready to designate the men who will comprise Yolo county's quota of the 500,000 men to be drafted in the second call to the "boche strafe" training. The contingents in the first draft are expected to move to Europe with spring. On their heels raw recruits in the second draft will tumble into the cantonments.

The government hopes by February 15 to have nine million men catalogued, card indexed and stuck away in civilian cubby holes from which they can be quickly drawn to fill the second draft and all subsequent calls for democracy's defenders.

C. W. BUSH WILL LEAD IN THRIFT CAMPAIGN HERE

J. D. Harling, First Choice, Is Succeeded by Bank President Upon His Resignation

COMPREHENSIVE CAMPAIGN IS NOW BEING PREPARED

Co-Operation of Schools in Way Of Patriotic Exercises Each Week Has Been Requested

Mr. C. W. Bush, president of the Bank of Yolo, has been appointed by John S. Drum as the county director of the war thrift stamp campaign for Yolo county. J. D. Harling had been appointed but found the extra labor involved cut too deep into his required duties as cashier of the two banks which he serves.

A comprehensive plan of campaign is being worked out and will be announced by the press of the county. Mr. Bush received the following telegram yesterday:

"I am authorized by Secretary of Treasury McAdoo to appoint you county director of the national war savings campaign that is to be carried on for the government's two billion dollar thrift loan. In order to raise California's quota we must form an active organization in every county and I am sure that you will bring the work the patriotic spirit and enthusiasm needed for success the task of bringing home to every man woman and child in the state the necessity of self denial and savings to increase the national production for vital war purposes as a government service of the highest type in which we could be privileged to engage. Secretary McAdoo expects all of us to devote our full energy to the inauguration of this campaign."

JOHN S. DRUM, Mr. Bush has wired his acceptance of the task and will receive immediately complete instructions.

SCHOOLS TO CO-OPERATE

Governor Stephens has requested the co-operation of the teachers and pupils in our public schools and has requested that on each Wednesday there should be in each school patriotic exercises.

The principal duties to be undertaken by children will be the sale of Government War Stamps of 25 cents each to be attached to a Government card. The Government agrees to pay four per cent interest or in other words upon an investment of $4.12 at this time the owner will receive $5. on January 1st 1923.

The public will be more fully informed from time to time. In the mean time—to perfect the necessary organization Mr. Bush invites the co-operation of all the banks and business industries of the County as well as of schools—churches and Fraternal organizations. The purpose is to give the large number of our people who are unable to purchase liberty bonds the opportunity to do their bit.

Information will gladly be given to all enquiries in person or by mail.

Letters from the BOYS

A letter just received by Mr. and Mrs. George Apperson from their son, Walker, who is situated at Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y., indicates that his company will soon be on its way across the water for "somewhere in France."

The boys have received their complete equipment, which means a move very shortly.

Apperson has been in the service just one month, and in all probability will be transferred to the forestry service. His transference has been recommended by the army officers, and the delay is supposed to be merely a matter of red tape.

"Smashups have been numerous here, during the past two weeks. The only death that has occurred for some time, however, happened last week, when one of our students was killed, while doing a 'tail-spin'." This bit of news came in a letter to the "Democrat" this morning from George Sharpnack, one of the Woodland boys stationed at the aviation school at Mineola, Long Island. News from the soldiers and sailors is always welcome, and Sharpnack's letter follows:

Mineola, Long Island, N. Y.
Dear Editor: I know you are interested in the boys who are "with the colors," so I will endeavor to describe a few of the things that are of the most interest.
Since November 16 I have been going to the ground school, and expect to be a full-fledged aviator soon, as I have had six hours of flying with an instructor.
Our weather has been rather damp lately—plenty of rain and snow. We are expecting to leave for Florida by December 15, as flying will be closed down on this field in a few days.

Smashups have been numerous here during the past two weeks. The only death that has occurred for some time happened last week, when one of our students was killed, while doing a tail-spin. The instructor was seriously injured. Most of our mishaps are due to bad landings and climatic conditions.

Men are being shipped across the "pond" daily from Camp Mills and it looks as if Uncle Sam has an inexhaustible supply. Camp Upton has been receiving men from American Lake, and now has about forty thousand men.

Little old New York certainly has many points of interest. One can ride all morning in the subway and spend the afternoon riding thirty feet above the surface.

The only "missing link" is news from home. I can truthfully say that I have feasted for a whole week on one "Democrat."

Yours Sincerely,
GEO. K. SHARPNAK.

The "Democrat" today acknowledges the receipt of the regiment paper issued by the soldiers at Camp Lewsi, Wash. It was sent to this office by Ed. Kuhn, one of the drafted men from this city. Kuhn also writes, in part:

California and the home town would surely look good to us. Rumors are that most of us Woodland boys are to be moved to Camp Fremont soon, but I believe we will be in France before long. We surely appreciate the "Democrat."

The regiment paper, "Over the Top," contains column after column of personal items about the soldier boys at the draft camp.

Thrift Stamp Campaign Put Into Effect

ORGANIZATION UNDER HEAD OF
C. W. BUSH PERFECTED FOR
ALL PARTS OF COUNTY

C. W. Bush, county chairman of the thrift campaign, called an advisory committee into existence yesterday and plans were formulated for the work in this county, which is to extend over the year 1918. The members of that committee are John L. Stephens, Fred Shaffer, F. W. Blanchard and W. F. Mixon. Comprehensive plans have been outlined and within a week or two every section of the county will have been thoroughly organized for the work.

The work in the various county units will be in direct charge of men and women living therein. The Woodland central committee is composed of Fred Shaffer, chairman; C. R. Wilcoxon, mayor; Miss Harriett Lee, superintendent of schools; J. D. Harling, Farm & Town club; N. P. Searles, farm adviser; A. W. Morris, chamber of commerce; Mrs. L. D. Lawhead, the women's clubs; G. H. Hecke, farming industry. The publicity committee for this section will be Paul R. Leake and Frank Mixon, Jr.

ORGANIZE OUTSIDE DISTRICTS

The outside communities will be in charge of R. L. Niemann, Winters, Forest Plant, Davis; Harold Van Tassell, Washington; Frank F. Edson, Knights Landing; E. H. Archer, Madison; C. F. George, Esparto; W. T. Moore, Capay; M. H. Stitt, Guinda; Ed. Morrin, Rumsey; P. T. Foster, Blacks; Dan Barton Dunnigan; J. E. Scarlett, Yolo; J. J. Smith, Brooks; Chas. Fowler, Cadenasso; J. E. Winter, Tancred; S. S. Hinsdale, Clarksburg; W. E. M. Beardslee, Riverbank. These chairmen have the privilege of appointing their own working committees.

A call will be sent out today to these appointees to meet at the directors' room of the Bank of Yolo next Wednesday to enter into full discussion of the work to be undertaken. If Yolo county is to do her part in raising two billions of dollars during the year, we must have sold by December 31, 1918, the total amount of three hundred thousand dollars worth.

FREE START FOR KIDDIES

An outlined plan, suggested by Fred Shaffer, will go into effect this morning at the Woodland post office. There is wanted in the county at least 100 men and women who will buy five dollars worth of the twenty-five cent thrift stamps, which would be twenty stamps, have them attached to twenty thrift cards and place them at the post office sales windows. The first twenty boys or girls who will buy an additional stamp and begin making thrift savings, will be given one of these stamped cards with the good will of the original purchaser. It is done to encourage the saving habit. If one hundred men and women will respond to this request there will soon be two thousand of these cards in the hands of young people who will have a desire to fill the card and secure a war savings stamp in exchange.

The first person to respond to this plan was G. H. Hecke. The second was Mrs. C. W. Bush and this morning there will be forty of these thrift cards to be given to the forty young people who buy an additional stamp. Then the card will be filled out by the post office clerk and it becomes the individual property of the person whose name it bears. If you want yours get to the post office early this morning.

Any adult who wishes to buy twenty of these cards should report to Mr. Bush or any one of his advisory committee.

NATIONAL HEAD EXPLAINS

Interviewed by Julian Street for the Saturday Evening Post, Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman of the government's new war savings certificate committee, recently made the following explanation of this method by which the small investor may contribute his interest bearing bit toward a $2,000,000,000 war fund:

The new war savings certificates are designed to give every man, woman and child in the United States the opportunity to aid the government in financing the war. The unit is $5; but instead of loaning the government $5 and getting a semi-annual interest return of ten cents a much better plan has been devised for the small investor.

WHAT SYSTEM MEANS

Beginning December 1, 1917, the government will offer a war savings certificate stamp, which it will sell in December, 1917, and in January 1918, for $4.12. This obligation is in effect the government's note for $5, falling due January 1, 1923; and the buyer who, during the first three months of the year 1918, will be able to show

Thrift Stamp Campaign Will Be County-Wide

Every nook and corner in Yolo county will take part in the local campaign for the sale of the government's War Savings Stamps, urged C. W. Bush, chairman of the county committee, here today. "We are going to make this the biggest drive of the year," said Bush.

At a meeting late Friday a general committee was named comprising J. L. Stephens, Fred Shaffer, F. W. Blanchard and W. F. Mixon. Branch committees were formed to represent every section of the county. Paul R. Leake and W. F. Mixon Jr. were named as an exploitation board.

The chairmen of the various branch committees, who are expected to organize and conduct the campaigns in their respective home districts, are: R. L. Niemann, Winters; Forest Plant, Davis; Harold Van Tassell, Washington; F. B. Edson, Knights Landing; E. H. Archer, Madison; C. F. George, Esparto; W. T. Moore, Capay; M. H. Stitt, Guinda; Ed. Beardslee, Riverbank.

you have paid, plus one cent a month for each stamp you have bought. If I only ask you to give the postoffice ten days' notice so that funds may always be on hand to meet any demands made. Aside from this, you are free, if it becomes necessary, to draw your money from any one of my 100,000 money order postoffices.

"Great!" replies the citizen; "you can absolutely count on my support."

"I always knew I could," returns Uncle Sam; "but I like to hear you say so."

"It is precisely because the terms of the war savings certificate plan are so peculiarly advantageous that it was found necessary to limit to a maximum of $1000 the amount of war savings certificates which may be held by one individual. If there were no limit the banks would jump at the opportunity to buy the certificates in large blocks, for they represent what is practically called money."

One can imagine Uncle Sam's putting the case to the small investor in some such way as that.

MANY OPEN U. S. ACCOUNTS

Relieve Situation; Add

Young America is for the war! This was vigorously demonstrated at the Woodland postoffice this morning, when the kiddies crowded each other and remained in line for an hour in order to procure a thrift stamp so that they might be soldiers in Uncle Sam's army of dollars that must help to win the war.

The twenty cards, with a twenty-five cent thrift stamp on each card, contributed by State Horticultural Commissioner Hecke, were soon taken up and Mrs. C. W. Bush and Judge H. M. Ball both came to the rescue with donations of five dollars each so that forty more cards were available.

Postmaster Ed. I. Leake and his assistants explained to the thrift soldiers the plan of the government and a special lesson in patriotism and thrift was taught in the little occurrence.

It is the purpose of the committee to keep these books on hand with a twenty-five cent gift stamp to start them, so that all the children of Yolo county will be encouraged in saving and also taught a lesson in patriotic duty to the government.

The first step toward the performance of a big task, the filling out of the questionnaire draft blanks by hundreds of Yolo county men who registered and are awaiting their classification and call by the government, was made Monday by the Yolo county exemption board in the detailing of the entire legal force of the City of Woodland as advisers to the registrants. An ideal solution of the work before the lawyers was conceived by the appointment of two men for each day during the thirty day period in which the blanks must all be filled out.

Committees Appointed out County to
Members

A systematic campaign inaugurated in Yolo county as the Xmas Red campaign for membership. It is intended that everyone in Yolo county have full opportunity to do good work through a membership. This is a county-wide campaign. The local chapter is being organized. The following announcement is being made: The nation and the world are still in need of your service. You did good work in the trenches. You are brave defenders; but the approach of winter with mud, snow and ice. The trenches are hard under the conditions. In a trench with shoe mouth deep, the soldier suffers greatly unless provided with the comforts that clothing can supply. In too, though the need is different, it is none the less to the comfort of those who risked their lives in the trenches. Will you not continue to part to supply the needs both in the hospitals and trenches.

More money is needed to make the supply as constant as the cities. About one-fourth of the citizens have joined the Red Cross and have paid at least each to the Red Cross where a family is able to member 'should belong membership fee—the adults and the children, as the Juniors, 25 cents each, now to see whole family where only one or two belonged before.

With this object in view you to make a canvass of the local districts, respectively. John Crook, president of the local chapter, has been chosen to enroll those who had been members. Provide your two lists, one for adults, one for Juniors. Secure back to W. assistants, if needed and do this thoroughly and well. The ancillary should not be others should be secured. WOULD SACRIFICE VALUABLE STAMPS

Mrs. Alvis Hunt of Woodland is willing to sacrifice a valuable collection of stamps to raise funds for the Yolo branch of the American Red Cross Association. The collection represents a saving of many years. The stamps are greatly prized by Mrs. Hunt, who has written to Miss Annette Maddox at Sacramento for a suggestion as to the best means of raising the greatest amount of money through the sale of the stamps. Miss Maddox is interested in the collection of canceled stamps, from which much valuable dye can be obtained, and so Mrs. Hunt thought that she might be able to suggest the best method for selling her lot. Many of Mrs. Hunt's stamps are from foreign countries and are no longer in circulation.

"There are many people in Yolo county willing to help in Red Cross work, but do not know how to make their services available," declared J. P. Hurst today. Hurst, who is a member of the membership committee, urged that captains and workers when soliciting names should ask each member to report the kind of work he or she is best adapted to. "Let each worker keep this in mind and report to Mesdames C. W. Bush, H. E. Coil or Fred Meier," continued Hurst.

CAMPAIGN FOR LOCAL RED CROSS OPENS BIG

Would Have 10,000 Members In Yolo Chapter By Christmas, Is Plan of Committee

Special Programme Set For Each Day of Week; Everyone in County Must Be Worker

"Let your light shine before men" is to be given a literal significance, by the Red Cross this Yuletide, when the plans for the great Christmas drive are fully carried into effect. This drive having for its slogan, "Let a greater Red Cross be your Christmas gift," began today, December 17, and will end Christmas eve. The American Red Cross has "harnessed its chariot to a star," the particular star being a membership of 15 million when the drive ends. Wonderful efforts are being made toward linking together the spirit of the Red Cross and the spirit of Christmas.

Mrs. Fred Meier, one of Woodland's representative women workers for the Red Cross, states that Woodland is planning to contribute ten thousand members to the national association by the time the drive ends. At present the local membership is somewhat over 3000, including the juniors.

A committee composed of Miss Harriett Lee, Miss Nan Laugenour, Dr. C. R. Wilcoxon and John Reith Jr., with G. P. Hurst acting as chairman, has been appointed to take charge of the membership campaign.

The publicity committee has given out the following as being expressive of the "Red Cross Christmas idea:

The War Council of the American Red Cross has conceived that a great national purpose will be served by having membership in the Red Cross almost as universal as citizenship.

Although pledged as a nation to the national purpose during this great crisis, it will not be granted to a large percentage of us to play a part in the fighting branches of our country's service.

All of us, however, can be identified with the Red Cross, which in these times, when whole nations are organized for warfare, is big enough and strong enough to carry some of the burden for our soldiers, our sailors and our allies.

Christmas Red Cross Drive Opens Thousand New Members Sought

With practically every organization in Woodland and the surrounding country, including civic, literary, patriotic and church bodies, vitally interested in the work of solicitation, the Christmas drive for the American Red Cross was officially opened by the Yolo county chapter yesterday morning. By the time the books are closed on Christmas eve it is the purpose of the workers to have one thousand new members enrolled as members of this chapter, making in all four thousand members.

The national appeal, "Make This a Red Cross Christmas," is already meeting with patriotic response in Woodland and the first hundred new members were easily obtained yesterday. Probably the most successful single effort to obtain members was conducted in the lobby of the Woodland postoffice in charge of Miss Bertha Laugenour, almost fifty members having been signed up.

Both old and young will be numbered among the workers, the feature of the little folks' work to be next Thursday and Friday evenings when the combined classes of the Woodland primary and grammar schools will stage a pageant in the Elm street school auditorium, the proceeds to go toward purchasing every one of the five hundred odd pupils membership in the junior Red Cross.

A new feature added to the Red Cross membership for the campaign is the issuance of a Red Cross service card with every membership in a family, the card to be displayed in the window of that family with a small red cross beside the large one in the center for every member of the family who joins. As a means of making the Red Cross shine out into the darkness on Christmas eve the request is made that a lighted candle be placed behind the card at that time.

The following proclamations and appeal are especially appropriate to the occasion:

Lt. Miller Slated For Promotion

Lieutenant Edwin V. Morris, of the United States Dental Reserve Corps, at present stationed at Alcatraz, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Morris, near Yolo. Lieutenant Morris stands high on the list and is likely to be promoted to the rank of captain about the 1st of March. He says that Lieutenant H. E. Miller of Woodland, now at Linda Vista, will probably be on his way to France in a few weeks. He will also probably be promoted to the rank of captain early next year. The Dental Reserve Corps, which had been closed, was re-opened last week long enough to take in fifteen more men.

MAYOR WILCOXON ISSUES PROCLAMATION LUXURIES MUST BE DENIED, ADVISES EXECUTIVE ALL MUST DO UTMOST TO AID RED CROSS

(By Mayor C. R. Wilcoxon.)
The national drive to increase the membership of the American Red Cross to 15,000,000 by December 25, is being carried on in every section of our country.

As individuals we are not permitted to take up arms, nor bear heavy burdens imposed in this great struggle for democracy, but this general drive furnishes each with an opportunity to do his part toward the great work of mercy and sacrifice that is being carried on by our American Red Cross.

By denying ourselves even a few of the many luxuries usually indulged in at this time, we will be able to contribute our share toward increasing the membership in Woodland to its proper quota.

This season of the year, permeated with the Christ spirit that knows naught but love and sacrifice, was deemed especially appropriate in which to consecrate our time and energy toward assisting our ministering agent, the American Red Cross. Therefore, I set aside Dec. 17 to 24 as the time when every citizen is expected to do his utmost toward carrying the aim of this society to its highest goal.

County President Issues an Appeal

The Christmas drive to increase the Red Cross membership in Yolo county began Monday. We are required to add 1000 new names to our rolls. The one dollar fee is a secondary consideration. We seek a large membership because of the strong moral sentiment it creates.

Four hundred and more of our young men are now in the army and navy; they need our aid and support. Three million Red Cross members have said the soldiers of America shall be well cared for. Let us increase the membership so that 15,000,000 members, after the Christmas drive, will be able to supplement the promise already made.

GREATEST OBLIGATION
No one can give any intelligent reason why his name is not on the Red Cross roll. Yolo county is rich and prosperous and every one has a national duty to perform. To refuse membership is to neglect our greatest charitable obligation.

The young men who fight our battles for us make the supreme sacrifice. We must not overlook their personal welfare and comfort. Don't wait for a solicitor to persuade you to join the Red Cross. Duty calls you to join voluntarily and lend your influence in building up the society, the work of which is world-wide. Remember also that donations are accepted. Six hundred women in Yolo county are working on surgical and other supplies. Their services are free but the material to work with is expensive.

There never was a time when the opportunity to do good was so present and opportune. In this great Christmas membership drive, let Yolo county do its duty.

Thrift Stamp Campaign Put Into Effect

ORGANIZATION UNDER HEAD OF
C. W. BUSH PERFECTED FOR
ALL PARTS OF COUNTY

C. W. Bush, county chairman of the thrift campaign, called an advisory committee into existence yesterday and plans were formulated for the work in this county, which is to extend over the year 1918. The members of that committee are John L. Stephens, Fred Shaffer, F. W. Blanchard and W. F. Mixon. Comprehensive plans have been outlined and within a week or two every section of the county will have been thoroughly organized for the work. The work in the various county units will be in direct charge of men and women living therein. The Woodland central committee is composed of Fred Shaffer, chairman; C. R. Wilcoxon, mayor; Miss Harriett Lee, superintendent of schools; J. D. Harling, Farm & Town club; N. P. Searles, farm adviser; A. W. Morris, chamber of commerce; Mrs. L. D. Lawhead, the women's clubs; G. H. Hecke, farming industry. The publicity committee for this section will be Paul R. Leake and Frank Mixon, Jr.

ORGANIZE OUTSIDE DISTRICTS

The outside communities will be in charge of R. V. Neimann, Winters, Forest Plant; Davis; Harold Van Tassel, Washington; Frank F. Edson, Knights Landing; E. H. Archer, Madison; C. F. George, Esparto; W. T. Moore, Capay; M. H. Stitt, Guinda; Ed. Morrin, Rumsey; P. T. Foster, Blacks; Dan Barton, Dunnigan; J. E. Scarlett, Yolo; J. J. Smith, Brooks; Chas. Fowler, Cadenasso; J. E. Winter, Tancred; S. S. Hinsdale, Clarksburg; W. E. M. Beardslee, Riverbank. These chairmen have the privilege of appointing their own working committees.

A call will be sent out today to these appointees to meet at the directors' room of the Bank of Yolo next Wednesday to enter into full discussion of the work to be undertaken. If Yolo county is to do her part in raising two billions of dollars during the year, we must have sold by December 31, 1918, the total amount of three hundred thousand dollars worth.

FREE START FOR KIDDIES

An outlined plan, suggested by Fred Shaffer, will go into effect this morning at the Woodland post office. There is wanted in the county at least 100 men and women who will buy five dollars worth of the twenty-five cent thrift stamps, which would be twenty stamps, have them attached to twenty thrift cards and place them at the post office sales windows. The first twenty boys or girls who will buy an additional stamp and begin making thrift savings, will be given one of these stamped cards with the good will of the original purchaser. It is done to encourage the saving habit. If one hundred men and women will respond to this request there will soon be two thousand of these cards in the hands of young people who will have a desire to fill the card and secure a war savings stamp in exchange.

The first person to respond to this plan was G. H. Hecke. The second was Mrs. C. W. Bush and this morning there will be forty of these thrift cards to be given to the forty young people who buy an additional stamp. Then the card will be filled out by the post office clerk and it becomes the individual property of the person whose name it bears. If you want yours get to the post office early this morning.

Any adult who wishes to buy twenty of these cards should report to Mr. Bush or any one of his advisory committee.

NATIONAL HEAD EXPLAINS

Interviewed by Julian Street for the Saturday Evening Post, Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman of the government's new war savings certificate committee, recently made the following explanation of this method by which the small investor may contribute his interest bearing bit toward a $2,000,000,000 war fund:

The new war savings certificates are designed to give every man, woman and child in the United States the opportunity to aid the government in financing the war. The unit is $5; but instead of loaning the government $5 and getting a semi-annual interest return of ten cents a much better plan has been devised for the small investor.

WHAT SYSTEM MEANS

Beginning December 1, 1917, the government will offer a war savings certificate stamp, which it will sell in December, 1917, and in January 1918, for $4.12. This obligation is in effect the government's note for $5, falling due January 1, 1923; and the buyer who, during the coming December or January, purchases for $4.12 one of these $5 war savings certificates is virtually discounting the government's note for $5—discounting it at 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly. In other words, Uncle Sam says to the citizen:

"Lend me $4.12 and in return I will give you a stamp which is my promise to pay. I will use your $4.12 to prosecute the war and meet the expenses of government, and will pay you 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly. Thus, when January 1, 1923, rolls round I will hand you back the money you helped me out with, plus the interest, so that—speaking approximately and ignoring, in our liberal American way, the few odd cents for every $4 you lend me now, when I need it. I'll give you back $5 five years hence."

RAISE EVERY MONTH

"But," we can imagine the citizen saying to Uncle Sam, "don't you want me to lend you more than $4.12?"

"Of course I do," says Uncle Sam. "I'll want you to let me have all you can spare throughout the coming year."

"Indeed I will," says the citizen. "I can let you have $4.12 in December, 1917, $4.12 more in January, 1918; $4.12 more in February, and

"No," says Uncle Sam; "$4.12 is all right for December and January, but on the first day of each month after January I shall have to raise the price of the stamps one cent. They will cost you $4.13 each during February, $4.14 during March, $4.15 during April and so on."

"There's only one question that troubles me," says the citizen: "I don't quite like the idea of tying up my savings for five years. Suppose I need some of this money between now and January 1, 1923?"

STAMPS NEGOTIABLE

"That's all looked after," says Uncle Sam. "In the event of your having to use the money which you will have loaned me you can go to any postoffice and get back the amount

Thrift Stamp Campaign Will Be County-Wide

Every nook and corner in Yolo county will take part in the local campaign for the sale of the government's War Savings Stamps, urged C. W. Bush, chairman of the county committee, here today. "We are going to make this the biggest drive of the year," said Bush.

At a meeting late Friday a general committee was named comprising J. L. Stephens, Fred Shaffer, F. W. Blanchard and W. F. Mixon. Branch committees were formed to represent every section of the county. Paul R. Leake and W. F. Mixon Jr. were named as an exploitation board.

The chairmen of the various branch committees, who are expected to organize and conduct the campaigns in their respective home districts, are: R. L. Niemann, Winters; Forest Plant, Davis; Harold Van Tassel, Washington; F. B. Edson, Knights Landing; E. H. Archer, Madison; C. F. George, Esparto; W. T. Moore, Capay; M. H. Stitt, Guinda; Ed. Morrin, Rumsey; P. T. Foster, Blacks; Dan Barton, Dunnigan; J. E. Scarlett, Yolo; J. J. Smith, Brooks; Chas. Fowler, Cadenasso; J. E. Winter, Tancred; S. S. Hinsdale, Clarksburg; W. E. M. Beardslee, Riverbank.

you have paid, plus one cent a month for each stamp you have bought. I'll only ask you to give the postoffice ten days' notice so that funds may always be on hand to meet any demands made. Aside from this, you are free, if it becomes necessary, to draw your money from any one of my 100,000 money order postoffices.

"Great!" replies the citizen; "you can absolutely count on my support." "I always knew I could," returns Uncle Sam; "but I like to hear you say so."

"It is precisely because the terms of the war savings certificate plan are so peculiarly advantageous that it was found necessary to limit to a maximum of $1000 the amount of war savings certificates which may be held by one individual. If there were no limit the banks would jump at the opportunity to buy the certificates in large blocks, for they represent what is practically called money."

One can imagine Uncle Sam's putting the case to the small investor in some such way as that.

Young America is for the war! This was vigorously demonstrated at the Woodland postoffice this morning, when the kiddies crowded each other and remained in line for an hour in order to procure a thrift stamp so that they might be soldiers in Uncle Sam's army of dollars that must help to win the war.

The twenty cards, with a twenty-five cent thrift stamp on each card, contributed by State Horticultural Commissioner Hecke, were soon taken up and Mrs. C. W. Bush and Judge H. M. Ball both came to the rescue with donations of five dollars each so that forty more cards were available.

Postmaster Ed. I. Leake and his assistants explained to the thrift soldiers the plan of the government and a special lesson in patriotism and thrift was taught in the little occurrence.

It is the purpose of the committee to keep these books on hand with a twenty-five cent gift stamp to start them, so that all the children of Yolo county will be encouraged in saving and also taught a lesson in patriotic duty to the government.

Lawyers Are Selected To Help
Registered Men With Questionnaires

The first step toward the performance of a big task, the filling out of the questionnaire draft blanks by hundreds of Yolo county men who registered and are awaiting their classification and call by the government, was made Monday by the Yolo county exemption board in the detailing of the entire legal force of the City of Woodland as advisers to the registrants. An ideal solution of the work before the lawyers was conceived by the appointment of two men for each day during the thirty day period in which the blanks must all be filled out.

CAMPAIGN START FOR CROSS DE

Committees Appointed
out County to
Members

A systematic campaign inaugurated in Yolo county as the Xmas Red campaign for membership. It is expected that everyone in Yolo county will have full opportunity to do good work through a membership. This is a county-wide campaign. The local chapter is in the following announcement.

The nation and the world are suffering greatly unless people front still need your assistance. You did good work in the past. You are now called upon to furnish necessities and our brave defenders; but the approach of winter with mud, snow and ice. The trenches are hard to dig. The shoe mouth deep, the suffer greatly unless people all the comforts that clothing can supply. In too, though the need is different, it is none the less to the comfort of those who risked their lives in the war. Will you not continue your part to supply the needs both in the hospitals and trenches.

More money is needed to supply the constant necessities. About one-fourth of the population have joined the Red Cross and have paid at least each to the Red Cross where a family is able to member should belong membership fee—the and the children, as the Juniors, 25 cents each, now to see whole families where only one or two belonged before.

With this object in view you to make a canvass of all districts, respectively, and enroll those who have been members. Provide your two lists, one for adults, other for Juniors. Send back to W. assistants, if needed and thoroughly and well. The financially able should not be others should be secured. This work is a necessity. It devolves on us, unless we refuse to give a few dollars who endanger their lives, our liberty and our country. Begin at once. We are you an index of the Gre for your precinct and in find a check against the each member of the Red Cross. It is your business to get this way you can help and thus prevent other w turies to come.

Return accurate list obtained, with membership, to the president of the chapter, or branch your district.

By this work, if well will earn the thanks of boys on the battle-line hospitals and in the nation.

WOULD SACRIFICE VALUABLE STAMPS

Mrs. Alvis Hunt of Woodland is willing to sacrifice a valuable collection of stamps to raise funds for the Yolo branch of the American Red Cross Association. The collection represents a saving of many years. The stamps are greatly prized by Mrs. Hunt, who has written to Miss Annette Maddox at Sacramento for a suggestion as to the best means of raising the greatest amount of money through the sale of the stamps. Miss Maddox is interested in the collection of cancelled stamps, from which much valuable dye can be obtained, and so Mrs. Hunt thought that she might be able to suggest the best method for selling her lot. Many of Mrs. Hunt's stamps are from foreign countries and are no longer in circulation, and collected by her father, a soldier in the army, and by her mother, a nurse in the hospital.

CAMPAIGN FOR LOCAL RED CROSS OPENS BIG

Would Have 10,000 Members In Yolo Chapter By Christmas, Is Plan of Committee

Special Programme Set For Each Day of Week; Everyone in County Must Be Worker

"Let your light shine before men" is to be given a literal significance, by the Red Cross this Yuletide, when the plans for the great Christmas drive are fully carried into effect. This drive having for its slogan, "Let a greater Red Cross be your Christmas gift," began today, December 17, and will end Christmas eve. The American Red Cross has "harnessed its chariot to a star," the particular star being a membership of 15 million when the drive ends. Wonderful efforts are being made toward linking together the spirit of the Red Cross and the spirit of Christmas.

Mrs. Fred Meier, one of Woodland's representative women workers for the Red Cross, states that Woodland is planning to contribute ten thousand members to the national association by the time the drive ends. At present the local membership is somewhat over 3000, including the juniors.

A committee composed of Miss Harriett Lee, Miss Nan Laugenour, Dr. C. R. Wilcoxon and John Reith Jr., with G. P. Hurst acting as chairman, has been appointed to take charge of the membership campaign.

The publicity committee has given out the following as being expressive of the "Red Cross Christmas idea:

The War Council of the American Red Cross has conceived that a great national purpose will be served by having membership in the Red Cross almost as universal as citizenship.

Although pledged as a nation to the national purpose during this great crisis, it will not be granted to a large percentage of us to play a part in the fighting branches of our country's service.

All of us, however, can be identified with the Red Cross, which in these times, when whole nations are organized for warfare, is big enough and strong enough to carry some of the burden for our soldiers, our sailors and our allies.

We want a Red Cross of 15 million members. We want the strength and support that will grow from this army of members.

We have set Christmas time to attain this goal, because we believe that the Red Cross and Christmas spring from the same spirit, and we wish to bring together these two great symbols of mercy, sacrifice and cheer. On this, our first Christmas in the war, we want the Red Cross symbol to add not a spirit of dejection, but the thought of serious purpose and sacrifice which through accomplishment it represents.

We hope that from this Christmas campaign of 1917 will grow a permanent custom which will increase the significance of both Christmas and the Red Cross."

The further idea that will probably prove to be the most striking feature of this campaign, is that with every home and place of business marked with the Red Cross service flag during Christmas week that the chapter will lend its efforts toward the task of seeing that on Christmas eve at 7:30 a candle is placed in each window behind this service flag, so that on Christmas eve there may be given expression to the universal aspect of the Red Cross. Throughout the East and Middle West, the idea of burning a Christmas candle is an old and well established one, but the custom is new in the west.

Plans for the week embrace the following points:

Monday, December 17, public statement of Red Cross Christmas idea.

Tuesday, December 18, civil employees' day and proclamation by the mayor.

Wednesday, December 19, meetings of local women's organizations.

Thursday, December 20, Red Cross day in the schools.

Friday, December 21, employees' day.

Saturday, December 22, Boy Scouts' day.

Sunday, December 23, Church day.

Monday, December 24, Red Cross Christmas ceremony day.

Christmas Red Cross Drive Opens Thousand New Members Sought

With practically every organization in Woodland and the surrounding country, including civic, literary, patriotic and church bodies, vitally interested in the work of solicitation, the Christmas drive for the American Red Cross was officially opened by the Yolo county chapter yesterday morning. By the time the books are closed on Christmas eve it is the purpose of the workers to have one thousand new members enrolled as members of this chapter, making in all four thousand members.

The national appeal, "Make This a Red Cross Christmas," is already meeting with patriotic response in Woodland and the first hundred new members were easily obtained yesterday. Probably the most successful single effort to obtain members was conducted in the lobby of the Woodland postoffice in charge of Miss Bertha Laugenour, almost fifty members having been signed up.

Both old and young will be numbered among the workers, the feature of the little folks' work to be next Thursday and Friday evenings when the combined classes of the Woodland primary and grammar schools will stage a pageant in the Elm street school auditorium, the proceeds to go toward purchasing every one of the five hundred odd pupils membership in the Junior Red Cross.

A new feature added to the Red Cross membership for the campaign is the issuance of a Red Cross service card with every membership in a family, the card to be displayed in the window of that family with a small red cross beside the large one in the center for every member of the family who joins. As a means of making the Red Cross shine out into the darkness on Christmas eve the request is made that a lighted candle be placed behind the card at that time.

The following proclamations and appeal are especially appropriate to the occasion:

County President Issues an Appeal

The Christmas drive to increase the Red Cross membership in Yolo county began Monday. We are required to add 1000 new names to our rolls. The one dollar fee is a secondary consideration. We seek a large membership because of the strong moral sentiment it creates.

Four hundred and more of our young men are now in the army and navy; they need our aid and support. Three million Red Cross members have said the soldiers of America shall be well cared for. Let us increase the membership so that 15,000,000 members, after the Christmas drive, will be able to supplement the promise already made.

GREATEST OBLIGATION

No one can give any intelligent reason why his name is not on the Red Cross roll. Yolo county is rich and prosperous and every one has a national duty to perform. To refuse membership is to neglect our greatest charitable obligation.

The young men who fight our battles for us make the supreme sacrifice. We must not overlook their personal welfare and comfort. Don't wait for a solicitor to persuade you to join the Red Cross. Duty calls you to join voluntarily and lend your influence in building up the society, the work of which is world-wide. Remember also that donations are accepted. Six hundred women in Yolo county are working on surgical and other supplies. Their services are free but the material to work with is expensive.

There never was a time when the opportunity to do good was so present and opportune. In this great Christmas membership drive, let Yolo county do its duty.

Woodland Home Guard Unit Evidently One of Few "Live" Home Military Bodies In State

Apparently the Woodland Home Guard Company is one of the few that continues in existence. Adjutant General J. J. Borree issued a statement last night that the Home Guard movement in the state would be allowed to die.

This attitude is taken in view of the fact that Governor William D. Stephens has been authorized by President Wilson to organize twelve companies of National Guard Infantry in this state. And the further fact that the Home Guard, not being entitled to license in the category of armed parties, as stated by law, is not regarded as a military necessity.

The state has not been able to secure guns for the fifty-odd organizations now in existence, but where local contributions have been made some of the companies have secured arms. However, the state is inclined to discourage such contributions, in view of the other demands for war-work made upon merchants and business men.

Adjutant General J. J. Borree states the companies have dwindled down to a comparatively few members in a large percentage of the organizations now in existence.

The Woodland organization will continue in existence. At last night's meeting the members were measured for their new uniforms, funds for which were subscribed here during the last few days.

PLAY OF KIDDIES AROUSING INTEREST

FIVE-HUNDRED CHILDREN TO TAKE PART IN THIS WEEK'S PRODUCTION

SCENES OF OTHER DAYS TO BE BROUGHT HOME

PROCEEDS TO ENABLE KIDS TO JOIN JUNIOR BRANCH OF THE RED CROSS

Teachers and kiddies in the Woodland grammar schools are on the quiver these days, anticipating the production of their public entertainment on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

Rehearsals are going on and there is much making and trying on of costumes. The feverish atmosphere is noticeable, from the kindergarten on up through the higher grades, because all of Woodland's 500 schoolchildren will present their "bit" to the public at some time during the performance. The teachers are in charge of their own grades and for the most part the program is original.

The eighth grade pupils are making the costumes for their own, and the seventh grade and the parents are attending to the costuming of the younger folk.

The nature of the entertainment includes a novel presentation of the different periods of our history—from the early Indian days to the present time. Uncle Sam, George Washington and Betsy Ross are the principal characters.

Interesting scenes of such a varied nature as the Landing of Columbus, Crossing the plains in '49, the Sunny South, Fair Hawaii, and Night-time on the Battlefield, will be presented in a most realistic manner by the children.

The grammar school orchestra will enliven the evening with music.

Memberships in the Junior Red Cross will be purchased for the schoolchildren from the proceeds of the entertainment.

REPORTS RED CROSS DRIVE ON WITH VIM

Workers Secured Many New Members In Yolo County,
Says G. P. Hurst

SERVICE FLAGS ON SALE

Winters Reports Successful Campaign in That Vicinity

(By G. P. Hurst, Chairman of Membership Committee of Yolo Red Cross Chapter.)

The Christmas campaign for Red Cross members which began yesterday throughout the nation promises to be a big success. Locally, a good start was made, and the membership committee is encouraged over the outlook.

Miss Vivian Gregory was the first worker to report, she having obtained twenty new members, and $22 in a part of the afternoon.

Others are at work and we hope they may do equally as well. Among the workers in the Woodland precincts are Miss Geneva Brasfield, Mrs. Mary Etta Baird, Mrs. C. F. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Jacobs, Mrs. A. W. Morris, Miss Leona Brown, Mrs. Floyd Tuttle, Mrs. William Heedson, Miss Percie Hurst. There are others whose names we have not yet obtained.

A very attractive booth at the post-office was opened yesterday, and is in charge of Miss Gladys Sharp. Miss Sharp reports 35 new members from her booth, and an encouraging sale of Red Cross seals.

The service flag, which the committee hopes to see in every home, can be secured at the postoffice booth, also from Miss Nan Laugenour and G. P. Hurst.

A booth will soon be opened at the Strand theater for the matinees and evening performances the remainder of the week.

Reports from Winters say they are doing remarkably well in that town. A call was sent in for more Christmas seals.

GOOD RESULTS ARE WON IN LABORS FOR RED CROSS

Membership Workers Pleased
By Enrollment of All Pupils
Of Spring Lake District

GIVE REPORT THURSDAY

Booth in Post Office Proving
To Be Big Factor in Getting
New Members for Chapter

The workers for new membership in the Red Cross for this special week here heartened yesterday when Miss Ruth Miles, teacher of the Spring Lake school, brought word to headquarters that every member of her school, 26 in number, had joined the junior section of the county. The payment therefor, amounting to $6.53, came from the Christmas funds of the young folks, who determined that they were just as much entitled to give up some pleasure as well as their elders to assist in the work of the war.

The workers at the post office lobby report a good day yesterday. Of course many of those asked to join had already taken membership, but a most satisfactory increase was recorded when night fall arrived.

TO REPORT NEXT THURSDAY

G. P. Hurst, chairman of the membership committee, is in receipt of a telegram from the national headquarters requesting him to send a night telegram on Thursday, with the information of the number of new members taken in from all points of Yolo county. In turn, Mr. Hurst requests the soliciting committees to call him on the phone or telegraph reports from their sections Thursday evening as early as the work will permit.

There yet remains four full days for solicitation and it is hoped every committee in the county will make it the predominant feature of their endeavor for the full four days. A pull together and the maximum membership will easily be reached.

An announcement specially requested by the membership committee yesterday was that the Red Cross service flags are free to all members, no fee being required to obtain the insignia.

The woman's committee of the council of national defense has arranged to furnish a badge to every woman who registers to work in co-operation with the committee.

THRIFT DRIVE PLACED UPON SYSTEMATIC FOUNDATION

Various Interests To Be Put Together in Campaign for Selling "Baby Bonds"

ORGANIZING ON ITS WAY

Local Committee Hopes to See
Two Thousand Cards in Use
By First of the Year

"Be ye not weary of well doing," is a biblical injunction which appears to be particularly fitting in these times when we are called on to support so many things, all aimed for the one great object of winning this world war for the rights of humanity. One occasionally hears the expression, "Oh, dear, here is something else. Will these things never cease? I don't get a minute's rest."

Well, none of us are getting a minute's rest, and a lot of people are not only giving freely of their money but are taking practically all their time from their business to assist the government in carrying on these very necessary campaigns.

ALL FOR THRIFT CAMPAIGN

All of which leads up, very naturally, to the thrift stamp plan for helping finance the war. Most people are more or less familiar with it, and rather than go into a long explanation in print, we will leave it to the numerous workers who will seek you out to interest you in becoming a purchaser of these "baby bonds" of Uncle Sam.

The central committee met last night at the Bank of Woodland at the call of Fred Shaffer, chairman. Plans were outlined, which will soon be put into operation.

To systematize the work, Mayor Wilcoxon will organize the municipal and county officers and the professional men, Mrs. Lawhead will have charge of the work through the women's clubs and the high school of this city, A. W. Morris and J. D. Harling will work with the business men and commercial organizations, Rev. Philip G. Snow will work with the ministers, the Sunday schools and the boy scouts, G. H. Hecke and N. P. Searls will organize the farming sections contiguous to Woodland and Miss Lee, John L. Stephens, Fred Shaffer and W. F. Nixon will pay particular attention to the schools outside of Woodland.

SCOUTS TO ORGANIZE

The first call to meet for organized work comes from Mr. Snow who calls a special meeting of the Boy Scouts for this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Episcopal Rectory and an urgent request goes to every member to be present.

The thrift stamp campaign is moving along as well as was anticipated. It is the desire of the committee to have at last 2000 thrift stamp cards out in Woodland by the first of the year. The plan of giving each young person one twenty-five cent stamp free when they call at the post office window and purchase one other stamp is still in vogue. There will be a sufficient amount for all who will call within the next few days. In addition to those who have already been reported as having bought twenty of these stamps for free distribution are added J. W. Monroe, John Stephens, Chas. Nelson and J. D. Harling.

Big Task to Fill Out Draft Blanks

Attorneys Find Questionnaires To Be Momentous Problems

It is to be a serious problem which the exemption board is to face in connection with the questionnaires which are now being sent out to the registered men of the county. About 75 are sent out daily and will continue at that rate until the 1500 are in the mails. Under the rule a registered man has seven days from date of mailing until he files his blank, properly filled out.

Yesterday was the first day for the return of these blanks. Attorneys Armfield and Eddy were on hand as per the assignment of the counsel of defense to assist in filling out the blanks and it is found to be a job of considerable proportion. It takes an average of two hours to fill out each blank and properly certify to it. No more than a dozen were filled out and filed with C. F. Evans, the clerk of the board during the day. Taking the first day as a criterion, it is easily determined that a lot of confusion will be encountered during the last days of return.

Cards were received here Monday from Wyllie Chalmers and Frank Hollingsworth, saying that they were "on their way" to Jacksonville, Florida. The cards were postmarked at San Domingo, New Mexico. Both lads report that they are in a fine company of young fellows, and they have found it easy to adapt themselves to the new environment.

In a letter just received here Meredith Gregory writes that he is so far from the front that we in Woodland are getting news of the big war battles before it reaches him. All of which was consoling tidings to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gregory. The Woodland boy wrote that he was much worried about what to send his friends in United States this Christmas time.

Word has been received in Woodland from Lieutenant Grant Bruton of Linda Vista that he expects to spend Christmas with his mother and relatives in this city.

John Dieudonne of Woodland has been transferred from F Company at Linda Vista to the 115th Engineer Regiment, according to letters just received here. A transfer to the personnel board of this regiment is said to be an advancement.

Whole County Represented At Thrift Stamp Meeting

The response from all parts of the county yesterday to the notice sent out by Chairman C. W. Bush, to those captains who will have charge of the thrift stamp campaign in the various parts of the county, was a splendid tribute to the patriotic spirit of the county. The meeting was held at the Bank of Yolo and lasted well into the afternoon.

Detailed plans were outlined for the guidance of the heads of the several communities, yet those plans are flexible enough to permit of individual initiative to obtain the best results. The central committee at Woodland will stand ready at all times to send speakers to any point where they are wanted to assist in interesting the public in the sale of these little government bonds.

STAMPS NOW ON SALE

At the present time the stamps and war saving certificates are on sale at every post office in Yolo county. In a short time it is expected they will also be on sale at most of the mercantile establishments in the county and a determined effort will be made to get at least ten thousand stamp saving certificates in the hands of those who wish to save some money and at the same time assist the government in financing the war.

Those present at the meeting yesterday were C. W. Bush, F. W. Blanchard, Fred Shaffer, John L. Stephens, W. F. F. George of Esparto; C. Fowler of Cadanasso; Frank B. Edson, of Knights Landing; W. T. Moore, of Capay; Ed. Morrin and W.

M. Roberts, Rumsey; J. E. Winter, Tancred; P. T. Foster, Blacks; Forest Plant, Davis; E. H. Archer, Madison; Dan Barton, Dunnigan, R. L. Neimann, Winters.

TO BEGIN PUBLICITY

Initiating the publicity campaign, Fred Shaffer will speak in Woodland at the school entertainment on Thursday and Friday evenings and at Woodland Prairie school on Saturday evening and W. F. F. George will speak at Plainfield on Friday evening and at Madison on Saturday evening.

School Pageant For Red Cross Is Big Success

HISTORICAL PRESENTATION OF AMERICA'S PROGRESS SEEN BY CAPACITY AUDIENCE

The historical pageant presented by the pupils of the grammar, primary and kindergarten grades of the Woodland schools, at the Elm street school last night, made a decided hit, and deservedly so. Hundreds of children took part and the effective work of the teaching force was established by the perfect rendition of the several numbers.

The program was in reality a lesson in United States history, as every period from the time of Columbus to the present day was developed, step by step. The program in its entirety, so far as the children are concerned was printed in the Mail of Thursday morning. Addition to that was the orchestral numbers of the Morris children, piano, violin and cornet. The little musicians acquitted themselves splendidly. The piano solo by Mrs. Don Gregg was a treat to all music lovers and the singing of Miss Thomas met with an enthusiastic response. As an introductory, Fred Shaffer spoke for a few minutes in relation to the thrift stamp and war saving certificate campaign, and urged every one present to become a missionary for Uncle Sam in this plan of developing the thrift spirit as well as assisting in bearing some of the financial burden of the war. The program will be repeated tonight, and it is well worth both the time and money involved in attending.

Thrift Campaign Going on Apace

The thrift stamp campaign goes on apace. Yesterday is reported to have been a good day. Many new names have been added to the list of those who are slowly becoming bond holders. Postmaster Leake states that many stamps were sold yesterday as Christmas presents.

Mrs. L. D. Lawhead, who has charge of the work for the committee so far as it relates to women's clubs and the high school, was the purchaser of a number of the stamp certificates, with the idea of placing them in the hands of her pupils, who will become active workers in the community. All other avenues of activities are busily engaged.

700 Thrift Cards Are Already Sold

Four $100 Certificates Bought As Christmas Gifts Yesterday

The local post office officials estimated last night that thus far this month approximately 700 thrift cards have been issued by the local office. Yesterday there was call for four $100 certificates to be given as Christmas presents.

There is an opportunity this morning for some person of means to pave the way for a few more of those certificates with a twenty-five cent bonus to the boys and girls who will undertake a stamp saving campaign. Only a few remain in the hands of the clerks at the post office. Mrs. Chas. Nelson came to the rescue yesterday with a five dollar donation. Leave your donation either at the money order window at the postoffice with Mr. C. W. Bush at the Bank of Yolo or at the Mail office and it will be properly credited.

WOODLAND WOMEN HEAR OF WAR WORK OF THE Y. W. C. A.

In a lecture, both instructive and appealing, Mrs. Anne Little Barry, parliamentarian of the California State Federation of Women's clubs, yesterday afternoon spoke before a body of Woodland's leading women at the home of Mrs. J. I. McConnell. Taking the subject of "Women in War," Mrs. Barry delivered an address in which the work of the Y. W. C. A. was the prominent feature. She especially appealed for support of the movement which, he said, was not so well comprehended as the many other lines of relief work consequent upon the war due to the fact that it was a newer movement and not so widely spread.

In presenting her topic, Mrs. Barry said in part:

"The United States government, the army and the Y. W. C. A. are asking for this work as a part of war service. The Y. W. C. A. has trained workers and fifty years experience. Part of our work is to establish 'Hostess houses,' a place where our men can get a touch of home comfort; a meeting place where they can receive their wives, mothers, and folks from home. The first place of this kind was built in Plattsburg, N. Y., last June at the request of General Wolf. There are now eleven more and 25 in the course of construction. The plan is to have one at each army cantonment."

RELIEF FOR NURSES

"Besides this there is the Y. W. C. A. work for the Red Cross nurses. A rest room is to be established at every base in France where the nurses can rest, if not for more than 20 or 30 minutes, and drink a cup of hot tea or chocolate, thus finding a short relief from the agony of spirit their work so often forces on them."

"Still another large part of the work is that done with the eleven million women who are part of the industrial force of the war."

"There are 750 'Yeomenettes,' the stenographers and clerks, enlisted in the U. S. army service, and working side by side with the yeomen."

"Two million more women are engaged in the manufacture of war munitions, and another two million in the manufacture of uniforms."

"The large number of women taking clerical positions in the place of the men gone to the front, must be further reckoned in this industrial army of women."

FOR BENEFIT OF GIRLS

"The Y. W. C. A. has established emergency houses and recreation centers as part of its work to raise the standard of the girls. Combined with this the association is asking all juveniles to take the junior pledge."

"I pledge to express my patriotism by doing better than ever whatever work I have to do; by rendering whatever special service I can to my

Plainfield Benefit To Y.M.C.A. Fund

Whole Country-Side Gathers for Program and Dancing

The residents of the Plainfield vicinity gathered at the community hall last night to participate in a benefit dance and program for the Y. M. C. A. fund of Yolo county. The night was extremely foggy, but notwithstanding that handicap, the hall was well filled, several of those present being from Woodland, Winters and Davis.

During the program period J. I. McConnell spoke of the Red Cross work in general and particularly as applied to Yolo county. Mrs. Chas. Simpson sang a solo, and so well to the liking of the audience was her selection, that she was heartily encored. W. F. F. George spoke of the multiplicity of demands made upon the people of the country at this time in the history of the nation, particularly applying his remarks to the war savings certificates and the thrift stamp campaign. A. W. Fox sang the audience in patriotic songs.

Dancing was to music furnished by Huckle's orchestra. A supper was served by the ladies of the neighborhood. The affair was a success and a satisfactory sum was realized for the object in view.

The women of the Catholic church met at the rectory yesterday to outline plans for joining in the Red Cross work. Letters BOYS

An interesting account of a farewell party given to soldier boys at Camp Grant, Illinois, on the eve of their departure to France, is told of in the following letter just received here from Howard Parker:

CAMP GRANT, ILL., Dec. 14.

"Democrat": This will remind you that I have not perished from zero weather.

Looking at the calendar I note that my arrival was just two weeks ago, and of course it has been a fortnight of new experiences, of catching on to the swing of that peculiar state known as "life in the army."

One of the prize bits of humor aimed at a newcomer, either in jest or in an effort to encourage, is to say to him, "You'll like it, old man, you'll like it." Another is the phrase, "You're in the army, now, boy," aimed at anyone who shows himself a little bit shy of some custom peculiar to army life.

As for myself, I must emphasize that my entry into the army has been pleasant, though strange at first. Granting, as everyone does here, that military life has little to compensate for civil comforts given up, and remembering always that civil life is passe at present—meaning we "have to like it"—in the face of all this, let me say I'm enjoying it. Of course, the work I'm doing is very much to my taste, for orchestra playing is always a pleasure to me, and our band of 40 pieces is above and acknowledged the best in this camp. But even for the hard-working infantry man, who is a rifle, a trench-digger, a kitchen mechanic, a guard at night and day, there are many things to make his leisure hours pleasant.

The sport is much like that of a large family, similar to a boarding-college. The men are young, of course, and this makes for the boarding school atmosphere. The "K. C.'s" and the "Y." recreation antics give the boys plenty to do each night. Each has four houses here. The "Y." has a movie three nights a week.

The good weather months plenty of outdoor sports. Afternoon and all day are free from work. Thirty-four passes are given only in four or five weeks.

342d's orchestra has already its debut, playing for a of the regimental officers getting away with it. No were hurled.

I was assigned to the band, in order that I might have a regular job, for the army doesn't employ orchestras as such. This job is only nominal and secondary, but I have to hold up my end while playing.

Being with the band I get with them the hospital work, and we have been getting instruction in litter-bearing. Before I came there were extensive (perhaps) instructions on first-aid work. Each morning we are given an hour's hike about the country. With the well known mercury quivering at and below the dead-line, these walks, you might guess, are invigorating. Rehearsal twice daily, and sometimes a turnout in the afternoon, depending on the weather.

Last Sunday it was 7 degrees below. But all of us are well buffeted against the cold, so we get away with it.

Last Monday night our band was among the guests at a so-called cabaret ball, put on in Rockford by one of the companies from here who were celebrating their impending departure overseas. It was a kaleidoscopic affair, whatever that is in unvarnished United States. Anyway, there was a lot of fun.

were so far from their accompanists that they were unable to get together.

Riding back to camp in an open motor truck at 3 in the morning, with reveille only a few hours off, and the night one of the season's coldest, with the chance of being held up by the guard while he takes down the names of the passengers, you feel the hardships of the army. There are several others, but the handy quality of making the best of it and training yourself to be content, and invariably obedient, will take most of the sting from it.

Our officers dance out here at camp the other night was at the base hospital, where George Dinsdale is. I haven't seen him yet, for this hospital is an immense thing, with endless corridors, and we saw only part of it.

A new warning was given the other day against disclosing unclosables in letters home that are published. Items harmless in themselves may be valuable to the enemy if joined with others, so care was adjured. So I have to be careful in writing you—Sh-h!

There are a few Notre Dame men here, including two lieutenants, one of them a member of the class of 1917, N. D.

Hope this finds everyone in the "Democrat" family well.

Have easy access to a good Underwood every evening, through courtesy of Sgt. Kemlee, and will get it one of these nights when there are no bookings.

Our furlough starts 22d to 26th, I'll go to Elgin.

With all good wishes,
HOWARD R. PARKER.

Benedict Willis Chapman, who like Parker was formerly connected with the editorial staff of the "Democrat" writes to Fred Shaffer that "the war will soon be over." The reason: Chapman is on his way over to consult with the Kaiser.

The former Woodland youth also takes occasion to thank the Yolo Chapter of the Red Cross for a Christmas package. "It reached me the night we left Mare Island for a long, long trip," writes Chapman. "Who ever designed that Christmas box knew full well the needs of a soldier, and I'd like to thank the good Yolo Red Cross workers personally. My associate fighters in the cause of Democracy shared my good fortune, and they, too, send their thanks and appreciation."

Chapman concludes his letter this way: "As soon as we lick the Kaiser I'm coming back to Yolo, for it sure looks better to me than anything here in the corn belt."

Chapman is with the 96th Company, Marine Corps Barracks Quantico, Virginia, expecting to "go over" within a few days.

SPECIAL DRIVE HERE WAR STAMPS OPENS WEDNESDAY

C. W. Bush, chairman of the War Savings Stamp campaign for the county, is greatly pleased with the interest the people are taking in the effort to assist the government and at the same time see to it that Yolo county remains at the head of the list in patriotic achievement.

No particular effort has been made during the past week because of the Red Cross drive, but with the present week a far-reaching effort will be made to the end that every citizen of the county is the possessor of a thrift book or some of the war savings stamps.

It is estimated that 2000 thrift books are now working for the government in the county—over 1000 of these in the city of Woodland. The committees will work for a list of five thousand in the county before 1918 rolls around.

FIGHTING MEN RETURN TO RE- JOIN WAR UNITS

Christmas Hours At Home Pass Swiftly For Yolo Liberty Boys

Scores of Yolo county soldiers who had been granted short leaves of absence to visit their homes, have returned to their training camps. The boys from Camp Kearney, Linda Vista, arrived home late Sunday. The traffic from that Camp to San Francisco was so heavy that the special train was dubbed "The Santa Claus Special." Many local lads who are stationed in and around San Francisco were also able to enjoy Christmas hours with their families and friends.

None of the home boys in the draft army at American Lake returned home for the holidays, the distance being too great to make on a short leave. Only 5 per cent of the men at Camp Lewis were given Christmas away from the camp.

Among the boys here from Camp Kearney were Lieutenant Grant Bruton, Sergeant Lawrence Dinsdale, Sergeant Harold Weis, Sergeant Wm. Akers of Esparto, Sergeant W. J. Black, Corporal John Davisson of Winters, Corporal George Rice, Earl Smith, John Martinelli, S. C. Gray, Harold Curson, Mark Hutchins, Carl Schluer, Lowell and Elwood Vossburgh, Frank Crowley, Clarence Thisell and Leon Borach of Yolo.

Robert L. Heald, stationed at Fort Winfield Scott, and Earl Murray, who enlisted very recently, were other boys home on a furlough whose sojourn has not previously been chronicled in these columns.

Sergeant Ben Draeger returned to Camp Fremont last night and Sergeant Wm. Ogden left this afternoon for San Jose, intending to report at Fremont tomorrow.

Probably there were other fighting lads home, but did not stray far enough away from the family hearth to come under the observance of the reporter.

Seven Hundred New Members In Yolo Red Cross

The returns of new members obtained in the Red Cross drive have been reported for less than half the county, and it is impossible at this date to state accurately the number of new members obtained during the drive. It is requested that former members renew at this time, where able to do so, as it will facilitate matters and make the work easier to have the dues become payable about Christmas time, or the beginning of each year. G. P. Hurst, chairman of the membership committee urges all outlying districts to send in a report as soon as possible.

A little less than 700 new memberships have been reported to date, and if the amount holds good it may be assumed that the present number obtained will be in the neighborhood of 1500 or 1600.

Special Request of Headquarters Made of Yolo County Chapter

G. P. Hurst, chairman of the membership committee of the Yolo county chapter of the Red Cross, is in receipt of a communication from the National headquarters asking him to continue, with his district workers, the membership drive until the end of the present week.

On his own behalf, Mr. Hurst specially requests the district workers in all parts of the county to send in a patrol report of the work they have accomplished thus far during the drive. The reports are coming in very slowly and it makes it very hard for the membership committee to maintain its standing with headquarters. Up to this time Mr. Hurst sees no reason to change his estimate of 1500 new members as the result of the drive.

Any member who joined early in the year, and who is so disposed, is requested to renew his membership at this time so that the due may become payable as near the Christmas season as possible.

Mrs. S. A. Huston has just received word that her nephew, Horace McCoy of Sacramento, is on his way to the U. S. navy station at San Pedro to become a jolly tar. Young McCoy was slated for graduation from the state university within the next five months. He was also designated for the next draft call, and so he decided to select his own service. He is 21 years old.

Sergeant John Laugenour writes from Camp Kearney that he will be home to spend New Year's.

George Mitchell has just received a letter from George Kramer, son of Andy Kramer, and a former resident of Woodland. Kramer is a birdman at a Texas camp. He tells of having a narrow escape from being sent to France, after being in the camp but a few days. The name "Kramer" was called, and the Woodland boy reported and was assigned his equipment. Shortly before the departure of the increment, the officers discovered that the wrong Kramer had answered the call and that another flier who had been training for six months was the man wanted.

Red Cross Juniors Will Be Given Special Credit

An informal meeting for the purpose of getting a line on the results of the new membership drive, was held by the executive committee of the Yolo County Chapter of the Red Cross. There is a very indefinite idea as to what has been accomplished, but a safe estimate places the figure as somewhere between 1200 and 1500 members.

The primary subject under discussion was the idea to establish a definite understanding concerning the Junior Red Cross members. An effort is being made to devise a way to establish a close union between the Junior Red Cross and the parent chapter. To that end President J. I. McConnell appointed the following committee: J. Reith Jr., Dr. W. E. Bates, Judge W. A. Anderson and Miss Harriett Lee to report at the next meeting some plan for the official recognition of the Junior branches.

The drive will be continued until January 1, and it will probably be some days before a complete report can be published. Chairman G. P. Hurst of the membership committee states that outlying districts have been very slow in sending in reports.

NO DRAFT CALL UNTIL ELIGIBLES ARE LISTED

Need For Special Classes of Service Has Prompted Announcement

TECHNICAL WORKERS WANTED
No Further Formal Call Looked For Before Middle of February

Official notice will be received this week by the Yolo Draft Board, advising that the next draft call—including deferred percentages of the first quota—will be made up under the questionnaire classification. Provost Marshal General Crowder made this announcement at Washington today. There will be no further formal call, therefore, before February 15, he said.

This means that men included in the deferred percentage of the first quota, most of which quota is now in camp, will enjoy the benefits of questionnaire classification and will be drawn only if they come under class one.

Men selected under the old regulations continue to go, however, when needed to make up deficiencies in calls already made.

Decision to await classification of all men before making another formal call was reached because of the need for special classes of service.

Crowder announced that "very soon" there will be a call for technical workers and highly specialized registrants.

One of Out-of-County Man Sends Appreciative Message for One of Yolo Unaddressed Boxes

The gratifying sensation of "work well done" is beginning to be felt by the officers and active members of the Yolo county chapter of the American Red Cross in the receipt of letters from boys in the service expressing their thanks for the Christmas boxes which were sent out to every man who had either enlisted or become a member of the draft army from Yolo county. So far two such messages have been received by President J. I. McConnell.

The first man to write of the pleasure with which he received the little holiday remembrance from home was Franks Farish, now a member of Co. D, Fourth Engineers, stationed at Vancouver, Washington. The other letter came from Sgt. C. T. Abbott, a man not from Yolo county, but one of those into whose hands one of the unaddressed boxes found its way.

LETTERS OF APPRECIATION

Following are the letters:
Co. "D" 4th Engineers,
Vancouver Barracks,
December 17, 1917.
President of Yolo Co. Red Cross,
Woodland, California.

Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of the fine Christmas package from the Yolo county Red Cross and the good wishes that went with it. Wish to express my thanks for this kind remembrance, showing that your thoughts are with us.

Very sincerely,
FRANKS L. FARISH.

Monterey, Dec. 21, 1917.
Secty. Yolo Co. Chapter,
American Red Cross.

Dear Secretary:
I received a Christmas box of goodies sent by your chapter and take this means of expressing my most sincere thanks and appreciation for the same.

Perhaps a few words regarding my organization would be of interest to some of the members so I will endeavor to write a synopsis of our history.

Our officers and enlisted men were all employees of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., and are all volunteers. We were called into service on June 29, 1917, reporting at Presidio of Monterey, Ca. on that date. We were originally called the 8th Telegraph Battalion, Signal Reserve corps, but the name has since been changed to the 411th Telegraph Battalion. The battalion is composed of two companies D, and E, 100 enlisted men in each company, also a supply and headquarters detachment.

The original plans were for three months of intensive training and then go "Over There" but owing to the delay in receiving our equipment we have not been able to leave. We are now fully equipped and have been expecting orders to leave for the past month.

Our equipment is a very important item, as we are supposed to handle all classes of communications connected with army work, such as telephone and telegraph systems, and visual signalling, we have 26 heavy motor trucks and 30 motorcycles and technical equipment for the installation and operation of 100 miles of telephone and telegraph lines and stations.

We are fully trained now and every one is eager to get into active service at the front.

Each man received a package or box of some kind, all gifts of the Red Cross, and the good cheer that they brought to the men was a pleasure to witness and has certainly elevated the Red Cross in the estimation of all our men.

Again thanking you for your gift and wishing you success in your work, and a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I am

Yours very gratefully,
SGT. C. T. ABBOTT.

All Sections of Red Cross in Yolo County Actively Engaged

The executive committee of the Yolo county chapter of the Red Cross met last night for the purpose of checking up the work to the present time. Mrs. C. W. Bush's report was that the several sections in the county were busily engaged in various forms of supply work. Plans for a continued supply of materials were discussed.

President McConnell appointed a committee composed of J. Reith, Jr., Dr. W. E. Bates, W. A. Anderson and Miss Harriett Lee to report at the next meeting the proper plan to be pursued in giving official recognition to the junior branches which have been formed in the county during the membership drive.

Mr. Hurst, chairman of the membership committee, said he could not make a final report on the membership drive as several of the outlying communities have not yet reported. In that connection, it was stated that the booths in the post offices of the county would be maintained during this week.

Y. W. C. A. "Drive" To Begin Jan. 3rd

$4,000,000 Needed To Build Hostess' Houses In Army Cantonments---Work Of Association Approved By National Commission

A great national drive for the war-work of the Y. W. C. A. is on. A fund of four million dollars is necessary to carry on this work. The commandants and Federal Commission on training camp activities have requested that hostess' houses be established in every one of our one hundred army cantonments. Forty-five of these houses are now in operation built at a cost of from $500 to $20,000. They form a social center for relatives who come to visit men in camp, an absolutely necessary adjunct. In addition these hostess' houses contain check rooms, rest rooms for women and children, cafeteria, and here a soldier may come for mending, advice and "mothering."

Near the battle fronts, the Y. W.

C. A. is building rest huts for nurses worn out by the terrible strain on body, mind and spirit. Here, for a few hours or a few days as needed, the exhausted nurses can regain renewed strength for service.

In our own country the Y. W. C. A. is handling a problem of utmost importance—that of housing and furnishing better recreation centers for the rapidly increasing number of girl workers in the factories and elsewhere.

Our Davis "drive" led by Mrs. Forest Plant, will commence on January 3rd. We are sure that Davis will respond generously and do her part toward lightening the burden of war for those on whom it falls most heavily.

Letters from the BOYS

A letter dated on the 4th or 5th of December and received by Mrs. J. H. Taylor, from her son, Trenton Taylor, of the 18th Engineering railway division, Company A, contains some interesting items about the climate, and housing conditions of some of our Yolo boys in France.

Taylor mentions having been detached from his regiment and sent "somewhere" else, but he is now with his own company again.

The weather is very cold, but Taylor is one of 37 Sammys quartered in a comfortable house with a good fire and plenty of warm blankets for covering. Mention is made that the young men are fine fellows and very congenial.

Taylor says he has so many clothes that he doesn't know what to do with them, but just the same his feet were freezing at the moment of writing. He has several knitted sets, received in a recent parcel from home, and expressed his appreciation of a fine warm muffler sent him by Rev. P. G. Snow.

Taylor was most enthusiastic over a fine box of candy sent him by two young ladies of Woodland, and says the sweets "hit the right spot."

He has been fortunate enough to meet several friends from Stanford of the first ambulance corps sent "over," and who have recently returned from the Balkans.

Taylor doesn't expect to see active service until spring.

Meredith Gregory, who is a member of the 18th Engineering Railway division, Co. A, with Trenton Taylor, writes home from France about his Thanksgiving dinner. "We certainly had a swell Thanksgiving dinner. This is the menu: Turkey—lots of it, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, pumpkin pie, celery, nuts, apples, raisins, coffee and lemonade. We sure did justice to it."

Gregory mentions having sent a Christmas box home. The selection of articles worried him a lot, but he refrained from including lace handkerchiefs as he was sure of his inability to recognize real value in that line.

In the deserted villages and towns of France are to be found many beautiful paintings and Gregory on a recent trip to town secured some wonderful pictures.

An interesting item stated that "we walked six miles to take a bath. We do it every week, so you see we are anxious to keep clean."

Developing from a news collaborator on the "Democrat" to a full-fledged "Billy Blue," has been an interesting experience for Willis T. Chapman. "Chappie" writes from Quantico, Virginia, the same Marine station at which Lawrence Maxwell, also of Woodland, is located. "Ol' Virginia might be all right in the song book," declares Chapman, "but give me good ol' Yolo county, Cal., for mine." Chapman writes as follows:

Editor "Democrat": Once one has been a newspaper man it is rather hard to break away from the game, as you are well aware. For that reason, and because I was assigned to the place by the Post Adjutant, I am on the reportorial staff of the "Quantico Leatherneck," the official Marine Corps newspaper here at Quantico.

It is a four-page, seven-column paper, and is published every Saturday. Every bit of the work is done by enlisted men, and it is "some" paper.

Compared to California and Yolo county, this sunny Virginia stuff listens well in song and story, but it doesn't help eight below zero worth a darn.

I went out yesterday afternoon to wash clothes. I hung up a sample of work that would get me a job in any of the Woodland laundries. At 6 o'clock my clothes were frozen stiff.

And I think of Yolo county when I hit the deck at 6 a. m. Oh, no! It isn't cold, that is after we get the ice knocked off of the hot water pipes.

At Mare Island I thought we were getting some stiff drilling. It was play. Here they drill from "Can to Can't"—that is, from the time the officers can see until they can't.

When you get all dolled up in heavy marching order, put on a steel helmet and a gas mask, then they start you over and into ice-choked trenches.

Then you jab away at dummies with bayonets, and then it's this and that. But believe me, there are 10,000 marines here who are "fighting fools." Practically every one has been through actual gas chamber tests, have thrown actual bombs, and are finished trench fighters.

My regiment goes over very soon and as correspondent for it I hope to be able to put on the wires, soon: "The Marines have landed and have the kaiser well in hand."

Wishing yourself and the staff of the "Democrat" all seasonal greetings, I remain,

WILLIS T. CHAPMAN.

Lester Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnston and who left New York October 18, arrived in France sometime during the first week in November. Johnston writes home regularly. The following is a letter written a day or so before Thanksgiving:

Dear Folks: Well, today is Sunday and not very much to do, so will endeavor to drop you folks a few lines. I wrote you a couple of nights ago, so there isn't much news left to write about.

We are all well and getting along fine. Hope you folks are all in the best of health. Ashley Worley and I are still together and hope to continue so until we get back. We have become just like brothers instead of friends and get along the best in the world. We still sleep beside each other, eat together and work together, so I do not know of anything else we could wish for. I don't know what we would do if we were separated now. Irvin Bostwick and George Zane are both well and getting along just fine. There is a fellow next to us playing a guitar, and it sounds awfully good to hear music here. I had a letter from Bill Simpson and he is still located at Dover, New Jersey. It rained a little today but was not bad.

We are beginning to get some of our mail now and I have received several from you folks. All of my friends and also all of you folks have sure been awfully good about writing and you don't realize how much news from home is appreciated. We are always looking forward to the mail call. We are not allowed to say very much, so there isn't much to write about. I will tell you all of our experiences when I get back home.

C. W. Bush Heads a Campaign In Yolo County For the Sale of Country's War Saving Stamps

Unable to give the campaign of disposing of the Government War Savings stamps sufficient attention, J. D. Harling, cashier of the First National and Home Savings banks, last night telephoned his resignation as leader of the campaign in Yolo county. John T. Drum, chairman of the state committee, accepted the resignation and today appointed C. W. Bush, president of the Bank of Yolo, to take charge. Bush has wired his acceptance of the responsibility.

"It was simply a matter of being unable to do the matter justice, and so I thought the most patriotic thing to do would be to resign," said Harling this morning. "Being cashier of two different banks is no small problem, and I realized that I could not possibly do the War Savings work as it should be done."

The new leader of the local campaign, Mr. Bush, issued this statement this afternoon:

"Governor Stephens is particularly anxious to interest the teachers and students in the War Savings campaign. The value of the stamps as an investment has been outlined many times in the press. The public will be more fully informed from time to time.

I invite the co-operation of all the banks and business industries of the county, as well as of schools, churches and fraternal organizations. The purpose is to give the large number of our people who are unable to purchase Liberty Bonds the opportunity to do their bit. Information will gladly be given to all enquirers in person or by mail."

The following telegram was received by Mr. Bush today from John T. Drum:

"I am authorized by Secretary of Treasury McAdoo to appoint you County Director of the National War Savings Campaign that is to be carried on for the government's two billion dollar thrift loan. In order to raise California's quota, we must form an active organization in every county, and I am sure that you will give to the work the patriotic spirit and enthusiasm needed for success the task of bringing home to every man, woman and child in the state the necessity of self-denial and saving to increase the national production for vital war purposes, as a government service of the highest type in which we could be privileged to engage. Secretary McAdoo expects all of us to devote our full energy to the inauguration of this campaign."

Nine white stars will be shining from the red service flag just ordered by the Electric Garage. The boys from that station who have enlisted, together with their selected service, follow: Dee Tillotson, Battleship Huntington, New York; Hugh Park, navy; F. L. Duffy, navy; Ed Rineer and Joe Solomon, Supply Company of army at Newport News, N. Y.; J. F. A span of horses is a very rare sight here, as they drive them tandem. The French also herd their sheep with a horn and generally have a bunch of soldiers following the sheep.

As you know, I will not be home to spend Christmas with you this year, but I want you folks to go ahead and enjoy it just the same. I may be able to spend the next one with you, anyway. The boys that joined with us are all well and getting along fine. Be sure and give my best wishes to all my friends, especially the "store" bunch, and tell everyone I would drop them a note but there are too many of them, and I do not have the time. Well, as it is bedtime, and I have to turn in, I will say good-bye.

With lots of love to you all,
Your Son, LESTER.

Lieutenant Colonel C. W. Thomas, who recently returned from Oklahoma on an inspecting trip, has not yet reached San Francisco headquarters, but is on duty at Camp Kearney. His wife left San Francisco to join him and his mother is in San Francisco taking care of their children. It will not cause any surprise if Thomas is sent to France with a division composed of Camp Kearney, New Mexico and Oklahoma troops.

Giving Rather Than Receiving Should Be Idea This Year More Than Ever. Says Defense Council

Local Clubwomen Advised by Chairman of Women's Committee National Organization

Mrs. H. E. Coil, chairman of the Yolo County Women's Committee of the National and State Councils of Defense, has voiced herself as being in entire sympathy with the new Christmas spirit of 1917 as expressed by the National Council of Defense in Washington, that "It is better to give than to receive."

Mrs. Coil says: "I have noticed that even the little children are feeling this spirit of giving to others and are showing a great interest in the Red Cross work. In fact the general feeling among the men and women of our community is in accordance with the idea, that this year our gifts should be for the poor, the little folk, the old and our soldiers. To remember these is a far better evidence of Christmas spirit this year, than a mere exchange of gifts could be. Ours is to be the real joy of giving."

Mrs. Coil is in receipt of a letter, written by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, which urges that everybody act in accordance with this idea, so that even the timid people who are loath to break away from conventions, will become possessed of the new spirit.

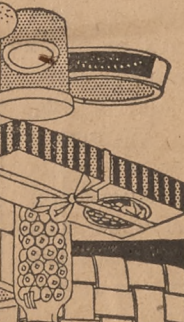

The following letter of Dr. Shaw has been sent to every little town and hamlet in the United States so that

Letters BOYS from the

A letter dated on the 4th or 5th of December and received by Mrs. J. H. Taylor, from her son, Trenton Taylor, of the 18th Engineering railway division, Company A, contains some interesting items about the climate, and housing conditions of some of our Yolo boys in France.

Taylor mentions having been detached from his regiment and sent "somewhere" else, but he is now with his own company again.

The weather is very cold, but Taylor is one of 37 Sammies quartered in a comfortable house with a good fire and plenty of warm blankets for covering. Mention is made that the young men are fine fellows and very congenial.

Taylor says he has so many clothes that he doesn't know what to do with them, but just the same his feet were freezing at the moment of writing. He has several knitted sets, received in a recent parcel from home, and expressed his appreciation of a fine warm muffler sent him by Rev. P. G. Snow.

Taylor was most enthusiastic over a fine box of candy sent him by two young ladies of Woodland, and says the sweets "hit the right spot."

He has been fortunate enough to meet several friends from Stanford of the first ambulance corps sent "over," and who have recently returned from the Balkans.

Taylor doesn't expect to see active service until spring.

Meredith Gregory, who is a member of the 18th Engineering Railway division, Co. A, with Trenton Taylor, writes home from France about his Thanksgiving dinner. "We certainly had a swell Thanksgiving dinner. This is the menu: Turkey—lots of it, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, pumpkin pie, celery, nuts, apples, raisins, coffee and lemonade. We sure did justice to it."

Gregory mentions having sent a Christmas box home. The selection of articles worried him a lot, but he refrained from including lace handkerchiefs as he was sure of his inability to recognize real value in that line.

In the deserted villages and towns of France are to be found many beautiful paintings and Gregory on a recent trip to town secured some wonderful pictures.

An interesting item stated that "we walked six miles to take a bath. We do it every week, so you see we are anxious to keep clean."

Developing from a news collaborator on the "Democrat" to a full-fledged "Billy Blue," has been an interesting experience for Willis T. Chapman. "Chapple" writes from Quantico, Virginia, the same Marine station at which Lawrence Maxwell, also of Woodland, is located. "O! Virginia might be all right in the song book," declares Chapman, "but give me good ol' Yolo county, Cal., for mine." Chapman writes as follows:

Editor "Democrat": Once one has been a newspaper man it is rather hard to break away from the game, as you are well aware. For that reason, and because I was assigned to the place by the Post Adjutant, I am on the reportorial staff of the "Quantico Leatherneck," the official Marine Corps newspaper here at Quantico.

It is a four-page, seven-column paper, and is published every Saturday. Every bit of the work is done by enlisted men, and it is "some" paper.

Compared to California and Yolo county, this sunny Virginia stuff listens well in song and story, but it doesn't help eight below zero worth a darn.

I went out yesterday afternoon to wash clothes. I hung up a sample of work that would get me a job in any of the Woodland laundries. At 6 o'clock my clothes were frozen stiff.

And I think of Yolo county when I hit the deck at 6 a. m. Oh, no! It isn't cold, that is after we get the ice knocked off of the hot water pipes.

At Mare Island I thought we were getting some stiff drilling. It was play. Here they drill from "Can to Can't"—that is, from the time the officers can see until they can't.

When you get all dolled up in heavy marching order, put on a steel helmet and a gas mask, then they start you over and into ice-choked trenches.

Then you jab away at dummies with bayonets, and then it's this and that. But believe me, there are 10,000 marines herewho are "fighting fools." Practically every one has been through actual gas chamber tests, have thrown actual bombs, and are finished trench fighters.

My regiment goes over very soon and as correspondent for it I hope to be able to put on the wires, soon: "The Marines have landed and have the kaiser well in hand."

Wishing yourself and the staff of the "Democrat" all seasonal greetings, I remain,

WILLIS T. CHAPMAN.

Lester Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnston and who left New York October 18, arrived in France sometime during the first week in November. Johnston writes home regularly. The following is a letter written a day or so before Thanksgiving:

Dear Folks: Well, today is Sunday and not very much to do, so will endeavor to drop you folks a few lines. I wrote you a couple of nights ago, so there isn't much news left to write about.

We are all well and getting along fine. Hope you folks are all in the best of health. Ashley Worley and I are still together and hope to continue so until we get back. We have become just like brothers instead of friends and get along the best in the world. We still sleep beside each other, eat together and work together, so I do not know of anything else we could wish for. I don't know what we would do if we were separated now. Irvin Bostwick and George Zane are both well and getting along just fine. There is a fellow next to us playing a guitar, and it sounds awfully good to hear music here. I had a letter from Bill Simpson and he is still located at Dover, New Jersey. It rained a little today but was not bad.

We are beginning to get some of our mail now and I have received several from you folks. All of my friends and also all of you folks have sure been awfully good about writing and you don't realize how much news from home is appreciated. We are always looking forward to the mail call. We are not allowed to say very much, so there isn't much to write about. I will tell you all of our experiences when I get back home.

C. W. Bush Heads a Campaign In Yolo County For the Sale of Country's War Saving Stamps

Unable to give the campaign of disposing of the Government War Savings stamps sufficient attention, J. D. Harling, cashier of the First National and Home Savings banks, last night telephoned his resignation as leader of the campaign in Yolo county. John T. Drum, chairman of the state committee, accepted the resignation and today appointed C. W. Bush, president of the Bank of Yolo, to take charge. Bush has wired his acceptance of the responsibility.

"It was simply a matter of being unable to do the matter justice, and so I thought the most patriotic thing to do would be to resign," said Harling this morning. "Being cashier of two different banks is no small problem, and I realized that I could not possibly do the War Savings work as it should be done."

The new leader of the local campaign, Mr. Bush, issued this statement this afternoon:

"Governor Stephens is particularly anxious to interest the teachers and students in the War Savings campaign. The value of the stamps as an investment has been outlined many times in the press. The public will be more fully informed from time to time.

I invite the co-operation of all the banks and business industries of the county, as well as of schools, churches and fraternal organizations. The purpose is to give the large number of our people who are unable to purchase Liberty Bonds the opportunity to do their bit. Information will gladly be given to all enquirers in person or by mail."

The following telegram was received by Mr. Bush today from John T. Drum:

"I am authorized by Secretary of Treasury McAdoo to appoint you County Director of the National War Savings Campaign that is to be carried on for the government's two billion dollar thrift loan. In order to raise California's quota, we must form an active organization in every county, and I am sure that you will give to the work the patriotic spirit and enthusiasm needed for success the task of bringing home to every man, woman and child in the state the necessity of self-denial and saving to increase the national production for vital war purposes, as a government service of the highest type in which we could be privileged to engage. Secretary McAdoo expects all of us to devote our full energy to the inauguration of this campaign."

Woodland Lads Hooverize After "Seeing" Gotham

Mrs. J. V. Leithold returned from Oakland Friday evening, where she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. W. W. Moreland, who is ill there. While in Oakland Mrs. Leithold met several boys from the camp in Allentown, Pa., where her son, Moreland Leithold, is located, and who were mates of his in U. C. The boys are looking fine Mrs. Leithold said. They have a fine coat of sunburn and have put on weight and have every appearance of being in perfect condition.

Five per cent of the ambulance company of Allentown received holiday leave to come home. The boys reported Leithold as getting along fine. He is now clerk of his section and will likely remain so for some time. There is no sickness in the camp.

While in New York recently young Leithold met William Simpson, a Woodland boy. Along with another and the two "did" New York. After they had spent considerable change, they found themselves facing the task of securing reasonable lodging quarters. Such were not to be had, however, so all three boys tripled on one measly cot for the night.

Mrs. Coil is in receipt of a letter, written by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, which urges that everybody act in accordance with this idea, so that even the timid people who are loath to break away from conventions, will become possessed of the new spirit.

The following letter of Dr. Shaw has been sent to every little town and hamlet in the United States, so that everyone may have an idea of what the general sentiment of all the clubwomen of America is along this line:

To the State Chairmen: As the holiday season approaches, the question which confronts us all is, "What shall I do about Christmas? Shall I follow my usual plan and present each of my friends such gifts as I have been in the habit of bestowing; or shall

I refrain from doing so this year and expend all that I can afford upon our soldiers and the needy ones across the sea?"

It occurs to me that there are two ways in which we may keep Christmas fresh and green in the memories of our children, and that this, of all the years of our lives, should be a children's Christmas year.

It is our duty not only to "keep the home fires burning," but also to keep the hearts of our household cheerful and drive gloom and depression as far as possible from those who surround our hearth-fires.

The custom of promiscuous Christmas giving as practiced in past years has become a burden to many people who were unable to bear it, and no better time than this will ever present itself for the inauguration of a reform in this direction.

In recent years we have robbed Christmas of its true significance, and substituted for the great gift and sacrifice of Him in whose name we observe the day as sacred, the unworthy attitude of selfish seeking and receiving.

Shall we not use this holiday season of 1917 to teach the older and better lesson

My experience with children since the beginning of the war has revealed the existence of a deep and even passionate patriotism, which longs to manifest itself in service and sacrifice; and there could be no greater use made of this Christmas time than to teach these little ones the sublime lesson of the wonderful joy of giving, which is far greater than that of receiving. Instead of dwelling upon the thought of gifts to be received, we should instill into their open minds the desire to make this season a time when they can serve their country and its allies and aid in the successful winning of a world peace by uniting with their parents in unselfishly bestowing upon others the gifts (or their equivalent) which in times of peace they have themselves received.

Orphan children, suffering from hunger and cold, who are helpless and homeless in our own and foreign lands, are calling to us for this sacrifice for love of Him who said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

Our children, I know, will respond to this appeal, which is made not only for the sake of those who may be made glad through this sacrifice, but for their own sake.

In the midst of the turmoil and the stress of war, of the discontent and distrust, the hatreds and and bitterness, we must use every opportunity to hold sacred the deeper things of the spirit and to keep our children in the atmosphere of the real forces which will ultimately save humanity, and these are Faith, Hope and Love, the only sure foundation upon which rests the permanent peace of individuals or nations.

Then let our committees everywhere throughout the Union do all in their power to aid in teaching the sublime lesson of the Master, that it is better to give than to receive.
